FINISHED PLAY IN TRI-COUNTY GOLF TOURNEY STARTED

Members Wins Medalist Seymour Man Champion Driver

Members qualified in tournament here on Wednesday and match-play on Thursday morning. A total of 18 holes were played and one will be played with the finals to be held on Friday.

"The Oregon" feed was held on Wednesday evening and was attended by a number of fans. The feed was a business meeting and was held at the Haskell Home Demonstration Club, and the structure will be remodelled into a club house and community center.

Members of the club voted to purchase the building at their regular meeting Wednesday, after they had been assured the support of several public-spirited citizens of the community who agreed to help finance a part of the cost, but the entire project was sponsored and underwritten by the club. It is planned to start work immediately on repairing and remodeling the interior of the building.

The O'Brien Club, one of the oldest and most progressive in the county, has a membership of twenty-eight women. Mrs. Terry Robinson is president, Mrs. W. B. West, vice-president, and Mrs. Birdie Dickson, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

O'Brien will be the third H-D club in the county to provide a club house for meetings and other gatherings, the Josselet and Midway clubs having erected similar buildings during the past year or two.

HASKELL DELEGATION OF FIFTY PERSONS TO VISIT FIESTA ON FRIDAY

Will Join in Observance of "Haskell County Day" at Exposition

Fort Worth will give a true West Texas welcome to a large crowd of visitors from Haskell when they arrive in that city Friday to attend the special Haskell County Day observance at the Frontier Fiesta.

Arrangements have been made to greet the Haskell delegation with a welcoming committee at the city limits from which they will be given a motorcycle escort into Fort Worth. Greetings will be extended by Charles G. Cotton, chairman of the welcoming committee; Miss Margaret Hall, director of special events, and Boyce House, publicity director.

Accompanying the Haskell group of more than 50 persons will be Miss Ruth Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Welsh of Haskell, who will be introduced as Miss Haskell from the stage of Casa Manana. Paul Whiteman will present Miss Welsh to the audience.

The trip to the Fiesta is being arranged by Ralph Duncan, secretary of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

The third week of the 1937 Frontier Fiesta has just started and the show has been perfected into a smooth-running production. Already large delegations have visited the Fiesta in connection with special days such as the Haskell observance. More than 400 delegates from Lawton, Okla., were welcomed Sunday. Arkansas sent a group of 300 to the Fiesta Monday. Recently Temple was represented with 400 and Cleburne with 350.

Acclaimed by Texas and Eastern critics as an even more spectacular and entertaining production than last year, Casa Manana will probably attract all of the Haskell visitors at one of the two shows Friday night. Mounted on the world's largest revolving stage the Casa Manana revue is woven into the themes of four best-selling books of the current year. Produced by Billy Rose, famed showman who last year created the Casa Manana revue, this year's show has an unsurpassed array of talent headed by Harriet Hoctor, leading ballet dancer of stage and screen; Everett Marshall, former Metropolitan opera singer; Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, the Cabin Kids; the Stuart Morgan dancers, Miss Grey Downs, the Texas Sweetheart and numerous others.

Other Fiesta attractions which will win the favor of Haskell visitors are Melody Lane, in which composers of old-time songs will present the numbers which made them famous; Pioneer Palace, a typical old-time burlesque which features the Original Dixieland Jazz Band and the Rooneys; Firefly Garden in which the Salic Puppets are presented amid the twinkling of myriads of tiny lights, and "Flirting with Death," a big, free thrill show.

COMPLIANCE WITH FARM PROGRAM TO BE STARTED SOON

Land Owned By Applicant Must Be Included In Work Sheet

Checking compliance under the 1937 Agriculture Conservation Program will be started in the near future according to information received by County Agent B. W. Chesser.

In a meeting of the Haskell County Agricultural Association in Haskell last Saturday afternoon Mr. Chesser pointed out to the group of more than fifty farmers and farm women that before a landowner or tenant can receive any payment under this program all land that he owns or operates in the county must be under work sheet. Land covered by these late work sheets will not be subject to payment, but will put the landowner or tenant in line so he may receive his check on the farm or farms that he does qualify on.

Several producers asked what could be done with land on which the crop had been destroyed by hail, flood, or insects. Mr. Chesser pointed out that the latest ruling says that cotton which is destroyed after it has reached the square stage will be classed as cotton at the time of compliance regardless of what may be done with the land afterwards. If a producer wishes to plant late feed on land when cotton had been destroyed after it had reached the square stage he can get a certificate to that effect from his local committee and the feed will not count against his general base. If the cotton did not reach the square stage before it was destroyed it will take the classification of the crop or practice following the cotton.

Largely because of the drought in parts of the county many producers will want to summer fallow some of this land. Before summer fallowed land can be classed as soil-conserving it must be kept free of weeds or any other vegetation after July 1.

Mr. Chesser also mentioned that the only soil-conserving crop that could be harvested was cowpeas and that peas and sudan are the only crops that can be grazed. Small grains could be grazed in the spring provided the grain is followed by a soil-conserving crop or practice.

WILL BE ADDED TO EAST WING OF NEW HIGH SCHOOL PLANT

TWELVE HASKELL YOUTHS ENROLLED IN NYA SCHOOLS

Group Departs Thursday to Attend Six-Weeks Session

Twelve Haskell county youths left Thursday morning for a six weeks course in NYA schools. Six girls, Ouida Holmesly, Effie Lee Sparks, Leta Sparks, Pauline Frost, Oleta Frost, and Florence Highnote, will attend the school at John Tarleton College at Stephenville, where they will enroll in a Domestic Science course.

The six boys, Clovis McCurry, John Scoggins, Preston Manley, Elmo Flenniken, Rudolph Miles and Milton Stapp will study in North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington.

Youths attending these schools will work part of the time on projects sponsored by the schools and attend special classes during their spare time with members of the regular faculty of each college as instructors. They will earn enough to pay for lodging, board and medical care and have about two dollars per week left for personal spending.

Architecture To Be Similar to High School, North Ward Buildings

Contract for the addition of a $12,000 auditorium to the new Haskell High School building, completed several months ago, will be awarded Thursday July 29th, according to a notice published today by trustees of the school district.

Plans and specifications for the auditorium have been prepared by David S. Castle Company of Abilene, architects. Estimated cost of the addition has been fixed at approximately $12,000, and architecture and materials to be used will conform to that of the High School and North Ward buildings. One hundred working days will be allowed for completion of the building after the contract is awarded.

The auditorium will be 44x85 feet outside dimensions, with the main entrance facing west and connecting with the east wing of the High School building, permitting use of the auditorium as an assembly room when necessary.

A stage will be built across the east end of the auditorium, and dressing rooms will be located beneath the stage. Floor of the building will be elevated at a slight angle from the stage to the west entrance. Opera chairs will be installed to provide seating capacity for an audience of six hundred.

CHANGE MADE IN SITE OF AMATEUR BOXING TOURNEY

Will Be Staged in Open-Air Arena in Rear of the City Hall

Announcement was made Thursday that the amateur boxing tournament to be staged here Thursday evening, July 22, would be held in an open air arena in the rear of the City Hall instead of at the Ritz Theatre, as originally announced.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, and will be strictly an amateur affair. City Marshal Sebo Britton will have supervision of the matches.

A large number of entries have already been listed in the various divisions, sponsors stated. Amateur boxers from Munday, Rochester, Haskell, Anson, and Stamford have already been signed up, and Ray Crowell of Abilene, in charge of the Golden Glove tournaments in that city, has notified Fire Department officials that he would bring several youths to the Haskell meet.

T. B. Bagwell, well-known amateur heavyweight boxer of Rochester, who is promoting a series of similar events in that city, will also bring several contenders in the various divisions. Bagwell also notified Haskell sponsors that he was anxious for them to secure an opponent for him in the Haskell

Which is the Beauty?

First glances at the Most Beautiful and Most Popular girls at Texas State College for women leave some doubt as to which is which, since both could well qualify for beauties. However, facts reveal that Miss Irene Pyle, left, is the lovely lady, and Miss Judith Stegman, right, was elected most popular. Miss Pyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pyle of Celeste, is a senior English major. Miss Stegman whose home is in Brownsville, is active in college dramatics and will receive her degree in Speech this August.

However they will be glad to know that he does not intend to leave Haskell and will continue to be identified with the business interests of this city.

Plans Progress For Organizing Band at Mattson

Organization of a High School Band at Mattson to be composed of at least twenty-five members, was enthusiastically approved at a meeting Tuesday night of school patrons and prospective members.

Joe Meacham, director of the Haskell Municipal Band, explained to the gathering the necessary steps toward perfecting the organization.

A committee of interested patrons was appointed to canvas the school district and raise funds for purchasing several band instruments, and they will report at a meeting to be held Saturday July 24, at which time enrollment of members in the band will also be taken.

Dust Bowl Will Turn To Desert, Professor Warns

Geological records of the past 30,000 years tell what must be done if the Midwest dust bowl does not want to return to the desert it once was.

These records were given to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois State Geological Survey, Urbana.

This "bowl" was a geological basin formed up to about 20,000 years ago. Since then it has settled down to a pastoral sort of peace, never really threatened with interruption until man started to settle it.

Before the peaceful period there were dust storms so terrific that they deposited in Nebraska 42,000 square miles of the present soil to a depth of scores of feet. This deposit extends into Northern Kansas.

In other places in the Midwest the present soil was laid down in part by dust storms. Glacial outwash was another important builder of the present land.

Dr. Leighton said that recent dust storms have produced "blow out depressions" a number of feet deep and many acres in extent in South Dakota, Western Kansas and Eastern Colorado.

But these are only little warnings of what happened in ancient times. Ancient "blowout depressions" 40 feet deep and two miles or more in extent have been found in the high tablelands of Western Nebraska and adjoining state.

Even more startling is the warning of geology that these western plain soils in some places can blow away without drought, and under moist weather conditions. They blew around that way during the wet glacial times.

To do it again, Dr. Leighton said they only have to be stripped of vegetation by unimpeccable agriculture.

Man himself, the geologist asserted, has become the new and important "geologic factor." He said man's activities are responsible for the dust storms of the "historical period."

In the western strip of these plains he declared the natural balance between desert and pasture conditions is so close that "man must play the part of great caution, intelligence and skill if he is not to suffer the loss of his great reserve soil."

The climatic changes which brought on the present series of dust storms, he said, are not like those of glacial days, but "minor cycles."

Texas Legislator Urges Research In Cotton Use

In 1907 the automobile industry used no cotton in the manufacture of tires. In 1931 it used 900,000 bales but in 1934 the amount declined to 700,000.

These figures, said Rep. George Moffett of Chillicothe, veteran member of the Legislature, should set the people of Texas thinking. He believed they point to an economic condition which should not be ignored and in facing them squarely and studying others of their kind the solution of one of Texas' biggest problems may be found.

Industry, Moffett said, constantly was experimenting, probing far and near in an effort to expand and make more money. In the case of cotton, Texas' largest agricultural product, industry was interested in something which it could use, but that interest declined when it found something else which served it better.

He said the reason automobile manufacturers bought so much cotton in 1931 was because it had been found by research and experimentation that cotton was excellent in manufacturing tire fabric. The reason there was a big decline in 1936, he said, was largely because a substitute for cotton had been found.

"It is high time," he said, "that research into uses for cotton begin, and that must be financed by the government."

The regular session of the Legislature this year passed a bill appropriating $250,000 for a research laboratory to be established in cooperation with the federal Department of Agriculture, but the measure, because of the state financial condition, was vetoed by Gov. James V. Allred. The governor admitted the project was worthy, but thought the time inopportune. Moffett plans to reintroduce the bill if there is a special session next fall, which everyone familiar with the situation expects.

"Nearly every big industry spends millions annually on research," he said. "General Motors Corporation spends $10,000,000 a year. The steel industry is another example. Even our own state highway department spends about $100,000 annually testing materials."

"Many uses have been found for cotton by industry seeking to improve its products, but the discoverer often has been happy. There would be many more if the cotton industry itself went looking for them."

He noted that a corn products laboratory had been established in Iowa, a wheat products laboratory in Nebraska, and another enterprise serving forestry, known as the forest products laboratory, in Wisconsin.

FALL FROM BED FATAL

Syracuse, N. Y.—While funeral arrangements were being completed for Mrs. William S. Andrews, relatives found her husband, a retired judge, dead of a broken neck in a fall from his bed. A double funeral was held.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Seeking Contentment.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—Out in the desert country I met kindly, hospitable folk bravely making the best of things on remote, small homesteads.

On little far-away ranches, on reservation trading posts, they are educating their children by resolute self-education, keeping in touch with the world through books and newspapers, and almost invariably content with their lives and proud of their struggle and living comfortably—yes, and happily—within their means, however meager.

Then I come back to crowded cities where wealth seems only to make the masses dissatisfied—because somebody with greater wealth puts on a grander show of ostentation and extravagance. And I see the man who feverishly is striving after riches so that when he breaks down he may afford the most expensive nerve specialist. And the spoiled woman who was born with a silver spoon in her mouth, but judging by her expression the spoon must have been full of castor oil and the flavor lasts. And the poor little rich children who have everything now and so will have nothing—except maybe dollars—when they grow up.

Curious, isn't it that so little boys such a lot for some people and such a lot buys so little for the others?

The Return of Prosperity.
I CAN'T help gloating over what appeared in this space when I predicted that the temperamental and fickle bird of passage known as prosperity was winging its way back. Because the Better Business bureau reports that sellers of no-go stocks are showing increased activity.

Moreover, I hear that for the first time in years practically all the veteran bunco-steers are off relief. The lean times when the locusts of depression gnawed away our substance must indeed be over if the customers begin to nibble more freely at the same dependable old baits.

So, as he thumbs his copy of the sucker list against the morning's campaign, I seem to hear Mr. Henry J. Sinciguy, Gate of Leavenworth, but now opening offices in the Wall street district) murmuring to himself:

"Happy days are here again! Drought may kill the corn. Rust rots the wheat. Boll weevils destroy the cotton. But, thank be, there's one crop in America which never fails!"

Have you a little gold brick in your home, dear reader? Well, don't worry, nobody's going to be slighted. Ere long you'll get your chance to invest in one.

Making Mental Slips.
THE most incredible thing has come to pass. Here I go along, year after year, building up a reputation for invariably being right, the same as George Bernard Shaw and Mme. Secretary Perkins. Then—bang!—I make one little slip and the trusting reader is shocked from pit to dome.

The other day I suggested taking salaries of governmental employees. Now from all sides I'm told federal employees are subject to income taxes; only the vast majority of them, and probably the hardest-worked ones, draw such small wages that they owe Uncle Sam nothing when March 15 rolls around.

So far as I recall, this is the second time in my life I've been wrong. I can't cite what the other instance was—some very trifling matter, no doubt—but it must have occurred because I remember the nation-wide excitement which ensued, with people going around in a daze muttering: "Can it be possible?"

I now admit that early error and the recent one, too, and humbly beg pardon of my devoted public—all eight of them. It'll never happen again.

Conquered Champions.
IT HAS been brought to the attention of Mr. James J. Braddock that something happened to him a while back. Probably, by now, he has got wondering whether many others were caught in the earthquake, but is reported to be still saying "Ouch!" at intervals.

And now, as is customary, his backers will insist he demand a return engagement—or disaster—with the Brown Bomber. But if I were Mr. Braddock—game though he be—I think I'd pattern my reply on the example of the gentleman who was knocked galley-west by a hit-and-run motorist.

As the dazed pedestrian was trying feebly to ascertain whether he was all in one piece, a kind-hearted citizen hurried up.

"Have an accident?" he inquired, brightly.

"No, thank you," said the victim; "just had one."

TROUBLE DOUBLED
Baltimore.—When his 18-months old brother, Irvin, pulled the coffee percolator from the table, Melvin Painter, 3, grabbed for it and prevented it from burning the younger child. However, Melvin was badly scalded by the hot liquid. Hearing the children's screams, the father rushed into the kitchen, picked up Melvin and dashed for his automobile to take him to the hospital. The little boy, unnoticed by his father, toddled after them and, as the automobile backed from the garage, it struck Irvin and knocked him down. Both children were taken to the hospital. The baby boy was not badly hurt, however.

She blew the candles out on her cake and it was cut and cake and orange ade was served to all present.

After this another game was played and all sang a birthday song to Virginia Mae, then all went home saying they had a good time and wishing Virginia Mae many more birthdays.

Recipes For Delicious Pickles

Remember the battles with watermelon seeds you staged in the kitchen when you were a youngster, and the dishes of watermelon preserves, cantaloupe preserves, watermelon pickle and cantaloupe pickle which always tasted so good in winter?

The recipes for watermelon pickle, Cantaloupe pickle, watermelon preserves, and cantaloupe preserves are given as follows:

Pickled Watermelon Rind

Soak 2 pounds watermelon rind overnight in salt-water (3 tablespoons salt to 1 quart water). Drain off brine and cook watermelon rind in clear water until tender. Make a syrup of 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water, 2 cups vinegar, 1 lemon, sliced thin, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves and 1 teaspoon allspice. Add rind to the hot solution and boil rapidly until rind is clear. Pack into clean hot jars and seal immediately.

Cantaloupe Pickles

Select under-ripe cantaloupe. Cut into sections and remove rind. Soak 3 hours in salt solution (4 tablespoons salt to 1 quart water). Drain off brine and cook watermelon rind in clear water until tender. Make a syrup of 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water, 2 cups vinegar, 1 lemon, sliced thin, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves and 1 teaspoon allspice. Add rind to the hot solution and boil rapidly until rind is clear. Pack into clean hot jars and seal immediately.

Watermelon Preserves

4 pounds watermelon rind (white part only)
Alum (dissolved)
2 lemons
9 cups sugar
Spices

Peel and cut into slices or cubes 4 pounds white meat of watermelon rind. Soak in a salt solution (1 1/4 tablespoons salt to 2 quarts water) overnight. Drain. Parboil in fresh water containing a pinch of dissolved alum (omit if desired). Drain again. Make a syrup of 9 cups of sugar and 8 cups water. Add 2 lemons, sliced thin. If desired, add a little ginger root, cinnamon, allspice and cloves to taste. Place rind in boiling syrup. Boil slowly until tender. Pack in clean, hot jars. Seal immediately.

Cantaloupe Preserves

Partially green melons make delicious preserves, but they should be soaked in stronger salt-water than that used for watermelon preserves. See recipe above.

Our next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ivan Moore July 27. Members present were: Mmes. O. R. Cox, Thelma Fritts, Dalton Hinsley, Ivan Moore, P. P. Martin and Mrs. Sue Clute.

Let's Make Cake!

As days grow warmer the thought of spending long hours concocting rich desserts at the last minute has no appeal. So why not provide a cake—light and tempting to be served for several desserts? Here are some recipes that seem to fit in well with spring menus.

Coconut Layer Cake

1-2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
3 egg whites
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon almond flavoring

Cream the shortening thoroughly. Add the sugar and salt and continue creaming until the mixture becomes light. Sift the flour 3 times with the baking powder and add alternately with the milk to the butter and sugar, beating after each addition until smooth. Add the flavoring and fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into 2 well greased 9-inch layer pans and bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F., for 20 minutes.

To make icing: Place 2 egg whites, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 5 tablespoons water and 1-4 teaspoon cream of tartar in the top of the double boiler.

Beat with rotary beater until well mixed and place over boiling water. Cook 7 minutes or until mixture stands in peaks, beating constantly. Add 1-4 teaspoon almond extract and spread between layers and on top of cake. Sprinkle with shredded coconut while icing is soft.

Caramel Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
2-3 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs well beaten
6 tablespoons milk

Sift flour once. Measure, add baking powder and salt and sift 3 times. Add sugar to butter gradually, cream together until fluffy. Alternately with milk, add flour amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth, add flavoring. Bake in greased 9-inch layer pans in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Spread caramel frosting between layers and on top and sides.

Delicious White Cake

1-4 pound butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 3/4 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-8 teaspoon salt

Cream the butter and sugar, add the egg yolks, slightly beaten and mix well. Sift flour 2 or 3 times then remeasure and use only the specified amount. Add to this the baking powder and alternately mix in the flour and the milk. Mix until smooth. Then add the vanilla and mix again. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into the batter gently. Pour into 2 greased 8-inch pans and bake in 375 degree oven for 25 minutes.

Eggs On Every Menu

Few articles of food are so obligingly adaptable as eggs. You may serve them for breakfast, luncheon and dinner. If you doubt it, follow the recipes given here and see how "different" an egg dish can be.

Jellied Stuffed Eggs

Hard cook the eggs, 1 for each person; chill and cut in halves crosswise; remove the yolks and mash well, adding, for 6 eggs, 3 tablespoons of grated cheese, 1 tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice, dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste and melted butter to make a smooth paste. Fill the whites with this mixture and arrange the eggs in a mold or in individual molds.

For the jelly, soak 1 tablespoon of granulated gelatine in 1-4 cup of cold water five minutes; add 1 cup of boiling water, 1-4 cup each of sugar and vinegar and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice, also salt and paprika to taste.

Cool almost to the congealing point, then add 1-2 cup of celery cut in small pieces, half a green pepper, shredded and 2 tablespoons of stuffed olives sliced crosswise.

Pour the jelly over the eggs and set away to chill and harden. Turn out on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

For Breakfast Poached Eggs

Fill shallow pan with water; let it come to the boiling point and salt it slightly. To keep the eggs from spreading use muffin rings or a poacher (these are made to hold one to four eggs). Grease the inside of rings and place them in boiling water. Break eggs and slip one into each compartment. Cook slowly, keeping water below boiling point. If water does not entirely cover eggs, baste tops with hot water until a white film coats the yolk. Remove eggs with a skimmer.

For Dinner East India Eggs

3 tablespoons fat
1-3 cup milk
6 eggs
Few grains pepper
Dash curry pepper
Heat fat and milk in pan of chafing dish or in a saucepan. Add eggs, pepper, curry powder. Cook slowly, stirring constantly with a fork until thoroughly cooked.

Chinese Scrambled Eggs

5 eggs
1-2 cup minced cooked chicken, pork or ham
1-2 cup chopped mushrooms
1 teaspoon Chinese sauce
1-4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons meat stock or milk
1 1-2 tablespoons shortening

Beat the eggs and add the other ingredients, except the shortening. Meat the shortening. Pour in the egg mixture and scramble as usual scraping up the mixture as fast as it coagulates.

T. E. L. Class Meets In Park

Members of the T. E. L. class of the Baptist Sunday School met in the park on Tuesday evening July 9th for their regular monthly meeting. The crowd came together at sundown and after plans for the evening were discussed all gathered quickly in a group.

A quotation of the first three verses of the 19th Psalm was given, putting all in a devotional mood. All joined in singing "Day Is Dying In The West" in praise to the creator who has given us the beauties of the night, the glory of the firmament and all the lovely things of nature. Mr. D. Scott led in prayer.

The president, Mrs. K. D. Simmons heard reports from officers present. The attendance for the month was average though not so good as the previous month. This meeting closed the contest in which the class has been engaged, two groups on either side. Although the membership has not increased as we had hoped, the class has been benefited by a more regular attendance and by a greater number reading the daily Bible readings which gave a credit of fifty points.

A bountiful picnic spread was enjoyed, then Mrs. George Herzer's group served delicious home made ice cream and cake.

A number of old time games were played, then followed a season of stunts, single and in groups. The last feature of the evening was a sing-song using old favorites in ballads and hymns.

Those enjoying the meeting were:

Mrs. Mesdames Bob Ganaway, I. A. Aikens, Leon Gilliam, K. D. Simmons, Geo. Herren, Angie Herren, Sam A. Roberts, L. B. Watson, J. E. Walling, Jim Fouts, Arthur, Edward, D. Scott, B. M. Whiteaker, Carr, Iva Lowry of Seymour, Misses Sara Walling, Annie Beth Gilliam, Margaret Morris, Guy Scott, Halls and Jerry Ganaway.

Contract Bridge Club

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Virgil Reynolds was hostess to members of the Contract Bridge Club at her home. Shasta daisies and varicolor zinnias added to the attractiveness of the entertaining rooms where three tables were laid for the games. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. B. C. Chapman was presented with high score prize. Mr. Reynolds served a refreshment plate to Mrs. B. C. Chapman, Mrs. F. M. Robertson, Mrs. Barton Welsh, Mrs. Ralph Duncan, Mrs. Bert Welsh, Mrs. W. G. Forgy, Mrs. T. W. Williams, Mrs. Jack Mickle, Mrs. Buford Cox, Mrs. Bill Richey, Mrs. Jim Williams and Mrs. Clyde Raley.

The Jossett Home Demonstration Club

Mrs. F. M. Robertson will be hostess next Tuesday for the club.

"The cold north, rooms are made warm and cozy by the use of warm colors such as yellow or orange," said Miss Mildred Vaughan, home demonstration agent to the ladies of the Jossett club last Tuesday July 13 at 2:30 p. m. at the club house with Mrs. G. R. Couch and Helen Thomas as hostesses.

"Suitable window curtains are used to bring about light without a glare, and to create a greater degree of privacy in individual rooms," continued Miss Vaughan in her demonstration. "The window curtains and the lamp shades should shed a pleasant hue of contrasting color, preferable yellow."

"A clever homemaker should know her room and study its position and relation to the house before she completes her plans for drapes or curtains." "The personality of an artistic housewife is revealed in the choice of her window decorations."

One new member, Mrs. Morris Walker, was added to our club roll. We had as visitors, Mrs. Dess Maxwell an active club member, from Wise county, Mrs. Lillian Everitt from Meyers community, Mr. Oliver Keeter and Hazel Ammons.

Refreshments of pineapple ice cream and angle food cake were served to the following members and visitors: Mesdames Clifford Thomas, G. L. Walker, W. E. Taylor, Cliff Ammons, Lynn Fraley, Larry Bass, Joe Fraley, Luther Toliver, S. G. Perrin, Louise Merchant, Leon Gilliam, Clarence Norton, Jim Curry, Jesse Jossett, G. R. Couch, Morris Walker, Dess Maxwell, Oliver Keeter, Lillian Everitt, Misses Mildred Vaughan, Maurine Norton, Helen Thomas, Eloise Toliver and Hazel Ammons. Assistant Reporter.

New Rules For Bus and Truck Safety In Effect

New rules designed to promote safety in trucks and buses subject to the jurisdiction of the railroad commission went into effect last week.

Commission officials explained that the penalty for violating the rules is cancellation of operating permits after a hearing.

Under the rules, drivers must be in good physical and mental health, with good eyesight and hearing, experience of not less than a year, and all drivers hired after July 1 must be 21 years old and able to read and speak English.

A driver may not drink "any alcoholic liquor or beverage" while on duty, nor may he drive when his ability is impaired by fatigue, illness or other cause.

The vehicle must have good lights and reflectors, brakes, horn, windshield wiper, rear vision mirror, tires, steering mechanism and coupling devices. Spare electric bulbs must be carried, along with tire chains, flares or lanterns, fuses and on buses first aid kits must be carried.

Vehicles used for carrying explosives must stop within 10 feet before crossing a railroad track. All other vehicles must slow up to a speed at which the vehicle could be stopped before reaching the track.

Any vehicle "meeting or overtaking" a bus from which passengers are being discharged must come to a full stop.

Lighted flares must be placed along the highway in front of and behind a disabled vehicle at night; in the day, red flags must be so placed.

Mr. Irvin Sexton of Dallas was the guest of Miss Almada Jossel Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Misses Nettie and Marguerite McCollum left Thursday morning for Indian Hill, Colorado, for a two weeks vacation. They will join Mrs. W. N. Huckabee and Miss Eunice who have been there several weeks. They were accompanied to Denver by Mr. and Mrs. Billie Burt. Mr. Burt will enter Capitol College to take a pharmacist course.

Mr. Henry Martin returned to his home in Southland Sunday after a week's visit in the W. E. Bland home.

Miss Billie Joe Morgan has returned home from Ranger where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Bland.

READ GOOD BOOKS

Every person should endeavor to read a few books of serious import occasionally, at the least. Giving such advice the magazine, The Rotarian, rightly says:

"The best books are those which contain the records of the history and wisdom of men. They are the priceless links with past ages and other peoples. They are the keys to the treasure chests of the accumulated thought and experience of the races and nations.

"Good books are the constant companions of the man who would serve his best purpose in life, for they advise him in service and strengthen his ideals.

"Good books are available to all, at little or no cost. They are ready and constant companions—if you want them. Everyone who enjoys life should like books; should want to own them, and should be ready to lend them to others. For books are useful only as they are used."

BEAUTY AND BEEFSTEAK

Evidence that even the lowing herd is not immune to the current beauty vogue comes steadily from the nation's livestock shows. One exhibitor at a recent Alabama show reported 65 entries there with finger waves, and said he saw, at a Chicago exhibit, many cattle with curled hair and waxed horns and hoofs.

There was a day when to describe a bull as "beautiful" would have exposed a pathetic unawareness of fine barnyard proprieties. And to those who always believed the brush and curry comb were equipment enough for the bullpen boudoir, finger waves and manicures seem uncalled for.

Doubtless any number of 4-H youths and professional stockmen could defend the new trend, and actually there is no reason why prospective cattle show royalty should not be crowned in coronation attire. But supposing a curly cow does win more prizes there remains the pertinent and hard-to-answer question: How much does a finger wave help a beefsteak?

HOMELY MODERNISM

Considering the enormous amount of building promised for the nation in the next five years, it is extremely fortunate that at least one influential figure has taken a stand to safeguard the great American home from the flourishing genius of modernistic art.

Harvey Wiley Corbett, noted New York architect, says that in the coming building revival, the current highly stylized character of planning will settle down to a rational basis as a result of a saner approach by architects.

At the risk of creating an irreparable breach between radical and reactionary schools of art, many persons will applaud Architect Corbett. For, judging by the delight which the average citizen does not get from the modernism flooding the art galleries, he is not quite ready to let his genius, however haggard and hungry, sleep on his doormat.

DISGUISED POLICEMEN

There is nothing startling in a picture of a motorcycle officer standing beside a motorist's car writing out a traffic violation ticket. But put that policeman in a straw hat, a turtle-necked sweater and a pair of overalls, and you have a situation loaded with dynamite.

Atlanta is trying out the plan of having traffic policemen discard uniforms for civilian clothing the better to apprehend wayward motorists. So far, it is reported the plan is a success.

Anything that stems traffic violations and reduces the chance for accidents has some big points in its favor. But this plan, unfortunately, runs counter to the American idea for fair play, "seven breaks," and hatred of any form of spying. It is a national habit to crack down on snoopers and meddlers, even unto lurking guardians of the law. For this reason alone, it will be interesting to see how long Atlanta's experiment will last.

SNAP SHOTS

Japan, Italy and Germany is a combination that might some day assume the right to tell other nations where to head in.

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Secret of the Tides" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO everybody! Here's a yarn that can be told now, for a long time it was a secret. Frederick V. Fell of Bronx, N. Y., is spinning the yarn for us and he's letting it out of the bag now because—well—I guess it's because Fred has grown too old to be spanked by this time, so it doesn't make much difference who knows it.

Fred says he can't trot out any adventure story laid in some glamorous place like India, or North Africa, but he sure had a honey of a thrill once out at Rockaway beach. And as a matter of fact, I'd just as soon have a yarn from Rockaway as I would from Rio or Rhodesia. For as Fred says, it isn't where it happens, but what happens, that counts. So here the comes—and hold onto your hats.

Fred was just fourteen years old when, in 1924, his folks rented a cottage at Rockaway for the summer. Fred and his brother Harvey had never been around the water much before that, but they made up for lost time. They spent every spare minute in the big drink, and in two weeks both of them had learned to swim.

It was about that time that a strong blow set in from seaward and the ocean began to kick up and get rough. Fred's parents, playing safe, took to bathing in Jamaica bay, about twenty blocks inland from the ocean, and Fred and his brother Harvey did the same. It was shortly after that that Fred's cousins from the city came down one Sunday morning, and they hadn't been there ten minutes before all four of those kids were in their bathing suits and on their way to the bay.

Caught in a Death-Dealing Riptide!

Near the point where Fred and Harvey always went in swimming was a long pier with a diving board on the end of it. They had never used that pier before, because mother and dad had forbidden them to swim around it. But this Sunday Fred wanted to show off his newly acquired proficiency at swimming before his city cousins, and with a yell of "Last man in is a monkey's uncle," he ran down the pier, onto the diving board and out into the water, with Harvey right behind him.

The pier kept getting farther away every second.

"We both came up nicely about a yard apart," Fred says, "and turned around to swim back to the pier. And then my heart stopped beating! That pier was about a hundred yards away and it kept getting farther away every second. In that same moment we both knew what had happened. We had jumped into a racing, surging rip-tide that was sweeping us out into the deepest part of the bay and toward Broad channel."

The tide was carrying them out at express-train speed and only a man who has been caught in one can realize how powerful a rip-tide can be. For a few seconds the kids drifted, and then they began trying to swim back. "But bucking that tide was like trying to dam a flood with a matchstick," Fred says. "Harvey and I tried to join hands and hold each other up, but in another minute we were torn apart and drifting away from each other. Harvey shouted to me to turn over on my back and float, but I didn't know how to float. Treading water madly, I started shouting for help."

Lucky Fred Encounters Real Hero.

Away off in the distance, Fred could see people dashing about excitedly. One man ran swiftly along the pier Fred had just left, and jumped off the end. Swimming strongly and swept along by the tide he slowly caught up to Fred, and as he came up, Fred was almost in hysterics, crying, "Save me, mister—save me!"

That fellow was a good swimmer and a resourceful man. He told Fred to put his hands on his back and kick the water. "I did this," Fred says, "and he set off diagonally toward shore, fighting the tide with tremendous effort. Meanwhile, my cousins on shore had not been idle. Yelling like mad they ran down the beach until they came to a rowboat with two girls sitting in it. The girls launched the boat and, rowing with the tide, soon picked up my brother. My rescuer changed his course and made for the boat, and soon we too were pulled in. The three of us who had been in the water lay on the boat bottom, breathless and exhausted, but apparently safe. The girls started to row back."

But do you notice how Fred says APPARENTLY safe? The truth was that they weren't out of trouble yet, by a long shot. The girls started to row, but anybody who has rowed a boat against any kind of a tide at all knows it is no easy job. And here was one of those express-train tides carrying along a boat loaded down with five people. The girls made no headway at all. In fact, for every two feet they went forward they drifted back five. And ahead of them was the channel—and the ocean. "It began to look," says Fred, "as if that tide would be the winner after all—and this time with five victims instead of two."

Safe!—Six Miles From Starting Point.

But the man who had saved Fred wasn't the sort to give up easily. He was just about all in, but he pulled himself together. He grabbed one oar, while the two girls worked the other. Then all three of them started rowing frantically to beat that tide—to get the boat to shore before it could be swept out into the ocean and foundered by the roaring breakers.

Bit by bit they approached the shore, but at the same time they were approaching the channel too. They were practically in the shadow of the Broad Channel bridge, and not very far from the ocean when at last they got to shore. "And the spot where we landed," says Fred, "was a good six miles from Sixty-fourth street where Harvey and I had jumped into the bay."

And then came the solemn and secret oath. Fred says if his folks had ever found out what happened they'd have quit the seashore that same night. And he's got a sneakin' hunch that maybe Fred and Harvey might have got a good licking for going off the end of that pier in defiance of parental orders. Anyway, everybody in the crowd, including the two city cousins, promised they'd never tell a word, and if Fred's ma and dad ever learn about it, it's because—well—because they read the Advertisers' club column, too.

HUSBAND BURNS $36

Dumont, N. J. — Leaving the house to take her two children for an airing, Mrs. Carl Reiger placed $36 in bills under the lid of the waffle iron. In the meantime, Mr. Reiger, who is fond of waffles, decided to cook himself some. When he raised the lid, preparatory to pouring in the batter, he found the bills, burned to a crisp.

However, the serial numbers of the bills were intact, and the Treasury Department came to the rescue with duplicate bills.

San Francisco. — In a contest conducted to find California's safest automobile driver, Mrs. Nell A. Leavitt was chosen by the State Automobile Association. She has driven 650,000 miles since 1902 without a single accident.

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

Thirty Years Ago—1907

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brockman, Mr. and Mrs. Killebrew Collier, Mr. and Mrs. George Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis, Misses Vera and Fay Neathery, Vernon Cunningham, Annie Ellis and Messrs. Wallace Alexander, Byron Wright, Clifton Fitzgerald and Wertha Long spent several days on the Clear Fork fishing last week. They returned Saturday, reporting good luck and plenty of fish to eat.

Mr. D. B. English is having a concrete dipping vat put in on his place south of here for the purpose of cleansing ticks of cattle. He states that the Livestock Sanitary Commission is going to quarantine all cattle pens where the cattle have been exposed to ticks unless the cattle are kept clean by dipping.

The Haskell lodge of the Modern Order of Praetorians is arranging to give a grand picnic and barbecue at Haskell in August.

Mr. F. G. Alexander, who was at Munday Wednesday night, phoned his son Wallace Monday morning that they had the heaviest rain there Wednesday night that he ever saw fall, amounting almost to a cloudburst. He stated that in a little while the water got almost knee deep in the streets and on the level prairie, and cellars and wells were filled and caused to cave in.

Mr. C. N. Porter, late of the Iron Mountain railroad, has been appointed roadmaster on the Wichita Valley, and he and Supt. O. E. Major passed through Haskell Thursday.

Messrs. B. C. Dyess and Terry Davis and Misses Annie Lydia Hughes, Alice Poole and Mable Wyman were delegates from the Haskell BYPU to the BYPU assembly at Stamford which they have been attending during the week.

Forty Years Ago—1897

Mr. S. W. Scott and wife returned Wednesday from their visit to Austin and other points in the south part of the state.

Mr. G. R. Couch, our popular county clerk, returned the first of the week from the Nashville Exposition and a visit to relatives in Tennessee.

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Sherrill returned this week from Cisco, where they have been for some time assisting in church work. Their friends are pleased to see them back in good health.

The prairie fire on Tuesday, which burned off several sections of grass land and was suppressed with great difficulty should be taken as a warning that it is time to plow and burn fire guards. A little labor of that kind may save great destruction of grass, the loss of which would be a serious blow to stockmen.

Mr. J. F. Jones informs us that he has ordered a complete new ginning outfit, consisting of three seventy-saw outfits, revolving double box press and all the modern accessories for turning out the fleecy staple in first-class shape. All the machinery will be installed by the beginning of the ginning season.

Miss Mary Tandy gave a social entertainment to the young folks Monday night.

Sheriff Anthony is attending the sheriff's state association meeting in Dallas this week.

The young ladies of the Methodist Sunday School gave a penny social at the residence of Mr. J. S. Rike on Thursday night. It was largely attended by the young people, who spent a most enjoyable evening, and several dollars were realized for the benefit of the Sunday School.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meadors, the following couples drove out to the windmill on the Lomax farm Tuesday night and enjoyed the novelty of a moonlight picnic: Mr. Lee Pierson and Miss Ida Gibson, Mr. Joe Jones and Miss Mattie Armstrong, Mr. John Jones and Miss Mattie Kindred, Mr. Jim Fields and Miss Fannie Hudson, Mr. Percy Lindsey and Miss Lena Wilson, Mr. Frank Armstrong and Miss Buna Wilbourn, Mr. Ed Couch and Miss Edna Ellis, Mr. John Couch and Miss Ada Fitzgerald, Mr. Walter Meadors and Miss Ethel Hills, Mr. Emmett Robertson and Miss Eula Hudson, Mr. John Vannoy and Miss Robbie Lindsey. They carried along a big freezer of ice cream to keep them cool, and report a jolly good time.

SELECTS WRONG STATION

Dallas, Tex.—Ed Brown, filling station attendant, was asked by a man, apparently in a big hurry, for a road map. Taking a good look at the car the man was driving, Brown went into the station and returned with the manager, who was armed with a pistol. The driver was charged with stealing the car of Brown's parents while they were downtown shopping.

SMOKES LONG DEFERRED

Blytheville, Ark.—Rodnel Bannister recently smoked a box of cigars which were given to him fourteen years ago. However, it wasn't that Bannister wanted to keep them that long—he had paced them in a small safe the day they were presented to him and then lost the combination to the safe. Recently, the card with the combination was found and Bannister recovered his cigars.

GUARDS SAVE

New York.—It was all Coney Island life guards to pull Mrs. Rose West, Newark, N. J., and her old baby girl from drowning woman, struggling that she to die. She later explained that her baby was figured for life because on her face and the fact was denied home relief attempted suicide.

BOY, 14, SHOOTS

Wellsboro, Pa.—While frog-hunting expedition of children were ordered West, 14, to "stick" em according to companions, Townsend, 8, was the one the group who failed to command. He was fatally West with a rifle.

Hunt's Store Will Quit Business!

A Complete Store - Wide

CLOSE-OUT SALE

To my many friends in Haskell County, I will state that after many months of serious consideration I have definitely decided to quit business; While I love my business and I love that contact with my friends and customers, and it grieves me to make this announcement, but under the depressed condition of our immediate section the past few years, and my custom of doing an extensive credit business, have made demands on me greater than I am able to cope with. My present capital will not permit my continuing along the same lines. I am unable to keep up my stock, and continue to sell on time to my good friends who have stood by me the past 20 years, so I have decided to close out my entire stock.

I do not plan to leave Haskell, but do plan to continue to identify myself with the business interests of my county as I have always done, and to follow a business that will require less capital and less worry.

It will take some time to close out my stock and wind up my business, I plan however to reduce my stock quickly, and to close out the balance in bulk.

CURRY CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL REPORT

The young peoples class of the Curry Chapel Missionary Baptist Church was very fortunate in having an opportunity to deliver a fifteen minute program, Sunday July 11, at 1:30 p. m., over KRBC Abilene, Texas, through the courtesy of Bro. Henson of Stamford, Texas.

The group which consisted of thirty-seven left the church house soon after Sunday school was dismissed, in a covered truck driven by Bob McDowell.

Soon after arriving at the studio we enjoyed an old fashioned song service. Then a number of our group went to the jail where Bro. Henson preached to the prisoners, after which we enjoyed a picnic lunch at the city park. Later in the afternoon we visited the zoo and the epileptic farm.

The class, with the teacher, Mr. Earnest Marion and the following visitors spent a pleasant afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. Bob McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Marion and daughter Vernie Lee, Mr. Thurman Rhoades, Mrs. Clyde Baty, Lois Laverne Marion, Addie Lee Hayes and John Paul Perrin.

Food Sale Marks Opening Clover Farm Store Here

Clover Farm Stores in this area are celebrating the beginning of regular operations with a Grand Opening Sale of extraordinary grocery values beginning Friday morning and continuing for a week.

The local Clover Farm Stores are owned and operated by Atkinson Bros., Haskell; Homer Chambers, Rule; Smith Cash Grocery, Sagerton, whose attractively modernized stores have been heavily stocked with a large variety of quality foods in preparation for this Opening Sale event. Numerous special purchases of merchandise have been made for this sale, many of them from manufacturers, packers, and producers in Texas, as it always is Clover Farm policy to work as largely as possible with local suppliers.

The Clover Farm stores are individually owned and operated in their respective communities. While ownership of the store remains local, and the income resulting from local business remains in the community the stores are affiliated with the national Clover Farm organization for the purpose of offering to the public top quality merchandise at the very lowest prices available through mass buying.

The supply house servicing Clover Farm Stores in this community is the Waples-Platter Company, Stamford who also operate grocery wholesale houses at numerous other Texas towns and also have branches in Oklahoma and New Mexico. Manager of the Waples-Platter Company at Stamford is George H. Zachary.

The new group will be known as the Longhorn Division of Clover Farm Stores. Two other divisions are at present operating in Texas, the Bluebonnet division at Fort Worth, and the Lone Star division at Dallas. Other divisions are to be established in the near future.

The Waples-Platter Company is one of the oldest business concerns in Texas. It was established in 1872 at Denison when the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad built into the Gate City.

The national Clover Farm organization consists of several thousand stores in twenty six states from the Atlantic Coast to the Rocky Mountains and from Texas to the Canadian border. Their national headquarters is located at Cleveland, Ohio, where standards and grades for Clover Farm brands of merchandise are established and where these requirements are maintained through laboratory kitchen and "use" tests. All Clover Farm brands of merchandise are highest quality—the brand being Britton is confident that at least 30 rounds will be fought during the tournament Thursday evening, and is scouting for a suitable opponent for Lon McMillin, Haskell champion who has scored 19 straight knock-outs in tournaments held in this section during the spring.

Opening the bill Thursday evening will be a sparring match between two youths in the paperweight division, "Sonny" Johnson and Virgil Brown, each weighing 58 pounds.

Negro Battle Royal

A four-man "battle royal" between colored fighters will be another feature of the tournament that has already been arranged.

"Batting John" Hammond, colored porter at the South Side Barber Shop, and "Sluggo Sparky", local garage mechanic, will be two principals in the battle royal, Britton announced.

All amateur boxers are eligible to enter the tournament, only requirement being that they weigh at least 60 pounds. Entries should be filed with Mr. Britton or with Carl Maples at the City Hall.

Bouts will start promptly at 9 o'clock, sponsors announced. Preceding the opening bout, music will be furnished by a six-piece orchestra, the "Texas Derbies", and they will also entertain the group between bouts.

Price of admission for the tournament will be 15 cents, and all proceeds will go to the fire department.
