Students Appear On P. T. A. Program

Several students were contributors to the regular monthly program of the High School P. T. A. last Thursday afternoon. Hazel Foote a Junior, talked on "Texas Literature," discussing the Texas Folklore Society, the Texas Poetry Society, and numerous individuals of Texas who have gained national fame as literary artists. She concluded her talk by reading a very appropriate poem by Grace Nell Crowell, entitled "A Prayer For Mothers."

Six sophomore students appeared in a short skit "The Dean," which enacted scenes in the office of a dean of girls in a high school. Frances Merle Edwards played the part of the dean, Roy Buford that of the principal, and Mary Beth Monfere was a visiting P. T. A. member of the Committee on Student's Welfare. Christine Lowe, in the part of Rosie Rosinsky, is a student who comes to the dean in her unhappiness; the part of Mrs. Rosinsky, her mother was played by Frances Stephens. Woodrow Frazier played the part of Bob, a senior student who came to talk to the dean because he "couldn't get along with his English teacher."

High School students all have a part in the April program—if they will—in the "High School Hobbies Exhibit." Let's all enter and make it an interesting exhibit.

Senior Snapshots

Lilly Maud Martin one of the few seniors who has always attended school in Haskell is known as a bright spot on the campus because of her cheerfulness. She is always studious, yet always laughing and trying to find something good in every one. Her attitude is appreciated by both teachers and students. The most admirable of her traits however is her friendliness toward new students. This is one thing nearly all students need to try to cultivate. We truly appreciate Lilly Maud.

Maggie Lee Piland, one of Haskell's best basketball players, will not be seen on the campus next year. She will truly be missed. Since entering Haskell High School her chief interest has been athletics which centers around her basketball playing. Last year she won several medals and was recognized in the county.

Her leaving will leave an empty place in the study hall, but not in the hearts of her fellow students, for during the past years her place has become permanently established there.

Musical Notes From H. H. S.

It seems that students this year really love music, and even more than that, many of them enjoy making or helping make music. First of all we have the Choral Club which is better balanced and trained than ever before as a musical unit or group in our high school.

Another group of music makers composed of high school students is a four piece string band known as "Rhythm Racketeers." C. T. Field, W. B. Harrison, Clovis Keaton and Woodrow Frazier make up this group.

Still another group which is rapidly becoming known and being heard, composed of H. H. S. students also, are the "Rhythmic Ramblers" which may be classified as a brass orchestra or an orchestra composed of instruments that make music when blown except the piano.

Joe Maples and Duffer Crawford are now preparing for a musical contest which is to be held in Enid, Okla., April 15, 1937. Mayre Lena Tubbs accompanies each at the piano.

The Haskell Municipal Band is composed almost entirely of H. H. S. students this year and this group will present an assembly program in the near future.

We have heard from some far distant or vague source that Mr. Bowers is somewhat distinguished as a musician and is capable of playing the clarinet. We know already that he can sing.

Invitation Track Meet To Be Bigger Better This Year

Schools from the surrounding counties have already sent in their entries to Mr. Wimbish. There has been fifteen schools entered.

The meet is the largest we have ever staged. There will be awarded a large trophy to the winner. Also high point man and second high point man will receive medals. Every first place winner will receive a medal.

Roby, Rotan, Stamford, Anson, Rochester and Throckmorton have very large entries. Other schools entered are: Weinert, O'Brien, Aspermont, Sunset, Hawley, Sager-ton, Old Glory and Hamlin.

Mrs. Wimbish has been instructing her classes on the use of new words, the last being "panty waist". This name was applied to T. J. (but only in fun) and means 100 per cent below a sissy.—We believe that Wilma W. may get fat if she consumes very much of the groceries received in the "pounding" Friday night.—The Seniors are looking forward to March 15 when they shall choose their invitations.—We all join hands in telling Lottie Mae that we are glad she is back.—E. R. was seen at the school house Sunday night with a little back-headed girl.—Joe Isbell refuses to attend school after the mishap to his nose.—Although Evelyn was not victorious in her debate eliminations, she was victorious in another way (?).—Vern was rather embarrassed Sunday when she in- quired of Lloyd to whom she is waving while in Stamford. She later found it to be Doris Jay.— Why is it that Winnie D. is never naughty enough to get her name in the paper?—Annie just couldn't take it Monday. Could it be the flu or the ride to Breckenridge Sunday?

Girl Tennis Players Prepare For Meet

It's time for tennis again, and this season promises to be a good one for Haskell High School. The girls have been coming out for tennis about two weeks and have Mr. Wimbish as their coach.

The League Meet will take place in about two weeks, so the girls will have eliminations soon. Besides a girl to play singles and two girls to play doubles a substitute will be chosen for either of the places.

All girls coming out for tennis are members of the Tennis Club and the students wish them the best of luck.

Those coming out are: Wilma Kuenstler, Frances Meyer, Margaret McClintock, Mayre Lena Tubbs, Martelle Clifton and Frances Kaigler.

Debators Spend Very Busy Week

Last week was a very busy one for our debators. Monday both the boys and girls team debated the Roby debators. This was just a practice debate with no judges. On Wednesday all of our debators went to A. C. C. for the elimination contest. Since only two boys, Duffer and Paul Crawford, have been coming out for debate, it was not necessary for them to have an elimination, but as four girls have been working for a place on the team, it was necessary for them to debate each other to see who would constitute the team. Margaret Breedlove and Ruby Sue Persons will be the team, and Evelyn Adcock will be the substitute. While the girls were having their elimination, the boys debated the A. C. C. Freshmen team and won.

Thursday the boys' team went to Hamlin and debated the Hamlin boys' team. This was only a practice debate.

Saturday our debate teams participated in the Abilene Debate Tournament. The boys were defeated in the third round by the Abilene team, which won the tournament, and the girls lost to Santa Anna in the first round.

Next weeks debate schedule is well filled also. Wednesday, both teams will go to Roby; Thursday our boys' team will debate the Stamford boys in a chapel program at Stamford; and Friday both teams will go to Seymour to debate.

Ex Student News

While away on business Mr. and Mrs. Wimbish were very delighted to see Theda Maples and Edith Moody who are in training in Temple sanitarium. They were both well and delighted with their educational sights and studies.

However, they reported that Dorothy Lewellen who is also in Temple has been quite ill but is improving.

Theda will graduate in June while the other two girls will be in training for another year yet.

News from Joseph Gose who is preparing for the ministry finds that he is making excellent grades in all his work.

Rex Felker has been to Florida with the famous Cowboy Band. He is still at his tricks.

Dramatic Club Gives Program

Wednesday's assembly program was made up entirely of comedy. The first number was a reading "At The Haskell County Fair" by Mary Eleanor Diggs. It depicted a romance between a rural couple and was lovingly dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Wimbish.

The next number was a one act play entitled "The Ghost Story". The hero, John Guest, was so long in proposing to the heroine, Madge Leon, that this part of the play was dedicated to Mr. Sullivan. As John finally did propose and was accepted, the play was climaxed by the wedding, with "Rev." Paul Roberts officiating. Others in the cast included Labry Ballard, John Thomas Crandell, Doyle Hisey, Bonnie Dell Hisey, Eva Jo Ratliff, and Mayre Lena Tubbs.

A reading by Eva Jo Ratliff "I Thought He'd Yeth", was dedicated to Miss Vick.

The prologue to the final one act play was given by Paul Rob-

We Wonder

What we could do if Geneva T. couldn't dance?
 What we could do if Joe Isbell were to forget how to dance?
 If Eva Jo could possibly forget and leave that sweater of Lon's at home one day?

If Claude Jenkins likes detention as well as Lynn?
 If Stamford just turned out school for their students to visit Haskell? (Note—We enjoyed having them).

If the boy debaters are very proud about the date they won last week?
 If Martelle is always O. K. in tennis?

If the "Rhythm Racketeers" made much off their show last Thursday and Friday?
 If Johnny and La Vern are broke up?

If "Burly" is still interested in Stamford, or did Jack S. beat his time?
 If Frances S. is glad to have her ol' pal, Marie, back?

If we still have a Crawford and Glass love affair?
 If Milton W. has to eat very much?
 Why Don B. can't get anywhere with J. Q.?
 If Anita C. can ride a bicycle?
 Why Mr. Wimbish doesn't ask the Stamford Glee Club to put on a program?

—"Love Cycle." The last play was one of the keenest plays ever given in high school—"I Want To Get Married." This dealt with a young man who went to a matrimonial bureau in search of a wife.

The hero was Archie Lee Jones, who emulated in performance and dress, Mr. Bowers. The clinging vine type was taken by Dorothy Mae Carr in imitation of Miss Riley. Mary Eleanor Diggs was the cave woman who impersonated Miss Davis. The part of the secretary was taken by Annie Mae Lees.

This is the first comedy for this year, as Mrs. Kaigler held us to our text book work. She has promised that we may put on some more comedy plays before the school term is over.

Picked Up At Random

Seniors were given word from their sponsor, Miss Davis, this week that invitations would be selected next Monday, March 15.

The course of Business Arithmetic is very interesting indeed this year, and to break the monotony of continuous adding, subtracting, multiplying, etc. Mr. Bowers sort of changed to an English class Monday and read us some very interesting poetry entitled "The Purple Cow."

From what we've heard, competition is going to be mighty strong Friday afternoon in the Invitation Track Meet. There are a lot of entries from many schools and some that are reported very fast runners.

From the great number that are working out for tennis this year it seems that Haskell will be in a good position in the county meet.

The girl from Stamford to Jack S. My lover him is went away My lover he is went, Me can not go to him, Him can not come to I, Ain't it awful?

Mr. Mason is ambitious: The early bird may have the worm I never cared for foods that squirm, I'll wait 'til noon to make my rounds And drain some coffee off the grounds.

Future Home Makers Plan To Attend Rally

The Lillian Peek Chapter of the Future Home Makers of Texas met for their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Home Economics laboratory.

A short business session was held in which the number of those who plan to attend the Home Economics Rally at Hamlin was given. A letter was received from Miss Lillian Peek in answer to our invitation to a formal tea. The letter was one of regrets, so the tea will be planned at the next meeting.

A program on hobbies was sponsored by Jean Conner and Eula Mae Watson and given as follows: "The One Rose" whistled by Dorothy Dee Welsh. A Talk on Hobbies" by Eula Mae Watson.

Each member named her hobby. The meeting adjourned.

It's farther between filling stations in the Ford "60"

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!

Rochester

A fine rain fell here last week, and everybody is wearing a smile over it. Garden stuff will soon be plentiful, if we don't get fooled by the weatherman. Our "Easter spell" is yet to be dreaded.

The sad news came to Mrs. Salie Fields last Monday of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Laura G. Bull, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Southwell in Austin, Texas, Sunday February 28th. The funeral was held from the Meeks-Hylin funeral home Tuesday at 9 a. m., with the Rev. Chester Puckett, pastor of the Church of Christ officiating. The body was then sent to Lubbock for burial on Wednesday afternoon. Children who accompanied the body from Austin were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Southwell, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Alvis, Mr. and Mrs. John Bull and Mrs. Guy Ramby. The old-timers will remember Mrs. Bull as one of Rochester's first residents. She lived here when the destructive cyclone visited the town. Her house was about the only one left standing, and she turned it into an improvised hospital and cared for the injured until other arrangements could be made. She was indeed a good christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis in going back to their home in Austin stopped in Rochester and visited Mr. Alvis' brothers, Vestus and Isaac and went on to Haskell and visited his father, Rev. I. N. Alvis. They also visited another brother, John Alvis in Abilene before returning to Austin.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Every service is carefully planned to suit the needs of the church and community as a whole. The services should aid us in our religious thinking and in spiritual growth. The development of the spiritual life is our first business in life. When you attend our services, we believe you will go home a stronger christian.

"A Wilderness Transformed Into a Garden" will be the subject of the sermon Sunday morning. This transformation should take place in every life. By the power of God the barren can be destroyed and the good supplied.

"The Divine and the Human Combined in Christ" will be the sermon topic for the evening service. This should be a precious doctrine to every believer, because it is the foundation of the Christian religion. In the human we see Him taking our place and in the divine we see Him atoning for our sins.

The Sunday school will welcome you in any class at 9:45. Make Sunday a day of worship for yourself and family.

Sheriff Giles Kemp made a business trip to Houston the first of the week.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated. CARDUI, granted by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

A Service Taken For Granted

The first general postoffice in the United States was opened one hundred and forty-eight years ago—on March 12, 1879. Since its establishment, the postal service has been one of the most important factors in every phase of American life and commerce, but little thought is given to the many conveniences the service affords in everyday business and social life.

And the same is true of insurance—its importance is never really appreciated until disaster strikes. Consider the protection available to your property, and see us today.

IMPORTANCE OF STUDY

The old saying "All play and work makes Jack a dull boy" is very true. We all know that we should study some as well as play all the time. Studying is, indeed, very essential to the school student. It also saves much embarrassment.

We all take pleasure before study and never realize until it is too late what an unwise thing it is to do. Then when our sides are handed to us we are ten times more embarrassed when it was not let that fool old saying, "Never let work interfere with your good times." The best of us we could have held our heads high with accomplishment.

YOU MIGHT SAVE YOUR OWN LIFE!

As a nation we continue to make records and set new highs in many statistical fields. Along the improved highways of the country we take pride in the modern automobiles that speed us along to where we are going. Sometimes the end is death, or at least for about one hundred persons every day of the year in this land of enlightenment and chance-taking.

Figures released by the National Safety Council reveal that January, of this year, set an all-time high in the number of riders and pedestrians killed by automobiles. Exactly 3,650 reported fatalities put the month 200 deaths ahead of the former record, set in January, 1934.

The death list can be reduced. The fact has been established wherever officials, backed by public opinion, relentlessly pursue safety programs.

NEW DRIVER'S LAW

A great deal of thought is now being given to careful driving by the state department and efforts are being made as nearly as possible to make the highways safer for travel. This has been urged for the past few years, but active steps are now in the formation to complete the work.

The new law will require that everyone take a test to their ability to drive a car. This will embrace eye sight, quick action and thinking, and a number of other things that will be taken into consideration. One thing especially that should be put in the law is drinking. The man or woman who drinks should not be issued a license at all, for there are more wrecks caused from this one thing alone than any other.

The number of accidents and deaths taking place each day in this and all other states is something appalling. A person who can not drive in a sane manner, and think quickly enough to take care of an ordinary situation, should not be allowed behind the steering wheel of a fast moving automobile. It would be bad enough if they were just endangering their own lives, but they are endangering the lives of other people who are on the highways.—Paducah Post.

MENU MYSTERY

Persons who are compelled to point out for waitress the menu items they want, and say "Give me a little of this, and some of that..." will approve the latest move of the German government. Restaurant proprietors of Germany are requested to bar from menus such words as "hors d'oeuvre" and "consomme," and, in general, to "purify the language of superfluous foreign words." To many unlettered persons, however, the movement may not seem so desirable. In most of us there lurks a spirit of adventure. And one of the ways in which the spirit is best titillated is to enter a snooty restaurant, laboriously pronounce a few of the foreign dishes, and then wait eagerly to see what shows up. German people have such a drab, standardized existence nowadays; it seems a pity they should be deprived of this last bit of colorful uncertainty.

CURRENT COMMENT

LONG STAPLE COTTON

Baylor County (Seymour) Banner

The raising of longer staple cotton seems to be a rather concerted movement over the country just now. And it is a movement that was not started too soon. Too much short staple in this country has ruined our foreign markets, which the tariff was hurting badly enough anyway. One of our keenest competitors in the cotton business is India, and a short staple is general there. So that, when this country raises the same grade of cotton our farmers are thrown into competition with the cheap labor of India. The farmer has not been the only sufferer in this short staple business. Somehow the market have not favored the man who raised a good grade. Buyers for the state or a county have had the habit of lumping the whole community together under one classification, and the man who produced a really good staple received very little more for his trouble than the one who raised Half and Half. If that condition can be corrected, it ought not to be hard to convince the producer that it is to his best interests to raise a better grade. Whenever that is done it is going to eliminate a part of the handicaps under which the cotton farmer has been laboring for the past several years.

A Trip To Mount Vernon

(Editor's Note: The following interesting article was written by Miss Louise Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierson of this city. Miss Pierson is attending school in Baltimore, Maryland.)

I am sure February 22nd has meant a little more to me, than usual, this year, because I have just seen Mount Vernon, the home of our first president, George Washington.

It was a cool, crisp morning when we left Baltimore (a distance of about forty miles) for Washington D. C. and on to the picturesque Mount Vernon.

After winding in and out and going along by the side of beautiful Potomac we finally made the last circle where we parked the car.

Starting up the hill where the English ivy and holly trees grew on all sides, I could hardly wait till I entered the big gates.

There it was—the lovely old home of which I had heard so much about. With the river just below it certainly made a pretty picture.

We entered by the rear door as that seemed to be the one the other people were using. So, before I knew it, I was standing in the big parlor, where I was told the balls of long ago were held. A guide was near who told us about the rug with the coat of arms in the center and which was sent to Washington from France. Beautiful paintings of the great man adorned the walls. The old horse-hair settee with the other chairs were true types of the times.

Next we went across the hall to view the music room. I just loved the little old organ but later I learned it was a "harpichord", the very one on which Nellie Custis played. My attention was next directed to the tall candles in their holders covered by the largest lamp chimneys I had ever seen.

The dining room looked very much like the dining rooms of today. The chandelier and the beautiful silver, on the old sideboard, fairly shone. I also saw the famous old blue china. I was told the hugh covered dishes were used to carry the food from the outside kitchen to the house.

And what a kitchen! On one side is a very wide fire place in which hangs a large pot. This is where the cooking was done. Also the long handled skillets are there but I am wrong again for they were called "spiders."

The bed rooms are all on the second and third floors. We even saw the one in which Washington died.

Of course every one visits the tombs of George and Martha Washington, which is a little way below the main building. They are enclosed in a little house with a wide iron gate in front.

Then we went down the long walk to the boat house. It is not really the one Washington used for it has been built there twice but it is built the same as the original.

I also visited the museum where so many of the Washington relics are kept. This was all so interesting.

From there we went to the flower garden, which they say is so beautiful in the springtime. But most of the flower beds and shrubs were all covered with burlap. However, I hope I can see Martha Washington's again when the flowers are in bloom.

This was an exciting day I shall always treasure its memory.

HENRY-LESSON RADCLIFFE

JESUS PRAYING FOR HIS DISCIPLES

International Sunday School Lesson for March 14, 1933

GOLDEN TEXT: "That they may be one, even as we are one."—Jno. 17:22.

(Lesson Text: John 16:1-17:26)

After impressing the fact of his imminent departure on the minds of his disciples and seeking to comfort them in their sorrow, Jesus turns, in prayer, to his Father and utters his farewell prayer. What we know of as "The Lord's Prayer," was a model prayer given by the Master to his disciples and might more correctly be called "The Disciples' Prayer." The prayer of Jesus as recorded by John in Chapter 17, is in fact "The Lord's Prayer."

Jesus opens his prayer with words concerning himself, verses 1-5. He has finished the task which his Father had assigned him, asking God to "glorify" him in order that God himself might be glorified. Everything which Christ did on earth had the ultimate purpose in view of "glorifying" the Father. How well might we adopt the same aim! Such an aim would certainly inspire us to greater service in his name and would also cause us to consider more thoughtfully our actions each day.

Jesus lovingly brings to the Father his beloved band of faithful followers who are in the world and whom he has so carefully kept and guarded and from whom he was soon to be parted. He does not ask that God take them out of the world but that, in the world and a part of the world about them, they may be kept from the temptations of the "evil" one. "The Lord gives no countenance to the life of the ascetic. Our sanctification is not to be gained by withdrawal and retreat. Our Lord purposes a holiness which shall wear white robes in the streets, and keep itself chivalrous and stately in the common fellowships of men."—J. H. Jowett.

Knowing that his disciples are to be the instruments through which the world is to learn of him, Jesus asks that they be sanctified in the truth; for God's word is truth. He wanted them separated, or set apart, for the high and holy purpose of giving the gospel of salvation to the world, of witnessing to the truth which he had revealed unto them. He desired that they be consecrated, ready to do the will of God.

"And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth," so spake the Son of God. "For their sakes" may be taken as the motto of the Lord's whole life. "Others" was the great consideration which inspired all his service and sacrifice.—Stuart Holden. Francis G. Peabody says: "Remember the great words of Jesus, 'For their sakes I sanctify myself,' and sanctify yourself not for your own sake but for others. You cannot save your own soul alone; you must save it by making it of use. The only safe goodness is a serviceable goodness. Think each day, not of what the world can do for you, but what you can do for the world, and be sure that the best that can ever be said of any man is that which was said of Jesus Christ, 'He saved others, himself he cannot save!'"

Jesus then turned his thoughts away from this little band of followers to the greater multitude of believers who were to accept him through the witnessing of his disciples and asked the Father's blessings on them. "That they may be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us." Are we believers in Christ one? The answer might well be "No" and "Yes." They are not one in uniformity but they have the same Saviour

The Christian unity most needed today is not unity in opinion or in worship, but unity in action. Lyman Abbott states it thus: "The message of the Christian Church is one; that God is not only a righteous God who demands righteousness of his children and demands nothing else; not only a merciful God who pardons and absolves all who truly repent and unfeignedly seeking his holy Gospel; but a seeking God who comes after men in their sins and whose goodness calls them to repentance. It is the only transcendent message of the Christian Church in all its branches."

Jesus closed his prayer with the request of his Father that his disciples would some day be "with me where I am that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me; for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world. . . that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them." The keynote of Christ's ministry in the world was love. Could it be possible that the ineffectiveness of our service today may be traced to our evident lack of Christian love?

We heartily favor the movement sponsored by the Haskell Free Press to improve the quality of cotton produced in this territory.

SHAVER'S GIN

WEINERT, TEXAS

Don't Be Caught NAPPING

Now's The Time To INSURE a BETTER MARKET for Your 1937 COTTON

The situation confronting the cotton growers in this section, a condition brought about by the extreme dry and drouthy conditions prevailing during last summer, has impressed the entire cotton fraternity, including ginners, farmers, and bankers with the necessity of getting high-class planting seed for the coming crop. This action is being stimulated all over the territory, by those who realize something must be done, or else a poor prospect is in view for a good cotton market during the 1937 cotton harvesting season.

The seed now being used in this section, according to tests that have been made, show an extremely low germination, and the fact that cotton will germinate does not mean that it will produce a healthy stock of cotton.

In order to increase the yield per acre, and the staple of cotton, the HASKELL territory is going to be forced to introduce better grade planting seed from sections that were blest with more generous rainfall.

Haskell County can produce superior cotton whereas there are many sections in Texas as well as in other parts of the world where only short staple cotton can be produced.

Why then should we try to compete with the lowest type and cheap labor when we can produce the type of cotton that spinners are ever seeking.

Cotton is a dry weather plant and will stand more heat than most any other commodity, yet a certain amount of rainfall is essential to its proper maturity.

The gins and allied business men affected by the cotton industry are alive to the seed needs of this territory, and are making a united effort to encourage better planting seed, and a cottonseed that will produce a more salable staple and yet make a lint out-turn of a satisfactory nature. The farmers themselves, realize that in a majority of instances they are going to have to sacrifice their old seed, and purchase others.

It is a fact recognized by the cotton dealers, that during the past year, fewer outside cotton buyers were attracted to this immediate section than during any former year. The absence of these representatives of shippers made it more difficult to get a good price for the cotton, and this loss was the more keenly felt by the cotton raisers.

HELP YOURSELF AND HELP YOUR COUNTY

by planting a cotton of standard length staple. Exporters are going to penalize heavily—or refuse to purchase—the low grade cotton produced in our county.

Local buyers have been warned they must buy strictly according to grade and staple or stand the loss.

We heartily favor the movement sponsored by the Haskell Free Press to reap the benefit of producing better cotton in our county.

Plant better cotton and avoid being penalized $10 or more per bale which is certainly going to be exacted according to leading Cotton Factors. Please heed the warning and help save our section from paying a heavy charge for raising inferior cotton.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation facing our county if large cotton buyers follow their intention to cease buying the shorter staple cotton produced, we heartily favor the movement sponsored by

THE LATEST REPORT SHOWS

Approximately 26 per cent Texas cotton untenderable; 21 per cent in staple and 5 per cent in grade, and in some sections of Texas 70 per cent of the production was untenderable on contract.

We believe the remedy for this deplorable situation is the planting of better seed. It will mean many dollars to the Haskell County farmers this fall when the 1937 crop is placed on the market.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION SINGERS

Gathering Here April 25 Is Expected To Attract Thousands

Plans for holding the second annual County-Wide Singing Convention here on Sunday April 25, and arrangements for accommodating several thousand people were considered at a meeting of singers and interested persons held here last Sunday.

The county-wide convention, revived last year after a lapse of some fifteen or twenty years, drew such an enthusiastic response both from singers and a large and appreciative audience that the annual affair was decided upon, to be held in Haskell annually. At the conclusion of last year's gathering, officers were chosen for a permanent organization and the fourth Sunday in April of this year was selected for the next assemblage.

For this year's meeting, plans have been mapped and invitations extended over a wider territory and a number of the most noted singers of the Southwest are expected in attendance. Among these will be the Stamps Quartet and other widely-known singers who will have a part in the all-day program.

At last Sunday's meeting, presided over by L. D. Ratliff, president of the county organization, an Invitation Committee consisting of A. D. Lewis, V. A. Brown and Sam Reed was appointed, and they will contact a number of well-known quartets, trios and solos for the Haskell gathering.

An all-day affair, guests of the convention will be provided dinner at the noon hour, but persons residing in Haskell county will bring a basket lunch to be spread at the noon hour.

Tentative arrangements call for the convention to be held in the courthouse, but if a more suitable auditorium can be secured the change will be announced as soon as possible.

Deputy Sheriff Ollie Kittley of Haskell Tuesday.

FDA SUPERVISORS TO HELP FARMERS WITH FINANCING

District Supervisor To Meet With County Committee Here Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the Farm Debt Adjustment committee will be held in Haskell next Friday, March 12.

Mr. Carrico district FDA supervisor will attend the meeting, and invites all debt-distressed farmers wishing advisory assistance to come to the Resettlement office between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and noon, Friday.

Farmers attending the meeting should bring with them complete information about their debts, to enable the committee to review the case and make suggestions for a solution without undue delay. Whenever possible, creditors should also attend so that both sides of the problem can be presented and both parties receive equitable consideration.

The Farm Debt Adjustment committee have no legal authority to force adjustments, so the only solution they can offer is one of friendly arbitration. Such a settlement can usually be reached when both creditor and debtor are brought together. Sometimes interest rates may be lowered; or the period of the loan extended; or in case of excessive debts a discount may be secured.

Between meetings farmers and farmer creditors should contact one of the committee members. These committee members are: John W. Pace, chairman; John Crawford, and W. P. Ratliff, all of Haskell.

Club Reporter's Work Discussed At Council Meet

"A really good reporter starts work before coming to the meeting," Mrs. R. P. Barnard, chairman of the reporters' association told a group of club reporters in a meeting at Haskell Saturday, March 6.

"All material needed should be in readiness before the meeting. Notebook and pencils, and observation suggests that a chair to hold extra belongings—purse, hat, gloves, coat, papers, packages, or what have you is needed," Mrs. Barnard said as she insistently urged the clubs to report activities 100 per cent.

A prize is being offered by the Home Demonstration Council to the reporter scoring highest according to a score card prepared by a committee of the Council.

There were reports from six clubs: O'Brien, Josselet, New Cook, New Mid, Blue Bonnet and Midway.
