FIFTIETH YEAR

PLANS BEING MADE TO ENTERTAIN RECORD CROWDS FOR FAIR

Program Offers Diversity of Entertainment Including Races, Football, Reunion, and Carnival Attractions

GOLDEN JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Fiftieth Anniversary of Organization of Haskell County To Be Fittingly Commemorated

With favorable weather, the Central West Texas Fair which will open here on Oct. 15 and continue through the week, promises to surpass any previous exhibition ever staged here. The officials of the fair are well pleased with the program that is being made by the different department heads. With this year being the occasion to celebrate the "Golden Jubilee" of Haskell county's organization along with the Pioneer Reunion, planned to honor the first settlers of this section, attendance is expected to far exceed the records set in previous years.

All exhibits are expected to be in place not later than Tuesday, Oct. 15, opening day of the fair. The Midway Shows will be on the midway, with new shows, new riding devices and other amusements, for the entire week.

Horse Races Feature

According to race officials, horse racing, with pari-mutuel betting and the daily double, will again be in vogue on the local track. Entries are now being received from horse owners over a widely scattered area and the horses entered indicate that good races will be a feature.

Races are scheduled to start Wednesday, Oct. 16.

The Haskell track, which is considered by race followers as one of the best in West Texas, is in good condition.

Gala Parade Arranged

Under the direction of Roy A. Sanders, new features have been added to the parade which will precede the day's activities on "Haskell Day" Wednesday October 16. The usual prizes will be awarded to winning entrants.

Individual and community "stunts" will be welcomed by Sanders for the parade, and the only requirement set forth is that all entries must be listed by Tuesday evening. Failure to observe the rule will nullify the opportunity to win one of the awards.

The night attraction Wednesday will be a football tournament, with the teams of Aspermont, Knox City, Munday and Rochester High Schools participating. In this tournament the football fans will have the opportunity to see four good teams in action during the time it ordinarily takes to play one game.

The Pioneer Reunion will be held on Thursday, October 17th, and from the interest manifested by the early settlers here and from a distance this will be one of the feature days of the entire fair. The program will open in front of the grandstand at 9 o'clock with an address by some well known speaker. A barbecue will be given at the noon hour for the pioneers, with horse racing in the afternoon. The program will close at night with a pageant featuring the history of Haskell county and West Texas.

Friday will be "Abilene Day" with a delegation coming on a special train to visit the fair and races. The night performance will be the football game between the Abilene High School Eagles and the Haskell Indians.

The fair will close Saturday night and the program for the day includes horse racing, carnival and other amusements.

Aged Woman Fractures Hip In Fall

Mrs. Alice T. Nolen, 79, who sustained a fractured hip when she fell at her home here last Friday afternoon, is in a serious condition at the Stamford Sanitarium, reports state. "Grandmother" Nolen, as she is affectionately known, has a host of friends who sincerely trust that she may soon recover.

Fair Entry Blanks Available Soon

The Fair Association announces that entry blanks will be available to exhibitors by Saturday, October 5, and they are urging that all persons and organizations who expect to exhibit at the fair avail themselves of these blanks in order that the Association may make the proper arrangements for the exhibits.

The blanks may be had by calling for them at the fair office, over the Farmers and Merchants State Bank, or by writing to H. T. Sullivan, fair secretary.

TWENTY CRIMINAL CASES DISPOSED OF IN DISTRICT COURT

WPA Grant Will Provide Negro School Building

Bonds Recently Voted Are Approved by the State Attorney General

Red tape in connection with the construction of the new North Ward school building is being unravelled by school authorities and it is hoped that a contract can be awarded for erection of the building within the next thirty or sixty days.

Bonds voted recently have been approved by the Attorney General's department at Austin and will be offered for sale to the State Board of Education on October 12th. Supt. C. B. Breedlove stated yesterday.

The proposed new building will be 284 feet long by 114 feet wide and will contain 12 class rooms and a combination auditorium and gymnasium.

Health Officials of State to Meet In Waco Oct. 16

AUSTIN, Texas.—William McGraw, Attorney General, will be one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Texas Public Health Association to be held in Waco, Oct. 16-18. Other speakers of state-wide and national reputations in their respective fields will also be present, according to the president, Dr. B. E. Pickett.

Each year the Texas Public Health Association holds a meeting or short school that is attended by all who are interested in health work in Texas. Its membership is composed of doctors, nurses, sanitarians, and others. Many towns and counties send their representatives in order that they may become familiar with the trends in public health as it affects their communities and the State.

Some of the subjects that will be discussed during the meeting are mental hygiene, nursing service to school and communities, immunization of children, control of communicable diseases, laboratory tests for disease as well as testing of water and milk, sanitation and sewage supplies.

The meeting this year is of great importance as many health features enter into the Social Security Bill; these will affect the entire State when money with which to carry it out is appropriated. The State-wide malaria and sanitation program will be described and other subjects of timely interest will be given.

In addition to the Attorney General, other speakers on the program include Dr. W. K. Sharp, J. U. S. Public Health Service; Dr. C. P. Coogie, malariologist, U. S. Public Health Service; Dr. H. R. Dudgeon, President-elect of the State Medical Association; Senator J. W. E. H. Beck; Major A. E. Wood, Texas Planning Board; Dr. E. W. Wright, Chairman State Board of Health; Dr. E. Colp, State Park Board; Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer; and many others.

Riley Lowellen Is New Addition to the Sheriff's Force

Appointment of Riley Lowellen as deputy sheriff was made this week by Sheriff Giles Kemp. Lowellen, former Temple police officer and ex-Ranger, assumed his duties the first of the week. He has resided in Haskell county for the past year.

The new officer served under Capt. D. E. Hamer in the East Texas oil field in 1933, and prior to that time was deputy sheriff of Bell county for several years.

Other deputies in the sheriff's department are: Mrs. Hettie Williams, Mart Clifton, and Charles McGregor.

Jane Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bradford of Rule was a patient in the Knox City Sanitarium a day or two this week.

Driving Privileges Revoked On Convictions For Drunken Driving

Taking up the criminal docket for the current term of District Court Monday, twenty criminal cases have been disposed of up to Thursday evening. In addition, several divorce suits and a number of uncontested civil cases were cleared from the docket.

For the first time in the annals of Haskell court, driving privileges were revoked in several instances where defendants were convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Criminal cases disposed of this week included the following: State of Texas vs. C. W. Woods, colored, charged with assault with intent to murder. A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury, and punishment assessed at one year in the penitentiary. Sentence was accepted by the defendant, through his attorney, John Banks, who had been appointed by the court.

State of Texas vs. Grady Wyslenger, theft. Dismissed on motion of District Attorney.

State of Texas vs. Genese Hudspeth. Driving an automobile while intoxicated. Two years suspended sentence, and prohibited from driving an automobile for six months.

State of Texas vs. George McMahon, burglary. Four year suspended sentence.

State of Texas vs. Chas. Meyers, forgery. Five years suspended sentence.

State of Texas vs. Paul Speck, forgery. Dismissed on motion of District Attorney.

State of Texas vs. J. F. Howard, driving an automobile while intoxicated. Two years suspended sentence, and prohibited from driving an automobile for two months.

State of Texas vs. W. H. Long, driving an automobile while intoxicated. Two years suspended sentence.

State of Texas vs. Clarence Abston. Driving an automobile while intoxicated. Thirty day jail sentence and driving privilege revoked for 18 months.

State of Texas vs. John Ed Terrett, and State of Texas vs. Hollie Sammon, both charged with five separate burglary indictments, were both tried before the same jury. A verdict of guilty, with a 2-year penitentiary sentence in each case, was assessed against each of the defendants.

In the case of the State vs. E. P. Speck, charged with forgery, an instructed verdict of acquittal was returned by the jury.

Set for trial Friday are four cases against C. A. Doss, former Rochester bank official, who is charged in two indictments with embezzlement, and two with false entry. Transferred to Haskell from Kent county, the case of the State of Texas vs. W. W. Barron, charged with cattle theft is set for Monday of next week. More than forty witnesses have been summoned in this case, court officials state.

Grand Jury Recomes

Grand Jury for the term has recessed for several days, after returning 34 felony indictments. One hundred and six witnesses appeared before the investigating body during their first session.

Man Who Erected First House In Haskell Dies

J. L. LaBriere, Early-Day Rancher, Dies in Arizona

J. L. LaBriere, a well-known ranchman of St. Johns, Ariz., died near that city on Sept. 16th.

He will be remembered by a number of early settlers in this section as a cattleman, and especially as having built the first residence in the town of Haskell.

The house was erected during the winter of 1883-84 and still stands, with little change, very near the northwest part of Fair Park.

Mrs. LaBriere, who is a sister of T. E. Ballard, Mrs. W. F. Draper and Mrs. H. S. Post, is still living and very vividly tells of the time when Tonkawa Indian women were the only contacts she had with her sex for some months.

WRITES HELD TODAY FOR MRS. CARLISLE

The funeral services for Mrs. W. A. Carlisle, who died in an Abilene Hospital Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock after submitting to a major operation, will be held at the family residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Elder P. S. Young of Abilene in charge of the services.

Miss Linnie Smith was born Oct. 16, 1879, in Tarrant county. She was married to W. A. Carlisle in Stonewall county on January 16, 1896, and made her home in Dickson county until 1904 when the family moved to Haskell.

Mrs. Carlisle was a loyal member of the Church of Christ, a Christian mother, devoted to her home and children. She was loved and honored by all who knew her.

Following the funeral services at the home, interment was in Willow Cemetery with arrangements in charge of the Kinney Funeral Home.

Surviving relatives besides her husband are two sons and two daughters, Mrs. A. B. Baker, Weatherford; Mrs. W. B. Stark, Haskell; Walter Carlisle, Austin; Cecil Carlisle, Houston. Fourteen grandchildren also survive.

Flower girls: Mrs. Guy Mays, Miss Ethel Frierson, Miss Ruby Hisey, Miss Frankie Brooks, Miss Louise Brooks and Mrs. Allie Ford.

Presbyterian Women Convene at Rule Today

The Presbyterian auxiliary group conference of District No. 2, composed of Anson, Stamford, Haskell, Throckmorton, Rule and Munday, are in an all day meeting at the Rule Presbyterian church today.

The theme of the meeting "Looking, Learning and Living" as previously announced is being carried out on the program. Mrs. Walter Glazener of Anson is chairman.

The following program is being given: Hymn, "He Ledeth Me"; Prayer, Rev. C. C. Dooley, Rule; Greetings, Mrs. J. B. Pumphrey, Rule; Vocal solo, Mrs. Joe Kelley, Rule; Devotional, Mrs. R. L. Haynie, Stamford; "Learning of Our Work," Mrs. Alex Gray, Ft. Worth; Duet, Rev. C. C. Dooley, Rule, and Rev. C. A. Tucker, Haskell; Accordion solo, Mrs. Lea Roy Denton, Rule; "Our Conference" Miss Stella Hovey, Fort Worth, who is director of religious education.

At noon lunch was served at the church. The afternoon program opened at 1:30 with prayer by Rev. C. A. Tucker, Haskell; "Enthusiasm Begets Enthusiasm," a skit by the Haskell group; Mrs. Tarp Stubbs was in charge of the question box; "Living for Others and for Him" by Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Haskell; vocal duet by Mrs. Joe Kelley and Miss Ota Frasier.

A good attendance was reported from over the district.

Cellar Ideal Location for Canned Food Storage

As a farm food supply demonstrator Mrs. R. L. Denison, of the Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration club has provided storage for canned foods by building shelves across the entire end of her cellar and across one side. These shelves are narrow and well supported every 20 inches. They were made from old lumber gathered up from about the barn, the only expense being for nails.

PROPOSED WEINERT SCHOOL BUILDING GETS WPA APPROVAL

Grant of $22,182 Which Had Once Been Rejected, Gets Final O. K.

Officials of the Weinert Independent School District received word Monday from Washington that their application for a grant of $22,182.00 from the Works Progress Administration for a new school building had been reconsidered and approved. Their application for the grant had been rejected a few weeks ago.

Early in July the patrons of the district voted a bond issue of $18,000.00 for the purpose of taking care of the District's part of the cost of a new building. The approval of the application for the grant after the long delay, came as welcome news to the people of the Weinert district.

The plans for the new building call for a one-story brick structure of 11 class rooms, study hall, and gymnasium.

The new building will probably be constructed on another location, according to school officials, and the present building will continue to be used for school purposes.

Warm Welcome for Abilene Trippers Is Being Planned

When the Abilene delegation, arrive on their special train on Oct. 18th to attend the Central West Texas Fair they will be royally entertained if present plans of the Lions Club meet with the approval of the visiting delegation.

P. M. Robertson, Roy Killingsworth and Sam A. Roberts were appointed at the Tuesday's meeting to arrange for the entertainment of the visitors on arrival here, and the following Haskell business men have been named on the reception committee: Mayor A. F. Thurman, A. C. Pierson, president of the Lions Club; F. L. Daugherty, secretary Lions Club; Roy Sanders and Bill Ratliff, president and secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Chas. M. Conner, county judge; D. P. Ratliff, district judge; Dimmitt Hughes, president of Central West Texas Fair Association; Anton Theis, Ed F. Fouts, J. U. Fields, R. V. Robertson, O. E. Patterson, C. B. Breedlove, Geo. V. Wimlish, John Tubbs, Eugene Tonn, M. B. Watson, Rev. Orion W. Carter, Rev. C. A. Tucker, S. Hassen, Courtney Hunt, A. M. Turner, J. F. Kennedy, T. C. Cahill, D. S. Hood and John A. Couch.

According to information received here the Abilene delegation will arrive in Haskell early in the afternoon, in plenty of time to see the race program at Rice Springs Park and will remain over for the night football game between the Haskell Indians and the Abilene High School Eagles.

Checks Received for New Contract Signers Thursday

The first rental checks for the new 1935 Cotton Acreage Reduction Contract signers have arrived according to B. W. Chesser, County Agent for Haskell county. 642 checks are included in this first batch received here, and amount to a total of $18,951.86.

Howard School Term Will Begin Monday

The Howard school will open the 1935-36 term Monday Oct. 7, at which time an appropriate program will be given, and an invitation extended to all patrons in the district to attend.

With a scholastic enrollment of 114 pupils, the Howard school, ranks among the best in the county, and teachers and trustees alike are looking forward to one of the most successful terms in the history of the school. Grades from primary through the tenth are taught in this school.

Teachers employed this year are: Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Penn, Miss Sara Nell Rivers, of Throckmorton, and Miss Gladys Barton, Spring Lake, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Patterson are announcing the arrival of a young son in their home on Monday, Sept. 30th.

King Cotton came into his own in Haskell county this week as the result of ideal weather for gathering the fleecy staple. The seven gins in Haskell have been busy far into the night as the farmers bring the staple to town in wagons, trailers, trucks and almost every conceivable conveyance. It is estimated that more than two thousand bales of cotton have been ginned here since the opening of the season, including today's run.

Only 256 bales were reported by Special Agent W. P. Trice for the Bureau of the Census for the entire county prior to Sept. 16 this year compared with 4,128 to the same date last year.

Producers differ in their opinion as to the prospects for this year's crop, but all were agreed that the county would raise considerably more cotton than the allotment allowed in the government reduction program.

Operating Name of Local Gas Company Has Been Changed

The Stamford & Western Gas Company of which the local distribution plant is a part, has been combined with the Community Natural Gas Company and will be operated hereafter under this name, according to word received here Thursday by W. M. Bramer, local manager, from M. L. Bird of Abilene, division superintendent. The reorganization involves no change in operating policies or personnel.

General management will continue under Chester L. May of Dallas, vice-president and general manager, while divisional management continues under Mr. Bird.

The Community Natural was organized in 1925 to supply gas to a number of small towns, principally along or near the right of way of Lone Star Gas Company's pipe lines, and is a pioneer company in natural gas distribution. It has grown rapidly in keeping pace with the increased demand for the convenience and economy of natural gas utility today it serves more than 300 Texas and Oklahoma towns and is one of the largest natural gas distribution systems in the country.

Stamford & Western Gas Company became a member of the Lone Star Gas Company in 1930.

All Stamford & Western distribution plants are included in the change. They are Stamford, Hamlin, Snyder, Rotan, Anson, Haskell, Rule, Roby, Seymour, Margaret, Truscott, Gilliland, Vera, Red Springs, Benjamin, Munday, Weinert, Goree, Knox City, O'Brien, Rochester and Rhineland.

In announcing the change, Mr. Bird said: "The reorganization will permit us to continue the present complete gas service we have been rendering in Haskell, and to improve this service wherever possible."

Pageant Mass Meeting Called

A mass meeting has been called by Therone Cahill, chairman of the Pageant Committee, to meet at the Methodist Church Friday morning, October 4th, at 9:30 for the purpose of completing plans for the pageant during the Central West Texas Fair.

Director Ed Shumway of Abilene will be present and will appreciate a large attendance at the meeting. If you are interested in this pageant portraying the history of Haskell county and West Texas, you are urged to be present at the meeting Friday morning.

The WOMAN'S Page

Woman's Auxiliary Meets With Mrs. C. E. Baker.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. C. E. Baker. The meeting was called to order by the president. Every member responded to roll call with some Scripture, after which the secretary read the minutes. It was decided to use for our Foreign Mission Study, "That Other America," by Dr. Mackay. This book, which is to be studied during October and November, promises to be very interesting.

The devotional was led by Mrs. Charles Tucker. All sang, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," and then were led in prayer. The devotional was based upon several examples from the Scripture of new visions which brought clearer understanding of God and His purposes for the Kingdom. It inspired the group to search more diligently for a clearer understanding of their personal part in establishing the Kingdom. The meeting closed with prayer.

A social period was enjoyed by all. The hostess served pineapple cake topped with whipped cream, and punch.

Contract Bridge Club.

Mrs. Roy A. Sanders entertained members of the Contract Bridge Club Tuesday afternoon for their regular weekly party. At the end of the games Mrs. Barton Welsh was presented with high score prize. The hostess served a delicious refreshment plate to the following: Mrs. Barton Welsh, Mrs. French Robertson, Mrs. Clay Smith, Mrs. Ralph Duncan, Mrs. Bert Welsh, Mrs. W. G. Forgy, Mrs. B. C. Chapman and Mrs. Raymond Leggett.

Cecile Lancaster Circle Meets With Mrs. S. A. Roberts.

Members of the Cecile Lancaster Circle of the Baptist W. M. S. met in the home of Mrs. S. A. Roberts on Monday afternoon. "Close To Thee" was sung as the opening hymn, then followed a prayer by Mrs. G. G. Herren. Mrs. Ed Fouts brought a good message, the theme being "Soul Winning and Enrollment as the Ultimate Aim of Our Christian Life." A number of familiar scripture quotations were used as a basis for her remarks. Several items of business were discussed, then we were dismissed for visiting. Those in attendance were: Mesdames Ed Fouts, Aiken, Gannaway, O. E. Oates, Frank Kennedy, Mc-

Millan, G. G. Herren, B. M. Whiteker, R. C. Couch and Roberts. We meet next Monday at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Otta Johnson Honored.

Last Friday, Sept. 27 at 3 p. m. twenty-five ladies gathered in the home of Mrs. J. M. Crawford to pay a neighborly tribute to a tiny tot who has taken up her residence among us. She is christened Maidie Beth. Mr. and Mrs. Otta L. Johnson (out of the goodness of their hearts) have adopted a baby girl who was only eight days old. And this neighborhood wishes them a successful parenthood.

Dr. Josephine Morrison was director of the entertainment, assisted by Mrs. Gene Smith, Mrs. Joe Gordon and Mrs. Willie Johnston assisted Mrs. Crawford. Those taking part in this shower were:

Mesdames D. T. Dotson, Alonzo Pate, W. H. Starr, D. B. English, Henry Barnes, A. F. Thurman, Elie Thurman, W. C. Johnson, W. D. Davis, Mack Perdue, J. H. Stovall, Lorene Adkins, J. R. Gordon, C. G. Stark, W. C. Humphrey, Jim Crawford, Charlie Quattlebaum, Gene Smith, Roy Perdue, Bob Herren, Jr., M. O. Field, Floyd Johnston, C. R. Cook, J. G. Maples, Joe Cooper, H. Coburn, J. A. Rose, J. W. Kennedy, Date Anderson, Glenn Merchant and R. I. Johnson. Misses Dorothy Rose, Stella Mae Coburn, and Reba Anderson, and the hostess, Mrs. J. M. Crawford.

Baptist W. M. S.

On Sept. 22, at 2 p. m., fifty women greeted our new president, Mrs. Mack Perdue, in her first business and social meeting.

First a song of welcome was rendered by the entire society to the new members and the "pals" that each one had brought.

Bro. Whately read the scripture, a Psalm of Praise, the 148th Psalm. He said he felt we had so much to be thankful for in the past year—and we should always express our thanks to God for His many wonderful blessings.

Mrs. Perdue and the following chairmen: Personal Service, Mrs. Tom Holland; Mission Study, Mrs. Gilstrap; Mrs. Richey, Educational; Mrs. Hope Haynes, Benevolence; Mrs. Jim Crawford, Periodical; Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, Stewardship; Mrs. George Herrin, House Chairman; Mrs. Carl Powers, Flowers; all made talks and told of their plans of work for the coming year, and if this W. M. S. carries out the plans of these various chairmen, we will certainly have a busy, happy, and blessed year. There is a great opportunity for us to assist those who need our help, our encouragement, and the work of enlisting those not now interested in our church work. And by untiring effort, prayer and love we can greatly build up the Kingdom work in our town and community.

Delightful and refreshing punch was served at the close of the service.

T. E. L. Class Meets With Mrs. G. G. Herren

On August 8th, members of the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School met in the home of Mrs. G. G. Herren for their regular monthly social and business meeting. "Somebody Else Needs Blessing" was sung, after which Mrs. B. M. Whiteker brought the devotional, basing the discussion on the latter part of John 11:28 "The Master is come and calleth for thee." The call to Christian Stewardship was stressed. All joined in singing "Our Best."

Miss Maybelle Taylor, who was home from school at the time, brought an inspirational message on three Christian graces, Faith, Hope, and Charity. We especially appreciated the talk from one of our young women who has consecrated her life to the Master's service. The president, Mrs. John Lamkin, presided during the business session and officers for the new year were elected. Refreshments were served by Group No. 4, with Mrs. Cates leader.

On Tuesday of this week, the class members met in the home of Mrs. M. A. Clifton. "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah" was sung. Then Mrs. O. E. Oates brought the devotional, reading from the book of Esther. "He Will Hold Me Fast" was sung by Mrs. Whiteker.

Splendid yearly reports were brought by each of the retiring officers. Mrs. K. D. Simmons, president for the incoming year, introduced each new officer in turn, each mentioning their duties and hopes for the new year. Mrs. S. A. Roberts introduced a diversion at this time, in the way of a thought-provoking "quiz."

Newly elected officers are as follows: Mrs. Simmons, president; Mrs. Cates, first vice president; Mrs. M. C. Conner, second vice president; Mrs. R. C. Couch, third vice president; Mrs. Spencer Lane, secretary; Mrs. John Lamkin, treasurer; Mrs. B. M. Whiteker, teacher; Mrs. R. C. Couch, assistant teacher; Mesdames Paxton, Roberts, Sam Newsom and Cates, Group Captains; Mrs. O. E. Oates, flower chairman; Mrs. Robt. Reeves, pianist; Mrs. H. R. Jones, assistant, and Mrs. Angie Herren, chorister.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paxton's group. Others than the officers present, were Mesdames Bynum, Bailey, Merchant, L. B. Watson, Jno. A. Couch, R. J. Reynolds, G. G. Herren, John Ellis, Everett, Gannaway, Holt, Aiken, DeBard, Ed Fouts and the hostess.

Methodist Missionary Society

On Monday Sept. 30th the adult division of the Women's Missionary Society were guests of the Mary Alexander Circle, the occasion being that of the beginning of the Bible Study for this circle, which is being taught by Mrs. J. U. Fields. This meeting was held at the parsonage with Mesdames Carter and P. T. Sanders as joint hostesses. Before beginning the lesson, a short business session was held by the president. A card from Mrs. Dodson, one of our Conference officers, was read. During this business period it was decided to hold "The Dress Parade of Long Ago" or "Living Pictures from an Old Album" on the afternoon and night of Thursday, Oct. 10th at the West Side Theatre in Haskell. The afternoon performance will begin at 3:30. That of the night at 7:30. Some of the most prominent Haskell matrons will model their own gowns, also several out of town ladies have signified their intention to take part. The President urges that all who will help to put this affair over in a big way, communicate with Mrs. C. L. Lewis, general chairman. An element of mystery has been injected into the performance, by the refusal of one character, to be known simply as Miss Matilda, to disclose her identity.

Mrs. Fields, taking charge, asked all to join in singing "I Love to Tell the Story."

Mrs. Breedlove offered a prayer. As the book to be studied was Matthew, the first book of the New Testament, Mrs. Wallace Cox gave a splendid article telling of the time between the Old and New Testament. During this time the seat of the Empire was changed from Asia to Europe.

The genealogy of Christ was most interestingly told by Mrs. Mason. Those assisting Mrs. Fields in the Scripture reading were Mesdames Graham, Rike and Thornton. At the conclusion of the lesson all joined in singing "I Need Thee Every Hour." The chorus, sung softly, was used as the prayer of dismissal. The hostesses invited all to remain for a social hour, at which time they, assisted by Mesdames Field, B. C. Chapman and Graham, served delicious refreshments of iced grape juice and cake. All joined in proclaiming Mesdames Carter and Sanders to be ideal hostesses. Next Monday being a business meeting, the President urges all to be present at the church at 3 p. m.

Do you remember the "Gibson Girl" of the gay Nineties? See her again at the West Side Theatre on Thursday afternoon and night, Oct. 10th.

Junior Y. W. A.

Banquet. The Junior Y. W. A. gave a banquet and had their installation service Thursday evening September 26 in the basement of the Baptist Church.

The Y. W. A. color scheme was carried out through the decorations of green and white. The tables were artistically arranged with white doilies and green foliage.

The following program was rendered:

South Ward P. T. A.

Mrs. Wayne Koonce called the house to order, with 33 mothers present last Thursday at 3:30 p. m. We went into a brisk business meeting, and decided to have a sandwich stand during the County Fair, in which hot and cold drinks will be sold. If you have a nicker come by and drop it with us, we'll give a sandwich in exchange.

Our program was under the direction of Mrs. Mack Perdue. It follows: Song, "Little South Ward"—Miss Hambleton, leader. Lord's Prayer—By audience. "Little Interrogator"—Mrs. Jim Crawford. "Are our Children Cautious?" and "Introducing Your Children"—Mrs. Murphy.

Piano Solo—Sue Quattlebaum. Playlet, "Children's Tantrums"—Miss Coburn, Mesdames Perdue and Humphrey. Miss Welch, our new teacher, was introduced by Mrs. Ballard, principal.

Mrs. Len Hammer will direct the program for October. Something worthwhile awaits you. Come. The Second Grade won the basket for the most mothers present.

Cottonwood H. D. Club.

The club met in the home of Mrs. L. A. Stratton September 25 with the president Mrs. Bruton presiding. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. The committee reports were given.

Mrs. Bruton gave a talk on her trip to the Short Course.

Plans were discussed for fixing a booth for the Fair. A motion was made to adjourn for the social hour.

A basket containing "things for the home" was presented to Mrs. J. L. Mapes, who before her marriage was Miss Lorraine Wright. After the gifts were opened and admired, lemonade and cake was served to the following: Mrs. Bruton, Mrs. John Mayfield, Mrs. J. O. Merchant, Mrs. Hub Merchant, Mrs. Jake Holcomb, Mrs. I. V. Stratton, Mrs. Harby Furrh, Miss Mildred Wright, Mrs. Marvin Tanner, Mrs. Frank Nicholson, Mrs. J. L. Mapes, Mrs. Martha Pogue, and the hostess Mrs. L. A. Stratton.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. John Mayfield, Oct. 9th. Everyone come and bring someone with you.

Mrs. C. A. Lewellen Honored At Love Shower.

A love shower was given Mrs. C. A. Lewellen Tuesday afternoon when the Josselit Home Demonstration Club met in a call meeting in the home of Mrs. Leon Gilliam Oct. 1st.

Those sending and bringing gifts to Mrs. Lewellen were: Mesdames S. G. Perrin, P. J. Josselit, E. L. Lancaster, V. J. Josselit, Clarence Norton, J. E. Curry, C. L. Tolver, J. L. Tolver, W. E. RECIPES AND MENUS

By Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women, 1928.

School bells are ringing all over the United States, and with the school comes the problem of the lunch box. It is very necessary that the child have the proper lunch, especially those who stay until late afternoon. Fresh fruit should be included regularly in the school lunch.

Meat Pie

Plain pastry. 1/2 teaspoon meat extract. 1/2 cup hot water. 1 tablespoon flour. 1 1/2 tablespoons cold water. 1 cup diced cooked pork. 1/2 cup diced cooked carrots. 1/4 cup diced cooked celery. Salt to taste. Make a plain pastry. To the hot water add the meat extract and thicken it with the flour mixed to a paste with the cold water. Mix the gravy with the meat and vegetables adding salt to taste. Roll the pastry 1-8 inch thick, cut in six circles. Place 1-3 cup of mixture on half of each piece of pastry. Fold other half of dough over filling and press edges firmly together. Make a tiny gash on each pastry. Place on baking sheet and bake in oven 400 degrees for 5 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 45 minutes.

Salt Codfish Cakes

6 medium potatoes cooked and mashed. 1 cup packaged shredded codfish. 1/2 cup milk. 1 egg. 3 tablespoons fat. Combine the mashed potatoes, codfish, milk and beaten egg. Form into 12 cakes. Sauté in the fat until golden brown on both sides.

Broiled Ham Sandwiches

Broil thinly sliced ham. Place between triangles of bread spread with mustard butter. To make mustard butter, cream fresh butter with equal amount of dry mustard.

Bacon Prune Sandwiches

1 cup drained cooked prunes. 8 slices of bacon. 1/4 cup chopped sour pickle. 2 teaspoons prepared mustard. 2 tablespoons mayonnaise. 2 teaspoons lemon juice. Butter. Bread. Pit prunes and cut in pieces. Cut bacon in small pieces, cook until crisp and drain on absorbent paper. Combine bacon with prunes, add pickle, mustard, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Spread between buttered slices of bread. Makes 6 full sized sandwiches.

Gingerbread Sandwiches

Bakes your favorite gingerbread in a loaf pan. When cold cut into 1-8 inch slices. Butter the slices and on one-half of them spread a thin layer of cottage cheese which has been mixed with a small quantity of mayonnaise and a few chopped nuts. Put together in sandwich fashion. Cut into triangles.

Mince Meat Cookies

3/4 cup butter. 2 cups sugar. 2 eggs. 1 cup chopped nut meats. 1 package mince meat. 1 teaspoon soda. 2 1/2 to 3 cups flour. 1 teaspoon cream of tartar.

Cream butter and sugar, add well beaten eggs, mince meat (separated) and nuts. Sift flour with cream of tartar and soda. Add to the first mixture. The dough will be very stiff. The amount of flour depends on the size of the eggs used. Shape in a roll, wrap in waxed paper and let stand in refrigerator over night. Slice and bake in oven 350 degrees until golden brown.

Oatmeal Cookies

1 cup hot cooked oatmeal. 2 tablespoons shortening. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 1 cup sugar. 1/2 cup molasses. 1/2 cup raisins. 1/2 cup chopped nut meats. 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. 1/2 teaspoon soda. 2 cups pastry flour. Mix in order given and drop two inches apart on a well greased baking sheet. Bake in an oven 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

"THE PLACE FOR EVERYTHING"

Chevrolet Trucks In Thrilling Tests Atop Pikes Peak

In the first formally observed and timed tests of motor trucks over the perilous hairpin turns and steep switchbacks of the Pikes Peak auto highway, near Colorado Springs, Chevrolet 1½-ton and half-ton trucks demonstrated their power, endurance and efficiency over the course of the annual Labor Day hill climb contest, a distance of 12 miles, 2300 feet, with a rise of 4959 feet from the start to the summit, 14,109 feet above sea level. The upper illustrations show the 1½-ton truck, driven by W. P. Beatrup, on its way to a record of 37 minutes, 52½ seconds, with its full 2000-pound load (it made the run afterward, without load, in 26 minutes, 12 seconds), and the officials at the finish (left to right): Harry Harts, technical advisor; Robert M. Ross, Detroit Times; Dan Kennedy, Colorado Springs Gazette and Telegraph; and John L. Jenkins, Chicago Daily News. The lower photos show the Chevrolet half-ton truck, which Harry Harts drove to the summit in 25 minutes, 3 seconds, and the finish of the run of the 1½-ton truck with full load.

Contour Farming Proven Ally in Soil Conservation Program

The practice of performing all farming operations across the slope of the land is called contour farming. Although this practice is by no means new, it has been only in recent years that reliable data, obtained under controlled conditions, has demonstrated the effectiveness of contour farming in (1) saving soil, (2) conserving moisture, (3) reducing labor and expense, (4) preventing gullies, (5) increasing crop production, and (6) assisting in prevention of floods. It is comparatively easy to control small amounts of slowly moving water but very difficult to control rapidly moving water in greater quantities. This fact makes it evident that rain water can be more successfully controlled where and when it falls than after it is allowed to converge and commence its rapid descent to the lower levels. Since water moving at the rate of two feet per second will carry approximately 32 times as much soil as when running at the rate of one foot per second, it evolves that one of the fundamentals of soil conservation is to keep down the speed of excess water.

When contour farming is practiced, each lister furrow and cultivator shovel mark acts as a miniature terrace or reservoir to hold water that would otherwise run off, and each crop row acts as a check to prevent runoff water from developing a cutting speed. In farming up and down the hill, lister furrows and shovel marks are in effect nothing but drainage ditches which tend to keep the water concentrated and dispose of it at the fastest rate possible. This makes an ideal situation for the formation of gullies. The figures below showing loss of soil and water from one 2 1/2 inch rain, May 3, 1934, at the Soil Erosion Experiment Station, Guthrie, Oklahoma, on plots which were contour farmed up and down the hill, illustrate clearly the effectiveness of farming on the contour: Flat planted cotton rows up and down hill, 20.34 percent runoff. 3.25 tons soil loss per acre. Cotton listed on contour, 1.37 percent runoff, 0.28 ton loss per acre. Contour farming without terraces will eliminate practically all soil and water losses on land that is free from gullies with a slope up to 2 1/2 percent, and on even greater slopes on deep porous soil. It is more effective, however, when used with terraces or with strips of sown crops planted at intervals on the contour. The terraces or sown strips act as safety valves to take care of surplus water in case of heavy rains of high intensity. The most effective and convenient method of soil erosion control known is the use of contour farming with terraces and strip cropping in which the irregular point rows are planted to sown crops. Level terraces make perfect guide lines for contour farming. When the land is not terraced, it is necessary to have other permanent guide lines. These may be made by back furrowing level lines run with a fence level or by using strips of sown crops with level lines as their own boundaries. This would maintain the identity of the lines from year to year. Contour farming is applicable, but not to land with considerable slope, but is very beneficial in relieving poor drainage conditions on comparatively level fields. This is due to the better distribution of water over the field instead of permitting it to collect in the low places. Expense and labor can be materially reduced by farming on the contour. It has been ascertained that much less power is required to farm on the level than up and down the hill. Every farmer who has had the experience of having seeds and seedlings washed out on the more sloping parts of the field and covered so deeply on the more level parts of the field that replanting was necessary. This is less likely to occur when plantings are made on the contour. In holding soil and water on the fields, contour automatically assists in preventing floods. Stream beds and reservoirs have been rapidly filled with silt and debris, thus decreasing their capacity while fields have been discharging rain water at an ever increasing rate as the top absorptive layer of soil is gradually carried away. Although contour farming is recommended for all cultivated fields, it alone will not solve the soil erosion problem. However, it is one of the important phases of soil and crop management that if adhered to will result in a more stable and prosperous agriculture. The farmer who is always working with his automobile might be called a caropactor.

Sagerton

We have had some wintry weather here, cool enough to enjoy fire. There has been lots of nice rain during the last days of September, which will insure good winter pasture, with plenty of moisture for fall gardens. Mr. and Mrs. Will Dedmon and son Roy spent the past week-end on the plains near Lubbock. Sunday was promotion Day in the Methodist Sunday School here. Those transferred to other classes were issued certificates. There was a nice program rendered after the promotion. The pastor, H. W. Carter, gave an interesting talk on the church work here. Mrs. T. K. Price is having some dental work done in Abilene, having spent the past week-end there. Rev. Ware, Baptist minister, preached here Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. There was good attendance for the Sunday School hour, and preaching services. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Guinn returned last week from San Antonio where they visited with relatives. There was a number of young people attended the Methodist meeting at Stamford last Thursday night, Sept. 26th. Mrs. L. Glover from Rochester spent the week end with the home folks here, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hale and children.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO TODAY
Mrs. W. G. Smith, Jack Smith, and Frank Joiner, all of Bartlett, Texas, were here prospecting the past week. These gentlemen are old friends to Deputy Clark J. B. Smith and other Bell county folks in Haskell. M. S. Shook departed for Fort Worth Wednesday going to that city on business. Mrs. J. A. Arbuckle returned last Saturday from a three months visit to San Antonio, New Braunfels, and other places. Miss Hattie Kinnison returned home Saturday from a visit in Anson. Mrs. Fannie Ferguson, mother of Mrs. F. M. Morton of this city, died at her home in Salado Monday night. Mrs. Morton was at the bedside of her mother when death came. J. W. Collins made a business trip to Oklahoma City Wednesday.
40 YEARS AGO TODAY
The rain that fell over the county last Sunday has freshened up the turnip patches and put the soil into plowing condition. Messrs. Jack Baldwin and Frank Draper sowed fifty acres of wheat last week. Hugh Rogers left Tuesday for Mississippi where he will visit relatives. J. A. Jones is visiting his brother in Stephens county this week. J. W. Bell and A. H. Tandy were off to the Indian Territory for a visit. E. Hill was in town Thursday.

SO EASY TO BE POPULAR
And so economical, too, when you keep your best frocks and evening wear looking fresh and clean and new at GENE HUNTER "Modern Cleaners"

IN FASHION NOW
Perhaps the most striking note in the Fall fashion season is the change in accessories. Everything is color. Gloves, bags, shoes and stockings which have hitherto leaned to the conservative have burst forth in wines, greens and rusts. Short pigskin gloves in all colors are good with tweed suits. Gloves of imported English suede are soft and beautiful. One of the smart new evening gowns shown by Alix features a fitted skirt around the hips with a wide panel shirred onto the back and the shirring is also carried a little ways down the side of the panels. A back interest is also being shown by other couturiers. One example is of stiff taffeta and having wing bustles. Wee, small velvet bows are being worn by fashionable girls above each ear. The ribbons match either the dress or buttons, etc., of the wearer and are chic when the hat is removed. Full sleeves are seen on most of the winter coats and many of the sleeves are made of fur. The young college man has gone back to the tailcoat for evening wear. The tuxedo which are worn, however, are of midnight blue and double-breasted. The college man is also showing a partiality for knickers for campus wear rather than slacks. A matching jacket is worn with the knickers.

New Buick Model Has New Features

DETROIT, Mich.—With safety the governing factor in their design, the 1936 solid steel "turret top" Fisher bodies being introduced on the four new Buick lines afford the greatest protection ever offered the motoring public, according to E. F. Fisher, general manager of the Fisher Body division, General Motors Corporation.

Wider, deeper seats, more head room and leg room to increase bodily comfort and further reduce fatigue, safety glass, dual windshield wipers, the sloping V-type windshield to eliminate hazardous reflections, Fisher no-draft ventilation, further improved to provide fresh air for the car occupants even in inclement weather and prevent clouding of the windows and windshield, and the one-piece seamless steel roof, offering protection overhead where it is most needed, are cited among the safety features incorporated in the new designs.

The overall length of the bodies found on the new Buicks, from the dash to the trunk, in every instance is greater than it was a year ago. The 4-door sedan of the Special, or Series 40, in seven inches longer than its predecessor, though the wheelbase of the car has been increased less than two.

Numerous Ills Affect Heart

AUSTIN, Texas.—"Heart disease ranks first in the list of killers today. During the past thirty years it has been steadily increasing. Few people ever associate impairment of this vital organ with diseased mouth conditions. Yet in a very real manner the health of the heart and its consequent ability to do its work properly can be definitely affected by an unhealthy mouth," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"While, of course, there are many other causes for heart impairments than diseased teeth, gums, or tonsils, there certainly is every good reason to establish and maintain daily and periodical prophylactic measures so far as the mouth and teeth are concerned. Not to do so is merely adding another menace to the heart already beset with disease potentialities that seem to be a part of present-day life.

"If the individual will assume his responsibility by consuming a nourishing diet, keeping his mouth clean through daily brushing, and have a regular inspection by his dentist and physician, undoubtedly a fair proportion of heart disease, not to mention many minor ailments, could be eliminated that have their origin in diseased mouth conditions.

"Unlike public health control measures, dental supervision is a highly personal matter. There is no legislation covering the situation, nor is there any enforcement officer to keep one in line. Therefore, common sense and reasonable concern for one's heart should prompt interest in teeth, mouth, and throat.

"As an authority tersely puts it: 'Keep your heart out of your mouth and your mouth germs out of your heart.'

Gives Away Old Coins

NEW ORLEANS.—Finding a lot of old fifty cent and dollar coins in a sack under the fireplace in an old house being razed, Jacob Gabler, 15 year old newsboy, generously distributed his coins among others, keeping only $4 for himself. He thus disposed of what was probably a treasure in old coins as they were all of an out-of-date series, the latest date being 1862.

LABOR LAGS BEHIND BIG BUSINESS IN UPGRADE SWING

Big Business Has Definitely Improved, but Unemployment Persists

Recovery is soaking down from the top, but has not yet reached the man on the bread-line, according to a government survey.

That seems to sum up the position of America today, based on an analysis of reports from all over the United States and from a variety of different agencies. Business is picking up in scores of localities and industries, but re-employment is lagging, and the worker is coming to feel a grievance that may find expression in labor trouble later on.

Put in another way, dividends are beginning to be restored, losses are being cut, profits are emerging, and the red ink in ledgers is turning to black; but still the vast army of 10,000,000 to 11,000,000 unemployed patrol the streets or take benefits from the Government.

Unemployment Less Severe

Unemployment is less severe than at its peak, but 15 per cent of the population is still dependent upon the state for relief, it is estimated.

By some, this continuation of the unemployed problem is cited as indicating the failure of the great new-deal program at its critical point. By the ultimate test of employment, it is charged, Mr. Roosevelt has failed.

But observers who have seen the United States fight its way back from previous slumps and panics have a different interpretation. There is always a lag on the recovery upward between business gains and re-employment they say. What is happening, they say, is the normal development of the recovery cycle. But they warn that the experience of the past teaches that this stage is apt to be prolific in strikes and labor unrest.

As to the improvement in business generally, it is held, there can be no doubt.

August dividend payments were 4 per cent above last year, a gain of $11,000,000.

Farm machinery orders for six months of 1935 were 75 per cent above those in the same period of 1934.

Machine tool orders in the same period increased 47 per cent.

The automobile industry, in the first seven months, sold 600,000 more cars this year than last.

August steel output was 110 per cent above the 1934 period.

There can be no disputing these figures and those like them, although the spurt may be temporary. Most encouraging of all is the fact that the seasonal decline this summer was less marked than usual.

Restoring Confidence

This business pick-up is restoring confidence to the well-to-do classes. The remarkable pick-up in Atlantic passenger traffic this summer is cited. America's shipping hasn't been so busy since 1929.

Despite dark spots in the picture—the railroads, cotton textiles and the like—business as a whole is showing encouraging gains, to which political events have contributed.

But in all this, labor believes in is failing to get its share. If the attitude continues it bodes ill for the future of industrial relationships.

An Obliging Fish

BATH, N. Y.—While riding in a canoe with a companion, Miss Ruth Scripture had the novel experience of having a 2-pound bass leap into her arms. She had the presence of mind to toss it on the bottom of the boat and her family enjoyed a free fish dinner.

Wants Pretty Teachers

ROCKFORD, Ill.—Teachers will have to be "pretty" according to the Supt. W. W. Ankerbrand, who maintained that "the day of the old battle-ax in the city's educational system is passed."

Mrs. Alvah Crandall was returned home from the Knox City Sanitarium Wednesday where she underwent a major operation about two weeks ago. Mrs. Crandall made the trip in a Jones, Cox & Co. ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Scott of San Antonio were here a part of last week visiting with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are former citizens of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Potet of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Potet of this city have returned from a pleasure trip to Galveston and Houston and a short visit with relatives in Nacogdoches, Dallas, and Waxahachie.

Grounds of Texas Centennial Will Be Beautified

Planting of Native Texas Trees Will Be Started In Early October

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—More than one hundred varieties of native Texas trees will be planted in October to form the background of the $200,000 landscaping plan of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Sections of the Exposition grounds will be devoted to flora typical of the various parts of the state. A pine grove will shade masses of wild flowers representative of East Texas. The cactus, in its numerous varieties, will typify the West. Palms and oleanders will recall the Gulf Coast and its sandy beaches while the Rio Grande section will be brilliant with the tropical colors of hibiscus and bougainvillea.

The crepe myrtle will be planted by the thousands throughout the grounds and its brilliant pink and red will dominate the color scheme. It blooms from June, when the Exposition opens, until Autumn.

The blue bonnet, state flower of Texas, will have blossomed and gone to seed before the Exposition starts. Its place will be taken by the rose and thousands, including the newly developed Texas Centennial Rose, will be planted.

ONE LOOK AT THESE PHENOMENAL FOUR AND YOU'LL SAY

"BUICK'S THE BUY!"

TWO years ago Buick deliberately leveled its sights on 1936. It coolly set its aim on bringing to market for that year a line of motor cars that would startle the world. It purposed to do that, not by freak or superficial design, not by skimping quality to make a price, but by sheer merit as expressed in automobile beauty, value, ability.

It submits to you now the eminently satisfying results of that fruitful two years of concentrated endeavor.

Here are four separate series of sensational new Buick cars — cars called phenomenal by experts in the trade who previewed them.

Each is a feast to the eye schooled in mature modern styling, as you can see.

Each has under the smooth flowing planes and surfaces of its smart exterior, the solid, tough, durable, beautifully engineered chassis that underwrites Buick dependability.

And each offers you from the stepped-up power of its big thrifty valve-in-head eight-cylinder engine such safe, thrilling performance as you have never known.

These cars are big cars every one — built to almost lavish dimensions of body room and head clearance — yet they handle with the fingertip lightness of small cars.

They are literally breath-taking in power and speed and take-off, yet under their new tip-top hydraulics and easy-steering knee-action they are almost as manageable as a telephone.

They are thewed and sinewed by that quality which springs from Buick's third of a century of manufacturing experience, advantaged by $14,500,000 worth of new tools, dies and factory re-equipment devised for these cars alone.

These things are so true and so obvious that everywhere you will soon hear the motor-wise saying, "BUICK'S THE BUY!"

HENRY LESSON RADCLIFFE

THE SUFFERING SERVANT

International Sunday School Lesson for October 6, 1935.

Golden Text: "With his stripes we are healed."—Isaiah 53:5.
Lesson Text: Isaiah 53:1-22

Our lesson today is based on a selection from the Old Testament very often quoted and applied to Jesus himself. It includes the passage the ennuich asked Philip to interpret to him years later upon which occasion Philip used it to explain the Christ.

There is, as we mentioned recently, a difference of opinion between the conservative and radical interpreters as to when this passage was written. The former attributes it to Isaiah near the close of his life, about 685 B. C., whereas the latter ascribe it to a prophet who lived a century and a half or two centuries later. If the latter assumption is correct, it was written while the Jews were in exile near Babylon.

The allusions to the servant of Jehovah are often met in the latter part of Isaiah. At first, it is used as a reference to the whole nation apparently as by Jeremiah and Eze- kiel, but, later, it seems to personify the better portion of Israel, the possible remnant. In some places, it is very difficult to determine whether the reference is to an actual person or not but in our lesson text there are stronger reasons than in other places to suppose that the picture of an individual is intended. This does not necessarily mean a specific person, although it might, but in later years, this passage has been resorted to as the likeness of Jesus, who excelled the prophet's highest ideal and became to subsequent millions an inspiration for the fulfillment thereof.

Ancient peoples very often identified the power of their gods with the prosperity and success of themselves. Judah had met with great reverses, and yet, notwithstanding, we find the prophet still proclaiming the supremacy and omnipotence of Jehovah and acknowledging the supremacy of Jehovah over all nations. This fact so impressed Poakes-Jackson that he considers it strong proof that the true God had revealed himself to his people, saying: "It is absolutely unthinkable that a mere tribal god should have been spontaneously raised to the rank of a ruler of the Universe by a nation when it had touched the nadir of its degradation, whose holy city had been destroyed, whose sanctuary had been ruined."

The prophet viewed the sufferings of Judah as penalty for transgressions and explained them as designed to correct and save the chosen people so that they might become agents to redeem the world.

Our lesson today is divided into several parts. The last three verses of the Fifty-second chapter tells of the exaltation of the servant. The first three verses of Chapter Fifty-three describes him as a man of sorrows, who was misunderstood and despised. The next three verses picture the vicarious suffering of the servant, misunderstood by his contemporaries as for his own sin but finally recognized as bearing the sin of all. The next three verses relate the continued sorrow and final death of the servant, an innocent martyr at the hands of oppression and false judgment. The final three verses of our lesson pictures the eventual triumph and glory of the servant and his recognition of the purpose involved in the process and his own satisfaction with it. For that his reward shall be great.

To illustrate the application of this passage to Jesus, we quote Rev. Hugh Macmillan on that part of verse two which refers to him "as the root out of a dry ground": "Antecedently, Judah would have never been singled out as the birthplace of the great Benefactor of mankind. Long years of formality in religion, anarchy in government, and corruption and bribery in the administration of law, had exhausted all the good qualities of the people, drained their virtues dry, and left behind a miserable sediment of meanness and hypocrisy. They were proverbial for their moroseness and avarice; they were contracted in all their views and bigoted and fanatical in their maintenance of them. That from such a worldly hypocritical, and exclusive people the Savjour of mankind could spring by the natural laws of generation, is simply impossible. And to me it is one of the clearest and most convincing proofs that the scheme of salvation is divine. . . .

"Practically all scholars agree," says Rev. Charles C. Albertson, "that Isaiah's picture of a solitary sufferer purchasing redemption for many has its only perfect historic counterpart in Jesus Christ. We do not use terms loosely when we say this is his portrait. It is true, he was not the only man in history to be despised and rejected. There have been innumerable men and women of sorrows and acquainted with grief; myriads have been oppressed and afflicted; not a few have made intercession for transgressors; but of One and One alone can it be truly said that he bare the sins of many, and that 'Jehovah hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.'"

"We fail to appreciate the glory of Christ," says Rev. William L. Watkinson, "(1) If we approach him in the carnal mood. His appeal is not to the senses. (2) If we approach him with the intellectual spirit. His greatness belonged to another and infinitely higher sphere. (3) If we approach him in the secular temper. The Jews were irritated by him and put him to death because he did not attempt to satisfy their desires for political independence, material wealth, and social consequence. (4) If we approach him in the spirit of religious formality. The Pharisees most completely missed the greatness of Christ."

"This is a true symbol of a Christian experience. Because Jesus Christ has come into life," says Dr. Lyman Abbott, "and shared with humanity its experiences of trial, temptation, and suffering; because he has known the handicap of poverty, the bitterness of misunderstanding by his pupils, desertion by his friends, and execration by his enemies; because he has experienced the disappointment of a noble ambition, the physical pains of a lingering and torturing death, and the more awful pangs of a broken heart; and because we, his pupils and followers, believe that he is still here, an unseen though not unrealized Presence, we wish to stay as long as we may and do what little we can do to bring about some of the reforms he has in mind."

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefits them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE (Real Estate)

By virtue of an order of sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Dallas county, Texas, on the 24th day of Sept. A. D. 1935, in the case of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company versus G. W. Thomason et al No. 9008-B, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I have levied upon this 30th day of September A. D. 1935, and will between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the first Tuesday in November, A. D. 1935, it being the 5th day of said month, at the Courthouse door of said Haskell County, in the City of Haskell, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which Y. L. Thomason, Mrs. Bettie H. Thomason, Ruby Faye Thomason, Winnie Thomason and Mary Thomason had on the 19th day of May, A. D. 1926, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described property, to-wit: Situated in Haskell county, Texas, being 225 acres, a part of the Richard Finch 1280 acre survey, Pat. 913, Vol. 3, Abstract No. 135, formerly known as the G. W. and Y. L. Thomason farm, known as Lot No. 2 in partition suit No. 696, A. A. Aldrich et al vs. W. P. Whitman et al, District Court of Haskell county, Texas, as appears in Vol. 5, page 151, Minutes of said Courts. Said property being levied on as the property of Y. L. Thomason, Mrs. Bettie H. Thomason, Ruby Faye Thomason, Winnie Thomason and Mary Thomason, and will be sold to satisfy a judgment amounting to $9,052.50, credited with $4,526.25 in favor of said plaintiff against said defendants and costs of court and the further costs of executing this writ.

Given under my hand this 30th day of September, A. D. 1935.

GILES KEMP, 4tc Sheriff Haskell County, Texas.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Haskell County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the county of Haskell, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest county to said Haskell county, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, E. L. Mercer, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, of Haskell County, Texas, at the next regular term thereof to be holden in the County of Haskell at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, Texas, on the fourth Monday in September, A. D. 1935, same being the 23rd day of September, 1935, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 17th day of August A. D. 1935, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 4563, wherein Lucy Mercer is plaintiff, and E. L. Mercer is defendant. The nature of the plaintiffs demand being as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff sues defendant for a divorce on the grounds that the defendant on the day of January, 1915, without any cause or provocation, whatsoever, voluntarily left and abandoned this plaintiff, with the intention of finally separating and living apart from her, and has so continued to do up to the date of filing of said petition heretofore referred to; that the plaintiff and defendant own no community property; that no children have been born as a result of this union. Plaintiff prays for a judgment for divorce, dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant, for restoration of her maiden name, to-wit: Lucy Bowman, for costs of suit, general relief, etc.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Haskell, Texas, this, the 17th day of August A. D. 1935.

(Seal) ROY RATLIFF, Clerk District Court Haskell County, Texas.

GREAT CROWDS ASSURE CONFIDENCE IN U. S.

The man who is looking for signs of the times among the American people would do well to ponder briefly over the three vast crowds that assembled in as many different cities on one night recently. In St. Louis, some 70,000 people gathered to help the American Legion make a joyous, noisy festival out of its national convention. In Cleveland, close to 100,000 people gathered for the seventh National Eucharistic Congress of the Roman Catholic Church; and 43,000 of them assembled in a great open-air meeting addressed by ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith. In New York, slightly fewer than 90,000 people packed the Yankee Stadium to watch the Louis-Baer prize fight. Now it would be hard to imagine three more sharply contrasting events than these; and the fact that they were all held on the same night, drawing people from all parts of the country, is more than a little significant.

A war veterans' convention, a great religious conference and a prize fight, each pulling its thousands of citizens from distant cities and towns—what a testimonial to the essential unworriedness (if that clumsy word is permissible) of the American people! For it must be remembered that these are not ordinary times. We are just coming out (or we hope we are, at any rate) of the worst depression in our history. Our social institutions have been put under a strain such as they were never before called to face. Great nations overseas have given away under such strains. Dictatorships, the tramp of regimented thousands, the tense preoccupation with vital matters affecting the lives of millions—these are the signs of the times abroad.

These three events, at St. Louis, Cleveland and New York—somehow they have a reassuring sound to them. They reflect a general confidence, a nationwide faith that the traditional American scheme of things need not be changed beyond recognition. A country that can hold three events of this kind on one day, each so utterly different from the other two, each one drawing its thousands of people from all sections of the land . . . well, such a country must be getting along pretty well, after all.

FORD DISCOUNTS POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Henry Ford is an interesting American, whether one agrees with his business methods or the views that he occasionally expresses.

In a recent interview the maker of automobiles had the feeling that "business and wage trends will be up." More than this, he does "not believe the political campaign of next year will have any appreciable effect on business, one way or another."

Business incidentally is making encouraging forward steps. The advance seemed to disregard governmental stimulants as well as legislative threats. Making profits is an activity that men jump into whenever they see the chance—they rarely wait for a more convenient season because somebody else will be shaking the hand of opportunity while they stand idle.

FILIPINOS GETTING ALONG

With Japan grabbing China and Italy's action in the public mind one is apt to lose sight of an example of the other sort, recently set by a leading nation of the world.

As a result of a pledge the United States government is making arrangements to grant independence to the Philippine Islands. A recent presidential election in that about-to-be republic also indicates that the islanders know a thing or two about politics—the losing candidate has immediately appealed to Washington, charging that the voting was unfair and that he was "robbed" of victory.

The Filipinos, it appears, will get along!

THE BOOM BEGINS

There is no doubt of a steady revival of business. The wise business man, says Mr. Babson, will be prepared for better business this Fall and Winter than anytime since the depression began.

We hope it is all true. There is undeniably an improvement in the usual factors indicating business activity.

If the depression is over, don't get involved in the next boom!

The banking system has been rebuilt and about the only evidence of the collapse in 1933 is the balances which have not been paid by the closed institutions.

To Speed Up Army

WASHINGTON. — With every rifleman a virtual machine gunner, trained to act on his own in an emergency, transported by small vehicles moving at sixty or more miles an hour directly to the field of action, it is advocated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, retiring chief of staff, in his farewell report that the regular army be transformed into a model fighting force for speed and efficiency.

The greatest fault of the fellow who is purely luck is that he always credits his success to sound judgment.

Vegetable Powders

It may not be long before we are eating vegetables in powder form, if experiments conducted by members of the American Chemical Society become common. It is claimed that certain vegetables, such as spinach, lettuce, celery, carrots, tomatoes and oranges can be successfully dehydrated, stored and economically transported, as 180 pounds of the dried material is equivalent to approximately one ton of fresh vegetables.

The powder is said to be easily digested and may be taken by those whose systems cannot tolerate ordinary fibrous vegetables.

CURRENT COMMENT.

COUNTRIES AND RACES (Wheeling, W. Va., Register)

Our State Department acted in accordance with correct principles when it refused to put Uncle Sam's official finger into the German pie of racial and religious persecution. This should not be interpreted as approving nor even excusing the brutal treatment of Catholics and Jews by the German dictator. But by boycotting German goods is the wrong way to deal with such a situation. And refusing to permit Germans to earn a living in this country just because they are Germans (as Mayor La Guardia wanted to do in New York) is even worse.

Persecution of racial prejudice or religious prejudice is one of the least excusable of mankind's wrongful acts. And any fair minded individual will condemn racial or religious persecution, no matter whether those subject to the persecution belong to his race or to some entirely different race; or whether their religious beliefs are the same as his or totally different. And, as has been pointed out in regard to Mayor La Guardia's refusal to grant a license to a masseur simply because he was a German, there are plenty of Germans who are just as strongly opposed to the things that Hitler is doing as any member of any race could possibly be. And persecuting one man, just because some other persons of the same race are holding opinions and doing things of which you disapprove, is two steps away from what is right.

There is the possibility that these persecutions in which Herr Hitler is now indulging may sooner or later result in a situation so serious that it will have to be settled either by war or by threats of war. And if that situation arises, the United States may eventually have to take official action. But that is something for the future. If the United States should break off official relations with Germany, or should boycott German goods, at the present time, such action would mean that the United States would not be in as good a position to join in international efforts to keep the German racial persecution from developing into war, as the United States will be if it continues its relations with Germany for the present. And so the State Department was right in refusing to yield to the demands of Labor Leader Green that relations be broken off, and also in refusing to follow the example of Mayor La Guardia.

And All Were Medals
European—War is a terrible thing why, in our country I know of a colonel who commanded a regiment of 1,000 privates and lost half of them in a single month.
Mexican—That's nothing. In one of our wars I knew of one private who commanded 1,000 generals and lost 750 of them in just a little skirmish.

"I suppose you were thankful for the heavy rain."
"Oh, yes," replied Farmer Corn-tassel; "though I don't see why them weather folks couldn't pervide to keep it in the fields instead of letting it stray around, muddin' up the roads."

First Coed—The cheek of that conductor. He glared at me as if I hadn't paid my fare!
Second Coed—And what did you do?
First Coed—I glared right back as if I had.

Coed (at baseball game)—Oh, look, we have a man on every base. Another Coed—That's nothing, so has she the other side.—Providence Journal.

The New Deal
Bejes—Things are going up, aren't they?
Romh—Yes, I hear $10 was paid for votes at the last election when the old price was only $2.

New Version
History Teacher—Mr. Sopholes, who was it that followed King Edward VI. of England?
Mr. Sopholes—Queen Mary.
Teacher—And who followed Mary?
Mr. Sopholes—Her little lamb.

Mother's Darling
The possibility of a landslide so intimidated the inhabitants of a little village that one couple decided to send their son, aged 9, to an uncle until the danger had passed. Three days later they received a telegram "Am returning boy. Please send landslide instead."

Mrs. Youngbride—Now I know why it was that Dick went to work this morning singing as I never heard him sing before.
Neighbor—What was it?
Mrs. Youngbride—I made a mistake and gave him birdseed for breakfast instead of breakfast food.

Have Patience
Neighbor—How is that incubator doing that you bought?
Mrs. Newbride—I suppose it's all right, but I'm a little worried about it. It hasn't laid a single egg yet.—Boston Transcript.

Paradox
"Have you ever notice a very odd thing about blunt people?" Freeman asked his friend.
"Can't say that I have," said the latter. "They are certainly embarrasing at times."
Freeman nodded pensively.
"Yes; but hasn't it ever struck you that they are ones who generally come to the point first?"—Answers.

Merchant—I only wish they were. There's no question about most of them.

Gus—I see in the paper that a widower with nine children has married a widow with seven children.
Tom—That was no marriage. That was a merger.

Indians Defeat Munday 25 to 6

NEWCOMERS TO TRIBE HELP TEAM MAKE IMPRESSIVE SHOWING

Pippen's star really shone Friday night, to say nothing of that real guard, Bill Reeves, who acted as captain during the game. And did you ever see so many McMillians at one time? All three got to start the game. And by the way, so did Eugene Rogers, who is only a freshman, along with Lon McMillian. Robert Thompson, who is a sophomore, got to start the game as end. Also light Thomas Kaigler, and we wonder who is more proud of him, his mother or Coach Richey. It's a shame that we have only one Henshaw out of the eleven. Spectators, did you hear that tackle Bob Wheatley got? Well, he got one and you could hear the leather pop, too. Weldon Smith is another fine tackler whom we are all proud of, and hope he continues to keep up the good work. Yes, and did you notice that James Roy Akins got to start the game. (We think he's O. K.) It's just too bad that S. A. Moser had a sore foot and did not get to play much; he did fine what little he did play. Coach (Duffer) Crawford also got to try his luck for a short time; he certainly deserves to get to play. Henry Stanton should have been plenty warm when he finally got to go in, he warmed up about three times before he got to go in. He plays center and he is going to make a good one, too. Eugene Rose plays guard, and he is certainly a fighter. Frank Kirkpatrick also got to play some, and he plays guard. If you weren't in the grandstand you may not have noticed how Albert Barnett dug for that touchdown he made. Jack K. did not get to play much, due to an old injury, but it certainly peped up the team when he went in. Yes, and you were right—that was Junior Jenkins you saw in the backfield.

Well, this concludes those who played Friday night. Now, let's turn to the forthcoming game with Seymour. Boys, when you go into that game against Seymour Friday night, go into it with a desire and determination to win; fight with all you've got, and show us sideline players what you can really do. We're back of you one hundred per cent. And we want to see a large turnout to go to Seymour and back the team up; the boys will surely appreciate it. We've just got to win that game against Seymour, and it will take plenty of fight to do it. So boys, show us how you can fight.

This Week's Warwhoop "Chief"

Judge Dennis P. Ratliff, this week's Warwhoop Chief, has always been an active booster for the Indians, or any other worthwhile enterprise pertaining to Haskell.

In 1920 Judge Ratliff began his noteworthy career as an attorney at law and a political leader of Haskell. As a young lawyer he became successful and popular enough to be elected in 1931 to the State Legislature as a member of the House of Representatives. He held this worthy position until January 1, 1935.

In May of 1935, he was appointed by Governor Alfred as District Judge of the 39th judicial district to succeed Judge Clyde Grissom.

He is an all around "good fellow." He holds membership in the two local lodges: the I. O. O. F. and the Masonic. He is also a leading member of the Lion's Club.

Judge Ratliff is considered one of our town's best citizens and we are proud of him and of what he has done for Haskell.

DENNIS P. RATLIFF

"Indians, We Love You!"

Chester! Bim! Andy Gump! We put ole Munday up a stump! You bet we "put ole Munday up a stump," and kept them there, too, because they didn't get down. You could tell by the way our enormous pep squad yelled that we weren't losing. We were rootin' for those boys with all our might. We wanted them to win, we expected them to win, and they did win! Who wouldn't play hard with as large a pep squad as ours rootin' for them?

There are approximately seventy girls in the pep squad this year, the largest squad ever known in the history of Haskell High School. Who says we don't have the football spirit in our school? We dare anybody to!

Our pep began rising Friday afternoon at our pep meeting in the auditorium and it stayed "up" until after the game Friday night.

If you want to hear plenty of pep yells, be sure and be at the game Friday night at Seymour and just hear us yell for those boys. If they don't win, we'll still be with them, but we expect them to win and they will win!

F. F. A. Members Journey to Abilene

Most of the officers of the Haskell Future Farmers of America chapter journeyed to Abilene Monday night for an officer's training school.

The meeting was held at the Abilene High School at 7:30 o'clock p. m. The object of this meeting was to learn more about their duties as officers.

The officers who went were as follows: Artie Pippen, president; Virgil Meadors, vice president; Jas. Roy Akins, secretary; Albert Barnett, treasurer; R. C. Couch, Jr., reporter; Mr. H. T. Sullivan, local adviser. Jack Kimbrough, parliamentarian, could not make the trip because of unfinished business.

Another meeting will be held Oct. 29th for the purpose of electing the district officers and further studying the duties of officers.

Announce Junell-Simmons Wedding

Word was received here a few days ago of the recent marriage of one of our ex-graduates, Miss Maxine Simmons, who was married to Mr. Frank Junell on Sunday, Sept. 29. The wedding occurred at Arlington, Texas, and was attended by Miss Ruby Lee Stringer, Ivan Flynn and Hico McCarty. All had attended the Hardin-Simmons-Baylor football game at Waco, and were returning to Abilene.

Mrs. Junell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Simmons of Haskell, is at present a Junior in Hardin-Simmons University, where she is a well-loved and much admired student, and a member of that very selective organization, the Cowgirl Pep Squad. She attended the University of Texas before entering Hardin-Simmons University. Maxine won much popularity as a student in Haskell High School and was Pep Squad leader in her Senior year. She was also a three year graduate, finishing with the Class of '33.

Mr. Junell is a member of the Hardin-Simmons faculty, being head of the journalism department. He is also well-known here among the football boys, having served as an official at two of our recent games, and is well remembered by all those who heard him as the guest speaker at the banquet given by the Baptist ladies to the Senior Class last spring.

Order Placed for Pep Squad Suits

We promised you some more information concerning our suits, but we've decided that they are so beautiful we can't describe them. You'll just have to come to the games and see them. We'll be in our same old place, in the same old colors, but we have new suits and want you to see them. There are plenty of us, so maybe you won't miss seeing one before very long—at least we hope not.

P. T. A. Representatives Chosen

To form a connecting link between the High School Parent-Teachers Association and the student body, each class has chosen a representative to work with the class mother. These new officers have been elected that we may have a deeper consciousness of the work of the P. T. A., and that they may in turn see clearer the work which they are doing for the school. The representatives chosen are as follows:

Freshmen—Madge Leon.
 Sophomores—Martelle Clifton.
 Juniors—Geraldine Conner.
 Seniors—Gladys Pouts.

Strangers In Our High School

Should there be strangers among us? No, we should make it our business to get acquainted with the new pupils of our school. The new students feel that they are "left out" if we do not ask them their names and tell them they are welcome to our school. Some one may say "They don't want to talk to me." But they will want to talk to you if you talk of the school and the things that all know about instead of just talking about yourself. Even talking about yourself might make some students feel that they are being noticed and it gives them a chance to talk about themselves; and before long there won't be a stranger in our midst.

Some of the "old students" are inclined to look out for themselves and no one else. Doing this isn't going to make new friends for anyone. It doesn't take much time to stop and tell someone where "Room Six" is, or where the water fountains are to be found. If we all try to be friendly we surely won't have any strangers among us.

Home Economics Club Organized

The Home Economics Club met at noon, Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1935, in the Home Economics Laboratory, in order to elect officers and to decide on a day for our regular meetings. The officers are:

President—Winnie Darnell.
 Vice President—Marvina Post.
 Secretary and Treasurer—Helen Mable Baldwin.
 Historian—Jean Kendall.
 Regular meetings will be on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Personal

John Kimbrough was out of school the past week because of a sprained shoulder.

Claude Sue Moseley from Knox City was a week end guest of Geraldine Morris.

Lloyd McMillan, Virgil Meadors, Jr., Billie Mae Miller, Ralph Moody, Theo Moore, Maurine Moser, Mattie Frank Mullis, Mildred Norton, Lynn Pace, Jr., Floyd Parr, Ruby Sue Persons, A. J. Pinkerton, Billy Pogue, Marvina Post, Faze Rosco, Marjorie Ratliff, Frances Reese, Clara Grace Roberts, Anita Jo Simmons, Olive Sloan, Charles Smith, Weldon Smith, Virginia Smith, Henry Stanton, George Stoneham, Lorene Thomas, Geneva Thompson, Robert Thompson, Ruby Viney, Claud Warren, Wilma Whatley, Earl Wiseman and Roy Wiseman.

New Bus News

Have you seen our new International bus driving around the High School about a quarter to nine? Did you notice that it was painted to carry out our school colors, black and gold? (However, the gold is orange, but it carries out our scheme just fine) and Haskell High School is written on the side to "label" it.

The interior carries out a color scheme of brown and green. There are twelve sturdy seats with a steel frame (to hold up such students as Annie Ruth Bates and Lowell Shelton) and brown leather upholstery. The seats are divided into two rows with an aisle between them and the boys sit on one side, while the girls sit on the other side. Now, isn't that just too bad for the sweethearts who ride the bus?

Now the bus has a door that opens like a street car door, but it also has an emergency door in the back. This might be handy for Roy Wiseman if Helen Bland gets her "dander" up.

Oh, yes, the bus has a nice rug, two lights and ventilators and eight windows to add to the comfort to the students.

Mr. Carmichael has a mirror in the cab and if he wants to, he can check up on the girls who try to make eyes at Floyd Parr.

We are proud of the bus and know that the rural students appreciate it more than they can express.

"Just Between Us—Did You Know?"

That Christene Lowe gave J. C. Scott a piece of her mind about Dorothy Welsh in Algebra class the other day.

That Artie Pippen is keeping it in the Pouts family. He went with Jerry the other night.

That Ned Dulaney has his eyes (and maybe his heart) set on a H. S. girl.

That Frankie Dorris is wearing a medal that came from Abilene H. S.

That R. C. is going to have to find a new girl if he doesn't watch out. (She was seen with Alvy).

That solid geometry is easy. (Except for the problems).

That the Kimbrough brothers are very interested in both the "Pep Squad" leaders.

That Eugene R. likes Helen B.

That Lynn Pace, Jr., and Marjorie Ratliff were in church together Sunday.

And—That Haskell is going to beat Seymour to a pulp Friday night. (Maybe).

Little Nothings

Bet Henry got pretty hot Friday night. He warmed up four times before he finally got to go in. We might also mention that he is very fond of playing football on Sunday afternoon with the "tiny tots." How about the bare feet, Henry?

Catherine, we're sorry about that black eye. You didn't by any chance run into a door, did you? Maybe the only one to be pitted is your dad when your "spec" bill comes around.

Martha Head and Minnie Ann Meyer are two very "sophisticated seniors." If you boys haven't met them, why not try your luck?

Poor "Ole Duff." It's a miracle how he ever gets his lessons done. We know that the girls are mighty attractive, but study halls are meant for study.

What dad's heart wouldn't swell

Mr. Breedlove To Austin on Business

Superintendent C. B. Breedlove has just returned from a trip to Austin where he had gone to discuss matters concerning the school bond with Attorney General McGraw. An application has been filed with the State Board of Education which will meet October 12, for its sale.

The architectural plans are now being made for the new school building.

22 Enrolled In Commercial Classes

Dr. Morrison has enrolled sixteen students in typing and six students in shorthand. There are new entries almost every day and all the students are doing good work.

Christine Tucker has a paper on the bulletin board which was done after two weeks work and shows remarkable progress made in such a short time.

with pride upon seeing his three huskies start a football game? The McMillin brothers, Ernest, Lloyd, and Lon, did just that.

Warning! Helen Mabel Baldwin is the wickedest girl in school, so beware!

S. A. Moser—Jack, what had you rather be than anything else? Jack K.—Of all the things I'd rather be, is a pier leading out to sea; And all the pretty bathing girls, Would come and sit on me.

Miss Vick—The hawks are a cruel race of birds and can inflict serious wounds. Which would you say is the most dangerous species? Joe Maples—The tommy-hawk.

Margaret Breedlove — Oh! My goodness! I just saw a terrible sight.

Helen Ballard — What on earth happened?

Margaret B.—Mr. Wood and Mr. Stone were standing on a street corner when a pretty girl came along. Wood turned to Stone and Stone turned to Wood. They both turned to rubber and the girl turned into a drug store.

Campus Flashlight

Well, well here we are back again. Back to spread the news and the secrets of dear old H. H. S.

I'm not going to mention any names, but Claude Warren was overheard saying that he had a date with a certain little Freshman girl whose initials were Kinzie Tucker.

We know that notes are being written by the students of H. H. S. because here are two examples:

Dear (): I have had about one inch of my hair cut off.

"M— I wonder how much they paid Baer to lose the fight?"

We wish that whoever wrote the notes would confess to Mr. Wimbish.

This is the second time the Flashlight has spotted Melba Cullum. Maybe the students of the High School would like to know where she was Sunday night, and who she was with.

Claude: My feet burn like the dickens. Do you think a mustard bath would help?

Bob: Sure, there's nothing better than mustard for hot dogs.

Albert B.—Annie, where were you last night? Annie B.—What do you care? You're no policeman!

We wonder if Frances Fouts would like to run Claude J. a race. Only Frances can know what I mean. (Frances, don't sit there like you didn't hear me.)

Who is Miss Matilda? Identity unknown, but will portray an Old Maid schoolteacher of ante-bellum days.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Monke have had a number of house guests the past week: Miss Henrietta Monke, Mr. George Monke, Mrs. Edward Monke and son of Le Mars, Iowa; also Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kiesling of Chillicothe and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwede and children of Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lile and guest Miss Delma Pafford motored to Wichita Falls Monday and spent the day.

Nine Students from Haskell in NTSTC

DENTON, Texas.—Nine Haskell students are enrolled for the first semester at North Texas State Teachers College, according to a statement from the Registrar's Office.

Lois Fouts is a member of the Mary Ardens, young women's literary society; the Women's Athletic Association; the Ellen H. Richards Club, for home economic students; and the West Texas Club. Elizabeth Stewart is active in the Mary Ardens, the Women's Athletic Association, the West Texas Club, and the Masters Chemical Society. Juanita Stone is a member of the Mary Ardens and the Ellen H. Richards Club.

Other Haskell students include Leta Burson, Beulah Cass, Era Cass, Vera Cass, Dorothy Fay Segoe, and Yale Lowell Thomason. A total of 1,655 students had enrolled in the College on Wednesday, September 23, according to statistics in the Business Office. This is an increase of 150 over the number enrolled at a corresponding time last year, and is the largest enrollment in the history of the College. The total enrollment for the year is expected to pass the 1,800 mark.

Famous Circus to Exhibit in Abilene

The great Hagenbeck-Wallace and Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Combined Circus will present afternoon and night performances in Abilene on Wednesday, Oct. 9, and circus enthusiasts of this vicinity will be on hand to participate in the gala event.

To commemorate the combination of the famous old Forepaugh-Sells Bros. show with the largest trained wild animal circus in the world, many startling new features have been added for the 1936 program. These include Maria Rasputin, sensational European wild animal trainer and daughter of the famous Russian monk, Grigori Rasputin who ruled the Romanoffs with the power of his hypnotic eyes prior to his demise in 1916; Bert Nelson, youngest of the wild animal subjugators, with more than a score of fighting, jungle-bred lions and tigers; John Helliot, renowned German trainer of savage beasts; Maximo, comedian of the slack wire; the famed Christiani troupe of bareback riders in somersaults from horse to horse; the Flying Codonas, the Hills and a great group of aerialists; Rudyhoff, noted equestrian and his educated horses; the Merckels, who walk upside down on lofty mirrors in the dome of the big tent; "Cheerful" Gardiner and twenty performing elephants; scores of clowns led by Earl Shipley, Paul Jerome and Paul Jung Clown Acrobatic Trio; dozens of pretty equestriennes, a huge oriental spectacle and a big contingent of Indians, Cowboys and Cowgirls from the Pawnee Bill Ranch at Old Town, Oklahoma.

Performances will be presented at 2 and 8 p. m., with doors open one hour earlier in each instance to permit leisurely inspection of the world's largest and finest traveling wild animal menagerie which boasts among other zoological marvels a baby giraffe.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace and Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Combined Circus is a railroad show, moving on two trains of double-length steel cars.

New Supervisor Rural Homes for Haskell District

Mrs. Myrtle Meyer of Alpine, Texas, has been appointed Rural Home Supervisor of this district, composed of Haskell, Throckmorton, Knox and Stonewall counties, by the Re-Settlement Administration, and will office in the courthouse with district supervisor, R. E. Skipworth. Mrs. Meyer's duties will be to look after the general welfare of the homes of the Re-Settlement Administration clients in this district, and assist the women with their sewing, canning and other problems that may arise. This work is being done under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Gives $25,000 To Repay Children

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Because 20,000 school children lost their money, deposited in school thrift funds, which were depleted by bank failures, Dr. Henry J. Gerling, superintendent of schools, has personally pledged $25,000 to make good their losses. He said he considered it a "moral obligation."

This latest brain storm of the "Brain Trusters" limits the grower to five bushels of potatoes without tax. Somehow, we were never able to raise more than that anyway.

Added Roominess, Greater Safety Feature 1936 Motor Car Models

DETROIT, Mich.—Seeking to provide more steady employment for workers in the automobile industry, leading manufacturers prepare for the early introduction of 1936 models as a spur to fall and winter buying. Marked by the adoption of added safety features and the provision of greater comfort for the passenger, new cars

SPECIAL TRAIN TO BRING ABILENIANS TO HASKELL FAIR

A special train will be run from Abilene to Haskell on Abilene Day, Friday, October 18th, for the eleventh annual Central West Texas Fair, according to announcement made yesterday by the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

The special will leave Abilene in time for the delegation to attend the afternoon race meet and remain over for the football game Friday night between the Haskell Indians and the Abilene Eagles. The Abilene high school Eagle Band will accompany the train.

To Speed Up Army

WASHINGTON. — With every rifleman a virtual machine gunner, trained to act on his own in an emergency, transported by small vehicles moving at sixty or more miles an hour directly to the field of action, it is advocated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, retiring chief of staff, in his farewell report that the regular army be transformed into a model fighting force for speed and efficiency.

Gus—I see in the paper that a widower with nine children has married a widow with seven children. Tom—That was no marriage. That was a merger.

Locusts Carpet Streets

ROSARIO, Argentina. — Swarms of locusts, invading the grain belt, cushioned the streets and stripped lawns and gardens here despite efforts to trap them.

Paradox

"Have you ever notice a very odd thing about blind people?" Freeman asked his friend. "Can't say that I have," said the latter. "They are certainly embarrassing at times." Freeman nodded pensively. "Yes; but hasn't it ever struck you that they are ones who generally come to the point first?"—Answers.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most effective and reliable of all intestinal stimulants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

IN FASHION NOW

Perhaps the most striking note in the Fall fashion season is the change in accessories. Everything is color. Gloves, bags, shoes and stockings which have hitherto leaned to the conservative have burst forth in wines, greens and rusts.

Short pigskin gloves in all colors are good with tweed suits. Gloves of imported English suede are soft and beautiful.

One of the smart new evening gowns shown by Alix features a fitted skirt around the hips with a wide panel shirred onto the back and the shirring is also carried a little ways down the side of the panels.

A back interest is also being shown by other couturiers. One example is of stiff taffeta and having wing bustles.

Wee, small velvet bows are being worn by fashionable girls above each ear. The ribbons match either the dress or buttons, etc., of the wearer and are chic when the hat is removed.

Full sleeves are seen on most of the winter coats and many of the sleeves are made of fur.

The young college man has gone back to the tailcoat for evening wear. The tuxedo's which are worn, however, are of midnight blue and double-breasted.

The college man is also showing a partiality for knickers for campus wear rather than slacks. A matching jacket is worn with the knickers.

Vegetable Powders

It may not be long before we are eating vegetables in powder form, if experiments conducted by members of the American Chemical Society become common. It is claimed that certain vegetables, such as spinach, lettuce, celery, carrots, tomatoes and oranges can be successfully dehydrated, stored and economically transported, as 180 pounds of the dried material is equivalent to approximately one ton of fresh vegetables.

The powder is said to be easily digested and may be taken by those whose systems cannot tolerate ordinary fibrous vegetables.

The greatest fault of the fellow who is purely luck is that he always credits his success to sound judgment.

Sagerston

We have had some wintry weather here, cool enough to enjoy fire. There has been loss of nice rain during the last days of September, which will insure good winter pasture, with plenty of moisture for fall gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dedmon and son Roy spent the past week-end on the plains near Lubbock.

Sunday was promotion Day in the Methodist Sunday School here. Those transferred to other classes were issued certificates. There was a nice program rendered after the promotion. The pastor, H. W. Carter, gave an interesting talk on the church work here.

Mrs. T. K. Price is having some dental work done in Abilene, having spent the past week-end there.

Rev. Ware, Baptist minister, preached here Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. There was good attendance for the Sunday School hour, and preaching services.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Guinn returned last week from San Antonio where they visited with relatives.

There was a number of young people attended the Methodist meeting at Stamford last Thursday night, Sept. 26th.

Mrs. L. Glover from Rochester spent the week end with the home folks here. Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hale and children.

Thursday evening, Oct. 3, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Clark, there was a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Sagerston's latest bride, Mrs. Wilson Gibson. There were a large number of friends in attendance, who brought many nice, useful gifts.

Mrs. Gibson was Miss Ophelia Leach before her marriage two weeks ago. She is the only daughter of Mrs. G. A. Leach here. Their friends wish them much success in life.

Sunday night Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Lambert, Mrs. G. A. Lambert, Lois Lambert, Ladain Laughlin, Florise Massia, Winfred Pilley, Paul Banks, Roy Martain, attended the services at St. John's Methodist Church at Stamford, hearing Dr. C. Q. Smith of Abilene.

Miss Pearl Dedmon will again teach the Mulberry school this term. Her school will begin Oct. 7th.

Mrs. G. A. Lambert, Mrs. Ruben Lambert, and Miss Lois Lambert went to Stamford Monday afternoon.

Subdues Tiger

PHOENIX, Ariz.—With her left arm clawed by a raging Bengal tiger and hanging limp by her side, Miss Mabel Stark subdued the animals while thousands of spectators watched in horror. Thirty stitches were required to close the gashes.
