MURCHISON WILL HEAD FAIR ASSN. FOR COMING YEAR

John S. Rike Elected Vice-President and A. M. Turner, Sec'y

Directors of the Central West Texas Fair Association in their first business meeting of the year this week re-elected Walter Murchison as president of the association, named John S. Rike as vice-president and A. M. Turner as secretary-treasurer in the annual election of officers.

Plans discussed for the 1938 Fair included a decision to completely revise the premium list in the agricultural and livestock departments. For the first time this year's score card in these divisions will be confined solely to agricultural products generally raised in this section, while the livestock department will stress animal classes adapted to this section.

The premium list and catalog will be printed and mailed to exhibitors early in the summer, in order to allow ample time for preparation of all exhibits.

Eight counties are embraced in the territory served by the association, including Haskell, Jones, Knox, Shackelford, King, Dickens, Kent and Stonewall. Loans are made on livestock and for crop production, Mr. Hudson states.

Invitation Tournament Will Be Held Here Thursday March 12th

Several hundred High School athletes from a number of surrounding towns and cities will compete in the various events of the fourth annual Invitation Track and Field Meet to be held here March 10th, according to replies that have been received to date by Principal George V. Wimbish, director of the meet.

Attendance this year is expected to exceed any previous meet due to the fact that finals in all events will be held at night, under floodlights of the Indian football field. Preliminaries will begin at 2:00 Thursday afternoon, and the night schedule will be started at 7:30.

Farm Work Sheets Must Be Executed Within Ten Days

Final call for signing-up of 1938 Work Sheets by approximately two hundred Haskell county farmers who have failed to qualify for benefits under the 1938 farm program, was issued this week from the county agent's office.

It is pointed out that farmers who do not sign Work Sheets can not enter the 1938 program nor share in subsidy benefits provided by terms of the farm bill.

Only ten days remain in which to complete the sign-up in Haskell county, and further delay of the part of farmers who have failed to comply in this measure may deprive them of possible future compliance benefits.

To date approximately 2,100 Haskell county farmers have executed Work Sheets, it was announced.

Will Become Effective If Approved by Two-Thirds of Farmers

Date for a producers referendum on the cotton marketing quota under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 has been set for Saturday, March 12th, it was announced today from the office of County Agent B. W. Chesser.

Balloting places are to be designated this week by the County Committeemen. For voting purposes, the county will be divided into approximately ten districts in order to conveniently accommodate farmers in all sections of the county.

All persons who participated in the production of the 1937 cotton crop, whether as individual farmers, landowner or tenant farmer, will be eligible to vote in the referendum. The cotton marketing provision of the 1938 AAA program will become effective if two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum approve the quota.

Announcement of the designated voting places will be made as soon as they are selected, together with appointment of farmers in each voting box who will have charge of the balloting, all of which will be under the supervision of the County Committeemen. More detailed information concerning the referendum will be available by the first of next week, and producers should contact the committeemen in their community for any further information desired.

County committeemen are V. F. Bunkley, Stamford; M. A. Bumpass, O'Brien; and W. J. Grimsley, Weinert.

Contracts covering the three projects will be awarded soon, and work will be started as soon as cold weather is definitely past, highway officials stated.

Why Can't We Have More Activities?

You wonder it, and probably you voice it. And some people (not you, of course) go so far as to criticize our school, and say that the school activities don't even try to have a wide-awake system that they're "old fogey"—that they don't want us to do anything but study.

Honest investigation may reveal, however, that circumstances make our situation just as it is. Let us consider some of the questions that arise—and their answers.

Why can't we have a period every day for the students to sing? Because the number of teachers on our faculty is limited and we must have eight regular class periods each day (more than most schools have) in order to work in all the class periods and study halls of the day as equally as possible among them. To have a period of singing every day would require that we omit some regular class period every day, or have a longer day—neither of which would be satisfactory.

Why can't we have a boys' glee club and a girls' choral club? Because we don't have a public school music teacher and class periods for them. As it is, there is no time to have them except after school, and school isn't out until four o'clock; at that time (or before) many students leave on buses and other athletic activities.

Why can't we have more dramatics, so that more of the students could have a chance to develop themselves in dramatic art? Because we do not have as a regular member of the faculty, a speech arts teacher to teach it in the classroom, free of charge to the student and to devote full time to it.

Why can't we have a school newspaper of our own as many schools do, instead of just a section in the Free Press? Because we do not have a teacher of journalism, with regular classes in journalism to do the work in class periods, and to solicit advertising to finance it.

Why can't we have a school annual? Because it would require a vast amount of work, and would place a heavy financial burden on its sponsor and staff considering the heavy duties that each teacher has now, there is no one who could assume that added responsibility.

Why can't we have school-sponsored dances? It is a matter for the citizenship, or the parents of the community, to determine.

Why can't we have more clubs, so that every student could belong to one kind or another, if he wanted to? Because every teacher is already sponsoring as much extra as there is time and strength for, and also because there is not an extra period in the day when these clubs could meet.

These are some of the most frequent questions, and we believe our answers are correct. There is another thing that some people wonder about, too. Why can't the school do more for the social life of the students? Let's check the activities of our teachers and see if any one could do it.

Mr. Breedlove, besides his business of superintending four separate units, teaches two regular classes daily, which is more than is usually expected of a superintendent in a system this size.

Mr. Wimbish besides his good-sized daily job of checking absence, tracing truancy, and maintaining good conduct among about three hundred, teaches three classes and keeps one study hall. In addition he helps sponsor the seniors, is a scoutmaster, plans the assembly programs and keeps check on the library.

Mr. Mason has a full teaching schedule, helps sponsor a class, and averages two to three hours of coaching. After school hours, many of his evenings are devoted to matched games.

Mr. Banks has one class more than the regular teaching load, has extra laboratory work, helps sponsor a class, and coaches girls' volleyball.

Mr. McCollum has one class more than the regular teaching load, helps sponsor a class, and coaches tennis.

Mr. Vannoy, under the special regulations that all agriculture teachers are under, teaches his full quota, does field work, and sponsors the F. F. A. and all its various activities.

Mrs. Meyer is on constant duty all day, without the one "off period" or "conference period", that most other teachers have. In addition, she sponsors the pep squad, the Sophomore class and the Home Economics club. Mrs. Wimbish teaches the average number of classes, keeps an overflow study hall, and sponsors the Senior class (a very taxing duty) and the Gypsy Rambler club. She also holds an executive office in the P. T. A.

Miss Vick has an average teaching load, keeps an overflow study hall, sponsors the Warwhoop (which requires many extra hours) sponsors the Junior class and helps sponsor the Gypsy Rambler club.

Miss Riley has a regular teaching schedule, sponsors the Freshman class and coaches debate. She also has three English clubs in connection with her English classes, keeps a Spanish club going when she can, and serves as secretary of the P. T. A.

None of them would have time in the day to do very much more. Now one more question: Why can't we have more teachers, providing the possibility of a shorter schedule for the day, and extra time for the activities we'd like to have?

You answer this one yourself. You know the answer don't you? If not let us call your attention to one more fact: An official statement recently appeared in a Texas daily newspaper which showed the salary scale of teachers over Texas. A representative number of towns over the state were selected at random, perhaps twenty or thirty (including Haskell) and figures were given to show the average yearly salary of teachers in each town. Haskell was next to the lowest on the list!

If our present teachers overloaded as they are, receive only a minimum salary, it would seem rather impossible to employ any more.

So if you are tempted to criticize our school because it doesn't afford enough student-interest, first ask your father if he has been able to keep his school taxes paid up these past few years. And even if he has and it's others that haven't—why criticize our school? After all, it's a pretty good school, all things considered.

Abuse of Privileges

A privilege which is commonly abused is that of using the library. For two reasons, this is especially bad. The first is that those who go to the library attract the attention of, or else bother, a large number of students in the study hall, who need the study. The other reason is that by spending too much time going to and from the library, and at the library, the students who are doing it lose valuable study time. Frequently, those who most abuse this privilege are ones who most need the time wasted. Some make as many as four or five, or even more, trips to the library in our forty-five minute period. It has been found by checking on it, that the same ones are the offenders day after day.

Also frequently abused is another privilege—that of speaking with permission. This privilege is abused in several ways. One is by speaking unnecessarily loud; another is by talking too long, or about something other than a lesson. This sometimes leads the teachers to refuse permission to speak when it is requested, and works a hardship on all of the pupils. For example, several teachers will grant permission to speak for just five minutes after the period begins.

Students should remember that these, and many others, are privileges; and they should not abuse them. They could be taken away, though this would be unfair to the student in general—those who do not abuse privileges.

Annual Track Meet Set For March 10th
 Haskell High School's annual invitation track meet will begin this year on March 10. The affair will take place on the Haskell football field with the preliminaries beginning at 2:00 p. m. Thursday. The finals will be run under the flood lights at 7:30 that night.

All first and second place winners will receive medals as well as first and second high point men. The loving cup trophy will go to the high point team. The Haskell team is not competing.

The invitations have been mailed and the addresses contain a few of our football rivals such as Stamford, Anson, Crowell, Rule, Aspermont, Hamlin, Roby, Albany and Throckmorton; and a few of our basketball competition such as Weimert, Sunset, Munday and Mattson, as well as numerous other teams from towns that have never been represented here before. This is going to be our biggest and best year for track and our team is in perfect condition. We expect to have more than one first and second place winners on our list.

The Destroyer

Destroying property seems to be "right up the alley" of some of Haskell's citizens. A while back something was destroyed at the school house and nothing much was said about it. This time it concerns not only the pleasure of high school students but the people of the town as well.

After the recent rains someone took it upon himself to tear up the tennis courts. To do this he took his automobile and with plenty of "spinning the wheel" he really cut "di-dos" on the courts, digging some of the ruts about three and four inches deep and scattering the dirt all around. Thanks to this person, we had plenty of work and worry restoring the destroyed.

Mr. Wimbish worked hard getting it back into shape, so lets keep it that way.

Just a hint to the wise—you better not be caught destroying the tennis courts.

Student Friendship

Many students go through high school with just one special chum. This may have some advantages but it has more disadvantages. You may think that one chum is best; but when you finish school, you will decide differently. Suppose your main pal should change schools. Then there you are without a chum. You feel lost and in the way of others and their chums. Be friends and chums with every member of the class. Then when one leaves, the rest are left to be your friends.

When you leave high school and go to college, your main chum might not go; then you go by yourself. If all the class is your chum you have a bigger chance to have one of your chums go to the same college with you.

Student Dishonesty

In any school you can find student dishonesty in one form or the other; however, the most common is cheating on exams. The students do not seem to realize what they are doing. They are really compromising with evil and degrading their character—something that, if kept in practice, will ruin anyone. It will cause self-distrust—a great hindrance to success.

Students, if you make high grades by dishonesty, it would be much better to barely pass or even fail rather than to do an injustice to yourself. We should all be able to say after finishing high school or college that we have worked honestly. After all, what have you gained if you cheat your way through school? When you go out into life if you can't depend on your own ability to do things, what will you rely upon then? How can you make up for what you missed in school that is so necessary for your success—that thing called honesty? Do you intend to cheat your way through life? If so you will be sure to face a grave problem—one that is hard to solve. Students who have been dishonest in their work should take this as a warning and try to overcome this great obstacle of life. Cheating on exam is considered as a small thing, but things of this sort will develop into greater dishonesty.

Tennis Practice To Begin Soon

Several boys reported for tennis last week, and as soon as the court can be put into shape practice will begin.

Those reporting for senior tennis were: Bob McAnulty, Junior Jenkins, Paul Kuenstler, and Vernon Cook.

Apropos To Nothing

Connie Jo Norton and Madge Reese take the cake for bright remarks. A conversation that took place between the two during the debate program: "I don't see what those girls are standing up about." "You know I was wondering about that too." Then there was another Freshman who said that ever so often Martelle would stand up and scratch herself.

Give Geneva Thompson "Josephine" and you have an inseparable pair. A "Big Apple" certainly does keep old Mr. Gloom away. Among the exponents of rhythmic walking Kinzie Tucker is a leader—and does she lead!

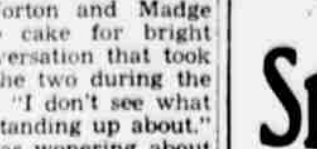

If we but had an enois-i-scope, a few daggers might be seen protruding their ethereal way between J. J. and F. McK. Give J. a break F.

It is believed by some that Bonnie Dell must have had experience to act her part so well in "The Wrong Number." Please be assured to the contrary.

From now on the agriculture boys will know better than to laugh and cough at the wrong time (if you get what is meant).

Gold medal today goes to Mr. Wimbish for giving the debators a break, and putting them before an audience. (Continued on Page Four)

Eleven Persons Is Daily Toll of Tuberculosis

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that slightly more than eleven Texans die each day from tuberculosis. In other words, over four thousand persons died of this disease last year.

In those days of economy, when the seeds of disease are being sown in the bodies of undernourished children, the prevention of tuberculosis is more necessary than ever. Tuberculosis formerly held first place as a cause of death; it now ranks third in Texas, while for the country as a whole it ranks seventh. Pneumonia was the only communicable disease that caused more deaths last year than did tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis has been known for centuries and constant search for a specific cure has been the goal of doctors for many years. It goes with it. Winton can sing a song about romance. Clara Sue is left handed and can write with her toes. Milam can talk to a girl without blushing.

Anna Belle likes tomatoes but will take pie instead. J. B. won't kiss a girl under a light but will if she is pretty. Mattie thinks Mr. Perrin is cute. Still you can give her Gable. O Leah likes to fight but he'll take it over the radio instead. Margaret likes to go riding only with one person.

Alton can't stand love stories but loves it in real life. Bulah Mae likes candy only when someone gives it to her. Ben enjoys dancing the Big Apple. Mildred detests oranges because they have to be peeled. Edward finds pleasure in going bare-footed and eating ice cream cones. Clara hates spike heels for they make her too tall.

The Warwhoop— Debate Season Begins

The debate season in Haskell High School was officially opened last Thursday in the assembly program when the boys' debate teams of Haskell and Stamford engaged in a practice debate.

The question for debate this year is a very timely subject, and one which has caused much discussion in the past few months. The question is: "Resolved, that the legislature of the state of Texas should be a one-house body."

The students enjoyed this first debate very much, although they did not seem to agree on which side won.

After the debate in the assembly, the girls' team of Haskell and Stamford debated each other.

Monday morning the return debate took place before the Stamford High School assembly. This Saturday our debaters will go to Abilene to enter in the Abilene Debate Tournament.

Training Regulations

"Smoking is over and no more being out late at night". These are every coaches orders at the beginning of the season. When in training every person should go strictly by the rules. There is a moral as well as a physical meaning to this statement.

Drinking, smoking and late hours never mix physically with anyone and even less with athletics. They break down one's wind and injure the tissues of his working muscles. If a person is not in his best condition how can he expect to play his best on the field. Every person on a squad should be removed if he didn't go entirely by training regulations and give direct attention to their personal conduct.

This smoking and drinking also effects the teams moral standard. If two or three of the teams starting lineup indulged themselves in such activities then other members of the squad will also take up the practice and then your team is gone. No squad can expect to win if he is not in fighting trim.

This example may well apply to our own high school football team. Our moral standard is not nearly as high as our neighbors and it is mainly because our boys don't observe the training rules. If we could only get our boys one hundred percent to obey the coach, then the district would again be ours.

It's a Great Moment For An Epigram, Hitler

Some years back there was a play running on Broadway and then touring the smaller cities of the United States. It had a catchy line at the end of the first act, a line that became the play's title and became also a well-known by-phrase throughout the country.

Three men in this play, a famous baritone, a judge and a speaky proprietor, become the impromptu guardians for the night of a lovely, unspoiled young woman, whose escort has left in a huff, and the baritone offers her sleeping quarters in his apartment. As the girl ascends the stairs, accepting the offer, the three men look at each other. The judge and the bartender turn accusingly to the baritone and ask in one voice:

"What are your intentions?"
Herr Hitler has finished the first act of his sudden drama of taking over Austria. A sudden coup backed by a display of armed force at the border, put him in control of the Austrian cabinet. From that position he moved on to seek dominance of the military, and of Austria's fatherland "Front," the only legal political organization since 1934.

Already his influence has started an anti-Semitic campaign which will result in the persecution of thousands of Jews, both native of Austria and those who fled there to escape the German pogrom.

Haskell County . . . . . History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

20 Years Ago—March 2, 1918

The Magazine Club on February 22, 1918, formally opened their new Public Library building to the public. Appropriate exercises marked the opening.

A rabbit drive was staged north of town Tuesday in which an estimated 250 rabbits were killed.

A vulcanizing plant was opened in the Texas Garage this week.

It has been announced from Washington that airplane mail service between New York and Washington will be inaugurated April 15th.

The last of Haskell county's quota of soldiers to be furnished in the first draft left Sunday afternoon for Camp Travis.

The party was composed of Abbot Hutchins, Frank Silhan, Alfred J. Speck, Emil Walsch, Thomas A. Lee, Dumas Y. Ray, Alex C. Watson and Ira M. Roberts.

H. Hutchinson of this city has purchased the Haskell Rubber Company from W. H. Starr, and destined to failure.

Already Austria is being wheeled into the lineup of the Rome-Italy axis, ready to take her place in the mid-European totalitarian team.

It is considered a foregone conclusion that Austria will now become a "vassal state" of Germany, for until Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg capitulated to the Nazis, Austria had been independent of foreign domination since 976 A. D.—almost 1,000 years.

Now England and France turn to Germany and with the utmost seriousness inquire: "What are your intentions?"

And it all comes back, just as clearly! The baritone in the play turned to the bartender and the judge with a whole-hearted, enthusiastic smirk, and replied:

"Strictly dishonorable."
The play was a farce. You can write your own curtain lines for Herr Hitler.

Rule of Learning

It isn't unusual for lecturers and educators to disagree on practically any given subject, but when two authorities like Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam and Robert Maynard Hutchins take opposite stands on the subject of vocational training, it is any wonder the average student may get a little confused?

President Hutchins of Chicago University, addressing the Inland Daily Press convention in Chicago, declared: "The first responsibility of the college is to help the student understand the traditional wisdom of the race. It should not attempt to prepare people for specific jobs." He added that any course to be taught in colleges should be fundamental and a subject that can be taught.

On the other hand, Dr. Wiggam, lecturer and author of several modern "behavior" books, including "Exploring Your Mind," was lavish in a recent lecture, with praise of vocational guidance not only in college but in high school. He declared too many students found their abilities by accident, or never found them at all. He even favored courses teaching the technique of applying for a job.

It may be possible that both of the learned gentlemen are laying down hard and fast rules where no such rules can be applied. Vocational guidance could fit one student and be lost on another, whereas a general education might develop one youngster tremendously and leave his classmate untouched.

Either rule is like saying all college boys should run the quarter-mile because they all have two legs apiece. Humans don't fit in arbitrary patterns.

will have charge of the vulcanizing and garage business formerly operated by Mr. Starr.

J. F. Posey and J. F. Kennedy left for Fort Worth Saturday, returning overland Tuesday with three new Chevrolets bought by Mr. Kennedy, the local dealer.

Ross Payne, who in the training camp at San Pedro, Calif., writes Haskell relatives that he has been promoted to Corporal.

The campaign to enroll school boys and girls of the county into the volunteer Red Cross work has resulted in more than 2,000 children taking up the work.

Measles Patients Should Be Given Physician's Aid

From reported reaching the Texas State Department of Health it seems as though measles are quite prevalent throughout the State. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, Austin, has the following to say in regard to this disease.

"Many persons still insist that measles are nothing serious and that children should get them early and get it over with. However, measles are a very widespread, highly contagious disease and over one hundred children in Texas die of them each year. Children generally have active disease seven to 14 days after contact with a person ill with measles. Children must be excluded from school for a period of 21 days from onset.

"One never knows at the beginning how serious the attack will be, so a physician should be called when measles is suspected. Most deaths from this disease occur in children under five years of age. If you have a baby or very young child, your first consideration must be to keep him out of houses where measles exist.

Prevent him from playing with children who, you think, may have the disease.
"If your child shows signs of measles, running nose, sneezing, eyes red and watery, put him to bed at once. While waiting for the doctor see that the child is kept warm. The room should be well ventilated, but glare and draughts of milk, soup and cereal. Keep him in bed until the doctor permits him to be up. When recovering from measles he is less able to withstand other diseases. The doctor should see the child two or three times in a year following recovery to guard against bad after effects."

What Happens To Raindrop? Flood Area Study May Tell

What happens to a raindrop? How much of it runs into streams? How much is absorbed by vegetation? How much evaporates? How much soil does it wash away?

In about 24 counties in the Muskingum Valley in Ohio more than 500 men and women are seeking answers to the above questions. If they can learn what happens to one raindrop, they will know what happens to trillions and trillions of others. From the information it is hoped a way will be found to stop soil erosion and floods.

In January, 1937, floods drove about 800,000 persons from their homes and did damage estimated at around $400,000,000. This started the program, now a WPA project, with Leonard B. Corwin, manager of the United States Conservation Service, in charge.

In many places stream-gauging stations have been built. At regular intervals men in a cable car swinging over a stream visit these, take the velocity of the stream, record water stages and other information useful in the study of floods and soil erosion.

While these men are busy, other groups at different posts take half-hour checks on wind velocity and directions from a 25-foot tower, temperature and humidity readings, and similar data. While this is going on, rain gauges are catching any water that may be falling from the sky these bucket-like machines being fitted to keep a continuous record.

All this material—and to date there have been more than 10,000,000 observations made—is dispatched to different offices where it is checked and re-checked to avoid errors.

Workers Prove Successful
"Was it difficult to obtain men and women off the WPA rolls to do this technical work?" is a question often asked.

"There were many scoffers before the project started," Manager Corwin said. "But the fact is," he continues, "that we have been doing just that."

CCC men are aiding the WPA workers and with about 50 farmers co-operating, anti-erosion tillage methods are being used for comparison with the usual methods.

In another section, about 50 plots of ground, ranging from one-hundredth of an acre to three acres—all in one 250-acre tract—provide a laboratory. Here different tillage methods and types of crops are used in the experiments and the plots are diked so that all water and silt that runs off may be studied and measured. Even melted snow is measured.

Other WPA workers keep busy scanning old newspapers, journals, diaries, and local histories hunting information on early floods and anything about erosion. Then, there are men and women collecting facts about the relationship between rock structure, slopes, and soil and how these influence soil erosion and run-off. In the future it is hoped that men can use this information to know where and how to erect dams, till the land and yet be safe from high water or depleted land.

Prompt results from advertising are reported from Prince Albert, Canada, when William Kernaghan went to the local newspaper to insert an ad for his dog, which had been missing a week. As he left the newspaper office he found the dog awaiting him outside.

Oil Tests—

ranch south of Haskell, about the center of the west line of the McCollum survey. The hole will be spudded within a few days, it was reported. Forest Corporation controls a large acreage in that section and previously have put down tests to the east in attempting to pick up shallow production.

On one of the largest lease blocks in the county, 13,000 acres reported assembled for Amerada, extending east and north from Rose schoolhouse, title work is due to be started within the next 10 days. Pending examination and perfection of titles, no intimation of exploration contemplated on the large tract could be secured.

Third drilling test for the county due within 60 or 90 days according to reports, will be on a tract of approximately 2,000 acres located for C. B. Lynch, oil operator of Tulsa, Okla. Acreage in the block includes a large part of Scott's ranch, 12 miles east of Haskell and location of the well will be near the southwest corner of the ranch property.

Also in that section, an acreage block embracing portions of the Cuddy and Chas. Kleiner ranch holdings east of Haskell is due for a drilling test.

In the southwest part of the county, E. K. Sampley and associates have taken a block containing approximately 5,000 acres under drilling contract. The acreage extends west and south of the town of Sagerton.

Forest Development Corporation's test now drilling on the Hendrick Ranch just outside the southeast corner of the county is still encountering troublesome gas pressure, according to reports Wednesday. Below 1700 feet to date, operators are continuing through gas and slight oil showings in an attempt to pick up paying production at a greater depth.

Nearby test of the Superior Oil Corporation, Tulsa, Okla., No. 1 Hendrick in subdivision 9, Rodriguez survey had reached the 3100 foot horizon Wednesday but drillers would not indicate status of the test.

Tire Trouble Spoils Band's Abilene Trip

Members of the Haskell Municipal Band, invited to play yesterday afternoon and night at the West Texas Boys Livestock Show and World's Championship Rodeo at Abilene, were delayed by car trouble en route to Abilene, and arrived in that city too late to have a part on the afternoon's program.

A succession of "blow-outs" on tires of one of the cars carrying a group of band members was the principal cause of delay, Director Joe Meacham stated.

Boy Scouts Render A Sterling Service Household Hints

As an organization the Boy Scouts during the World War rendered sterling service to the government. They secured subscriptions to $278,744,650 for Liberty Bonds and sold saving stamps to the amount of $42,751,000. The government made an appeal for peach seeds to be used in the making of gas masks and the Scouts collected 108 carloads. They distributed 30,000,000 pieces of literature and did a vast amount of related work that released their elders for other tasks. The rich and the poor are precisely on the same footing and snobishness is unknown. Each Scout promises to do at least one good turn every day. The whole aim of the movement is to develop its members into vigorous, chivalric, right living men and loyal citizens of the country.

A corporation judge in Brooklyn has charge of the juvenile offenders and he has asked every boy brought before him if he was a Boy Scout, and of the more than 7,000 such offenders he has never found one Scout. Such an organization deserves our heartfelt support.

Open Letter To Motorists Who Drive Too Fast

The following letter published in the Abilene Morning News of February 5, could be applicable to any town and should be a good thought for anyone who drives an automobile or other motor vehicle. The name of the writer was withheld but it should have its influence upon the party who thinks that everybody should sacrifice every right for his personal convenience. The letter runs:

"I saw you barely miss a little boy on a tricycle this afternoon and heard you yell, 'Get the hell out of the way! Don't you know any better than to ride in the street?' He didn't answer because he hasn't learned to talk yet. So I'm going to answer for him.

No the little boy doesn't know any better than to ride his tricycle in the street, but little boys don't always heed warnings. Some adults don't, especially traffic warnings; for example the one limiting the speed of automobiles in city streets.

I'm going to tell you something about that little boy: He has a mother who endured considerable inconvenience, anxiety, and suffering to bring him into the world. He has a father who has worked hard and made many sacrifices to make him healthy and happy. The supreme purpose of their lives is to have their little boy grow up to be a useful and prosperous man.

Now stop a minute and think, I know your minutes are valuable and I know it will be hard for you to think. But try. If you should kill a child, how would you feel facing its parents. What excuse could you give them for having robbed them of their dearest possession? More important: What excuse could you possibly offer Him whose Kingdom is made up of little children?

Children, my hasty friend, were here long before you or your automobile were ever thought of. All the automobiles on earth are not worth the life of one little boy on a tricycle. Any competent garage mechanic can put a car together, however badly it's smashed, but nobody on earth can put a child together once its life has been crushed out. We don't know what the little boy may some day do. But we know what you are, and its important. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy on the street.
