F. F. A. MEMBERS PLAN TO ATTEND MEET AT CISCO

Annual Encampment Farm Boys Will Be Held August 26-28

Tentative plans are being made by members of the Haskell Chapter Future Farmers of America to attend the Cisco Encampment that is to be held August 26, 27, 28.

This encampment is primarily for farm boys who get very little recreation during the summer months. It is the expressed opinion of every Vocational Agricultural teacher that boys who live and work on farms are entitled to some kind of recreational outing at least once a year. One of the main purposes of the camp is to acquaint boys of one section of the country with those of another.

As has been stated above, this camp is merely a recreational camp. Events such as boxing, pole fighting, swimming, diving, indoor baseball, horse shoe pitching, washer pitching, wash tub races, water polo, greased pole walking and watermelon races will be held at the encampment.

The cost of making this camp will be very small in proportion to what will be derived from it. The meals and a place to sleep and swimming privileges will all be furnished for two dollars and a quarter. Boys, here is a chance to have a good time cheap.

If you are interested see your Chapter Adviser, R. H. Campbell, and let him know if you want to go or not. It is important that you let your adviser know by Monday, August 23rd.

Industrial Arts Teacher Added To Mattson Faculty

Newest addition to the faculty of Mattson Rural High School is Jamie Wray, who has been elected as teacher of Industrial Arts during the coming school term, according to Elmer C. Watson, superintendent.

Mr. Wray will receive his degree from the State Teachers college at Sul Ross this month.

All faculty members have been selected for the 1937-38 term with the naming of the Industrial Arts teacher, and plans are rapidly shaping for opening of the current school term.

Construction work on the new Mattson school building has progressed satisfactorily and ahead of schedule, and the modern school plant will be completed before beginning of the coming term, he announced.

The Mattson district, largest rural high school in this section, will occupy new quarters this year. A modern school plant has been erected to take the place of the buildings destroyed by fire in April of this year.

Thousand Women Offer New Name For "Housewife"

Slightly more than three per cent of the women whose homes are served by the West Texas Utilities company entered the national contest to find a new word for "housewife" according to H. C. King, local West Texas Utilities Company manager.

A total of 1,056 West Texas women sent in substitute names in the campaign to eliminate the word "housewife" from future dictionaries. More than 5500 in prizes will be given for the best substitute words. Contest entries were forwarded to Dr. Charles E. Funk of Funk and Wagnall's dictionary, New York.

Contest officials said twice as many letters were received as had been expected. All but three, it was announced, expressed a desire for a new name winners in the contest, in which women only compete, are to be announced about September 1.

San Angelo led in number of entries with 218. Abilene was second with 165, Vernon was third with 46. Other leaders: Spur, 31; Haskell, 28; Ballinger, 26; Childress 24; Texline, 22; Stratford, 20; and Kirklard, 19. Ninety-four communities were represented with six buses will be used this year by

Cleveland Decides to Extend Its Exposition

Throngs such as these shown crowding its amusement area caused the Great Lakes exposition in Cleveland to extend its closing date from September 6 to September 26, according to Lincoln G. Dickey, general manager of the fair. Dickey, shown in the inset, stated that the September 26 date was final and by that time more than 8,000,000 people would have seen the 1936 and 1937 editions of Cleveland's celebration of its centennial. Visitors from every state have attended the Fair.

Reunion Planned for Members of First Group To Be Mustered Into Service From Haskell County During War

Plans for a reunion of World War veterans who comprised the first group to be mustered into service during the conflict in 1917 were divulged this week by R. L. (Spot) Lemmon of this city.

The twentieth anniversary of the induction into service of the "Lucky Seven", now minus one—will fall on Sept. 5th, Mr. Lemmon relates and plans are in the making for a reunion of the remaining six veterans on the anniversary date this year, the gathering to be held in Dallas.

The original contingent mustered into service in 1917, all of them at that time residents of Haskell county, was composed of R. S. Nolen, now deceased, R. L. Lemmon and T. L. Ballard of Haskell; Cole Menefee of Sweetwater; Brevard S. Long of Tyler; Gordon Odell of Abilene; and Marion Shook of Gordon, Texas. They entrained on the evening of Sept. 5th for Camp Travis, at San Antonio, and three of the group were later sent overseas. In wartime patriotism, they were referred to as the "Lucky Seven", and many a youth in the huge crowd that gathered at the depot to give them a "send-off" envied members of the group.

The reunion planned on the twentieth anniversary this year will be the first get-together of the six remaining members of the "Lucky Seven" since that memorable day, although the veterans have met each other singly at various times during the period of years.

Negro Father of Twins Is Bewildered

John B. Phillips, hard-working colored laborer of Haskell, can't help rejoicing "jest a mite"—although his joy is clouded with the thought that maybe his responsibilities as a father are increasing at too rapid a pace. John has worked hard to clothe and feed six little Phillips and has done a creditable job, to judge from the healthful appearance of the dusky youngsters.

Now, John has a problem. The stork paid his home a brief visit Saturday—and left two "bundles of happiness"—a boy and a girl. "I've been plumb satisfied that stork could deliver de goods on time", John mused, "He didn't need double up on me like if I wuz doin' all the fadin'—he's bound to have other customers", he concluded.

Leather-Slingers To Congregate At Rule Friday Night

Sponsored by the Rule Volunteer Fire Department, an amateur boxing tournament in which entrants from a number of surrounding towns will take part will be staged in that city Friday night.

Sponsors of the meet have arranged an interesting card of bouts that will pit some of the most experienced fighters of this section against each other, and all who attend are assured plenty of entertainment.

Several Rule youths who have taken part in tournaments in nearby towns have been matched for the evening, and at least twelve bouts will be staged, according to promoters.

Business men and other customers of the banks are requested to transact their banking business accordingly, in order to avoid inconvenience.

Raymond Taylor Will Open Store On South Plains

Raymond Taylor of Wichita Falls, formerly manager of the Perkins-Timberlake store in this city, and who has been connected with the Wichita Falls store for the past several years, has resigned his position with Perkins-Timberlake and will open a men's clothing store in Brownfield at an early date.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are spending the week in Haskell, guests in the home of Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Jones.

COMMITTEES NAMED TO DIRECT LION'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Outlining of proposed activities during the coming twelve months occupied members of the Lions Club at their regular meeting Tuesday, and although attendance was slightly under the average, enthusiasm expressed by committeemen whose appointments were announced by Roy Killingsworth, president, made up for the lack of members present.

Committees appointed included the following: Attendance—R. A. Coburn, chairman; Ira Hester, W. O. Holden.

TWO DAYS RODED AT ROCHESTER ON AUGUST 26 AND 27

Business Men Sponsor Rodeo, Boxing, and Other Contests

Merchants and citizens of Rochester are sponsoring a two days rodeo, horse races, amateur dancing and musical contests and a boxing tournament, to be held in that city Thursday and Friday, August 26th and 27th. Cash prizes will be given winners in all events.

In the rodeo events, top prize money is offered as follows: First place $25, second $15, and third $10. Entrance fee will be $2.50 for one day for $4 for two days. Other events will include goat roping, wild goat milking, bull riding, bronc riding, saddle horse racing.

Contest dancing for girls will be staged Thursday, followed with an amateur musical contest Thursday night.

The amateur boxing tournament will be held Friday night August 27th, with entrants from several surrounding towns signed for a number of bouts.

Large crowds are expected for the two days affair, and sponsors are making plans to furnish plenty of fun and amusement for their guests.

THIRD AMATEUR BOXING TOURNAMENT SLATED TONIGHT

Fifteen Bouts Carded Under Sponsorship of Fire Department

With at least a half-dozen feature bouts arranged the third amateur boxing tournament to be staged here tonight promises to provide the best-matched fights of any similar event, according to Sebo Britton, in charge of the matches.

Headlining the fifteen bouts to be staged will be T. B. Bagwell of Rochester and Fred Acosta, Stamford Mexican, who has agreed to meet the Rochester slugger in a three-round go.

Lon McMillin of this city, who has been unable to secure an opponent in former tournaments, has been matched with Ovid Nelson of Aspermont, a recent winner in the Golden Glove tournament at Abilene, and fans are assured that the match will be staged.

Other bouts carded include Lark Decker of Haskell vs. Leroy Ivey of Stamford; Lowell Mowell, Haskell, vs. Froggie Lovvern, Stamford; Lloyd McMillin of Haskell vs. Buster Lovvern, Stamford; Olin Bartlett, Haskell, vs. Claud Neilan, Abilene.

Two negro matches have been arranged, "Sparky" Hill of Haskell vs. Tiger McCoy of Abilene in the heavyweight division, and Alfonso Ashley of Haskell vs. Willie Sears of Stamford in the lightweight division.

Promoters were not sure at noon today whether they would be successful in securing an opponent for Lavada Wright, 180-pound battling negro who is anxious to don the gloves "with any negro woman in Haskell county" according to her statement to Britton.

Preliminary bouts will start promptly at 8:30. The open air arena is located in the rear of the City Hall.

DEPARTMENT HEADS FOR 1937 FAIR ARE NAMED THIS WEEK

RATE REDUCTION FOR ELECTRICITY IS MADE BY WTU

Reduction of 16 2-3 Per Cent In Effect For Users of Electric Ranges

The West Texas Utilities Company this week ignored the rising cost of living when it announced a reduction of 16 2-3 per cent in electric rates for Haskell.

A new low rate of 2 1-2 cents per kilowatt-hour for all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used monthly in home equipped with electric ranges was announced by H. C. King, local manager. The reduction makes electricity as practical as any other fuel for cooking purposes, he said.

The 2 1-2 cent rate is effective with this month's bills.

Only customers using electric cookery will benefit by reduction. It is based on the theory that "the more you use, the less it costs", Mr. King said.

Where the electric range is installed, all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used each month will take the lower rate. It is a step in the "incentive rate schedule" which provides low-cost current for refrigeration, lights, and other domestic purposes inasmuch as these are included in the high-usage bracket.

Popularity of the electric range was credited with making the reduction possible. The spread of electric cookery to hundreds of homes formerly using old-fashioned methods makes a lower rate practical, Mr. King said.

"The reduction is in keeping with the company's policy of lowering rates as fast as increased usage permits," he added. "Although the cost of living in general has risen and taxation has reached an unprecedented height, we believe it wise to encourage home modernization by making electric service as cheap and efficient as possible."

Baptist Revival Meeting Closed On Sunday Night

Forty-three additions to the Baptist Church were reported following the close of a two-weeks revival meeting Sunday night. Fifteen members were added by letter, and twenty-eight by baptism. The baptismal service was held at the church Monday night.

Church leaders were greatly heartened by the revival of interest in church work resulting from the services, and pronounce the meeting one of the most successful in years.

McCauley Minister To Conduct Revival Meeting at Howard

A revival meeting that will continue for one week, with services being held in the Howard school-house, will begin Sunday night August 22nd. Elder Jackson, minister of the McCauley Church of Christ, will do the preaching, and his sermon subjects will prove interesting and educational to his hearers, giving a clearer insight into the true meaning of the Gospel.

Residents of Howard and surrounding communities are invited to attend each of the services. Ample seating accommodations will be provided for a large audience.

More Complimentary Tickets For Readers Want Ad Column

Four readers of Free Press want ads will be guests at the Texas Theatre Sunday or Monday when the feature attraction, "Captains Courageous" will be shown. Guest tickets for these two days will be given persons whose names appear in the want ad column through courtesy of the Free Press and the Texas Theatre management.

Sunday and Monday's attraction rates as one of the best film productions of the year, and is being shown in Haskell ahead of many larger cities in the state. Co-starred in the production are Fred Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy and Lionel Barrymore.

Many New Attractions Will Add to Diversity of 4-Day Program

Preparations for the most successful Fair in years went forward another step this week, with the announcement of appointment of department heads for the various divisions planned for the 1937 exposition, to be held here October 20-23.

Directors will meet Friday night at Rice Springs Park to approve final plans for the four-days program which has been tentatively arranged. A number of new features have been suggested and will be considered by directors in their selection of a varied program that will make this year's Central West Texas Fair the outstanding attraction in West Texas.

Feature attractions for this year's Fair, as tentatively outlined, will include a colorful parade on opening day, with the addition of a special division for decorated floats representing Haskell business concerns. At least two days of automobile racing, and possibly three will be held. The Future Farmers of America, home demonstration and other farm and home clubs will receive a special share of the Fair program as planned at present, with attractive premiums to be awarded in the different divisions.

Invitations have been extended to civic organizations and leaders in all towns in the county, urging full participation in special events during this year's Fair, in which

GRANT OF $29,880 FOR NEW ROCHESTER SCHOOL APPROVED

Work will be started immediately on a modern new school plant at Rochester, following approval given in Washington Tuesday of a $29,880 grant from the Public Works Administration.

Application for the grant has been pending for more than a year, and the amount will be supplemented by the sum of $28,000 received from the sale of bonds voted by the Rochester district last year. School officials were not positive that full advantage of the grant could be taken due to the restriction of PWA grants to 45 per cent of the total amount expended on projects. Full use of the grant will be made however, on the new construction.

According to S. H. Vaughter, Rochester school superintendent, a new high school building is planned, with a combination gymnasium and auditorium, and eight or ten classrooms. The present high school building will be repaired and remodelled into a grammar school building.

The new high school will be a one-story brick structure of approved design.

Sanitary Milk Production May Be Achieved By Cleanliness, and Good Dairy Conditions

The man who is producing milk for the market has a responsibility for keeping it clean, writes Henry Field in the Semi-Weekly Farm News. Milk delivered to cities and towns is consumed largely by babies and small children whose death may easily be caused by any harmful bacterium it may contain.

It is not uncommon for grown people to contract disease from impure milk. Tuberculosis and typhoid fever, two of the most dreaded scourges of the human race are often carried by milk.

All dairymen should try to produce clean milk, for on their care in this matter the health of the community they serve largely rests. The production of milk of low bacterial count should be regarded as a trust rather than as a task to be avoided because it is troublesome.

Occasionally one sees in a newspaper an ad for a "dry-hand" milker, the implication being that some milkers dip their hands in the pail while milking to keep them and the teats moist. Anyone who is impressed with how fast bacteria multiply in warm milk can hardly see how a milker would intentionally dip dirty hands in the milk.

Disease germs no greater in amount than the head of a pin introduced in this manner may easily multiply so rapidly that before such milk reaches the consumer it may be a definite menace to health. There are a number of simple things which may be done to reduce the number of germs which will be in milk by the time it reaches the customer.

There still remains the problem of dust in the air, however. This can be almost completely eliminated if the cows are fed their hay elsewhere before or after they are milked, if they are brushed off before being admitted to the milking stall, and if they are milked on a concrete floor.

There are several additional ways of contributing to the cleanliness of milk. One of these is to squirt the first two or three draws of milk onto the ground instead of into the milk bucket.

Another way of contributing to the cleanliness of the milk leaving your dairy or that produced on your farm is to keep the cows always on grass or clean concrete floors.

Carless dairymen sometimes deliver milk to market which has more than 100,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter in it. Those producing certified raw milk sometimes get their milk far below the maximum of 10,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter. In other words, the most sanitary dairies are often more than ten times as clean as the least sanitary. It is because of careless dairymen that towns and cities have found it necessary to protect themselves by demanding that milk be pasteurized to kill germs. It is the same careless dairymen who have created a public prejudice against raw or natural milk and have made it necessary that those who do not produce certified milk bear the expense of pasteurization. This tax is collected from the producer at the time he delivers his milk to the plant. It is collected in the form of a smaller milk check.

Where cows are milked on a concrete floor the droppings should be removed and the floor flushed with water once a day. If there is only a dirt floor it should be raked after each milking. This is only a halfway measure. There is no way to completely keep dust from rising from a dirt floor. Spraying with a hose before the cows are turned in would be helpful, however.

The water supply available to the dairy herd should be carefully watched. Streams or wells polluted by typhoid fever germs will surely cause the milk to be contaminated and hence to be dangerous to drink. Many deaths have been caused by such pollution. Everyone knows that tubercular cows will pass the germs on to those who drink their milk. There is no sure way to know whether an apparently healthy cow is affected with tuberculosis except by medical tests. Cows found to be tubercular should be slaughtered at once. This sounds like an expensive process to the dairyman, but it will be a lot more expensive to him if his dairy becomes known as full of diseased cows.

A large part of the contamination that milk suffers takes place in poorly cleaned milk cans and other containers. An amazing number of bacteria can lurk in the seams of a milk vessel to enter the next supply of milk put into it. Merely rinsing out a milk vessel with cold water and setting it to drain is by no means sufficient. So much milk will remain that it will next milk. A better way is to rinse first with cold water, then follow with an odorless, colorless disinfectant.

Sunlight Helpful Sunlight is the greatest of all germicides and nothing in what has so far been suggested makes use of sunlight. It has been found by experiment that the best way to get a milk can really clean is to rinse it thoroughly with cold water when it is emptied at the milk plant, scald it well on returning to the farm, disinfect it with a chemical wash as described, turn it upside down long enough to drain.

then set it right side up at such an angle that sunlight can get into it. This sunning should be done in a screened room so as to exclude flies.

It is also well to exclude flies from the milkroom. This can best be done by screening the whole room, then admitting the cows each time at a point away from the smells of the milk. A few dairymen use an electrically charged, special wired door nearest to the milking stalls. The instant a fly lights on this screen he is burned to a cinder.

Those who use cream separators will find it just as necessary to keep them clean as it is to keep the milk cans clean. Fortunately, separators are specially designed for ease of cleaning.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of an Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable 95th Judicial District Court of Texas in and for Dallas County, on the 13th day of August, 1937, in the case of THE DALLAS JOINT STOCK LAND BANK OF DALLAS versus Elmer Turner, et al., No. 28337-D, and to me, as Sheriff, directed and delivered, I have levied upon this 18th day of August A. D. 1937, and will between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., on the first Tuesday in October A. D. 1937, it being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door of said Haskell County, in the City of Haskell, Texas, proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which Elmer Turner, Lula E. Turner, Brazelton Lumber Company, and S. M. Davis had on the 1st day of July, A. D. 1925, or at any time thereafter, of, in and to the following described property, to-wit:

Situated in Haskell County, Texas, and known as a part of Survey No. 74, Block 1, H. & T. C. R. R. Co. Cert. 592, and described as follows:

BEGINS at a set stone in the NE corner of said Survey No. 74; THENCE N. 89 degrees 10 minutes W. 564.27 vrs. to a stake in the NB line of this and the SB line of Section No. 73 for the NW corner of this tract;

THENCE South 1218 vrs. to a stake for the SW corner of this tract; this tract in the EB line of this survey and the WB line of Section 89;

THENCE N. 1218 vrs. to the place of beginning, and containing 124.45 acres of land; and

Being the same land conveyed to Elmer Turner by Mrs. M. J. Turner by deed dated June 24, 1925, and filed for record in the Deed Records of Haskell County, Texas.

Said property being levied on as the property of said above named persons and will be sold to satisfy a judgement amounting to $6,288.19 against Elmer Turner together with 8 per cent interest thereon from July 10, 1937, in favor of THE DALLAS JOINT STOCK LAND BANK OF DALLAS, and costs of court and the further costs of executing this writ.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND this 18th day of August, A. D. 1937.

GILES KEMP,
Sheriff, Haskell County, Texas
By Hettie Williams, Deputy. 3tc

Monument to Amundsen Is Unveiled

A monument to Roald Amundsen, the great Arctic and Antarctic explorer who was the first to reach the South pole, as it appeared following its recent unveiling at Tromsø, Norway. The memorial, costing $4,250, was raised by popular subscription. Its sculptor was Carl E. Paulson. Lincoln Ellsworth, Amundsen's companion on a North pole expedition, contributed $1,000 to the fund for its construction.

Chisos Mountains in Big Bend Section Believed Part of the Appalachian Chain

The Chisos mountains in the Big Bend of Texas, says Dr. Ross A. Maxwell, junior geologist of the national park service, are believed by geologists to be a part of the Appalachian mountain system, and lie 80 miles south of here Marathon.

Dr. Maxwell has been stationed in the region more than a year making a geological map of areas to be included in the proposed Big Bend national park of Texas.

A few miles south of Marathon, Dr. Maxwell says in a detailed description of the region, pinkish-white and yellow-white ridges are visible. These were laid down horizontally in the bottom of an ancient ocean that once covered all this part of the continent, after many years there rocks were folded into mountain ranges, but rain and wind broke up the rocks and streams carried them away "until only the roots of this mountain range remained."

In a subsequent period that geologists call the cretaceous the sea again buried the old mountains under several thousand feet of cretaceous sediment but erosion stripped away the later deposit and again the roots of the old mountain chain are exposed. Forty miles south of Marathon, he says, the highway passes through Persimmon Gap in the Santiago mountains, the gap being the entrance to the proposed Big Bend national park. The Chisos, meaning "ghost" or "phantom" mountain, rising to approximately 8,000 feet above sea level, and the highest in the area, are visible from this point.

Boquillas Flagstone
Beyond the gap is the stratified Rock, or boquillas flagstone, deposited in the cretaceous sea, and with the materials that compose the flagstones are thousands of fossil shells of oysters, clams, snails, corals and sea urchins. These creatures, Dr. Maxwell says, lived in the ocean and when they died their shells fell to the bottom and were petrified in the rock. It is not uncommon he says, to find fossil oyster shells 18 inches in diameter, and one fossil clam 49 inches in length was found.

In Tornillo flat, an area 85 miles south of Marathon with soil "very impervious to water," are several sandstone hills and ridges. In and around them, Dr. Maxwell says, are the bone fragments of dinosaurs and petrified logs. The dinosaurs roamed this country about 100,000,000 years ago and some became stuck in the mud and died. Their bones were covered with mud and water and later were petrified.

Petrified Forests
Contemporaneous with the dinosaurs were forests and likewise some of the trees were petrified. Many fragments of wood and some logs may be seen, the largest log found being 10 feet in diameter.

The basin of the Chisos mountains, where the proposed Big Bend national park headquarters would be established, Dr. Maxwell says, is approximately one mile above sea level. It is completely surrounded by a mountain wall more than 2,000 feet high.

"As the road winds down to the headquarters area . . . you may look through a gap in the mountain wall—the window—and see across the desert lands of the Big Bend and on for miles into Old Mexico. When the camp is reached you are in the midst of the last frontier of the United States. It is 80 miles to be a railroad or telephone office; 35 miles to a telephone, and 30 miles to the nearest postoffice where mail is delivered once a week."

Legislator Favors Two Amendments to Aid Needy, Blind

The State Committee for Human Security with headquarters in Austin has announced that J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, member of the legislature from Taylor County, has been appointed chairman for the Committee in this senatorial district.

The purpose of the organization is to advance the adoption to the Constitution of two amendments regarding the payment of a pension to the needy adult blind and dependent children. The election will be held August 23rd.

Soon after learning of his appointment as chairman, Rep. Bradbury issued the following statement: "The adoption of these two amendments will be a forward step in Texas that should have been made years ago. If these are adopted, Texas will pay a pension of $15 per month to the needy adult blind, and a like amount will be paid by the federal government. Texas will pay $8 per month per child and $12 to a family with more than one child in case of dependent children. The amount will be matched with $4 per child and $6 per family by the federal government."

"Under present conditions the blind receive no assistance and are left to struggle for themselves against great odds. If given only an opportunity they would endeavor in many fields and lines of endeavor. All they need is an opportunity."

"At the present time many dependent children are sent to orphan home. If the amendment is adopted they will be kept in their own home, surrounded with the spirit of their own household, and certainly a home is a much better place for a child than some institution."

"These amendments are humane, they are an assistance to the underprivileged and unfortunates. Let us who are more fortunate assist in putting these amendments over and render a worthy service to those who are in unfortunate circumstances through no fault of their own."

"If these amendments fail we will lose federal funds and will continue to pay federal taxes to carry on this work in other states while our citizens do without. Thirty-three states already have this program; let Texas be the thirty-fourth."

Mattson Home Demonstration Club News

The bed is the most important piece of furniture and deserves first attention, stated Mrs. Elbert Mapes to the Mattson Home Demonstration Club in an all day session in her home August 12th.

Mrs. Mapes told members most everyone was more sympathetic to color and charm than others, but every one feels the necessity of a comfortable bed. The bed should be placed parallel to lines of the room, never cat-a-cornered. A chest of drawers, with a big hanging mirror placed over it so the light from behind the person using it would fall on the mirror. A comfortable chair was placed by a little stand table, with a lamp, two or three magazines, a vase of flowers, a dainty book case on the wall just above the table. Beside the bed was a little home made table with a bowl of water. On the floor by the bed was a hooked mat rug. Mrs. Mapes stated, No longer is the clothes closet a mere necessity. It has become a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Of course our clothes will be better kept and my house work will be lighter and the whole family is pleased with my new clothes closet. The entire closet is papered with a bright color to furnish light and to prohibit moths. A rod just high enough to hold the longest dress off the floor, above the rod is a shelf for hats and other similar articles. Hat stands were made and padded with tissue paper and painted to match the closet. Shelves on the sides for sheets, towels, comforts and other articles. New shades and cool crisp curtains were added. My floor was very rough. I first planed it and then applied one coat of hard, clear floor varnish, allowed this to dry and applied two additional coats of varnish. When the varnish was dry I then waxed the floor. A woolen comfort of unusual softness, being light in weight, but containing warmth. On the bed was her candlewick bedspread. The room was newly papered. My room as it is now cost me about $22.50. I am really proud of it all.

Members answered roll call with "An Improvement I Have Made In My Bedroom". Mrs. Floyd McGuire gave the report of the council.

Miss Vaughan explained to members about the A. & M. Short Course being cancelled. At the noon hour the table was well loaded with good things to eat. Ice tea and fruit were the drinks and then three different kinds of ice cream were served. Mrs. Edd King offered thanks.

Mrs. Leslie Hobgood was enrolled as a new member. Those responding to roll call were Mesdames: Frank Nicholson, L. A. Stratton, L. D. Holcomb, Clyde Mayfield, Pat Freeland, Otis Matthews, Floyd McGuire, Vern Derr, Jim Stanford, Elbert Mapes, Theo Free, Bud Derr, Ellis Miles, Tom Mapes, C. A. Massie, E. C. Watson, Elmer Wheatley, J. was to be considered. The meeting was advertised in the newspapers, and the officials of the State Teachers Association were invited to be present. There was no effort to get a big crowd or to exert any undue pressure.

They went to the meeting of the State Board of Education without any definite apportionment in mind, though Mr. Stilwell, of Texarkana, had made a careful study of the possible resources of the available school fund. But when the Comptroller's report was made to the Board of Education, it was seen that $22.00 per capita was feasible and practicable, assuming of course, that the twenty cents ad valorem tax would be maintained. And so the President of the State Teachers Association, in a presentation of not more than ten minutes urged that $22.00 per capita be apportioned for the support of the public schools for the school year of 1937-38. Perhaps not more than fifteen minutes were consumed in presenting the case to the State Board of Education. At this uncture however, one of the members of the Board of Education asked superintendents who were there to discuss their needs for the money. This discussion continued until the adjournment for lunch. The result of it was that the State Board of Education, by a vote of six to two, set the apportionment at $22.00. It was assumed that this settled the whole matter, but it was learned that the Automatic Tax Board did not think that the twenty cents ad valorem tax should be continued.

The Automatic Tax Board met July 20. The President of the State Teachers Association and an attorney were allowed to appear before the Board. We were cordially received, and the discussion concerning the matter was full and complete. There were no personal ill feelings about it. The Automatic Tax Board, by a vote of two to one, disagreed with our contention. They fixed the tax rate at seven cents, just enough to furnish textbooks for the public schools of the state.

And so there has come to be a really serious problem: the State Teachers Association taking the position that the State Board of Education had the authority, and it was indeed its duty under the law, to consider the constitutional ad valorem tax in fixing the annual apportionment; the Automatic Tax Board taking the position that they should meet prior to the meeting of the Board of Education and fix the tax rate before the Board of Education could intelligently make its annual apportionment. This is the only real issue involved in the apportionment matter.

In the meantime, certain members of the State Board of Education were served with a restraining order, granted on the petition of the San Antonio School Board, prohibiting any change in the apportionment until the matter could be properly adjudicated.

And so the matter stands now. The State Teachers Association is not a party to the restraining order, and will not be a party to any court proceedings that may result. Of course, the State Teachers Association wishes to maintain the $22.00 apportionment, but it would buildings, the theatres, the gardens, the parks, the flowers, the schools, the public markets — the people. It is the people who most interest me. They are picturesque with their music everywhere, their arts, their dress which has changed but little for centuries, yet all this maintained alongside a twentieth century civilization of modern highways, railroads, hotels, tourist camps and conveniences of every kind. We have driven over highways as well constructed and maintained as any in Texas, yet in fields adjoining they still plow with oxen; and peons trudge alongside the backs of burros loaded with wood or cargoes larger than the beasts themselves.

The history of Mexico is as interesting as that of any nation. The struggles of the people for liberty and freedom have been just as brave, if not braver, than our own. It has been such a privilege to us to journey over the very ground travelled by Cortez, the Spanish Conqueror, hundreds of years ago, to see the palaces and the churches he built. One of the most inspiring and stupendous things we have seen was driving over the mountains to Puebla, looking out upon a valley where Cortez had built a church for everyday of the church year—260 of them, beautiful, massive things of stone with shining burnished domes; one built on top of a pyramid.

tainments given us was yesterday at the Department of Communications. First, of course, a nice luncheon, then young ladies who worked in the department paraded before us dressed in the colorful native costumes of each of the 28 Mexican states. Then they entertained with music, songs and dances. It was better than a professional show since those who played the parts actually came from the states they represented.

... We have met lots of people here from Texas. I hope more will be able to come in the future. We were particularly happy to find the Cowboy Band from Hardin-Simmons College at Abilene playing at one of the local theatres. They are also going to play at a reception given for us here at the Embassy tomorrow.

... We will, of course, be back in time to vote at the election Monday August 23rd. Six constitutional amendments are to be voted on: All of them are important, and I hope my friends will vote for them. I am particularly interested in seeing the one adopted which will authorize the legislature to provide for payment of county officers by either salaries or fees. The present salary system hasn't worked as satisfactorily as the old fee system. It costs the taxpayers of the state as a whole 70 per cent more—and I'm interested in trying to save that money!

be improper to undertake to discuss in the newspapers or magazine the legal phases of it. It is now in the hands of the proper authorities and will be determined, undoubtedly, according to law.

The confusion has resulted because of different interpretations of the law. The State Teachers Association assumed that the State Board of Education had the authority under the law to make the apportionment, and that they had the authority to consider the constitutional ad valorem tax in determining how much should be apportioned for the support of public schools. We have never dogmatically asserted that we were right about this, but have insisted all the time that the highest legal office of the state interpret the law and that all parties to the controversy comply with the law. The State Teachers Association makes no apology for urging liberal support for the public schools, not simply because teachers will profit, but because advancing civilization and its resulting complexities make it necessary to improve constantly the educational program. And so we confidently assert that the intelligence of the citizenship of Texas, and, therefore, the prosperity of this great state, is involved in the present controversy. Fundamentally, the schools belong to the people, and perhaps the people will have to determine, through regular constituted agencies, just what sort of an educational program shall obtain in Texas.

"The Rest of The Record"

BY JAS. V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

MEXICO CITY, August 14, 1937. By the time you read this, we will be back in Texas and, notwithstanding the wonderful privilege it has been to visit Mexico, happy to be back home. We are particularly anxious to see little David, our second son, and baby Sam Houston.

It is difficult for us to realize that it is so hot in Texas. Mexico City is 7500 feet high and the weather is ideal. They tell us it is this way the year round—little cooler in winter than in summer. It was a little chilly for us at first—believe it or not, we asked for a fire at lunch; now, however, we are accustomed to it and the weather is lovely. Occasionally when the mountain tops are clear of clouds, we can see two snow capped volcano peaks in the distance.

Although Ambassador Josephus Daniels is in Europe, he wired his assistants here to insist upon our staying at the American Embassy. So here we are—and we have never been privileged to stay at a lovelier place. Our own Government officials have been almost as marvelous to us as those of the Mexican government.

Last week I told you how hospitable these people had been to us in the early stages of our visit; this hospitality has increased in warmth at every stage. We have been entertained by seven governors in as many state capitols, and by officers in the President's cabinet here in Mexico. It clearly demonstrates that these people believe in the Good Neighbor policy inaugurated by President Roosevelt.

President Cardenas of Mexico is absent from the capitol. He is in the state of Yucatan, which is the most southern Mexican state working on agrarian, or agricultural problems. He sent us a warm telegram of welcome, then commissioned the Governor of this Federal District to call on us officially as his representative. Mrs. Allred is visiting the President's wife today. Everywhere these people seem to realize that they have more in common with Texas than perhaps any other state; I think if we take the same position, it can only result in more business and better relations for all of us.

It would be impossible in this short space to even refer to all the interesting places we have seen on this trip. I really believe we could spend a month right here in Mexico City and not see half of all we should see. The old churches or cathedrals, the palaces, the pub-

I shan't tell you of the bull fight they staged for us. I am glad I saw one—in fact, I enjoyed it, but I can't say that I want to see one again. One of the nicest enter-

SMALL TOWN FACTORIES

No community and no state ever became fully prosperous through agriculture alone, declares T. R. Preston, former president of the American Bankers Association, who is a strong advocate of combining industry with agriculture by locating factories in the smaller communities.

Mr. Preston cites particularly the small cities and towns of North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Ohio as affording excellent examples of such combination. He points out that industry and agriculture are well balanced with the result that the farm problem is less acute in those states.

The idea of locating new factories in towns and villages, instead of further concentrating them in congested centers of population, is spreading throughout the country, and some of the largest factories are now so located. An example is Kingsport, Tenn., with only a few thousand population, yet boasting the largest book printing plant in the world, besides other important industries.

The benefits derived from this decentralization of industry is seen in an increased market for local farm products, employment of surplus labor, elevation of living standards for both farmer and factory employe, increases in taxable wealth, better schools and other public facilities.

A SQUARE DEAL FOR CAPITAL

Texas can attract foreign capital by dealing fairly with corporations. The attitude of a state legislature toward capital has a great deal to do with forming the attitude of capital toward proposed investments within a state. Experiences in Texas and other states have had in the past when unwise legislation drove out large corporations, ought not to be forgotten at a time when there is a disposition among the more progressive cities of Texas to seek new industries.

If this movement cannot be called state-wide, the kind of taxation the legislature levies on capital has to be considered by Houston, Dallas, Beaumont and other Texas cities that want to grow by expanding their industries. What the All-South Development Council of Dallas calls "the Texas legislative habit of depending on punitive, single-shot natural resource tax measures to carry pyramiding state financial burdens" discourages new capital from making investments in the state.

A certain type of legislative mind can see in a big oil company, a sulphur company or some other corporation of this kind merely something to tax—and on which taxes should be piled just as long as the corporations can stand up under the load. This type of legislative mind can never regard large corporations as a blessing to the state because they create payrolls, pay a considerable share of taxes and are otherwise helpful to the communities in which they are located. A corporation is simply something to be "soaked," and the more it is "soaked" the better please the corporation-baiting legislator is.

The fact that the oil companies are taking away irreplaceable natural resources encourages corporation-baiting. But natural resources that remain undeveloped have only a potential value. Left alone they do not create wealth, provide employment and contribute to human progress. The natural resources of Texas would still be to a large extent underground and undeveloped if foreign capital had not provided means for developing and using these products. Why not give both local and foreign capital a square deal?—From the Beaumont Enterprise.

SHOULD HAVE HIS FREEDOM

Twenty-two years ago, as a boy of sixteen, he escaped from a reformatory, where he had been set for burglary. Today, in Cleveland, Ohio, he is a business man, with a clean record, a wife and two children. Police say he has never been in trouble and his family know nothing of his past mistake.

Somehow, Cleveland detectives discovered the man's buried secret. They are sympathetic, thinking the man has earned the right to live freed of the past and have advised authorities in another State to "forget about it."

What should the authorities do? Here is a man who violated the law and flouted its punishment. Should he be exposed and required to pay the penalty of his wrongdoing? Should his wife and children suffer today through his humiliation and their shame? Does the law require, in its majesty, that the crime of youth must be paid for in mature years?

The purpose of punishment, whether one realizes it or not, is the protection of society and, if possible, the reform of the individual. Obviously, society hardly needs protection against this head of a family, with years of straight-living to testify for him and prove his real reform. Having accomplished its purposes without inflicting a penalty, when the punishment was just, the law is dubiously served when zealous officials, reading only the wording of statutes, rake up ancient wrongs as an excuse for persecution of one who has, it seems, made good.

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 26, 30 and 40 years ago.

Thirty Years Ago—1907
We understand that Mr. Chas. McGregor has sold his farm in the northeast part of town for something over $40,000.

Mr. B. W. Bryant, a young lawyer late of Whitewright, Texas, has located in Haskell and has become associated with W. H. Murchison in the practice of law. From what his home paper, The Record, says of him he is a worthy and honorable addition to the bar of our city, as well as its citizenry.

Our First Safe Robbery—On Sunday night burglars broke into the Wichita Valley Railroad depot at this place and blew the iron safe open with dynamite or nitroglycerine and secured from it about $140. The outer door of the safe was shattered into bits and scattered over the floor, and a crow bar was used to prize open the inner door. No clue, so far as we know has been obtained as to the identity of the robbers. This is Haskell's first experience of a robbery of this kind, and is perhaps a part of the price we have to pay for a railroad and getting in touch with the outer world.

Messrs. W. F. Weaver, E. O. Chapman and R. B. Guess of Bell county, have purchased farms in this county out of the old Ed Whitaker ranch northeast of town. The broncho riding last Saturday furnished some lively sport. All the worst horses in this section seemed to be on hand. There were many entries and some expert riding. The first prize, a $55 saddle, was awarded to Edgar Jones. The second prize, $25 in cash, was captured by Monroe Howard.

Messrs. Fields Bros. are of the opinion from the condition in which they found the door of their store Thursday morning, that an attempt was made to enter the building the preceding night.

Forty Years Ago—1897
Why can't Haskell get up a little steam and secure telephonic connection with the world via Anson and Abilene?

Mr. J. F. Jones is enlarging his gin buildings and his new outfit of machinery will arrive in a few days.

Mr. Hugh Meadors is having a residence built in the northwest part of town and will hereafter abide under his own vine and fig tree.

Mr. Russel DeBard who came up last week to see his wife, who was sick at her father's left for home again this week after witnessing a very decided improvement in her health.

The past ten days have been more or less cloudy with partial showers falling in every direction, two or three of which struck the town. One result very pleasing to sweltering humanity, is a great modification of the previously high temperature. We do not look for any more extremely hot weather.

Mr. T. G. Jack tells us that the new gin in the Sand Hills is a settled fact. Wagons have gone to bring the machinery. It will be located on Mr. M. H. Lackey's place.

Mr. S. W. Scott and wife and Misses Mary Tandy, Una Foster, Bertha Fitzgerald and Edna Ellis and Messrs. Marshal Pierson, Walter and Will Tandy betook themselves to the Clear Fork Thursday on a fishing expedition.

If the present cotton prospect holds out, as there is every promise of its doing, our farmers will have to import more pickers.

Rochester

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Boyd of Vernon, are the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry and family this week.

Mr. G. W. Anderson of Coleman, and family and J. G. Anderson of Bartlett spent a few days here last week with their brother and family, R. L. Anderson.

Mrs. Ethel Davis of Haskell is a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark Sunday.

Mrs. T. J. Carney of O'Brien was shopping in Rochester Thursday last week.

The annual Baptist revival is in progress here now. Rev. Turner of Pecos is doing the preaching.

Mr. C. H. Keck of Knox City, opened up a new grocery store in the J. J. Tucker building on the south side Saturday. Mr. H. L. Mathory is in charge of the business.

Mr. E. S. DeBaky of Drumright, Okla., has leased the N. B. Webb brick building on the south side. He will have an up-to-date stock of dry goods here by the first of September. There is only one vacant business house left. We are glad to see our little city getting back to normal.

Rochester school is to open on September 13th. The Marcy and Idella schools have been transferred to the Rochester district for the year 1937-38. A new bus has been purchased to take care of the increase. We are hoping for the best school year we have ever had.

Mrs. Emma Gaunt of Iowa Park spent the week end here with relatives. Her daughter Billie Jane, who spent her vacation here with relatives returned home with her mother Sunday afternoon.

Little Miss Jeanette Henshaw of Haskell, spent a few days here last week with her cousins, Master Jack and little Miss Ann Carothers.

Mrs. and Miss Col. Culpepper and daughter, Miss Hughreene and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cameron of Electric, visited relatives here the past week-end.

Mrs. Andy Norris of Haskell was the house guest of her parents, Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wolf had the following children to spend the week-end with them, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sneddy and family of Wichita Falls, Mr. Curtis Love and family of Littlefield, and Mrs. O. D. Brown and son of Baird.

Jud News

The Baptist revival closed Thursday night with still a large attendance but no admitters to the church.

Mr. Odus Males, Misses Billy Males of Altus, Okla., and Miss Evelyn Scovvir of Snyder, Oklahoma were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ab Hutchins and family Sunday, where Miss Males remained for a few days.

Miss Mae Masterson and Miss Maurice Isbell spent Sunday with Misses Ilene and Ozella Ivey.

Some few in this community have been pulling boles and others will start soon. Most of the crops are needing rain bad.

There was a fairly large crowd at Sunday School Sunday and singing Sunday night.

There was a good many from Jud attended the boxing matches at Rochester Saturday night.

Mrs. T. A. Holcomb and daughter Evelyn left Saturday for Hobbs, N. M. where they will visit relatives.

Quite a few have been having summer colds but outside of that the health is still good.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Campbell of Wichita Falls spent Sunday with relatives in this community.

Kellam Praises Tarleton N. Y. A. Training Project

After spending Saturday morning on the John Tarleton College campus at Stephenville to observe the workings of the National Youth Administration agricultural training project in operation there, J. C. Kellam of Austin, Texas, director of NYA, said that the Tarleton project is the best one in all Texas.

"The Tarleton project excels all those I have observed in Texas," Mr. Kellam said.

Approximately 150 girls from 52 Texas counties are working and studying at Tarleton in the fourth week of a six-weeks NYA residence project. Cooperation of the Texas NYA administration and Tarleton College make it possible for them to work on the campus enough hours to earn living expenses and a few dollars of spending money. During time they are not working they go to the classes, attend cultural lectures, and participate in a planned recreation program.

Classes NYA girls attend are taught by members of the regular Tarleton faculty, and compose a course designed to train for rural homemaking and better community membership. It includes health education, home economics, oral English, poultry, horticulture and floriculture and community recreation.

Mr. Kellam and officials from the district NYA office in Waco have expressed approval of the lecture program planned at Tarleton. Faculty members have spoken on travel, practical psychology, books and reading, and the enjoyment of music. Dr. J. S. Nutt, the Rev. Clinton Bradshaw and the Rev. L. S. Maricham of Stephenville also have lectured.

Recreation arranged has won commendation from high NYA officials. Every evening girls play softball or tennis or take part in community games directed by Tarleton Athletic Director W. J. Wisdom. There have been community sings, and dances in the Tarleton recreation hall every Thursday night. A picnic breakfast at the college farm is scheduled for August 24, and a picture show party is possible. Supervisors of work projects in which girls work quietly at their seats have read to them aloud as they worked. Girls have been encouraged to use the Tarleton library, and given assistance in finding what they want to read.

Other features of the project at Tarleton which have pleased visiting officials are the excellent meals served under the supervision of Miss Ethel Montague at the Tarleton dining hall, and the opportunities make available to inspecting scientific methods of agriculture. Several girls have visited the Tarleton poultry plant and studied the methods of housing, feeding and general management in practice there.

As in similar projects at A. & M. College, N. T. A. C. and Prairie View College for Negroes, the Tarleton NYA project is operating for the benefit of rural youths between the ages of 18 and 25 years whose families are certified as in need for public assistance. Work they do includes making or mending draperies for college buildings; making dish towels, pillows, and rugs for the Tarleton hospital; washing and ironing equipment in the hospital; making aprons and dish towels and mending table cloths for the college dining hall; waiting tables; cleaning, clerical, laboratory and invoicing work.

General directors of the project are Alike McAlpine of Nevasota and Mary Hope Westbrook, associate professor of English at Tarleton. Also A. W. Brisbin, district supervisor from Waco office has visited the project frequently.

Girls from Haskell who are working on the Tarleton project are: Rossie Pauline Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Holmesley, daughter of Mrs. Jim Holmesley, Sparks, daughter of W. T. Sparks.

JOSEF STALIN STUDIED FOR THE PRIESTHOOD

WITH what blindness do we attempt to guide our children's footsteps in life, so often forcing on them an ambition of our own? It might be laughable were it not so seriously in opposition to the man's own desires, but Josef Stalin was forced to attend the Tiflis Greek Orthodox seminary, because his mother wanted him to be a priest. Young Stalin, legally named Josef Vissarionovitch Djygashev, did not want to be a priest.

Born in 1879, Josef was educated in the village school of Gori, Russia. In his young days he was a fighter who bore many a black eye, and he was somewhat of a bully, although he always displayed intelligence and character. At the seminary, he led the other students in plotting against the authorities, and local railway workers met in his room. Eventually, he was dismissed in disgrace. At the age of seventeen, he joined the underground dock workers of Batum in a riot and when the terrorist Bolsheviks were formed became active in their movement. While attending a Bolshevik party conference in Stockholm, in 1905, he met Lenin for the first time.

Josef Stalin was arrested a half a dozen times, and exiled from Russia the last time. He changed his name regularly and returned again and again. With Lenin and Trotsky, he took over the government of Russia in October, 1917. After Lenin died in 1924, Stalin supporters exiled Trotsky and through ruthless executions made Stalin dictator.

Josef Stalin's life is hardly the kind of biography you would expect from a boy who studied for the priesthood. The very fact that he was forced into religious studies may account for much of the violence that marked his career.

ELECTRIC COOKERY
NEW LOW RATE!

Rate Reduced to

2 1/2¢

Per Kilowatt Hour.

Electric Cookery Averages No More than One Cent a Meal per Person

NEW RATE EFFECTIVE NOW!

Requiring usage of the modernized, speedier, and cleaner type of cookery provided by the Electric Range, a new, comprehensive rate, conducive to greater use of Electric Service, becomes effective with this month's payment of bills. Under its provisions ALL OVER 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current used each month costs only 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour. The basis for the reduction is the proven theory that "the more you use, the less it costs."

This reduction, amounting to 16 2/3 per cent, is designed to make Electric Cookery as practical, from the standpoint of fuel, as any other type. The fact that there is no combustion makes Electric Cookery cleaner. A greatly improved flattened calrod heats almost instantaneously and hugs the bottom of utensils to prevent escape of heat. There is no flame to burn up oxygen, thus making air fresher and cooler in the kitchen. It is automatic, thus making it easier. Cleaner! Cooler! Easier! And this new, low rate makes Electric Cookery just as cheap or, in many instances, cheaper. Add faster. It's another reason for switching to Electric Cookery.

Lowers Cost of Lighting, Refrigeration
And All Other Residential Usage
Over 50 K.W.H. per Month

Many, many homes already use over 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current each month. By adding the electric range to kitchen equipment (it has proven itself the most valuable of all Electric Servants) you secure a rate of 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour on ALL current used over 50 K.W.H. used monthly.

This means that when you reach the higher usage brackets for light, refrigeration, and all other domestic purposes, your electric bill is calculated at a rate which actually amounts to a saving. It permits increased usage at no additional cost. Best of all, it permits Electric Cookery to enter homes which heretofore considered it "too high."

We invite you to come in so that we may show you the latest models in Electric Ranges. We believe you will approve of Electric Cookery—and the new rate that permits you to use the switch.

Revival Meeting In Progress At Pinkerton Church

With Rev. Roy Shaban, Baptist minister of Rule conducting, a two weeks revival meeting was started at the Pinkerton Baptist Church Sunday night.

Services are being held nightly, and attendance is increasing with each service. Rev. Shaban is bringing a series of enlightening messages, and a revived religious spirit is being manifested in the community. Residents of Pinkerton and surrounding communities are cordially invited to attend the services.

The revival will be concluded with the services on Sunday, August 29.

Mrs. W. M. Reid returned to her home here Monday from Sulphur Springs where she has been with her sisters since the death of her mother several weeks ago.

Merkel Pastor Will Direct Singing and Young People's Work During Methodist Revival

Rev. John Crow Methodist pastor at Merkel is to direct the singing and young people's work during the revival beginning at the Methodist church next Sunday, August 22.

The first Sunday preaching will be done by the local pastor, but the Rev. Mr. Tittle of Vernon will be here for the Monday night service beginning at eight o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Crow is a very effective revival worker, a great choir director and a very pleasant man. The young people will respond heartily to his leadership. Good gospel singing and pleasant fellowship are to be stressed during this revival.

Vacation Bible School
Beginning Monday August 23, the vacation Bible school will meet in the basement of the Methodist Church at 8:45 a. m. Each day for two weeks from Monday through Friday and from 8:45 to 10:45 each morning. The sessions are to be held for children from four through fourteen years of age. Most of the time will be spent in three separate groups. There will be supervised play, hand work, singing and stories.

All children should register not later than Tuesday. This is very important so all can get started in their construction work together.

All people around Haskell are invited to attend all services, work and sing in the same and obtain the full results of the revival and vacation Bible school.

THE FIRST DIAL TELEPHONE
Dial telephones are somewhat of a puzzling mystery to many of us who reside in the smaller cities, and are considered "new"—they have been in use for almost forty years. The first patent for a rotating telephone dial was issued exactly forty one years ago today—on August 20, 1896. The inventor claimed the device insured better and quicker telephone service by eliminating the human element in calling "numbers".
This agency gives "better service" on Insurance. See us today.

PERSONALS
Roy Baker of Knox City transacted business here Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lemmon of Houston are visiting relatives here this week.
Grady Roberts of Munday was a business visitor in the city the first of the week.
Mrs. C. D. Bradley and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Woodward of Dixon Springs, Tenn., are visiting in the home of the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lewellen.

NOVEL SURF SLED
Miss Althea Martin shown with the new type of surf sled patented by a Los Angeles newspaper man, which will lessen the danger of the rider getting hurt in the surf. The streamlined pontoon below its nose allows it to float the rider in perfect safety, while the stabilizer shield along the tail holds it to a straight course.

Parents of Son
Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Bud) Glover of the Foster community are rejoicing over the arrival of a husky son at their home Wednesday morning. The youngster gives promise of taking over Bud's duties as overseer at an early date. Mother and infant are doing fine.

Life's Beacon...
Love is the shining light of our lives. It brings joy to the poorest and lightens the burden of the most oppressed. To love is to know the full meaning of life; to be loved is to have won God's greatest gift. And in the solemn moment when a loved one must be taken from your midst, your deepest, most heartfelt emotion will be most completely expressed by the understanding cooperation of
