SAN ANTONIO YOUTH FACES CHARGES HERE

Final week of the District Court term in Kent county got underway at a rapid pace Monday, when Grand Jurors were recalled to investigate a drunk driving charge filed against a Lynn county farmer, arrested in Jayton late Friday by Sheriff Lee Cumbly. The Grand Jury voted an indictment charging T. R. Bennett with driving an automobile while intoxicated, and the defendant was tried and convicted Monday afternoon. He was fined $50, sentenced to serve five days in jail, and his driving license was revoked for six months.

The Grand Jury while in session Monday, also returned four indictments for misdemeanor theft, and adjourned again for the term Monday evening. Other proceedings during the first three days of the week included the imposition of a three years suspended sentence against Dean Norris, 19 year old Comanche county youth charged with forgery, who entered a plea of guilty and waived trial by jury. Cesario Campos, Mexican charged with child desertion, also entered a plea of guilty, and waived jury trial. A one year suspended sentence was assessed in this case and the defendant was ordered to pay $15 per month toward the support of his two children.

Several criminal and civil cases remain to be heard during the remainder of this week, which will mark the end of the current term for Kent county. On Monday, March 28, Judge Dennis Ratliff and District Attorney Chapman will go to Throckmorton for the opening of the District court term for Throckmorton county.

Regular Workers Conference of the Haskell Baptist Association will be held with the Sweet Home Baptist Church Tuesday, March 29, for an all day session. Theme of the program will be "Evangelism", and the following arrangement has been announced, beginning at 10 o'clock: 10 a. m. Devotional—H. H. Sego. 10:15 a. m. The Motive for Evangelism—Mrs. B. M. Jim Darden Will Not Be Candidate For County Judge

In a statement this week to the people of Haskell county, O. L. (Jim) Darden, former Commissioner of Precinct 4, announced that he would not be a candidate for the office of County Judge in the coming primaries. Mr. Darden offered for this place in the 1936 campaign, and has been prominently mentioned as a likely candidate this year.

Mr. Cullum and Sheriff Giles Kemp Monday identified tires and wheels stripped from the stolen trailer that had been sold to an Abilene wrecking yard. The trailer was found abandoned on the highway between Haskell and Stamford several hours after it was reported missing.

KENT DISTRICT COURT IS BUSY DURING MONDAY

Speedy Disposition Made of Three Felony Cases This Week

OPERATION OF NEW INDUSTRY HERE STARTED

Visitors thronged the plant of Haskell's newest industry, the $10,000 cooperative cheese plant during its first day of operation yesterday. All of the plant machinery with the exception of one unit was in readiness for the first day's operation, plant managers stated. Visitors were shown through the entire plant, and crowds filled the building throughout most of the day.

V. L. Alford, manager, and other officials of the plant, were highly pleased over the volume of milk received during the first day, which totalled almost half the capacity of the plant, they estimated. A total of 9,055 pounds of milk had been received up until noon Thursday, furnished by 171 patrons contacted on the first day's truck route operation. Thursday's receipts indicate a potential milk production in this trade territory to supply the plant, and a number of new patrons were signed up during the day after they had visited the plant and secured information concerning the local market provided for milk producers.

Mr. Alford stated that the plant would be in continuous operation in the future, running every day of the week, including Sundays, and a full day and night schedule will be adopted if warranted in the future by milk receipts.

Letters were sent from the County Agent's office to all producers who signed a 1937 Work Sheet in Haskell county, last week in order that the normal acreage of wheat planted over a period of years may be determined. It is necessary that all letters be signed and returned regardless of whether or not wheat has been planted. It is very important that the forms sent the producers be filled out and returned at once, as individual farm cotton allotments cannot be determined until this information is received. In case the producer is not working the same land farmed in 1937 this change must be shown on the letter sent him, or reported to the county agent's office. B. W. Chesser, county agent, urges that these forms be filled out accurately and returned to his office at once.

Garland Weaver, en route from Little Rock, Ark., to his home in Lubbock, visited Friday of last week with his aunt, Mrs. M. C. Satterwhite northwest of Weimert. Mr. Weaver is the grandson of T. W. Flenniken of this city. He reported things, although changed somewhat, as looking natural as he remembered them when he moved with his parents to Ralls, Texas at the age of 6 years, which was more than twenty years ago.

Interplanting Grain Sorghums With Legumes Is Soil-Depleting

The County Agent's office has just been advised that interplanting grain sorghums with summer legumes (peas) is considered as total soil-depleting, which means that the two rows of peas or fallow will not be retired acreage. "Some farmers have been advised they could plant two rows of sorghum and two rows of peas with only the two rows of sorghum being considered as soil-depleting, but latest instructions inform us that the entire acreage will be considered as soil-depleting, which would give it no credit for retired acreage," stated B. W. Chesser, county agent. If summer legumes are to be used on retired acreage to comply with the government program they will have to be planted in a solid block in order to receive credit as a soil-conserving crop.

PARENTS ASKED TO ASSIST IN SCHOOL CENSUS

All Children Between Ages of 6 and 17 Should Be Included

With only a few days remaining to complete the scholastic census of Haskell county, parents and school patrons are being urged to assist in seeing that every child of school age in the county is included in the census. All children between the ages of 6 and 17 years are eligible as scholastics. A census enumerator has been assigned to each school district in the county to conduct the canvass, which must be completed during this month and a report filed with the state department of education. Parents of children within the scholastic age are requested to ascertain whether their children have been included in the census, and if not, to contact school officials in their respective districts immediately.

Attendance at Lions Meeting Tuesday Small

Judging from the attendance report of the Lions Club meeting Tuesday of this week, most of the members apparently were taking part in the rabbit drive south-east of town. Only nine members were present for the meeting and luncheon in the Tonkawa Coffee Shop.

Business transacted included the appointment of a committee composed of D. H. Persons, F. L. Daugherty and Sam Roberts, to confer with school officials and trustees regarding arrangement of a suitable place in the High School building for the display of a bird collection assembled by the late W. E. Sherrill. The valuable collection includes stuffed specimens and eggs of practically all wild birds native to this section, and Mr. Sherrill some time before his death expressed a wish to donate the collection to the Haskell schools.

The club also voted to approve the purchase of a suitable stage curtain for the High School auditorium by the Gypsy Ramblers Club, and agreed to underwrite the purchase price in the amount needed to supplement club funds in payment for the curtain. A talk by A. C. Pierson, Haskell National Bank cashier, on the subject of "Banking" was postponed until the next meeting of the club.

Gospel Meeting Begins Sunday at Church of Christ

Beginning next Lord's day the local church of Christ begins a gospel meeting to extend through April the 3rd, and perhaps a few days longer. The services of Mr. Thomas McDonald has been secured to do the preaching. He preaches for the church in Borge. This meeting is a special event of the church. The regular meeting will come in the summer as usual. But though a spring meeting is rather unusual with this church, yet it is expected to be one of the best meetings the congregation has had for some years.

DISREGARD THE HEADING. THE NEWS REALLY COMES FROM WEINERT

We're not trying to move our Weinert readers over to Rule, although they doubtless would be given a warm welcome there—neither are we trying to hoodwink our readers in Rule into thinking they live in the swell little town of Weinert. In "making up" our paper this week after a part of it was already printed we discovered that through error the Weinert news had been placed under the regular Rule heading.

APPROACHING CITY ELECTION CAUSES RISING INTEREST

Interest in city politics was enlivened this week with the entry of a third candidate in the race for the office of City Marshal, only city office likely to be contested in the election to be held Tuesday April 5th. H. K. (Buddie) Thompson announced Thursday that he would be a candidate for the Marshal's post and would file his name for a place on the ballot. Thompson was a candidate for this office in the city election two years ago. Other candidates for Marshal are Sebo Britton, seeking re-election for a second term, and Al Cousins, veteran peace officer and a former city marshal. Voters will also ballot for five other City officials—a Mayor, three Aldermen, and City Secretary-Treasurer—in the coming election. Candidates for these offices, all for re-election for a second term, are: F. G. Alexander for Mayor, Aldermen J. W. Gholson, John V. Davis and Ben Bagwell, and R. A. (Austin) Coburn for City Secretary-Treasurer. All are unopposed for the places.

Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club

"Lots of our ear troubles of today are caused by not properly drying the soap suds out of the ears," said Miss Mildred Vaughan to the members of the Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Leslie Lewis Thursday afternoon, March 17. We can make a very inexpensive bath room several ways. The overhead tank can be made into a shower bath with very little lumber, if we use some gunny sacks or duck for screen. A small space of the back porch can be walled up, a portable tub made of heavy duck with a rubber lining added will be very convenient. A child can be made to like his bath more by fixing towels to please him and be called his own. A small towel with a scottie embroidered on it is very attractive to a child. In selecting towels you must consider the color, size and texture, said Miss Vaughan as she continued her talk on Bathing Center. We had one visitor, Mrs. G. W. Mullins. Mrs. Lewis gave the council report. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Homer Turner, G. W. Mullins, J. M. Mancill, B. Seltz, L. F. Clark, M. E. Carothers, Less Lewis, F. King, A. C. Denson, O. J. McCain, Joe Holcomb, Ed Conner and Misses Nora Walters and Mildred Vaughan. Reporter

New Mid H. D. Club Has Interesting Meeting

"How I prolonged the life of my towels" was an interesting discussion by the women of the New Mid H. D. Club in their meeting Wednesday, March 16. The purpose, size, color and kinds of towels were discussed and also bath mats. A report of the district home demonstration meeting held at Seymour was given by Mrs. E. W. Hester. Reports of council and reporter meetings were given by Mrs. G. O. Ballard and Mrs. F. M. Hutchens. The following members then enjoyed the recreation games: Mesdames G. O. Ballard, M. L. Mayo, S. W. Hutchens, Lewis Hester, F. M. Hutchens and E. W. Hester. Reporter

The Mattson Home Demonstration Club

"The first problem to solve, in providing a bathing center in homes which are not modern, is the place to be used; then the equipment can be easily and economically procured," said Miss Mildred Vaughan in the meeting March 10 of the Mattson Home Demonstration Club at the Mattson schoolhouse. Many useful suggestions were given in discussing the bathroom equipment. Select bath towels to fit the need of the family, having some large and others small. Colored towels provide a note of color in the bath room and are a help to each member of the family in remembering his individual towels. Linen towels are best for face towels. Bath mats are useful and protect the feet from exposure. In the selection of bath soaps a mild soap is preferable. Harsh soaps are irritating to the skin. Bath salts is a matter of personal opinion. Be careful to always use some perfume in soap, powder and bath salts. The committee on furnishing the Home Economics cottage was appointed, Mrs. John McGuire, Pat Weaver and Jim Stanford. A number of sick visits were reported. Those present were: Mesdames J. B. Freeland, Carlos Bowen, Raymond Mercer, J. M. Hinkle, Clyde Mayfield, Thea Free, Vernon Buckley, Jim Stanford, E. A. Miles, Floyd McGuire, Vern Derr, Pat Weaver, John McGuire, E. C. Watson, D. F. Nicholson, Martin Rueffer, Speck Sorenson, Albert

The following ladies read chapters: Mesdames Montgomery, Irby, P. D. Sanders, Darnell and B. Cox. The theme of the entire book was found to be "Faith Without Works Is Dead". March Business
Expected To Top
February Month

Estimates for March of the leading business indexes are in general higher than the seasonally low February figures, according to Standard Statistics, New York. The service also finds business sentiment a shade better than at the beginning of February.

At Washington, continues the report, in sharp contrast to the attitude so widely publicized during the latter weeks of 1937, there has been a marked change within recent weeks in the government attitude toward business. Instead of the repeated attacks on business policies, on "big business" and on so-called "monopolies" which featured public utterances of federal officials two or three months ago, the recent trend has been strongly in the direction of encouraging a "normal" recovery.

There are no definite plans, nor is an specific legislative program contemplated, to effectuate the price program announced by the President recently, but mild credit measures, plus a let-up in reform undertakings and an increase in federal spending, are looked to as the means of bringing about a gradual recovery in basic commodity prices, while not greatly raising the general price level.

Congress, in the meantime, is proceeding to the serious consideration of the tax and appropriation measures which, as and when they are enacted, should lend business definite encouragement.

Price problems still confront most industries, and almost no line is entirely free from labor problems of one sort or another. Nevertheless, cost adjustments are being made gradually, the inventory situation is also slowly improving, and there are at least indications of improving consumer demand in some lines.

Revision Necessary
On Naval Fund, Says Inventor

Congress received a tip from an inventory last week in Washington that the Administration's $1-050,000,000 naval expansion program would have to be revised drastically due to the development of a mysterious new "aerial mine."

Lester P. Barlow of Stamford, Conn., the inventor, indicated belief that the device, dropped by bombing planes from tremendous heights, could "blanket" an area ten mile square in three or four minutes.

He told the House committee considering the naval expansion bill that he was the first man to use bombs in aerial warfare.

Barlow declared 12 years ago that he had developed a destructive "flying torpedo" with which we can hit Chicago 50 times a minute from Washington."

Sheriff Jimmie Lee Gordon of Anson was a business visitor in Haskell Wednesday.

Aubrey Fouts, farmer of the Rule section, was a business visitor in Haskell Wednesday.

T. A. Holcomb of Rule was a visitor in Haskell Wednesday, and while in town dropped in to renew for his Free Press for the ensuing year.

License Returned To Couple Married On April 22, 1903

The license issued for the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt of this city almost thirty-five years ago, has been a prized possession in their home since last Friday, when it was mailed to Mr. Hunt by Vivian Fryar, county clerk of Taylor county. The document, issued April 21, 1903, has lain unnoticed in the files of the Taylor county clerk since the ceremony was performed at Merkel April 22, 1903. Only message accompanying the document when mailed to Mr. Hunt was the brief notation: "Thought probably you would like to have this certificate."
