

Enrollment Totals Are Announced

First day enrollment totals for the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District have been released by school officials.

The overall total of elementary, mid-school, and high school classes tallied 383 students which is slightly down from last year's figure of 395 pupils.

In the elementary grades, 25 students reported for class in kindergarten with 24 in first grade. Total for the second grade was 34 students, third grade reported 28 children, and the fourth grade had 29 report. These five classes totalled 140 students.

Mid-school students had 119 report at O'Brien. Fifth grade had a total of 25 students on the first day of school with 37 reporting in the sixth grade for the largest total of any of the school classes. Twenty-three students were present in the seventh grade class while 34 were accounted for in the eighth grade.

Thirty-six freshmen were present for their first day of high school classes with 25 reporting in the sophomore class. Juniors had a total of 27 with 36 seniors present. Total for the high school was 124 students.

These totals do not include the early childhood program, officials said.

Baptist Set Revival At O'Brien

The Rev. Howard Jones, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hamlin, will be the evangelist for revival services set at the O'Brien Baptist Church beginning Sunday, September 2, and concluding Friday, August 7.

Local director of music, Don Roberts, will be leading the singing.

Tuesday night will be "youth" night with a pizza supper being planned before the services. Thursday night has been set aside as "children's" night and hot dogs will be prepared for them.

According to church pastor Rev. Bill Trice, prayer meetings for all ages will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. with services scheduled to begin at 8:00 p.m.

The evangelist has preached for more than 200 revivals in his 39 years of ministry. He has pastored churches in Loraine, Wellington, McAllen, Amarillo, Fort Worth, and Greenville, and has pastored the Hamlin church since October 1, 1970. He was named Hamlin's "Man of the Year" by the Board of Community Development for 1978.

Planning committee for the revival include Orval Manning, Don Roberts, Helen Manning, J.M. Emerson, and Bernice Rowan.

A nursery will be provided and everyone is invited to attend as noted by the ad elsewhere in this week's News.

Area Men Are Named Chairmen

Cattlemen wishing to donate livestock or equipment to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center should contact one of the area chairmen or the Central Office of WTRC, 4601 Hartford, Abilene, Texas 79605.

Scrimmage With Jayton Set Friday

The second scrimmage for varsity, junior varsity, and freshman Greyhound teams has been set for Friday with Jayton on the Jaybirds' home field. Game time is set for 6:00 p.m.

Four segments of play will take place during the scrimmage against Jayton with the freshmen beginning the action followed by the varsity squad. The JV's will then take to the field with the fourth and final round of play being that of the varsity.

During Friday night's scrimmage against Holliday, in the freshman segment, Holliday scored two with KC's scoring one; the JV's ended play with neither team scoring; and the KC varsity scored two to Holliday's one.

According to coach Jimmy Rogers, he was pleased with the overall results; however, he is looking for more improvement at Jayton.

In the Harris Poll rating system, District 7-A picks include Haskell in first place position, Knox City in second, followed by Munday in third.

Most Stores To Close Labor Day

Most Knox City businesses have indicated that they will close next Monday, September 3, in observance of the Labor Day holiday.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS in the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District for this year's term are, from left, Rob Robertson, who will teach high school science; Carolyn Sloan, third grade; Sally Keener, junior high math, Algebra I, and senior English; and Denice Waltrip, band.

Two KC Natives

Four Join Faculty

Four new faculty members, two of whom are Knox City natives, have been hired by the Knox City-O'Brien Consolidated Independent School District for the new school year.

Assuming duties are Rob Robertson, high school science; Carolyn Sloan, third grade; Sally Keener, junior high, math, Algebra I, and senior English; and Denice Waltrip, band.

Born May 9, 1943, in Knox City, Rob attended Knox City schools until the seventh grade. He graduated from Wichita Falls Senior High in 1961 and received his bachelor of science degree in biology from Southern Methodist University in 1965.

Robertson did two years of biological research in the United States Army and also did graduate work in biology at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces. He worked for the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Agency at Espanola, New Mexico, and also worked for the U.S. Bureau of Land Management at Lordsburg, New Mexico.

Rob and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of a daughter, Selina, who is four years old, and Robbie, who is one year old. Rob is the son of former Knox City residents Dorothy (Shaver) and Bob Robertson of Wichita Falls.

The couple plans to join the First United Methodist Church.

The former Carolyn Bean, Mrs. Sloan and her husband, Tommy, a coach in the Knox City-O'Brien schools, are the parents of two children, Karomy and Kandon.

Mrs. Sloan graduated from Rochester High School and received her music education degree from Abilene Christian University. She participated in ACU musicals and drama productions as well as A Cappella choir and tours.

Carolyn also received a master of education degree from East Texas State University in Commerce and has had previous teaching experience at Mount Pleasant, Cooper, and Weatherford Junior College.

She is the daughter of Loree Hamilton and the late Wilson Bean.

Mrs. Keener and her husband, Terry, who is resident engineer for the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, have one daughter, Melissa, who is now 13 months old. The Keeners moved to Knox City in July 1978.

A Knox City native, Mrs. Keener is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Coyle of Childress and the late Arville Coyle. She is the granddaughter of longtime Knox City residents, Mrs. Henry Etta Smith and the late Roy Smith.

Mrs. Keener attended Childress schools and graduated from Childress High. She received her bachelor of science in secondary education from West Texas State University in Canyon and since her college graduation, has been a supervisor for Texas Instruments, a chemist for Safeway Food Stores, and the director of the Childress MH/MR Outreach Center.

A native of Roswell, New Mexico, Denice Waltrip received her bachelor of music education degree from McMurry College in Abilene in May of this year.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Waltrip of Roswell, Denice is interested in music and is looking forward to working with the band this year. She is also a Methodist.

Former Residents Oregon Missionaries

By ERICH BRIDGES

Mission Service Corps Communication Team Writer

COQUILLE, OREGON - The south Oregon coast juts out of the Pacific like a rugged jewel.

Driftwood beaches stretch into tree covered mountains and valleys, windblown and green. Russian, Japanese, and Norwegian ships seek out ports like Coos Bay in search of Oregon's treasure: lumber.

In nearby Coquille, men get their living from lumbering or fishing. Some are native Oregonians; many others migrated with their families from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri during the Depression years.

A new family lives above the old Sawdust Theater downtown, however. Jack and JoAnn Maddox arrived with their daughter Jackie and son James in July of 1978. They came to Coquille not to make a life but to share one: Jesus Christ.

Texas natives, the Maddoxes are mission volunteers, serving through Mission Service Corps, the Southern Baptist plan to place 5000 volunteers on foreign and domestic mission fields by 1982.

Jack Maddox, 51, served for fifteen years as pastor in several Texas churches and most recently as manager of the Plains Baptist Assembly in Floydada before opting for Mission Service Corps.

"The Home Mission Board gave us a list of fifty places of service, and we both decided on Coquille," recalls JoAnn. "It turned out that W.C. Carpenter, former director of missions for the Northwest Baptist Convention, had been praying for three years that volunteers would come to this area."

Since Coquille has no Southern Baptist church, the Maddoxes initially tried to begin a congregation. They encountered problems immediately, however.

"Many people here don't feel they have time for God," says Jack. "They struggle for a living and little leisure time, and they're not interested in church."

The Maddoxes rented the local community hall for several Sundays and advertised church services in the newspaper, on television and on radio. Nobody came.

They started a "Big A" club, which drew twenty or more children for a time, but the children, nearly all offspring of migrant workers, moved away with their parents.

"We were very discouraged," says JoAnn, "but we backed up, thought things over and decided to start over by getting involved with the community."

Jack went to work in a local hardwood mill. JoAnn got an Avon route and began volunteer work at the city hospital and elementary school. They began making friends and building relationships.

"I never thought I'd be selling cosmetics door to door," says JoAnn, "but I've gotten into more than ninety homes this way, and people talk to their Avon lady like she's a trained counselor."

Jack's job at the mill also paid off. "I've been able to witness to a lot of the men on the job," he says. "I work alongside of them, and I'm one of them, but I also remind them of who they are, and who God is."

Recently, the Maddoxes held a Vacation Bible School in which 34 children participated. A small Sunday School is emerging out of the group.

Supported by their own funds and several churches and individuals, the Maddoxes plan to stay in Oregon until June of 1980. Working with area missionary Gilbert Skaar and Dick Burns, pastor of Myrtlewood Baptist Church in Coos Bay, they still hope to start a Southern Baptist Church in Coquille.

"We may just be the seed planters," says Jack, "but other volunteers or vocational mission pastors can come here and reap the harvest."

The Maddoxes don't regret venturing into the Northwest. "There's all kinds of 'church work' you can do," Jack concludes, "but what matters is the real work of the church: fulfilling the Great Commission. That's what we're trying to do here."

O'Brien Happenings

By CHARLENE BROTHERS

To the out-of-town readers, the reason there was no news last week is that I had to go to College Station to another tax school. And I owe an apology to the News office for not calling them and telling them I would not have any. The first time I thought of it, it was Sunday morning about 6:30, and I was to leave by 8:00, so I thought they might not appreciate it very much hearing about it that early, especially since they had been to Grapevine the night before and probably did not get back too early. They chartered the bus for the group that attended the Grapevine Opry musical.

The trip to College Station was fine. One afternoon after class we rode around some and went through the Sam Houston Forest, and came back by Huntsville. This was a good trip, the forest reminds you of some scenery in the mountains in New Mexico and Arizona, only you are not as high. We had a small class, judging from the others we had attended. There were only 32 enrolled. We really learned more about the text of the school, since there were not so many to get the instructor off the subject. We learned some of the legal aspects of tax work. And we learned some laws that it seems no one knew about or at least no one was practicing them.

School began this morning with a bang, I'm sure. The summer seemed so short, and I did not have any children to start back to school, so I'm sure that it was short to the ones who did. Maybe the school year will pass as fast as the summer seemed to. I feel for the teacher of the Early Childhood program. I know some of the ones who will be going the first two weeks, and none of them are bad, but when you put them all together they can get into more than a barrel of monkeys. I have had them in Sunday school. They will have fun after they get used to staying still, at least for ten minutes at a time.

HERE AND THERE
Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Gothard of El Paso visited with Mr. and Mrs. D.S. Gothard recently.

Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Covey, Greg, Ava and John Morgan recently visited in Carlsbad Caverns, Ruidoso and other points of interest in New Mexico and Texas.

Mrs. Edna Davis of Snyder visited with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Hewitt, Vicki and Toni recently. She came when Loretta had surgery.

Marvin Manning, Mrs. James Manning, Cody and Christie spent several days at Lake Proctor near Comanche. James joined them the last three days of their stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones of Wichita Falls visited with his mother, Mrs. Clyde Jones, during the week last week.

Mrs. Ruby Lee Brothers returned home after visiting several weeks in Levelland with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Oxford.

Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Brothers visited in Azle with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brothers, Jeremy and Tommy. They also visited with the Derwin Lancaster family, the Larry Gibson family, and the Tim Ivey family, all of Springtown.

We finally finished redecorating the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church. They painted the walls, put down new carpet and refinished the pews. Two of the back Sunday school rooms and the foyer were also redone. The committee chose the colors of white for the walls, gold for the carpet and the pews are stained dark. It is very pretty. We invite you to come by and see it. Also a new piano was donated by the C.H. Underwoods, the Butch Stephens, and Demp Emersons. (This was a needed item, as the old one was getting kind of old. The new one sounds so much better.) They plan for the dedication before too much longer.

The classes at Haskell that Western Texas College of Snyder has each year will begin September 6. Registration will be August 28. It seems like there will be several from our area to take some course. I plan to take two this time, accounting and real estate. I may have a hard time keeping up good grades on two courses. It has been so long since I took more than one, maybe I can make it.

Credit Is Needed For SS Benefits

Before any Social Security benefits can be paid on a person's record, he or she must have a certain amount of credit for work covered by Social Security, James Harper, Social Security branch manager in Vernon, said recently.

The exact amount needed depends on the person's date of birth or age at the time he or she becomes disabled or dies. The amount of credit needed ranges from a minimum of one and one-half years to a maximum of ten years. In 1979, the maximum amount of credit needed is seven years.

For retirement and survivor benefits, this credit could have been earned any time since 1936. But, for disability benefits, a certain amount of work credit must be earned in the period just before the person becomes disabled, Harper said. Persons disabled by blindness do not have to meet the recent work requirement. Since 1978, credits are based on a person's annual covered earnings. In 1979, a person receives one-fourth year of credit for each $260 in covered earnings. A person gets a full year of credit if 1979 earnings are $1040 or more.

This amount will increase automatically each year to keep pace with increases in average work levels.

Before 1978, credits were based on covered wages paid in three-month calendar quarters. Generally, a person receives one-fourth year of credit if he or she were paid covered wages of $50 or more in a calendar quarter.

A leaflet, "Social Security credits - how you earn them," gives more detailed information about earnings credits. Free copies can be obtained at the Vernon Social Security office located at 1701 Cumberland. The telephone number is (817) 553-9346.

A.B. Robertson Celebrates Birthday

A.B. Robertson IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Robertson, celebrated his first birthday, Wednesday, August 22, with a family party.

Assisting with the party for "Little Rob" was his four year old sister, Selina.

Guests who included the honoree's great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shaver, enjoyed cake and ice cream.

PROPPS VISITORS

Guests in the home of Mrs. Birdie Propps Tuesday of last week were Mrs. Alice Dutton and Mildred Joiner of Lubbock and Margaret Lively of Wichita Falls.

Crowell Women Address Commission

Two Crowell women, Mrs. Otis Gafford and Mrs. Virgil Johnson, addressed members of the Knox County Historical Commission Saturday afternoon, August 18, in the Assembly Room of the Knox County Courthouse in Benjamin.

Officials reported a good meeting which offered important information on some of the preliminary plans that are necessary in order to have a museum.

Crowell's museum, opened in 1976 and is reported to be "a dream come true" for the Foard County Historical Commission. The ladies reported that this venture did not occur overnight and that they worked for approximately 14 years on this project and are still laboring.

Questions the women suggested the Knox County Historical Commission members ask themselves were, "Do you want a museum badly enough to work for it and do you have those who will work for it not just a day, week, or year but for as long as it may take to accomplish this feat?"

Speakers advised the Knox County group to visit other museums. Some which had impressed them included the Panhandle, Hereford, Crosbyton, Floydada, and Canyon museums.

Obtaining a museum is a goal that takes time to complete, they explained. The ladies also reported that after many years of preparation, it still took them about a year to open after they obtained a building.

Mrs. Virginia Casey, president of the Knox County Historical Commission, expressed her appreciation to the members for their attendance as well as to the Crowell women for their information.

Among those attending in addition to the speakers were Allie Moorhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cash, Frances Coffman, Shelley Coffman, Mrs. Marion Cunningham, Mrs. Glen Feemster, Lucille Moorhouse, Mrs. Boyd Baker, Clara Brown, Virginia Casey, and Gretchen Colehour.

Members of the Knox County Historical Commission have been invited to visit the Crowell Museum and the McAdams Ranch, west of Crowell, at their September 15 meeting. Mrs. Colehour reported that one of the speakers, Mrs. Gifford, was a McAdams.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Visiting Sunday night in the home of Mrs. Easther May was Mrs. Ruby Pierce's daughter, Edna Hovenkamp of Denton.

Mrs. Pierce was honored Monday with a tour of Carlsbad Caverns National Park in observance of her birthday. She reported that she received many nice gifts from friends and relatives.

A birthday supper was enjoyed in their motel room and they enjoyed cake, ice cream, and pickled peaches that Mrs. Pierce canned. She wore a purple and orange corsage in observance of the celebration, she reported.

After touring the Caverns, the group headed to Sweetwater and ran into a rain and hail storm before getting out of New Mexico. They spent Tuesday night in Sweetwater; however, Mrs. Pierce explained that there wasn't much sleeping as there was too much talking and other noises such as trains and trucks taking off sounding as if "they were coming through the house."

They also visited a friend of Edna's, Adaline, who is a former resident of Seymour.

The group returned to Knox City Wednesday evening and spent the night and Ruby's daughter returned home. Ruby then went to Rule to pick up Mrs. May.

STREAMS IN DESERT PLACES

By OZELLE STEPHENS

"Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." (Proverbs 4:23)

God was pleased with Solomon and when he prayed to Him, "O Lord my God, give thy servant an understanding heart - that I might discern between good and bad." (I Kings 3:9-12). He had asked for understanding, wisdom and to discern judgment. This is one of the greatest things man can have as he lives this short life on earth. Because he asked as he did, God blessed him above all men.

It is wise to keep your heart full of the love of God and bathed continually in His Holy Presence. His Spirit will keep it pure and full of understanding which results in a victorious life full of joy, peace, contentment, and discernment of judgment. So keep thine heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life.

Get Maximum Mileage From Charitable Gifts

During the last three years of his life, Mr. Russell made gifts to charity of $200,000, all of which qualified for income tax deductions. This resulted in tax savings of $123,000.

When Russell died, his executor included the gifts in his estate for estate tax purposes under the "three-year rule," which provides generally that gifts made by a decedent within three years of his death are to be brought back into the gross estate at death.

The inclusion of the gift swelled the adjusted gross estate, and $100,000 became eligible for the marital deduction, escaping estate tax.

The $200,000 was also deductible as a charitable gift for estate tax purposes. The result—an additional $114,000 savings in estate taxes.

Lions Club News

BY Z.I. SMITH

Lion David Lorenz presided for Wednesday's meeting and we enjoyed having four visitors. Lion Tom Edd Osborne twisted arms and "patted" heads for dimes in the absence of Lion Tommy Kent. Tom Edd does not show partiality, he fines EVERYBODY!

Lion President led discussion about the raffle tickets and the coming flag display for Labor Day. Lion Kenneth Lawson was back, although not willingly, from his mountain vacation and together with Lion Bill Baker produced a program.

Mike Mueller from the Austin Office of Texans for Equal Taxation commented on people in Austin legislature who have understanding of rural town problems and have helped. He feels the State congress is becoming more a group of big city representatives and leaving rural towns to adjust as best they can. Cash Cunningham of Austin was traveling with Mueller and is presently publishing a paper entitled Barbed Wire, which attempts to give its readers the inside information on why and how some legislative business is carried on, good or bad.

Margie Clonts should be happy Lion Joe was present today; his name was drawn and she gets the free hose. Is that fair?

HOME FROM VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lawson have returned from a vacation trip near Southford, Colorado, where they enjoyed fishing and resting. Their grandson, Erik of Irving, accompanied them.

The Lawsons' son, Kenny of Austin visited his parents over the weekend and en route home took Erik home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Eiland.

Guard Offers Educational Assistance

Graduating seniors, or former graduates, who have no prior military service are now eligible for the Texas National Guard's new Educational Assistance Enlistment Incentive Program.

All enlistees in the categories mentioned above may choose, upon successful completion of their initial active duty training, a $1,500 enlistment bonus, or the $2,000 Educational Assistance Program.

The Educational Assistance Incentive provides fifty percent of education expenses incurred while attending an accredited college, university, or institution to include tuition, books, laboratory fees, and shop fees for consumable supplies to a maximum of $500 over a twelve month period. A total of $2,000 may be used over the enlistee's Guard obligation.

This educational assistance may be provided to a Guard member until the member completes a course of instruction required for award of a baccalaureate degree or the equivalent evidence of completion of study by an accredited institution.

To find out how one may qualify for his choice of these two programs, readers may contact Sergeant First Class Tom Johnson by calling (817) 552-2262 or drop by the Guard's recruiting office at the corner of Oak and Marshall in Vernon, Texas.

Problem Resolution Program Works

DALLAS - "We don't like to see it happen, but when you're talking about an organization of about 1400 employees that deals with over 2.2 million 'clients' annually, there are going to be some breakdowns where the system doesn't work as it should," A.W. McCannless, director of the Dallas District of the Internal Revenue Service said. "That's why the IRS has implemented the Problem Resolution Program (PRP) - a program designed to resolve 'unsolvable' tax problems."

In its third year of operation in northern Texas, the PRP office acts as an internal ombudsman, cutting through organizational barriers which may have prevented getting the problem solved on the first go-around.

"Dallas District taxpayers file 2.2 million individual tax returns each year. Last year, all but 1200 of them were processed through normal channels," McCannless said. "The remaining 1200 were eventually brought to resolution by employees assigned to the PRP office."

How can a taxpayer tell if his or her tax problem should be directed to the PRP office? McCannless says, "A good rule of thumb is that if a taxpayer has contacted the Service more than twice regarding the same tax matter, PRP should be contacted." PRP can be reached by calling the IRS taxpayer assistance phone number (toll-free number: 1-800-492-4830) listed in your phone directory or by writing: Special Tax Problems, P.O. Box 1040, Dallas, Texas 75221.

"The Book Report"

CIRCULATING FANS

Circulating fans create air movement and increase cooling sensation. Both the oscillating fan and the old-time ceiling-mounted fan are designed to create air movement within a given space by the use of rotating blades or paddles.

OSCILLATING FANS

Oscillating fans are portable and can be moved easily from one room to another. Efficiency in circulating air depends on design. The more air a fan moves in a given time, the better its cooling potential. The less electricity it requires to move the air, the cheaper and more efficient it will be to operate. Generally, a 12-inch blade will move less air than a 20-inch blade, and the fan with the more power will thrust air further into the room.

An oscillating fan distributes its cooling effect best when set to turn from side to side. Some models permit adjustments in the arc or stationary operation by adjusting a control knob.

A clutch that slips or disengages when the swinging fan meets an obstruction is a desirable feature on an oscillating fan. This feature prevents a serious pinch if fingers are caught between the fan head and the pedestal.

It also keeps the fan from tipping over if it meets an obstruction as it swings.

Since fan speed is often related to how noisy a unit is during operation, units that give a choice of low, medium and high speeds offer some flexibility. Expect a higher level of operation noise at higher fan speed than low or medium speed.

If the unit will be used at night or in a child's room, make sure the unit operates quietly on a low setting.

CEILING-MOUNTED FANS

Popular in the early 1900's, ceiling-mounted fans are making a strong comeback because of their energy-saving potential as well as the nostalgic touch they add to an area. Today's ceiling fans come in a wider assortment of colors and styles, but their operation is essentially the same as the original models. Paddle blades, propelled with about the same power required for a light bulb, stir up stagnant air to keep room temperatures within the comfort zone.

Because of size and location, the ceiling fan is capable of redistributing sizeable amounts of air over a wide area. Since they use less than 200 watts, they're an economical substitute for air conditioning on those not-so-hot days, as well as an economical and effective supplement for those higher air-conditioning settings.

Units which permit a change of pitch on the paddles or blades will make for more effective use during both heating and cooling seasons.

Heavier, cool air that accumulates near the floor will be drawn upward and recirculated by the revolving paddles during the summer season. During winter when heated air accumulates at the ceiling, the fan works to move warm air gently downward for a more constant temperature from floor to ceiling.

Some units accomplish this dual-season feat by a motor that permits direction of the paddles to be reversed, or tilt of the blades to be changed.

While most models are equipped with variable speed motors, this feature is especially important when the unit is used in conjunction with winter heating. Unless a low speed can be achieved, uncomfortable drafts will result throughout the heated area.

Most manufacturers package ceiling fans for easy do-it-yourself installation. Short-stem mounts are included that provide seven-foot clearance when installed on eight-foot ceilings.

New Student Population

Are You Too Old To Go To School?

Are you too old to go to school? Not if you're still alive, according to today's educators. And to emphasize this fact, Governor William Clements has proclaimed August 19 through 25 as Lifelong Learning Week in Texas.

Dr. Jim Fritze, dean of continuing education at Vernon Regional Junior College, is an active member of TAC-SCE.

The Governor's proclamation calls attention to the needs and changes in American education and recognizes the emergence of a new student population. The new population includes the mother who has joined her children in college to finish her degree, the father who wants to pick up some business skills to make his salary more negotiable, the grandmother who has her heart set on oil painting, the retired engineer who is realizing a pipedream of mastering carpentry, and anyone else who wants to study French, family financial management, calligraphy, Texas wildflowers, disco dancing, computer programming, skiing, dog obedience, auto mechanics, or any of the other hundreds of courses that are enlivening the new curriculum.

This new population of students is changing the nature and goals of higher education. Once a kind of academic preparation for life designed for the young adult, higher education is now becoming an open-ended proposition, an inoculation of enrichment followed by occasional boosters. American life has grown so complex and changeable that Americans are feeling the need to return to school, both to update their knowledge in traditional subjects and to pursue less traditional ones.

The purpose of Lifelong Learning Week is to bring serious public and professional attention to this new student population and its needs. In Texas alone, there are an estimated 1.5 million non-traditional students. All across the state, colleges and universities are making changes in their course offerings and schedules to accommodate day and evening students, full and part-time students.

During the past year alone over three thousand registrations were received for Vernon Regional Junior College Continuing Education courses. Almost six hundred of that number were persons sixty years of age and over taking continuing education courses through the Emeritus Institute.

Continuing education schedules for the fall semester are available in the VRJC Continuing Education office. Persons wishing to receive a continuing education schedule by mail may call the continuing education office at (817) 552-6291.

Fast Family Food: The 'Super Sandwich' Supper

Here's a lovely evening menu guaranteed to please the family palate—and to get the cook out of the kitchen in record time.

This entrée is really a Super Sandwich created around that all-time flavor favorite, the Great American Hamburger. This one even includes the vegetables. Thus, the meal is both low in preparation time and high in nutritive value—a terrific combination.

Ground chuck is mixed with a medley of carrots, onion, and celery. For more summertime flavor, add one can of Contadina tomato sauce plus crumbs, dill, and other seasonings. A quick mix, and the Super Sandwich is ready to pop onto the barbeque or under the broiler. Before removing from heat, spoon on a little more of the zesty tomato sauce and add a sprinkle of Parmesan cheese.

Serve on long French rolls à la hero sandwich—and you will be the hero of the evening.

Accompany the Super Sandwich with a simple green salad, then finish the meal with a touch of elegance. A toss-and-serve dessert of sherbet and fruit looks elaborate, but it's fantastically easy. In a glass or crystal bowl place scoops of sherbet and fruit of the same color, such as strawberry ice cream mixed with fresh red berries, orange sherbet with sliced mandarin oranges, or lime sherbet with green grapes. Family Food can be Fast—and Fun!

SUPER SANDWICH
(Makes 6 sandwiches)

- 1 1/2 pounds ground chuck
- 1/2 cup Contadina seasoned bread crumbs
- 1 cup (8-ounce can) Contadina tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup shredded carrot
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon dill weed
- Parmesan cheese
- Six 6-inch long French rolls

Combine chuck, bread crumbs, 1/2 cup tomato sauce, carrot, onion, celery, egg, salt, and pepper in medium bowl. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Divide into six equal portions. Shape into oval patties (about 6 x 3 x 3/4 inch each). Place on broiler pan. Broil 6 inches from heat 10 minutes. Turn and broil additional 5 minutes. Remove from broiler. Combine dill weed and remaining 1/2 cup tomato sauce. Spoon on top of burgers. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese over sauce. Return to broiler; broil additional 3-5 minutes. Cut rolls in half; toast. Place burgers on bottom halves. Top with remaining halves. Serve at once.

Cotton Board Reviewing Audit Report

LUBBOCK (Special) - Cotton Board Chairman L. Don Anderson said today his organization is carefully reviewing the recently completed USDA Office of Inspector General's report of their audit and investigation of the cotton producer-financed research and promotion program. The program is administered by the Cotton Board and implemented by Cotton Incorporated. Cotton Board members are nominated by the Certified Producer Organizations from across the Cotton Belt.

"I can assure cotton producers," Anderson said, "that recommendations contained in the OIG report will be carefully considered and those steps necessary to improve the program will be taken."

Anderson went on to say the Cotton Board has been conducting its own review of the program in recent months and expects to improve reporting procedures between the Cotton Board, Cotton Incorporated and the Department of Agriculture.

Anderson pointed out the research program was making progress in lowering cotton production costs through such projects as the development of more efficient cotton handling systems and the employment of advanced production techniques in the Integrated Management Systems.

"The introduction of Natural Blend™ and 100% cotton minimum care fabrics are two programs which are reversing cotton's losses in important apparel markets," he continued. Anderson pointed out that fabric promotion and merchandising efforts are of prime importance to cotton producers since synthetic fiber manufacturers continue to spend vast sums of money in an attempt to capture cotton's market.

"I cannot stress strongly enough how important this self-help research and promotion program is to cotton producers," Anderson said, "and that the Cotton Board is determined to carry out its responsibilities to continually improve this program."

Stenholm Fund Day Set September 8

STAMFORD - Don Starr, chairman of the Stenholm '80 committee, has announced that final preparations are being made for the Friends of Charlie Fund Day to be held at the Ericksdahl picnic grounds east of Stamford on September 8. A program of entertainment, games and food will begin at 5:00 p.m. Tickets are available from the Stenholm '80 office in Stamford, telephone (915) 773-5521.

Buddy Angle, Bruce Campbell, and Charles Baker are members of the Stenholm '80 committee in Knox County and may be contacted for details.

The committee has been organized to continue the grass roots support that helped elect Congressman Stenholm and will continue to work for him. It is anticipated that the congressman will announce his political plans on the 8th.

The gathering is planned to raise funds to finance the campaign organization of Congressman Stenholm but it will also provide an opportunity for citizens from throughout the vast 17th Congressional District to visit with the Stenholm family in their home community. The picnic grounds are located near the Bethel Lutheran church where they attend with the family farm nearby.

A meal of chicken, watermelon and all the trimmings of a country picnic is planned. A playground area is available for old and young.

There will be entertainment throughout the evening and a short formal program will not interfere with visiting in the traditional manner.

New Orleans Resident Sentenced

A 21-year-old New Orleans resident was sentenced in Federal Court Friday for defrauding the Social Security Administration.

Alexander L. Tuur was given a nine-month suspended prison sentence and was placed on active probation for four years by U.S. Magistrate Ingard Johannesen.

Tuur was ordered to live in the Volunteers of America Halfway House until further notice, and to repay the $3,180.00 in Social Security benefits he illegally received.

Tuur pled guilty July 12 to a charge of falsely stating he was a student at Delgado Junior College in New Orleans, in order to receive Social Security student benefits.
