

HOLIDAY SEASON TO BE OPENED WITH PRE-CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL DEC. 4TH

'First' Thanksgiving Uneventful; To Be Observed Here Nov. 28

Enthusiastic Approval Given Program at Community Breakfast

Thanksgiving Day No. 1, proclaimed for Nov. 21 by President Roosevelt and Governor O'Daniel, passed quietly with little observance in Haskell. None of the retail establishments observed the date as a business holiday, following announcement made at the Chamber of Commerce breakfast last Tuesday morning that Haskell stores would observe a Thanksgiving holiday on Nov. 28th, traditional last Thursday in the month.

Although Nov. 21 was a legal banking holiday, by virtue of the President's proclamation, both Haskell banks remained open for business during regular hours. O. E. Patterson, active vice-president of the Haskell National, said the two local institutions had decided that observance of both dates would be an inconvenience to their patrons. Haskell banks will be closed all day Thursday, Nov. 28th.

With a full holiday to be observed on the latter Thanksgiving date by Haskell stores, professional offices, and county and city officials, observance of the day will begin with a Union Thanksgiving Service sponsored by all Haskell churches, which will be given Wednesday night at the First Baptist Church in this city, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Clifford W. Williams will bring the Thanksgiving message, with other parts on the program to be given by Rev. H. R. Whitley and Rev. Copeland. Music during the service will be furnished by the Harmony Club. The service has been arranged for the entire public, and everyone is invited to attend.

On Thanksgiving Day, a large number of Haskellites are planning to see major college football games, with the A&M-Texas clash at Austin probably attracting the largest number of fans. For football fans remaining at home, the annual Thanksgiving Day rivalry between the Haskell Indians and the Stamford Bulldogs to be played on Indian Field Thursday afternoon, will be the feature local attraction. The game will begin at 2:00 o'clock, and will wind up conference play for both teams.

Rev. Copeland New Minister of ME Church

Rev. Kenneth Copeland, pastor of the Scotland Methodist church in Wichita Falls for the past year, was named to the pastorate of the First Methodist church in this city at the annual Methodist Conference held at Pampa this week. Rev. Copeland was transferred from the North Texas to the Northwest Texas conference in his appointment to the Haskell church. Rev. and Mrs. Copeland and their two small daughters have been here for three weeks.

Applications May Be Filed Now For Notary Public Appointment

The following information concerning the recently-enacted Amendment which permits the appointment of Notaries Public by the Secretary of State, was received this week by County Clerk Roy Ratliff: "Due to the passage of the Constitutional Amendment authorizing appointment of Notaries of Public by the Secretary of State, appointments will be made from and after the canvass of the vote on November 20, 1940. Appointments made before June 1, 1941, will expire on that date. All appointments made on June 1, 1941, or thereafter, will expire on June 1, 1943. There has been no change

Knox Farm Girl Fatally Burned at Family Home

Deisy May Hutchins, 14 only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutchins, prominent Knox county farm family, burned to death late Friday afternoon in a fire which destroyed the Hutchins' six-room farm home four and a half miles north of Knox City. Knox City firemen arrived too late to save anything from the building. Cause of the blaze was unknown.

The girl had returned home alone from class at the Sunset Consolidated school. Her parents were working in the field near the house when they saw the flames. They arrived at the house at about the same time as several passersby who stopped on the highway. The girl was lying about 15 steps from the burning building, her clothing still afire. She was already dead.

DECISION TODAY OF 6-MAN TITLE IN DISTRICT 19

Undeclared Mattson Mustangs Will Play Vera for District Title

The chips are down today for the encounter between the Mattson Mustangs, undefeated and untied champions in District 19 6-man football play this season and the Vera high school squad. The teams clash on the Mattson field today (Friday) at 2:30 o'clock to decide the district title. The Vera team has an undefeated conference record and there is little to choose between the two teams. Most observers who have seen both teams play concede the game as a toss-up.

Mattson has made a splendid record this year. In their season's play they have never had serious difficulty in winning over their opponents, as shown in the full season record given below, listing scoring in all games played this year. A new occasion has been arranged for the occasion that will entertain everyone present, sponsors of the affair announced. Highlights of the evening will be the appearance of a gifted Colored Quartet in several special numbers, and featured program numbers by well-known singers of this section.

Mattson Invites Area Singers To Sunday Program

An invitation was extended this week to music-lovers and singers of this section to attend a Community Singing at Mattson Sunday night, Nov. 24. A program has been arranged for the occasion that will entertain everyone present, sponsors of the affair announced. Highlights of the evening will be the appearance of a gifted Colored Quartet in several special numbers, and featured program numbers by well-known singers of this section.

MRS. QUATTLEBAUM CLAIMED BY DEATH WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Funeral Service for Aged Resident Held Here Thursday

Mrs. Laura Frances Quattlebaum, 77, long-time resident of Haskell and widow of the late P. Quattlebaum, died at the family residence in this city early Wednesday night following a lingering illness which had confined her to bed for several months.

She is survived by six children, five sons: Wylie and Charlie Quattlebaum of Haskell, Warren Quattlebaum of Woodson, Reynolds Quattlebaum of Johnson, Kans., Fred Quattlebaum of Guyman, Okla., and a daughter, Mrs. Bert Orr of this city. Several grandchildren, also survive. Deceased was born December 10, 1862 in Chambers county, Georgia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blakeley. In 1887 she was married to P. P. Quattlebaum at Georgetown, Texas, and they made their home in that section for several years. In 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Quattlebaum and their children moved to Haskell and had made this city their home since. Mrs. Quattlebaum had been a faithful and devoted member of the Baptist church since her girlhood. Her husband preceded her in death several years ago.

Funeral service for Mrs. Quattlebaum was held at the family home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Clifford W. Williams, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. All of her children were present for the final rites. Interment was in Willow Cemetery with arrangements in charge of Jones Cox funeral home. Pallbearers were Austin Coburn, Buck Crawford, J. E. Lefler, C. G. Burson, W. D. Rogers, Ed F. Fouts. Ladies assisting with the floral offerings were: Mesdames Jim Crawford, Ruby McDonald, Jim Crawford, J. E. Lefler and Misses Vetha Frierson and Amelia Beld Hammer.

Farmers Benefit From Insurance On Wheat Crops

Last year 686 Haskell county farmers, as a matter of good business, took out crop insurance on their 1940 wheat crop. When harvest time rolled around this year 490 of them had suffered crop losses, either total or partial from drought, hail, wind, grasshopper, etc., but the loss of their crops did not mean the loss of their incomes.

Sound business practice had demanded that those farmers insure their crops; sound business practice demanded that 425 of the county's farmers insure their 1941 harvest.

In this county the insured production for 1940 totaled 129,700 bushels on 19,189 acres for which the farmers paid 23,612 bushels to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in premiums. Indemnities amounting to 54,630 bushels were collected by farmers in the county when losses were suffered on 13,143.9 acres. Over the state other counties were having similar experiences, as 5,385 indemnity claims, totaling 1,665,236 bushels, were paid to Texas farmers by the corporation. Texas wheat producers, 10,987 of them, had paid 1,070,715 bushels in premiums to insure the production of 5,183,755 bushels of wheat on 839,930 acres.

Paul Roberts, James Littlefield, Buster Gholson of Haskell and Edwin Elliott of Stamford, Jack Backer of Weinst, students in NTAC, Arlington, came home Wednesday night to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents. They were accompanied to Haskell by Mrs. Sam A. Roberts who had been visiting her daughter, Miss Gayle Roberts in Kaufman and relatives in Dallas.

'41 FARM PROGRAM IS EXPLAINED AT COMMUNITY MEETS

Cooperation in New Program Will Be Easier, More Profitable

A series of Community meetings to be held throughout Haskell county was inaugurated this week by County Agent G. R. Schumann, J. E. Thomson, secretary of the Haskell county A. C. A., and county committeemen for the purpose of acquainting farmers and landowners with the 1941 farm program. "These meetings will afford farmers an opportunity to obtain information on the 1941 farm program which will make cooperation on their part easier and more profitable," Mr. Thomson explained.

The schedule of meetings was arranged to reach every section of the county, beginning with a meeting at Paint Creek Tuesday night. Meetings were held Wednesday afternoon and night at Rule, Hutto and Jud, and at O'Brien Thursday night. Remainder of the schedule for meetings: Weisert—Friday night, Nov. 22, 7:30 o'clock.

Haskell—Saturday afternoon, Nov. 23, 2 o'clock. Sagerton—Monday night, November 25, 7:30 o'clock. Mattson—Tuesday night, Nov. 26, 7:30 o'clock. Irby—Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 26, 2 o'clock.

New Bakery To Be Opened Here By Munday Man

Fixtures and equipment for a modern bakery to be opened here by Cecil Bookout of Munday, is being installed in the McGregor building north of the F. & M. bank this week and Mr. Bookout states that he expects to have the establishment in operation and open to the public early next week.

Equipment for the bakery is being moved here from Munday, where Mr. Bookout has operated a similar establishment for a number of years. Operation of the Munday bakery will be continued under the management of Ed Bookout. Proprietor of the new Haskell concern states that the local bakery will specialize in a complete line of breads, cakes, pastries and other products to be offered through local food stores.

Religious Institute Attended By Several Local Presbyterians

Rev. Clifford W. Williams, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, together with several members active in the Sunday School and departmental work of the local church attended a Religious Educational Institute held Wednesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church in Mineral Wells.

Directing the Institute were some of the leaders in the religious education field of the General Assembly, who conducted various sessions of the institute during the afternoon. In attendance were representatives from a large number of cities and towns in West Texas. In the Haskell group attending the Institute were Rev. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Belton Duncan, Mrs. Herbert Barnes, Miss Betty Ann Hancock, and Ross Lowe. District Attorney Ben Charlie Chapman, Sunday School superintendent of the local church was unable to attend because of official duties, but he provided a private car as transportation for members of the Haskell delegation.

Singers To Meet At Gore Church Sunday Afternoon

The Knox county Singing Convention will meet at the Four-square Church in Gore, Sunday, Nov. 24 at 2:30 o'clock. Singers of this entire section are invited to attend, and the program for the afternoon is expected to be one of the best in several months, according to J. C. McGee, president of the convention.

With Cowgirl Band

Lucille Powers, featured marmalade soloist with the Cowgirl Band of Harlin-Simmons University is pictured above. The Cowgirl Band will appear in concert at the O'Brien High School auditorium, Tuesday, Nov. 26 at 9:40 a. m.

Cowgirl Band To Give Concert at O'Brien Nov. 26

The Cowgirl Band, sister organization of the Cowboy Band at Harlin-Simmons University in Abilene, will visit O'Brien for a concert Tuesday, November 26, at 9:40 a. m., at the O'Brien High School auditorium.

The band will be presented under the auspices of the Athletic Club and Pop Squad. The Band will present a program of semi-classical and popular music, featuring as soloist, Virginia Sheridan, harpist; Virginia Schurrig, vocalist; and Lucille Powers, marmalade.

Pie Supper Will Be Given Tues. Night at Mattson

An old-fashioned Pie Supper that will provide plenty of entertainment for all who attend, and will support a worthy community cause, will be staged at Mattson Tuesday night, November 26. Sponsors of the event are planning, to make it one of the best ever held in that section. All women of the community are requested to bring a pie or cake to be sold at auction. Proceeds from the affair will be used in defraying the Mattson Baptist church debt. The evening's program will begin at 7 o'clock and everyone is invited to attend.

Soaking Rains Received Over Area This Week

Slow winter rains which were general over a wide area Tuesday night and Wednesday, brought beneficial moisture to winter grain in this section and halted for several days gathering of the county's cotton crop. The precipitation here amounted to only .33 of an inch, according to official government gauge, but the slow falling moisture thoroughly soaked grain fields and ranges.

SEVERAL HASKELL HUNTERS REPORT SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Henry Atkeison Gets Honors Among Local Group for First Deer

Bagging a large 7-point black-tail deer on the first day of the hunting season, Henry Atkeison, owner of the Clover Farm Store in this city, claimed first honors among the large number of men going from Haskell to the deer hunting sections in south and southwest Texas.

Mr. Atkeison and three other members of a hunting party, Wayne and Hoyt Perry of the Post community and Lewis Woodson of Stamford, returned Sunday evening from a successful one-day hunt on the Garren ranch near Van Horn. The Haskell man killed his deer before noon Saturday, and later in the day Woodson, fourth member of the group, bagged another seven-pointer.

Another group of hunters returning to Haskell Tuesday was composed of Frank Lewellen, who killed his limit, two eight-point bucks, the only deer killed on the trip; Nat Foster, who bagged two turkey gobblers; Bill Lees, Clifford Lewellen and Oscar Helweg. They hunted on a lease in Bandera county.

Most successful party returning this week was composed of seven hunters who brought back eight nice seven and eight point bucks to show for their four days hunt in Mason county. In this group were Giles Kemp, who killed his limit of two, E. O. Chapman, "Skinny" Tidwell, Bob Harrison, Clarence Murphy, Paul Frierson and Ollie Kittley, each of whom brought back one deer apiece. They returned Wednesday night.

COURT OF HONOR WILL BE HELD IN RULE NOV. 26TH

Large Number of Scout Awards Will Be Presented

A district Court of Honor of Boy Scout troops of Haskell county will be held Tuesday night Nov. 26, at 7:30 o'clock in the Rule High School building. Rev. Clifford W. Williams, county chairman of Scouts, and Jack Vogel of Abilene, district Scout executive, will direct the Court of Honor, assisted by Scout leaders from the various towns and communities in the county. The Weisert Boy Scout troop will give the evening's program. Other troops that will take part in the Honor Court will include Rochester, Weisert, Rule, Paint Creek, O'Brien, and three from Haskell.

All scoutmasters of Haskell county are urged to attend the affair, Rev. Williams said and the program is expected to be an impressive one, with a large number of Scout awards to be made.

New Food Store Is Opened Here By Roy Norris

Opening of a new retail grocery, "Roy's Food Store" located south of the square on the highway was announced this week by Roy Norris, owner and proprietor. The establishment occupies a new building recently completed, with modern fixtures for a large and complete stock of groceries of all kinds, meats and vegetables. Mr. Norris formerly operated a grocery store here, and is well acquainted with the needs of his former patrons.

For this week end, Mr. Norris announced that the store would feature special prices on a large number of items, many of which are listed in the store's advertisement in this issue.

Mrs. R. J. Paxton returned Friday from Houston where she attended the Baptist convention. She visited in Goose Creek with her children, Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Ammons and Miss Hattie Lucille Paxton, while away.

SANTA CLAUS PARADE AND OTHER FEATURES ARE EVENTS PLANNED

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Campaign Will Be Pushed During the Coming Week

Favorable progress has been made this week in the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross throughout Haskell county, but workers have been handicapped to some extent by inclement weather. Rev. Clifford W. Williams, county Roll Call chairman, reported Thursday morning.

However, Mr. Williams had received no definite report on the number of memberships secured to date, but first reports were expected this week-end he said. Curtis Pogue, Roll Call sub-chairman for Haskell, likewise said that several local workers were reporting encouraging response from the public.

Rev. Williams declared that sub-chairmen and volunteer workers in all towns and communities were united in a determination to extend an invitation to every patriotic citizen to enroll in the Red Cross during the remainder of the campaign, which ends November 30.

The greatly increased work and responsibility of the Red Cross incident to the national defense program makes it imperative that the membership in the organization be pushed to the highest total in peace time history.

Five Volunteers Leave Tuesday To Enter US Service

Five young men who volunteered for service in the nation's armed forces, and who made up their quota assigned Haskell county in the first call of the Selective Service program, obviating the drafting of any registrants at this time, left Haskell Tuesday morning for Selective Service induction headquarters at Dallas.

The group of volunteers included Joe H. Sexton, Jesse Isbell, Preston M. Davis, James A. Maper and Leroy D. Nollner. Prior to their departure the young men and members of the Haskell county Selective Service board, Joe A. Jones, C. A. Neal and R. C. Montgomery, were special guests of the Chamber of Commerce community breakfast Tuesday morning.

At the Dallas headquarters, the Haskell county volunteers will undergo final examinations before being inducted and assigned to various branches of the service.

Enrolls For Prep Course as Flying Cadet in US Air Corps

James Isbell, Jr., left Sunday for Sikston, Mo., where he will enroll for a three-months Government aeronautical training course preparatory to entering training at Randolph Field, San Antonio as a flying cadet. James recently completed the three-year course at Texas A. & M. College, required before entrance in the Randolph training program. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Isbell of this city.

Free Press Will Observe Holiday On November 28

In order to join with Haskell business concerns in observing a Thanksgiving holiday Thursday, Nov. 28th, next week's issue of The Free Press will be printed and mailed one day early. The issue will go to press Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th and cooperation of advertisers and correspondents is urgently requested in order that the earlier schedule may be effected.

Local Stores Choose the Traditional Date for Observance

Haskell merchants and business men gave enthusiastic endorsement to a holiday festival program to be staged on Wednesday, Dec. 4th which will officially inaugurate the holiday business season in Haskell, a Community Breakfast given by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning in the Tomkawa Coffee Shop. Attending the affair were representatives from sixty four local business establishments.

Guests at the breakfast also joined unanimously in a tribute to five young men who were the first to volunteer in the Selective Service program for national defense. This group and the personnel of the local board were special guests at the breakfast. District Judge Dennis P. Ratliff in a brief talk commended the young men for their patriotism.

The program adopted for Dec. 4th was outlined by the Magazine Club and presented at the breakfast by Mrs. O. L. Lewis, county president. Principal features of the program will be a parade headed by a Santa Claus float and Saint Nicholas himself, with gifts for the kiddies, together with Haskell's most beautiful young woman in the role of Miss Mary Christmas, school children singing Christmas carols, an amateur program and the unveiling of decorated show windows and stores featuring new stocks of holiday merchandise.

The festival will be the second annual event sponsored by local merchants. Inaugurated last year, success of the venture was tested by a decided increase in holiday trade reported by all Haskell stores, and at the breakfast Tuesday businessmen unanimously voted to make the event an annual affair.

Cooperation of practically every business establishment in the city has already been assured in staging the Dec. 4 event, and they will compete for substantial awards to be offered for the best decorated store interior and most awards totaling $32.00 will be paid to the winning groups.

Approximately $17.50 will be offered in awards in the Amateur Stunt Program to be staged on the evening of Dec. 4th, following unveiling of decorated windows.

Additional details of the afternoon and evening's program will be worked out this week and the full program and list of awards will be published next week. Committees named at Tuesday's breakfast are busily at work winding up final details for the holiday festival with all indications pointing to a highly successful venture.

Death Claims Two Former Residents of City Recently

The deaths of two former Haskell residents, A. J. Street and Alex S. Bullock, Sr., both of whom were at one time engaged in business in Haskell, occurred in Fort Worth Saturday, Nov. 16. Mr. Street was engaged in the real estate and insurance business here a son, Guy O. Street, served several years as District Clerk of Haskell county, and after the family moved to Fort Worth he was associated with his father in the insurance business. Surviving Mr. Street are his widow, two sons and two daughters.

Alex S. Bullock, 84, operated a tailor shop and clothing store here for a number of years, moving to Fort Worth 27 years ago. Mr. Bullock is survived by his widow; two sons, Jack Bullock, San Antonio, and A. S. Bullock, Jr., Dallas; two daughters, Mrs. Homer Williams and Mrs. J. Robert Joyce, both of Dallas.

Rev. Short Speaker for National Education Week

"Seventy five percent of the people whose names appear in Who's Who are graduates of Christian institutions," said Reverend Short, speaker in assembly last Friday. Reverend Short spoke on the theme of "Christian Education," in observance of National Education Week. He is pastor of the Baptist Church at Rochester.

Beginning his remarks with various bits of pleasantry, Rev. Short then took a serious turn, bringing to the student body many grave facts to which they listened with intense interest. "If men grow bigger without growing better, they grow worse," he said, and "To walk in the steps of Christ is our only hope." He also quoted the great business expert, Roger Babson, as saying that our next great field of interest will be in the spiritual realm.

Preliminary to Mr. Short's address the assembly sang a few songs of religious and patriotic nature. Mr. Ramsey led the singing, and Miss Couch accompanied. Then two freshman girls, Wylene Quattlebaum and Marigene Sellers, led the song, "God Bless America." Mr. Clifford Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian church, led the invocation.

High School Entertained By Two Expert Typists

On Thursday of last week we were visited by two expert typists, who were fulfilling a promise to Miss Riley, our typing instructor that they would come and render a demonstration before the high school.

One of them, Dr. J. Bryce Sardigan, is an instructor of typing and shorthand at Gail Commercial College in Abilene. He came to Abilene about a year ago from Florida. In the year 1929, he was proclaimed the world's champion typist. Even today is able to type one hundred and forty words per minute, which is exceptionally fast. He also proved to us that he could type, and answer oral questions on the art of typing at the same time.

But let's not forget the student, Richard Counts, whose home is in Abilene. He attended Gail College last year. In a California contest, which required a one-hour test, Richard averaged eighty-seven words per minute with no mistakes. Dr. Sardigan readily admitted that Richard was much more accurate than he. At the present Richard types one hundred and fifteen words per minute, which is nothing to be scoffed at.

Fruit crops remove less phosphorus from the soil than do grain crops, but slightly more potash and a great deal more nitrogen.

Pick-Ups!

The attendance dropped below par when twelve of our Haskell High School boys left Thursday to attend the football game at Fort Worth between Masonic Home and Arlington Heights. Those attending were: "Short" Patterson, Billy Kemp, Jack Morris, Sam Smith, Dave Bredlove, Frank Spencer, Ben Clifton, A. H. Wall, Jr., J. W. Holland, Norman Peavy, and Dan Oates. These boys were taken to the game by their Sunday school teacher, Mr. O. E. Patterson.

We have recently added a new student to our high school enrollment. Frank Adams, formerly of Wichita Falls, has enrolled as a Senior. He is a brother to Peggy Adams who is a Junior. Welcome to Haskell High, Frank!

Coach Mason, Mrs. Mason and little Perry visited Mr. Mason's father over the week-end.

The football boys who attended the Fort Worth game Thursday night did not reach home until 2 a. m., therefore they have to run "five laps." That's all right, boys, buck up and take it!

The football boys failed to work out two evenings last week, but they warmed up Friday afternoon by playing scrimmage.

Ruth Free, Shirley White and Patsy Pearsey, three Sophomores of H. H. S. were in an automobile accident Sunday. No extremely serious injuries were reported, but they will probably have to miss school for some time.

Local F.F.A. Officers Go to Abilene

Five of the local F.F.A. officers, accompanied by their advisor, Mr. Homer Neal, attended the district F.F.A. meeting at Abilene, Nov. 14. Each one gave an oral report on the work of the chapter. Those making the trip were: J. W. Casey, Edwin Lusk, Lynn Williamson, Vernay Burson, and Carrol Bledsoe.

Twenty-Six Students Make Honor Roll

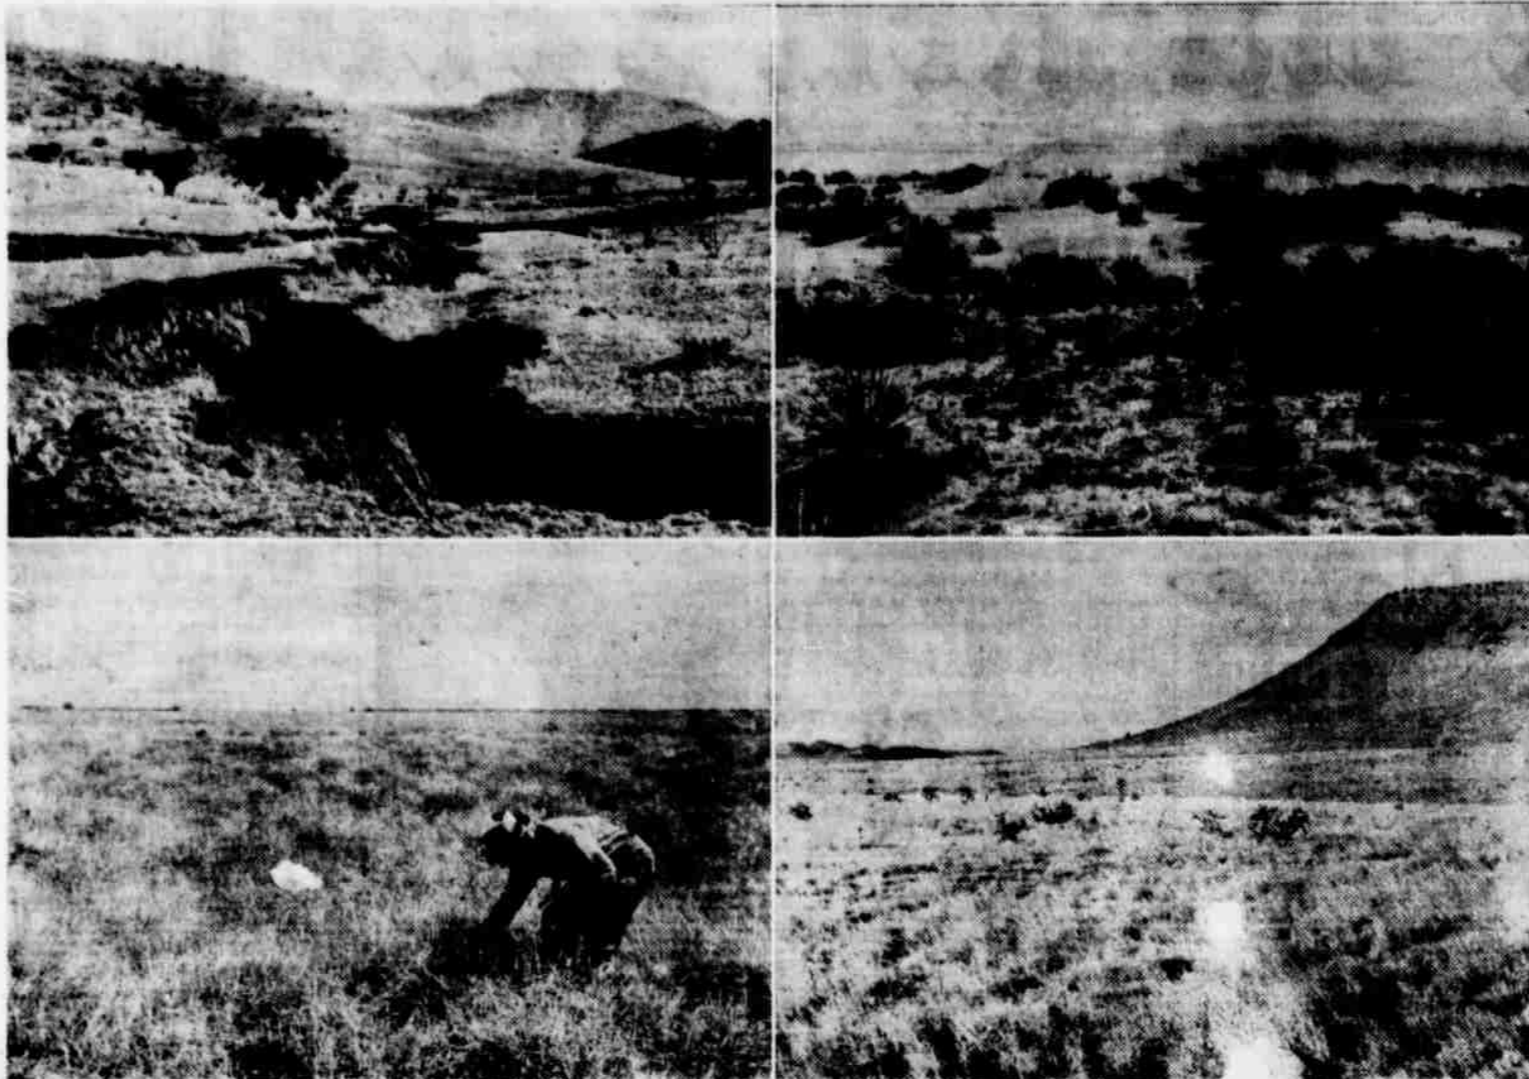

It was decided early last week that high school would have an honor roll. There were twenty-six students to gain this goal.

Allen Strickland led the honorees with the remarkable average of 97. Frank Spencer with 96, and Annie Bess Gilliam and Sam Smith tied for third with the average of 95.

Those on the honor roll were: Marticia Bledsoe, Martha Post, Ben Clifton, Frank Spencer and Henry Post from the Senior class; Peggy Adams, Dale Bartlett, Annie Bess Gilliam, Florence Hammer, Beverly King, Josephine Parish, Billie McDaniel, Bobbie Morris, Virginia Sue Pate, Dan Oates, Roy McClellan, Sam Smith, and Alan Strickland from the Junior class.

Classroom Manager M. J. Ray, Co. Capt. Williams, and the staff of the Haskell Free Press were present at the presentation of the honor roll.

Advantage of Soil Conservation in Pictured Evidence

New Faculty Member Has Favorable Opinion

"Getting Along Fine," is the opinion of Mr. Moore concerning our high school set-up in the churches.

Mr. Moore is a member of our faculty for the first time. He was principal of Center Point school last year and was transferred to our high school when the Center Point pupils were brought in to Haskell. Previously he was principal of the Sayles school, and he taught one year in South Ward.

Mr. Moore finished the Academy at Meridian, and has attended Texas Tech College and the San Marcos Teachers College in Texas. He has taught fifteen years in Haskell County.

In our present schedule he teaches first and second year mathematics.

During the past summer Mr. Moore, his wife and two little girls, spent their time in Hico, Texas, where he farmed.

Spanish Club Organized

The second year Spanish class met Friday afternoon, November 15. After an exceptionally interesting lesson, the sponsor, Miss Riley, permitted the class to organize a Spanish Club. The purpose of the club is to become better acquainted with the Spanish speaking people and their customs.

Miss Riley acted as chairman and the following officers were elected: President, Elaine Johnson; Vice-President, Betty Blake; Secretary, Cora Hutton; Treasurer, Ray Quattlebaum. The president appointed a program committee to prepare a program to be presented November 29.

New G. R. Members Initiated

November 18, 1940 was a big occasion for the Gypsy Bandmen of H. H. S. The new members were initiated and a musical program was given. Many thanks to each one who contributed to the new members. It was at 11:45 when the new members were initiated. The new members gave a musical show and received their new shirts.

Charlene Leach organized a wash woman. She wore a red bandanna on her head, an apron, a sign on her back that read "Bring your washing to me," and carried a tub board and wash tub to all classes.

Betty Ruth Blake wore an ankle length dress, one white shoe and one black, and an alarm clock around her neck. Her hair was bedded in tiny pigtails with a clothespin on each.

Faye Maves wore a housecoat, evening slippers, a sock on her hair and an inner tube around her neck.

Beunis Ratliff wore a short dress, high heeled shoes with anklets, make-up an inch thick and carried an umbrella.

Peggy Adams left the impression she got up too late to dress for school. She wore house coat, hair done up in curls, and cold cream smeared over her face.

Frances Bolin wore a shirt backwards over her dress, carried a tennis racket and wore all the make-up she could find.

Betty Jane Isbell had coat hangers pinned along the hem of her dress, and she wore one high heeled shoe with an anklet and one sport shoe. She also smoked a cigar.

Amrita Miller wore an evening dress, sport shoes, and carried a pillow.

Virginia Smith wore a house coat and a sign that read, "It is Saturday night."

Mary Helen Crandall wore a colorful costume representing Old Mexico.

Ruth Free was a typical "little girl." She dressed as one, and carried her books in a little red wagon.

Patsy Pearsey pushed a doll buggy and doll to classes. She had big hair ribbons in her hair, sweater on backwards, lots of make-up and carried a little purse.

Willie Faye Foster was required to have safety pins pinned on her dress, and wear boots and a big bonnet. She carried a rolling pin and a milk bucket.

Mary Womble pinned her hair on top of her head, wore make-up on one half her face, wore a GAL THREE—WARWHOOOP pajama top and carried a tire pump. She also wore a handkerchief tied as though she had a tooth ache.

Elvira Miller wore the tightest skirt available, one colored sock and one white, and with house shoes, and had a calendar around her neck.

Ida Jean Smallwood wore a bathing cap, rubber boots, and a paper bag from the tailor shop as a dress. She carried a hat.

Geneva Throckmorton wore one black shoe and a white sock. She had hair ribbons and wore ribbons, a solid dress with different buttons and had five ties all over her face. This was done with the aid of lipstick.

Shirley White wore a high heeled shoe and an anklet and one low heeled shoe with a stocking. She carried a doll and a baby's bottle.

Jeffie Maud Tolliver wore calendars pinned all over her dress and two different shoes and no stockings.

Eunice Darnell wore her coat backwards, and her hair slicked back in a knot, and took her books to class in a little red wagon.

Annette Laird wore half of her hair in pigtails and the other half in curls. She had to carry a suit case and wear black-rimmed glasses with no lenses.

Proper Land Use Practices Conserve Moisture and Soil

Ranchers are finding that good land use practices and soil and water conservation help to stabilize their income and to protect their capital investment—the land.

Proper land use practices such as proper rates of stocking, proper distribution of livestock over the entire range, seasonal use and the selection of the proper class of livestock for the range are being coordinated with land treatment measures—water spreading devices, contour furrows and contour ridging and flood irrigation to keep rainfall on the land and to prevent erosion.

The value of proper stocking rates has been demonstrated in experiments conducted by the forest and range experiment station at Las Cruces, New Mexico. When the experiment station range was properly stocked, 78 cows produced 70 calves which averaged 400 pounds each in eight months.

When 116 cows were placed on the same range, 23 calves which averaged 280 pounds each in eight months were produced. In other words, the beef production from the same range dropped from 25,000 pounds under ideal stocking rates to 8,400 pounds when the range was heavily overstocked. Proper stocking rates had increased both the calf crop and the beef production.

These photographs present a striking comparison of range land used improperly and range land used properly. The upper left picture shows a range which has been stocked with more cattle and sheep than the range could support. Not enough vegetation was left on the mountain sides and the hillides to prevent the rainfall water from rushing down into the valley. Severe gully damage resulted. A high percentage of rainfall run-off likewise creates flood hazards lower on the drainage systems. The upper right picture shows what happens to sandy soils when they are disturbed excessively by overgrazing or by cultivation without proper conservation practices. Wind erosion has created sand dunes which slowly are covering other range land. This problem can be solved only through the stabilization of the moving sands. Mechanical measures have not proven entirely practical or satisfactory. Stabilization is best achieved by the use of vegetation and by proper grazing use. When the sand once has been stabilized by vegetation, the desirable range plants will return and the range again will become profitable.

The use of water spreading devices and good range management practices are responsible for the excellent covering seen in the lower left photograph taken on the ranch of Sam Pruitt, 16 miles north of Balmorhea. Mr. Pruitt and his son Billy Pruitt have diverted flood waters from a small stream to cover range land. During a grazing season of eight or nine months each year, this range will carry an average of one cow or horse per acre and leave a reserve for the following year. This photograph was taken in April and shows how much feed reserve was carried over. This protective cover provides protection of the land against both wind and water erosion during the winter months. The lower right picture shows a range which has been properly used over a long period of years. The range is on the ranch of W. T. Jones, 12 miles north of Marfa. The land seen here has a very good cover of desirable range grasses.

More than 60,000,000 farmers, operating 82 per cent of the cropland of the United States, are participating in the AAA farm program this year.

Symbols of Thanksgiving...

SHOCKS of grain in a moonlit field... Pumpkins... Turkey... Fruit. These are the symbols of Thanksgiving, handed down by our ancestors. Today, though, we can be thankful for much besides a bountiful harvest... thankful for the American way of living that has grown out of private initiative and enterprise... thankful for the Freedom which has been inherited from those ancestors through reverence for the Constitution.

And we can be thankful for the modern comforts of every-day home life provided by Electric Service, which has been made both plentiful and cheap. This is our contribution to Thanksgiving, this plus jobs for a thousand men and women and almost one-half million dollars annually in taxes.

Large Audience Hears Program Given by Capella Choir of H-S U.

An audience of more than three hundred people attended the program given by the Hardin-Simmons Capella Choir in the Baptist church auditorium Monday afternoon. Brought to Haskell by the Harmony Club this group of singers presented an interesting entertainment of a varied nature under the direction of Lola Gibson Deaton. Pupils from the three schools of the city were dismissed from their classes and were in attendance with other enthusiastic music lovers of the community.

A Thanksgiving anthem, "Make a Joyful Noise" (Simper) introduced the program for the afternoon. The first group included light opera numbers with selections from "Naughty Marietta" (Alice Holiday) "Porgy and Bess" and "May Time." The male quartet in close harmony presented a "Medley of Southern Songs" and the spiritual, "Battle of Jericho" which was arranged by Bartholomew. The Golden Girl Quartette sang "The Shadow March" by Protheroe and "Did You Think to Pray." The choir had as their next group, sacred A Capella numbers, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" by Burlingame and "Cherubim Song" by Tchakowsky. The male octet sang "Though Your Sins Be As Scarlet" and "I Been Listenin'" a composition by the negro writer, Dett. The patriotic group was introduced by the girl's trio singing "A Prayer for Peace" Jodene Propst—The Joe Allen on the Early Bird program over WFAA this summer sang "I Am An American." The choir sang

"God Bless America," with the audience singing with it on the last part.

The concluding number featured Virginia Corley as soloist in "The Italian Street Song from Naughty Marietta. Piano accompanists for the afternoon were: Helen Dunham of Electra and Virginia Thompson of Dallas. Carlton Chapman was the press manager for the choir.

May Bell Circle Meets in Business Meeting and Bible Study

The May Bell Circle of the Baptist W. M. U. met Monday with 16 ladies present. The meeting opened with singing the song—"Bringing In The Sheaves." Then a prayer by Mrs. Edd Cass. After a short business meeting and the reports of each officer the lesson was taught by Mrs. Cass.

The May Bell Circle combined with the Naomi Sunday School Class will hold their monthly Social in the home of Mrs. H. R. Whitley Tuesday night, Nov. 26. For a Thanksgiving supper, all members of both classes are asked to be present and bring your covered dish. A big evening is being planned.

The meeting was dismissed by Miss May Bell Taylor. The next meeting will be held Monday in the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan and Mrs. R. L. Lemmon were in College Station Saturday to see the football game between Rice and A. & M. W. E. Welch who had been in the Herman hospital in Houston met them there and accompanied them home.

Mrs. Raymond Ammons Honored

Mrs. Raymond Ammons was honored with a gift shower in the home of Mrs. Lillie Stephens Saturday, Nov. 9, 1940.

Those assisting in the house party were: Miss Joan Stephens, Mrs. H. C. Walton, I. A. Lee, Jr., Walter Rogers, and Jess Jossellett. The house decorations were orchid chrysanthemums and Mrs. Ammons was dressed in gold.

Mrs. H. E. Walton presided over the hand-painted Bride's Book, made by Miss Wanda Dulaney.

Mrs. Ammons is the former Miss Omega Lee.

Gifts were received from Mrs. V. P. Ferril, Paul Jossellett, Lillie Stephens, Earl Ammons, D. C. Dunlap, W. D. Rogers, Jess Jossellett, J. A. Lee, Jr., J. L. Grace, H. E. Walton, Dee Busby, J. W. Bettis and Martha Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Barton, Doris and Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woodward and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marshall and Carl, Patsy Ruth and Gracie Nell Britz and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bettis.

Mrs. Wallace Cox Program Director at Magazine Club Meeting

Regular meeting and program of the Magazine Club was held Friday in the clubrooms, and since Mrs. Wallace Cox, the director for the afternoon, is also Library chairman, she took this opportunity to display three posters made for book week. One was made by Mrs. Irby and her helper.

Sue Ratliff, a pupil of Mrs. Young, read two humorous poems "The Book Lover" and "The Book Review."

Mrs. Cox reviewed briefly for the club the history of the State of Mass., telling the origin of the first settlers and their customs. She gave this as a background for the program on the "Architecture of New England."

Mrs. S. R. Rike discussed the "Old Churches" of New England many of which she visited last summer while she was in Boston. She also showed pictures of some of these.

Mrs. Matt Graham discussed Colonial tombstones from the standpoint of design groups. First the winged skull second the winged cherub and third the wingless cherub. All through these periods some stones were purely ornamental and some were carved symbolism.

The program was concluded with singing "God Bless America."

Those present were: Mrs. Reynolds, J. A. Couch, Christian Robertson, Cahill, J. P. Payne, Frierson, Coburn, Bagwell, Hugh Smith, E. Martin, Coady, Coaders, Atchison, Patterson, Couch (R. C.), Reid, Myrtle Crow, H. S. Wilson, Huckabee, Kimbrough, Ada Rike, Graham, Darnell, O. E. Outen, Cox, Lewis, Sides, Hassen.

Mrs. Tom Davis Hostess to Bridge-Luncheon Friday

Mrs. Tom Davis was hostess for a bridge-luncheon Friday, inviting members of the Luncheon club. Chrysanthemums were the flowers used to decorate the rooms, and the dining table centerpiece of fruits and vegetables, carried out a Thanksgiving scheme.

In the games of bridge that followed the two-course lunch, Mrs. John P. Payne was presented high score prize and Mrs. A. A. Bradford high cut prize. Other guests were: Mrs. Bert Welsh, Wallace Cox, Ben Bagwell, W. P. Trice, French Robertson, Hill Oates, A. C. Pierson and Carrie Williams.

Roy Killingsworth of Lubbock spent the week end in Haskell and accompanied Mrs. Killingsworth and son, David home after a month's visit in this city.

already been found and eliminated.

So, the job of the National Defense Advisory Commission has revolved around the problem of providing proper plant facilities for the manufacture of the tough-rubber tanks. A contract involving an expenditure of $53,500,000 for the construction and equipping of a new factory for building tanks on a quantity production basis. In little over a year the production lines will be rolling, turning out tanks in quantities at a lower cost per tank than had ever been thought possible.

A tank probably resembles a particularly thick-skinned steel railway car closer than anything else. So some contracts also have been let for manufacturing the hull of the tanks to those companies specializing in railway car manufacture. These already have the machines on hand for handling steel plate of armor plate dimensions.

Still other companies have equipment on hand for making the thousands of links, half a foot square, which when bolted together form the flexible track which the tank lays down, runs over, and picks up in its endless caterpillar tread

Each one of those little links in the chain needs a rubber block which actually grips the ground, so contracts have been let to the rubber companies for the rubber blocks to go into the treads. These rubber blocks are fitted into the treads, the treads are linked together in an endless belt, the endless belt is delivered to the company that made the tank body, and with other parts, the whole thing is assembled into a finished tank.

The same process is true of many other specialized items that go into tanks. The motor is not built by the company that produced the body. That is built, too, by a specialist, probably in an airplane motor factory because our tank motors resembled an airplane motor more than an automobile motor. The guns have to be produced in their respective factories. Each part has to be designed to fit exactly into the holes that the tank body manufacturer drilled in the hide of the tank to receive it.

MOBILE FORCES NEED TRUCKS

The tank, of course, is just one unit of our mobile land forces in order that these forces can keep up with the tanks, they must be provided with motorcycles, scout cars, contact cars, and troop transport cars.

In the main, these are ordinary trucks. Perhaps they have been dressed up a little with special springs to carry the extra weight.

Some of them, like the troop transport cars, have tracks like a tank instead of real wheels, so they can move better over rough country, but essentially they are the trucks that roll down the nation's automotive production lines by the thousands every day. There is no question about our ability to produce them as we have been doing for years. The only problem is a smooth and even flow of these fabled units without interfering with normal production. This has been solved to the extent that present schedules call for delivery of 25,000 trucks to the armed services before the end of 1940.

Building For Defense

Building Mobile Land Forces

Some think a tank is a simple little item to produce! It is, however, eight or ten tons of armor plate that will stop anything up to a good-sized cannon shell; a couple of hundred horsepower engines that will drive it 50 miles an hour over anything a mountain goat could navigate; a set of caterpillar tracks that won't break down no matter how deep the mud; a half-dozen machine guns that can sling a couple of thousand shots a minute; and a radio set to keep in touch with what the commanding officer has in mind.

That's all that's necessary, except to put together a crew to stand the gaff of sitting on top of a red hot engine inside of the steel tute that attempts to knock their brains out by bouncing around the landscape, while the den with rachine guns buttoned ed practically into their laps make life miserable for anything that gets in their way.

Under the reorganization of the Army, we are building up the new Armored Force, made up from the mobile forces of the Infantry and Cavalry, formed into divisions resembling the famous German "Panzer" divisions. These divisions are going to need a lot o tanks, several thousand of them, and it is up to the National Defense Advisory Commission to see that the Army gets those tanks with their requisite machine guns, and fuel to run the tanks.

The problem of tank production starts with the design. That's basic and important. It takes about 2,500 individual drawings, each drawing exactly to scale, to build a tank. Or, rather, it takes that many to build a light tank. A heavy tank takes more.

After the designs are complete, there is the little item of machines to make the tank. These are the machine tools discussed in an earlier article. A lot of people think that automobile factories can turn out tanks very easily, but when it is realized that the job of bending a piece of sheet steel around to make the tank. These are the mobile fender doesn't require as much machinery as is necessary to wrap a 2 inch thick faced-hardened armor plate tank hide into shape, it begins to be clear why it isn't as easy as it sounds. But our machine tool manufacturers can build machines to do that job on 2-inch tank armor. They are already doing the job.

It has also been discussed that the tractor companies that build crawler type tractors could also be utilized for tank building, but a mobile force needs tractors to haul their big guns around. Also, we need plenty of tractors for the construction program for building new plants and new roads. If the tractor plants tool up for producing tanks, then our other production lines would be handicapped. It is, then, a question of new or additional plant facilities.

ARMY EXPERIENCED IN TANK CONSTRUCTION

The Army has already had considerable experience in building tanks in their own shops, such as the Arsenal at Rockford, Illinois. Experience gained in these plants will greatly facilitate the building-up of new production lines for tanks, as the kinks have

Harmony Club Observes Program of Sacred Music

Mrs. C. W. Williams was hostess to members of the Harmony Club on Wednesday afternoon, for a program on Sacred Music. The rooms were delightfully cozy for a rainy afternoon while bouquets of vari-colored chrysanthemums gave an added note of cheer.

The meeting was opened by reading the Federation Collect in Union. Then all joined in singing God Bless America. Mrs. H. R. Whitley was director for the program which followed.

Hymnology was discussed by Mrs. C. W. Williams in which she stressed particularly three of our loved old hymns: Hark the Herald Angels Sing, Silent Night and Abide with Me. Reading the two latter hymns in full, piano, Abide with Me, Mrs. Bert Welsh, piano.

Delicious pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream, and coffee were served by Mrs. Sam Chapman and Mrs. Carl Arbuckle to the following members: Mesdames T. C. Cahill, Calvin Henson, Tommy Hawkins, Ira Hester, W. A. Kimbrough, J. M. Littlefield, Carl Power, F. M. Squyres, Jno. A. Willoughby, B. M. Whiteker, Bert Welsh, V. M. Wilson, C. L. Tims, O. E. Patterson, D. Scott, Jason Smith, H. R. Whitley, Miss Jessie Vick and the hostess.

Woman's Christian Service Society Hold Day of Prayer at Methodist Church

On Monday, Nov. 18, the Woman's Christian Service Society held its day of prayer at the Methodist church. After soft music and meditation, a call to worship was given. Then Mrs. B. Cox gave a beautiful devotional on prayer.

Mrs. Ethel Irby was director and carried out a well arranged program. After the group sang "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," Mrs. P. D. Sanders told of her personal friendship with Miss Bell H. Burnett. Mrs. K. H. Thornton gave Adventuring On Untried Roads. Mrs. Hut Pitman told of the New Day for Scarrett, our beloved training school for missionary workers in Nashville, Tenn. This school has students from many lands and is doing a wonderful work for the cause of Christ. Mrs. Pitman's talk was followed by the singing of the hymn "Thou Scarrett Tower of My Soul."

A call of Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. Irby who told of the chapel and lovely organ at Scarrett. Mrs. Fred Sanders gave a devotional on Peace. The subject Scarrett for the Future was discussed by Mesdames W. A. Kimbrough and Wallace Cox. After a prayer and the singing of the hymn I Gave My Life For Thee, an offering was made for this lovely school.

Lunch was served at the noon hour to nineteen ladies present for the day. The society will meet next Monday with Mrs. T. C. Cahill in a social meeting.

Mrs. T. W. Williams Hostess for Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. T. W. Williams was hostess for the Tuesday Bridge Club this week used yellow and orchid chrysanthemums and a table centerpiece of fruits and nuts for room decorations. Mrs. O. E. Oates won high score prize for guests and Mrs. French Robertson won high for club members.

Sagerton 4-H Club Names Secretary and Two Demonstrators

The Sagerton High School 4-H Club met Tuesday, Nov. 19 with Mrs. Leslie Lewis, sponsor present and twenty six members in attendance. Presiding for the meeting was Miss Dora Marie Kupatt, club president. A new secretary, Lucile Martin was elected, and Billie Rae Martin was elected assistant secretary. New rules were adopted, after which Mrs. Lewis talked on making Scrapbooks for the bedrooms. Dora Marie Kupatt was chosen as bedroom demonstrator, and Wilma Jaen Spiser as frame garden demonstrator.

Financial condition of the club was discussed, together with activities planned in the future. It is hoped the club will give a football banquet.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Sponsors Shower for Church Kitchen

Members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary were greeted at the entrance by "Uncle Mose," the colored butler with "Ah's glad you all come," and invited by Mammy to "put up gifts heah, honey chile," Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Presbyterian church when the B. P. W. Circle acted as hostess for a shower for the church kitchen.

Mildred Vaughan discussed: "Where is Religious Education Leading Us?" Reviewing the organization of the first auxiliaries, the leading women of the Bible and their work, and the vast field now open to women and its opportunities.

Following the program a refreshment plate consisting of cheese spread wheat wafers, butter cookies, coffee and mints, with negro mummies given as plate favors, was served from a red and white table centered with two negro mummies:

Carris Williams, Christine Barnes, Mesdames Sam T. Chapman, Joe T. Hester, R. E. Sherrill, R. C. Regular Meeting of Scout Cubs Held Friday

The Cubs of the Boy Scout Organization met at home of the Den Mother Friday afternoon. The Den Song was sung and the Laws of the Cup Pack and Cup Promise were given.

The keeper of the buck-skin, Ervin Frierson, read the minutes of the last meeting. Two chapters of "Scouts to the Rescue" were read. The handwork was making an Indian Teepee and decorating it. Outdoor games were played.

It being near one cub's birthday and he is advancing from the wolf rank to the bear rank, the cubs observed this advancement by celebrating his birthday. This cub was Ervin Frierson.

Mrs. E. W. Frierson brought the cake, flag sandwiches and potato chips with small flags as favors. Pictures were made of the cubs at work and at play. Those present were:

Cubs Ervin, Frierson, Billy Bob Welsh, Robert Duncan, Lamsin Ivy, Billie Ray Lusk, Billie Stevenson, Ralph Hassen, Dan Blair, Rex and Glenn Power.

Rainbow Sewing Club Meets With Mrs. Robison

The Rainbow Sewing Club met Tuesday, November 19, in the home of Mrs. John E. Robison. Nine members and 3 visitors were present.

Mrs. Frank Kirkpatrick was voted in as a new member. Plans for the Xmas party were completed.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ethyl Byrd. After the business meeting, games were directed by Mrs. W. E. Johnson and Mrs. Jesse Josselett.

Gypsy Ramblers Have Social Event

The Gypsy Ramblers of Haskell High school had their first social event of the school year in the form of a play party Tuesday evening. CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
J. G. Malphurs, Minister
 Praising the Creator in his appointed way is the best tonic for the soul and the building of a strong character. To forget business and routine of the week for one day in the seven, and use that one day for spiritual needs, is the best guarantee to the strength of the individual character, the preservation of home-life and antional rectitude. No organization in a city is of greater value to the merchants than the church that pleads with wayfaring men to come and enjoy the praises of God upon the first day of the week. If civic organizations in the city would be of the greatest value to a town let them herd their members around the banquet table of the Lord on Sunday. Nothing can take its place. If merchants would develop a better and more honest list of customers, let them help keep an open church house on Sunday rather than an open business house. Sunday business pays poor dividends when all costs are counted over a period of years. Souls that voluntarily choose to follow their business or occupation on Lords day rather than worship their God are out of joint with the "Maker's plans. Members of the church who find more pleasure in visiting and sports on the Lord's day than in praising God need to be converted.
 Preaching both morning and evening. The subject for the 7:15 hour will be: "War in Heaven," from Rev. 12:7-9. Come and worship with us.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
 Thanksgiving Day Services are held by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientists, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson—Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving." Opportunity is also afforded those present to give testimonies of gratitude appropriate to the occasion.
 The Golden Text is: "Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness" (Psalms 97:12).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson—Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Rejoice in the Lord always and again I say, Rejoice. . . Be careful for nothing but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God" (Philippians 4:4,6).
 The Lesson—Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whatever inspires with wisdom, Truth, or Love—be it song, sermon, or Science—blesses the human family with crumbs of comfort from Christ's table, feeding the hungry and giving living waters to the thirsty."

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Men of the noblest dispositions think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.—Jeremy Taylor.

A NEEDED LAW

The enactment of the Transportation Act of 1940 marked the culmination of 18 months of labor on the part of the House and Senate committee on interstate commerce, labor began after Congress received the recommendations of the President's special committee of six, consisting of an equal number of representatives of management and labor.

While the law does not by any means include all the recommendations made by the President's committee, it does accomplish certain things desirable from a railway standpoint, and also in the public interest.

It declares a national policy of treating all modes of transportation fairly and impartially; makes a beginning toward regulation of water carriers; improves the mechanics of consolidation; relieves some of the railway burden of reduced land-grant rates; improves the long-and-short-haul rate situation; establishes a board to determine the relative economy and fitness of carriers, the extent to which they have been subsidized by the government and the extent to which taxes are imposed on them.

By this law new duties are laid upon the Interstate Commerce Commission, which railway men regard as a tribute to the public confidence in which that body is held.

RAILROADS PREPARE

Efficient transportation facilities are a vital factor in national defense, and the railroads of the country recently have been placing large orders for new equipment, with a view to meeting any demands which may be made upon them in connection with the preparedness program.

More new freight cars were placed in service during the first six months of this year than in any similar period since 1930. The placing of orders for 3,000 box cars by a single railroad, the Illinois Central, has just been announced by its president, J. L. Bevon. It is expected that deliveries of these 25 miles of cars will be completed around the first of the year, at a cost of $9,375,000.

The cars will be built at four separate plants—1,000 at East Chicago, Ind.; 1,000 at Bessemer Ala.; 500 at St. Louis and 500 at Mt. Vernon in southern Illinois—thus distributing the employment over a wide area. Including this purchase the Illinois Central will have added 11,662 new freight cars in four years.

Railroads of the country now have about 20,000 new freight cars on order, or nearly twice as many as were on order a year ago. They also installed 180 new locomotives during the six months ended June 30, on which date 124 more were on order. Thus, in the field of transportation, at least we are getting prepared to meet any emergency.

WOOD IN MODERN WARFARE

Wood is taking an important place in plans for this country's defense program. While wood is not usually thought of as a war material, discoveries in new and wider uses of wood have gone so far that today no other material fulfills so many wartime requirements according to the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis., a research unit of the U. S. Forest Service.

With the calling of the National Guard into camp and preparations for inducting thousands of young men into military training, lumber will be used to house these men. Wood is used in high explosives, dug-out shelters, "ersatz" rations, emergency materials for uniforms, and liquid fuel. It takes a necessary place in wartime communication and transportation of ammunition and other equipment on land, sea, and in the air.

Acetic acid from wood may be used in the production of certain toxic gases and smokes. Charcoal from wood can replace the coconut shell and peach-pit charcoal formerly used in gas masks to offset poisonous gases, and smokes are eliminated in the masks by means of a special filter paper made from woodpulp. Another product of the forest resin, is employed for filling the space between bullets in shrapnel, turpentine, a companion product in the production of resin, is used in flame throwers.

Recent developments in the use of wood, plywood and conversion products are of particular importance in aircraft construction. Spruce is again in demand for wing beams, wing ribs, and plywood. Here the United States will profit from a process of kiln-drying spruce, developed at the Laboratory, that cuts the time required from 2 years to 21 days—and gives a better product to this country's two planes of compressed resin-glued wood have been flying for more than a year. The material used in these planes consists of very thin layers of hardwood veneer bound together with the resin.

Research has recently produced a new plastic wood that is as cheap as any on the market. This plastic, made from sawdust and other wood waste, can be molded into numerous articles required by the Army and Navy. Even parachutes, formerly made from Japanese silk, can now be made from wood fibers.

And, last but not least, one of the most effective weapons of modern warfare, propaganda, is printed on paper made from wood.

Machines of Peace and War Defend the Nation

The peacetime corn picking machine at top looks as formidable as the wartime howitzer immediately below. Both play an important role in the nation's defense preparedness. Modern farming methods, along with the AAA Farm Program, assure the nation plenty of food for any emergency. In the nation's Ever-Normal Granary are nearly three billion bushels of corn, enough to fill a freight train reaching more than half way around the world.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

"Unloaded" Gun Kills

AUSTIN, Texas — Hunting is at nearly top flight in Texas with the opening of quail shooting Dec. 1 making the last season to get under way. The executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has issued an appeal to every sportsman to treat each gun as if it were would do much to lessen the tragedies of accidents in fields and woods.

The game chief especially pointed out that it is the "unloaded" gun which does the most damage. Check your actions while carrying a gun with the following rules and live to hunt another day: Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the actions open, into your motor car, camp or home.

Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; what you think is a deer may be another hunter.

Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. Never leave a loaded gun unattended.

Never climb a fence or tree carrying a loaded gun, nor lean your gun against a fence while climbing over.

Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or at the surface of water. Don't forget your hunting license if you leave the county of your residence, or hunt in any of the 21 Texas counties having the universal license.

Have your gun plugged to three-shell capacity of hunting migratory waterfowl, doves or quail. Never shoot ducks before sunrise nor after 4 p. m.

Always remember alcohol and gunpowder should not be mixed.

Asks Sportsmen's Aid

Since the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, has handed Lee Hill went to Seymour Monday and Henry Evans is running the postoffice in his absence. R. P. Simmons who was here a few weeks ago from Lee county and bought Mr. Ritter's residence, arrived this week with his family.

J. C. Keller has sold his residence in town and his stock of cattle to T. N. Field. Mr. Field has also bought the ranch leased by Mr. Keller.

S. R. McCrary is going to build on his place in the Mesquite neighborhood and will then move out.

Dr. Hamilton is putting up a photograph gallery on the south-west corner of the square. He has purchased lots in the southeast part of town and will build a residence here.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Bloodworth returned Wednesday from attending the Methodist Conference at Georgetown. Haskell people will be pleased to learn that Rev. Bloodworth will remain here another year.

several thousand quail, several hundred doves, both mourning and white wings, and has also tagged a large number of deer, and turkeys during the last year, an appeal is being made to all sportsmen who kill any of these species of game which are tagged or banded to send the information to the Game Department at Austin.

Game Department biologists know they can obtain considerable valuable information if reports on deer, turkey, quail and dove bands or tags are obtained from hunters. They will eventually be able to tell sportsmen how far game travels from the point of release and to gather valuable information on the condition of the birds and the length of their lives. This, of course, applies particularly to quail. As far as deer and turkey are concerned, much can be ascertained concerning the length of productive life. All of this information will be extremely valuable to biologists in determining the best practices to be applied in game management.

Hunters killing game which has been tagged will help if they send the number of the tag or band, the kind of bird or animal, the place it was taken (distance from nearest town) and the date of the kill.

Valuable information has already been secured through the banding of white wing doves and the returning of dozens of the bands to the Game Department in Austin. Among other things, biologists have a good estimate of the total white wing population by knowing the percentage of bands retrieved and the number banded. For example, it is logical to believe that if you have killed approximately 10 per cent of them that you have killed approximately 10 per cent of the population.

Biggest Fish Tale of 'Em All

We have heard of many things being used for fish bait, but a human tooth tops all of them in our estimation. A Mr. Welch, 85-year-old fisherman from Frisco, Texas, recently showed the state game and fish warden on Lake Dallas two large white bass. His story:

"I was pretty disgusted late this afternoon for I hadn't caught a fish and I had the toothache, to boot. One of my teeth was very

Lone Star Gas Company Given National Salute

A salute to Texas and its gas industry has been given the nation by Gas Age Magazine, which has devoted its entire current issue to the Lone Star Gas System. The magazine is published in New York and circulates throughout the United States and Canada, being one of the leading gas publications of the country. The issue traces the history and operations of the Lone Star Gas Company and affiliated distribution companies—the Community Natural Gas Company, the Texas Cities Gas Company, the Dallas Gas Company, and the Lone Star Gas Company. Numerous pictures of company executives, scenes on pipe lines, in the various plants of the gas company, and in cities served by the system illustrate the many articles.

The foreword, illustrated with the Texas State flag, is entitled "Thirty Years of Natural Gas Service."

"The story of the growth of the Lone Star Gas System is the story of the growth of Texas," says the foreword. "It took pioneers with great vision and courage to bring natural gas service to Central Texas in 1909. It has taken continued vision and courage to build from this small beginning one of the nation's leading public utility systems—an efficient combination of men, materials and natural resources providing a population of a million and a half people in some 150,000 square miles of territory with the benefits of dependable and economical gas service."

"First, find out what is the right thing to do—then, what is the right way to do it, has been the Lone Star company slogan for many years. Past accomplishments and present performance of the company evidence the success of this constructive policy."

loose and I finally jerked it out of my jaw. I was willing to try anything to catch a fish, so I fastened the tooth to my hook and dropped it into the water. It was not long before I had a fine white bass. Not much later a second white bass bit my tooth and here he is. But I lost the tooth in catching the second fish!"

Baptist General Convention of Texas Absorbs Hardin-Simmons University

The Baptist General Convention of Texas, in their annual session at Houston last week absorbed the Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene upon the request of the Sweetwater Baptist association, which had operated it 49 years.

In the closing day's session Thursday, Abilene was awarded the 1941 Baptist convention which will meet Nov. 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Action of the Convention in absorbing Hardin-Simmons university was an historic one in the annals of higher education activities of the Baptist church in West Texas.

The action was based upon a resolution adopted recently by the Sweetwater Baptist association. That resolution, which was a petition to the state convention asked what was termed "affiliation" with the convention as differentiated from "correlation" with other Texas Baptist colleges.

Whereas HSU trustees heretofore have been elected by the Sweetwater association and the selections ratified by the convention, the trustees henceforth will be recommended by the association and elected by the convention.

The absorption of HSU into the convention's system of educational institutions means that the university at Abilene will share in any funds raised by the convention for higher education. For example, in the past Abilene Baptist churches have contributed funds of the convention and universities but Hardin-Simmons has not shared in these funds. In future it will receive its pro-rata share.

Other conditions incorporated in the Sweetwater association's resolution provide that the convention shall not control endowment financing and maintenance. Nor will it assume a debt of $43,000.

Hardin-Simmons next year will reach its golden anniversary. It is one of the state's largest denominational schools with over-all attendance of about 1,300 students. Its productive endowment amounts to $1,234,000; its unproductive endowment amounts to $260,000.

Jossett H.-D. Club Meets

The Jossett Home Demonstration Club met Nov. 12th at 2:30 in the club house with 12 members present.

The president called the house to order and all business was attended.

Mrs. E. B. Calloway gave council report.

Mrs. Ray Cathron gave the report on her pantry which was very interesting.

Mrs. Norton, our kitchen demonstrator will give her report when the club meets in her home to have a club party Friday night, Nov. 22nd. All club members and their families are urged to attend.

Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Ray Cathron served hot chocolate and cookies to the following: Mmes. J. L. Tolliver, Cliff Ammons, S. G. Perrin, J. V. Perrin, J. L. Grinstead, L. M. Bass, C. A. Thomas, E. B. Calloway, Slover Bledsoe and Miss Margaret Tolliver.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

This laxative does three important things for most users. If simple directions are followed, it usually acts punctually, thoroughly, gently. You will like spicy BLACK-DRAUGHT'S way. Chief of its all-vegetable ingredients is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" which helps tone up bowels muscles. Next time, take BLACK-DRAUGHT. Economical, too: 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

Hutto

Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCasland and children visited with her mother in Ft. Worth for several days last week.

Health in the community is about as usual. We are having a series of pretty days. Perhaps these late bolls will open fast and the school children can attend school regularly. Many express a keen desire to start back to school because of the hot lunch served each day. Mothers rejoice over not having to prepare a sack lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill White and Sammie Dee visited in Knox City Sunday.

We were glad that many have returned to regular attendance at church. Rev. Bryant from Rochester preached at the Hutto school last Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Sunday, Nov. 24 Brother Whitten from Knox City will preach at the 11 o'clock hour. Let each of you pass the word around and then go by for someone and come to church.

Burl Duncan received an arm injury Sunday while playing.

Mrs. M. E. Paek and family spent a few days on the plains several days ago, visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Bell and son "Jabo" from Corpus Christi, have been here visiting Jack Doziers for the past week. They returned home Saturday.

Several Hutto community men were called in the first draft. They were sent a questionnaire. Word has been received this fall by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Herridon of the marriage of their son, James, to a California girl, James is a graduate of O'Brien High School and is in the United States Marines.

Fan Learns John's Method In Getting Through That Line

COLLEGE STATION—Another story for the John Kimbrough did-it file:

A fan sitting in the end zone seats at Dallas at the Texas Aggie-S.M.U. Mustang ball game, said that he was glad he had been unable to buy a sideline seat.

"By sitting back here I finally have found out how John Kimbrough gets through the opponents lines. He takes that ball in one hand, starts at the line and just bear-cuffs the other fellows out of the way with that loose hand. No wonder he can smash up all the lines."

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Collier spent Sunday afternoon in Olney where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moore, the latter a sister of Mrs. Collier.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Schwarz and son of Haskell visited relatives here Sunday.

Do You Know TEXAS?

(A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas).

Citizenship Thought—Big armies and navies, huge fleets of airplanes, and vast stores of guns and munitions are not enough to same democracy as it is known to the citizens of the United States. The fundamentals of true Christianity will preserve the democracy of the fathers for the United States as well as for any country under the shining sun. The message of the moment is to keep fit in body, mind, and spirit—temperate always, and be prepared for any emergency and to answer the clarion call of sublime duty.

O. How may a person homestead land in Texas? A. H. A. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, says that homesteading provisions of Texas laws were repealed years ago. All lands now disposed of are sold to a purchaser.

Factual—There are 22,732 miles of road maintained by the State of Texas and 165,836 miles maintained by Texas counties, making a total mileage of 188,568 of highways in Texas.

Q. What is the most expensive mile of highway in Texas?

A. Cost per mile of state highway is not comparable since many factors enter into an accurate comparison. There is the difference in width and type of pavement, difference in terrain traversed, proximity of local materials, and the number of drainage structures. A person may readily visualize how a road through rough, mountainous country where many streams must be bridged will cost considerably more than one in the flat plains country where very few streams are encountered.

Q. How much would it cost to place the highway system of Texas in good shape for national defense?

A. Approximately $570,000,000 would be required to modernize the present state highway system and bring to present-day standards all roads now designated on the state highway system.

Former Haskell Man Given Oil Research Post

The following article concerning Jack Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sutherland, of Wichita Falls and former Haskell residents, is taken from a recent issue of The Petroleum Engineer, published at Tulsa, Okla.

"Jack Sutherland, until recently a station manager for Dowell Incorporated at Great Bend, Kansas, has been promoted to a research engineering post with headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma, offices of the company. Sutherland was born in Texas and has been associated with the oil industry since leaving Texas A & M where he majored in geology. Upon leaving school, Sutherland was employed by the Cabot Company in the technical department. In the five years of his association with Dowell, Incorporated, Sutherland has spent most of his time in the Western Kansas oil fields, having left only for periodic training in other areas."

Miss Ludie Akins, deputy County Clerk, returned Sunday from Austin and San Antonio where she spent the past week. In Austin Miss Akins attended the State Federation of Womens Clubs as a delegate from the Senior-Junior Magazine Club of this city. From Austin she went to San Antonio where she visited in the home of a sister, Mrs. Ralph Bell and Mr. Bell. They accompanied her home and spent the week-end with relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Hill Oates and son Dan, Mrs. Elmore Smith, Lewis Smith, Delmon Bailey and Sam Hugh Smith saw the A&M-Rice football game in College Station this week end. They went to Georgetown and visited Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Reynolds and then on to Austin, Sunday.

tem. Many of our surfaced roads need modernizing and widening to take care of present-day traffic. There are also a great number of bridges which need widening or replacement.

Q. When was the Highway Department organized?

A. The State Highway Department was created in 1917.

Q. How many men have served as state highway engineers and who were they?

A. Eleven. They are George A. Duren, Rollin J. Windrow, J. D. Fauntleroy, Gib Gilchrist, R. J. Hank, W. P. Kemper (acting), R. C. Love, Doak Rainey (acting), R. A. Thompson, Gib Gilchrist, Julian Montgomery, and D. C. Greer.

Historical—Following the death of Miss Elisabeth Ney in 1907, her home and studio was offered for sale. Mrs. Ella Dancy Dibrell of Seguin bought it and founded the Texas Fine Arts Association to preserve the collection and memory of Miss Ney and to promote interest in art in Texas. At Mrs. Dibrell's death, her husband, Judge Joseph B. Dibrell, and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Nolte of San Antonio, united in making a gift in her memory of the Elisabeth Ney Museum to the Texas Fine Arts Association, the center from which it carries on its work for the promotion of art in the Note — Capitol visitors may see just inside the building and before they reach the rotunda, two pieces of statuary of Miss Ney. One is of Stephen F. Austin and the other is of General Sam Houston. They are among the most notable works of Miss Ney. The Elisabeth Ney Museum is open to the public.

Q. What members of the State Board of Education conclude their appointive term this year? T. M. A. Judge Ben Tysinger, Dallas; Jim Strong, Carthage; and John Laird, Lufkin.

Tips That Save Extra Steps In Kitchen Chores

COLLEGE STATION.—It's good business to save time and energy in the kitchen, and one of the biggest assets a homemaker can have is adequate and well-arranged storage space for both food and equipment.

"You don't have to call in an efficiency expert to save wear and tear on the cook," says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A. & M. College Extension Service. "Just plan for more shelves, more cabinet space or at least rearrange and use to better advantage the space you have. Analyze your kitchen and see what you can do to save steps."

Here are some of her tips: A round, shallow cake tin makes a good container for spices and flavorings, for you can remove it until the right can or bottle is found. It can also be moved to your work table when several spices are needed.

A knife rack made of leather wood, or metal helps preserve the cutting edges of your knives.

Garden and flower seeds stored in small mayonnaise jars or peanut butter glasses are safe from bugs and mice and are kept dry. Tops should be loosened slightly.

An apple or carrot stored in your can of brown sugar will keep it from becoming lumpy.

A baking powder can with nail holes in the lid, filled with flour and placed on or near the stove is convenient for thickening gravy, making sauces, or flouring meats.

Be sure your refrigerator is placed so you won't have to walk around the door to get what you want from it.

Have a pad and pencil hung on a handy hook so you can quickly jot down your kitchen needs and reminders.

A "lap table," a small table or pull-out board just high enough to slip over the worker's thighs when she is seated with both feet on the floor, provides one way the homemaker can sit down to do part of her work.

R. P. Lee, Prominent Rancher-Banker of Throckmorton, Dies

R. P. Lee, prominent rancher and business man of Throckmorton, died at his home in that city on the night of Nov. 14. He had suffered with a heart ailment for the last two years, and his death was attributed to a heart attack. He was 69 years old.

Born in Fort Smith, Ark., he came to Texas in his childhood and settled at Grafado, Palo Pinto county. He attended college at Whitt, Texas, with the late J. D. Sanderfer. He worked for Reynolds Cattle company as a young man, making two trail drives to North Dakota in 1892 and 1893. He married Miss Addie Pate of Grafado, Ind., in 1898 and shortly after that entered mercantile business in Grafado, and was engaged there for 30 years, when he moved to Throckmorton 12 years ago. He was president of First National bank of Grafado for a number of years and was a director of the First National bank of Throckmorton for several years until his illness two years ago forced his retirement.

He was well known throughout West Texas as an outstanding Methodist church leader.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church in Throckmorton Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Surviving are his widow, seven daughters, one brother and a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fouts and daughters, Eddie Bess and Mrs. Leroy Oneal of Littlefield, Mrs. R. P. Glenn, A. R. Couch and daughter, Eloise, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Power and sons, Rex and Glenn went to Abilene Tuesday night to see the performance of the play "Stage Door," given by Hardin-Simmons University players. Frances Fouts was one of the cast of characters.

Horace Payne of Bunkie, La. spent the week end with Mrs. Payne in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lemore. Mr. and Mrs. Payne went to Tulsa, Okla., Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview was elected State President for another year to succeed Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Eastland.

Hospital Notes

Listed as patients in the Haskell county hospital Thursday at noon were six persons, while three patients were dismissed during the week.

Patients in the hospital were: Mrs. Jim Almond of Haskell for treatment of burns; Mrs. Arthur Edwards of this city, for medical treatment; F. C. Richards of Haskell for surgery; Infant Jerry Sue Phemister of Haskell Mrs. Ray Overton of Haskell for surgery; Babbita Blanco of Wemert for medical treatment.

Patients dismissed this week, included Mrs. Floyd Bradshaw of Rule, Mrs. George Klose of Haskell, and George Turner of Goree.

Proper Methods for Preparing Venison Listed By Experts

AUSTIN, Texas.—Tens of thousands of Texas deer hunters are bringing home venison this season and many wives do not know how to properly prepare venison. The results of their attempts are often soggy, greasy pieces of meat which is as tough as the hide of a longhorn. Thus the following recipes, tested and approved by members of the Game Department may be of some help.

Venison is a dry meat. The Fernandez family recipe, which is famous in the Rio Grande Valley, overcomes the dryness. A roast, or an entire leg is prepared for roasting by making numerous deep slits in it. Into these are thrust pieces of ham or bacon which have been rolled in pepper and salt. The meat is then seared and placed in a roaster. A bay leaf or two and cloves are placed on top. The top of the roast is then well moistened with orange juice or a combination of citrus fruit juices and juice is added as needed in quantities sufficient to keep the roast from drying out. It is simmered in a slow oven until tender. The juice imparts a decidedly different and delicious flavor to the venison.

Venison steaks are best when fried rare. The Tucker recipe calls for the steaks to be cooked in very hot fat, deep enough to cover the steaks. Too many steaks should not be cooked at once because they will cool the grease and cause the steaks to become sodden. Sear a half minute on both sides and remove to hot platter.

The Skell recipe for roasting venison calls for covering the meat with sour wine and leaving it stand four or five days in the refrigerator. Then place bay leaves and cloves on top of the roast and place it in slow oven. If the venison has absorbed all the wine, add more and continue to baste the roast with wine until tender.

Dr. Ernest Kimbrough visited his brothers, Jack and John and attended the A. & M.-Rice football game in College Station, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Phippen and children of Electra visited relatives and friends in Haskell this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neinst of Sagerton visited in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walling, Jr., Sunday.

Mrs. Hettie Williams and Mrs. Edgar Davis accompanied Mrs. C. E. Clearley to Temple last Friday where she entered Scott and White hospital for treatment.

Bunis Faye Ratliff went to College Station Saturday to see the football game between Rice and A. & M.

Mrs. Lon McMillen of Goose Creek is in Haskell visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis P. Ratliff and other relatives.

Miss Elsie Fischer, graduate of Scoggins beauty school in Abilene has accepted a position with the Criterion beauty shop here.

Mrs. D. H. Persons came from Bryan this week for a brief visit with friends in Haskell. Leaving Haskell, Mrs. Persons went to Mineral Wells where they will make their home in the future.

Martelle Clifton who is attending business school in Tyler is spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Clifton of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hambleton have as their guests this week end their daughters, Velma of Tyler and Joyce Nell of Wichita Falls.

Traffic Accidents Take Heavier Toll During This Year

The National Safety Council reports that during the first eight months of this year it is estimated that 20,840 persons lost their lives as the result of motor vehicle accidents on the streets and highways of the United States an increase of 7 per cent over the corresponding period of 1939. Figures just released by the Interstate Commerce Commission indicate that during this same period 1,113 persons lost their lives and 2,667 sustained injuries in accidents occurring at highway-railroad grade crossings, the greatest number of fatalities resulting from this cause in a corresponding period since 1931, with the exception of 1937 when there were 1,144 fatalities and 3,090 injuries.

Mr. Dobbins calls attention to the fact that hundreds of lives could be saved if motorists would only exercise greater caution at grade crossings. He points out the fact that for years the Safety Section of the Association of American Railroads has asked motorists to have their cars under control when approaching railroad grade crossings, looking first to the left, then to the right, and then crossing only when the way is seen and known to be clear.

The winter season will soon be here and with it will come slippery pavements, restricted vision and impaired hearing, everyone who drives should be mindful of these conditions and drive his car more carefully than ever.

Mr. Dobbins says the Burlington Railroad, through its officers and employees, is determined to leave nothing within its power undone in an effort to reduce these casualties, and with this in mind appeals to local citizens, schools and civic organizations, to lend aid to this worthwhile cause—the preservation of life and limb.

A better diet drive has been launched in New York state with the beginning of "Good Nutrition Month."

The total loss caused by cattle grubs, more commonly called "wolves," in the United States is estimated at more than $50,000,000 yearly.
