

American Boys Rot In Red Jails Says Burns

(Editor's Note: The Publisher of The Enterprise has been requested by Senator Ralph Yarborough to collect all the data possible on American soldiers being held prisoner by the Communists. Senator Yarborough has promised to carry the fight for their liberation into the US Senate. Following is a letter from Ralph J. Burns of Boston, who is with the American Prisoners of War Association.)

June 15, 1957
 Mr. Troy F. Martin
 Editor and Publisher
 Olton Enterprise
 P. O. Box 498
 Olton, Texas
 Dear Mr. Martin:
 Thank you for your interest in my endeavor to carry on a fight for Action, by our Government, for 450 American Service Men, unaccounted for, listed as missing in action under the terms of the Armistice Agreement. I have done considerable work on a National scale, enlisting the aid of people from many states to try and bring before the American People the plight of these men who are abandoned, many to rot in Communist jails in China and Korea.

 I have many letters substantiating the facts, one dated, February 4, 1957, from which I quote. This particular letter was sent to me by the Dept. of State for the Secretary of State. "We have no credible information which would indicate that any of the 450 American Service Men unaccounted for under the terms of the Armistice Agreement are still alive in Communist hands." The above quote establishes that we do have 450 Service Men unaccounted for, listed simply as missing in action abandoned under the heading of M. I. A. The total 2,000-plus men missing in action by the members of all Forces in the United Nations in Korea may also be documented as accurate. There is a National demand and insistence by people in every section of the country that this government take Action, immediately, to repatriate the abandoned men who now rot in Chinese or Korean jails. In the words of Lt. Gen. Stratemeyer, "the Flag should follow the Soldier." The General also states, that "he does not know how Eisenhower can sleep nights knowing these facts."

 The American Prisoners of War Association sent innumerable messages and telegrams to the White House without one single reply on this.
 I talked with a man, formerly of a National Organization, who spoke in Boston on this subject and who told me, personally, he was sent by Eisenhower to Korea to make an investigation. He did investigate and stated, that from time to time a South Korean escapee returns to Seoul, reporting that American Prisoners of War are still being held in Communist jails and described these jails and how many prisoners inhabited these jails from which he escaped. Our Government is in possession of these facts, Mr. Martin. I have other information, also which I will forward to you, which establishes the fact that a larger percentage of men are M. I. A. in the Korean conflict than in any which this Nation was ever involved.

 The abandonment of these men, Mr. Martin, is one of the blackest pages in our Military History. Strictly dishonorable, strictly un-American.
 I do hope and pray that Senator Yarborough and Congressman Mahon, from Texas, will have the moral courage to fight for this action to successful conclusion. That the words of Lt. Gen. Stratemeyer may be fulfilled. Our Flag should follow every military man.

 It is refreshing to hear from Texas, enlisting help in our cause since we had a very unpleasant report to our American Prisoner of War Association, from one Mrs. McDonough, wife of Major McDonough—listed as missing in action in Korea. Mrs. McDonough journeyed to Washington and was interviewed by Sen. Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, who replied to her tearful plea for action on the part of this Government: "What do you expect us to do to find your husband—start another war?"

 My heartfelt thanks to you Mr. Martin, and to Senator Yarborough and Congressman Mahon, for their interest and their efforts in our behalf. You may expect to hear from me again, soon, giving more information.
 Sincerely yours,
 Ralph J. Burns

Time Will Tell

SAMMY HALE is shown here with son, Andy, inspecting hail damage to his onion crop. He said only time will tell how much actual damage was done. Note here how soil has been washed and blown away from the onion bulbs leaving them exposed. Hail Monday night pecked the bulbs and could lead to serious damage. Sammy lives 1½ miles southeast of Olton. (STAFF PHOTO.)

Hail Batters Wide Area; Heaviest North Of Draw

OLTON RESIDENTS TAKE COVER AS TORNADO ALERT IS SOUNDED

Sickly green clouds late Monday afternoon dumped more than two inches of rain and a devastating barrage of hail on the Olton area.

Tornado warnings sent Olton resident scurrying to cellars as whirling clouds tried frantically to form funnels in a dozen places in the troubled skies.

James Gallagher, with Pioneer Gas Company, said Olton proper had 2.32 inches of rain. Amounts varied around the area.

Heaviest hit by the hail was the country north of Olton along the draw. One estimate set the damaged area at about four miles wide, extending from the draw northward and about 15 miles long. The report on the length of the damaged strip was not confirmed.

Other crop damage was reported in spots elsewhere around the community.

JOHN W. SMOOT, 7 miles northeast of Olton had a reported 50% loss on 224 acres of wheat.

PAUL McFADDEN, about 5 miles southeast of town, reported light hail.

SAMMY HALE, 2 miles southeast of Olton, reported damage to his onion crop.

JACK STRAW, who farms the place just across the road from the Hales, had damage to his cotton crop there.

C. L. JACKSON, 8 miles north of Olton, reported total destruction of his wheat and cotton crops.

MARSHALL STONE, who farms along the draw, reported crop damage.

MORRIS GENE BROWN, 10 miles northwest of Olton, reported less serious damage to his cotton.

T. AIGAKI, north of draw, heavy damage to vegetable crop.

H. R. CURTIS, 10 miles northwest of Olton, lost both his wheat and cotton crops.

CLYDE RAY, 7 miles southeast of Olton, reported heavy damage to his cotton although it was not believed to be a total loss.

CLAUDE RAY, 1 mile southwest of Hart, reported some hail damage.

D. Y. RAY, who farms 4½ miles southeast of town, reported a total loss on 63 acres of cotton. Mr. Ray said he would probably replant in feed.

GERALD RAY, 7 miles southeast of Olton, had his cotton crop wiped out by hail. Some farmers were replanting cotton. Others will plant hauled out areas back in grain sorghums.

FCD Official Calls On Ray Thursday

Claude Spencer, Denton, Federal Civil Defense official, made a courtesy call on Mayor D. Y. Ray Thursday.

"I just dropped by to see if we could help out," declared Mr. Spencer.

Mr. Spencer's FCD organization made available to Olton $1,950 for use in disaster relief as a result of the recent tornado.

Miss Silcott Is Runner-Up In Queen Contest

Miss Doniece Silcott was selected as a runner-up for the queen title of the 1957 Sunshine Music Camp at Eastern New Mexico University.

She was selected as one of five candidates by a vote of the 774 high school students from seven states who were enrolled in the camp.

Miss Silcott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Silcott.

American Red Cross Spends $32,000; Rehabilitation Well Underway Here

The American Red Cross has spent or has contracted to spend $32,105.02 in disaster relief here.

This information came this week from Miss Ruth Flynn, ARC representative from St. Louis, Mo. "It is an outright gift and is not to be repaid," Miss Flynn declared, referring to the money spent. ARC officials are now in the process of winding up their work in Olton and will be leaving soon.

Miss Flynn said 50 families, mostly from the Negro section of Olton, made application for assistance. She said the Red Cross spent $423.54 in caring for tornado victims in the 24-hour period immediately following the storm. This included the cost of lodging them and serving food.

The Red Cross was feeding storm victims in the school lunch room within about two hours after the twister hit south Olton. Here is how the Red Cross broke down the cost of assistance given here. Miss Flynn said 33 families received food, clothing and maintenance, costing $961.79. Building and repair ran up a bill of $19,280.57. She said 19 families were aided in this manner.

Household furnishing for 43 families came to $9,045.55. Medical care and nursing for 12 victims of the storm came to $1,678.57, and occupational supplies and equipment purchased came to $715.00.

Miss Flynn said one of the worst snarls encountered came about because some people in the storm area had neglected to record deeds to their property.

The deeds were blown away and the owners had trouble proving their claim to their lots. "We helped them straighten that out," Miss Flynn reported. She said about $3,800 was received by the Red Cross through spontaneous contributions. She said a surplus of clothing was donated and the portion not used was turned over to the County Welfare Department.

Sometimes Promotor, Singer, Educator Wins Life Insurancemen's Top Honors

Million Dollar Round Table—Olton's Don Williams made it. To a life insurance salesman the Million Dollar Round Table has about the same significance as the All-American team to a football player. It is the top club of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

About one half of one percent of the life underwriters in the US qualify each year. Don was only in his second year in the business when he qualified.

Actually he has hardly been in the business two years to date.

There are three classes of members of the Million Dollar Round Table. One is the qualifying member—meaning that he is qualified during the current year only. Don falls in that category. However, if he were to qualify three years out of five, he then would become a life member.

Don and his family were to leave this week for the MDRT convention to be held at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Don has lived in Olton six years. He came as a band director. He fostered the Olton High School department and the band was unformed during his tenure. Even as a school teacher he was a promoter—a habit he did not forsake when he forsook the teaching profession.

Under his tutelage the OHS Band made an outstanding record. He racked up two second divisions in contests in 1953. Then in 1955 his students got two firsts and a second. Also in 1955 they took sweepstakes in Class A band competition. They went on to win first in tri-state band competition at Enid, Okla.

Even while busily engaged in selling life insurance Don has found time to help promote a junior college at Lubbock and is now serving on its board of advisors. Only a week or so ago he taught a singing school at Los Alamos, NM.

Probably one of his biggest promotions recently is an oil well venture at Putnam. Drilling on the first well will be underway almost any time, and it's almost exclusively an Olton project.

Don confidently declares his belief that he's about to open a small field on the holdings of the company he formed for the operation.

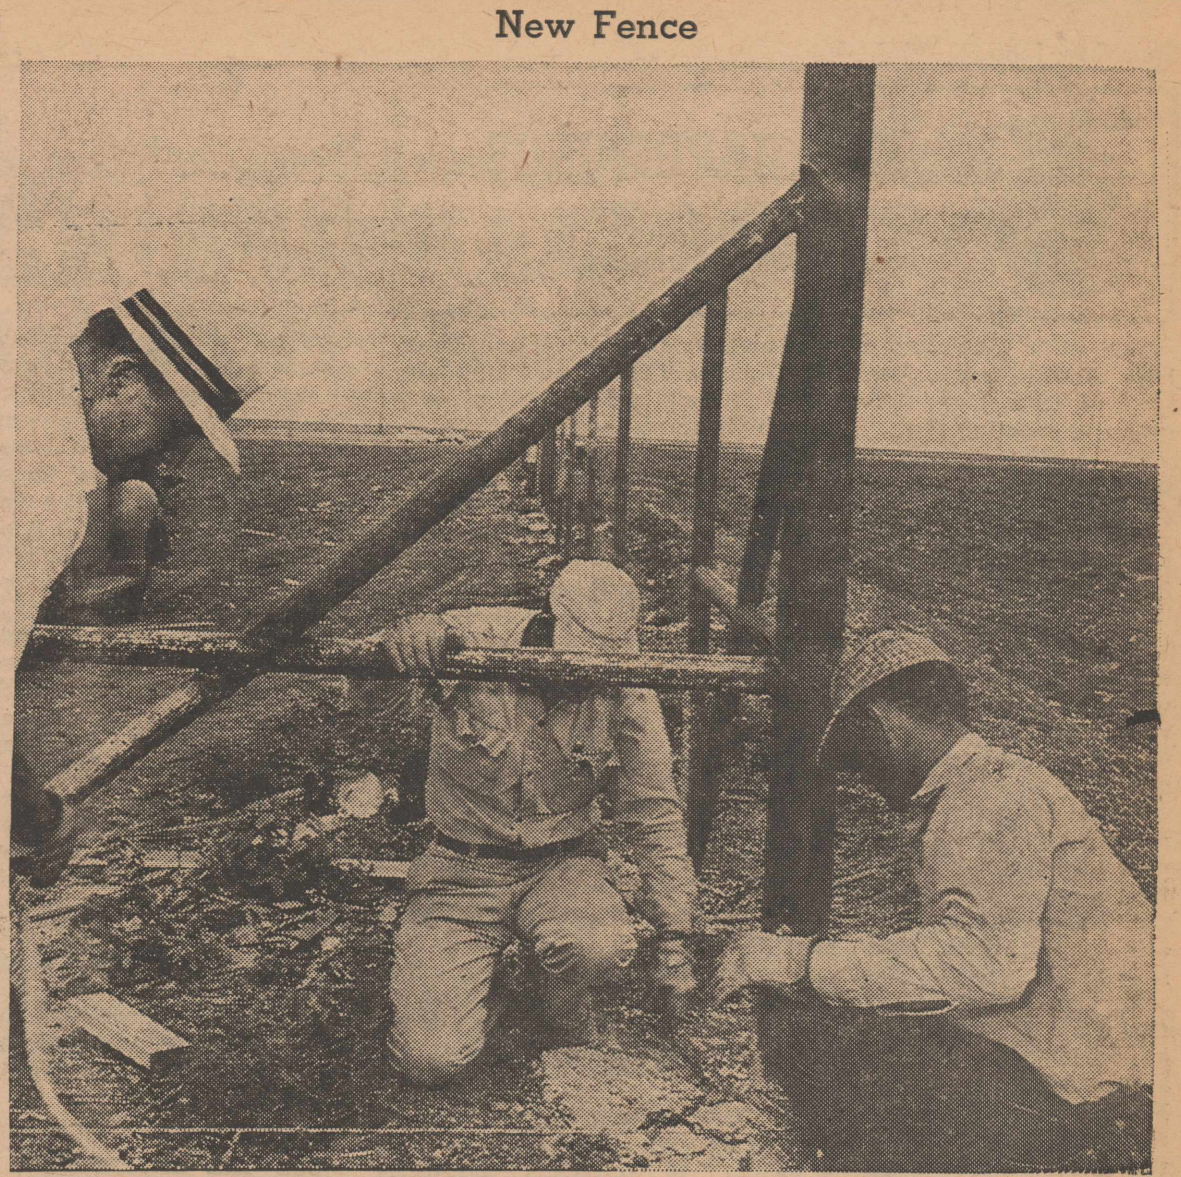

The mystery of Don's phenomenal success?

Don likes people. People like Don.

Asked what deal he's gotten the biggest kick from... "The next one," quips Olton's Mr. Life Insurance jubilantly.

GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP PLANNED JULY 8-12

Mrs. Souders' Mother Finds Hobby Now Pays Off In Numerous Ways

The "Betty Souders" day lily is a best-seller of Mrs. J. W. Alexander in Alta Loma, at $15 per plant.

Mrs. Alexander is the mother of Mrs. Ben Souders, for whom she named the flower. When she named two more day lilies for Houston Mayor Oscar Holcombe and his wife, she was featured on the garden page of the Houston Press, June 13.

Though Mrs. Alexander has been hybridizing day lilies on her five-acre farm for about 12 years, it was only a few years ago that she turned this fascinating hobby into a potentially lucrative occupation.

Mrs. Alexander has spent a great deal of time in the Souders home in the past few years. She and the late Mr. Alexander spent several winters here. A horticulture course at Texas Tech during one of her visits in the Souders home was a factor in her decision to do hybridizing professionally.

It takes about six years to get a hybrid ready for marketing. At present, Mrs. Alexander has about 25 fine hybrids registered with the American Hemerocallis Society, and hundreds of others are in the tedious process of seed-forming, planting, watching and testing. Mrs. Alexander says she is hybridizing for good-looking day lilies which are sun-proof, good color, good texture, splendid branching, good form, fragrance, and which stay open at night—in short—a perfect variety.

A distinctive honor was bestowed Mrs. Alexander, for the first time she registered a day lily with the Society, she received a citation. The flower was called "Southern Pride" and brings $30 per plant. Only citation flowers bring this price. However, she says her "Betty Souders" is the most popular flower on her farm.

Several Olton people, including Mrs. Souders, have some of Mrs. Alexander's flowers in their gardens. The day lily is a robust plant and does not have to be pampered.

Even after Mrs. Alexander tests a hybrid and clears it with the hemerocallis registry house, it is then processed through all sorts of conditions for another three years before it is judged. The best flower then receives the citation, and they are ready for market.

Mrs. Alexander has constant visitors to her Alta Loma farm.

FFA HAPPENINGS

WITH J. C. LANE and
HAROLD WARREN

This week we visited several boys at their farms. We found most of them busy cultivating cotton or planting feed.

We visited with Phil Neinst. His young Poland-China boar is developing into an outstanding animal. Joe Pendleton wasn't at home but we had a short visit with his folks.

We stopped by to see Royce McFadden. He was down in the valley with his family. His lambs which he bought in Oklahoma were looking good. He will take one of his lambs to Dallas and show the others next spring.

Harlan and Eddie Carson have several calves on feed. All of their calves are out of their dad's herd of Angus. They plan to show their calves in Dallas this fall and at the Olton show next spring.

Jerry Moore was busy planting feed when we went by. We looked over his calves and hogs. Jerry is president-elect of the Olton FFA chapter and has begun assuming a part of the duties of that job.

Neil Keasler has some Berkshire pigs on feed. He wasn't around when we stopped in to look his projects over.

While we were out in that area we dropped by to see Bobby Johnson. Bobby was still busy helping to clean up his brother's place and planting his maize. We had a nice visit with Joe Johnson, Bobby's dad.

One of the hardest working boys in the chapter is Jerry Mathis. He has worked all week on the vocational agriculture farm trying to get ready to move his calves out of town into a more desirable location.

Douglas Smith, John Wayne Hair, Rex Wimberly, Jackie Pinson and Houston Hamby also worked on rebuilding the fence at the FFA farm south of town.

This week has been a busy one for us as we have helped rebuild the fence and have begun the construction of our own calf barn.

We realize more and more the important role of the FFA board of directors in the FFA and vocational agriculture program at Olton.

They have given unstintingly of their time and effort in preparing the vocational agriculture tract for use of Future Farmers.

Guild Will Sell House Markers

Mrs. Gene Trotter was hostess to the Wesleyan Guild of First Methodist Church Tuesday evening, with Mrs. J. A. Williams as co-hostess.

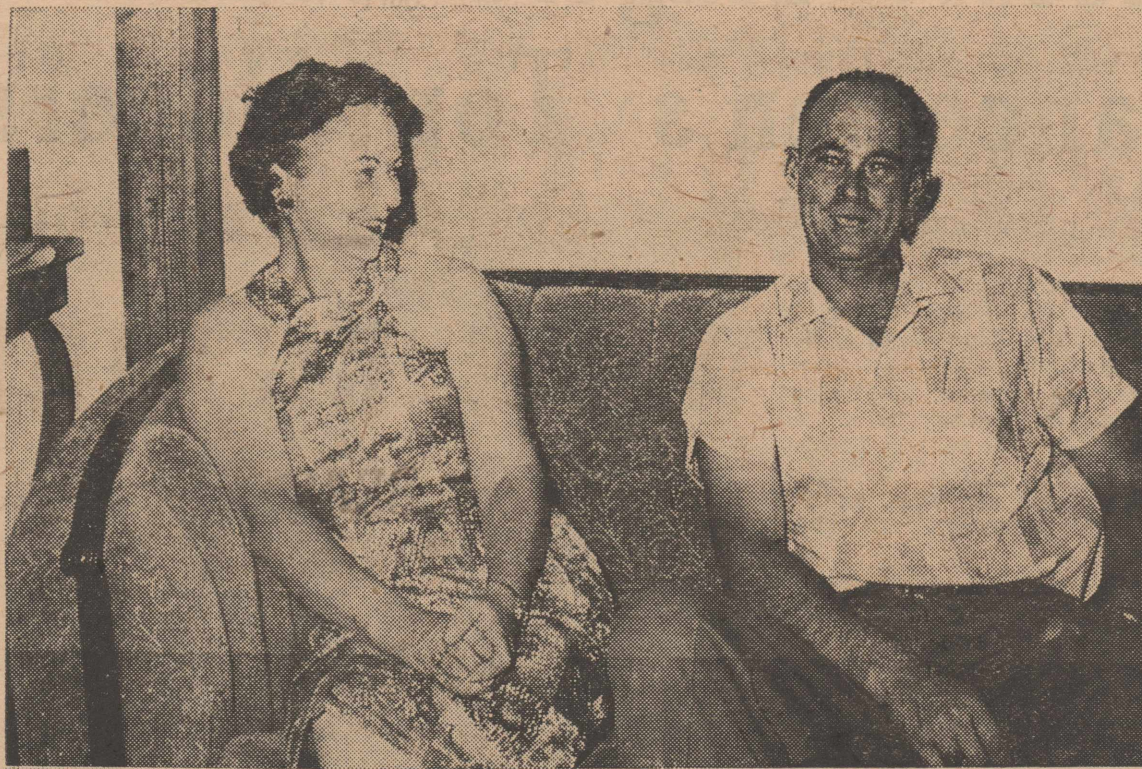

Samples of street markers, desk markers and house numbers were shown to members as a possible money-making project. Members voted to sell street and desk markers, and house numbers—profits from which will be applied on a memorial window to be installed in the proposed church building by the WSCS and other circles.

Mrs. Russell McAnally presented a devotional on the purpose of Wesleyan Guild and WSCS. "If Christ Returned Today" was the study subject, by Mrs. Ray Culwell.

Refreshments were served to the following members and one guest: Mesdames Roye Aikman, Gerald Bizzell, L. L. Thompson, Bailey Hair, Louie Mack Hardy, McAnally, Tommy Ballard, Culwell, Trotter, Williams, and Joe Cheser.

Mrs. Earl Robertson will be hostess for the Guild on Tuesday, July 16, with Mrs. Gene Trotter presenting the study.

DEATH TAKES PIONEER OF OLD WEST

Death claimed a pioneer nurse of the old West Saturday. Mrs. Anna C. Walden, 92 years old, mother of E. W. Walden, died at 2:20 o'clock last Saturday morning in the home of her son here.

She had been bedfast for several months. Mrs. Walden had suffered a heart attack four months ago at her home in San Antonio.

Mrs. Walden was born in Alabama Nov. 23, 1864 in the waning years of the Civil War. She was married in Alabama to Dr. William T. Walden. Her husband preceded her in death at the age of 59 in 1916. She also was preceded in death by a son, Roy C. Walden.

Dr. Walden practiced medicine in Alabama until the weight of his practice broke his health. He then moved with his family to Eunice, NM, where he became a homesteader.

Even there his call to the needs of humanity could not be ignored. The nearest doctor, other than himself, was at Midland and Dr. Walden and his good wife found themselves ministering to the needs of their "sodbuster" neighbors.

They set legs, doctored colds and otherwise took care of the people around them. Only recently a son of Dr. Walden remarked that his father's life was shortened by the terrific amount of work he was called upon to do as a physician.

Mrs. Walden worked with her husband as a practical nurse and even after her husband's death she continued to do nursing. One occasion she even administered anesthetic and did a minor operation in an emergency.

Mrs. Walden was a member of the Methodist Church. Funeral services were held Monday in San Antonio. Survivors, other than the son living here, include two other sons, C. R. Walden of Wickett and M. C. Walden of Odessa; two daughters, Mrs. James T. Morris of San Antonio and Mrs. George Knight of Malvern, Ark.; a brother, Amos Cory of Birmingham, Ala.; a sister, Mrs. J. F. Ryan of McLoud, Okla.; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

T. U. Smith, Hart Resident Dies Thursday

T. U. Smith, Hart, died early Thursday morning at his home following a severe heart attack.

Mrs. Smith is very active in the Olton chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at Hart, Dennis Funeral Home of Dimmitt is in charge. No further details were available at press time.

Three Wayland Students Will Lead Revival Series Here June 23-30

Thirty-seven Olton young people make up a corps of committeemen who, under the leadership of three Wayland College students, will direct plans for a revival series at First Baptist Church Sunday, June 23 through June 30.

Jack Hysinger will act as youth pastor. Visiting evangelists will be Tommy Jones, preacher; Milton Martin, singer; and Larry Herrell, organist.

JACK HYSINGER

SANDIE LOVELESS

"His Way, Mine," is the theme to be utilized through the week. Young people will meet for breakfast at 7 o'clock each morning and services will be held each evening at 8:00.

Chairman of the general planning group is Sandie Loveless, assisted by Kent Wozencraft, Edward Featheringill, and Janice Ford.

"This is not just a revival for the young people," Miss Loveless asserts, "but for everyone. It is merely a YOUTH-LED revival, and we want the adults, too."

Other committees at work are prayer meetings, chairman, Edward Featheringill, Kay Sherman, Judy Price and Alvin Wallace; music, chairman, Janice Ford, Gayland Graham, Jerry Meyer and Judy Laceywell.

Fellowship, chairman, Pete Campbell, Jerry Moore, Shirley Nichols, Don Macon, Jane Thurman and Houston Hamby; arrangements, chairman, James Simmons, James Ray Hyatt, Jackie Pinson, Linda Kemp and Martha Hyman.

Visitation, chairman, Kent Wozencraft, Ann Ford, Joe Miller, Janice Campbell, Gayle Machen, Barbara Gray; ushers, Harold Dean Carson, chairman, David Price, Kenneth Prestridge, Wayne Moore, Douglas Smith and Jackie Gray.

Guest preacher Tommy Jones, who received his BA from Wayland this spring, spent more than two months last summer on the island of Jamaica, preaching and working in vacation Bible schools. The Olton revival is one of eight of his schedule for this summer.

He was active in Wayland College as assistant yearbook editor, BSU president and promotional chairman, and as member in the Volunteer Mission Band, Ministerial Alliance and BSU choir. Tommy was elected by college students as one of ten on the Spinning Wheels—a team of campus leaders. Tommy will enter Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth this fall.

Milton Martin, who will direct music in the meetings next week, is also a spring graduate of Wayland, where he was president of the Volunteer Mission Band, editor of the 1957 Traveler, a member of Ministerial Alliance, and received special recognition with the Spinning Wheels.

Milton served last summer with the Paul Carlin evangelistic team. He sang with the State BSU Choir, and is now music director for Happy Union Baptist Church. He was married to Miss Mary Dellis, formerly of Olton, in Plainview May 25, and plans to enter Golden Gate Seminary in California this fall.

well is an extremely good one. Second was the hiring of Glen Miller of Walter, Okla., to superintend construction of the golf course. Paul Jones of Levelland also has been employed in a supervisory capacity to assist in construction of the course. Mr. Jones is the golf pro at Levelland.

Third was the sending of plans to Fort Worth for the preparation of specifications and plot of the underground watering system for the golf course.

In the meantime, C. A. Cox has called another meeting of the Center membership to be held at 8:30 o'clock next Monday night in the high school auditorium.

A meeting scheduled for last Monday night was postponed because of a violent storm on that night.

Mr. Cox reiterated that only a few more members are needed to begin construction of a swimming pool at the Center.

Scout Leader, Study Chairman, Bible Teacher Merits 1956-57 Clubwoman Of The Year Award

Mrs. Paul Burrus has been named by The Olton Enterprise as Clubwoman of the Year, 1956-57—the first recipient of this honor in Olton.

Selected by an impartial committee of men and women, Mrs. Burrus was named from a group of seven women previously nominated by organizations here. She was elected as a nominee for the title by the Olton Study Club.

Mrs. Burrus' name is synonymous with Girl Scout work here. She has worked with scouts since their beginning through the Study Club, and next spring will receive a ten-year pins as a registered adult scout.

Her capabilities as a leader are clearly epitomized in the success of scout workers in this area in forming the Caprock Council. Mrs. Burrus served as president of the study group under which the council was formed, and is now a member of the Council board.

Turn To Lubbock

"It took a long time, and it was hard work," Mrs. Burrus smiles. "We tried for several months to form a council with the Coronado and Lamb County scouts, and made frequent trips to Muleshoe toward this end."

"We could arrive at no solution to our need, however, for an charter members in Olton Study Club (Mrs. Jim Fuller is the other), Mrs. Burrus has also held every office in the group, and this year was department chairman of Club Institutes.

E. R. Higgins, former minister of the Church of Christ, of which Mrs. Burrus is a long-time member, declared:

"... She spends much time with the orphans, the needy, and charitable work. She is a capable teacher, a consecrated Christian, and a devoted mother."

Mrs. Burrus is working in Vacation Bible School, as she does each year, in addition to teaching Bible classes.

In addition, Mrs. Burrus is a member of the Red Cross, and is an ardent helper in the March of Dimes Campaign each year.

Annual Event

The Enterprise plaque—constructed of oak with a silver plate appropriately engraved will be presented annually to a Clubwoman of the Year. Presentation is made by Mrs. Troy Martin, who spearheaded the idea in her column, "Ironing Things Out."

Nominees are elected by members of each club in Olton, on a uniform standard of qualifications, and their names are submitted to an impartial committee of men and women who have no affiliation with any group participating for final selection of the honoree.

Purpose of the award is to promote appreciation of women's clubwork, to recognize their achievements, and create enthusiasm and interest among clubwomen.

Other nominees for this year's award were Mrs. Glen Exter, New Century Study Club; Mrs. John Campbell, Classroom Teachers Association; Mrs. H. E. Carson, Olton Garden Club; Mrs. R. V. Alcorn, Bykota Study Club; Mrs. Robert Duncan, P-TA; and Mrs. H. H. Shanks, Home Builders Home Demonstration Club.

FROM ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dickenson and boys from Wellton, Ariz., are visiting in Muleshoe this week as a part of a two-week vacation. They will be in Olton to visit relatives the week-end of June 23.

TO SCOUT CAMP

Nancy, Alice and Tanya Bryant, and Judy McKenzie are attending Girl Scout camp at Los Leonitas, Buffalo Lakes, Lubbock, this week.

WHY IS IT THAT . . .

X-Ray Unit
In County
Wed., July 3

Oltonites are being urged to use the Red Cross X-ray unit in Littlefield Wednesday, July 3, 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

X-rays are made with no expense to citizens. The unit will be set up in the US Government Armory building on Phelps Avenue, next door to the A & B printing office.

Publicity chairman for the Olton community is Mrs. Edd Lynn Burrus. Postcards which are being mailed out to Lamb County citizens were donated by the county commissioners.

Lions Club members will unload and set up the equipment. Littlefield Jayceettes will register people; the Littlefield Woman's Club will act as hostesses; Ministerial Alliance of Littlefield will furnish services of a secretary.

Efforts have been made previously by various Olton groups to place an X-ray unit here; however, lack of interest is blamed for failure to secure the unit. Mrs. J. L. Hinson, publicity chairman for Earth and Springlake, expresses, further, that if the response from these three communities is good this year, it is possible we may be able to secure the services of the X-ray in this town the next year.

Evenly Matched Little League Teams In Deadlock For Top Spot

BY I. B. (DOC) HOLT

If you enjoy baseball, especially the kind of baseball where every player is giving his all and trying to win until the last out—then you will join the large and enthusiastic crowds that have been filling the Olton Ball Park each Tuesday and Friday evenings and witnessing the bang-up games being played by the Olton Little League.

Practically all of the games have been close affairs, with the final outcome hanging on the last batter of each contest. Good pitching has been the feature so far, but the hitters are showing signs of catching up with the pitchers. There has been some sparking defensive play and heavy hitting in spots.

All the teams are showing improvement with each game and the standings of the teams, after two weeks of play, show how evenly they all are matched. To date, no team has established itself as a heavy favorite to win the championship, and the play is getting better and hotter all the time.

Good umpiring is being furnished by Gerald Bizzell, Leon May and T. Aigaki; Delmer Givens has also been filling in with umpire chores but Delmer's boy, Dennis, questions the quality of some of his dad's calls.

The boys deeply appreciate the time being given by the coaches and the support of their sponsors, and all others who are making the "Little League" possible.

G. H. Bley, Phillips 66	2	2
Shamrock Oilers	2	2

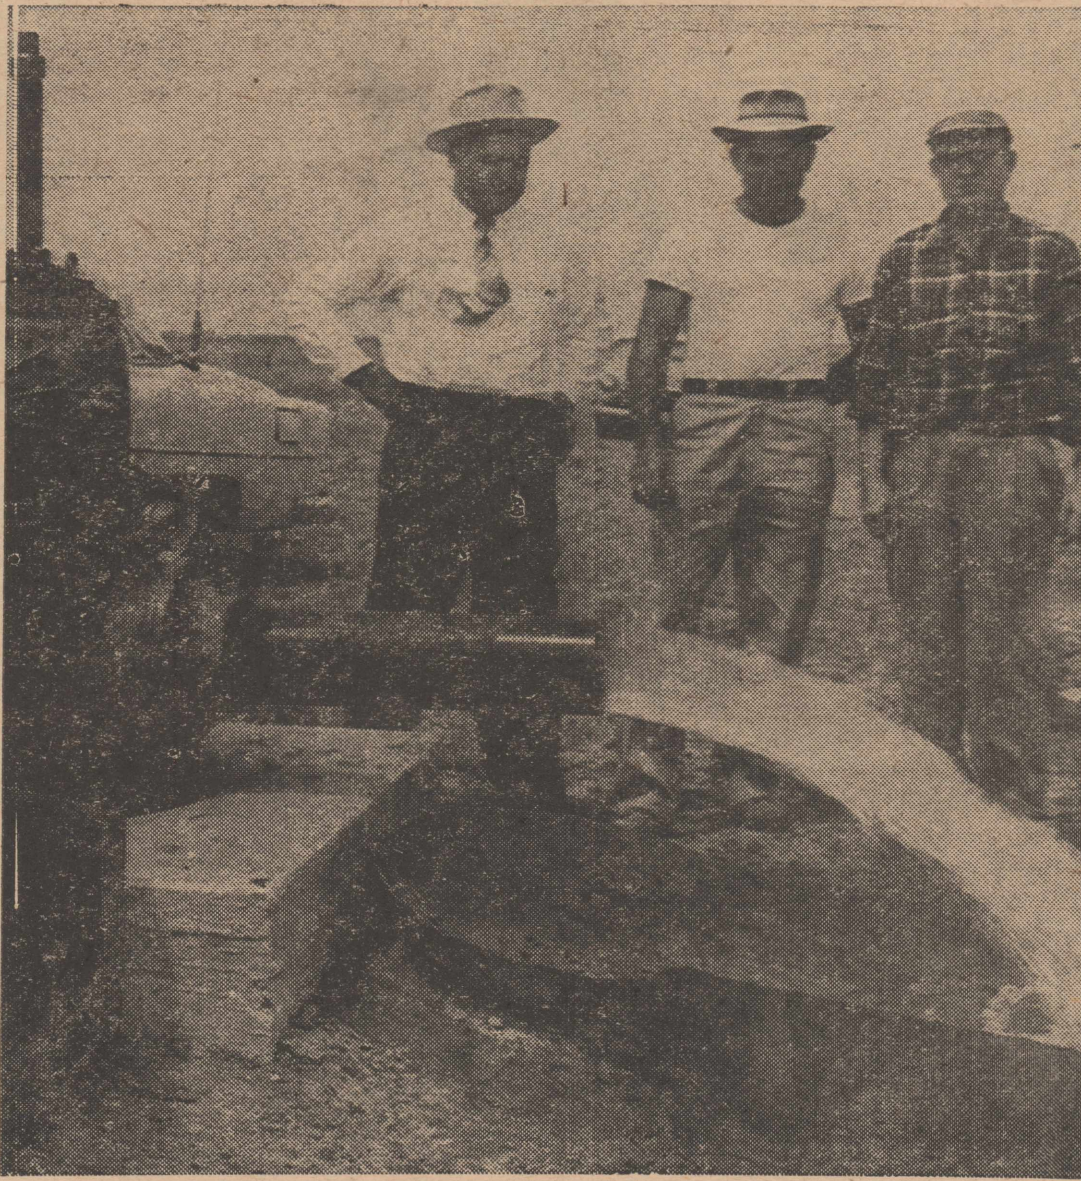

In the first game Tuesday night, June 18, Kirk McAdams' Co-Op Ginners downed the Shamrock Oilers in a thriller by the score of 3 to 2. The game was tied 2-all going into the last half of the fifth inning when, with one out, David Follis banged one of Bill Cox's fast balls into right centerfield for a home-run which ended the well-played game with the Ginners on top, 3 to 2.

The Shamrock Oilers started this game like they were going to put it on ice early in the first inning. Dennis Givens, first up, was hit by a pitched ball. Don Poage followed with a home-run which gave the Shamrock's a quick 2 run lead. But the Ginners didn't give up. They scored first in the second inning with the aid of three walks and a hit batter. They scored again in the fourth on a single by Dale Aigaki and a three bagger by Pedro Hernandez, and made their final and winning tally in the last inning when David Follis smashed his home-run.

Don Poage, the Shamrock's third baseman sparked defensively, making several good plays, especially when he speared a hard hit line drive off the bat of Charlie Burrus.

Bill Cox was on the hill for the Shamrock's with Rusty Sherman behind the bat. Bill pitched a good game, giving up only four hits, striking out eleven and walked four. For the Co-Op Ginners, Dale Aigaki started pitching and Dale was touched for both the Shamrock's runs. Charlie Burrus relieved in the second and shut out the Shamrocks the rest of the game, giving up no runs, only one hit and striking out ten Shamrock batters. Charlie gets credit for being the winning pitcher. Billy Carson was his battery mate behind the plate.

In Tuesday's second game, the Bley Phillips 66ers jumped on H. L. May, the starting pitcher for the Olton State Bank, and knocked him out of the box before May could retire a man.

George Struve, first up for the 66ers, was hit by a pitched ball. Gary Johnson doubled. Britt Hayes was safe on an error. Verwie Trusty walked. Neil Andrew singled and Bernie Hooper walked, all of which resulted in three runs for the Phillips team. They had the bases full with nobody out—the situation which faced Jimmy Curry, who relieved May for the Bankers at this moment. However, Jimmy was master, he promptly struck out the next three batters and got out the inning without further damage.

The 66ers added two more runs in the second inning on an infield error, Gary Johnson's second double and another single by Neil Andrew. This made the score 6 to 0 for the Phillips team and looked like a safe lead, however, they had to hang on by their teeth before the game was over as the Bankers broke out with a rash of hits in the third inning when, with two runners on, Clyde Galloway doubled and scored on Jimmy Curry followed with a triple, scoring

Galloway, and Curry scored on a solid hit by Rocky Farrar. This brought the score to 6-4 and the Bankers were not finished, as in the last inning, Joe Priest started off with a single and scored on Clyde Galloways second double. Clyde went to third on Jimmy Curry's infield out, but died there when George Struve made a nice play on Rocky Farrar's hard-hit grounder and retired him unassisted at first base, ending the game with the score reading Bley Phillip 66ers 6, Olton State Bankers 5.

Gary Johnson, with two booming doubles, led the hitting for the Phillips team, while Clyde Galloway, also with two doubles, was the leading hitter for the Bankers.

Gary Johnson, who pitched all the way for Bley, was the winning pitcher. Gary was touched for five runs and six hits, walked two and struck out ten of the Bankers.

H. L. May, the starting pitcher for Olton State Bank, was charged with the loss. H. L. gave up three runs, three hits, walked two and hit one batter in 0 innings. Jimmy Curry allowed three runs, three hits, walked four and got ten Bley batters via the strike-out route. Brett Hayes caught for the Bley team and Rocky Farrar was behind the plate for Olton State Bank.

Well, I declare. Looks as if we're just going to keep on having to run to a cellar. It honestly is funny, the way this community has dotted itself with cellars in these weeks. Folks nowadays look for a cellar with a house to go with it when they're moving or buying.

Reading about a model home shelter built by the Civil Defense director in West Frankfort, Ill. It's supposed to be the "most" for protection against atomic warfare, but it has some good pointers for us "cellar-dwellers."

He calls it his "life insurance," and it occupies a 7 x 8-foot corner in the basement of his new home. It has reinforced concrete block walls 10 inches thick. Equipped with five gas masks, a gas lantern, two bunks, three Navy hammocks, and a seven-day supply of food and water.

In addition, the shelter has an air filter system, double-steel doors, and a secondary escape hatch in the back yard.

Nifty, huh? Maybe some of that we don't need for tornado protection, but the CD ideas is really catching on.

Understand the Ed Thompsons, who are doubling their back patio into a cellar, are planning an inside entrance, sort of a hatch thing, from the adjacent bedroom; the regular outside entrance, and then (I've been told) a tunnel on out to the end of the back yard, with an exit, just in case.

And then there's the Ralph Glovers' cellar, with cement "sitting" benches built right into the walls. All covered with rugs 'n stuff. They built it themselves, too, Ralph, Mrs. Glover and Darryl.

I'm sure there are other innovations among cellars in this town, but I haven't quite made it around to all of them yet. Give us a few more weeks of stormy weather, though, and I daresay there won't be many cellars I haven't "sat" in.

On the subject of Civil Defense, statistics from Austin give the

and Mr. and Mrs. Athol Light of Olton.

Centering the altar, which was banked with emerald greenery, were white satin wedding bells set off with white cathedral tapers in candelabra. Baskets of white gladiola, orchid-pink carnations, and pink snapdragons on floor stands entwined with greenery completed the setting. Marking the bridal aisle were white satin bows.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Milton Sharp, organist. Weldon Davis, brother of the bride, sang "Because", "Always", and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white French imported Chantilly lace over white nylon tulle and satin. Accented with tiny buttons, the fitted bodice came to a point at the front waistline and was designed with a high collar adorned with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her full skirt of tulle over net and satin was set off with a shorter skirt of Chantilly lace. Long sleeves terminated in petal points over her hands.

Her bridal veil was attached to a foundation of lace embellished with iridescent sequins, a Betty Wales of New York creation. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with stephanotis.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Weldon Davis of Hart. Misses Wyona Myrick and Jeanie Huggins of Hart were bridesmaids.

The attendants' ballerina-length gowns were fashioned of orchid cotton satin. A full gathered skirt stemmed from the Texas bragger a good one, if you're so inclined to "brag" about disaster:

"Only Texas could produce tornadoes, floods and a swirling duster all in one day. It happened on May 24. There were 22 tornadoes that touched the ground, and scores of other funnels sighted that did not reach Texas soil."

Just always gives me a lift to chat with Mrs. A. C. Brigrance. In those lonely first days we lived in Olton, Mrs. Brigrance helped me feel important just through our philosophical phone conversations. A real phone buddy, and a grand lady. She always had some news, too.

Understand there's a neighborhood nearby where folks really "neighbor." Includes the Brigrances, Mrs. C. B. Turner, the Parkey sisters, Mrs. Nell Crawford, Mrs. Maud Funderburk. They keep a check on how each other is getting along, and see to it everything's okay.

A really wonderful thing, neighbors.

Now why don't some of you young Olton lovelies set your caps for "1957 Texas Farm Bureau Queen" title. I know good and well we have the prettiest girls here of anywhere in Texas, and it seems to me a shame we don't crow more about it.

A Tulla girl, Joann Vaughn, was last year's state queen, and I KNOW our crops can outdo Tulla's, so why not get with it!

fitted bodice which came to a point in front and was accented with tiny buttons. They carried flowers of white carnations arranged with lover knots of satin.

An ice blue cotton silk dress with blue accessories was chosen by Mrs. Davis for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue cotton dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations. A. C. Light, Jr., served his brother as best man. Ushering were Royce Bearden of Olton and Jimmy Davis, the bride's brother. Royce Bearden and Jimmy Davis were candlelighters. Rebecca Hodges, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

A reception given by the bride's parents followed in the new home of the newlyweds. Laid with a hand embroidered linen cloth over orchid, the reception table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations flanked with orchid candles in crystal candelabra. Presiding at the punch service was Mrs. A. C. Light, Jr. Mrs. Johnny Hodges served the three-tiered wedding cake.

Wedding guests were registered at the church by Kay Nell Popejoy.

After a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple will be at home six miles north of Olton. For traveling the bride chose a pink brocaded cotton satin dress worn with white shirred gloves and white accessories. Matching pink jewelry and a white orchid corsage completed the ensemble.
