

All Around The Town

By Mary Ann Sarchet

In this part of Texas, we have a lot for which to be thankful at this special season of the year.

We have had enough rainfall to make the countryside come alive with green once more before the winter sets in, but we have been spared the floods which have ravaged the southern part of our state.

Even though the farmers have had their problems with smut and drought during the growing season, the white gold which is now hastily being gathered seems to be yielding enough lint to help make up for it. The blazing heat we endured a few months ago was not to the liking of corn and maize crops, but apparently was just what the cotton needed.

Now, as we gather with families and loved ones to express our thankfulness for all our blessings, there aren't many who can't find things for which to express gratitude.

We take this opportunity to wish health and happiness to each of those we hold dear.

Newspaper is Early This Week

The Briscoe County News was printed early this week, in cooperation with the employees of Blanco Offset where the paper is printed. It is necessary for them to move their Thursday newspapers earlier in the week in order to be able to enjoy Thanksgiving at home with their families. For the Thursday papers to have a printing slot, the other papers have to move up also.

This also makes it possible for our readers to receive their newspapers before the holiday.

Names Omitted From Honor Roll

The names of Butler Otis, Taylor Griffin and Lindsey Weaks were inadvertently omitted from the honor roll for the second six weeks.

Butler is a second grader, Taylor is a sophomore, and Lindsey is a senior in the Silverton Schools.

VOLUME 90 NUMBER 48

Senator Hutchison Tells Briscoe County Leaders Future Is Brighter

Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison brought Briscoe County leaders up to date on the extraordinary steps Congress took to address the agriculture crisis this year during her town hall meeting in Silverton.

"The final 1999 Agriculture Appropriations Bill contained significant disaster relief for farmers and ranchers left high and dry by the drought. The bill was good for Texas, and provides drought assistance for the loss of crops and livestock losses," the Senator said. "At the same time we are working to provide significant tax relief for agriculture producers."

The agriculture appropriations package included:

*$2.25 billion in total funding to address crop and feed losses

*$175 million for livestock feed assistance

The bill also includes $1.65 billion in aid for loss of markets. That assistance will come in the form of one-time payments equal to 29 percent of a farmer's Agricultural Marketing Transition Act payments under the 1996 Farm Bill. It is available for cotton, wheat, corn, barley, oats, sorghum and rice.

"Earlier this summer I also successfully pressed Secretary Glickman to ease the rule for emergency grazing on Conservation Reserve Program land, and 94 counties were released for haying and grazing, Briscoe County," she said.

"But these were emergency measures. The future of the American farmer lies with expanding overseas markets and continued tax relief," the Senator said. "Lowering your taxes is critical. In the past two years we have begun to ease the tax burden that is squeezing America's farm families."

"We made income averaging for farmers permanent, a measure which I co-sponsored. We expanded the health insurance deduction to 100 percent for the self-insured and accelerated the phase-in of the $1 million death-tax exemption," she said.

"We need more international agreements that will make other countries lower the barriers that keep our agricultural products out," she said. "We also need to stop using agriculture as a weapon in international diplomacy. Except in the most extreme cases, imposing sanctions on another country that includes restrictions on agriculture hurts the United States more than the other country.

"We have to do much more to give our farmers better access to the overseas markets that represent a huge potential demand for high quality farm products," she said.

Good Group Attends Special Worship Service

The annual Thanksgiving service was a huge success! All the churches came together at the Showbarn to give God glory for all the blessings we enjoy in our nation and in our own little town of Silverton.

All the local preachers commented how blessed we are to live in a town such as Silverton. The new Church of Christ preacher, Hal Rogers, brought a wonderful Thanksgiving message. The new Assembly of God preacher, David Beebe, and his wife, Anita, got acquainted with our town by performing a beautiful duet. A heart-rending testimony of God's goodness was given by Ed Norris, who has suffered several setbacks in the last few years.

Others on the program completed a delightful program with each part they played.

Approximately 200 people stayed for the bountiful supply of finger foods and much visiting amongst the Christian community.

The Senior Citizens luncheon hosted by the Silverton Church of Christ was a delightful occasion. The tables were so festive with Thanksgiving decorations. After lunch, Dwain Reynolds presided over the business meeting. Betty Olive gave the attendance count as 52. Pauline Chitty read the minutes. Shirley Reynolds, the treasurer, was under the weather, so Dwain read her report. Representing the Friendship Quilters, Nina Martin asked permission for the quilters to brighten up the front parlor. A benefactor has donated a table and some matching couches and chairs. Permission was given. If anyone has donated furniture in the past and would like to have it back, contact Dwain Reynolds.

Bro. Hal Rogers of the Silverton Church of Christ gave a talk. Theda Rowell read inspiring poems. J. D. Nance and J. D. McGavock were to sing, but something happened to that deal.

Nina Martin visited Violet Thomas last Monday. Violet's cousins, Lottie Garrison, her sister, Icy Bornschin from Anchorage, Alaska and Icy's daughter, Georgeana, from Redding, California has been to see Violet the 13th. Violet is expecting her children for the holidays. Her grandchildren call her Garny. James

Safe Handling For Deer Meat

Pammie Millican

County Extension Agent

Once you've bagged that big buck, do you know what to do with it? Experts say the meat is lean and tasty if you properly care for the deer after you make the kill.

Extension wildlife specialist Dr. Don Steinbach says hunters have both a legal and ethical responsibility to take care of the game that they harvest. They should immediately tag the animal and take care of the meat.

Steinbach says after the animal is gutted, you can leave the carcass intact if the weather is below 40 degrees. That usually is not the case in Texas. So he recommends skinning and quartering the animal right away. Many hunters take the meat to a processor, but Steinbach says you can process the meat at home easily with normal kitchen tools. You take the muscles off the hams and use an electric knife to slice steaks from the backstrap. Deer meat has no marbling like beef, so it dries out quickly.

Steinbach suggests slicing the meat to a half-inch thickness and cooking it quickly to lock in the juices. He says well-wrapped deer meat will keep up to a year in the freezer.

Century of Progress Study Club has announced plans to sponsor the Christmas Greeting Page again this year. They are asking those who would like to extend their Christmas greetings to their friends and relatives through the page in the Briscoe County News to donate the amount they would have spent sending Christmas cards locally.

The greeting appears in the newspaper's Christmas edition, along with the explanation that the money they would have spent mailing cards had been donated to benefit the Silverton Volunteer Fire and Ambulance Services and the Silverton Public Library.

Members of the sponsoring organization are Polly Cagle, Faye Rampley, Annell Davis, Loretha Rhoderick, Junis Hutsell, Norma Vaughan and Jackie Mercer.

Hazardous Waste Disposal Improves Texas Environment

Pammie Millican
County Extension Agent
A statewide hazardous waste disposal program initiated seven years ago is proving to be a huge success. Almost 10 million pounds of chemicals, tires and batteries have been collected. You've probably seen the notices in your local media about periodic hazardous waste disposal days. Until the state implemented the free cleanup program, Texans had to either bury those materials or pay a high price to have them hauled off.

Dr. Cliff Hoelscher with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the disposal is paid for with money generated by a registration fee charged to chemical companies which sell their products in Texas. The first five years, the collections were concentrated in major crop production areas where hazardous waste was more prevalent. In the past two years, they have moved to ranching and less populated areas of the state.

Hoelscher says the hazardous materials are shipped to a waste disposal plant in Arkansas. Oil, Oil filters, batteries, tires and chemical containers are processed and recycled. Emergency disposal days were arranged in South Texas for mid-November to collect hazardous materials damaged by the October floods.

The first name of the Queen of Sheba was Balkis.

The game of backgammon is so called from the Anglo-Saxon words bac gammon, meaning "back game."

Grass skirts were not brought to Hawaii from Samoa until the reign of King Kalakaua, which began in 1874.

The apostle bird is so named because it travels in groups of about 12.

Cotton News

from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Low producer prices for cotton and grain, and a falling Adjusted World Price (AWP) are beginning to create Loan Deficiency Payment/Marketing Loan Gain payment limitation problems for some producers.

The crux of the problem is that producers who reach the $75,000 payment limit may not be able to stay price competitive because they are ineligible for either an LDP or a marketing loan gain from commodities pledged as collateral in the loan.

There appears to be only one way around this problem: the issuance of generic certificates for Step 2 payments that can be redeemed for cotton in the loan, in lieu of cash, at the Step 2 recipient's request.

Cotton redeemed from the loan with certificates would keep producers who are close to their payment limit competitive in the market and would not count against their payment limit.

Cotton redeemed with certificates is not counted against a producer's payment limit while the marketing loan gain from cash redemptions is added to the total counted against the LDP payment limit.

The Secretary of Agriculture has the authority to issue certificates instead of cash for Step 2 payments; however, in order for this to be helpful for cotton he would also have to allow the redemption of loans with certificates.

Currently certificates can only be used to purchase CCC-owned commodities, not commodities held as collateral for loans.

Producers who reach their LDP payment limit could be forced, under current rules, to forfeit any available LDP or have their cotton in the loan become ineligible for redemption at the AWP.

PCG and other cotton industry groups are in the process of asking the Secretary of Agriculture to issue Step 2 certificates to those that request them and to allow certificates to be used to take cotton out of the loan.

Ballots have been mailed to cotton producers and landlords in the Western High Plains Boll Weevil Eradication Zone who will not decide whether or not to mount a concerted effort to rid themselves of the boll weevil.

The Western High Plains Eradication Zone consists of five counties: Andrews, Gaines, Yoakum, and parts of Terry and Lynn. Altogether the zone contains an estimated 800,000 acres of boll weevil infested cotton.

Referendum participants will vote on three separate items: establishment of the WHP zone; establishment of a maximum assessment rate of $6 per land acre-dryland and $12 per land acre-irrigated; and elect a member to the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board of Directors.

Ballots were mailed by the Texas Department of Agriculture around November 18. The mail referendum concludes December 9. Eligible ballots must be postmarked no later than December 9.

All producers and landowners are eligible to vote in the referendum. If you feel you should have received a ballot but have

TELCOT[®] Report

A WEEKLY SUMMARY OF COTTON MARKETING NEWS

For the Week Ended November 19

Big losses in New York cotton futures early in the week reflected concerns over U. S. competitiveness in the world market even as U. C. cotton prices worked toward lower levels to keep up with foreign quotes.

U. S. cotton futures have been falling progressively making new lows each week. In fact, New York cotton futures fell almost the 300-point limit to new contract lows on Monday and plunged once again on Tuesday. Wednesday enjoyed a rally due to a large volume of trade buying, but the market fell once again on Thursday.

The dwindling funds available for USDA's Step 2 export payment program also are putting pressure on the market. Step 2 has helped generate U. S. export business as shippers pass on weekly payments as discounts, making U. S. cotton more attractive to buyers. But, increasing weekly payments could mean Step 2 funding will run out in December. In fact, USDA data shows $563 million already has been used out of the total $701 million allocated for Step 2 from 1996 through 2002. That leaves only $138.2 million left to fund the program.

The impending demise of Step 2 has prompted expectations that U. S. Cotton will be less competitive in the future. The prospects of imports entering the U. S. via special quotas opened under USDA's Step 3 program also is expected to pressure U. S. prices later.

The market remains concerned about the price of U. S. cotton as compared to foreign growths. U. S. futures continue to be higher than the Cotlook A Index, which is an average of the world's five cheapest cotton quotes. Foreign cotton currently is offered at prices much lower than that of U. S. growths.

not, contact the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation at 1-800-687-1212.

Although some observers believe cheaper growths in Uzbekistan and other cotton-producing countries are likely to continue putting pressure on U. S. prices until they are more competitive, others expect Cotlook's A Index to rise and meet U. S. prices. One analyst believes Spain, Syria and Greece--three countries with quotes in the index--soon will run out of cotton. He believes the countries' quotes eventually will drop from the index and be replaced with higher quotes which will result in an elevated A Index. Thus, U. D. cotton prices would be more competitive with other world growths.

Meanwhile, U. S. export sales numbers were strong last week as USDA reported net U. S. export sales of 1998-99 crop cotton were 78,200 bales for the week ended November 12, almost doubling the previous week's 39,900 bale total. According to the report, U. S. trade partner Mexico was the largest buyer of U. S. cotton during the week followed by Guatemala and Indonesia. Analysts noted the export business in Asian countries was encouraging, with the report showing Indonesia, Hong Kong and Taiwan on the list of top buyers. The U. S. now has sold 76 percent of USDA's 1998-99 export target of 4.5 million bales.

Sales of spot cotton this week were not as brisk, however. In the five trading days ended November 19, sales of cotton on the TELCOT electronic marketing system totaled 16,393 bales, less than half of the previous week's 39,175 bale figure. Average daily prices received by producers on TELCOT ranged from 58.04 to 53.92 cents per pound during the week. According to one analyst, cotton prices declined even further this week and many producers were not willing, or financially able, to sell at current prices.

What You Give Up To Be A Christian

A person once mentioned to me that Christians don't have any fun because they have to give up everything enjoyable. But what do people give up when they become Christians? Yes, they should give up sinning; but they will be free from guilt. They will have to give up bigotry, hatred, immorality, and despair; but they will have love, forgiveness, and peace. They will give up fear of death because they know they will have everlasting life. They will give up trying to do everything on their own and discover that they have a loving and helpful God.

We cannot give more than God, and being Christians, we will receive much more than we give up. The sinful things of this world will someday pass away. The Bible tells us that the wages of sin is death. Eternal life is forever, and well worth any sacrifice on our part. The Christian goal is to love and serve God in this world, and then someday to be happy with Him in Heaven.

O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever.
