BESIDE THE POINT

Dispatches from Washington hint that we may yet have the edifying spectacle of a Senate filibuster as an added feature of the pitched battle over President Roosevelt's Supreme Court revision program.

KEEPING THE IRON HORSE

The steam locomotive is still the backbone of railroad transportation in this country and will continue to be so for many years to come.

"In this field," says Mr. Winterrowd, "the steam locomotive remains the simplest, most reliable mechanically, most flexible unit, involving lower initial and maintenance costs than any other form of railroad motive power that has been suggested."

PERSISTENT JOB SLACK

Although unemployment remains one of the principal factors in America's industrial equation, nevertheless it is continuing to decline.

April, and that the total re-employed since the first of January is 1,400,000 persons. As an indicator of steady improvement in business, this is extremely encouraging.

"SCHOOLING" IN THEATER

If a profession is to live, it must afford some starting point for beginners. And if that opportunity for a start is shut off arbitrarily, the ambitious beginners will find another one it seems.

A good illustration is the report by Variety, a radio, stage and screen publication, that since the passing of vaudeville the honky-tonk night spots are being used as springboards to careers by novice entertainers.

Such sorry commentary on the "state of the theater" in America will inspire much tongue clucking. This form of shoddy apprenticeship no doubt is shocking, but there is none to blame but the people who buy the tickets.

LET THE BUYER BEWARE

Postmaster General Farley is moving against one of the meanest of all rackets—the promotion of fake mutual benefit life protection organizations which has cost the American public thousands of dollars annually.

The shysters who run these rackets pretend to sell insurance, although they are careful not to use that word. They sell their policies to anyone, without requiring medical examinations, welcoming prospects up to the age of 85.

"Before you invest, investigate," is an excellent rule for the buyer of insurance. While the postal authorities are driving these crooks out of business, the rule is commended to your attention.

DICTATOR ONCE DEPENDENT ON CHARITY
 YOU may not agree with the principles advanced by Adolf Hitler, or you may be an enthusiastic admirer of his. In either case you will be interested in looking at the man and his life to see what lessons we may learn. Perhaps the greatest inspiration to be drawn from the German dictator's life is a word of encouragement for those whose early lives may seem failures.
 Adolf Hitler was born on the Bavarian frontier of Germany in 1889, the son of a customs official who had political ambitions for him. The boy developed a desire to be an artist. His father opposed him, so Adolf refused to study in school. He was the despair of his father and mother. When he was eighteen, he went to Vienna and applied for admission to the Academy of Art. His art was too poor to qualify and they directed him to the architectural school, but his loafing in early grades made it impossible for him to pass entrance requirements there. At nineteen, his mother died, and as his father had died five years before, he was left alone.
 For three years he slept in a cheap men's hotel in Vienna, getting his meals at a monastery and occasionally begging from passers-by. In the winter he shoveled snow to earn a living. Whenever he earned a few kronen, he stopped work and went to some cheap cafe to deliver political speeches. He painted poor water colors which a friend peddled for him, he painted picture postcards, and when hungry enough was a house painter. During the war he was a corporal.
 Here was a man in his thirties who had never shown any real promise in anything he did. Then, Adolf Hitler formed an ideal of government.

The Foster Home Demonstration Club
 "Let your own family's personal opinion be your guide in bread-making," urged Miss Mildred Vaughan when she met with the Foster Home Demonstration Club Thursday June 24, in the home of Mrs. Jim Best.
 The woman who bakes bread for a family of boys and girls or working men will probably find that larger rolls and buns meet with more favor than smaller ones. On the other hand, there are others to whom the smaller buns would more readily appeal. There can be no hard and fast rules along this line. In bread making, we should strive for quality. A loaf of bread should weigh approximately 2 pounds, be golden brown smooth oval top, with no budes. The inside of the bread should be a creamy white color and have a rich, yeasty odor and a parched grain flavor. The brand of flour used controls the color of bread to a certain extent.
 Bread has been called "The staff of life," and rightly so, but we should not leave out the other essentials of diet. With quality bread rounding out the meal we can serve our family attractive, nutritious foods.
 The rolls brought by the members were judged and scored by the cards Miss Vaughan gave each member.
 During the social hour, the hostess served fruit salad, cookies and iced drinks to the following: Visitors, Misses Dorothy Kate Watson, Katherine Goble, Elizabeth Server, Mrs. J. N. Howard, Members, Mesdames, J. E. Adams, G. M. Wade, Jno. Hamilton, E. M. Server, J. O. Yarbrough, W. M. Reid, A. H. Allen, M. G. Martin.

Preview of Casa Manana Bears Out Prediction That This Years' Exposition Would Be "Bigger and Better"

With the promise that the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta would be bigger and better than the 1936 production, Billy Rose and other officials of the Fort Worth show invited the press and radio people of the southwest to see the last dress rehearsal of the Casa Manana revue Friday night before the show opened Saturday. The party was attended by about 2,500 newspaper and radio representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Duncan attended from Haskell.

Those who attended the performance were liberal in their praise of the 1937 production and agreed that Fort Worth had made good on her promise of a "Bigger and better than the 1936 show".

In the Casa Manana revue Billy Rose selected four widely different best sellers for the four sequences which compose this year's show: "Gone With the Wind", "Wake Up and Live", "Lost Horizon" and "It Can't Happen Here".

Every sequence of the 1937 revue and each of the special acts were greeted with thunderous applause.

From the beginning, when the Whiteman band swung into the popular theme song of the 1936 show "The Night is Young" there was spontaneous applause from the audience.

Miss Harriet Hector, sensational dancing star of the 1937 revue, was greeted with long applause at her every appearance. Especially popular was her number in the "Gone With the Wind" scene.

The spectacular dances of Sammi and Michi and of the Stuart Morgan dancers were well received and the comedy of the Calgary Brothers and the dance team of Moore and Revel brought out many laughs. Paul Sydel and his trained dogs also made a hit, the singing Peppers drew a big hand on every number, especially the one where they appeared with Miss Grey Downs, Texas Sweetheart No. 1, and the Cabin Kids, singing pickaninnies, fairly panicked the preview audience.

The Pioneer Palace is one of the old favorites that will be on the grounds this year with a new show.

Among the new shows that will prove to be favorites of the Frontier Fiesta visitors this year are "Melody Lane" and "Firely Gardens" the beautifully lighted open air theatre where the celebrated "Salici Puppets" will be shown on the stage.

If you plan to attend the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta during the next few days, officials advise that reservations can be made as many of the performances have been sold out for three or four days in advance.

FROM the day of its introduction, the Firestone Standard Tire has more than lived up to its name by setting a new high standard of tire values. Hundreds of thousands of car owners have already bought it because they saw in it more value for their money.

"How does Firestone do it? How can they build so many extra value features into Firestone Standard Tires and yet sell them at such low prices?" The answer is simple—Firestone controls better-quality rubber and cotton supplies at their source, keeps manufacturing costs low by efficient factory methods and sells in such huge volume that distribution costs are held to a minimum.

Make no mistake about this! The Firestone Standard Tire gives you the blowout protection of Firestone's patented Gum-Dipping process. Its scientifically designed tread gives greater non-skid protection and longer wear. And those two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread guard against punctures.
