COUNTY VOTERS INDIFFERENT IN ELECTION HERE

Light Vote Polled In Giving Approval to Changes in Constitution

Complete returns from thirteen of the county's 22 voting boxes Tuesday morning indicated that Haskell county voters had given indifferent approval to six proposed amendments to the State constitution in the special election held Monday.

Included in the list of thirteen boxes reported were all of the largest voting boxes in the county with the exception of Weiner.

Returns tabulated were from the four Haskell boxes, two Rule boxes, Rochester, Sageron, Tanner, Paint, Jim Hogg, Cliff and Jud. Three hundred and seventy votes were tallied from the thirteen boxes, with the following results:

Amendment No. 1, bank stock liability 279 for, 78 against. No. 2, aid for destitute children 280 for and 90 against. No. 3, abolishing salary system 190 for and 165 against. No. 4, tax discount 304 for and 59 against. No. 5, Harris county road plan 186 for and 150 against. No. 6, aid for blind 297 for and 67 against.

Incomplete state returns Tuesday morning indicated that with the exception of the fee system amendment (No. 2) voters were giving approval to the proposed constitutional changes.

The proposed amendments were as follows: 1. To fix the liability of stockholders in state banks. 2. To provide financial aid with federal government assistance, to destitute children under 14, $8 per capita maximum monthly, and $12 monthly maximum within one family.

NEW INDUSTRIES CAN HELP SOLVE REVENUE PUZZLE

Encouragement, Not Tax Threats, Plus Economy, Is Col. Thompson's Idea

AUSTIN, August 24 (Special)—Revenue accruing from the natural expansion of industries, combined with some decrease in governmental expense, can and will solve the Texas taxation-financial problem without the imposition of new tax burdens—that is the view of Col. Earnest O. Thompson, member of the Railroad commission and chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission.

Col. Thompson, recently returned to Paris, where he was President Roosevelt's delegate to the World Petroleum conference, substantiated his assertion with facts regarding the oil industry and the revenues it yields to the state, and showed that "what was done with oil can be done with other industries, but they must be encouraged instead of threatened constantly with too strict regulation and higher taxes."

"Everything goes back to purchasing power, and when this latter increases, revenues for conduct of state governments increase, as facts prove," Thompson is quoted in a report of the All-South Development Council. "When the state encourages industry to expand, it means more investments, expanded payroll, greater purchases of supplies and equipment, thus benefiting the merchant, the farmer and the rancher—for all three must sell to industrial payrolls."

"The Texas citizens, government and legislature should do all in their power to encourage this industrial expansion, and when it takes place there will be no need to worry over state finances, for that will solve itself," Thompson said.

Pointing out that although Texas in 1936 produced and sold 462,000,000 barrels of oil, the state closed the year with 740,000,000 more barrels in reserve than it started with, the commissioner said that the state has enough oil to last 40 more years under production even if no new fields are brought in, although 44 new fields were brought in last year.

"Even with more revenues from more diverse industries, if we have trouble making ends meet we should do it by decreasing the cost of government rather than boosting taxes. Other states and counties have done this and there is no reason why it can't be done in Texas."

"We should capitalize on the advertising the Centennial shows gave us to interest new industries and develop new markets. This would be carrying out what those great governors, Hogg and Coke, urged many years ago, to advertise and develop Texas. Those two never urged high taxes upon people or industries of Texas."

C-C Directors Meeting Slated This Afternoon

YIELD OF COTTON AND FEED WILL BE DOUBLED IN ESTIMATE OF MANY

ABLE-BODIED MEN WILL BE DROPPED FROM RELIEF ROLL

Expected To Secure Work In Gathering of Fall Crops

Mrs. Kaye Perdue, county case worker, was informed this week by State Director Adam E. Johnson of the state relief commission that all able-bodied men should be dropped from the relief rolls of the county until the fall season of harvesting farm crops is over.

The demand for private employment and the fall crops will give work to many now on relief rolls. Mrs. Perdue stated that it was the opinion of the relief commission that it was not necessary to import labor into Haskell county and that there would probably be enough men on local relief to take care of most of the farm labor needed to gather fall crops. It would also reduce greatly the relief load of the county and state, she was informed.

Spending Power and Population Industry Lures

Growing consumer markets, along with lower combined production and distribution costs resulting from decentralized operations, are two powerful arguments in favor of establishing new industrial plants in the Southwest, says a report from Dallas of the All-South Development Council.

In two of the elements most vital to healthy consumer markets—population and purchasing power—the Southwest and Texas particularly, have records and "prospects" unmatched elsewhere, the report points out. The Lone Star state's gain of 20 per cent in purchasing power in 1936, compared to the national gain of only six per cent; the high per capita "effective money income" ratings of Dallas (46th), Galveston (49th), San Antonio and Austin (74th) and Fort Worth (81st); and Texas' 69 per cent "under 35" population illustrate its advantages in these guides to industrial and commercial location.

Besides her 100 per cent gain in population since 1900, compared to 69 per cent for the nation at large, Texas has gained 5.03 per cent between 1930 and 1936, better than the national gain of 4.61. Allied with these factors—and to a large extent responsible for them—are the natural resources whose development has brought extensive payrolls, profits, population and revenue to the state and whose existence is another potential magnet for more expanding and decentralizing—and new—industries.

The effectiveness of these magnets depends upon the ability of those engaged in "merchandising" Texas' charms and qualifications to interested industries, and upon the assurance they are able to give as to the state's willingness to encourage industry.

A hint of such assurance is to be found in current efforts of many business and governmental leaders of the state to move toward a balanced state budget by reducing expenditures and eliminating waste in government. The report terms this move "in welcome contrast to the traditional, and still somewhat persistent, Texas formula of trying to catch up with deficits by 'hitting the natural resources another lick'."

As for possibilities of new industries based on resources, the report cites an article by C. C. Rokenback of the St. Louis Southwestern railway in the Manufacturers Record which analyzes paper and pulp resources and markets of the southwest, the iron ore deposits of Cherokee County, lignite deposits near Carbondale, and limestone resources of Waco, Lime City, Oglesby and Cavitt. Development of these and many other potential resources, the report concludes, may well lower transportation costs, and a less punitive legislative attitude toward those who transform native wealth into tangible commodities.

Precipitation of Four Inches Is Generally Heavy Over Wide Area

More than four inches of rainfall, generally heavy over the entire county and a wide area of West Texas, falling over a period of four days, will result in doubling the yield of cotton and feed-stuffs in Haskell county, according to estimates of farmers.

Opening of cotton, which had started prematurely in all parts of the county will be halted, and the moisture will allow the plants to put on additional bolls and assure full maturity of a bumper crop without additional moisture.

With an estimated 150,000 acres of cotton planted in the county, and discounting damage of insects, several farmers and business men estimate that the production of cotton in the county from this year's crop will be in the neighborhood of 50,000 bales. Previous to the rains last week, ginnery and cotton buyers had estimated the crop outlook for a production of around 20,000 bales in the county.

Yield of late feed crops will also be materially increased as a result of the moisture which will insure maturity. The heavy rains will also eliminate "water hauling" in some sections, as farmers throughout the county report that tanks were filled to overflowing, and ranges and pasture land were also benefited.

To all precipitation recorded here was in excess of four inches, according to Mrs. F. T. Sanders, in charge of the Government weather gauge.

BOXING TOURNEY POSTPONED UNTIL THURS. SEPT. 9

Vernon Pastor Delivers First Sermon Monday Night; To Use Tabernacle

Continued rains Saturday caused further postponement of the third amateur boxing tournament, originally scheduled for Thursday night of last week.

Dates for the next events has been set for Thursday, Sept. 9th, as no matches will be held during the meeting now in progress at the Methodist Church, sponsors announced.

For the September event, matches are now being arranged between fighters from Rotan, Paducah, Woodson and other surrounding towns. A full team from Abilene has also been promised local sponsors, to include at least one challenger in each weight division and several colored fighters from that city.

Principal match for that date will likely be between Lon McMillin of this city and Obid Nelson of Aspermont. Fred Acosta, Stamford Mexican who defeated "Sparky" Hill negro pugilist of Haskell last night at Stamford, will also be matched in the tournament here.

Another event that should prove of interest to local fans may result from the challenge issued by Earnest "Rosy" McMillin to Pete Prewitt of Stamford for a return three-round bout in a recent match at Stamford. Prewitt was given the decision. McMillin promises a different outcome in the event if Prewitt accepts his challenge.

PROTECTING THE UNWORTHY

A business man writing in a newspaper in another State recently related that for thirty years he had watched business men "gang up" against reformed and thus protect those who were disgracing their class.

Certainly, when a business, an industry or a profession harbors those who make a jest out of service and a racket out of the privileges they enjoy the public is justified in believing that the business, industry or profession defends and approves those who are unworthy of their tolerance.

We have no particular class of people in mind but the observation applies very forcefully, we think to certain professions.

Examples could be used but are unnecessary to advance the plea that men of all walks in business life seriously consider the obligations that they owe the public and ascertain whether their associates are, as a class, rendering society a full value for the compensation received.

CAN WOMEN CONTROL BUSINESS?

The fact that the women of the United States already own 70 per cent of the country's private wealth is asserted by Ralph B. Wilson, vice-president of Babson's Reports, a business statistical organization.

This leads us to the thought that many years ago it was fondly imagined that women, once their influence penetrated business and industry, would ameliorate conditions that men in their hardness of heart, permitted to continue. The idea was that the mother instinct of women would lead the world to a greater willingness to share economic blessings and that, gradually, a better race would thus result.

The fact that women own a great portion of the wealth of the nation, however, does not necessarily mean that they control business and industry, which probably continues to be dominated by men. However, the day cannot be far off when women will control the business that they own and then, what will be the economic policy dictated by the women? It may be time for women of conscience to consider an answer to the question.

Mr. Wilson insists that women own one-fourth to one-third of our industries and comprise from one-third to one-half of the stockholders of our large corporations. This means that they should begin to have some voice in the conduct of business generally and exert some pressure to alleviate the ills of selfishness in the business world.

MANY AVENUES OF DEVELOPMENT

Residents of Haskell are interested in its growth and development but most of us give little thought to the type of development that we encourage.

There are citizens interested in only one phase of growth, that measured by the dollar. They consider a town something to brag about when it gets more income and ignore practically all other phases of improvement that might be possible. A new industry is something to talk about but few other developments rate anything.

While every section should have a balance between its agriculture and industrial activity and the establishment of this ratio is important there are factors in any part of the world that are vital to the successful growth and development of city or country that are not measured in dollars. These relate to the cultural development of the people and, in the long run, they are the most important.

Contrary to the average idea the development of cultural matters does not require a great amount of money. There are hundreds of ways in which any citizen of Haskell county, for example, can contribute to the improvement of social and cultural levels here. All that is needed is the will to improve conditions and a desire to speed the development. Many of these contributions relate to the life of children, whose rights are seldom seriously considered even by thinking people.

KNOWLEDGE A VALUABLE TOOL

Many years ago the psalmist lamented "that he who increases knowledge increases sorrow" and the world has been plagued with many similar thinkers since that day.

We have something of a counterpart in this era among those who decry scientific knowledge and the detailed intelligence of the specialist in many fields. We have also a fringe of the population who cherish the idea, often advanced by earlier citizens, that "inner illumination" is all that one needs. The advance of intelligence in the world has not yet halted before such ignorant barriers and as men and women look ahead they visualize a world in which the truth will eventually become clearly established. It is a goal worth seeking because past experience leads to the conclusion that the welfare of mankind will be best served by its attainment.

Not every individual who becomes a specialist, however, is equipped with the broadness of vision that enables one to appreciate other achievements in the realm of knowledge. Not every intelligent citizen is balanced in the philosophy of living that must make us servants of our age. The conclusion is easy to reach that intelligence, by itself, is not enough but the man must possess some other force or factor, which for want of a more definite term, might as well be referred to as "inner illumination."

Young people who happen to stray into these columns of the Haskell Free Press should not overlook the important of intelligence as an instrument toward greater achievement, both for individuals and the race as a whole. They should not put their trust entirely in knowledge but should also develop themselves in harmony with their own personal "inner illumination." Combined with faithful adherence to inner guides intelligence becomes a powerful force in life.

Up until Thursday noon, 28 bales of cotton had been received on the local yard, according to Public Weigher Jess Edwards, and it is expected that cotton will be moving rapidly by the last of the week.

In order to conserve fuel, power, and equipment, effective Tuesday August 22, and until further notice, passenger trains Nos. 5 and 6 will be discontinued between Wichita Falls and Abilene.

Work on the Glenn well in the southeast part of the county has been suspended for several days. The test has reached a depth of more than two thousand feet, and several good showings of oil and gas have been encountered, but not in paying quantities.

The Haskell Ice & Light Company began work this week on adding another line to the electric transmission line which serves the Munday section.

Theodore Pace and Mart Clifton spent Sunday on the river fishing. A. L. Anthony of Abilene, athletic coach of the High School for the coming year, arrived in Haskell Wednesday, and has started lining up material for the High School football squad.

The sheds and fences on the lot back of Sherrill Bros. & Co. are being removed this week. The lots will be cleared and this space will be used as a trading ground for farmers and others who have need for same.

Wylie Quattlebaum and family and Chas. Fouts and family returned last week from a vacation trip spent in New Mexico. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cobb Saturday August 19, a fine boy.

August 25, 1927

A premium which totalled $91.50 was raised by the business men of this city last week for the first bales of 1927 cotton, and was divided among the first three farmers who brought in last week's cotton.

After ten months of mystery which has surrounded the murder of J. K. Beauchamp, Haskell night-watchman, the arrest last week of two Comanche county men and a confession by one of them in which he implicated the other, has proven the truth of the age-old adage that "murder will out." Walter King, 20, and Reuben Davis, 26, both of Comanche, are in jail charged with the murder of Beauchamp, who was slain on the night of October 26, 1926, apparently just as he had surprise thieves who had broken into the Davis Economy store on the west side of the square.

Mr. Baines, representative of the Southern Fire Equipment Co. of Dallas, was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday demonstrating a new type of pumper fire truck. The machine demonstrated here was being delivered to the city of Snyder.

The Hardin Lumber Company has purchased the Morris-Smith Lumber yard in Throckmorton, and will put in a modern lumber yard in that city.

Leaf worms in great numbers are appearing in many of the cotton fields of Haskell county, according to county agent W. P. Trice who has inspected several fields in the county during this week.

Miss Sally Arend of Abilene, was a visitor in Haskell over the week-end.

AMERICA'S NO. 1 LOVER WAS AN OIL DRILLER

CLARK GABLE was little different from any other small town boy. Born in Cadiz, Ohio, in 1900, and later living in Hopedale, Ohio, population 500, Clark Gable was a regular American boy, fond of the outdoors and all sports. Motherless from the time he was seven months old, he was raised by his grandparents until his father remarried. He held a deep love and respect for his stepmother.

Like any other normal American boy, Clark Gable was not sure what position he would like to hold in life. He thought for awhile that he might be an architect, and later he studied medicine at night school. Ambitious but poor, he had to work from the time he was seventeen years old, and his jobs were as varied as his opportunities. He was time-keeper in a rubber factory, call boy in a theater, an oil driller, a telephone lineman, a surveyor's assistant and a lumberjack. Clark Gable might have been anything but a motion picture actor.

He became a star by traveling the hard road of theatrical stock companies and motion picture extra, overcoming many disappointments, until he reached the pinnacle in "It Happened One Night," which won the Motion Picture award for the best picture of 1934. G.—WNU Service.

Johnson Grass Found To Be Valuable Crop

Johnson grass has proved useful for pasturage and as a hay crop during recent droughts, and yet can be eradicated from cultivated fields if proper methods are used. W. B. Gernert, agronomist at the Oklahoma A. & M. College, comments in defending the usefulness of the grass.

"A stand of Johnson grass may be more valuable on certain land than any cultivated crop would be," the agronomist asserts, and the value of the Oklahoma law passed several years ago which prohibits anyone from allowing Johnson grass to seed has been questioned he adds.

The anti-Johnson grass law has not been generally enforced. Gernert suggests a plan for eradicating the grass from land where it is not wanted by close grazing and intensive cultivation.

Johnson grass is extremely hardy, he explains, because it has two kinds of roots, fibrous roots close to the surface of the soil which die during cold weather or drought, and heavy, fleshy root stocks called rhizomes which are deeper in the soil.

Ordinary cultivation breaks up the fibrous roots, but merely loosens the soil around the rhizomes and makes them grow better.

Can Grow Profitable Crop
If the grass is pastured heavily or cut very close during the growing season, the rhizomes grow nearer the surface, and can be turned up with a plow in the fall. Cattle and hogs may be turned into the field to eat the sweet juicy roots.

Following this treatment, the field should be plowed or, preferably, listed at regular intervals of two or three weeks during the winter and spring until June. Then sorghums or, on moist bottom land June corn may be planted and cultivated regularly. "Thus," Gernert concludes, "a profitable crop may be grown while the eradication of the grass is going on."

The agronomist advises against poisoning the grass because it is too expensive and is also dangerous. Poisoning may also ruin the fertility of the land for two or three years, he comments.

THE FIRST DIAL TELEPHONE

Dial telephones are somewhat of a puzzling mystery to many of us who reside in the smaller cities, and are considered "new"—they have been in use for almost forty years. The first patent for a rotating telephone dial was issued exactly forty one years ago today—on August 20, 1896. The inventor claimed the device insured better and quicker telephone service by eliminating the human element in calling "numbers".

This agency gives "better service" on Insurance. See us today.

BETTER GRASS VARIETIES AIM OF PASTURE RESEARCH

Single grass plants in a pasture do not get much attention because there are so many of them, but a pasture is the sum of the individual plants in it as surely as a crop of corn is the sum of all the corn plants in the field. Farmers seed the more productive strains of wheat and other cereals. But generally they overlook the point that there probably is as much difference in bluegrasses, for example, as here is in wheats. One plant may produce several times as much feed as another, and if all the bluegrass plants in a pasture were so good as the best of them, that kind of pasture might well provide feed for more animals for a longer season.

This is roughly the idea back of Federal and State pasture research. P. V. Cardon, in charge of pasture plants for the United States Department of Agriculture, points out

Switch To ELECTRIC COOKERY with NEW LOW RATE!

Rate Reduced to

2 1/2¢

Per Kilowatt Hour.

Electric Cookery Averages No More than One Cent a Meal per Person

NEW RATE EFFECTIVE NOW!

Requiring usage of the modernized, speedier, and cleaner type of cookery provided by the Electric Range, a new, comprehensive rate, conducive to greater use of Electric Service, becomes effective with this month's payment of bills. Under its provisions ALL OVER 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current used each month costs only 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour. The basis for the reduction is the proven theory that "the more you use, the less it costs."

This reduction, amounting to 16 2/3 per cent, is designed to make Electric Cookery as practical, from the standpoint of fuel, as any other type. The fact that there is no combustion makes Electric Cookery cleaner. A greatly improved flattened calrod heats almost instantaneously and hugs the bottom of utensils to prevent escape of heat. There is no flame to burn up oxygen, thus making air fresher and cooler in the kitchen. It is automatic, thus making it easier. Cleaner! Cooler! Easier! And this new, low rate makes Electric Cookery just as cheap or, in many instances, cheaper. Add faster. It's another reason for switching to Electric Cookery.

Lowers Cost of Lighting, Refrigeration And All Other Residential Usage Over 50 K.W.H. per Month

Many, many homes already use over 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current each month. By adding the electric range to kitchen equipment (it has proven itself the most valuable of all Electric Servants) you secure a rate of 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour on ALL current used over 50 K.W.H. used monthly.

This means that when you reach the higher usage brackets for light, refrigeration, and all other domestic purposes, your electric bill is calculated at a rate which actually amounts to a saving. It permits increased usage at no additional cost. Best of all, it permits Electric Cookery to enter homes which heretofore considered it "too high."

We invite you to come in so that we may show you the latest models in Electric Ranges. We believe you will approve of Electric Cookery—and the new rate that permits you to use the switch.

New Stars Added To Fiesta Shows

With attendance at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta continuing above last year, Billy Rose, director general, has announced several new acts for Casa Manana, Pioneer Palace and the Firefly Garden as a means of adding the spice of variety to the solid entertainment fare.

Joe Jackson, who for more than forty years has been hailed by audiences here and abroad as one of the foremost comic pantomimists has been added to the cast of the Casa Manana revue. He is presenting his cleverly timed, laughable tramp bicycle act.

Also new in the roster of Casa Manana talent are the Huberts, Fritz and Jean, who are offering their amusing version of two inebrriates escorting each other home.

The Three Swifts, comic jugglers who have recently starred in New York at the French Casino, will be added to Casa Manana on August 21.

In Pioneer Palace, Rose is introducing this week Art Frank and Chester Frederick, stellar dancers. Frank is an amusing rube dancer and Frederick does a thoroughly modern hot jazz dance routine.

The addition of the new acts is expected to increase the enthusiasm of the public for the Fiesta shows which, box office figures reveal, is even now at a high pitch.
