BAREFOOT BOY

HEAVY RAIN, SOME HAIL HITS OLTON

Hail and heavy rain lashed the Olton community Sunday afternoon.

James Gallagher, who keeps rainfall records for Pioneer Gas Company, said a total of 2.20 inches fell in the downpour. He said 2.03 inches of that amount fell within a 35-minute period.

Heavy hail pummelled a strip south of Olton. Damage was considerable in places.

Man Nabbed On Liquor Violation

Eusebio Salazar was arrested on a liquor law violation charge Saturday.

Local officers said 10 cases and 8 cans of beer were confiscated in an old barracks building in south Olton at the time of the arrest. Officers said the beer was cached in a cess pool under a shower in the building.

Salazar entered a plea of not guilty in county court and was released after posting $1,000 bond.

Hatley Appears Before ICC

Elvis Hatley left Wednesday by private plane for San Antonio where he is scheduled to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Hatley, who is manager of the Olton Producers Co-Operative Association, was to testify in connection with bracero transportation.

July And Jury Plague Campbell

Two words, almost identical, but entirely different in meaning, spell tough luck for Kenneth Campbell.

Recently, Kenneth and Delmer McMillen, his partner, were winners in a Texaco wholesale contest for the Amarillo district. First prize was a deep-sea fishing trip, with a round-trip plane ticket to the coast included.

The trip was out for Delmer, who is unable to fly. So Kenneth made plans to go. The trip was arranged for some time in July, but he just couldn't make it at that time, so the company left it up to him to set the date. He did: August 9.

And what happens! He's called for jury duty this week, so the fishing trip is out!

(P.S. An additional prize was a $100 gift certificate from an Amarillo store. But wives Colleen and Johnnie took care of that in about four small packages. Ho hum! It's no man's world!)

Three Vacancies In School Roster

Three more vacancies remain to be filled to complete the Olton school faculty.

Superintendent Noel Johnson said a homemaking teacher, a school nurse and a supervisor are needed.

Air Budget August 19

The school budget hearing will be held August 19.

The hearing will be held before a special session of the school board to be held in the high school study hall at 8 p. m.

CROOKS GET $1,500 IN LOOT IN BURGLARY OF STORE AT HART

Yeggs Tuesday night made off with an estimated $1,500 in loot from the Homer Hill Store in Hart.

Included in the take was a small arsenal. Sheriff Jack Cartwright, Dimmitt, said the crooks got a 12-gauge shotgun and two .22 caliber rifles.

They took 50 boxes of shotgun shells and 20 boxes of .22 shells. A considerable amount of other merchandise also was stolen. Cartwright said about $25 in change was taken from the store's cash register.

Also in the loot were 100 cartons of cigarettes. In fact, a trail of cigarettes, apparently spilled from a pick-up truck or an old model car, led Sheriff Cartwright

GROUND OBSERVERS

Olton Woman Slain Sunday; Husband Charged In Death

Grand Jury Returns Indictment; Man Released On $25,000 Bond

Mrs. Sophia Moore was shot to death Sunday afternoon at her home as she stood in the yard talking to her 17-year-old son, Doyle.

Indicted on a charge of murder with malice was Mrs. Moore's estranged husband, Tommy Moore.

District Attorney Joel Cox said the indictment was returned by a Lamb County grand jury Tuesday morning.

Moore was arraigned before District Judge E. A. Bills.

Judge Bills set the accused man's bond at $25,000, returnable August 26. Moore was free Tuesday after posting bond.

The shooting was investigated by Police Chief Vernie Head and Deputy Sheriff V. L. Smith.

This is how Smith described events leading up to and immediately following the slaying.

The deputy said the Moores had been estranged for some time. Mrs. Moore had been working at Clovis as a practical nurse.

Doyle called his mother and asked her to come to see him. Mrs. Moore drove into the yard of the Moore home shortly before 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

She got out of the car and was talking to Doyle. Moore came walking out of the house.

"Have you come to see the children?" he was quoted as asking his wife.

"Yes," she was said to have replied.

The deputy sheriff said Doyle told him that his father thereupon produced a .38 caliber Colt Special and fired point blank at Mrs. Moore.

The slug passed through the fleshy part of Mrs. Moore's hand near the thumb and ploughed into her left chest. Smith believes Mrs. Moore was killed instantly.

Doyle grabbed the gun away from his father and put it into the back of a pick-up truck parked nearby. The boy then got into the car and drove to town looking for the officers. He stopped Sonny Miller at a traffic light and told him. Miller informed Deputy Sheriff Smith while Doyle reported the shooting to Police Chief Vernie Head.

Head contacted Dr. Lynn Fite and Coroner F. L. Burrow. Dr. Fite pronounced Mrs. Moore dead as soon as he arrived at the scene.

Deputy Smith said he found Mrs. Moore lying between the pick-up and a garage building. Her husband was sitting beside her holding one of her hands.

"I felt her right wrist but could find no pulse," Smith related. "Tommy looked up at me and said, 'Why did I do it, Smitty?'"

"I don't know, Tommy," the deputy said he replied.

Deputy Smith said he then placed Moore under arrest. He said the man has not made a statement in connection with the shooting.

Smith said Moore is being represented by Billy Hall, Littlefield attorney.

Funeral services for Mrs. Moore were held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the high school auditorium. Officiating were Rev. W. R. Aldridge, Nona, and Rev. Winifred Ritter, pastor of the Olton Church of the Nazarene. Duward Price of Olton First Baptist Church was in charge of music.

Burial was in Olton Cemetery under direction of Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Mrs. Moore was 36 years old. She was born Dec. 20, 1920 at Flomont. She moved with her family to Roy, N.M., as a small girl.

She was graduated from Roy High School and was valedictorian of her class.

She and Tommy Moore were married Aug. 12, 1939 at Clovis, N.M. They made their home at Olton since that time.

Survivors, other than the husband and the son, Doyle, include two daughters, Melba, 14 years old, and Maurice, 9; two stepchildren, Johnny and Donnell; the mother, Mrs. Fay Patrick of Tulare, Calif.; and three sisters, Mrs. Joe G. Thomas of Amarillo, and Mrs. Ruth Wilkerson and Mrs. Maybelle Davis, both of Dalhart.

Minding Our Business—

Within the reaches of the Olton trade territory an estimated $25 million worth of agriculture products are produced each year.

This is a plum worth picking.

Probably nowhere in the United States of America is there a town the size of Olton with a trade territory so vast and per capita wealth so high.

It is almost 30 miles to the nearest town of any size. Yet Olton merchants are not doing their share of the retail business.

In fact, towns with not nearly our potential are beating our pants off in sales. Why?

Olton folks are just as loyal as you will find in any community. Somehow, the fault must lie with us—the merchants. Some way we must be falling down on the job.

We believe that one of our greatest failings is our inability as merchants to organize and work for the betterment of our town and community. At the last meeting of the Olton Chamber of Commerce less than five percent of Olton's merchants were present.

In the entire town not one person has been found who is willing to serve as Chamber of Commerce president.

While neighboring towns stage such crowd-getters as rodeos, picnics and parades—we do nothing. To our knowledge there has never been an organized effort to clean up and fix up the town.

We cannot blame our customers if they do not flock to our doors. BUSINESS GOES WHERE IT IS INVITED AND STAYS WHERE IT IS TREATED WELL.

Olton has never even capitalized on the fact that it is an undisputed farm machinery center—comparing favorably with such area giants as Lubbock and Amarillo in that field.

First we need a determination on the part of the merchants to do something about our situation. We need the presence of every merchant in Olton at a Chamber of Commerce meeting in the City Fire Station at 8 o'clock next Monday night.

Next we need to talk about hiring a full-time Chamber of Commerce manager—an expert to find out what our area people want and then help us plan to get it for them.

All the belly-aching in the world about business being bad won't help us a bit. Things are going to start improving when we start doing something to make them improve.

Olton Man Gives Firsthand Account Of Recent Tremor In Mexico City

"The first thing I knew about it, I was thrown out of bed."

This is how Don Williams, Olton insurance man, described the beginning of his experience in the earthquake that rocked Mexico City July 28.

Don and Mrs. Williams were staying on the third floor of a Mexico City hotel. They were south of the border with a group of insurance people.

Don said the quake came at 2:13 o'clock in the morning. He said he immediately recognized it as an earth tremor. A veteran of World War II, Don experienced an earthquake while stationed on Saipan.

"It knocked all the lights out. The elevator was out and we walked down three floors," Don reported. "Outside our door was a huge crack in the wall of the hotel."

"A building on the same block with our hotel collapsed. The modern buildings were the ones that were damaged heaviest. The

Where do frogs come from? No rain, no frogs. But let it rain, and there they are, hopping in and about your feet and croaking you into insomnia.

Do they come down with the rain? i-t-o Think it would be really interesting to chalk up some kind of statistics on the vacations Olton folks take in one summer.

Find out things like the average number of miles a family might cover in a week, the number of states touched, approximate average cost per person or family, types of vacationing done, that is, camping and fishing, swimming and boating, sight-seeing, or "roughing" it in air-conditioned hotels and motels.

And then a grand total of all the towns entered by Oltonites, the total number of miles covered, the total amount of money spent, the total number of days away from home, and so forth.

The figures would doubtless be staggering—in all categories. Because, for as small a place as we are, seems to me we do a terribly lot of high-falutin' vacationing—high-falutin' and otherwise, for that matter. Just a lot of vacationing, period.

Oh well, haven't been able to think of a simple method of accumulating enough of that information to get an average and a grand total, so suppose I'll never know.

But still think it would be interesting.

Who am I? My maiden name was Smith. I have been married to a farmer 31 years. I have taught school for more than a decade.

Trees Downed In School Area

Bulldozing equipment has been at work recently on the school playground and outdoor areas to improve the appearance and usefulness of the grounds.

Dead trees which are no longer useful and are in the way have been removed, and the playground has been plowed and leveled.

Superintendent Noel Johnson explains:

"The trees west and north of the auditorium have been removed and the area leveled to provide more parking space for students, as well as for athletic contests.

"The trees behind the primary building and cafeteria were cleared out for two reasons: (1) the roots were damaging the plumbing and foundation in certain places, and (2) we needed additional protected playground area."

Mr. Johnson goes on to outline the importance of the protected area for cold-weather playing in this natural "L" area formed by the wings of the building.

Rocks and grass have been moved off the playground and final touches will be laid with the completion of leveling and the removal of one more tree.

"Trees which are not in the way," Mr. Johnson emphasizes, "and which add beauty to the grounds have not been touched. I believe the general view of the entire area is greatly improved."

Cub-Dad Camp Starts Monday

Cub Scouts and their dads will be at Umberger Buffalo Lake next Monday and Tuesday for their first "Cub-Dad Camp."

Camp will be pitched about 1 p. m. Monday on the west side of the lake. Supper will be served about 6:30 that evening, and the only other meal to be taken at the lake will be Tuesday breakfast.

All cub-dad couples are to bring their own food for the following menus: supper, chicken (cut up for frying), pork and beans, potato chips and bread; breakfast, bacon and eggs, potatoes (for frying) and bread. All drinks will be furnished, and all food cooked together.

Plans will include fishing, softball, and row-boating if possible. Each boy is urged to bring a life jacket and his own fishing equipment. Work on row-boating badges may be achieved.

Dub Hall, cubmaster, states that every boy who attends must be accompanied by his dad. Those attending may go to the lake at any time convenient after noon Monday. Camp will be broken Tuesday morning. Each couple will also furnish their own bedding.

This is the first time such a camp has been planned by the Olton cubs. It will become an annual affair and perhaps, according to Mr. Hall, be done twice each summer. Olton has about 40 cubs, with four dens.

Anyone wishing additional information may contact Dub Hall.

Are Her Eyes Ready For Another School Year?

An Annual Check-Up!

Research at Temple University has shown that 90 percent of the children that fail in the first grade do so because they cannot read properly. It was found that two out of three failures were the result of visual problems. This means that better than 60 percent of first grade failures are the result of poor vision.

Some think this means that failing children cannot see clearly. That is only a small part of the trouble. Further research has shown that most of the failures can see clearly at a distance. Much of the trouble means that children cannot coordinate the use of their eyes properly. They tire in a short time when they read, they are unable to follow the line of print correctly, and often skip words or even lines in reading.

What can be done for them? Visual training is frequently the answer. By visual training they can be taught to see correctly. The visual practitioner of your choice should be able to give you or your child visual training if needed for better visual performance. Your child's eyes should be examined at least once each year.

Wife Of Gene Autry's Road Manager Thinks Singing Cowboy Is Tops

"Gene Autry is the grandest person in the world to work for," smiles Mrs. Earl Lindsey of Houston, while visiting in the home of her brother, Johnny Schenck, here last week.

Mrs. Lindsey's husband has been road manager for Gene Autry for 15 years. His duties entail booking personal appearance tours, planning publicity for the trips, and handling tickets and money.

With a troop of about 38 musicians, novelty actors, skaters, wire-walkers, other types of performers, and his 17-year-old horse, Champion, Gene Autry makes a 40-day tour every spring and fall.

Mr. Lindsey stays ahead of the troop to make arrangements in each town. The performers follow him by chartered bus, traveling sometimes as far as 375 miles to the next day's show town. With them is Champion, in his special-built, air-conditioned van.

Suit Costs $850
Gene Autry arrives last in his 8-passenger Beech-craft, piloted by Herb Green. Mrs. Autry accompanies her husband some of the time. And on occasions when Gene is featuring Annie Oakley on the tour, 23-year-old Gayle Davis, who plays Annie Oakley on TV, also travels in the plane.

On tour, Gene carries 100 different suits. The cost of one of these suits, Mrs. Lindsey explains, is about $850. The pinched-back suits he just wears on the street, however, she adds, are "only" about $500.

"One of the boys who goes along on tour," Mrs. Lindsey goes on, "spends most of his time keeping Gene's 75 pairs of boots shined. He sure hates it, too."

"Gene adds four or five new suits each time a tour begins. People demand, of course, that he's really dressed up. An audience is disappointed if his costume isn't glamorous. But they have no idea how much the suits really cost."

Ticket Costs Vary
Gene emceeds his own shows, in addition to singing and doing a routine (tricks) with Champion. The price of admission is set by each town according to the type of building used, and, of course, the potential audience. Mr. Autry receives a flat rate for the performances. The highest prices general admission has ever brought were about $4.00. This was admission for the show in Madison Square Gardens. Usual ticket rate is about $2.50.

"Of course," Mrs. Lindsey continues, "our audiences vary a great deal. The smallest crowd we ever played to was in Bangor, Me., last fall, when the town had just been hit by hurricane. There were only about 500 in the audience that night."

"Toy" Goes Along

Mrs. Lindsey travels with her husband a great deal of the time. Though their home is in Houston, they have no organiza-until Earl joined Gene Autry in 1942.

Happily Married

"Gene is not a bit stuck-up," Mrs. Lindsey comments. "When Johnny was in the Marines during World War II, Gene himself was in the Air Force. And I told him about Johnny when I heard he was going to Saipan, where Johnny was. Well, he looked him up, and he was just wonderful to Johnny."

Gene and his wife, a former school-teacher, used to have the whole gang out to their home in California for Sunday dinner. They have been married 28 years. "Something most folks don't know about Gene Autry," Mrs. Lindsey concludes, "is that Will Rogers discovered him. He was playing his guitar one day as a telegraph operator in a little town in Oklahoma, when Will Rogers came in to send a telegram. He liked Gene's playing and urged him to go into radio. And that's how he got started."

"He's a lot like Will Rogers, too. Easy to get along with, easy to like, and the most down-to-earth fellow I ever knew."
