INFESTATION OF GRASSHOPPERS TO DAMAGE '38 CROPS

Entomologist Tests Show A Heavy Egg Count In County

R. R. Reppert, State Entomologist, State Extension Service of College Station, and County Agent B. W. Chessler, made a survey and tests here Saturday, determining the amount of grasshopper infestation in Haskell County during the 1937 crop.

By making a series of tests on certain plots of ground and counting the egg pods on accurate estimates of grasshopper infestation is determined. Each egg pod contains 60 eggs and by adding these the number of grasshoppers that will mature can be counted, figured from a scale that has been worked out over a period of years.

Report for Haskell County in 1938 borders on heavy infestation tests revealed. But cold weather, parasites and other factors can easily change this report it is explained. A number of parasite worms were found feeding on the grasshopper eggs that will lower the count. Extreme cold weather, freezing the ground to a depth of two inches or more will lessen the predicted infestation.

This method of determining amount of grasshopper infestation has been used by the Extension Service for a number of years and has been found very dependable.

By studying the habitat of the grasshopper, where egg pods are deposited, farmers can use this knowledge and destroy many of them.

Entomologists have discovered that grasshoppers usually deposit eggs in grass, particularly buffalo grass. If these eggs can be poisoned before maturing in the spring damage can be materially lowered.

Report on the damage to the 1937 crop shows a total damage of $44,000 in Haskell County. Cotton 5,000 acres were damaged, loss was $25,000, a percentage decrease in total yield for the county 2.4 per cent. Number of acres protected were 18,000, resulting in a saving of $90,000.

On range land 30,000 acres were damaged to extent of 15 per cent decrease in total yield for the county, resulted in a loss of $9,000. There were 30,000 acres protected, a saving of $9,000.

In grain sorghums 2,000 acres were damaged, a loss of $10,000. There were 3,000 acres protected, with a resulting savings of $15,000.

Poison used by farmers in Haskell County against grasshopper infestation totaled seventy eight and three-fourths tons and seven hundred and eighty four gallons of sodium arsenate.

Young hens that grade No. 1 must weigh nine pounds and up; young toms fourteen pounds up. Old hens and old toms are packed for shipping separately. Both will bring three cents under No. 1 prices. No. 2 birds will be six cents under No. 1 prices.

Texas dressing plants are in full blast this week with the bulk of the crop that goes North by Nov. 13th.

Many are holding their flocks for the Christmas market, hoping for better prices.

INDIANS ADVANCE IN DISTRICT RACE WITH WIN FRIDAY

Defeat Albany 7-0 In Their Second Conference Game

The Haskell high school Indians, in their second conference game, took advantage of Albany's fumble in their third quarter and pushed over a lone touchdown, defeating the Lions 7-0 Friday night.

Four times Haskell crossed the Albany twenty yard stripe but only once did they cross over for a score. Albany's fumble placed the ball on their own 26 yard stripe in Haskell's possession. Four line plays netted a first down and to the 13 yard marker. An incomplete pass, 4 yards through tackle and Rogers went through the line standing up for the score.

The Lions finished the game with five first string players out with injuries. Both teams were assessed repeated penalties. Hammons, star back for Albany, was carried from the field early in the second quarter, with cracked ribs.

Dillard, replacing Hammons, raced 45 yards on a fourth down play from his own 13 yard line but the possible threat was stopped at the half with the ball resting in mid-field.

In the final period Thomason snatched an Albany pass and galloped 37 yards before he was dragged down. This was the only threat in the last quarter.

To Ray Buford, 135half, who played his best game of the season was credit for some beautiful blocking.

Statistics of the game show seven first downs for Haskell to Albany's four. Haskell completed three passes out of eleven tries, good for 23 yards, and had one intercepted. Albany, out of eight attempts, completed one, and had three intercepted.

The Lions fumbled three times. Haskell recovering each time. Haskell fumbled twice. The Indians were assessed 60 yards in penalties, Albany 25 yards. Average punting for Haskell was 37 yards, Albany 31 yards. Haskell gained almost twice as many yards rushing as the Lions.

About five hundred Indian fans saw the game.

Approximately 12,000 pounds of turkeys have been bought by local produce buyers since the market opened Friday, at fourteen cents.

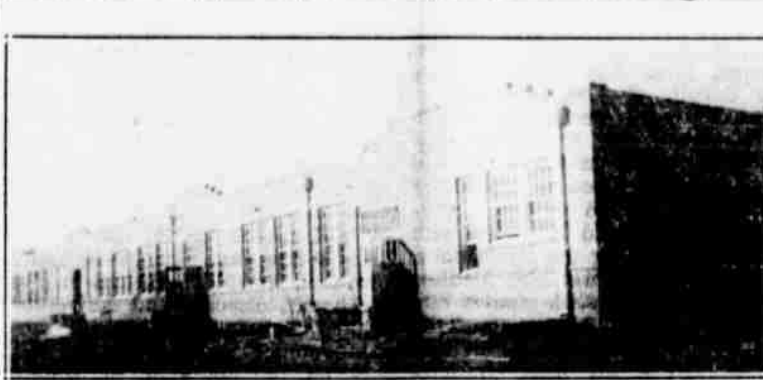

Young hens that grade No. 1 must weigh nine pounds and up; young toms fourteen pounds up. Old hens and old toms are packed for shipping separately. Both will bring three cents under No. 1 prices. No. 2 birds will be six cents under No. 1 prices.

Texas dressing plants are in full blast this week with the bulk of the crop that goes North by Nov. 13th.

Many are holding their flocks for the Christmas market, hoping for better prices.

Most fowls purchased here are shipped to Abilene markets where they are dressed and packed for shipping North in time for Thanksgiving.

ASSAULT CHARGES ARE FILED AFTER SHOOTING

C. C. Courtney Named In Complaint of Assault To Murder

As the aftermath of a one-sided "shooting scrape" late Saturday evening, charges of assault with intent to murder were filed by county officers against C. C. (Curley) Courtney, Haskell junk buyer in connection with the wounding of W. H. Tysinger, 70-year-old filling station operator, who was struck in the shoulder and neck by the partial charge of a shotgun blast fired by Courtney.

The incident occurred at the small filling station operated by Tysinger in the east outskirts of Haskell. First intimation officers had of the affair came when Courtney drove his truck to the county jail and asked Sheriff Giles Kemp to take him into custody, saying "I just shot Old Man Tysinger a little while ago."

Sheriff Kemp and Deputy Riley Lewellen went immediately to Tysinger's combination filling station and living quarters, where they found Tysinger only slightly wounded, the main charge from the gun fired by Courtney having struck a door facing in the building. Physicians who examined the injured man stated that twelve or fourteen pellets struck Tysinger, but that his injuries were not considered serious.

Courtney, questioned by District Attorney Ben Charlie Chapman and members of the sheriff's department, told the officers that he had gone to Tysinger's station to see Mrs. Courtney who had been employed as housekeeper by the elderly man for the past two weeks. Tysinger refused to allow him to enter the station, Courtney said, whereupon he fired once with a shotgun when he believed Tysinger was going inside the station for a gun.

Courtney's wife, Tysinger, and Jack Chapman, all of whom were in the station when the shooting occurred, were questioned by officers during the investigation. Chapman, whose home is in New Braunfels, Texas, had just driven into the station, he said.

At an examining trial for Courtney held before Justice of the Peace Bruce Clift Monday morning, bond for Courtney's appearance before a district court Grand Jury to convene in January was set at $1,000.

Bond for Chapman as a material witness was fixed at $500, which he readily perfected, while Courtney was detained in jail in default of bond.

Following the examining trial, complaints charging adultery were filed against Mrs. Courtney and Tysinger, signed by members of the sheriff's department. Bond in each case was set at $250 by Justice Clift. Tysinger was released from custody after perfecting bond in this amount, while Mrs. Courtney was remanded to jail when unable to secure sureties in the amount fixed for her appearance before the Grand Jury.

Definite Location Is Not Made By Commissioners' Court

By a vote of three to one the Haskell County Commissioners' Court voted to locate the $60,000 county hospital in the east part of the city. Final selection of a location has not been chosen from the proposed sites, but will be selected within a few days, it is announced.

Favoring votes for an east side location were: Tom Mapes, P. G. Kindrick, and R. H. Rife. A. H. Hutchins cast the dissenting vote.

Preliminary selection of the site of the county hospital was made after the Commissioners, County Judge Charlie Conner, doctors and others had made a survey of local hospital needs and visits to other hospitals in West Texas.

Bonds were sold at par and four and one-fourth per cent interest to the highest bidder a month and a half ago. Issuance of $60,000 bonds was authorized by Haskell county voters in a county-wide election last July.

Proposed architectural plans provide for a one-story brick construction of twenty-five rooms, completely equipped with the most modern facilities available. Bids are not yet open for construction of the building, but it is expected to be started as soon as possible, report officials.

After the hospital is built and ready for operation, management of the institution will be under the supervision of a Board of Managers.

For Armistice Day

When the armistice was signed November 11, 1918 when was supposed to have ended the terrible World War, was it really ended after all?

The dictionary defines "armistice" as "a brief suspension of hostilities by agreement." The word conveys the thought that the hostilities are quite likely to be renewed within a short time. It has sometimes seemed as if the world did not really stop fighting on November 11, 1918, but that a form of warfare has been carried on ever since, which might almost any time break out in violent hostilities.

What the world wants is peace, real peace, not any mere temporary suspension of hostilities because the combatants are out of breath and want to recover their wind before they proceed to batter each other some more.

The American people and their allies felt so bitter against the Germans and their associates in that war, that they were in a mood to "rub it in." No fate was considered too bad for the supposedly wicked inhabitants of such countries. After the tumult had calmed down, it began to be discovered that the Germans were not the only ones responsible for that awful catastrophe. All nations were more or less to blame.

The contentions of a time of theoretical peace have been so intense, that the fires have kept alive, and will flare up again unless people have a care.

We all glory on Armistice Day at the deeds of our soldiers in the terrific strife of battle, but we want no more of those scenes. It is the hope of Haskell that Armistice Day may turn into a Peace day, when the world shall drop its hatreds, and decide hereafter to live in peace and brotherly friendship.

Millions To Memory

Millions given annually to universities, museums and other public-spirited projects not infrequently from perpetual reminders of the donors, as in the case of Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Mellon, J. P. Morgan, Henry Ford, and others.

The most recent addition to the list is the Atwater Kent Museum, in Philadelphia, which will also preserve a historic landmark in that the Atwater Kent Foundation has acquired the old Franklin Institute building, erected in 1825. This monumental stone building is now being repaired throughout as a home for valued relics and historical manuscripts which may throw new light on American history, when removed from the seclusion of basement storage in Independence Hall, Philadelphia's City Hall, and from the archives of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, and other sources.

This is the second patriotic service by Mr. A. Atwater Kent this year. Earlier, he restored the famous old Betsy Ross House where the first American flag was made, adding another to the many benefactions of this inventor and pioneer radio manufacturer.

Through the Atwater Kent Auditions, Mr. Kent for several years searched the country for singers of merit, sixty of whom he helped to a musical education, several since becoming members of the Metropolitan Opera Company. But his most popular contribution to music-loving America was through his Sunday night series of radio concerts which, over a period of several years, presented for the first time the outstanding artists of opera and concert stage, raising radio broadcasting to the highest plane in its history.

The country needs more men who, like Mr. Kent are willing to put their money into such commendable patriotic enterprises.

Curing Accident Repeaters

Automobile accident repeaters can be cured. That is the gist of an article in Public Safety, by Edward L. Yordan, describing the results of a corrective system applied last year by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in Massachusetts to 500 drivers selected as possessing the worst accident records in the Commonwealth.

Every one of these drivers had been involved in a number of accidents. One man, for instance, had injured several pedestrians by striking them with the right side of his car. Tests disclosed a weakness in his right eye, which was corrected with glasses. Another driver had had his car rammed three times from the rear. Tests showed his brake reaction to be exceptionally fast and he was advised to watch out for the car in the rear when making sudden stops. So it went with all 500. At the end of the test instruction period, the 500 accident repeaters were allowed to drive again. Eight months later the Registrar assembled their records. The 500 had driven an aggregate of more than 3,250,000 miles in that period. Not one of them had become involved in a serious accident. Only three of them had had any accidents at all.

The facts speak for themselves. Enforced education can cure the great bulk of the drivers who are today responsible for major and minor wrecks. In relation to the vast savings in life and property involved, the cost to states and cities would be infinitesimal. Every motor vehicle department should be authorized by the legislature to adopt, as a consistent policy, some such corrective system as that experimented with in Massachusetts. Today, in most states, offending drivers are permitted to go out and repeat their errors. That is largely responsible for our soaring death and accident toll.

"STAR AMATEURS" PRESENT COMEDY

The Star Amateur Dramatic Club will present a three-act comedy entitled "Who Said Quit?" Wednesday evening, November 17 at 7:30 o'clock. This play has an excellent cast, and we assure you a full evening's entertainment. Low admission prices will be charged. Don't miss it if you want to see such old stars as Jess and Loraine Matthews, Elsie Mitchell, Hub and Gladys Merchant, and others in action.

STAGE SCENERY ARRIVES

The "gym" of Mattson Rural High School has been finished. The stage curtain which we have been looking for, for the last week has arrived. The curtain is being put up today. It is a very attractive stage curtain. The front curtain is made of purple velvet with a valance trimmed in silver fringe and silver monogrammed "M." There is also an advertising curtain and side draperies of gray cloth.

MUSTANG'S CORRAL

Ex-College and High School Stars Join In Scrimmage Practice

The Mattson Mustangs met the Haskell Indians in a practice scrimmage Monday, November 1, on the Indian's field.

Virgil (Slick) Reynolds, Akins, J. R. Coody, Dick Coody, and Red Whitaker assisted the Mustangs in the backfield. All enjoyed the undertaking.

BASKET BALL NOTES

Basketball practice has begun, and will soon be well underway. The beautiful gymnasium is practically completed. It will take hard practice to turn out a winning team, but with a good coach and willing players, it will not be so hard to accomplish.

Almost every girl in high school has come out for basketball. Now it has been decided that Mr. Coody and Mr. Watson will be the coaches.

The Mattson-Sylvester game, October 29, proved to be a thriller. The Mustangs galloped to a 19-6 victory. Mayfield made the first touchdown, McGuire ran for the second one, and three of the boys pushed the puskins over the line for the third touchdown. A completed pass followed the third touchdown making the final score.

The Sylvester pep squad honored our team by presenting the captain, Clyde Crume, with a bouquet of lovely flowers before the game.

November 11, the Mustangs will play Aspermont at Rule at 10:00 a. m. Let's all go and back our grand old Mustangs.

(The following letter was received from some of our fans in California):

2361 Foothill
Oakland, Calif.
October 31, 1937.

Mattson Rural High School,
Haskell, Texas.

Dear Alma-Mater:

We have been keeping up with your football games, but we think you should have the Round Up in every issue of the Free Press that is published. We think that you should give us more dope about the games. Give us the low-down.

We would like to know if the All-American center, Mr. Crume, was very badly hurt in the Rule game. We are behind you one hundred per cent.

We would like to recommend the University of California for your graduates. California has the best football team in the nation this year.

We wish you luck.—Horace Atchison, Emmett Couch, G. V. Stratton, Jelly Conner, L. A. Stratton, Jr.

(We wish to say that we appreciate this letter very much. We are glad that you are standing behind us, and we shall try to give you more satisfactory accounts of the games.)

JUNIOR CLASS HAS PICNIC

The junior class met Tuesday night, Nov. 2, and went on a picnic in the Couch pasture by the reservoir.

The lunch consisted of sandwiches, cookies, candy, and drinks. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wray, our sponsors; LaVera Guess, Ruth McGuire, Jack Miles, Elmer C. Watson, Leon Myles, Glenn Edwards, Ed Wilfong. All reported a very nice time.

Mattson is honored with prominent visitors almost every day who are interested in inspecting our beautiful new school building and its modern gymnasium.

P.-T. A. MEETING

The Mattson Rural Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday November 2, in a very enjoyable meeting directed by Mrs. Jamie Wray. The subject discussed was "Health of the Child in the Home and School". A very interesting program followed. A Thanksgiving song and playlet was rendered by Mrs. Clifton's room, the third and fourth grades. P. T. A. members gave a health playlet.

The school carnival and entertainment for Christmas was discussed in the business meeting. We had three new members present. Mrs. Richards, Mrs. John McGuire and Mrs. Thelma Lewellen. We are happy to have these members, and we would be happy to have more join us.

Don't forget our meeting day—the first Tuesday in each month.

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Our copy for the Round Up must reach the Haskell Free Press by Friday of each week in order to come out in the Tuesday's issue. If some of our news seems a little "stale", please excuse us because of this fact. We do hope that our little paper will be an interesting news article for our friends to read. This is solely a school news sheet. We hope you enjoy it.

LOCALS

Miss Crume visited relatives in Eldorado and Altus, Oklahoma last week-end.

LaVera Guess visited friends in Weirner last week-end.

Several of our teachers attended the P. T. A. County Council at Haskell last Saturday.

A number of the students and teachers are enjoying the courtesy tickets, presented them by the Texas Theatre, by attending the good shows being offered.

The young people's class of Cottonwood Sunday School enjoyed a Weirner roast last Saturday night. Miss Gladys Crume of Eldorado, Oklahoma, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Gladys Crume, this past week. (Believe it or not).

SENIORS ENTERTAIN WITH WEINER ROAST

The Seniors with a few invited guests, had an enjoyable time on their weiner roast Monday evening.

Everyone met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crume and went down in the pasture at an appropriate place for roasting the weiners. The weather proved an appetizer for hot roasted weiners, and as the hour neared for foot-baby boys and "mama's little girls" to be at home, it was hard to break loose from the enchanting fire and surroundings.

CHAFF
(From The Seniors)

What is it that we hear about those half dates. Does it take two to make one?

Is Juanita's interest still lingering in Stanton—Come on someone, help us out on this.

Clyde, you have our heartfelt sympathy.

We are delighted to have Dale H. back in school with us. Our Senior class has an even number again.

Henry M. we want to hand it to you on your cute date Monday night, careful though you might be loser.

Lou, hasn't your mother taught you that when you go some place with anyone you should come back that same way. (We'll excuse you Monday night).

We all had a Halloween of a time this week-end.

There is a certain Junior girl that made this remark about some Senior boys, "Oh, they will make a girl think that they will show them a Halloween of a time." (Don't try to guess their names.)

We see Henry D. is back to a "use-to-be."

Come on Rip, you must make a football hero after all. (At least Jessie K. is for you).

John Melvin, how do you do that? Be at home in bed obeying Coach Coody's rules, and er-er-un well, somewhere else too.

Elva, we feel sure you are holding out on us; we would like to learn more about Saturday night.

LaVerne, did you say you did or didn't get nervous when a certain football player got hurt during the game at Sylvester?

John Alex, why didn't you tell Miss Perrin what it was all about Friday? We are sure that she wanted in on the conversation.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?
(Junior Class)

That certain Juniors got invitations to the Senior picnic?

That LaVera has a swell keepsake from a certain little boy? (His initials are J. M.)

Why Gwyn has that romantic scent? (Could it be Palmolive?)

Building

Whether you're building, remodeling, or "fixing-up" for winter there's extra economy in our complete service.

Our stocks make it possible to select the right material for every kind of building. That means a better, more dependable job in every case. If it's roofing, painting, repairing, papering, or building see us.

R. B. SPENCER & CO.
John A. Couch, Mgr.

STRANGE BUT TRUE
(Sophomores)

The Sophomore class has three boys playing football.

There were only two students present in our class last Tuesday. Miss Crume gave an easy English test.

Marshall is worrying about when Isabella is coming back to school.

James Robert is working hard in shop.

Mr. Watson put off our Algebra test until Monday.

How plain Henrietta talks.

The English class had two Miss Gladys Crumes with them the other day.

Doris is a "dish-water blonde".

Have you ever noticed how Sweets rolls her eyes at Horace?

James Robert and Max sat next to each other in English test and made the same grade.

The boys in shop work are learning to make great things such as bird cages and dog houses. They are building the dog houses for Mr. Wray's and Mr. Coody's hounds.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?
(Freshman Report)

Miss Crume without a smile.
Jerry handing in a messy paper.
Leon sitting on all four legs of his chair.
Rebus bringing a book to class.
Wanda sitting on the front seat.
Fay talking so loud in class.
Leon not acting silly.
Louise being so quiet.
Betty eating candy in class.
Jerry not laughing in science class.
Miss Perrin's face turning red.
Ben being a short fellow.
Elvis facing the front.
Raymond Couch not talking in general science class.
Margaret with curly hair.
Joe without his boots.
Raymond S. without blonde hair.

Why John Alex nose is always skinned? (Shame on you, LaVerne).

If Lou was really angry when she kicked that chair in the study hall?

Miss Perrin seems to be doing very well with Haskell? (Especially a part of it).

LaVerne's slamming doors has become a part of her?

That the Juniors are very popular, especially with Freshmen and Seniors?

Mr. Coody has lots of fun out of teasing LaVera and Louise?

Dale is the sorriest guy in school?

That W. J. A. and H. E. D. initials are rubbed out in bus No. 1?

The typing class gets angry when they have to start a new copy?

HOSS LAFFS

Ruth—Yesterday I saw five men standing under one umbrella, and not one of them got any water on himself.

Jessie Kate—Was it a big umbrella?

Ruth—No, it wasn't raining.

Mr. Wray—Waiter, just look at this piece of chicken; it is nothing but skin and bones.

Waiter—Yes sir. D'you want the feathers, too?

Mr. Watson was testing the knowledge of the freshman general math class. Slipping a half dollar on the desk, he asked sharply—"What is that?"

Rebus—"Tails."

On November 2nd at 3:30 p. m. in the Holden Funeral Home the Haskell Cemetery Association met in the absence of the president, Mrs. Joe Maples. Mrs. F. L. Peavy, president pro tem, called the house to order and the minutes were read. Miss Velma Hambleton accompanied little Miss Billie June Phillips, in a vocal solo, "The Right Somebody To Love." Reports were given by Mrs. Peavy, Mrs. Felix Frierson and Mrs. V. E. Kuentler in regard to the food booth that was sponsored during the fair. We are twice grateful to the public for your assistance in helping clear the cemetery and if you will drive out you will see there is beginning to show that a little from each person will finally get the job done. Since the dues for a whole lot is $3.00 per year, how much work do you expect a keeper to do per month for 25 cents? This question was discussed in our meeting.

We are grateful to Mr. W. O. Holden for the comfortable room he furnished together with his nice contribution toward cleaning the cemetery.

We adjourned to meet December 7th at 3 p. m. Will you come and join this association? There is to be elected a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer. Mrs. John Crawford refuses to be all of these. Thanking the public once again for your lovely cooperation, we promise to continue work on the appearance of our cemetery.
