Prison to be 'Daniel Unit'

The 1,000-bed prison under construction northeast of Snyder was named Thursday in honor of former Texas Gov. Price Daniel who died last month at the age of 77.

A special telephone conference meeting of the Texas Board of Corrections gave names to the Snyder unit and three other 1,000-bed units now being built.

Daniel, a Democrat, served three two-year terms as governor, from 1957-63, but lost an unprecedented bid for a fourth term in a Democratic primary race won by John Connally.

The Marlin unit was named after Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and the Woodville unit was named in honor of House Speaker Gib Lewis. The fourth unit, to be located at Dayton, was named in honor of L. V. Hightower, sheriff of Liberty County from 1924-26. He also served as a Texas Ranger and was Liberty County Clerk prior to his death.

Snyder was chosen as a site for the prison by the TDC on Nov. 9 following a two-year effort by Snyder community leaders to expand the TDC system into West Texas.

Gatesville and Amarillo were chosen for 2,250-bed maximum security units which were named earlier. The Amarillo unit was named in honor of Gov. Bill Clements and the Gatesville unit was named for Al Hughes, former chairman of the Board of Corrections.

All 1,000-bed units are due for completion in the summer and fall of 1989. The Snyder unit is due to open the first of July.

In addition to serving as governor, Daniel also served eight years on the Texas Supreme Court, being appointed in 1971 by

Gromyko out

MOSCOW (AP) — President Andrei A. Gromyko, the stone-faced diplomat who served Kremlin leaders from Josef Stalin to Mikhail S. Gorbachev, retired from the Politburo today in a move that likely set the stage for his removal from the presidency.

Gromyko's retirement came on the first day of a meeting of the policy-making Communist Party Central Committee and one day before a special session of the Supreme Soviet, the nation's nominal parliament.

His retirement from the president's post could clear the way for Gorbachev to assume the presidency in a reorganization of Communist Party and government functions.

The shake-up in the Kremlin hierarchy virtually removed holdovers appointed by Gorbachev's predecessors.

There was initial confusion over Gromyko's status. In his speech to the session, Gorbachev said Gromyko had requested he be allowed to retire on pension, indicating he would step down from the Politburo and the presidency.

But it appeared that Gromyko could ask the party Central Committee only to relieve him of his Politburo job. The question of whether he will remain as head of state could be taken up only by the parliament at Saturday's meeting.

Modest rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today its chief forecasting gauge of future economic activity rose a moderate 0.4 percent in August.

The Commerce Department's Index of Leading Economic Indicators may be a signal that robust growth, and the inflation that goes with it, may require another dose of higher interest rates from the Federal Reserve Board.

But analysts caution against drawing firm conclusions from a single month's figures. The index is designed to predict economic activity six to nine months in advance and economists say it takes three months of reports to establish a clear trend.

In July, today's report said, the index dropped 0.6 percent after shooting up 1.5 percent in June, the best in 18 months. The July dip had earlier been calculated at 0.8 percent and the June gain at 1.4 percent.

The August index report is another piece of evidence indicating that some analysts may have been premature in reading signs of a slowdown in August.

Jamboree will kickoff United Way

The fourth annual United Way Jamboree—promising three hours of musical entertainment to kickoff this year's $85,000 fund raising campaign—is slated Saturday at the courthouse band stand and adjacent grounds.

The event is slated from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

For the fourth year, the incentive of a chili dog and a soft drink for the combined price of a quarter will be offered.

At last year's Jamboree, more than 800 hot dogs were given out and an event planner noted that 1,000 are planned for this year.

The main attraction, however, will be a mix of singing and playing, ranging from gospel to contemporary, country music to rock.

Spectators are invited to bring lawn chairs and blankets to enjoy the music under the trees at the south end of the courthouse.

The forecast Saturday is for temperatures in the upper 70s and cloudy skies. If rainy conditions exist, the Jamboree will go on as planned at the ag annex of the Scurry County Coliseum.

Overall planner for the Jamboree has been Wilma Dillard and Jack Denman has arranged for the music. Both will share the band stand Saturday as emcees.

For the youngsters, free United Way balloons will be given out and an appearance of Mac Tonight, spokesman for the McDonald's restaurant chain, is promised.

Democrats ready for rally Saturday

The Scurry County Coliseum—a change due to weather—will be the scene Saturday for a Democratic Party fund raiser and rally.

The event, originally set at the Towle Park Pavilion, will begin at noon. Tickets for a steak dinner have all been sold, noted Democratic Party officials, but the general public is invited to a 12:30 p.m. party rally.

County Party Chairman Hassie Sneed said 325 tickets for the dinner were sold.

A slate of state office holders are scheduled to attend to include Garry Mauro, state land commissioner, and Steve Carriker, newly named senator for the 30th Senatorial District.

Others scheduled to appear will include State Senators John Montford of Lubbock and Chet Edwards of Duncannonville; State Senator-elect Temple Dickson of Sweetwater; Jack Hightower of Vernon, candidate for state supreme court, place 4; David Counts of Knox City, candidate for the 78th District representative seat which serves Scurry County; and Pete Greene, Democratic candidate for 132nd District Court judge.

Local Democratic candidates who will be unopposed this November are expected to attend also. Master of ceremonies at the event will be County Sheriff Keith Collier.

Entertainment will be provided during and after the meal by Cindy Hataway.

Marker ceremony will honor church

A special Mass and dedication service will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday honoring the recently approved Texas historical marker which commemorates the history of St. John's Catholic Church in Hermleigh.

Bishop Michael J. Sheehan of the Lubbock Diocese will celebrate the Mass. The unveiling and dedication of the marker, sanctioned by the Texas Historical Commission, will follow at 3 p.m.

State Senator Steve Carriker will do the unveiling honors and Terry Kubena will read the short history of the church which is written on the historical marker.

The Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus from both Abilene and Lubbock will attend the ceremony and state and local officials, past bishops and pastors and area non-catholic clergy have been invited. Also invited are members of the Scurry County Historical Commission who were instrumental in obtaining the historical marker for the church.

A reception for all visiting Catholic clergy and deacons will begin at 12:30 p.m. at St. John's rectory. The parish celebrates its 80th anniversary this year.

The following is the brief history of the church as it appears on the historical marker.

"This area was settled in the early 1900s by a number of farm families from South Texas. Catholic services were first conducted by priests from Abilene in the homes of Albert Kuss Sr. (1863-1945) and other settlers. The church of Francis Xavier was built in 1908 on land donated by Robert Herm (1874-1927) in the new town of Hermleigh. In 1936 the name of the church was changed when funds were given to the congregation with the stipulation that its name be St. John's. Included in the new diocese of Lubbock in 1983, St. John's is the oldest parish in the diocese.

The current pastor is Fr. William Costigan, who also pastors St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Snyder. St. John's—then known as St. Francis Xavier—was one of the first parishes in West Texas's plains country. The then new community was served by priests from Abilene who came down the Texas and Pacific railroad and were met by buggy at Loraine. Mass was said in the home of Albert Kuss in about January of 1907, and from then on in the homes of the other settlers, by turns, for about a year.

In 1908, a few more families arrived and under the direction of Cogdell Memorial Hospital board members, who have expanded their physician recruitment search to include both an internist and a general surgeon, heard a second presentation Thursday from a firm specializing in such searches.

In addition, the board set a call meeting Tuesday to make a final decision regarding which firm to employ.

Thursday night, they heard from two representatives of Whitaker, Fellows and Associates of Houston. The first presentation, given one week earlier on the 22nd, was from a Dallas-based representative of the firm Jackson and Coker.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A smile is a gently-curved line that has a way of setting things straight."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors. Paul Harral, business writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, says a person can get numb to anything—even zeroes. Most often, zeroes are attached to numbers in government—budgets, deficits, trade balances and bank bailouts.

The FDIC expects to spend $4 billion to support the acquisition of First Republic Bank by NCNB of North Carolina. The way newspapers write $4 billion doesn't look like as much money as $4,000,000,000.

"It's a lot of money. For example, if we spun off all the losses of First Republic and set up a separate company, it would have $4 billion in assets and would be 94th among Fortune 500 companies ranked by assets.

"With $4 billion, you could buy 250 F-16s or 80 Boeing 757s. You could give every person in Tarrant County $3,499.87 or each person in Fort Worth $8,962.58 or each person in Arlington $15,862.25.

"Those folks in Arlington could buy Texas

Ranger tickets, selling out the stadium for the entire home season for the next 177 years.

"You could buy 133,555,926 videotape copies of Goodmorning Vietnam and then drop them on Southeast Asia. That'd teach them.

"You could let every person in the U.S. go to the movies nearly three times, based on a $5.50 ticket price. If you figure in $1 movies, you'd have to hire people to use up all the tickets.

"If you paid them $4 per hour, you could hire 480,769 of them for a year, doing serious damage to unemployment statistics.

"If you want to speculate in real estate—and we need to remember that's how we got here in the first place—you could buy the Hill Country land advertised Sunday at $2,450 per acre—1.6 million acres of it. Or the land northeast of Rotan in Fisher and Stonewall Counties at $300 an acre—13.3 million acres.

"If you're interested in oil (see caution at the beginning of paragraph above) you could buy 256.2 million barrels of West Texas intermediate crude, enough to run the entire U.S. for 16 days.

"Or you could give everyone in the world 80 cents."

John Paul decries sex discrimination

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II today issued a major document on women that condemns discrimination, reaffirms a ban on female priests and says women's personalities are formed essentially by maternal characteristics.

The 120-page document touches only briefly on the institutional role of women in the Roman Catholic Church — a controversial issue in Western countries, particularly the United States. But it will likely have a significant effect, since it provides the theoretical framework for decisions on women during the rest of John Paul's papacy.

"Mulieris Dignitatem," Latin for "On the Dignity of Women," is in the form of an apostolic letter, meaning that it is intended as church teaching but is not considered infallible.

In the introduction, the pope said he is responding to a call by a bishops' synod last year for further theological and anthropological study of what it means to be a man or woman.

"It is only by beginning from these bases ... that one is able to speak of their (women's) active presence in the Church and in society," he wrote.

John Paul concluded that the sexes are equal but fundamentally different, and that women are distinguished by such "feminine" characteristics as sensitivity to other people.

He says women particularly fulfill their vocation through motherhood — either actual child-rearing or "spiritual motherhood," in which some women, such as nuns, remain celibate and devote themselves to other people.

Vatican officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the pope regarded the document as a "very personal" statement and apparently did not consult outside experts on it.

It came as the Vatican is facing increasing pressure from women for a greater role in the church. The women's issue dominated the 1987 synod and has arisen recently with the ordination of a woman bishop in the Episcopal Church in the United States, a move the Vatican has described as a roadblock to Christian unity.

In the document, the pope emphasizes repeatedly that men and women are equal and sexual discrimination is a sin.

"The revealed truth concerning the creation of the human being as male and female constitutes the principal argument against all the objectively injurious and unjust situations which contain and express the inheritance of the sin which all human beings bear within themselves," he wrote.

Noone wins in art contest

VANCOUVER, British Columbia (AP) — British Columbia gave an art contest, but nobody won. Jurors decided the entries just weren't good enough.

"It was a difficult situation but it wasn't a difficult decision," said Willard Holmes, director of the Vancouver Art Gallery.

Holmes was among the jurors who decided that none of the 380 entries deserved any of the $10,000 in prize money.

But the show will go on. Even though prize money has not been awarded, the 20-odd finalists will be displayed at an exhibition opening Oct. 11.

The contest was organized by the Federation of Canadian Artists and sponsored by Canadian Forest Products Ltd.

Discovery deploys satellite

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Discovery's astronauts have deployed a $100 million communications satellite that ground controllers will use to talk to crews in future space missions.

Crewmen John M. Lounge and David C. Hilmers, operating from a panel inside the cabin, released a $100 million Tracking and Data Relay Satellite that glided effortlessly out of the cargo bay a little more than six hours into the mission.

The satellite was pushed from a tilt-table that was raised out of the shuttle bay, and it waltzed away at about 2.7 mph after Discovery's successful liftoff from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 10:37 a.m. CDT Thursday.

Deploying the satellite was the first post-Challenger flight's main mission. Another TDRS is in orbit, but a nearly identical one was destroyed in the Challenger explosion Jan. 28, 1986.

An hour later, after Hauck and pilot Richard O. Covey maneuvered Discovery to a safe distance, a timing device ignited a rocket attached to a giant satellite and propelled it toward a stationary 22,300-mile-high orbit. A rocket motor that fired early today placed it in a circular orbit. There, it will serve as a space switchboard for relaying communications between ground stations, future shuttle flights and up to 25 other orbiting satellites. Secure channels on board will enable the Defense Department to keep in touch with intelligence-gathering spacecraft.

NASA and the Pentagon considered the satellite so important it was scheduled as the cargo for the first post-Challenger mission.

Cover story

By James Jacoby

"Cover an honor with an honor." Many times a defense has floundered because that adage was misapplied. Quite a few declarers have failed for exactly the same reason.

South opened one no-trump and North correctly bid two clubs, asking for a major. East's double didn't stop South from bidding two hearts, but it did leave South wondering what to do when North bid three no-trump. South chose to pass, but it was a concerned pass indeed.

Declarer was relieved to see some club honors in dummy. In fact he was so happy that he wasn't going down immediately that he covered West's jack with dummy's queen. East won the king, cashed the ace of clubs and continued with the nine, which pinned South's eight. South counted his tricks and saw that even if the spade finesse worked, he would need a heart trick. Therefore at trick four declarer led a heart. East wasted no time taking it, plus two more club tricks for down one.

The contract was fine, but it went down because declarer followed the old rule about covering an honor. Even though it might have gone against his instincts, South should have ducked in dummy at trick one, allowing the club jack to win. The contract would then have been safe. East couldn't afford to overtake, and when the jack held, East did not have enough entries to set up and then use the club suit. It's usually right to follow your instincts at bridge, but even so, there are enough exceptions that you should always give a second thought.

Tot's body found in rubble; investigation now underway

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — The body of a 19-month-old girl pulled from the rubble of a six-story condominium that collapsed and slid down a steep hillside has increased the death toll to five.

An investigation was under way today into the tragedy.

The baby's body was pulled from the ruins at 6:15 a.m. Thursday, said Alejandro Garza, Nuevo Leon state prosecutor.

The bodies of two maids in the fashionable condominium were recovered earlier and another maid is still missing in the huge slabs of cement and debris.

The complex, built on six cement pillars and connected to the hillside by a pedestrian walkway, collapsed shortly before 9 a.m. Tuesday, killing a man and his baby son and injuring the child's mother who was trapped inside for four hours.

Three other people were pulled alive from the ruins.

Garza said the state is asking the architect, Jose Maria Hernandez, to give a statement about residents' complaints that the building was unsafe.

Garza said residents said they filed a complaint last year with Hernandez about serious cracks in the floors and signs of severe stress in the support pillars.

But he said no complaint had been found in state or municipal offices in the Monterrey suburb of San Pedro-Garza Garcia, where the condominium was located.

Residents of several of the wealthy hillside neighborhoods and Monterrey's association of architects have complained for years that development, especially of the high-rise apartment buildings proliferating in the area, was not properly regulated.

During World War II, American forces launched the invasion of Okinawa April 1, 1945.

In 1853, Cincinnati, Ohio, became the first American city to pay its firefighters a regular salary.

DISCOVER MASTERCARD VISA

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband is an alcoholic. He's been sick quite a bit recently. His doctor told him he wouldn't do the gall bladder surgery because his liver was in such poor shape. However, my husband keeps on drinking. I know he needs help, but he also needs to want help which, as yet, he doesn't. I have to think of myself and my children now. What can we expect if his liver fails?

DEAR READER: In a few words, you have poignantly expressed the very real concerns of a family enmeshed in the web of alcoholism: the effects of your husband's drinking on you, your children and himself. Indeed, alcoholism is a family disease.

To begin with, you are correct that your husband has to want help before he will seek it. Clearly, neither you nor anyone else can "make" him stop drinking. He has yet to reach his own bottom point and then decide that he is sick and tired of being sick and tired. You must — and I mean must — find help for yourself, as the saner of the two adults in your family.

I strongly urge you to become involved in AlAnon, a support group for those individuals whose relatives or loved ones are alcoholic. You are not alone and, as you will discover when you attend meetings, there is much you can do to help yourself and your children. Primarily, this consists of "detaching with love," meaning that you do not have to support your spouse's drinking or feel the vicious cycle of blame/guilt/anger/remorse that is characteristic of the families of alcoholics. You truly have to think now of yourself and your children. Seek out a certified alcohol counselor or go to AlAnon; both resources are listed in the white or yellow pages of your telephone directory.

As to the specific answer to your question, you can expect the worst if your husband's liver fails. The liver is a vital organ; long-term alcohol abuse damages it, causing cirrhosis (scarring) or alcohol hepatitis (inflammation). With either of these diseases, the prognosis is grim. Alcohol has other effects in the body, including mental alterations, pancreatic malfunction, heart disease, and immune-system abnormalities. Your husband is a prime candidate for alcohol-induced health problems, many of which could be fatal.

With professional help, you may discover that the time is ripe for an "intervention." This consists of a meeting — often including an alcohol counselor, a doctor, a minister or rabbi, an employer and concerned family members — to confront your husband with the seriousness of his addiction. The truth may hurt but he needs to hear it. Under professional guidance, an intervention will tend to neutralize the alcoholic's most prized defense: denial. A massive dose of truth may be what your husband requires before his life and his health are in shambles.

The bottom line of this problem is that you can best help yourself and your family by taking care of your own needs and involving whatever community resources are available. For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Help II — Mental/Substance Abuse."

Bogus nurse gets hired nine times

HOUSTON (AP) — A tall, red-haired woman with a slight Scottish accent has used bogus credentials to get jobs as a registered nurse in at least nine Houston-area medical facilities in the past 10 years, authorities say.

State nursing regulators have known of her activities since 1984, the Houston Chronicle reported today.

Ray Toburen, director of investigations for the Texas State Board of Nurse Examiners, said she has been known as Gloria Lampl, Gloria Livsey and Gloria Pirello in jobs she obtained after presenting altered copies of Texas nursing licenses.

Toburen said the woman made a big mistake when she obtained a job using the name and license of Ann L. McClain, a real nurse living in Houston.

Ms. McClain said she and the woman, known then as Gloria Pirello, obtained a copy of McClain's license when both worked at the same health care institution during 1987. The woman then used Ms. McClain's license to find another job.

A friend of Ms. McClain saw the bogus nurse at the new health care facility and told McClain, "Gloria Pirello is using your name and working some where else."

"I was furious," Ms. McClain said. "If she had given the wrong medication or killed someone, my license would have been suspended."

Quayle and Bentsen get briefed on road

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early in his vice presidential campaign, Sen. Dan Quayle was challenged by a reporter to show he understood "target prices," a keystone of U.S. farm commodity programs.

His halting, somewhat defensive answer went like this:

"Target prices? How that works? I know quite a bit about farm policy. I come from Indiana, which is a farm state. Deficiency payments, which are the key, that is what gets money into the farmer's hands. We got loan rates, we got target prices."

Aides to Quayle quickly hustled the Republican vice presidential nominee away before the matter could be pursued further.

They concede privately that there are areas where he needs to bone up, namely on agricultural and economic issues. But they point out that on defense and national security, Quayle considers himself an expert, not without reason. His Democratic counterpart, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, has spent 18 years in the Senate and is considered quite knowledgeable on a number of issues, particularly in his work on the Senate Finance Committee he chairs.

But both vice presidential nominees need — and get — extensive briefings as they stump throughout the country, not only on regional issues but also on positions enunciated by their respective running mates. The briefings have intensified as the two candidates prepare for their debate Wednesday in Omaha, Neb.

Nurses indicted after patient disfigured

HONEY GROVE, Texas (AP) — A Fannin County grand jury has indicted three nurses on charges of causing disfiguring burns to a bedridden 83-year-old nursing home patient by leaving her unattended on a heating pad for more than 39 hours.

The indictments allege that Arietta Robardy was placed on an electric heating pad by the nurses, who then failed to monitor her condition, causing her to be burned and disfigured.

Indicted were Vickie Barnes, Doris Flippo and Nancy Sangster, all nurses who were employed by Grove Manor. The charge accuses them of injury to an elderly person, a third-degree felony. The maximum punishment would be two to 10 years in prison and fines of up to $10,000.

The indictments were returned Sept. 16.

Investigator Scott Wilson of the Texas attorney general's office said Thursday that Robardy was placed on a heating pad, left unattended for 39 hours and 15 minutes in her room at Grove Manor Nursing Home and permanently scarred by second-degree burns.

"Let's just say it wasn't pleasant," Carlton Robardy, the woman's son told the Dallas Times Herald. He declined to comment further pending advice from his attorney.

Alice Edelhauser, administrator of the 90-bed nursing home, located about 30 miles east of Sherman, said Grove Manor provides quality care for its 70 elderly patients. She refused to comment on the indictments.

Dr. Gary Sweek, the home's medical director, said he disagreed with the attorney general's finding and said the elderly woman was on the heating pad for no more than six hours.

Quayle devoted Thursday to debate preparation and looked ahead to a weekend of tutelage from Roger Ailes, the Bush campaign's media adviser. Bentsen snatched time to study during a light campaign schedule before returning to Washington late Friday for two days of meetings and briefings with top Democratic advisers.

Quayle has been studying briefing papers on various issues prepared for him under the supervision of Jim Ciccone, a former aide to Bush campaign chairman James A. Baker III.

Dear Abby

Wrong Home for Adopted Pet Is as Bad as No Home at All

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who has three children. The youngest is a 3-year-old. Their dog had to be put away due to cancer, so my friend went to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Oakland (Calif.) to get a puppy to adopt.

A volunteer took a 7-week-old puppy out of its cage for my friend to play with, and it was love at first sight! She filled out a long form, then came the oral interview. At the end of the interview, she was told she couldn't have the puppy because it was their policy not to place a dog under 6 months old in a home where there is a 3-year-old child! Have you ever heard of anything so ridiculous? With the thousands of animals tossed out of cars, neglected and killed because nobody wants them, wouldn't you think the SPCA would be delighted to give a puppy to anyone who was willing to take it?

How dare they judge the suitability of a family based on the age of one of its members! I wonder how many excellent homes have been denied a pet because of this stupid policy.

I would like your thoughts on this, Abby.

BURNED BETTY
IN EL SOBRANTE

DEAR BURNED: I called the Oakland SPCA and spoke with the director, Gary Templin, a kind and gentle man. He said, "Yes, that is our policy. Let me explain: Most 3-year-olds regard a small puppy as a 'toy' — they pick it up by its tail, pull its ears and handle it as though it were a stuffed animal. Children that age are not necessarily 'mean'; they simply don't know any better. A 6-month-old puppy can usually fend for itself and poses few problems with a 3-year-old.

"But there's another issue," Templin said. "Because these dogs are unwanted to begin with, the SPCA makes every effort to place them in homes where they will not be a problem, because if a dog is returned to us as a 'problem dog,' we cannot place it in another home — we have to kill it."

So, Burned Betty, I hope you now understand why your friend wasn't given that 7-week-old puppy. The policy makes sense to me, and I enthusiastically applaud Oakland's SPCA for carefully inquiring about the home environment before sending a pet to live there — instead of giving an animal to anyone who walks in and asks for one.

DEAR ABBY: I was shocked at your response to "Divorced Dad," who asked into which restroom he should take his 2-year-old daughter when they were in a public place and she had to use the bathroom. You recommended taking the child to the men's room because if women were using the ladies' room, they would be "outraged" to see a man walk in — even to tend to the needs of his small daughter.

Abby, please never say it's OK for a little girl to go into a men's room — even with her daddy!

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Little boys are taken into ladies' rooms by their mothers, so why shouldn't little girls be taken into men's rooms by their fathers? (Better a small girl in a men's room than a grown man in a ladies' room.)

And by the way, my answer prompted an unsolicited "bravo" from David L. Levy, Esq., the president of The National Council for Children's Rights.

DEAR ABBY: Re the military wife who didn't want guests to smoke in her home: Would she send her husband's commanding officer in the backyard to smoke? Or, if they were living, how about JFK, FDR or Winston Churchill — all smokers?

DOROTHY IN FORT LAUDERDALE

DEAR DOROTHY: Rank has its privileges. I'd say that the commanding officer, and such luminaries as JFK, FDR and Churchill, would be welcome to light up wherever they please.

Judge: settlement should teach schools

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A $1.1 million award against school officials for barring three young AIDS-infected brothers from class is a lesson to educators nationwide, says the judge who approved the settlement of the civil rights suit.

"Let us hope there will not have to be too many more cases for other families and other school boards like the Ray case, which ... was a landmark case," U.S. District Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich said Thursday after lawyers for both sides outlined the terms in court.

She praised both sides for settling the dispute without a trial, which had been set to begin Monday in Fort Myers.

The agreement between Louise and Clifford Ray and the DeSoto County School District in Arcadia gives the couple's three sons $820 a month each for the next 10 years, for a total of nearly $100,000 each. Should one of them die before the end of the period, the others or their parents would receive the remainder of the award.

The parents, whose home was burned down by an arsonist during the uproar, each are to receive about $300 monthly for 30 years, including a 3 percent annual increase for inflation, for a total of more than $170,000 each. The parents also get an immediate $50,000 cash payment.

The settlement, to be paid by the school district's insurance company, contains $387,500 for attorney fees and $50,000 for court costs.

School officials had insisted too much was unknown about acquired immune deficiency syndrome, and they wouldn't risk exposing other children to the deadly disease by admitting the boys: Ricky, now 11, Robert, 10, and Randy, 9.

Mrs. Ray said she hopes school officials "have learned as much from this situation as we have. You shouldn't be afraid of someone who has AIDS because you can't catch it. And if you have a disease, you shouldn't have to be ashamed of it."

The brothers have hemophilia, a genetic disease that keeps blood from clotting. They probably were exposed to the AIDS virus through plasma-based medication to clot their blood.

Sandefur qualifies for high honor

Each year a national search is conducted to identify students in the seventh grade who are academically gifted. In order to be eligible for this program, a student must have scored in the upper three percent of the nation on his/her spring standardized achievement test. Results in math, reading and/or a combination of math and verbal skills are considered.

Sheri Sandefur of Hermleigh Junior High School qualifies for this honor.

Recommended students may now take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the American College Test (ACT) in either December or January in competition with high school juniors and seniors.

Students who score exceptionally well will be invited to Duke University, Durham, N. C. for the spring Grand Presentation Ceremony.

Those scoring a bit lower, but still above the average college freshman, will be invited to the State Recognition Ceremony in Austin.

Family feuds begin as A&M hosts Tech

by The Associated Press
The Southwest Conference football chase gets down to a heavy dose of family feuding on Saturday, with the probation-stained defending champion Texas Aggies finally getting to play their first game in Kyle Field.

A&M hosts the surprising Texas Tech Red Raiders, 36-6 upset conquerors of the Baylor Bears last week.

Odds makers made the winless Aggies, who have lost to Nebraska, LSU, and Oklahoma State, eight-point favorites over the Raiders in the 2 p.m. clash in College Station.

In other games, unbeaten Arkansas was a six-point pick over Texas Christian in a 2 p.m. clash at Fayetteville; Houston was a 4½-point favorite over Baylor in a noon Raycom TV game at Waco; and the Texas Longhorns were 18-point choices over Rice in a 6 p.m. game in Houston.

Tech was the only SWC team to beat the Cotton Bowl champion Aggies last year.

Quarterback Billy Joe Tolliver was The Associated Press' SWC Offensive Player of the Week, with four touchdown passes against Baylor.

A&M's home opener against Alabama was postponed from Sept. 17 to Dec. 1 because the Crimson Tide was worried about Hurricane Gilbert, which hit Mexico.

"It will be nice to play a game in front of our student body," said A&M coach Jackie Sherrill. "We'll have the 12th man on the field with our kickoff teams and in the stands."

Chris Osgood, the transfer from Mississippi, is expected to start at quarterback for A&M.

Arkansas will be looking for its first SWC football title since a 1979 co-championship with Houston when it entertains the Frogs, a 31-17 victor over Eastern power Boston College last week.

The Hogs have won 27 of the last 29 games in the series.

Arkansas was idle last week and polished its passing attack, which is averaging almost 212 yards per game.

The Frogs' Tony Darthard has had back-to-back games of 131 yards rushing.

Jack Pardee's Cougars are leading the nation in pass offense, averaging 460 yards in victories over Louisiana Tech and Missouri. The Cougars have nine touchdown passes.

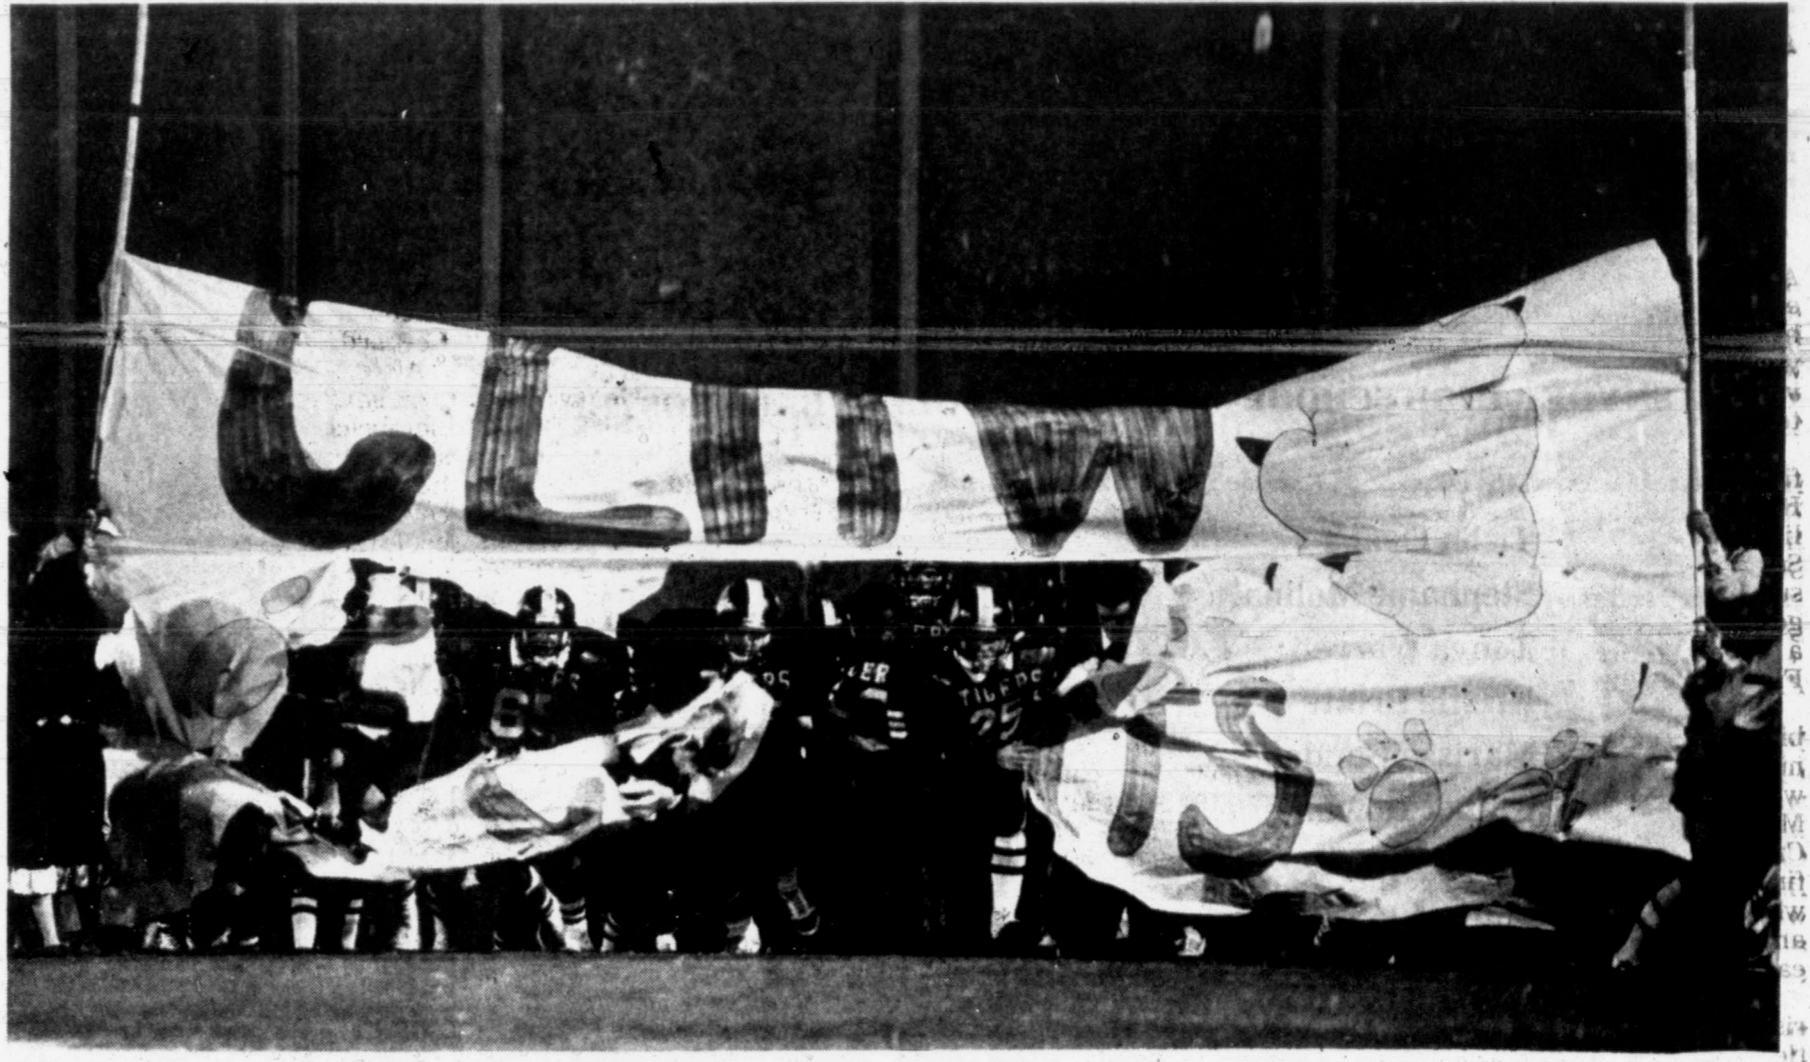

Houston had an off week to prepare for the Bears in the first regional telecast of the year featuring two SWC clubs.

Baylor returns home after three straight road games. The Bears have won the last three games between the schools.

Houston's defense is also playing well, forcing 12 turnovers in two games.

The 91 points Houston has scored are the most a Cougar team has posted in the first two games of a season in school history.

Baylor starting quarterback Brad Goebel was a doubtful starter because of a sprained ankle.

In District 4-4A opener here...

Snyder set to battle Chiefs tonight

It's a new season, says Coach David Baugh, and when Snyder's Fightin' Tigers go into tonight's game with San Angelo Lake View, it will be with that in mind.

"We're starting district play and our pre-district is behind us now," said Baugh, whose Tigers entertain the Chiefs at 8 p.m. "We need to play the best we can. If we win, we'll be in first place in the district."

It will also be Snyder's first victory of the 1988 season after losses to Lubbock Coronado, Levelland and Littlefield. Lake View comes into town with a 2-1 mark. The Chiefs defeated Ballinger and Lubbock High and lost to Vernon.

The new season will also see some changes in the starting offensive lineup for the Tigers.

Coach Baugh indicated that Randy Morris will open under center for the first time. He'll be joined by senior tailback Michael Riggins, who missed the first three Tiger games with a separated shoulder.

Baugh also indicated that senior quarterback Todd Odom will likely see action with Morris.

"Randy is starting on defense and Todd may see a lot of defensive play so we'll just see who is tired during the game. If one is tired, we'll go with the other," said Baugh.

There is little question about who will be the Chiefs' quarterback. It's Will Burney, who has hit his receivers 26 times in 53 attempts for 348 yards and two touchdowns. The Chiefs are averaging 258.7 yards a game and almost half of that - 120.3 - has come through the air.

"I think that's what we have to stop. Their quarterback makes the difference in the team," said Coach Baugh. "And all their receivers - their split end, flanker, tight end, backs - all catch the ball well."

Split end Tony Allen leads the Lake View receiving corps with five catches for 97 yards and a TD. Flanker Kyle Mullins also has five catches while running back Shane Gloeckler has four.

The Chiefs aren't a drop-back passing team, though.

"No, if they do (drop back) it's usually three-steps back and a quick pass," said Baugh. "Usually, though, they run sprint out type passes and bootlegs."

The rushing game rests largely on Bobby Lohse, a 5-10, 150-pound tailback who has 190 yards in 46 carries.

On the Tiger injury list is cornerback Willie Garcia. Suffering from a deep thigh bruise, Garcia has seen only limited workouts. If he cannot go Friday, either Odom or Shelby Bufkin will likely get the call.

Elsewhere across District 4-4A tonight, top-ranked and undefeated Sweetwater entertains Fort Stockton (1-2), Pecos, also unbeaten at 3-0, hosts Andrews (2-1) and Big Spring (0-2) is at Monahans (2-1).

Ira head into the contest with a 2-2 season record after a 20-14 loss to ninth-ranked Jayton last week. Borden, a 62-16 victim of Wilson, is 1-3.

Hermleigh and Trent are idle, preparing for the Oct. 7 start of district play. In other games involving 7-1A teams, Highland visits Paint Creek, Blackwell hosts Panther Creek and Loraine tries Christoval in a meeting between two of the state's top six-man squads. Christoval is ranked second in the state. Loraine is ranked eighth.

Ira entertains Borden in homecoming game

Ira's Bulldogs get their final tuneup before District 7-1A play when they entertain rival Borden County this evening.

The ballgame, celebrated as part of Ira's homecoming activities, is set for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

SAN ANGELO -- Snyder junior varsity played well but sputtered too often and came out of the losing end of a 13-0 football game with Lake View here Thursday.

"It was real, real, real close," said Coach Milton Ham. "It was a lot closer ballgame than the score shows."

Penalties didn't help. The Tigers had a 99-yard TD pass called back and another drive stopped by penalty.

Lake View took a 7-0 advantage in the first quarter and it held up through halftime. The Chiefs were driving in the third quarter when Blair Williams intercepted on Snyder's 1-yard line.

Williams' interception set up a 99-yard pass-and-run play from quarterback Edward Rios to tight end Paul Anderson. The TD celebration was short-lived, however, when the play was called back. Snyder overcame the penalty and marched to midfield, but another penalty took the steam out of the drive.

Lake View scored its final touchdown in the fourth quarter. "The kids played hard the whole ballgame," said Ham. "I was proud. I thought our secondary played extremely well. Edward Rios and Justin Hester did

No gold for U.S. in 400 relay

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - America's battle of the baton ended before Carl Lewis ever got his hands on it, but a little "civil war" didn't stop the U.S. men's volleyball team in its surge toward gold.

The Olympics headed into the final weekend buoyed by Louise Ritter's day of lucky leaps after a lifetime of misfortune, the Soviets' resurgence to basketball supremacy and the prospect of a gold rush by six U.S. fighters and a relay team anchored by Florence Griffith Joyner.

American Tim Mayotte lost his bid for the first gold medal in tennis since 1924 in Paris when he was beaten 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2 by Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia in the men's final. Mayotte earned a silver while teammate Brad Gilbert and Sweden's Stefan Edberg each won bronzes.

Pam Shriver and Zina Garrison won the women's doubles title for the United States, preventing Czechoslovakia from sweeping both the day's titles.

Sixty-four years after compatriots Hazel Wightman and Helen Wills won the event, Shriver and Garrison downed Czechs Jana Novotna and Helena Sukova, 4-6, 6-2, 10-8.

Lewis lost his chance for a third gold and fourth medal almost the same way he won his first gold in the 100-meter dash - through a disqualification. The reason this time, though, had nothing to do with drugs.

Instead it was the trembling hand of Lee McNeill that apparently led to the 400 relay team's disqualification after it won its first-round heat without Lewis, who was scheduled to run the anchor leg Saturday.

The Soviet Union, France and Nigeria protested the baton pass outside the proper zone from Calvin Smith to McNeill, and the protest was upheld hours later by the jury of appeals of the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

"My hand was shaking so bad I gave him a shaky target," said McNeill, who had been in Lewis' anchor position in the heat.

The relay team, which had hoped to set a world record with Lewis running, looked sloppy from the start, with rough passes from Dennis Mitchell to Albert Robinson and then Robinson to Smith.

Dissension had wracked the relay team for weeks before the Games as Lewis tried to get his training partner, and eventual 200-meter sprint winner, Joe DeLoach on the team. Coaches, in turn, threatened to kick Lewis off the team if he didn't stop "upsetting" the team.

There was happier news on the track earlier Friday, though.

Louise Ritter overcame all of her life's hurdles - rheumatic fever, two operations on her ankles and one on her knees, a broken ankle, torn Achilles tendon, anemia - before making the leap of a lifetime and becoming the first American high jump champion in 32 years.

"I knew immediately when I took off that I could clear it," Ritter, 30, of Dallas, said after soaring 6 feet, 8 inches to win a dramatic jump-off against Bulgarian world record-holder Stefka Kostadinova. "It was the best jump I had all day."

Afterward, she lay on the mat for a moment with her face in her hands. When she looked up, the crossbar was still and the Olympic gold, almost unbelievably after all her problems, finally belonged to her.

The United States, beaten at its own game by the Soviets in basketball, is looking forward to payback time in another American-grown sport after the men's volleyball team swept into the finals with a 3-0 rout of Brazil.

At the same time, the Soviets claimed the basketball gold by routing Yugoslavia 76-63 to earn their 100th medal of the Games.

Two days after a heated practice in which the U.S. volleyball players were nearly at each other's throats, the Americans crushed Brazil 15-3, 15-5, 15-11.

In Sunday's final, the defending gold medalists will face the winner of the semifinal between the Soviets and Argentina.

Six U.S. fighters are in the finals, twice as many as any other country, and they hope to bring home one more gold than the 1976 team led by Leon and Michael Spinks and Sugar Ray Leonard.

After a demoralizing 1-2 start that saw middleweight Anthony Hembrick disqualified for not showing up on time for his first fight and Kelcie Banks knocked cold in the first round of his initial bout, the U.S. team rebounded to place eight fighters in medal matches.

Going into Saturday's first six gold medal finals, American fighters are 31-6.

Netters welcome Pecos

Snyder varsity will entertain Pecos in a District 4-4A team tennis match here Saturday.

Play is expected to get underway about 11 a.m. at the junior high courts.

"We expect it to be a very close match," said Coach Charlie Chrane, whose Tigers are 2-1 in district play.

7th graders host playday

Snyder seventh grade volleyball teams will host a playday here Saturday at the junior high school.

The round-robin type event gets underway at 8 a.m. when Snyder Gold plays Goliad B in the north gym and Snyder Black meets Goliad A in the south gym.

At 8:30 a.m., Snyder White plays Sweetwater B, and at 10:30 a.m. Snyder C plays Goliad B.

Play will continue through the day.

Red Sox finally secure tie for AL East division crown

By The Associated Press

The Red Sox admit it. They felt that the rest of the American League East thought: Boston could blow it.

Not any more. The Red Sox clinched a tie for the division title Thursday night, routing the Cleveland Indians 12-0.

"We were starting to sweat a little bit," Jody Reed said. "The pressure's off us now."

The Red Sox can win their second championship in three seasons tonight with a win in Cleveland. Roger Clemens, 9-0 lifetime against the Indians, will start for Boston.

Milwaukee and New York are on the verge of elimination. Just to tie, the Brewers and Yankees need to win all their remaining games and have Boston lose its final three to the Indians. Detroit, which was idle, was chased from the race.

The Yankees kept their slim chances alive with a 5-1 victory over Baltimore.

Elsewhere, AL West champion Oakland beat Minnesota 6-2, Seattle stopped Texas 5-1 and Kansas City defeated Chicago 7-6 in 10 innings.

The Red Sox, who had lost three in a row at home to Toronto, held a pregame meeting before crushing Cleveland. The message: relax.

"We talked it up a little before the game, but maybe we felt a little anxiety," Marty Barrett said. "You may joke and laugh, but what happened against Toronto may stay in the back of your mind."

Ellis Burks erased those negative thoughts. He hit a three-run double that capped a five-run third inning and had an RBI single during a seven-run seventh.

Mike Boddicker retired the first 16 batters and coasted to a three-hitter. He is 13-15 overall, but 7-3 since Boston got him in a trade with Baltimore on July 29.

Mariners 5, Rangers 1

Mark Langston stretched his scoreless inning streak to 34 before giving up a run in the ninth as Seattle beat Texas at the Kingdome.

Langston, 15-11, lost his try at a fourth consecutive shutout when pinch-hitter Jim Sundberg hit an RBI single with one out.

Lady Tigers fight Andrews Saturday

ANDREWS - Snyder's Lady Tigers are in a four-way tie for second place in the District 4-4A volleyball race. They'd like to improve that situation when they take on the Andrews Mustangs here Saturday at 3 p.m.

Snyder, Andrews, Sweetwater and Fort Stockton all boast 4-2 league marks. The Lady Tigers hope to drop Andrews from the list Saturday. Meanwhile, Sweetwater's second-place status will be threatened by defending state champion Pecos. The only unbeaten team in the district, Pecos at 5-0 will host Sweetwater on Saturday.

In other 4-4A matches this weekend, Big Spring is at Fort Stockton and Monahans visits San Angelo to play Lake View.

Snyder is 14-8 for the season and has won its last four matches. The Lady Mustangs go into the contest with an 8-11 record.

Saturday's fare here will feature four contests, beginning with a couple of freshman matches at 12:30 p.m. Junior varsity squads play at 2 p.m.

Frosh win 5th straight game

Snyder freshmen stunned San Angelo Eddison for three first-quarter touchdowns, then went on to defeat the visitors 26-8 here Thursday night.

"They had a good team," said Coach Larry Scott. "We were able to get them down early and that helped a lot. Our kids stayed with it and wouldn't let them get anything going."

It was the fifth straight win for the young Tigers, who go on the road to Andrews for their next outing, Thursday, Oct. 6.

Eddison's second-period touchdown broke a string of 13 consecutive quarters in which the young Tigers had held their opponents scoreless.

"I thought we played pretty good all night long. Their touchdown pass was really the only breakdown we had," said Scott. "We played real good defense again. Our offensive line and backs did a good job again."

Michael Torres figured in all of the scoring for Snyder. The first TD came when he broke free on a 54-yard TD run. Torres also ran the two-point conversion.

Snyder scored again with 55 seconds to play in the quarter. Torres carried the ball over from five yards out to give the Tigers a 14-0 lead. The conversion failed.

San Angelo fumbled the ensuing kickoff and an alert David Hinojos recovered for Snyder to set up the hosts' third TD of the quarter. Torres bulled in from three yards out as the clock expired. The PAT was no good.

Eddison got on the board on a 4-yard pass and a conversion run in the second quarter, giving the game a 20-8 halftime look. Snyder closed out the scoring in the fourth period when Torres scored on another 3-yard burst. A conversion pass fell incomplete.

The Tigers held Eddison to seven first downs, 99 yards rushing and 54 yards passing.

Snyder came up with 12 first downs, 214 yards rushing and 59 passing. Brian Crawford accounted for the air attack, hitting his receivers on six of nine attempts.

Torres rushed for 117 yards on 12 carries. Others toting the football were Leddy Lewis, seven carries for 46 yards, Mark King, five for 30 and Daniel Espinosa, nine for 21.

Bobby Clinkinbeard caught a 30-yard pass and Hayward Clay cradled in a 12-yard toss. Torres, Lewis and King also caught short passes.

CATS

a real good job there. Les Rinehart and Damien Haywood also played well. The defense as a unit played hard.

"I thought Paul Anderson did a good job running with the football, too," the coach added.

Now 2-3 on the season, the Tigers will try to even their record next Thursday, Oct. 6, when they entertain Andrews at 7 p.m.

Church marker due ceremony

Fr. Huettel plans were made for a church building. A donation of $1,000 was obtained from the Catholic Church Extension Society. The frame church of St. Francis Xavier, costing $1,500, was dedicated May 31, 1908. At that time there were 40 families in the parish.

At the close of 1908, the church received its first resident pastor, Fr. Phillibert Haase, O.F.M.

In 1922, the Hermleigh parish reverted to mission status and was served by a priest from Sweetwater, Fr. J.A. Campbell, until 1926. From 1926 to 1950, the church was served by priests of a religious order from Sweetwater—first the Claretian fathers until 1948, and then by the Oblate Fathers.

The entire area, including Hermleigh, became part of the new Diocese of Amarillo in 1926 and a large class was confirmed in Hermleigh in the badley weathered frame church.

In the 1930s, the rural community suffered greatly from the drought and the depression and the needs of St. Francis Xavier as the church was still then called were brought to the attention of the Extension Society.

A grant of $3,000 was given to the church with the stipulation that the name had to change to St. John. A substantial brick church was erected and was dedicated to St. John on Feb. 28, 1937.

In the late 1940s, the influx of people into Scurry County because of the oil boom at Snyder brought about the establishment of St. John's, Hermleigh, as a parish on July 21, 1950.

St. John's became a mission of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Snyder in 1981.

On June 17, 1983, the Lubbock Diocese was established and both Snyder and Hermleigh became a part of the new diocese.
