Texas Farm Development Also Opens New Industrial Avenues

New developments in agricultural research are wealth-producing, says Dr. A. B. Conner, director of the Texas agricultural station at College Station.

Reviewing progress in that field, Dr. Conner said these activities increase the opportunities of those engaged directly in agriculture and often contribute specifically to the development of industrial enterprises.

"For example," he said, summarizing the direct contribution to research to industry, "a feed processing plant has been established in the lower Rio Grande Valley for converting citrus pulp into a feed which has about the same feeding value as beet pulp. It is not improbable large quantities of the citrus pulp will be used for cattle feed in the valley hereafter and this in turn will increase the quantity of manure almost indispensable for citrus and vegetable growing."

Citing additional benefits of research, Dr. Conner said:

"Finding of methods of increasing the carrying capacity of Gulf coast ranges by mowing and the discovery of rust resistant strains of wheat and oats have contributed to the development of the livestock industry in that region. Since feeds for fattening and finishing cattle can be produced economically in the Gulf coast region, meat packing industries will follow, thus increasing the wealth of the region. This will place this area in a particularly favorable position because of low water rates to the Atlantic seaboard.

Basic Grain for West

"The development many years ago of grain sorghums in the western half of the state provided that whole section with a basic grain crop fundamental to the development of a sound agriculture, with the result that agriculture has developed rapidly there. New towns have increased in population and such developments could never have been possible without the basic agricultural development."

Following the discovery that cotton was fully as resistant to drought as the grain sorghums, the general use of this crop has obtained in a large section of north-west Texas. The result of this agricultural development, which has been the development of gins, compresses, cottonseed oil mills, warehouses, transportation, and cattle feeding operations. The ginning industry in Texas alone does an annual business of $30,000,000 and employs some 20,000 workers. The cottonseed oil mills crush upward of 1,250,000 tons of seed annually and furnish labor to thousands of workers. Likewise, compressing, transportation, warehousing, and other activities run into considerable money and furnish much employment.

Another Crop Flax

"The development of flax growing in Texas, made possible by research, will give the farmer another crop and enable the cottonseed oil mills to lengthen their milling period including the flax seed, and possibly develop uses for the fiber in the manufacture of cigarette paper. These developments all contribute materially to the wealth and resources of the state."

"It will be remembered that not many years ago cotton seed were hauled away from the gins as waste product and later burned for fuel at the gins. Research in the manufacture of oil meal and hulls from cotton seed resulted in converting this former waste material into a product of considerable value not only to the farmer but also to industries engaged in this conversion of cotton products laboratory, which can be the means of greatly enhancing the income from cotton and at the same time develop dependable industrial activities."

"There is a close relationship between the development of agriculture and the development of industry, and it is our definite policy to extract from agricultural research every practical application that may be the benefit to those engaged in agriculture and as well to those engaged in kindred industrial activities."

Behind The Scenes in American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, July 18.—BUSINESS—Merchants, farmers and industrialists saw a number of signs in this week's news pointing toward a good business upswing next fall and winter. Retail furniture dealers, buying and talking shop in Chicago, issued an optimistic forecast of the next six months' trade. Farmers, ready to sell a bumper wheat crop at higher prices than they had expected, watched with interest the International Wheat Conference in London, where a plan to help stabilize prices in all producing countries was presented. In spite of all rumors to the contrary, no formal action has been taken by any major steel companies to cut wages. Abroad, one needle of a usually reliable barometer of world business also pointed to fair weather. The number of telephones in use in nine nations made a sharp gain during the first half of this year.

WASHINGTON.—President Roosevelt's announcement of the revised budget, showing a deficit of $2,984,000,000, met with a mixed reception. Foes of the government's lending-spending policies pointed out that the 1939 budget showed a record increase in peace-time expenditures, plus a sharp drop in revenues. Friends defended the budget as an investment in more employment and better business, from which John Q. Public would more than get his money's worth. The budget announcement had a quieting effect, but failed to put a damper on the general feeling of optimism.

WHY ACCIDENTS?—The automotive industry examined closely last week a series of studies on the relation of car styling to driving safety. Surveys of the cause of traffic accidents shed a constant floodlight of valuable information on the problem. Yet "sudden death" on the highways takes a bigger toll of lives each year. Why? Arthur W. Stevens, of the Society of Automotive Engineers, answers with the statement that many auto accidents are attributable to the family styling of modern automobiles, which obstructs full vision. "Stylistic whimsies," he says, are to blame. He urges motor makers to take steps toward: lowering the hood, raising the driver's seat, allowing larger window areas and constructing thinner window partitions. Mr. Stevens says that better visibility is inevitable, because "man for a million years has walked with eyes in front of his head where they belong, and there is no reason why his car should not be built in the same way."

THE FARMER'S BUSINESS OVERSEAS—In the first five months of last year, our corn exports amounted to 11,000 bushels. In the same period of 1938 they totaled 25,000,000 bushels. This dramatically shows the part agriculture is playing in our foreign trade this year. For January through May, 25 percent of all our exports were farm products, as compared with only 17 per cent last year. Foreign countries are buying more of our wheat, corn, meat and lard this year.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Combination cigarette and match, the match being glued to the cigarette so that when the latter is pulled from the package, a match also is withdrawn. "Ice-bags" for trees, to keep them from budding prematurely; a bag of rubber fabric is filled with dry ice and wrapped around the trunk of the tree, thus "freezing" the tree and keeping the sap from flowing. A folding porch for auto trailers. Combination pencil and calendar, on which the days of the week appear in a "window" in the barrel of the pencil. A key container with index tabs to tell which key opens the front door, garage, etc.

HOUSEHOLD BUYING—Five thousand buyers for hardware, furniture, variety and department stores who attended the annual Housewares Show in New York last week were almost unanimous in predicting a good fall season. Buying was heavy, and the number of different lines displayed was bigger than ever. Toasters, percolators and other small electrical appliances were shown in cheaper models than heretofore. For those who like to "soak" in the bathtub, a set was exhibited consisting of small shelf, mirror, cushioned seat with backrest and footrest, all to fit within the tub.

Estimate Taxable Values for Texas Gain $67,253,330

A preliminary estimate of state taxable values for the coming year show an increase of $67,253,330 over those for the current year, Comptroller George H. Sheppard reported Saturday at Austin.

The new figure, which 227 counties complete, is $3,445,027,851. Last year's valuations were used for the 27 counties which have not reported. Sheppard said it was reasonable to assume final figures would show an increase slightly in excess of $67,253,330.

The larger increases centered in governmental subdivision which lately have increased in importance as oil producing centers.

The valuations were reported by county assessors and are not necessarily actual figures, Sheppard said. He added past experience had proved the assessors' estimates were completed.

A partial list of county valuations, with changes, included: Winkler, $24,936,153, up $3,266,961; Nueces, $55,518,570, up $12,025,550; Harris $270,000,000, up $18,765,685; Galveston, $57,626,711, up $2,000,000; Bexar, $134,809,660, up $2,480,000; Hidalgo, $30,550,830, down $2,000,000; Chambers, $19,518,845, up $2,519,180; Upton, $11,750,000, up $1,742,262; Ector, $15,500,000, up $4,400,000; Gregg, $104,000,000, down $2,400,211; Garza, $5,243,379, up $1,197,082; Dallas, $21,866,600, up $206,330; Tarrant, $126,098,550 up $402,030.

The inference is that Egyptian control in the Northern Sudan was well established and the new foundations of the eighteenth and nineteenth dynasties were colonies set up for reasons of trade or vanity, or merely to serve as religious centers.

Canadian Geese, Ducks "Invited" To Texas Marshes

When the great flocks of Canadian geese and ducks start southward this fall, a goodly number is expected to light on the Texas coastal marshes.

Marshlands strung up and down the vast coastal plain offer the ducks a warm, comfortable home. Heavy rain in the spring and summer have given the area an abundance of salt grass, which is the piece-de-resistance of geese.

Duck hunters around Katy, Cove, Austwell, Rockport, Galveston, Orange, Anahuac, Corpus Christi, Eagle Lake, Bay City, Maner Lake and Sandy Point look for herds of the birds from the northland, if the ducks and geese leave the Canadian provinces by way of the Mississippi valley flyway.

Hunters say there was a noticeable increase in the number of ducks and geese migrating to this area the past two seasons. If the ratio is maintained this fall, duck hunters will find a veritable paradise from the Sabine river on the east to the Rio Grande on the west of the Texas shoreline.

The goose country, between Beaumont and Matagorda Bay, has an abundance of salt grass and hunters expect much goose hunting whether the ducks stop here or fly onward to Mexico.

The reduction in the duck bag limit to 10 a day has done much, sportsmen say, to conserve the flocks. Some hunters have put away their guns rather than spend the money necessary for a good duck hunt and have their bag limited to 10.

This one factor, observers say, has helped matters a lot in the Texas duck country. Regardless of how many duck hunters quit for economic reasons, the coastal area expects between 10,000 and 15,000 hunters in the field daily during the season.

Compensation Contributions Due Soon

Employers have been notified by Orville S. Carpenter, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, that Monday, August 1st, is the due date for making contributions on June payrolls.

Quarterly reports on the payrolls of employers also are due at the commission offices on that date. Forms for these reports have been mailed to 14,000 employers in the state.

The purpose of the quarterly reports is to show the earnings of the individual employees for April, May and June, so that these earnings may be credited to the employees' accounts with the commission. A social security account number must identify the earnings of each person, including those over 65, and each report must be signed by an authorized official of the employing unit.

Carpenter said that the payrolls of firms covered by the unemployment compensation act show an average of almost sixty million dollars a month for the first four months of 1938. Since there are some employers delinquent in filing monthly reports, the chairman estimated that this average would be considerably less than the actual monthly payroll.

Of the covered employers, the industry having the largest payroll is the oil industry. Included are such varied phases as production of petroleum and natural gas, refineries, administrative offices, and pipe lines.

The 14,000 employers in Texas covered by the act contribute on the wages of some 750,000 employees.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Siegel of Fort Worth visited briefly with Haskell friends Tuesday, en route to Wichita Falls. Mr. Siegel will be remembered as a former Haskell dry goods merchant.

Adopting their slogan as the name of their establishment, two well-known and capable young Haskell mechanics, Charlie Redwine and Virgil Sonnamaker recently announced the opening of the "Service Garage" located in the Courtney Hunt building on the southeast corner of the square.

A free demonstration of the machine is being given during the remainder of this week.

Other special equipment includes a King Analyzer, for motor check-up. This machine checks coils, condensers, spark plugs, vacuum, compression, starter and generator troubles.

The establishment specializes in general repairing for all makes of automobiles, with both Redwine and Sonnamaker thoroughly experienced in all branches of the work, having been connected with various automobile agencies during a period of more than eight years.

Josselet H. D. Club Report By Mrs. Jesse Josselet

"Inmeasuring look from the outside of the measuring cup instead of the inside to determine accurate measure", said Miss Mildred Vaughan to the women of the Josselet Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Fred Monke July 19.

For beating whites of eggs use eggs two or three days old, fresh eggs have a watery consistency farther stated Miss Vaughan as she demonstrated baking an Angelfood cake. The wire egg beater will beat the air in the whites much better. A child Chester rubber scraper is much better to clean the cake pan than a cake spoon or ladel.

To have thick crust on top of a cake sprinkle powdered sugar. Mrs. S. G. Perrin gave an interesting report from Short Course—three new members were added to our club list: Misses Margaret Toliver, Mildred Norton and Helen Thomas. We were glad to have Mrs. Wesley Lyles as a visitor.

Early Ancestors

Discussions concerning the evolution of man have weakened an increased interest in our early ancestors. The remains of several primitive specimens have been unearthed in comparatively recent years, and the search for additional types is going forward in many parts of the world.

What is believed to be the oldest remains of a man-like being so far brought to light are those of the Java man, discovered in 1891. This creature was ape-like, but he had greater brain capacity and was of more human development than any known ape. He is known to scientists as Pithecanthropus Erectus and lived about 500,000 years ago.

Next is the Heidelberg man, whose jaw was ape-like, but with truly human teeth, found in Germany in 1907, under 79 feet of sand, mingled with the remains of new extinct mammals of 250,000 or more years ago.

The third is the Piltdown man, found in Sussex, England, in 1912, which also combines characteristics of both ape and man. This specimen probably lived 150,000 years ago.

Next in order is the Neanderthal race, represented by numerous remains including complete skeletons, discovered in various parts of Europe and Asia since 1856. These were more ape-like than any race of men existing today, but were nevertheless fairly possible human beings and lived about 50,000 to 100,000 years ago.

Finally, perhaps 50,000 or more years ago, there began to appear several races of true men, the Cro-Magnon, Grimaldi, Aurignacian and Brunne races, of whom many well preserved skeletons have been discovered during the last sixty years. The Cro-Magnons were perhaps the finest physical specimens who ever lived, the men ranging from five feet ten and a half inches to six feet four and a half inches in height.

Those TVA Figures

In a recent article by Carter Field, noted Washington correspondent, some interesting comparisons are made between estimates of expenditures by the Tennessee Valley Authority on the one hand and the Army Engineers on the other, in connection with navigation, flood control and power involved in the TVA program.

He quotes the Army Engineers as estimating that navigation on the Tennessee river could have been provided for at a cost of less than 75 million dollars, and that the average annual flood damage in the valley amounted to only $1,784,000.

Yet to take care of these items and its power development the TVA will spend approximately 500 million dollars. Some money is being expended for fertilizer experiments and soil conservation, but the amount is relatively small.

Then Mr. Field quotes Daniel W. Mead, former president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, as estimating the actual cost to the government of power produced by the TVA as between 3 and 1 mills per kilowatt hour, while the TVA's figures would indicate a cost of only about 2.11 mills per kilowatt hour.

Here is where the validity of the TVA "yardstick" comes into question, and if the Congressional committee now investigating the whole TVA program goes into this question thoroughly it is likely that some interesting facts may be discussed.

Private power companies claim that they can produce electricity cheaper than the government is producing it, if the actual costs to the government were accurately determined.

Miss Sophie Mourgue-Walker of London will add $25,000 to a maid who had been with her 50 years.

Peter Tyler of London, who worked daily as an onion peeler until his death at 70, left an estate valued at $350,000.

Henry Silburn, 17-year-old deaf mute of Glasgow, could not be tried for theft because he could not read, write or talk in the deaf-and-dumb language, a plea thus being impossible.

Haskell County . . . . . History

As Revealed by the Pages of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

20 Years Ago—July 20, 1918

John W. Pace, local druggist recently appointed as a recruiting agent for the U. S. shipping board in Haskell, has received his official oath of office and is now prepared to enroll young men in the service of the Merchant Marine.

S. A. Huskey, who has been manager of the Haskell Bottling Works for a number of years has sold his interest in the business to W. I. McCarty.

O. E. Patterson and family, Hardy Grissom and family, F. L. Dugerty and family, and Ross Hemphill and family are off on a fishing trip this week.

In the fifteen day period allowed for women to register in order to vote in the primary July 27, 1296 women registered in this county for the purpose of voting.

Private James I. Shriver, who formerly worked in the local bottling plant, but who is now in training at Camp Cody, N. M., spent a few days in Haskell with relatives and friends this week.

John F. Lee of Rule and Eugene Martindale of Stamford were sent to Fort Sam Houston on July 15 by the local board, and John L. Clemmer and Frank Lee of Rochester left on July 17th for Camp Mabry at Austin. Twenty more registrants will leave here on the 23rd, according to W. H. Murchison, chairman of the local draft board.

Texas Grain Crop Estimate Lowered By Gov't Bureau

Local grain dealers state that reduction of the Government's estimate of the Texas wheat crop from 39,860,000 bushels as of June 1 to 35,397,000 bushels as of July 1 was about in line with the estimates of many grain men familiar with damage done over the State by a late cold spell followed by storms and hail that worked havoc in many wheat areas.

The present estimate compares

County News is down to take in the reunion and visit Haskell friends.

Molly Bailey's Show will exhibit in Haskell during the Reunion next week.

R. E. Northington, who has been in the employ of Mayfield & Hughes, Abilene butchers, for over six years, challenges any Texas raised butcher for a skinning contest at the Cowboys Reunion in Haskell any day during the reunion for $50 or more a side.

As we go to press Friday evening we are able to announce that all preparations have been completed for the biggest and best reunion ever held in Texas, to be held here next week. Already the town is full of straglers and a steady stream is pouring in.

A scathing denunciation of the "Stockmen's Association" local organization founded by fun-loving cowboys, appeared in the Free Press. Oldtimers of this section will likely recall the organization and some of its initiation ceremonies.

Uncle Sam's naval and land forces have captured Santiago and the eastern end of Cuba, taking some 24,000 prisoners, and now plan to go "On to Porto Rico."

C. G. Robinson of Amarillo, Tex., sells automobiles as a regular vocation and does embroidery as a hobby, having learned needlework while convalescing from an illness several years ago. He has one large table cover of an intricate basket design on which he worked for three years.

L. A. WOODS

Candidate for Re-election

State Superintendent of Public Instruction

From his experience in piloting the schools through their most trying years and with his understanding of their present needs, Mr. Woods is prepared to render even more valuable service to the schools of Texas in the future.

Meat Production Up, Prices Down In First Half of 1938

Meat production increased slightly and prices were substantially lower during the first half of 1938, compared with the same period last year, the Institute of American Meat Packers said in Chicago.

A reversal also occurred in the recent trend of exports and imports of pork during the first half of the current year, exports again exceeding imports.

Wholesale prices of most grades and classes of meat are substantially lower now than a year ago, the institute said. Fresh pork loins are 23 to 27 per cent lower, bacon 11 to 17 per cent down and smoked hams as much as 12 per cent down.

Living Costs Up Slightly In June

Living costs of wage earners in the United States increased two tenths of 1 per cent from May to June, and a survey issued by the National Industrial Conference Board in New York.

June living costs, however, were listed as 2.5 per cent lower than a year ago, 12.8 per cent lower than in June, 1929, and 20.9 per cent higher than in the spring of 1932.

From May to June food prices increased 1.4 per cent—more than seasonally—while rents decreased three tenths of 1 per cent, clothing prices dropped eight tenths of 1 per cent, and the cost of sundries was one tenth of a per cent lower.

30 Years Ago—July 18, 1908

with 41,690,000 bushels harvested in 1937 and with an average production of 29,984,999 bushels, the 10-year average production, 1927-1936.

There are 225,000 more acres planted to corn in Texas this year than last the Department of Agriculture estimating 4,728,000 acres in that grain this year compared with 4,503,000 acres last year. The department estimates the 1938 average production at 18 bushels to the acre compared with 16 bushels last year. This gives an estimated production this year of 85,104,000 bushels compared with 72,048,000 bushels last year and with a 10-year average crop of 78,002,000 bushels for the years 1927-1936.

There is still much uncertainty about the corn crop but growing conditions as of July 1 were favorable.

Oats production of 34,875,000 bushels this year was considerably above last year's crop and about an average yield for Texas. The actual harvest, however, revealed lighter yields than were indicated by earlier reports.

V. C. Childs, senior agricultural statistician at Austin, said the acreage of cotton in Texas July 1 was 9,960,000 acres or about 78 per cent as much as was in cotton last year. This is the smallest Texas cotton acreage since 1908 and 68 per cent of the 10-year period, 1927-1936.

For Oklahoma grain yields as follows are indicated: Wheat 58,993,000 bushels, corn 32,357,000 and oats 28,100,000 bushels. For Kansas indicated yields are: Wheat 163,576,000, corn 49,620,000 and oats 33,235,000.

A MAN THAT KNOWS YOUR NEEDS
 And Will Get The Job Done.

Drafted by his friends to make the race because of his ability to Organize, to Co-operate, to Systematize, and GETTING MORE FOR OUR TAX DOLLAR.

"REAL economy in Texas public affairs has been only a myth, a tale that is told. It has been little more than an echo amid the ceaseless clamor for more taxes. Bloc pressure upon State Treasury is increasing each year. Unless some system of responsible financial control is inaugurated, we are rapidly approaching an area of careless and extravagant spending of public moneys unparalleled in the history of organized government."

We are not suggesting a return to the old order of less government and fewer taxes, but to modernize and go forward. This means to conserve every tax dollar and make it go as far as possible. Relief and human welfare costs are increasing. Why pour money into rat-holes and useless sinecures of office, while children are hungry, many of the ill uncared for and human destitution and suffering on every hand!

The old creaking worn-out and wasteful disjointed system of government will not do. We can't afford it any longer. For a generation now we have done nothing but scramble for new revenues, until the taxing power is rapidly reaching the limit, and the point of plunder. It is time now to think a while on the other side of the question, and that side is sensible spending. We must face it now or later.

We, the Business Associates, Farmers and Laboring friends of Courtney Hunt, heartily recommend him to the voters of the 113th district and being thoroughly capable of bringing about much needed reforms in our state affairs.

With the approach of the July 23 primary in which I am seeking re-election as your County Treasurer, I take this opportunity of expressing my sincere thanks for the loyalty and support of the people of Haskell county. During the time in which I have served you as Treasurer of Haskell county, I have at all times done my best to perform the duties of the office honestly, capably and cheerfully.

I am deeply grateful to each and every person who has assisted me and is supporting me in my race. I appreciate your support and assistance to the fullest extent.

I wish to pledge you a continuation of my past policy in filling the County Treasurer's office during the next term if you see fit to retain me in your employ. I realize that the office is solely for the service and benefit of the people of this county and I want you to know that I appreciate the trust you have bestowed upon me.

To the Voters Of Haskell County:

As this campaign nears its end I wish to briefly outline my qualifications which will enable me to efficiently and capably perform the duties of the sheriff's office. At the same time I wish to show my part in the exceptional record which has been made. The files in the County Clerk's office and the criminal docket in the Justice-of-the-Peace office in the court house in Haskell show that I have filed over 50 per cent of the total number of complaints filed by the sheriff's department, during my tenure as chief deputy, and the civil docket in the sheriff's office shows that I have handled over 80 per cent of the civil work. During this time I was on the job 24 hours a day and tried to serve you to the best of my ability. Of course, I do not ask for all the credit, but only that part which I rightly deserve.

During this campaign I have tried to see everyone that I possibly could. However, due to finance there are some that I have not been able to see. I therefore wish this to be a personal solicitation for your vote and influence. And to those whom I have already seen, consider this a second plea for your help.

If you, the voters, think that my qualifications, my experience as an officer, and my personal integrity merits a promotion as your next sheriff, then leave my name on the ballot next Saturday and I promise you that it will be greatly and sincerely appreciated.
