Olton basketball teams had a rough time of it during the past week. Only one game was won out of five.

The boys' victory over Springlake Friday night was the only victory chalked up by an Olton team this season. The Mustangs downed the western neighbors, 44-41.

However, they were put back Tuesday evening by triple-A Littlefield, 46-42.

The girls took drubbings from Springlake Friday, 38-30, and Nazareth Tuesday, 52-32. Pat LaFrance led scoring for Olton against Nazareth, hitting seven field goals and five free shots for 19 tallies. Bobbie Campbell topped scoring against Springlake, with eleven.

Employer Saves Worker's Life After Electrocutation

USES EARLIEST FORM OF ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Benny Guzman is alive today because his boss thought fast and acted quickly.

Benny, father of four small children, was critically burned about 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon when he came into contact with high tension wires. The accident occurred on the Alton Hollingsworth farm, where Guzman is employed, near Springlake.

Guzman, Hollingsworth and a bracero were harvesting cotton with a mechanical harvester equipped with a trailer.

Girl Critically Injured In Fall

Wanda Mae Buckner, 13 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Buckner, suffered critical injuries Saturday morning when she fell into a ditch near her home.

She suffered a ruptured spleen in the accident. She was treated at the office of Dr. Lynn Fite here and then transferred to a Muleshoe hospital.

She later was transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and underwent surgery for removal of the spleen Monday night.

Mrs. Buckner said Wanda Mae was going to visit a neighbor when the accident occurred.

Attending physicians said Guzman suffered second degree burns about the face, third degree burns about the arm and possible fracture of an arm.

Hollingsworth was driving the tractor at the time of the accident and Guzman and the bracero were in the trailer forking and packing cotton.

The wires were a 7,200 volt energized tap line and ground wire from a nearby REA main line. Hollingsworth said the REA tap line runs about a quarter of a mile across the field he is farming to the former site of a house which was moved about two years ago.

Guzman hit both wires and grounded out between them as the trailer on which he was working passed under them.

"I looked around just as he hit them," said Hollingsworth, obviously shaken and exhausted by the ordeal, as he told the story at Community Hospital in Olton.

"He fell down in the trailer on the cotton, I thought he had fallen off the trailer. I saw the ball of fire as he came into contact with the wires."

Hollingsworth at first thought Guzman was dead.

"I stretched his arms back and began breathing into his mouth," the young farmer declared. He continued this form of artificial respiration for three or four minutes.

A Mexican who is employed by Lester Kelly nearby rushed Guzman to the hospital in Olton.

"There is little doubt that the breathing into his (Guzman's) mouth saved his life," physicians at the hospital declared.

Guzman has been employed by Hollingsworth a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Guzman have four children. The youngest is two years old and the eldest is 7.

D. B. Lancaster of Bailey County Electric said the line which figured into the accident has now been de-energized.

36,939 Bales Of Cotton Reported

The fabulous cotton harvest of 1956 is almost duplicated this year, according to figures released by local gins yesterday morning.

On Nov. 28 of 1956, Olton area gins had weighed in 39,952 bales of cotton. Wednesday morning's total was 36,939—and ginner says picking will continue anywhere from a week to two weeks longer.

High winds Tuesday hampered mechanical strippers, though several farmers went ahead with their harvesting. Cold weather delayed harvesting yesterday, too.

Grades continue higher than ever before, bringing higher prices to the farmers. Staple, ginner report, is getting somewhat shorter, but still is better than any other year at this late in the season.

To Participate In "Homemaker" Contest Tuesday

Olton FHA girls will mark "Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" as will a record number of high school senior girls throughout the United States Tuesday, Dec. 2.

By taking a homemaking knowledge and attitudes test, they will compete for $106,000 in college scholarships and an educational tour which this year includes the middle west in addition to historical sites in the east.

Enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow this year are 349,150 girls from 12,260 schools. This is the largest number of participants in the five-year history of the scholarship program. Growth has been steady since 1955 when 187,463 girls in 8,040 schools participated.

The 1959 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced in Minneapolis April 10 at the American Table Dinner in the Leamington Hotel's "Hall of States". She will be selected from among 48 state Homemakers of Tomorrow and the representative from the District of Columbia, each chosen in a written 50-minute examination which will be administered in the schools Tuesday.

Minneapolis replaced New York as this year's finals site to permit the homemaking representatives from every state to visit the new Betty Crocker kitchens located in the home of General Mills, sponsor of this program. The state winners and their school advisors will travel to Minneapolis after six days of educational sight seeing in Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City.

The All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $5,000 scholarship. The runner-up will receive a $4,000 grant, third place winner a $3,000 award and fourth place winner a $2,000 scholarship. Each of the other state Homemakers of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and the runner-up in each state will receive a $500 scholarship college education.

The immediate objective of the 349,150 participants in this coast to coast homemaking program will be naming the Homemaker of Tomorrow in each participating school. The school winner's paper will then be entered in state competition. The test is designed and judged by Science Research Associates.

Each school Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a homemaker pin manufactured by Josten's which represents the slogan, "Home is Where The Heart Is". The school of each state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

OLTON POSTMASTER URGES EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING

Postmaster I. B. Holt said today, "The biggest single factor in getting all mail delivered before Christmas is the full cooperation of the public in early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts. Everything is geared up to handle a record Christmas mail in Olton this year."

With Christmas only a month

Teachers, Coaches Save Hart Money

Teachers and coaches of Hart High School pooled their efforts and sanded and refinished the gym floor.

First game on the remodeled court was with Cotton Center Tuesday night.

Contract price for the job would have been $720. Surplus property was used in as far as possible. Cost was $180.

School Supt. Paul Kennedy said he wishes to express his appreciation to those who helped as well as to the Hilliard Corporation which donated the use of machinery on the project.

away, the Postmaster says it's not a bit too soon to start following these three simple rules to insure delivery of your gifts before Christmas: Wrap them securely, Address them correctly, and MAIL THEM EARLY.

The Postmaster said you should not take chances on mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents.

The Postmaster also reminds us that size and weight limitations for Parcel Post packages vary according to place of mailing and destination. He suggests that you secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the Post Office, which tells all about packaging and wrapping parcels.

Always include an extra label with your return address and the recipients address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

"Careful addressing of your Christmas cards is equally important," the Postmaster said. Bring your Christmas card mailing list up-to-date and be certain that you have the complete name, address, zone number, city and state for everyone on your list.

Always send your Christmas cards by First Class mail. They will be processed and delivered quicker and they'll be forwarded or returned, if it becomes necessary. Christmas cards sent by First Class mail may carry written messages; whereas, cards sent with Third Class three cent postage may only have a written signature.

Don't fail to put your return address on your Christmas card envelopes. This is not only socially correct, but it will enable both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

All mail going long distances should be sent well before December 10th, and Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed by December 15th. Mail all Christmas cards for nearby destinations by at least a week before Christmas.

OHS Scene For FHA Initiation

Olton High School was the scene for fun-making and some funny-looking people last week. It was the FHA initiation. The girls followed such rules as wearing one low heel and one high heel; all clothes wrong-side out and backwards; a gathered skirt upside down, tied at waist with a rope. They had to wear their hair in, at least, 13 pigtails and they were not to speak to boys. They had to say the FHA Creed to any upper classman that asked and they had to wear two large onions around their necks. The girls wore "slime" caps and had to fall to the ground when they heard "air raid" and scrubbed the floor with a toothbrush. The senior girls received bows from the initiated girls and they had to scrap plates for the junior girls at the luncheon. Their punishment was a bite out of their onions. Ellen Jones was the chairman of the affair and some 50 girls participated in the initiation.

Glenda Hall and Coy Carlisle give shy smiles for the benefit of the camera after they were selected as the Cutest OHS Couple recently. Parents of the sophomore students are Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Carlisle. (STAFF PHOTO)

MUSTANG TALE

By Gayle McAnally
Congratulations to Pat Tarpley and Eugene Howard, who will be married this afternoon (Thursday).

The losing teams of the Junior Class magazine sale gave a party last night (Wednesday) for the winning team. Gayle Machen was the captain of the winning group. The party was given at the home of Joyce Gray.

Several groups together Sunday afternoon were Myra Wells, Beverly Crowder, Nancy Bryant, Bobby Brown, Harold Feathergill, Billy Bryant, and Danny McAnally, in Myra's car; and Bobbie Campbell, Donna May, Lonna May, Welda Edwards, and J. D. Myrick. (These last ones were probably in J. D.'s car.)

Did all of you read the account of a girl's first basketball game in the Student Chronicle? It was just real cute . . . and it was written by tgh. Unless you're a dumb-bunny, you know who those initials belong to.

Saturday night "togethers" were Harlan Carson, Sue Witten; Elmer Houston, Maenette Dennis; Sharon Dennis, Houston Hamby; John Paul Jones, Gayle Machen;

Royce Bodkin, Kay Gregory; Jimmie Robbins, Gayle McAnally; Tommie Wilson, Janet Oak; Royce Bearden, Martha Hyman; J. D. Glenn, Linda Franks; L. H. Mc Adams, Donna Whittington;

Winfred Hair, Ronda Robertson; John Lynn Burrow; Coy Carlisle, Glenda Hall; John Wayne Hair, Doris Cruce; Dewey Hukill, Pat LaFrance; Jack Royce Straw, Linda Clark;

Carl Nafzger, Wanda Nixon; Charlie Giles, Judy Ogletree; Randall Small, Gayle Clark.

Correction: Kenneth Blades is a member of the boy's quartet instead of Kenneth Prestridge. At the time that the story on said subject was written, Kenneth P. was a member of the quartet.

Was awfully glad to see all of you that came to the Olton-Springlake basketball games Friday night at Springlake. Let's have more of the same at the rest of this season's games. Okay??

Tommie Wilson and Wanda Nixon dated Sunday night . . . as did Lonnie Miller and Beggy Bearden.

"Are my books in the correct locker?" "Are you still going to take us to the show tonight?" Questions, questions, questions!! And orders—by the dozens! Poor, poor seniors. Hey, juniors! Hope you all treated the Seniors as badly as you good during the Slave Days, for two reasons. (1) You paid good money for them that might have helped the Junior Class. (2) You're going to get worked to death when it's your time, so you might as well make someone suffer when you can.

ODDS and ENDS: John Paul Jones and Gayle Machen dated this weekend . . . T. J. Smith and Joyce Gray were together Friday night . . . Kent Wozen-craft and Judy Moore had a gay 'ole time Friday night as did Jim Moss and Janet Oak; and Freddie Gordon, Judith Chester.

BY SUE MAY

When it begins to get Thanksgiving and Christmas, our minds tend to dwell more and more on our Maker and His wonderful goodness.

Wouldn't we have a nicer world if we all thought more throughout the year on "peace on earth, good will to men" and less about what "we are wearing and why so-and-so aggravates us?"

God has blessed us in America more than he's blessed any other peoples. We, in Olton, scrape out more food than some peoples eat for several days. Seems terrible when we forget that from God comes all things—even good cotton crops!

This Thanksgiving, I'm particularly thankful for my healthy family; my home where we can rest without being afraid of being bombed; for knowing love, contentment, happiness, and security; and for living in a land where fear is hardly known and where freedom for worship, when and where we please, is a privilege.

God HAS blessed us—let's show His our gratitude!

Carlene Hardy called me Monday and said another Couples Bridge Club was organized Thursday night at Carlene's and Louie Mack's home.

Members are Messrs. and Mesdames Bill Kelley, M. T. James, Lester Thompson, Allen Johnston, Troy Martin, L. M. Hardy, Joe Hysinger, and Kenneth Ray.

The club will meet every other Thursday night.

Joy and Allen Johnston were both the highest scorers for last Thursday night. Next meeting will be at Wanda and Les Thompson's December 1.

The idea is spreading—IT IS nice for husbands and wives to do things together, isn't it?

From Wes Izzard in Amarillo: An American

An American is a man who demands speed laws to stop fast driving, but won't buy a car if it can't make 100 miles an hour. He knows the lineup of every baseball team in the American and National Leagues, but can remember only two lines of The Star Spangled Banner.

An American is the only man in the world who will pay 50 cents to park his car while he eats a 25-cent sandwich.

When he is at the office he talks mostly about baseball, golf and fishing; and when he is at a baseball game or on the golf course or casting for bass, he insists on talking about business.

An American is a man who works hard on the farm so he can move to town where he can make more money so he can move back to the farm.

He demands that the government balance its budget, then takes his last dime to make a down payment on a car.

He is never ready for war, but has never lost one. He whips the enemy, then gives him the shirt off his back.

Collectively, Americans have more food to eat than any other country, and more diets to keep

Books On Parade

By Mardema Ogletree

The First Thanksgiving by Albert Blaisdell, selected from Stories Of Early America, Lothrop, $2.95.

All summer the Pilgrims had been happy. In their new land, they had found wild strawberries, wild grapes, wild turkey, and deer.

And autumn brought a bountiful harvest of corn.

"Let us gather the fruits of our first labours and rejoice together," said Governor Bradford.

The Pilgrims were so thankful that they decided one day was not enough so they celebrated a whole week.

The great Indian chief, Massasoit, came with ninety of his braves. White man and Indian shared the fun, frolic, and feast.

On the last day of this Thanksgiving Party the Pilgrims had a service of prayer and praise.

The New Mayflower by her Captain Alan Villiers, Scribners, $2.95.

This is the story of the building and the historic voyage of the second Mayflower.

The original Mayflower sailed in 1620; the second Mayflower emulated the first one in 1957. The contrasts and comparisons of both trips make interesting reading.

The new Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock as did the Pilgrims. Then it paid a visit to New York and stayed in New York Harbor during the summer of 1957. Last Thanksgiving it went back to Plymouth.

I'll Take Texas by Mary Lasswell, Houghton Mifflin, $5.00.

The exuberant author of Suds In Your Eye and most recently I'll Take Texas is the great granddaughter of Tom S. Lubbock, for whom Lubbock was named.

For almost thirty years Mary Lubbock Lasswell had lived away from her native Texas, but one day she came home again. And there began a joyous period of re-discovery and exploration.

But home for our author is Austin and Brownsville and all the vast border region of Texas. A more truthful title would have been, I'll Take South Texas.

You do not get to know a region or its people by flying over it in a plane. That is exactly the treatment our author gives the Panhandle . . . one measly little chapter called "Plains from the Sky". But even at that, the birds-eye view is interesting.

She did go downtown in Lubbock, and she calls it the cleanest city in Texas. And she took time out of her plane to drive through Palo Duro Canyon, and she visited the Panhandle-Plains Museum and Amarillo.

But all the lavish, intimate description is reserved for other areas. I enjoyed her tour of the Big Bend country, and her visits with Texas literary people.

Her collection of folklore splashed throughout the book adds them from eating it.

They are supposed to constitute the most civilized, Christian nation on earth, but still have to deliver payrolls in armored cars.

They have more experts on marriage than any other nation, and more divorces.

In spite of all this, the best compliment you can pay a man is to call him "A real American".

color and interest.

But the best part of the book is that part which expresses so beautifully the long-range Spanish influence in Texas.

Did you ever stop to think that the Spanish and the Mexicans were here over a hundred years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock. They are "A true breed of Americans made up of the mingled blood of Conqueror and Conquered."

It is a very readable book, but will probably be unsatisfying to Panhandle readers as well as readers in Dallas and Fort Worth.

The Adair Home Reflects Talents Of The Adairs

By—Sue May
The Dan Adair home reflects the taste and personality of its owners even more than most homes. Mr. and Mrs. Adair and their son, Dale, who now resides in Lubbock and is a member of the police force there, made the entire house by themselves. "We didn't have any outside help when building it!" Mrs. Adair exclaimed. The house is located on East 12th Street and faces east.

The most unusual and most unique room in the house is the master bedroom. Mr. Adair made a complete bedroom suite out of laminated white pine. There's quite a history behind his building the bedroom suite. Mrs. Adair said he built a cabinet and mirror in the wall in the bathroom and it turned out to be both handy and attractive.

Builds Bedroom Mirror
"Then he asked me if I'd like for him to build me one in the bedroom since my mirror was getting so hard to see my reflection in," she said.

When Mr. Adair got the huge mirror built into the walls, Mrs. Adair decided she needed a dresser to go under it. So he built it. Then the headboard bed and chest of drawers.

A row of little shelves for what-nots runs up on each side of the huge built-in mirror. A little bench matches the dresser. Instead of sliding doors for books like most headboard beds, (he gave her her choice), Mr. Adair made huge drawers that pull out for storing linens.

The lovely colors of the white pine in the bedroom suite shows through the shellac and varnish.

This past spring, Mr. Adair made a cabinet for Mrs. Adair's portable sewing machine. It looks like it was made for the machine . . . it fits and opens so nicely. Handles on the furniture are clear glass. Mr. Adair put the bed and chest together without nails—just screws and glue.

"There's prettier bedroom suites, some a lot nicer, but I'm so proud of it because my husband made it!" Mrs. Adair explained. She said the sewing cabinet cost them $35, just for materials and the bedroom suite cost "about the same price you'd pay at the store".

Mr. Adair isn't saving money when he builds the furniture, but he has a nice hobby. "He likes to stay busy," Mrs. Adair said, "He can't stand to not be doing something."

Builds Phone Stand
The telephone table, which matches the white pine bedroom suite, was also made by Mr. Adair. It has two shelves for magazines under it.

Although the kitchen cabinets are not unusual from any other kitchen cabinets, they are unique in that Mr. Adair made them with just a saw and hammer. (He used a power saw on the bedroom suite.)

Another piece of furniture in the Adair household, that both are proud of, is an old round-topped dining table. The table belonged to Mrs. Adair's mother and is about 60 years old. "The chairs that came with it, have long since been worn out," Mrs. Adair remarked.

The only closet in the house is bigger than most bedrooms. It is centered between the two bedrooms and can be entered from either direction. It is definitely a walk-in closet.

An ideal situation is the two bedrooms on the south for cool summer breezes at night.

Has Many Hobbies
Mrs. Adair has several hobbies that require work with her hands like her husband's furniture-making hobby. She sews for her granddaughter of Plainview (she's James Adair's daughter); she does ceramic painting; she quilts; she makes purses and bags; smocks, throw pillows; and on and on. She even crochets beautifully and enjoys rock collecting.

What an unusual couple to be so talented with their hands! Their house furnishings are made up of both things he has made and she has made.

Even the yard outside—which covers five lots—is a reflection of the care and work the Adairs have put into it. It has a neat, tended-to look.

The Adair home is far from being elaborate or having the perfect floor-plan, however it is unique in its furnishings and for the fact that its owners built it by themselves—even to putting in the beautiful hardwood floors.

would rather have my home home than in Hart!

There are lots of reasons why I am satisfied with this small town. We choose to raise our children in a small town. I like to work with a church the size we have, also the size of school we have is easy to work with,
and then the civic organizations are always a lot of fun along with the work.

And tell me, please, where would you find nicer people?
I have lived in Hart, 18 years, and I have some friends here that no amount of money could buy.
No matter what kind of trouble you have, someone is willing to help, just a hand shake, pat on the back, or a wink of the eye can help so very much. For isn't it the little things in life that makes Life worth living?

Speaking of friends, three very dear ones accompanied me to El Paso. We brought home some good ideas for our school, we also had a wonderful time, one of the best I have ever had. I thought I knew and liked those girls, but now I know them better and like them more.

So at this time of the year I am Thankful for my Friends.
I am Thankful for our Churches and Pastors, I think they are are wonderful men doing big and wonderful jobs.

I am Thankful for the school teachers, I think for the first time in several years we have a school staff that is interested in teaching our children what they should know. And I take my hat off to Mr. Brister at the fine job he has done with the Jr. Hi. football boys. He taught them much more than English and football.
It warmed my heart to see a bunch of boys act like men instead of "rowdy boys" when they go into a cafe to eat.

Several years from now I hope I can look back and feel I had a small part in the growing of Hart.

D. Armstrongs Honored With Farewell Party

Hart Methodist Church gave a going-away party for Mr. and Mrs.
Deward Armstrong and family, who are moving to Lovington, NM.
Armstrong is employed by the Keith Gas Co.

The church presented the Armstrongs with a white Queen Elizabeth bedspread. They also received a set of Melmac-ware from the J. P. Armstrong and the Robert Brooks families.

Refreshments were served to church members and guests.

This & That
BY MYRT LOMAN

Have you seen the pretty things Mrs. John McLain has painted from her garden? Hear a great number of the articles are gourds painted to represent other vegetables and fruit.

She and John are very artistic-minded. For instance, they will buy a piece of antique furniture and spend months re-decorating it. They have some beautiful furniture which has taken months to finish. If I can't do a job in a few minutes, I just don't have the time.

Have never been able to figure why The Master, gave me no talents, nor looks. Some people are so fortunate as to possess both.

John and Jewell McLain are a wonderful couple, and they enjoy the same hobbies.

Have often heard the saying,
the reason some people move is,
the rent is due.

Claude and Irene Cox really have started a moving project in Hart.

Cox sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Wamon Foster and then bought them a new house. The Fosters will move in the house formerly occupied and owned by Claude Cox. The Homer Winnetts will move in the house owned by D. Myrick and now occupied by Fosters, and then, Pappy and I will move where the Winnetts now live. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sargent will move where we now live.
Some moving, eh?

Hear the wedding bells will soon be ringing for Jimmie Ray Davis. Think the new bride is an Olton young lady.

A smile costs nothing, but creates much. It happens in a flash and the memory sometimes lasts forever. It cannot be bought, borrowed or stolen, but it is something that is no earthly good to anyone until it is given away.

So, if in your hurry and rush, you meet someone who is too weary to give you a smile, leave one of yours. For no one needs a smile quiet so much as he who has none to give.
