COMPLIANCE IN FARM PROGRAM TO BE CHECKED

Measuring Farms in County Under 1937 Program Starts Monday

Checking compliance under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program in Haskell County will begin next week according to County Agent B. W. Chesser. Mr. J. L. Mobley, State Engineer for the AAA was in the county this week checking aerial maps and instructing the supervisors how to use them correctly in measuring land.

Haskell County is among the first in the state to begin measuring. Mr. Chesser says that with the cooperation of the supervisors and producers he should be among the first to finish. Mr. Mobley warned the supervisors that these maps would have to be used for several years and especially good records should be taken of them. He also warned that the Edgar Tobin Aerial Survey Company of San Antonio has a copyright on the maps and that they can't be used under any circumstances but for the purpose of the Agriculture Conservation Program. No one will be allowed to trace them. Any person interested in a map of his farm may purchase one from the Tobin Aerial Survey Company.

Both a state law and a county law prohibits stock from running loose on highways, he pointed out, and failure to observe them have resulted in several serious accidents the past twelve months. He said that if the practice continue to increase, highway officers will be forced to invoke the two laws to prevent serious consequences.

FARMERS WILL URGE ACTION ON FARM BILL

Mass Meeting Will Be Held at Amarillo To Discuss New Measure

Feeling that the national Congress is not acting with as much dispatch as reasonably should be expected in connection with the new farm bill now before the House, farmers of Extension Districts 1, 2 and 3 are to hold a mass meeting in Amarillo July 28, to discuss the new bill and to urge Congress to take immediate action.

Unless this or some similar program is enacted this year, farm leaders point out, the country may be faced with another agricultural debacle similar to 1933, when prices for farm commodities dropped to such low levels that more than half of Texas farmers were faced with bankruptcy and loss of their homes.

The proposed farm program now before Congress provides prices for commodities at or near parity with other major commodities, and farmers, tired of promises and the vagaries of nature, are insistent that something be done toward passage of the bill at this session of Congress.

Although the mass meeting at Amarillo is under the auspices of the Texas Agricultural Association, every farmer is urged to attend and lend his voice to the urgency of the request for action from Congress.

A delegation of farmers from this county is making plans to attend the meeting.

Haskell County History

Forty Years Ago—1897
The watermelon season opened in fine shape this week.

Several fishing parties were out this week making it lively for the finny tribe as well as themselves. Mr. C. F. Cox sold 4,000 mutton sheep a few days ago to Logan & Durham of Sweetwater at $2.25. They were yearlings and up.

Messrs. Bill Mann, a prominent stockman of Archer county, and C. O. Joline, mayor of Wichita Falls, who has a ranch in Knox county, was here this week.

The "Cyclone Comedy Company", snake charmers, etc., spent several days here last week trying to get an audience to see them "show" but failed. We understand that in the wrath of their disgust they threatened to "tell it hard" on Haskell in their travels. We have heard that people are sometimes to be admired for the enemies they make—it is so of Haskell in this instance.

Miss May Field returned home the first of the week after an absence of several weeks visiting in the eastern portion of the state.

Mr. E. H. Morrison and wife returned home to Graham Thursday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Morrison's sister, Miss Lillie Rike, who will visit them awhile. Mr. Will Hogg, son of the ex-Governor and Mr. Ed Hill of Austin are visiting Judge H. G. McConnell and family at this place. The judge and family are out with them on a few days fishing and hunting trip.

The Iron Stable, J. L. Baldwin proprietor, advertised first class single and double rigs and careful drivers, and commercial trade was a specialty. Horses were boarded by the day, week or month at reasonable rates.

Thirty Years Ago—1907
Mr. J. K. Ashton was in town Saturday getting some specially constructed lamps to put in his cotton field to catch the millers that produce the boll worm.

Mr. Lincoln, who built the Wright house and has just completed a handsome residence for Mr. S. Bevers, left Tuesday for his home in Dallas.

The Wichita Valley construction train and crew have been here all the week putting in a switch from the stock pens to the oil mill, now under construction. The work was completed yesterday, and a train was run over the track. They also built a short spur out to the ice plant.

Work was begun Thursday on the foundation for the two-story brick building to be erected by Messrs. J. E. Irby, D. H. Hamilton and R. D. C. Stephens between the Farmers' National Bank and the Lindell building.

It is announced that the Stamford Collegiate Institute will open for its first session this fall. It is believed the main building costing $60,000, including a boys' dormitory, will be completed by Sept. 1st, and a girls' dormitory with rooms for a hundred girls, will be ready by Sept. 15.

Three brick buildings, a $45,000 oil mill and the railroad enlarging its switching facilities, besides a number of residences in the course of erection, is the Haskell program of progress just now.

Mr. G. R. Couch is having his one-story residence converted into a two-story building and otherwise enlarged and remodelled. When completed it will be among the nicest residences in town. Contractor McFatter has had the foundation staked out and will begin work Monday on the Odd Fellows building, a two-story brick on the north side of the square.

Annual Detach Toll From Diphtheria In Texas Totals 300

Texas loses more than three hundred of its children each year from one preventable cause according to State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox. Diphtheria, that ever present menace to children, was responsible in 1936 for 351 deaths.

No parent would allow his child to run in front of trains or automobiles, but may allow them to run the danger of contracting diphtheria. Prevention of diphtheria in children is a simple matter of inoculation with toxoid.

If you have a child six months old or more take him to your family physician and ask to have a Shick test made to determine whether the child is susceptible or immune to diphtheria—for 75 to 90 per cent of children under twelve years of age are susceptible.

Information that as high as ninety per cent of all children under twelve are susceptible was gained from Shick tests carried out on thousands of children during the past decade, and indicates that young children should receive immunizing treatment against diphtheria without a preliminary Shick test. Such a test should, however, be carried out six months after preventive treatment, to make certain that immunity has been established. In older children and adults, a preliminary Shick test is advisable since immunity may already be present.

W. Williams, Mrs. Marvin Bryan, Mrs. Walter Murchison, Mrs. W. G. Forgy, Mrs. B. C. Chapman, Mrs. Marvin Branch, Mrs. Ralph Duncan, Mrs. Clay Smith, Mrs. Jack Mickle, Mrs. Herbert Decker of Denton, Mrs. W. H. Mrs. D. H. Persons Entertains Merry Dames Club

Mrs. D. H. Persons entertained members of the Merry Dames Club with a few invited guests Tuesday afternoon at her home. Three tables were laid for games of 84. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Persons served a delicious refreshment plate of lemon sherbert and angel food cake to Mesdames Ada Rike, Kate Morris of Spur, P. D. Sanders of Detroit, Sam A. Roberts, B. M. Whiteker, Ollie Freeman, C. M. Conner, C. B.

Breedlove, F. L. Daugherty, Nanie Cooper, Mary Oates, W. A. Kimbrough, R. L. Foote, Elizabeth Martin, Cretie Brooks, Polly Leath, T. C. Cahill, Sam T. Chapman, C. L. Lewis, H. S. Post, Mike Watson, Geo. Herren, Paul Kuenstler and Jno. Ellis.

Lone Star Club Studies Art of Making Sandwiches At Meeting

Since about 90 per cent of the sandwich consists of bread, the selection of good bread is important, Mrs. Clarence Cantrell told club members at the club meeting July 14. Further points were that bread should have uniform texture and should not have large holes. Bread to be used in making good sandwiches should have a fresh sweet odor. The real success of the sandwich depends on the filling which must spread easily rather than to be distributed in large lumps with bare spots between. In preparing sandwiches for lunches they should be made as nourishing as possible and at the same time be made as attractive as possible. Most sandwiches taste best served at a temperature of 70 degrees.

Meat sandwiches were brought to the club by Mrs. J. D. Reddell and Mrs. L. C. Crouch, and points were given in regard to preparation and proper serving. Those present were: Mesdames, Doc Adams, J. D. Reddell, L. C. Crouch, Clarence Cantrell. New members were: Mesdames, Henry Smith, Clarence Taylor, Pete Rayner, Elmo Flenniken, T. W. Flenniken. Reporter.

Mrs. Grady Roberts of Munday, visited relatives here Saturday.

The O'Brien Home Demonstration Club

"First give close consideration to room then plan curtains and draperies that harmonize with your room," said Miss Vaughan in her demonstration to the O'Brien Club in the home of Mrs. E. C. Westerman July 14.

In continuing program Miss Vaughan said, let light come in without producing a glare, secure a comfortable degree of privacy. For these two reasons glass curtains are desirable in every home.

Cold north rooms require warm colors, while a sunny room needs cool, crisp colors. But curtains and draperies should appear the same from the outside throughout the house.

The club voted to buy Mrs. R. L. Gray's building to be used as a club house and a community center.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames Terry Roberson, C. E. Bird, W. P. Hitchcock, Ogle Roberson, W. B. West, C. E. Westerman, C. M. Walsworth, L. Lambert, Tom Link, Dick Johnston, C. B. Banner, T. B. Austin, T. J. Sparks, A. S. Byars, F. J. Qualls, M. M. Griffin, R. L. Gray, Henry Qualls, Birdie Dickson and Miss Mildred Vaughan.

Assigned to Foreign Mission Field

Miss Maybelle Taylor of this city, who will return today from Richmond, Va., where she passed final examinations preparatory to accepting a foreign missionary assignment in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in October. She will be the first woman reared in Haskell county to enter the field of foreign missions.

Womens Missionary Society

The W. M. S. of the First Christian Church began their 1937-38 year's work Monday July 12th in a meeting with Mrs. R. B. Fields. After a brief business session Mrs. H. O. Pearson directed the very interesting program in the absence of Mrs. Boone who was ill.

The general theme for 1937-38 "The World is One." "The World is one; We cannot live apart. To earliest remotest races we are kin."

The interdenominational themes for the year are, for the first six months, "The Church in Rural America," the second six months, "The Moslem World."

Under the subject "Our Rural World" the topics for consideration for the July meeting were: Devotional: "I am the Good Shepherd", John 10:1-18—Miss May Fields.

The Disciples of Christ—A Rural People—Mrs. R. O. Pearson.

"The Farmer's Wife" a drama in two scenes: Mrs. Roy Ratliff, Mrs. Virgil Meadows, Mrs. R. H. Pittman, Mrs. C. Hunt, Meses Dulin Fields, Buenis Fay Ratliff.

The play shows very forcefully that life on the farm can be the time is taken teach appreciation of beauty and the utilization of character-building values. Mrs. Pearson in her own charming manner read Dale Ellis' "Did You Ever Live in the Country?" During the social period Meses May and Dulin Fields served sherbet and cake.

Baptist W. M. S.

Mrs. Jim Fouts, Stewardship Chairman of the Baptist Missionary Society asked that all circles meet together at the church Monday afternoon to study a book on Stewardship. The book was entitled "Gods Plow" and Mrs. Fouts had selected five very efficient teachers, Mrs. I. N. Simmons, Mrs. Louise Green, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. R. L. Foote and Mrs. B. M. Whiteker, each teaching one chapter.

Twenty-two women were present to enjoy this treat. Oh! that God could have His way in each life, and that every Christian would not only give a tithe of his money but of his time and talents.

At an intermission Mrs. Fouts assisted by Miss Lois Fouts served a delicious and refreshing orange ice and cookies.

Will Attend Historic Presentation While Visiting in Kaufman

Mr. George Fields and Miss May Fields are spending this week in Wills Point and Kaufman. While away they will see the Centinela, an epic drama of Texas, at the historical little village of Prairieville in Kaufman County.

Mr. Mark Hamilton the creator and original director of the Cavalcade of Texas is also creator and director of this play.

What makes it attractive to Geo. and Miss May is that they were living in Prairieville when they came to Haskell with their parents forty-seven years ago.

Miss Maybelle Taylor Will Assume Foreign Missionary Post

Miss Maybelle Taylor, Haskell-reared girl and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor of this city, has been appointed as a Missionary by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Baptist Church and will leave in October to assume an assignment at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Miss Taylor will return to Haskell today from Richmond, Va., where she successfully passed her examinations and physical tests, making one of the highest scholastic averages in Missionary training among the large class of appointees. She will have the distinction of being the first Haskell woman to become a foreign missionary.

Graduate of Haskell High School with the class of '23, Miss Taylor did college work at San Marcos and Baylor University in Waco, and finished at Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, in 1929, completing her college studies in three and one-half years with the added honor of being exempt from all exams. She majored in Bible and Art.

Following her graduation, Miss Taylor taught for two years in the Haskell schools, and then in Eastland and Albany schools for four years. She taught Art in the Glade-water school during a part of the 1936 term.

Miss Taylor was a student in the Baptist Missionary Training School at Louisville, Ky., during the 1934 and 1935 sessions, and was the only woman in Texas awarded a scholarship for the first term.

Miss Taylor will spend the summer in the home of her parents in this city.

Mrs. H. Wehnert of Wehnert was a visitor in Haskell Thursday.

Magazines Business Today

Magazines stand groans and groans of current news as it never knew making of magazines, little an a hundred years old, few exceptions, has become a boom, with New York as its center.

Harvey, a veteran editor in the "pulpwood" industry in his book, "Pulpwood," that 10,000,000 per cent of the publishers now buying for readers' dimes and quarters each month or each week.

To supply the millions of words required to fill these books—in the trade magazines is generally spoken of as a "book"—hundreds of writers are required. Some of audience. Women, too, are regular customers.

The magazine makers, some of whom can look back to days when they worried plenty about where their next issue was coming from, are, for the most part, publishing houses which issue a string of periodicals.

Macfadden with his confession magazine, Street & Smith, with their string of pulps in the field of love, adventure, sports and crimes; Fawcett Publications now grown to 16 magazines, and the Dell group of confession, Western and detective books—these houses provide the foundation of the news dealers' loaded racks. But they are just a few of the publishers now vying for readers' dimes and quarters each month or each week.

Format, too, has become important. The first pocket size "digest" has been followed in a virtual stampede by all sorts of digests, and more recently by magazines which are not digests at all but which merely adopt the smaller format because of its demonstrated sales effectiveness.

Artists who might be expected to have found in this field an eldorado for their oils and water colors, have been confronted with the competition of highly developed color photography which many editors find not only cheaper for their covers, but sometimes more effective. This, in turn, has provided more work for photographer's models, even as it has somewhat slackened the demand for artists' models.

Sketch artists, however are having a field day with the increase in the number of magazine which use the humorous sketch; and this, too, has meant more business for them make excellent money; as much as $50,000 a year. Most of them have to be content with a few thousand, sometimes a few hundred dollars.

Rates of pay vary. A few magazines, paying as little as half a cent a word, are ignored by most writers. A rate of a cent and a half a word is the usual thing, but with frequent changes upward in the case of writers whose work is professional and upon whom editors find they can rely.

A part of the budget that formerly went to writers is now going, in many cases, to pay for "art," which generally means photographs. Pictures are paid for at rates that vary between $3 and $5 each. Some pictures bring considerably more, depending on their importance and exclusiveness. The use of photographs has had a marked effect upon magazine making, having given birth to a new type of periodical devoted entirely to the telling of the story of current events with the camera. The appearance of several periodicals of this character is an indication of a new field of reader interest.

TELL YOUR STORY

Some sound advice to business men, especially those charged with the management of the large enterprises, was given recently by H. A. Batten, president of the country's biggest advertising agency in an address before a national advertisers' association at a convention at Hot Springs, Va.

He declared that the immediate and pressing need of American business is to get back the lost friendship and confidence of the public through advertising.

"If, like the telephone company," said he, "you had told the people of the United States all about your company—your basic policy, your stock structure, your operating methods, your employee relationships, your services to the community—if, like the telephone company, you had done this from the beginning, year after year, so that each upcoming generation would learn about it in turn, then you would not today be in the position of having to approach the public as a comparative stranger and to sue for its confidence, for if you had done that you would already enjoy that confidence as a friend."

Many industries and utilities have been following the course Mr. Batten suggests for many years and have profited thereby. But many neglect to tell their story until they are attacked, often by political demagogues, and thus placed on the defensive. The public wants to be fair, but in order to do so it must have all the facts.

BETTER ARMY PLANE

In common with other nations the United States are rapidly increasing the efficiency of their army and navy. America, too, is looking towards being thoroughly prepared for the next war.

The War Department recently announced the purchase of some new pursuit planes, hailed as the fastest and most efficient ever built. Speaking of the characteristics of this new two-engine airplane it was said by official announcement:

"The plane" combines very high performance with long range and improved safety, and is particularly designed for high performance at the lower altitudes. The airplane is an all-metal, mid-wing monoplane with retractable landing gear and tailwheel and represents a marked advance."

So, the Army is getting stronger in the air. Our Navy is doing likewise. Both branches of our defensive services are endeavoring to be completely equipped for "the day", whenever it breaks.

Getting rid of bad habits is a good habit to get into.

THE SEVEN WONDERS

Nearly everyone has heard of the seven wonders of the world, but probably few could name them and fewer could tell what became of them. These interested in such things might clip this out for their scrap book.

The seven wonders of the world were so named by Antipater, a writer of Palestine, about 100 B. C., as follows:

The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, destroyed in 484 B. C., more than 100 years before they were listed among the wonders.

The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, burned in 262 A. D.

The Statue of Zeus at Olympus, destroyed in 408.

The Colossus of Rhodes, sold for junk in 653.

The Lighthouse of Pharos at Alexandria, fell in an earthquake.

The Mausoleum of Artemisia destroyed in 1402.

The Pyramid of Cheops, the only one of the "Seven Wonders" still in existence.

Such were the seven wonders of the ancient world. Many lists of modern wonders have been made, but a recent writer selects not the perishable works of man, but the discoveries and inventions which have revolutionized civilization.

He names the radio, the telephone, the airplane, the antiseptics, spectrum analysis and radium. Whether his list is the best that might be made or not, the wonders mentioned will survive as long as humanity exists, bestowing untold benefits upon mankind.

AN ECONOMIC REASON

At a meeting of chemical engineers in Baltimore, R. C. Stratton, insurance company executive, made some statements that should interest every employer. The cost of industrial hazards, he contends, does not end with the mere payment of money to the employee injured. Some industrial diseases are so slow in their inception and detection that employees may work for months or weeks with greatly impaired efficiency. In the South African gold mining industry alone, he points out, the disease of silicosis costs approximately 30 per cent of the value of the gold obtained in the mines. When humanitarian reasons fail to prevail, perhaps this argument will impress upon employers the wisdom of safeguarding their workers' health.

PLANNING WAR IN ADVANCE

M-Day, zero hour of America's mobilization for the next war is visioned in realistic detail by Frank C. Hanighen in the July Review of Reviews. The day war is declared, he sees American industry shifting all peacetime machinery to supply the army and navy with every kind of war material.

This parallels Germany's Schlieffen plan, drawn up in detail long before 1914. Its object was to mobilize all Germany's resources within a few hours, then with trip-hammer blows, capture Paris within a few weeks.

Just one thing went wrong with Schlieffen's time table of war. Tiny Belgium delayed it long enough for France to mobilize. An M-Day for the United States may be laudable strategy, planned with all tactical finesse. But with war always so fickle and unpredictable, it's hard to wonder just what insignificant fly may spoil our own ointment of preparedness.

The woman who married a poet apparently did it for better or for verse.

The ideal husband is just an ordinary fellow who has been properly trained by the ideal wife.

Bachelors may long for the tranquility of married life, and married men always do.

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Curly Hair" By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO everybody: Well, sir, here's a yarn about a fine, thick head of hair. Now if that sounds strange, let me remind you that this isn't the first time a head of hair has busted into literature. There's a yarn in the Bible about a head of hair that is now famous all over the world. I mean that crop of wool that gave Samson the strength to fight whole armies over there in Palestine, until Delilah got out the shears and clipped it off.

This head of hair we're going to tell about today isn't quite so famous as Samson's, but it's been through almost as much excitement. It never figured in any of those wars over there in Palestine, but it did strike a blow for the Irish cause in the Black and Tan revolution in 1918.

That head of hair belonged to Thomas O'Donnell, and Tom is today's distinguished adventurer and the lad whose tale we are telling. Tom's hair was thick and curly back in 1918 when he was twenty years old and a soldier in the Irish Republican army. "I was proud of it then," he says, "and I seldom had a hair cut, so it was quite long." And Tom lived to see the day when he was not only proud of that hair, but doggone thankful for it as well.

You know that Irish revolution wasn't fought like most wars. Guerilla tactics were the order of the day. The Irish couldn't scrape together enough men to line up their army and fight the English in the open, so they just got together in small bands that could strike and then scatter before the English could catch up with them. The lad you saw working around the farm in the afternoon might be one of the bunch of raiders who fought the "Tans" after darkness had fallen. In fact, that lad might have been Tom O'Donnell himself, or maybe his brother, for both of them did a bit of night prowling whenever word came of a chance to hit at the enemy.

Boys Had Fire in Their Hearts That Night.

And one day in April, 1918, the news was spread about that the English were sending a force to be stationed at Tiebrid, County Tipperary, near the farmhouse where Tom lived with his brother and his dad. The force was to occupy a big mansion on top of a hill and orders came from

Sure enough, it looked like a woman there in bed.

Irish Rebellion headquarters that the mansion must be burned before the English had a chance to get into it.

About sixty of the boys went out that night, and Tom and his brother were among them. They carried gasoline five miles across the fields, and burn that mansion they did. Then they scattered before any large force of English might catch up with them.

The flames of the burning building were visible for miles around. Military detachments started closing in on the place, but the boys knew short cuts through the bogs. Tom and his brother got home safely, floundering through mud in a pouring rain. Tom's brother went straight to bed, hiding his wet clothes under the cot he slept on, but Tom sat up to make himself a pot of tea before retiring. The tea was barely ready when he heard a lorry full of soldiers pull up on the road outside the house.

Soldiers Wanted to Find Out for Themselves.

Quickly Tom put out the light. He left the pot of hot tea on the table and hurried into the room where he and his father slept. He had a gun, and if they caught him with that—well—they'd shoot him, that's all. He jumped into bed besides his dad, clothes and all, and tucked the gun in beside him. Then he told his dad to let the soldiers in.

In another minute the soldiers were in and all over the place. "Has anyone been out of the house tonight?" they demanded. Tom's dad said no one had been out. But those soldiers were taking nobody's word for it. They began to search the place. Then one of the officers noticed the hot tea on the table. "Who has been making tea?" he wanted to know.

Tom's dad said no one had made any tea—everyone had gone to bed early. But there was the tea, and his story certainly sounded fishy. Those soldiers began to search every crack and corner.

Tom Becomes His Father's "Wife."

In Tom's brother's room they found a lot of wet clothes, and that was plenty bad. It meant Tom's brother would go to jail for taking part in the night's doings. But Tom's brother had no gun, and Tom had. If they found that gun, Tom would be shot—and maybe his brother would, too. And it looked as if those soldiers were bent on finding everything in the house that night.

They were coming toward Tom's room now, and under the blankets, shivering in his wet clothes, Tom could hear them. And then Tom had an idea. It was a slim chance, but it might save him. Tom ran his fingers hastily through his hair, brushing it back in a sort of pompadour. Then he buried his face in the pillow and pulled the bedclothes up around his face so that only his long curls showed over the top of the counterpane. And just as he finished, an officer came walking into the room.

"Get up there," he roared. But Tom didn't move. And at that moment, Tom's dad came in, saw the long hair hanging down over the bedclothing—and got the idea. To the officer he said, "That's my wife, sir, and she's very deaf."

The officer took a closer look. Sure enough, it looked like a woman there in the bed. He didn't know the neighborhood very well, and it's a good thing for Tom he didn't. Any one of the people in the countryside might have told him that Tom's dad lived alone in that house with his two boys. But for all that officer knew, Tom's dad was telling the truth.

Well sir, the British soldiers might have been tough on the men, but they didn't drag women out of bed in their night clothes, and this one didn't insist on Tom's getting up. The soldiers finished their search without finding any more incriminating evidence, and they went off taking Tom's brother with them. He got a sentence of eighteen months in an English prison, but Tom, who faced a far worse fate, got out of it entirely because he had a quick wit—and a thick, curly head of hair.

Summer Camp for Boy Scouts Will Open on July 25

The next big program of the Chisholm Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, is the summer camp, Camp Tonkawa which opens July 25th and closes August 8th.

Camp Tonkawa is for all registered Scouts of the Chisholm Trail Council. The camp site is a beautiful one, well shaded, and suitable for all kinds of camping. It is located near Buffalo Gap and also Lake Abilene. A fine concrete swimming pool will be used by the Scouts and all swimming and Life Saving activities will be supervised by experienced American Red Cross Life Savers.

Camp Tonkawa has a reputation for serving excellent meals and a professional cook has been employed for this purpose.

Prof. V. B. Leonard of San Angelo will direct the archery program. He will furnish all bows, hundreds of arrows, targets, etc. and will give every Scout an opportunity to shoot daily. The Scouts will not be required to purchase any of the archery equipment. The Chisholm Trail Council is glad to be able to get the services of such an experienced archer as Prof. Leonard.

On the camp staff will be Scoutmaster Edwin Burnam, Scoutmaster Rex Palmer, Audas Smith of the National Training School of the Boy Scouts of America, Prof. Leonard, a trained nurse from the Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Executive Ed Shumway and others. Patrol camping will be the plan followed and every Scout will be given an opportunity to display whatever leadership qualifications he may have.

Most Scouts are registering for the two weeks. One week will cost $6.00 and two weeks only $11.00. The registration fee pays for the necessary camp expenses, swimming, professional cooks, leather equipment, foods, etc. The first meal will be served at 7 P. M. Sunday July 25th. Scouts are requested to report at the Camp during the afternoon of the 25th to have time to set up tents and get organized. An inspiring religious service will be held around the Council fire Sunday night and this program and most Council Fire ceremonies will be boy programs. The Chisholm Trail Council hopes that every Troop in the Council will register several Scouts at once for Camp Tonkawa. Don't wait for the success depends upon early registration. 126-YEAR OLD St. Louis—A family been in the family used daily for the is the treasured one by Harrison Douglass carpenter. The relic from oldest son to...

Don't Step on Gas If Interested in More Miles Gallon

"How many miles can I get on a gallon?"
It's an average motorist speaking, and asking his favorite question. And the answer, strangely enough is: "It all depends on you."
This year cars are endowed with new economy features. They are equipped with high compression engines. They are built to squeeze all available power out of every drop of gasoline.
Every automobile engineer knows that driving habits play the most important part in economy next to pistons, compression ratio, valves, carburetors and cooling. Give five different people a car, fill up the tanks with the same brand of gasoline, and you'll get a performance variation of two to six miles per gallon in the same car.
What's the answer? Don't tramp on the gas!
Every time a driver jams his foot down on the accelerator he lowers his miles-per-gallon average. Too sudden acceleration throws the throttle wide open and permits unusually large quantities of gasoline to rush through. Carburetors must be constructed in this fashion to prevent engines from stalling when the gas is pressed down too hard.
Attaining maximum mileage on each gallon of gasoline doesn't mean poke-along driving. It does mean that drivers must practice to change from one speed to another gradually, rather than suddenly. Motorists who make a habit of prolonged and rapid acceleration must pay the penalty in more gasoline purchases, without the saving of any appreciable amount of time.
Zipping away from a stop light is thrilling. It's good to know that your car has the pep to get up and go. But it usually gets you nothing but a longer wait at the next light. Stop-light timing in semi-cities and even along some metropolitan highways, is designed to keep traffic moving at a certain pace. The driver that maintains that speed will find the "go" lights all along the way, will cut down his number of starts and stops, and keep his car operating in the most economical gear—the high one—most of the way.
Engineers have built economy into cars. Don't waste it with a heavy right foot!

Haskell Minister Hooks "Big Ones" On First Gulf Fishing Trip

The following account of his first fishing experience in the Gulf was written by Rev. H. R. Whately, minister of the First Baptist Church in this city and appeared in a recent issue of the Fore Worth Star-Telegram. Rev. Whately, an ardent fisherman, tells graphically of his encounter with "big ones" in the Gulf on his successful trip.

"Dreams do come true. Fishing has been one of my sports since boyhood. I have fished in some of the best rivers of Texas, Arkansas and Colorado and have been fairly successful in catching nice fish. But I had never caught them in size and numbers to my satisfaction.

"I have dreamed of catching them so fast and large that I was not able to pull them out of the water. On Monday, June 28, this dream came true. I had just completed a revival meeting with the First Baptist Church of Robstown. During my stay there I was looking for a real fisherman. I met that man in the person of Fred B. Norris, manager of the Robstown Chamber of Commerce, who was glad to take a day off and really show me a good time.

"We arrived in Port Aransas shortly after sunrise and soon found ourselves in a nice little boat headed for the Gulf. Our boatman began to slow down about one-half mile out from the end of the jetties. He left the motor running just enough to keep us from drifting while he got upon the prow of the boat and looked around. This was repeated several times. Finally we anchored—and the fun and work really started.

"I had not been fishing more than three minutes before a kingfish struck my line so hard he almost jerked me out of my seat. I ping with perspiration. "The last three I caught, my friend Norris had to land for me. I had fun, but I am sure he had more watching me. I discovered that I had muscles that had not been exercised for years. I was so sore afterward that I could not have fished for three days if I had tried.

"We went home with 42 fish that dressed 345 pounds."

Tells of Trip

Hugh Lowe, 16, Life Scout and member of Troop 26 of this city, tells in an interesting article of his recent trip with other Scouts from Haskell county to the National Jamboree in Washington, D. C. Hugh, who will be a member of the '38 Class of HHS, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lowe of this city.

My Trip To The National Jamboree

On June 24th we boarded a train at Abilene and headed for Washington D. C.

We went by way of Ft. Worth, Dallas, Texarkana, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Columbus, O., and Harrisburg, Pa. Needless to say we had a great time. We ate and slept on the train all the way to Washington.

We arrived in Washington on June 26 at 9:30 a. m. and immediately began to set up our tents. By June 29th there was about 25,000 Scouts in Camp.

On June 29 we went to a ball game between Boston and Washington which was free for all the Boy Scouts. On July 3rd Hon. Geo. Mahon, congressman, took Pete Place, Zug Phelps, Herman Josselet, Jas Cadenhead Jr., Dan Oates and myself to the Capitol and White House, the Senate and House of Representatives and lots of other interesting places.

He carried us to lunch in the Capitol cafeteria.

The night of July 4th we went to witness the fireworks display, which was very beautiful and was said to be the most beautiful ever staged in Washington. On the afternoon of July 7th through the courtesy of Mr. Mahon three of us went to see the all star baseball game between the National and the American Leagues. There I saw the largest crowd of people I have ever seen, about 35,000.

On the night of July 7th the Scouts of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico gave a pageant at the Washington arena to a very large crowd at the admission of $1.00. One the morning of the 9th we began to break camp which was the end of the jamboree, but not of our travels.

About 1:00 o'clock a. m. July 10th we boarded a train for New York City and at 6:30 a. m. we were in New York ready for more thrills. We went to a hotel and left our baggage and ate breakfast. We went to Times Square, 42nd Street, Broadway, and Wall Street. We went on top of the Empire State Building, the tallest building in the world. From there we boarded an elevated railway and went to the harbor. There we took a ship and went out to the Statue of Liberty. From there 28 of us were invited to supper by

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Gibson and daughter Doris Mae of Mart, Texas are here this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Shriver and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Crow.

W. A. Lyles left the first of the week for Portales, New Mexico, and other points in the mountains where he will spend several days on a vacation.

J. D. Montgomery joined his brother at Rotan the first of the week and they will spend several days in Cloudercroft, New Mexico, on their vacation.

Mrs. Karl McGregor and daughter Charline Ann are visiting her sister Mrs. J. N. Hendrix at Muleshoe, Texas this week.

Mrs. Wallace Ruff is in De Leon, Texas where she will attend the funeral services of an uncle who died in that city Wednesday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., has been the seat of the United States government for 147 years, that city being designated as the national capital on July 16, 1790 by an act of Congress.

Today, with an almost countless number of buildings are occupied by various departments of the Government, quite in contrast to the few small buildings used in 1890, and the huge capitol building is among the most famous structures in the world.

a very prominent and rich man who lives on 5th Avenue and 82nd Street which was a very enjoyable affair.

From there we went to Radio City and other places of interest. At 1:00 o'clock we left New York for Buffalo for a short stop and we stayed 5 hours. There we took a boat ride up the Niagara River to the Falls. As we neared the Falls we had to don our rain coats to keep the mist from the Falls from soaking us. On this river we left the U. S.
