JOLLY OLD ST. NICK

Cavin Resigns Police Position For SWPSC Post

Floyd Cavin has resigned as Olton Police Chief. His resignation becomes effective December 24. Chief Cavin submitted his resignation in writing last Friday morning. It was accepted by the council. Chief Cavin has accepted a position with Southwestern Public Service Company at Muleshoe. He goes to work there December 28. Cavin came to Olton in June of this year to replace Vernie Head.

Santa Delights More Than 1000 Olton Children

A Merry Christmas and a bag full of goodies were extended to some 1200 delighted children as Santa Claus made his initial appearance to Olton Saturday afternoon. Following a parade of bands and floats, Mrs. Santa Claus and two of her elves rode through the city in a buggy pulled by a Shetland pony. Climaxing the Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade was the appearance of a jolly Santa. Santa Claus and his helpers, local firemen, distributed bags of candy, fruit and toys to children as they gathered on the East side of the square.

GUNTER HOME

Condition of Uil Gunter has improved to the extent that his doctors allowed him to return home Tuesday afternoon. Uil suffered from infection after an appendectomy about a month ago. He has since been confined in the Plainview Hospital.

Although Uil has been allowed to return to his home for an adjustment period, he is not allowed to have visitors for several weeks.

CATES IMPROVES

Horace Cates, who suffered an heart attack about two weeks ago, is improving in Doctor's Hospital in Dallas. According to Mrs. Jack Silcott, Horace will probably be confined in the hospital at least another week.

to inspect and rate the displays and home lights.

Accepting trophies for their band's parade participation were Coye McGill and Leon Kendall for Cadet Band, and Nicky Rendinger for Mustang Band.

Community Choir and Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture wish to thank members of the city for their participation, attendance and support in the presentation of the annual Christmas program.

Storm's Bark Worse Than Bite In Olton Vicinity This Week

Telephone Circuits To North Out As Ice Drags Down Lines

A howling whistler launched by the Rocky Mountains roared across the area Monday night. In the Olton area, its bark turned out to be worse than its bite. To the north its bite was potent. The Enterprise was unable to contact its correspondent, Fred Butler, in Hart Wednesday. The telephone operator in Plainview said lines connecting Plainview to Hart, Dimmitt, Hereford and other points north and west were down.

Last Rites Held For Mother Of Former Olton Man

Funeral services for Mrs. Dollie Hall, 79 years old, Lubbock, were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Baptist Church at Halfway. Mrs. Hall was the mother of W. W. Hall of Littlefield, vocational agriculture instructor here several years ago.

ARC Secretary Makes Report At Meeting

Executive secretary of Lamb County Red Cross Association reported on work done toward Christmas projects as the group met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Poteet. Board members of Lamb County Red Cross were feted with a dinner at the Poteet home December 8.

It was announced twenty-five gifts have been purchased by the Lamb County Chapter to be sent to the station hospital at Ft. Bliss.

The secretary also reported a list of needy families was being compiled. These families will be assisted by church groups or civic organizations. Anyone wishing to help in this project should contact Mrs. Lyle Brandon in the Red Cross office at Littlefield.

Eighteen out of town guests were present for the dinner. Olton board members attending included Messrs. and Mesdames Truitt Sides, Howard Hall, Fred Hicks, Lacy Armstrong, the host and hostess and Miss Cheryl Poteet.

School Out For Holidays

School will be dismissed for Christmas holidays at 2:30 o'clock the afternoon of December 18. Classes will resume Monday, January 4.

Four Mustangs Make All-Region Band At Lubbock

Four Olton High School boys were selected for All Region Band at competition Saturday morning in Lubbock.

Lester Hines and Ronald Fancher, trombone; Robert Priest, baritone; and Harvie Jordan, bass, competed for the honors with musicians from some sixty South Plains schools.

From the large group of competitors, 120 musicians were selected. The All Region Band will perform January 30 at Texas Tech. Guest conductor for the band will be Dr. Ted Creger of West Texas State.

In addition to the honor accompanying their selection, the four boys will be presented with patches for their band jackets.

Geneva Curry Is Miss FTA Of District

GENEVA CURRY

Miss Geneva Curry was elected Miss FTA of the District at Future Teachers of America District Convention Saturday.

Miss Curry competed with girls from thirteen clubs for the honor. Nominees for Miss FTA were interviewed by a board of judges and asked questions concerning discipline. Their autobiographies were then read by the judges.

After preliminary eliminations finalists made speeches, using the theme "Good Teacher Not by Chance" as their subjects.

Mark Robertson of Littlefield was chosen Mr. FTA. Miss Curry and Robertson are eligible to compete for Regional honors. Winners of state will be honored at a banquet in Denton in the spring.

Also serving on the committee will be H. M. Baggerly of Tullia, Dolph Moten of Bovina, W. E. Garets, head of the Texas Tech journalism department, and Wendell Tooley of Littlefield.

Music Class Attends Opera In Amarillo

General Music Class of Olton High attended a one-act opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors", in Amarillo December 8.

The opera, presented by the NBC Cast who will stage it on television Christmas Eve, is a Christmas classic by Menotti. It was presented in conjunction with the Amarillo Symphony.

Civic Ballet and Amarillo Symphony also presented the Tsyhinsky's "Nutteracker Suite".

Band director, Dick Bentz, accompanied the group which included Johnny Beth Crawford, Wynona Cox, LaJuana Oliver, Eliza Miller and Joyce Curtis.

Olton People's Grandchild Dies

Carolyn Frost, 4 years old, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cavett of Olton, died Monday morning in New York.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. "Frosty" Frost of Schenectady, N.Y. The mother is the former Ouida Cavett of Olton.

GOLDEN IMPROVING

Charles Golden, who was admitted to Plainview Hospital and Clinic last week, is improving. As of Tuesday evening, doctors are hopeful he can return home soon.

SOME 200 HEAR YULETIDE MEMORIES

First Cantata Is Lauded By Crowd

Olton's first Christmas Cantata was presented in the high school auditorium Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

An audience of some two hundred lauded the performance of the thirty voice choir. Director of the cantata, Yuletide Memories, was Don Waldrip. Harold Carson, assisted by Miss Sandra Hamby, was accompanist for the group. Invocation and benediction were given by Revs. E. Lee Stanford and John E. Lewis, respectively.

The stage was beautifully decorated with holly wreaths and floral arrangements of red and green in large white baskets. Stage arrangements were made by House of Flowers.

Immediately after the cantata, Wayne Cooper, manager of Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, presented prizes for Christmas displays and home lighting. Awards were given to Olton Cadet and Mustang Bands and Petersburg Jr. High Band for participating in the Christmas parade.

First place display award was received by Mrs. A. D. Melton of Olton Garden Club. This prize was $25. Second prize of $15 was given to New Century Study Club. Bykota Study Club won third prize with their display. This prize was $10.

Awards for home lighting contest were also presented by Mr. Cooper. First place went to Mr. and Mrs. K. Y. Givens. Second place prize was received by Mr. and Mrs. Major James. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson were awarded the third place prize.

Honorable mention in this event was given to Messrs. and Mesdames Bill Dickenson, Charles McClain, Howard Hall and Dr. Lynn Fite. Out of town judges were selected

PRETTY FLOAT

The young lady riding this float in the Christmas parade was Mrs. Jim Brown. The elves with her were Marilana and Marlos May. The shetland pony pulling the float was supplied by Archie May Pony Farm. (STAFF PHOTO)

Grain Sorghum Test Results Are Announced

The average yield of fifty-five varieties of grain sorghum was 4,563 pounds per acre in one of the 1959 grain sorghum tests at the High Plains Research Foundation, Dr. T. C. Longnecker, Director, announced today.

The hybrids and varieties were planted June 18 and had a total of 12 inches of water in three irrigations of 4 inches each on August 5, August 24 and September 8.

The top twelve in this test were close in their yields. Each hybrid or variety was planted in 100 foot plots in four different locations throughout the test area. The two center rows of each four row plot were harvested to determine the grain yield. The average yield of the four plots for each variety is the basis of the yield report.

The yields of the top 12 were: Redlan Kaffir, 5,706 lbs.; Texas 601, 5,485 lbs.; Pfister 665S, 5,314 lbs.; Pfister 625S, 5,256 lbs.; Stecker's R103, 5,248 lbs.; DeKalb E56A, 5,248 lbs.; DeKalb C44A, 5,207 lbs.; Plainsman, 5,101 lbs.; Texas 608, 5,052 lbs.; DeKalb F63, 5,052 lbs.; Pfister 605S, 5,044 lbs. and R. S. 610, 5,036 lbs.

Other grain sorghum tests will be reported as soon as all statistical analyses are completed, Dr. Longnecker said.

The table was laid with a lace cloth over pink. Mrs. Roy Osthus and Mrs. Junior Nicholas poured coffee and punch from a silver coffee service and a milk glass bowl, respectively. A large bride and groom with pink streamers formed the centerpiece.

The former Bridget Sokora and Mr. Wells were married November 23 in Littlefield. They are making their home at Hart Camp.

Classroom Teachers Have Banquet Friday

Classroom Teacher's Association held its annual Christmas dinner Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

The dinner was in the school cafeteria. Sparkling Christmas trees and candles decorated the party room.

Mrs. Jim Williams acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. Invocation and reading of the Christmas Story were given by Mr. Roscoe Trostle.

Carol singing was led by band director, Richard Bentz.

Following a turkey dinner prepared by the lunchroom staff, gifts were exchanged.

Pat Small Awarded Ten-Year Scout Pin

Some 115 Girl Scouts, Brownie Scouts and their mothers attended a Christmas party Monday afternoon.

The party was held in the Junior High Gymnasium.

Scout songs and Christmas songs were sung by the group. Refreshments were served and gifts were exchanged.

Recognized were the years that the girls had been in Scouts. Miss Pat Small was awarded a ten-year pin.

About twelve leaders and their assistants were also present.

G. T. Gallaways To Be Honored On Anniversary

Children of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Gallaway of Brady will honor their parents with a Golden Wedding Anniversary open house December 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallaway were pioneers and formerly long time residents of Olton. The open house honoring them will be in the Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church of Olton from 2-5 in the afternoon.

Hosts and Hostesses for the occasion are Messrs. and Mesdames W. L. Gallaway, Charles Gallaway and Cecil Gallaway of Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Womack a daughter of the honorees, will also host the open house.

Friends of the honored couple are invited to attend.

Dorcas Class Hostess For Christmas Party

Mrs. C. S. Silcott began a review of the book, "The Women of the Bible" as Dorcas and Esther Classes of First Baptist Church met December 8.

A continuation of the review will be held at each meeting until the book has been completely reviewed.

Dorcas Class was hostess for the meeting. The group met in the home of Mrs. Rufus DeBerry.

Eighteen members of the two classes attended the meeting. They include Mesdames George Bohner, L. B. Cowart, Jim Kemp, Paul Feathergill, Witt Laceywell, Ray Montgomery, Doyle Pinson, Tom Smith, W. B. Smith Jr., Bob Worley, R. A. Burgess, Walter Schreier, G. V. Estes, Ray Slatten, D. H. Ball, C. C. Black, Silcott and DeBerry.

Just popped up to say a friendly "Hello" and wish you and yours much happiness throughout the Christmas season!

Olton Church Women Collect For Orphanage

Ladies Bible Class of Main Street Church of Christ visited thirty-four South Plains towns Tuesday gathering food for Lubbock Children's Home.

Previously the class had sent letters to various Church of Christ congregations asking they leave baskets of food in the foyers of their churches.

Class members visited the churches and picked up over one thousand dollars worth of groceries for the orphans home. A truck from the home arrived at the church Tuesday afternoon to transport the food to Lubbock.

Bible Class members who participated in this drive include Mesdames Bill Bennett and Jack Edwards, who visited seven towns East and South of Olton; Mesdames Gene Green and Bud Huckabee, eight towns West and North; Mesdames Bub Holt and Jack Thomas, eight towns North; and Mesdames D. Y. Ray and D. M. Granbery, eleven towns South of Olton.

The Bible Class conducted a similar food drive during the summer. The food was delivered to Westview Boys Home in Oklahoma.

Olton People Attend Meet At Springlake

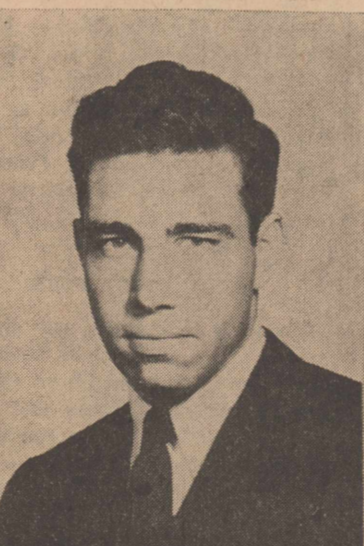

Several Olton people Sunday afternoon attended a meeting of the Staked Plains Baptist Association in Springlake.

Joe Alcora gave the response to the welcoming address. The group discussed Sunday School. Attending from Olton other than Mr. Alcora, were Robert Renaud, Mickey Hernandez and Antonio Velmonte.

FTA Has Meeting Tuesday Morning

Campbell Chapter of Future Teacher of America discussed what was gained from their participation in the district convention in Plainview Saturday. The group met Tuesday morning. Meeting was called to order by president, Judy Laceywell. Plans were made for the forthcoming FTA dinner Thursday evening.

Karen Smith Feted With Nuptial Party

A pre-nuptial courtesy feted Miss Karen Smith Thursday, in the Laus Hair home.

Guests were received by Miss Lana Hair, and Miss Geneva Curry presided at the registration book.

Hostesses' gifts included a towel and sheet sets, stainless steel and kitchen ware.

The honoree was gifted with a white carnation corsage.

The serving table was laid with a white net tablecloth. White tapers burned in a setting of green holly and spruce branches. Misses Lavon Estes and Sandra Cox served.

Hostesses included Misses Hair, Curry, Cox, Estes, Judy Pinson, Rea Horn, Ann Stansell, Joanna Lewis, Marilyn Jones, Alice Ross Bryant and Janice Galloway.

Program Staged By Music Dept.

Music Departments of Olton High School combined to present a program of Christmas music Sunday afternoon.

Cadet Band opened the program at 3:00 o'clock with four numbers. A Christmas selection Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer concluded the Cadet Band's performance.

Christmas carols were sung by the High School Girl's Choir. They also presented Gloria from 12th Mass.

High School stage band, The

THE CRACKER CRUMBS

By Celie Waldrip

A world-weary seven year old confided to me the other day that she had found out from a neighborhood friend (who was nine and knew everything!) that Santa Claus doesn't bring Christmas presents.

In fact, there is not such a person as Santa Claus. The mothers and daddys buy the presents (when they say they are going to the dentist) and hide them under the beds and in the garage until Christmas.

"Oh, really, and then what happens?"

"Well, you ought to know! The mothers and daddys get the toys out on Christmas Eve and put them under the tree and say Santa Claus has come."

"I should have guessed it all along," she continued, "because we don't even have a chimney, and if we did he couldn't get down it because chimneys are little and Santa Claus is big and fat."

"I thought you said there wasn't a Santa Claus."

"Well, I mean, if there were, he would be too fat to get down a chimney."

"Oh, Well, how do all the toys get put together, like that big doll house you got last year? Your mother couldn't have brought that home from the dentist without your seeing it could she?"

"Well, no, but I heard noises on Christmas Eve that sounded just like Daddy getting a doll house out of the attic and putting it up in the living room."

"Oh? And how does it sound to put a doll house up in the living room?"

"Well, you know... just sorta bang bump or something like that. Besides last year there was a Santa Claus, but this year there isn't."

"Oh, I see." After she ran outside to tell all her poor little unenlightened friends there is no Santa Claus this year, I began to think. What is this world coming to? If even seven year olds are cynics?

I had always believed there was a Santa Claus (except during a period around seven or eight years of age. One can become very important in the eyes of her friends when she can smugly lambaste the legend of the cheerful saint, and say "I told you so" when her friends gather on Christmas Day to tell all they'd heard the night before... when they "pliked" they were asleep.)

I became a true believer the next year after receiving a bicycle during the war, when even I knew no one short of Santa Claus could have gotten a bicycle.

Several years later I shed bitter tears for a mouton coat and was certain my life would be blighted if I didn't get one. For two years Santa was convinced I needed lots of things worse than a mouton coat. I began to think Santa was something of an old crank.

The third Christmas, however, Santa Claus relented and I became the proud owner of a monstrous furry coat. (The weight of it nearly broke my back and I resembled an outsized polar bear in it. It smelled something awful when it got wet, and it took up all my closet space. But I stoically wore it and never breathed a word to Santa that I despised the wretched thing.)

After I married and the fact that I was about to become a Mother was extremely obvious, Santa gave me a great compliment for a Christmas gift. On Christmas morning I unwrapped a fitted robe and matching lounging pajamas of beautiful cloud-soft pink. They looked like a dream and were a neat size nine.

There I stood, a robust mother-to-be, looking something akin to a beach ball in the middle of an unmade bed... and the exquisite robe wouldn't come anywhere close to meeting around me.

Although this gift was a compliment and quite a moral booster (just when it needed boosting the most) I still suspect Santa's glasses were a little foggy that Christmas Eve.

I am still a firm believer in Kris Kringle. Just this week I drove through town and saw beautiful trees and displays set up in all the store windows. Santa must have put them there—I'm sure I didn't!

The blue star on the old hospital and the strings of lights around the square were most certainly placed there by the jolly philanthropist. I didn't see anyone else doing it.

The packages under my very bed were not placed there by me. In the first place why would I buy myself (or anybody for that matter) a "Toddler's Tiny Toy Tea Toter"? And in the second place I wouldn't think of hiding anything under the bed as I could not possibly get it out again without throwing another "hitch" in my sacroiliac and spending Christmas Day in the hospital.

As for the rumor about parents staying up late on Christmas Eve and putting the gifts under the tree... this is an inexcusable falsehood.

I put on my kerchief early and settle down for a long winter nap so I can hop up at dawn and see what is in my stocking... besides a hole.

I hope that little girl stops spreading that ridiculous rumor before she spoils Christmas for me and for several hundred other adults.

No Santa Claus? Don't believe a word of it!

Methodists Have Christmas Program

Scripture read by Mrs. Don Spain was accented by Christmas carols sung by the Choir of First Methodist Church Sunday evening.

The candlelight ceremony included several solos and ensembles from choir members. Richard Bentz, Nancy Brown, Joyce Curtis, Don Spain and Koenia Schenck presented solo selections.

The special Christmas program was presented at 7:00 Sunday evening.

Baptists Present Program Sunday

A program of scripture and music was presented by the choir of the First Baptist Church Sunday evening.

The Rev. John E. Lewis read the Christmas Story. A choir of some fifteen voices sang Christmas selections and excerpts from a cantata, Love Transcending. Director of the program was Jerry Parker.
