FIRST GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP UNDERWAY HERE THIS WEEK

Harvest Opens; Onions Drop

The situation in the onion market was enough to bring tears to a vegetable farmer's eyes this week.

The market is down. Way down!

In fact the market was in such a jumble of confusion that not even the brokers themselves seemed certain about the going price of these tasty hamburger ingredients.

Prices quoted generally on yellows ran from $1.40 to $1.50 while the price of medium whites appeared to be pegged at about $1.80.

"I wouldn't guarantee anything," declared one onion processor Wednesday.

In the meantime there has been some activity in the potato harvest.

MOVE TO OLTON

Mrs. Fred Corn and children, Peggy Lynn and Joe Muriel Green have moved to Olton from Hereford.

Rasco Boy Condition Good

Richard Rasco, ten years old, is being treated in Lubbock Methodist Hospital for a spinal fracture suffered a week ago Wednesday on the J. C. Hines place.

The lad fell from a tractor being operated by a farm hand. One of the rear wheels of the machine passed over the boy.

Richard's condition was reported as good Thursday.

Wheat Harvest Is Completed

Olton's short-lived wheat harvest has come to a close.

Louie Mack Hardy at Ben F. Smith Grain Company said he estimates the average yield between 25 and 30 bushels per acre.

In a ceremony last week at Kelley's, Mr. Hardy presented a Stetson hat to Quentin Redinger. The first load of wheat came from Mr. Redinger's farm.

One Hundred Young Ladies Will Participate In Day Camp Program

Tomorrow (Friday) evening nearly 100 girl scouts and leaders will put out their fires, lower the American flag, and break camp, ending five bustling days of cook-outs, hikes, crafts, nature studies, songs and games together.

This will end the first day camp ever to be held in Olton. Seventy Brownies and Girl Scouts, with about 20 leaders and senior scouts, are occupying the vacant lots flanking the American Legion for four hours each afternoon. Some troops are sleeping out on the grounds at night and making breakfast over the campfire.

Mrs. Ben Souders is camp director, with Mrs. Leo Ross Bryant as assistant; budget and foods committee, Mesdames D. M. Granbery, C. S. Silcott and Leo Ross Bryant; equipment, Mrs. R. D. Bryant; program, Mrs. Paul Burrus.

Kaper charts, dribble cans, scalding bags, kabobs, sit-ups—these are some of the words which have become very important to the campers this week.

Five Senses Hike, trail o' gold, ink pad prints, buddy-burners—are activities to stimulate anyone's imagination.

How did this group achieve a genuine out-door atmosphere right in the heart of Olton?

A trek through their campgrounds, draped with the fragrance of charcoal burning, supplies the answer.

Each of the five tents pitched on the site represents one unit, or ranch (since the theme is Western). Every ranch has a Kaper Chart, with duties for each pair or trio of girls departmentalized for every day: shoppers and hostesses, wood-gatherers and fire builders, cooks, clean-ups, all-camp.

In a conspicuous place is a sign with the ranch brand: 4-D, Box T, Diamond S, Frying Pan, Rolling W. Surrounding each tent are various appurtenances. The charcoal pit, or fireplace, is about three inches deep and 3-4 feet long, encircled by small rocks for the traditional campfire circle.

A clothesline strung between trees holds, not clothes, but scalding bags, in which each camper's own eating utensils are scalded, after washing, and hung to dry.

A tin can full of water, with a spout formed of a stick, hangs from a tree limb (this is the dribble can), with a bar of soap nearby, a roll of paper towels suspended above, and a "lavatory" formed of tiny rocks, with a drain ditch. There are no mud puddles.

Food scraps are buried in a neatly-dug hole in the ground and covered.

Mrs. J. O. Roebuck is on hand with a first aid unit in the American Legion building.

"Most of my patients," she smiles, "come to me around meal-time, with minor cuts or burns."

Following the flag ceremony each afternoon at 2:00, the girls pitch camp for the day. Activities of crafts, songs, games, hiking occupy the campers until snack time at 4:00. Crafts include making pixie caps, whipping rope, knots, first aid, buddy-burners, kerchiefs and kerchief slides.

Insects are taking the cream of the South Plains cotton crop.

This declaration came Monday from Raymond King, cotton expert with Lubbock Cottonoil. He spoke to a group of farmers in a meeting at Olton High School Auditorium.

Mr. King covered the major cotton insects with which this area is concerned. He showed color slide films of each type of insect. He also showed and discussed beneficial insects.

The cotton expert particularly stressed early season control of cotton insects.

The cotton man gave statistics to back up his assertions. He said that in 1954 results at the Lubbock Experiment Station proved that three applications of insecticide materials at seven-day intervals, beginning when the cotton reached the four-leaf stage gave a net increase in revenue of $108.00 per acre at a cost of $1.50 per acre.

In 1955 the same program showed a net increase of $35 per acre. In 1956 there was little difference in cotton treated and that not treated for insects. This was due primarily to the late freeze in 1956 which allowed late fruit to mature.

FIRST GRID PRACTICE—

Coach Joe Turner has announced that Olton's first football practice for the 1957 season has been called for August 26.

Coach Turner said prospects are fair. The Mustangs will be playing this year on a new turf. The field has been plowed up and new grass planted.

Mr. King particularly stressed the importance of early control of thrip.

Thrip begins working in the four-leaf stage and works right through until the cotton begins to fruit. This insect gets all the young, early squares—which in event of an early frost would ordinarily be the bulk of the cotton crop in this area. "In any event it is our best quality cotton," Mr. King declared.

Another insect with which we are concerned in the early and middle season is the fleahopper. This pest works directly on the squares.

Mr. King stressed the importance of each farmer going into his field every three to five days and making a very close inspection of the terminal bud of his cotton.

He said spraying should be done when the infestation becomes as many as 15 insects per 100 plants. Late season insects discussed were boll worm, leaf worm, lygus bugs and cabbage looper.

Following the talk at the auditorium, Mr. King took the group into fields and made spot checks for various insects. He was able to show the farmers an abundance of thrip, aphids, fleahoppers and some cabbage loopers.

He said considerable damage already has been done throughout the area.

AGRICULTURE ROLLS

OLTON FARMERS are busy this week at the varied tasks of agriculture. On the C. E.

Bley place just west of Olton a lush cutting of hay has just been mowed and silhouetted against a cloud strewn sky—this trucker takes on a load of the high-quality alfalfa. Irrigation also is going full tilt. In the second panel an irrigation well on the Lee Simmons place spurts the life blood of the Plains. Farmers this week also had become concerned about the insect problem. In the final picture, Raymond Cooper is shown inspecting his

Aid proficiency badge. Campfire cooking is an important part of the scout's training. Each day's menu is cooked in a different manner. Monday, a one-pot meal of beans, salad, somemores, tea. Tuesday, foil cookery of steak, potato, onions, carrots, cherry cobbler and tea. Wednesday, stick cookery, with kabobs, baked potatoes, peach cobbler and cool aid. Thursday, buddy-burners, with cheeseburgers, musical orange, and soft drinks. Friday, tin can casserole of steak, vegetables and fruit.

The cost of the day camp to each girl is only $3.00. This includes the five meals, snacks, all equipment and supplies, in addition to insurance on every adult and child covering any accident incurred in connection with the day camp. Equipment boxes and tents used are property of the Caprock Council of Girl Scouts, of which the Olton group is a member. Various individuals and firms have also donated supplies. Winding up each day's camp is a job for everyone with the returning of supplies and equipment to the Scout House. Good nights are said following the traditional scout flag ceremony between 6:30 and 7:00 o'clock. The "ranch" with the cleanest grounds is presented a flag which is flown over its tent the following day.

Eleven Brownies Monday underwent the flying up ceremony toward becoming Girl Scouts. They were Wanda Bleeker, Paula Jones, Oleta Ogle, Laquita Small, Mary Roberts, Judy Dennis, Lana George, Joyce Curry, Oketa Follis, Janice Adams and Rosemary Thornton. Their leaders were Mrs. Roy Roberts and Mrs. E. C. Jones.

The 13 "hands" in the 4-D Ranch have as their leaders Betty Truelock and Mary Bleeker, assisted by senior scouts Judy Ogletree and Charlotte Loveless. Also with 13 "cowhands," the Box-T Ranch is led by Mary Nell Bleeker and Laquita Norvell, with senior scouts Charlotte Gibson and Joyce Gray.

In charge of the Diamond-S Ranch are Billie Norfleet, Neva Busby and Bonnie Buchenau, assisted by senior scouts Janice Campbell and Barbara Gray. This is the largest group, with 18 girls. Foremen of the Frying Pan Ranch are Ruth Jones and Nellie Ruth Roberts. Ellen Jones and Koenia Schenck are senior scouts with these 14 campers.

The 12 scouts of the Rolling-W Ranch are sponsored by Maxine Struve and Pat Choate, assisted by senior scouts Gayland Graham and Linda Kemp.

"SNOWBALL IS BABY-SITTING"

Recently the Floyd Gray family were given a "he-dog" by their young grandson, Bobby Lemon.

About a week later, the "he-dog" had puppies. Five-year-old Bobby was confused.

"Don't just she-dogs have puppies and not he-dogs?" he asked his grandmother. She assured him that he was correct.

"Well," Bobby exclaimed, "I think ole Snowball is just baby-sitting!"

CONDUCTS FUNERAL

G. B. Stanley, minister of the Olton Church of Christ, was called to Shamrock Wednesday to conduct a funeral service. He was accompanied by Duward Price who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Price.

TO PETERSBURG

Attending the Associational Brotherhood meeting at Petersburg Baptist Church on Tuesday evening were F. L. Burrow, W. T. Hackler, W. E. Miller, John E. Lewis and Duward Price.

7:00 is set as visitors' day, when achievements will be on display and guests may witness the final flag ceremony. "The important thing about day camp," leaders assert, "is not so much what is being done, but what is happening to the camper while she is doing it. The activities are a means, and the growth of the child is the end."

Mrs. Souders states, "I'm sure more girls than ever will enroll in next year's day camp after they hear how much fun this one has been and how much they can learn. We hope next year's will be even bigger and better."

SEE SISTERS

Sunday visitors in the Troy Martin home were families of Mrs. Martin's sisters: the Bill Wilkins' of Amarillo and the L. O. Jokisch's of Arlington.

FFA HAPPENINGS

WITH J. C. LANE and HAROLD WARREN

Bley Nine Lads Leading L-L Loop

In Tuesday's games, the main feature was heavy hitting and high scores. The first game got off to a fast start with Olton State Bank getting four runs. G. H. Bley tallied one in the second and three in the fourth inning to narrow the margin. OSB put the game on ice for good in their half of the fourth inning, with six runs, setting the final score at 9 to 3, in favor of OSB.

In the second game of the night was a rather wild affair. Shamrock jumped off to a 11 to 0 lead in the first inning and was never overtaken by Co-Op Gin. Co-Op narrowed the margin by getting 5 in their half of the inning. The game was marred by 18 walks, each team contributing 9. Don Poage relieved starter Bill Cox in the third inning, and for Co-Op, Dale Aigaki went all the way to take the loss. Final score: Shamrock 17, Co-Op Gin 15.

With only two more games to be played, the race is getting closer. Going into Friday's games, G. H. Bley leads the pack with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses. Tied for second are OSB and C-Op Gin with identical 5 won 5 lost records. Last, but moving up fast is Shamrock with a record of 4 wins and 6 losses.

Regular league play ends Friday with the playoff to begin next Tuesday.

one always baffles me where cars are concerned. Who has time to figure out which boat is on the right when you're going pretty fast?

5. A boat being overtaken always has the right of way. (So watch out for a gal about to make a left hand turn!)

6. (Now this one's a lulu!) DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO AVOID A COLLISION IN AN EMERGENCY. (That applies to EVERYTHING ALL the time!)

So, boat-lovers, follow these six rules at all times, and you'll come out on top of the water.

Wish everyone in this community could just have some idea what this Day Camp means to our girl scouts. I really don't know much about it, except that Betty Souders and the many other scout leaders and volunteer workers have been planning for literally WEEKS, right down to the nth detail.

Just from the talk about it though, I gather it will teach the girls things that no other experience, except time spent at a camp off in the woods somewhere, could do. This is Olton's first try, and I just know it will go over so well that even more girls will enroll next summer.

In every woman's house, on some shelf or table, are her very special what-nots.

This little vase was a wedding present; that little dish was a gift from her secret-pal; the pretty pink figurine was her first effort at ceramics about seven years ago; these salt 'n pepper shakers came all the way from New York City.

The unusual hand-carved ash tray was sent by her husband when he was in the Air Force in Japan about 1947; the funny shaving mug belonged to her grandfather; the crystal butter dish has been in her mother's family for generations; the novel thimble was used by her mother-in-law to stitch 30-some-odd quilts by hand . . .

Each piece has its own little story, and each one is almost as dear to her as the baby pictures of her children.

. . . a woman's VERY SPECIAL what-nots.

So wonderful that not a single person in Olton was involved—at least so far as I have heard yet—in any type of mishap during the holidays.

THAT in itself is reason for celebration.

Memo to Mayor Ray and Councilmen:

Have heard so very many people express gratitude for the effectiveness of the frequent spraying in our town these nights. Mosquitos are practically a thing of the past here now. Thanks for your perseverance.

Say, you motor-boaters (or any other kind of boaters, for that matter), have you memorized the official rules of the road for boating? There are six of them, and as simple a set of rules as ever I have read. Let's consider them:

1. Boats without motors have the right of way over boats with motors. (Can't figure exactly why they should, unless it's easier for a motor boat to screech its brake to a sudden stop than for a row boat to slide to a halt via a paddle.)

2. Keep right in channels. (What if the channel is only big enough to be a one-way stream, and you meet another boat?)

3. When you meet another boat head on, swing to the right. (And just hope the other boat swings to the right, and not LEFT.)

4. When two boats are approaching each other at an angle, the boat on the right has the right of way. (This Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!
