Energy plan unveiled

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — On a campaign stop in the town where he started in the oil business 37 years ago, Republican presidential nominee George Bush unveiled an energy policy aimed at helping domestic oil and gas producers.

Vice President Bush, who moved to Midland in 1951 and started the independent Zapata Offshore Co., said Thursday that he favors tax incentives to stimulate oil production, exploration and research and development.

"The American oil industry is too important to our national security to have its economic underpinnings totally dependent on the political climate in the Middle East," Bush told about 1,000 people at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum. Most in the crowd were Texans in the oil business.

The Republican nominee seemed well at ease with his audience.

many of whom he counted as old friends.

The deregulation of natural gas is necessary because "that's what would be best for both the industry and the American people," Bush said, adding that he would encourage the use of alternative fuels such as methanol.

Standing before an array of motionless pumpjacks at a museum display, Bush told the crowd he understood the consequences of falling oil prices.

On Thursday, the November delivery price of the benchmark West Texas intermediate crude closed at $12.66 a barrel, up six cents from a three-year low recorded Wednesday.

To make oil exploration and production more profitable in the light of such low prices, Bush said he favored tax incentives for low-output wells and tax credits designed to encourage drilling of new wells and and more production from existing wells.

"It sounded encouraging," said independent oilman Kevin Butler of Midland. "It'll be hard to get through Congress, but it gives us a little hope."

Butler had said before the speech that he hoped Bush would recommend tax incentives to give producers a break.

John Dorr of Pecos, another independent oilman, agreed with Butler. "It's been three years since I've sunk a bit into the ground," he said.

In Fort Worth earlier Thursday, Bush delivered an anti-crime speech in which he told an audience of law-enforcement officials that he advocates the resumption of a federal death penalty in some cases.

"Some crimes are so brutal, so heinous, that those who commit them should pay the ultimate sanction," Bush said.

Report indicates Olney will head new thrift group

HOUSTON (AP) — Thrift regulators are nearing a Southwest Plan consolidation of at least nine troubled savings and loans whose negative regulatory capital totals $409 million, a newspaper has reported.

The estimated cost to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. for the proposed deal could exceed $1.5 billion, the Houston Post reported.

Olney Savings, a $1.4 billion-asset thrift, is the linchpin in the merger that would be the largest asset consolidation under the 5-month-old Southwest Plan, the Houston Post reported, quoting anonymous sources. The resulting institution would have about $3 billion in assets.

Despite the potential size of the Olney transaction, it could be eclipsed by the $11 billion-asset institution that First Texas Savings of Dallas and Gibraltar Savings of Houston hope to create from an anticipated merger and consolidation.

The newspaper's sources said Olney Savings has signed a consent to merge agreement with thrift regulators.

The nine thrifts' negative regulatory capital totals $409 million.

The sources said the present management of Olney Savings would run the surviving institution.

Other institutions said to be consolidated with Olney in a deal. See OLNEY, page 9.

White Buffalo Days fun slated Saturday

It was 112 years ago today that county pioneer J. Wright Mooar shot the fabled white buffalo on the banks of Deep Creek, and this event—the symbol of Scurry County's historic past—will again be celebrated Saturday with White Buffalo Days.

Planning which dates to early summer will materialize into action at 9 a.m. as the annual downtown parade begins, driven by the musical accompaniment of the Snyder High School marching band.

Music will end the day as well with a free show by Dallas-based entertainer Al Nelson and his "rock and soul" show, which sees him impersonating singers from Elvis Presley to Paul McCartney with a string of past hits dating from 1955-70.

From 10 a.m. until 9 p.m., up to 50 arts and crafts artisans will display on the coliseum floor and, at select times, teams from local clubs and businesses will vie for the Mayor's Cup Race trophy and county youth will compete in such events as the stick horse rodeo, B-B gun "shoot off" and turtle races.

Throughout the day, food and activity booths will be set up, offering among other things bonafide buffalo burgers.

It was on Oct. 7, 1876, that

Mooar, one of the most famous of the buffalo hunters, shot and killed the white buffalo.

One of two Sharp's buffalo guns owned by Mooar will be displayed in the Scurry County Museum in a special "Night of the Buffalo Moon" exhibit opening to the general public Sunday from 1 until 4 p.m.

An exhibit preview will be Oct. 7. See BUFFALO, page 9.

Guard classes to start

The first TDC Correctional Officer Training class offered through Western Texas College begins Saturday with a 27-member class—24 males and three females.

The group will receive 120 hours of classroom training and, when this is completed, will be eligible for employment with the Texas Department of Corrections at any of its units throughout the state.

The class schedule will include most Tuesday and Thursday nights until mid-December, two Friday night classes plus seven Saturday sessions which will run all day.

The instructor Saturday will be Cpt. Oscar Mendoza, head of the TDC correctional officer academy at Huntsville. He will offer an overview of the criminal justice system and the Texas Department of Corrections.

Other areas of classroom study throughout the semester will include such topics as inmate gangs, legal responsibilities of guards, defense and restraint tactics, firearm training, hostage situations, CPR, physical conditioning and disciplinary procedures.

Graduation for the class is slated Dec. 15. Graduates accepting positions with TDC may begin employment immediately and, after six months, request transfers to other prison units.

In addition, TDC will consider graduates for employment up to one year after they have completed training.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The difference between wisdom and foolishness is that wisdom has its limits."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

George Dolan, writing in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, told about an interim preacher who delivered a sermon at church in Fredericksburg. The visiting minister chose "Lust" as his sermon topic.

Dolan explained that the congregation is made up largely of senior citizens.

After the service, an elderly lady with a cane hobbled over to the minister and said, "Instead of preaching on lust to this group, you should have been preaching on rust."

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, says he has always wondered why ministers play such a lousy round of golf—especially when they have so much time to play and often take advantage of it.

Now Nieman has found the answer to the question of why preachers play such poor golf: "They have no vocabulary for it."

Vernon's Larry Crabtree said a local doctor was bragging about breaking 80. Crabtree was about to congratulate him until he learned he was talking about patients, not golf.

Ed Scott, a former Texas newsman who now toils in Nebraska, read that a Denver postmaster had been fired for sexually harrasing four women employees.

Scott thinks the guy needs the benefit of the doubt. "He may have simply erred in trying to promote the overnight male."

Dukakis, Bentsen...

Two stump at steel plant

LONE STAR, Texas (AP) — O.J. Morrow was standing in the dry grass with a few friends, waiting for the Democratic nominee for president to arrive and tell him something good.

Not that Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis and his running mate, Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, had to convince him of anything. But the past few years have been filled with bad times that Morrow hopes can be changed.

Morrow was one of many at the political rally laid off from the Lone Star Steel Co. plant through the years.

"I'm a hundred percent for them," Morrow said. "We've had enough of the Republicans."

With that as the dominant sentiment on the grounds of the plant in northeast Texas Thursday, Dukakis and Bentsen had to do little persuading.

"I don't have to tell you what's happened to jobs and industry, to your jobs and your future in the past eight years," Dukakis said to hundreds of supporters, many who are unemployed.

The company had 4,500 hourly workers in 1981, but that number has been whittled down to 700.

"I've seen a lot of my friends leave here," because of layoffs, said Bob Hampton, president of United Steelworkers of American Local 4134.

"If I wasn't union president, I wouldn't have a job," he said.

The plant makes flat rolled steel and oil field pipe products, but like a lot of other state industry it was crippled when the bottom the price per barrel for Texas crude plummeted.

The local economic conditions became the theme of Dukakis' stumping and played well with the crowd.

MORMON MISSIONARIES—These two Mormon missionaries have been assigned to Snyder. They are Elder Aaron Horsley of Midvale, Wash. and elder Danny Fuhr of Kennewick, Wash. Missionaries devote two years of their lives to this type of work they said and each pays his own expenses. (SDN Staff Photo)

Mormon missionaries are assigned to work in Snyder

Elder Aaron Horsley of Midvale, Utah and Elder Danny Fuhr of Kennewick, Wash. are two missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints who have been assigned to Snyder. They arrived Sept. 22 and both said recently that their main purpose will be to establish a church here.

The two wear white dress shirts and dress slacks and travel by bicycle going from door to door sharing their message of Jesus Christ and telling people about the Book of Mormon. They give away free copies to those interested. Anyone interested in contacting them may call them at 573-3236.

The Book of Mormon contains an account of Christian people who lived mainly on the American continent until civil war destroyed them. The book also records a visit by Jesus Christ to these people after his resurrection in Jerusalem.

Texas has four Mormon missions and both Horsley and Fuhr are just two of 40,000 Mormon missionaries throughout the world.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Substantial rewards could be in the offing in the year ahead if you're willing to pay the price. Take the long-range view of matters and don't expect something for nothing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You might have a talent today for creating your own problems. In order to avoid unpleasantness, stop and think about the penalties associated with erratic behavior. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be especially prudent where finances are concerned today. Carefully analyze your expenditures so that you don't put good money in bad situations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you are a rather resilient person who bounces back quickly after setbacks. However, today you might retreat if things don't come your way after the first try.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today it's best not to do anything against your better judgment. If you feel something isn't going to work out well, chances are you'll be right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try not to poke your nose in the confidential affairs of friends today and, by the same token, don't let them pry into yours. Complications could result in either instance.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your usually reliable allies may be the ones who disappoint you the most today. To be on the safe side, count only on yourself and not upon others.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Rather than work on a task you resent today, you might be better off temporarily setting it aside. You won't perform well if your heart isn't in it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Guard against tendencies today to be possessive and demanding of those you love. You wouldn't like it if someone told you what you could or could not do.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Usually you're optimistic regarding the outcome of events that you personally direct. But today you might be unreasonably unsure of yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Carefully guard what you say today, especially in dealings with co-workers. Criticism or caustic comments will not be taken lightly nor will they be readily forgiven.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Although you'll try to be reasonably generous in your involvements with friends today, it is likely that you might be more of a taker than a giver.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Guard against inclinations to put your self-interests above others today. Being overly concerned about No. 1 will turn off people and give your detractors ammunition for gossip.

State bans smoking by some

BOSTON (AP) — At Massachusetts fire stations, they're talking about smoking, not smoke.

A new state law, the first of its kind in the nation, forbids all newly hired police officers and firefighters from smoking cigars or cigarettes, on or off the job.

The statute, enacted last year, took effect Thursday and met with huffs and puffs of resentment across the state.

"This is going to get jammed up in the courts, probably the very first time they try to enforce it," said Lt. Edward M. Merrick Jr., a lobbyist for the 15,000-member Massachusetts Police Association.

The association and other unions contend the law — intended to cut disability pension costs — infringes on their members' private lives and may be unconstitutional.

State legislators agree that the law is virtually certain to be challenged, but they maintain it can withstand constitutional scrutiny because it affects only new recruits.

All of the 21,300 policemen and 23,500 firefighters in Massachusetts are exempt. They can go on smoking as long as they like.

But new state and municipal officers will be told that abstaining from smoking is a condition of their employment. If they violate the ban at any time in their careers, they could be fired.

Rank-and-file officers in several communities said they did not object to the purpose of the law, but felt it went too far.

"It's like the seat belt thing," said Patrolman Paul Goyette of the Lowell Police Department, referring to the state's mandatory seat belt law, which was repealed by voters two years ago.

"It's good for you, but I believe in free choice. I think you should be free to kill yourself if you want."

The answer from legislators, in effect, was that killing yourself is one thing, but asking the taxpayers to pay for it is another.

Finding a solution to parapsoriasis

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I get sent from one dermatologist to another, looked at, get a shrug and a bill. I have parapsoriasis. How would you treat it?

DEAR READER: Parapsoriasis refers to a group of skin diseases characterized by raised, red and scaly lesions. The rash produces no symptoms. It is highly resistant to treatment. Although I am not aware of any appropriate therapy for this condition, I welcome comments from dermatologists who might have some suggestions.

For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report, "Skin: Eczema and Psoriasis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter, 12, started her period three months ago. But recently, she's been bleeding and spotting every 5 to 10 days. How long should we let this go on before putting her on hormones?

DEAR READER: The menarche (beginning of menstruation) is often marked by extreme irregularity. Many young girls take up to a year before their menstrual periods become regular. Although your daughter may be exhibiting a fairly typical pattern, I believe that she should be checked by a gynecologist to make sure that no abnormality is present. The doctor will probably adopt a wait-and-see attitude for several months, but I think you need confirmation that your daughter's frequent bleeding and spotting is a normal, physiological variation. Hormone pills are rarely necessary in this situation.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've heard that calamus root is beneficial in lowering blood sugar. Are there any toxic effects?

DEAR READER: Calamus root, from the plant Acorus calamus, has been used as a flavoring agent and insect repellent because of its aroma. I am unaware of any reputable scientific study showing that calamus root has any medicinal value, especially in lowering blood sugar. Calamus oil is considered to be carcinogenic (cancer-causing) in high concentrations; the amount added to food recipes for flavor is too small to be harmful.

Bentsen scoffs at GOP claims that Quayle did well in debate

"I was reading the paper this morning where George Bush said he thought Dan Quayle won that, and yet every ... I'm sorry," Bentsen said, breaking into laughter and drawing a roar from a crowd at a Democratic breakfast.

"And yet every poll showed we won, and I'd say 'George, as President Reagan would say, facts are very troubling things,'" Bentsen said.

The Texas senator said the Democrats were better on key issues to his home state, including a realistic defense policy, a strong trade policy, and help for the domestic oil industry. And he said his debate might later be seen as "a turning point" in this year's campaign.

Bentsen ridiculed Quayle for trying to compare himself in the debate to President Kennedy. It was an "incredible misfit," he said, ticking off Kennedy's accomplishments.

Despite Bentsen's presence on the ticket, Bush leads Michael Dukakis in the Lone Star state by up to 10 points, according to recent polls. The Democrats contend the gap isn't that big, and Bentsen is campaigning heavily in Texas during the next few days in hopes of tightening the race for the state's 29 electoral votes.

AIDS not sweeping through heterosexuals

CHICAGO (AP) — AIDS is not sweeping through the heterosexual population, says a report released today, but a researcher cautioned that spread of the deadly disease among heterosexuals will be a bigger problem than many suspect.

The number of reported heterosexual AIDS cases is doubling every 14 to 16 months, according to the report in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

"Although AIDS is not 'exploding' into the heterosexual population relative to other risk groups, the increase in the number of heterosexual cases is proportional to increases in other risk groups," the report said.

But "heterosexual spread of AIDS is going to be a bigger problem than many people in this country up until now have suggested," said the report's co-author, Dr. Harry W. Haverkos, of the National Institute on Drug Abuse in Bethesda, Md.

"The medical community and the public should be aware of this and start developing ways to minimize transmission," Haverkos said in a telephone interview.

The report sums up the results of various studies on heterosexual AIDS cases. About 4 percent of the 59,287 cases of AIDS reported in the United States between June 1981 and April 11, 1988, are listed as heterosexually transmitted, according to the report.

Heterosexual AIDS cases appear to be more of a problem among blacks than whites, possibly because of wider use of intravenous drugs by blacks, the study says.

Blacks accounted for 69 percent of the 2,392 AIDS cases attributed to heterosexual contacts, while whites accounted for 17 percent and Hispanics 14 percent, the report said.

Dr. H. Hunter Handsfield, director of the Sexually Transmitted Disease Control Program for the Seattle-King County Department of Public Health in Washington state, said the report's authors overstated the potential of heterosexual AIDS transmission.

Clamping down the lid

There's not much drama in holding an ironclad contract to 10 tricks when most of the tables in the room are allowing declarer to make an overtrick, but that apparently insignificant trick can mean a lot in a pairs tournament. Today's deal turned out well for the defenders not only because they held declarer to 10 tricks but also because a North-South game contract in no-trump would make at least 10 tricks for a better score. It was not difficult to defend four spades, requiring only a modicum of care and partnership cooperation.

When the nine of spades was led, declarer won the 10, played A-K of hearts and ruffed a heart. Now declarer led a low diamond back to his queen, East starting a high-low with the nine. West could hold up with the ace, but that would be the wrong play if East held a singleton nine. So West won and immediately returned a diamond. Declarer won dummy's jack and tried to cash the king, but East ruffed. So declarer lost a trick in every side-suit, just making four spades. I'll leave it to you readers to figure out how 11 tricks would be made if the opening lead had been ace and a club, and also how 10 tricks would easily be made in no-trump.

World court ought to be utilized more

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has proposed to the Soviet Union that "greater use" be made of the World Court to resolve international disputes.

State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said on Thursday, however, that "it's our view that issues involving the use of force and national security do not belong in the International Court of Justice."

Mrs. Oakley said the possibility of using the court more in resolving international disputes did not involve a change in the stand the administration took when it rejected the court's jurisdiction in a dispute with Nicaragua two years ago.

District gridders wage war

Four teams are knotted at the top of the District 4-4A football standings but that won't be the case come Saturday morning. Top-ranked and undefeated Sweetwater will be favored tonight at Big Spring and Monahans will get the pick against Lake View in San Angelo

Freshmen defeated first time this year

ANDREWS - Snyder freshmen suffered their first defeat of the season here Thursday, falling to a tough Andrews team 27-12. "We got beat by a good team but it was a combination of them playing real good and us not playing very well," said Coach Larry Scott. "We had poor field position all night long. I don't think we crossed midfield until the first time we scored. We had trouble defending their option."

B-team tied

ANDREWS - Snyder freshman B-team played Andrews to a scoreless tie here Thursday, 0-0. Snyder managed 98 yards rushing, 47 passing and eight first downs while the Mustangs had 93 yards on the ground, 10 through the air and five first downs. Both teams lost one fumble. "We played pretty well but we couldn't get it across the goal line," said Coach Larry Scott. Locadio Luera rushed for 78 yards and Cliff Roberts for 33. Jason Rios quarterbacked the passing yards, hitting David Hinojos for a 17-yard strike and Jason Bynum for a 30-yard toss. Heath Hodges recovered Andrews' fumble.

Lady Tigers host Pecos on Saturday

Snyder's Lady Tigers have an opportunity to improve their chances for postseason play but it isn't an easy one. The Tigers, sitting in second place in the 4-4A volleyball standings, entertain defending state champion Pecos at 3 p.m. Saturday in the high school gym. "We'd like to have a full gym," said Snyder Coach Patty Grimmett, whose girls have won five straight district matches to go 5-2 in the 4-4A and 15-8 for the season. Pecos is 7-0 in district play and 21-2 overall. "We hope everyone who can will come out and help yell for us," added the coach. Saturday's action begins the second half of district play. Play here will begin at 12:30 p.m. with a freshman match.

WTC off to rough start

ALPINE - No news is usually good news but not in the case of Western Texas, which got off to a rocky start at the Sul Ross State University Rodeo here Thursday. Western had only four students competing in the opening show and all four - Gary Puckett, Shane Guidbransen, Steve Roberts and Kyle Ham - bucked off in their respective roughstock events. "Not much to report," quipped Coach Bob Doty. The action should warm up but something will have to give when the Fightin' Tigers of Snyder trek to Andrews. Tonight's other game features Pecos at Fort Stockton. All four contests are set for 8 p.m. starts. Snyder whipped Lake View 35-0 last week while Andrews upended Pecos 27-12. They, Sweetwater and Monahans are all 1-0 after a week of District 4-4A competition. Lake View, Pecos, Fort Stockton and Big Spring are 0-1. The game between Snyder, 1-3 overall, and Andrews, 3-1, pits defense against defense. Snyder is ranked second in the league by giving up just 213.8 yards an outing. Andrews ranks third, allowing 217.8.

The Mustangs feature the hard-running abilities of Mike Hernandez, who has rushed for 374 yards and seven TDs in four games. Michael Riggins, who in his first start rushed for 85 yards against Lake View, is a key figure for the Tigers. Meanwhile, Big Spring is the only team in the district still winless. To locate the win column tonight, the 0-3 Steers will have to find a way to stop Sweetwater's Kenneth Norman. The fleet tailback has run for 799 yards and eight touchdowns so far this season. Big Spring will counter with a good passing attack that has accounted for 618 of the Steers' 1,054 total yards.

Cougs host Texas A&M

by The Associated Press
The Houston Cougars must pass another tough test Saturday to convince Southwest Conference football watchers that coach Jack Pardee's run-and-shooters are of Cotton Bowl fiber. Three-time defending SWC champion Texas A&M, playing with nothing to lose but the pleasure of knocking other teams out of the running, meets the Cougars at 4 p.m. in the Astrodome. NCAA probation means the Aggies can't host a fourth straight Cotton Bowl and coach Jackie Sherrill's crew took out the frustration of it all on Texas Tech last week in a 50-15 thrashing. The Aggies unveiled a wishbone offense against the fuddled Red Raiders while Houston effectively used the run to outlast Baylor 27-24 in Waco, handing the Bears their second SWC loss. Oddsmakers rate the game a "pick 'em" affair. In other games, unbeaten 20th ranked Arkansas hosts Texas Tech in a noon (Raycom TV) game in Little Rock and the Razorbacks are 13½ point favorites; Rice is at Texas Christian at 7:30 p.m. and the Horned Frogs are 18-point picks, Texas and Oklahoma meet in their annual Red River grudge match in the Cotton Bowl at 1:40 p.m. and the Sooners are 15-point choices, and Southwest Texas State is at Baylor in a 1 p.m. non-conference matchup with the Bears a three-touchdown favorite. Two years ago Texas Tech upset the Hogs 17-7, the Raiders' only victory in history in Arkansas. Arkansas repaid the favor 31-0 last year in Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

7th graders run around Andrews

ANDREWS - Snyder seventh grade football teams took a pair of victories here Thursday night. The B-team won 24-0 as Tyson Cromeens and Jared Presley each scored twice. The A-team got scoring runs of 68 and 38 yards from Eric Braziel to beat Andrews 20-0. Braziel, who rushed for 179 yards in the game, also ran over a two-point conversion. Keith Orosco scored the other A-team touchdown on a 10-yard run.

8th A-team wins 12-6

Snyder eighth grade A-team rallied from a 6-0 deficit to defeat Andrews at Travis Field here Thursday. The Cats got two second-half TDs from Santos Gutierrez to whip the Ponies 12-6. Gutierrez and Bryan Luna ran well for the Cats all game. Coaches credited the win to a total team effort. Coach Roger Goodwin also credited Tommy Doyle with "brilliant play selection."

Sweetwater is averaging a whopping 384.3 yards a game and giving up a paltry 63.0. Big Spring ranks second in offense with a 351.3 average, but is giving up 347. Monahans, 3-1 overall, will try to continue its winning ways in San Angelo. The Lobos boast the running ability of Ronnie Ramsey, who has 279 yards and four TDs to date. Lake View has a good arm in quarterback Will Burney, who has hit his receivers 35 of 73 times for 468 yards. The Chiefs are 2-2 following last week's loss to Snyder.

The Pecos-Fort Stockton matchup features two well-balanced teams. Pecos, 3-1, has a big play man in Bobby Ray Smith, who has thrown for 291 yards and run for another 131. Fort Stockton relies heavily on QB Pete Martinez, who has tossed for 524 of the Panthers' 1,063 total yards. Fort Stockton is 1-3 for the year.

American League playoffs...

BOSTON (AP) - Trailing 0-2 in the count or 0-2 on the scoreboard didn't stop the Oakland Athletics. The Boston Red Sox hope a similar deficit doesn't mean their days are numbered. The A's took a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven American League playoffs with a 4-3 comeback victory Thursday night, their second straight win at Fenway Park. After winning games started by Boston aces Bruce Hurst and Roger Clemens, the A's return home where they were 6-0 against the Red Sox this season. Games 3 and 4 are set for Saturday and Sunday. If the A's don't win both, they'll have another shot in Oakland on Monday. "They play just really tough there," Boston first baseman Todd Benzing said. "We go down 3-0 (and) we're in deep, deep trouble." Boston scored the game's first two runs in the bottom of the sixth. Oakland had just two hits and eight strikeouts at that point. "It's easy to give up with Roger Clemens on the mound," said Oakland reliever Dennis Eckersley, who saved both games. "It just shows a lot for our team, coming back like that." In the top of the seventh, Jose Canseco followed Dave Henderson's leadoff single with his second homer of the series. It came on an 0-2 pitch and tied the score 2-2. In the top of the ninth, with the score 3-3 and two outs, rookie shortstop Walt Weiss delivered the game-winning single against Lee Smith, 0-1 in the playoffs. It also came on an 0-2 pitch and made reliever Gene Nelson a winner in his first series appearance. "When one guy hits a home run and another guy gets a hit (with 0-and-2 counts), it's tough to justify that they were good pitchers," Boston catcher Rich Gedman said. Four A's looked at third strikes from the fireballing Clemens in the first six innings as he duled with Oakland starter Storm Davis. Each team had just one hit through five innings.

Oakland takes 2-0 advantage

Lorraine-Blackwell vie; Ira gears up Saturday

Lorraine and Blackwell are the only 7-1A squads under the lights this evening as area six-man football moves into district competition. Lorraine, 4-1 and undefeated until last week's 46-14 loss to second-ranked Christoval, will entertain Blackwell. Blackwell, also coming off a loss last week, is 1-3. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. Tonight's other game was cancelled after Hermleigh forfeited to Trent. Hermleigh could have suited up only five players for the game. District action does continue Saturday, however, as Highland makes Ira its homecoming opponent. That game is also set for a 7:30 p.m. start. Both teams are 3-2 for the season. In District 6-1A competition tonight, Borden County entertains Loop at 7:30 p.m.

Snyder, Andrews tie in JV football game

Snyder locked up 20-20 with Andrews here Thursday night in a junior varsity football game. "It was a good ballgame. Andrews has a good team," said Coach Milton Ham. "I was proud of all of the kids. We played hard. We executed well offensively most of the time and Andrews was effective running the option." Snyder prevented a loss when Edward Rios hit Paul Anderson on a screen play that went for 91 yards and a touchdown with only 40 seconds left in the game. The Tigers' conversion attempt was stopped short, leaving the score tied.

Yugoslav provincial leaders resign posts amid violence

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Communist party leaders in a troubled province were ousted after thousands of rock-hurling protesters stormed their headquarters, the worst violence in three months of ethnic unrest and a boost to Serbia's drive for tighter control over two provinces.

At least 41 people were injured Thursday when about 30,000 people in Novi Sad, capital of Vojvodina province, surged toward riot police guarding party headquarters, state-run media said.

The demonstrators threw rocks and broke about 20 windows during the 30-hour siege. Fourteen policemen were among the injured, two seriously, it said. Six people were hospitalized and four were reported arrested before the crowds were dispersed.

The 15 members of the Communist party's Politburo in Vojvodina province pledged to step down after the demonstration.

Tanjug, the official news agency, reported later Thursday that the party's Central Committee in the province voted 87-10 to dismiss the Politburo, the region's highest political body.

The mass resignation in Vojvodina is a major victory for Serbian Communist party leader Slobodan Milosevic, who has led his republic's Serbian drive for more control over Vojvodina and a second province, ethnically troubled Kosovo.

The Communist party leaderships in both provinces had resisted the Serbian drive for more control. The Kosovo leadership is now expected to come under pressure to step down.

The shake-up came two days after National Communist party chief Stipe Suvar, faced with the mounting unrest, promised sweeping personnel changes in the ruling national Politburo and policy-setting Central Committee at or before a Central Committee meeting scheduled for Oct. 17.

Vojvodina provincial leaders had promised to resign after meeting with Serbian party leaders in Belgrade, the nation's capital 40 miles to the south.

Tanjug quoted the Serbian party as saying: "The Vojvodina leadership has been deaf to the demands of the working class and other citizens. A serious split has occurred between the Vojvodina leadership and the people."

Provincial party leader Milovan Sogorov said a 10-member provisional group would be established while new leaders were chosen for Vojvodina, a flat region that produces most of the nation's grain.

Tens of thousands of Serbs have rallied almost daily for three months in support of Milosevic's effort to assert more authority in the provinces.

Most demonstrations have supported the cause of Serbs in Kosovo. A largely Christian minority, they claim harassment by predominantly Moslem ethnic Albanians, who make up 90 percent of Kosovo's 2 million people. The southern province borders on Albania.

The latest protesters sang Serbian nationalist songs but also shouted complaints about low wages and declining standards of living. State television said an informal poll it conducted of demonstrators in Novi Sad showed that most cited the bad economic situation as the main reason for demanding change.

Milosevic rejected a call Thursday from former Defense Minister Nikola Ljubicic, who is a member of the nation's collective presidency, for unspecified emergency measures to quell the street protests.

The Serbian leader's opponents suspect he is using the mass rallies to gain more national power for himself and for Serbia, the largest of Yugoslavia's six republics.

Many Serbs see Milosevic as political heir to the late President Josip Broz Tito, who died in 1980 and left the nation with a complex system of annual rotation in the occupants of top political offices.

The arrangement has prevented any one republic from gaining dominance, but it has not provided the strong leadership needed to deal effectively with ethnic and economic problems. Strikes and worker protests have become commonplace because of 217 percent annual inflation, 15 percent unemployment and austerity plans imposed to try to repay a $21 billion foreign debt.

Fund established for Yellowstone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has established a special fund to handle donations to help the Yellowstone National Park area recover from this summer's devastating fires.

The Greater Yellowstone Area Recovery Fund was set up in response to offers from individuals and groups wishing to make donations, said F. Dale Robertson, chief of the department's Forest Service.

Pinochet won't resign early

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Gen. Augusto Pinochet has rejected demands that he step down before his term expires in 1990 and says the military will continue to play a key role in Chile's future.

The 72-year-old ruler spoke to the nation just hours after club-swinging police fired water cannons and tear gas at mobs who swarmed the streets Thursday to celebrate Pinochet's defeat in a national referendum.

At least 40 people were injured and 40 arrested, police said. In his first public statement since the Wednesday ballot, which he lost by a margin of more than 11 percent, Pinochet declared Thursday night: "I recognize and accept the majority verdict expressed yesterday by the citizenry."

According to the terms of an 8-year-old constitution, Pinochet remains in power until March 1990, when he will be succeeded by the winner of open elections, planned for late next year.

Reading from a text, the 72-year-old Pinochet warned the opposition that its plans to amend the existing constitution to speed up his departure would be in vain.

"No one can feel they have the mandate of the people to twist what the people decided," he said, in reference to the constitution, which was approved by voters in 1980 in a loosely staged vote that critics complain was rife with fraud.

Wednesday's vote was well-organized, "massively attended and free of charges of fraud or violence," Pinochet expressed "the deep pride I feel at the civic maturity with which each one of you faced this act of singular importance."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 By Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a very charming gentleman, and we hit it off immediately. I'm 34, divorced, considered great-looking and I'm unattached. He's 42 (also divorced) and great-looking. I am not accustomed to jumping into bed on the first date, but with him, it was the second date. It was a mutually satisfying experience, and we are dating regularly. However, he keeps stressing a point that I find puzzling. He says, "I believe a man and woman can be 'just friends' as well as lovers."

Abby, what makes a man think he can be physically intimate with a woman, and be "just friends"? I do not have sex with my friends. I keep telling him that if a person is "just a friend," then sex is not even in the picture.

Am I old-fashioned, crazy or correct in my thinking?

JUST FRIENDS

DEAR JUST: You are neither old-fashioned nor crazy. In a love relationship, lovers can be friends as well as lovers — which is ideal. But a man who has sex with a woman, and keeps reminding her that they are "just friends" is saying, "I enjoy sex with you, but don't expect this relationship to grow into something more meaningful or permanent — like marriage."

Give him high marks for honesty, but don't say you weren't forewarned.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe it's a little early to be mentioning Christmas shopping, but maybe not. I am a widow in my 70s, and I have enough scarves, sweaters, colognes and dusting powders to last me a lifetime, but let me tell you what most people my age would really appreciate for Christmas. Cash!

Please don't think me greedy, but I enjoy going out for a nice lunch once a week, and it would be nice to be able to treat a friend. Also, if I had a few extra dollars, I would be able to buy something I really need. It would also come in handy when I want to send someone a nice card.

Perhaps your readers will appreciate this suggestion. It would save them racking their brains, wondering what to give an older person for Christmas. And they need not be concerned that a cash gift of $4 or $5 would seem small. It would please me more than a $10 gift for which I had no use.

ARKANSAS GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: Thank you for a suggestion that will be appreciated by gift-givers as well as recipients.

P.S. How about a gift certificate to a nice restaurant?

DEAR ABBY: I am 65 and so is my husband. While I am still working outside the home to make ends meet, my husband is gambling away a big part of our income in state, national and international lotteries. He doesn't buy just one lottery ticket; he buys 100 to increase his chances of winning.

He enters "contests" that require sending money and more money every time he "wins" a round. He orders merchandise and magazines we don't need in order to win something. He subscribes to cheap-looking newsletters that promise to send him the "secrets" of how to pick winning numbers.

Abby, we could get along very well with our combined incomes if he didn't gamble, but he denies that he is gambling! He says gambling is going to the races or playing the numbers.

Please check with Gamblers Anonymous and ask them if what my husband is doing is gambling. Answer soon. I fear for our future.

TIRED WIFE

DEAR TIRED: Regardless of how your husband tries to justify his spending money in order to "win" money, the name of this game is "gambling." You don't indicate where you live, but if there is a Gamblers Anonymous near you, urge him to go. It would be well worth the investment in time. He would soon learn what "gambling" is, and how to control it.

The facts about drugs, AIDS, how to prevent unwanted pregnancy are all in Abby's new, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send your name and address, plus check or money order for $3.50 ($4 in Canada) to: Dear Abby's Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Postage is included.

Lawsuit won't help crowding

AUSTIN (AP) — The lawsuit filed against the state by Nueces County is not the way to solve the jail crowding problem, state officials said.

"I'm disappointed they would file a lawsuit. I don't think it will speed anything up," Jerry Hodge of Amarillo, vice chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections, said Thursday. "You can't wave a magic wand one day and the next day have (prison) beds. We have a massive building program underway."

The lawsuit filed in state court in Austin Thursday asks that the state be ordered to remove inmates who have been sentenced to the Texas Department of Corrections but are being held in the county jail.

TDC, under a federal court order because of crowded conditions, limits the number of admissions with a quota system for counties. The suit — which names as defendants the Texas Board of Corrections and TDC Director James Lynaugh — says the state has a duty to take its prisoners.

Nueces County Judge Robert Barnes described the situation as "the biggest rip-off." The suit says there are now about 167 inmates in the Nueces County jail who belong in TDC. It costs $40 a day to house each state prisoner, money that comes from local property taxes, Barnes said.

Nueces County jail capacity is 387, but the county has 513 prisoners, including 48 being housed in a Frio County facility, he said. Barnes said Nueces County is under a federal court order itself to meet state jail standards.

Attorney General Jim Mattox said he does not expect the lawsuit to have any substantial impact, and he predicted it would be pending when the Legislature meets in January. He said county officials should develop a plan to present to lawmakers.

'Dead' woman arrested on charges

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — When they saw an obituary memorial notice for the 24-year-old woman in an area newspaper, Groves police officers were caught by surprise.

But they ended up bringing her back from the dead — by arresting her.

Police officers, who had arrest warrants for Irias "Irita" Lopez, saw the paid obituary notice in Wednesday's Beaumont Enterprise.

City Marshal Mark Domingue said he thought it odd that the memorial did not list a funeral home. "I then called the church listed, and they said it was the first they had heard of it," he said.

That's when he began to think it was a ploy, Domingue said, so he decided to go to Ms. Lopez's workplace.

"I saw her run and hide from me," Domingue said.

Ms. Lopez was arrested on a charge of delivery of a controlled substance and two charges of bond forfeiture. She was booked into Jefferson County Jail, and bond was set at $1,000 for each warrant.
