Forty-Five Tons Scrap Rubber Gathered Up In the County During First Week of Campaign

Contributes More Than Half of County's Total
Rule leading all other counties in the amount of rubber turned in during the first week of the drive for every ounce of scrap rubber as a part of the war effort were brought in to various stations in various parts of the county last week, according to A. D. McClintock, chairman of the Haskell county scrap rubber committee.

McClintock said, "but during the remaining days of the drive it is imperative that we make a report to the scrap rubber drive this week being carried through the county through the county Victory Council, following a meeting held here Friday, and an intensive drive will be continued until the closing date of the drive is reached."

Information released from Washington indicates this group of registrants will not be subject to the military draft until they reach the age of 20. Approximately 40,000,000 men between 20 and 65 years of age have registered in the four previous drafts. The first, in October 1940, registered approximately 17,100,000 between the ages of 21 and 36. The second in July 1941 listed about 750,000 who had become 21 since the first draft. The third, on February 16, 1942, registered around 9,000,000 between 20 through 44. The fourth, held last month, listed approximately 13,000,000 men between 45 and 65.

44 CANDIDATES CERTIFIED FOR PRIMARY BALLOT

One Candidate Withdraws From Race for County Office

Names of forty-four district and county candidates have been certified for place on the July 25 primary ballot by the Democratic Executive Committee, following a check of assessments paid by candidates prior to the deadline at midnight June 20. One candidate who had filed application for a place on the ballot, O. L. Johnson, candidate for Assessor-Collector, announced that he would not continue in the race prior to the deadline for payment of assessment. The list of names certified ranged from Congressman to Precinct officers, but did not include the list of candidates for State offices. These names will be certified by the State Democratic Committee. Court action now pending concerning the Railroad Commissioner's race, has held up preparation of the ballot for printing, John A. Couch, county chairman said Thursday. However, he expressed the opinion that an early ruling would prevent any delay in absentee voting, which begins July 5. A complete list of all candidates for office, and the order in which they will appear on the ballot, will be published in the next issue of The Free Press.

Attorney General Wires Opinion On Candidate Filing

Verifying an opinion given the County Democratic Executive Committee by long-distance telephone Monday of last week relative to the deadline for filing names for place on the Primary ballot, John A. Couch, chairman of the county executive committee has received the following telegram from the Attorney General's department in Austin: "This Department has consistently held that a candidate for nomination to a county office must file his application with County Chairman not later than Saturday before the third Monday in June preceding the primary and his failure to do so disbarred his name from being printed on the official ballot and said provisions cannot be waived by the Executive Committee even with the consent of the candidate's opponents. "A copy of one of our opinions follows. Grover Sellers, Acting Attorney General."

Few Car Owners Have Purchased Car Use Stamps

Purchase of the auto use tax stamps here has been comparatively slow, employees in the local postoffice declared this week, with very few car owners having bought their federal stamps. These stamps have been on sale for several days, and must be purchased by July 1. They are priced at $5, and are good from July 1, 1942 to July 1, 1943. All car owners are urged to purchase the stamps at the earliest possible date, in order to avoid a last-minute rush.

Mrs. Carl Power, chapter chairman, announced Thursday in calling or volunteer workers, either women or girls, to help in making the knitted garments. The sweaters and helmets are needed for the armed forces of the United States, she explained. Women who will help in making the garments are requested to call at the Red Cross work room in the courthouse, and they will be issued yarn in whatever quality they will agree to knit, it was announced.

FOURTH OF JULY HOLIDAY REMAINS UNDECIDED ISSUE

Date Coming On Saturday May Prevent Town-wide Observance

Observance of the 4th of July this year as a business holiday in Haskell appeared undecided this week, although it was definitely announced that all offices in the courthouse and City Hall would be closed for the day, both local banks will observe a legal holiday and several business establishments have announced they would join in the observance of Independence Day. A series of meetings called this week by the Chamber of Commerce for various groups of retail businesses in Haskell, the opinion was expressed by some that because the date falls on Saturday this year it would be out of the question to declare a business holiday. Regardless of the day of the week, other businessmen expressed their intention of observing the national holiday in view of its special significance this year with the nation at war. With this divergence of views, it is likely that the Fourth will find some Haskell business establishments observing a holiday, with probably a majority remaining open.

All "Political Rallies" In The County Called Off to Comply With Request of OPA Director

Classes In Home Nursing As Home Defense Measure Announced By Red Cross

Jason W. Smith, local abstractor and former County Clerk, this week announces his candidacy for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Haskell county in the coming Democratic primary.

Instruction in home nursing as a war measure is being inaugurated by the Haskell chapter of the Red Cross, according to Mrs. Ruby Faye Power, Chapter Chairman. Classes for women and girls in Red Cross Home Nursing are to be conducted by Mrs. Willie Lane a graduate nurse, authorized as an instructor by the National Red Cross, whose appointment has been announced, Mrs. Power said. "Because in many communities large numbers of doctors and nurses are leaving for service with the armed forces, the homemaker needs to learn how to be more resourceful," Mrs. Power pointed out. "She needs to be better able to care for her own family when nursing and medical facilities are being drawn from civilian life. She can gain that resourcefulness through training in a Red Cross Home Nursing course."

The class will be conducted at the First Baptist Church, and will be organized Tuesday evening, June 30 at 7 o'clock. All women and girls interested in securing home nursing instruction are urged to enroll at the first meeting. This will be the last class to be offered for some time, due to shortage of instructors, Mrs. Power pointed out. In the course, which is approximately six weeks long and covers from 24 to 30 hours instruction, the homemaker is taught self-reliance in caring for sick members of her family, particularly. She learns how to prevent illnesses through proper diet, exercise, baths and rest, how to keep a healthy home environment, how to care for the baby and growing children and how to deal with community health problems, such as the prevention of the spread of communicable diseases, Mrs. Power continued. The courses have the special endorsement of the medical and nursing professions through the National Council on Red Cross Home Nursing composed of representatives from government departments and health and nursing organizations. "Classes will be open to everyone," Mrs. Power emphasized. "We want to reach persons in every walk of life, but particularly housewives and high school girls."

Action Taken at Meeting of Candidates Here Thursday

Complying with the request of Mark McGee, State OPA Director, candidates for office in Haskell county at a meeting here Thursday afternoon voted to discontinue the scheduled itinerary of speaking dates announced several weeks ago for the current campaign. This action cancels the political rally scheduled for tonight (Friday) in Sagerton, as well as all other rallies announced recently that would take the candidates to the principal towns and communities in the county before the first primary July 25. First rally on the schedule was held at O'Brien last Friday night. McGee, State OPA Director, in a telegram received Wednesday, had asked that all political rallies be called off in the interest of conservation of tires and rubber. Calling off the rallies, it was pointed out at the meeting would mean conservation of tires on all cars of the people of the county, because at some time or other during the schedule of rallies practically every person in the county would travel varying distances to and from the points where speaking dates were scheduled. In the meeting here Thursday, candidates expressed regret that they would be unable to carry out an important phase of their campaign schedule, in that they would be denied the privilege of addressing the large gatherings that in past years have marked each political rally held. Telegram requesting calling off the political rallies, which was received Wednesday by John A. Couch, county Democratic chairman, read as follows: Ft. Worth, June 24, 1942. "John A. Couch, "Haskell, Texas. "In the interest of conservation of tires I urgently request that all political rallies initiated either by County Chairman or by candidates for public office in the various counties in Texas be discontinued. I urge your patriotic cooperation.—Mark McGee, State Director office of Price Administration."

Officers and members of the local post of the American Legion this week were asked to cooperate with the Civil Aeronautics Administration in recruiting men whom the Army Air forces want to train as specialists in four kinds of flying: Glider Pilots, Service and Liaison Pilots, Instructors, and Airline Co-Pilots. George Neely, commander of the local Legion Post, pointed out that the Air Force has made it possible for men between the ages of 18 and 37, who want to serve their country as fliers to do so, even though they may not be able to meet the rigid physical and mental requirements of the combat pilot. Full details of this opportunity to enlist in the Air Force, together with application blanks, can be secured from Mr. Neely, commander, or A. C. Chamberlain, Adjutant of the local Post.

Regular Meeting of Legion Will Be Held Friday Night

EVERY CANADIAN IS FIGHTING

Passed by Censor
The power and precision with which the roller bends a steel plate into a perfect circle to make a depth charge reflects the spirit of Canada's war program. It will be closed at both ends, waterproofed and filled with high explosives, to be loaded aboard a ship of the Royal Canadian Navy engaged in ridding the Atlantic waters of Nazi submarines. With the growing need for manpower in the armed services, war industries and agriculture, Canada's new selective service policy is directing workers in "non-essential" categories into war work as curtailment and restrictions on civilian goods make an increasing number of workers available. In the next year 200,000 volunteers will be required for the armed services; thousands will be called up for compulsory military service and 100,000 men and women must be found for war industries. Recognizing the need for maintaining farm production, the government has granted indefinite postponement of military service for agricultural workers. They may enlist as volunteers in the armed forces but must not accept non-agricultural work without special permission. Training center and placement services have been established to introduce more women into war industry and transportation may be arranged to an area where women workers are required. Men fit for military service between 17 and 45 years are barred from accepting employment in a long list of restricted occupations which include almost every civilian job not connected with war work. Every Canadian is affected in some measure by the regulations.

On The Home Front . . . . .

Cheering news about the war on the Home Front here in the Southwest was issued this week. A brake has been applied to rising living costs. Price control is working. For the first time since November, 1940, the periodic cost-of-living index failed to show an increase over the preceding month. In fact, the index for June shows a slight decrease from May prices. Making the announcement, officials in the Southwest region office of Price Administration gave all the credit or this initial victory to the General Maximum Price Regulation which went into effect May 18.

Nationally, a survey of prices in representative cities showed a net advance of eight-tenths of one per cent in total living costs between mid-April and mid-May, but from mid-May to the beginning of June there was a drop of one-tenth of one per cent. In Houston, food prices declined 1.2 per cent from May 15 to June 2. In Kansas City, they dropped nine-tenths of one per cent. An increase of two-tenths of one per cent was shown in St. Louis.

But, showing what was happening when the OPA ordered that prices shall not rise higher than they were in March, 1942, average living costs on June 2, 1942, were 10.8 per cent higher than they were when war broke out in Europe.

Results of the survey in the Southwest were announced by Dr. Arthur A. Smith, regional price economist of the Bureau of Labor Statistics assigned to the region OPA office at Dallas. "Assuming that this survey shows what is happening throughout all cities of the nation, there is every indication that the general maximum price regulation is having a positive effect," Dr. Smith said.

This is the first time in 19 months that an increase in living costs over the month before was not shown. Even so, one victory doesn't win a war. That goes for the Home Front the same way it does for the battle fronts where the actual fighting is being waged.

When developments showed that things are beginning to look up on the War Production Front, WPB officials cautioned that there can be no let down. Instead our efforts and our production and our sacrifices must be increased—

and increased again and again

The same caution must be voiced concerning this important fight against high prices on the Home Front: The March ceiling over prices must not be punctured. Price indexes next month, and in the other months to come for the duration must not rise.

Toward that end, the OPA reports that considerable progress is being made in its efforts to help retailers understand how to comply with the price control regulations. For two weeks the OPA has been checking on how the retailers are marking their prices on cost of living commodities, and the inspectors are reporting that on each additional day of the survey they are finding better compliance, and better understanding of the regulations than the day before.

Thousands of copies of the pamphlet, "What Every Retailer Should Know About the General Maximum Price Regulation," have been distributed, and the OPA has one for every retailer who wants to write in for it. The pamphlet will help the retailer to understand all of the things he must do in this battle against rising living costs. And with full understanding he can be the most important soldier on the Home Front.

Through price control, we have tightened our economy. We also have taken in our belts. We have determined that almost nothing which might be useful in war shall be wasted on the non-essentials of ordinary living.

Instead of waste, we must pursue conservation and salvage. We must collect our scrap metals to help feed the war furnaces, and as we have been doing for almost two weeks now, we must gather up every piece of scrap rubber so that all available can be reclaimed for war use. These efforts must continue for the duration.

In addition, as the fighting front needs more materials, the Home Front will do without more. Important developments of the week in this connection included the war notice sent to all manufacturers by the War Production Board. This notice was that all manufacturers using more than $5,000 worth of basic metals in a 90 day period will be placed under a drastic allocation program beginning July 1.

To get critical materials under their applications under the WPB Production Requirements Plan with their nearest WPB district office before July 1.

If they don't file their applications, they will find the task of obtaining materials acute and also face the necessity of stopping production. Under the allocation plan, materials will be available first for war production. Next, as long as available materials will be allocated for essential civilian uses.

Prospects are pretty dark for any use of critical materials for production of anything that won't help win the war or maintain necessary civilian services.

People have a way of saying, "I would read the Bible more except that I cannot understand it." Many Bible scholars will agree there are certain parts in the Bible whose meaning they cannot quite understand. This is no reflection on the Bible, however, but rather upon the low spiritual understanding of man. I doubt if there are any two students of the Bible who will agree completely on the interpretation of every part of the Word, but the Bible is always clear and explicit and easily understood when it tells a man what he needs to know in order to be saved. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

"There is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved," says Peter speaking of Christ. The Son of God Himself made the way of salvation perfectly plain when He said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." In those words called the heart of the Gospel (John 3:16) the way of salvation is again plainly stated. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." It is not understanding the Bible that saves man. It is trusting Christ.

Some men have not read enough of the Bible to know what it means. It is certain: when you have Christ as your Saviour, you will find a low one who reads the Book of the Bible, finds much that he does not understand. In his first letter to the Thian Church, Paul says, "preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness." The Gospel of the grace of God is a way in which the have not experienced it. It is the power of God. As of God, having experienced grace, one understands the Gospel in a way in which the never can. The Book itself speaks on this point: "But the man receiveth not the things of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he see them, because they are spiritually discerned." The man who has no personal experience with God, and who has not been beyond the grasp of God which were beyond his comprehension before he was But anyone can interpret the meaning of Scripture who Book points the way of

If You Want A Position . . .

Your Country Needs You—Business and Industry Need You

Your country needs you; business and industry want you. Why should a young person who is anxious to work—anxious to help in this emergency—wait a single day to begin the training he must have before he can be a competent helper?

We're bending every energy to the winning of the war—we're struggling for production and the struggle is equally difficult in the field of organization and management.

There is a call today for high school graduates, both men and women, for college students, for older men and women with training for business employment. We are told that only sixty per cent of the men needed for the operation of army and navy offices have been secured and the Civil Service Commission is saying every day, "We need more stenographers, more secretaries, more typists, more clerks, more machine operators." Business has been drained of much of its effective man power by military and naval enlistments and by the selective draft. Girls, women and older men are needed to take up the job of keeping the wheels of business turning.

If you are ready for employment, you will have no difficulty in finding it. If you are not, certainly you should wait no longer to make the preparation. Our courses are organized for rapid completion, and our employment department is ready to assist you in securing immediate placement in case you do not have a position in view when you are through with your course.

This message is particularly to high school graduates and to college students who want to spend their summers profitably, to older women whose husbands have gone into service, and to men who have low draft classifications. If you would like more information about how you can help win the war, write to us—or, better still, call at the school office.

Side Glances at Texas History

By Lorena Drummond
The University of Texas

The Old Time Religion

In the early days of Texas history, one of the most welcome breaks in the monotony of living was the visit of a traveling preacher, regardless of his sect or denomination.
Dr. John Washington Lockhart, a Texas pioneer, describes the religious worship in the Republic of Texas in letters published regularly in the Galveston News. The letters have since been compiled and published in book form—"Sixty Years on the Brazos"—for the family and descendants of Dr. Lockhart. A copy of the book—only 200 were printed—is in the Texas Collection of the University of Texas Library.

Dr. Lockhart described the elaborate preparations made for the coming of the preacher—the best food in the house was prepared for Sunday dinner, and the whole family dressed in their best for the service. In particular, it was a great occasion for the women of the pioneering days, who had little opportunity to wear the "best" clothes they had brought from the States.
The dress, the writer declared, was probably preserved in an old hair trunk, carefully locked against intruders. The final touch was the donning of the black silk bonnet, "with its modest crown turned high up in front, as if in a most beseeching manner asking the good Lord not to send a shower of rain whereby it might get wet and spoiled."

Religion Taken Seriously:

Conscience A Real Weapon
Religion was to be taken lightly in the days of the Republic, Dr. Lockhart said, inferring that it was taken more seriously than it was at the time he was writing—1897.
He tells the story of one good woman who, before starting to church, decided to count the money she had been accumulating in an old trunk, making sure nothing had happened to it. As coincidence would have it, the preacher chose the text, "Lay not up treasures on earth, where moth and rust corrupt, and thieves break through and steal." It was a miserable morning for the old lady, for her conscience forced her to believe that providence had directed that the preacher should speak for her especial benefit.
Services were not limited by time, either, Dr. Lockhart explained. After the preacher had made a number of routine announcements and led the congregation in a song, he led the prayer, which lasted from twenty to thirty minutes. "The good man would beseech the Almighty for everything good, and a general blotting out of the bad, usually touching on the drouths and rains and everything pertaining to the harvest, at mention of which good unctious amens would come from the good deacons and the farmers in general."

The sermon lasted for two or three hours. As would be expected, small children became restless in this length of time, and their mothers would be forced to take them out. By the time the service was ended there would be at least a half dozen women, with their children sitting on the grass outside the building.
"It must not be understood that the good old mothers, when they withdrew from the interior of the church, were out of hearing of the explanation of the gospel," Dr. Lockhart notes. "The preachers in those days had wonderful lungs and used them freely, and in the climax of a good thought would pound the Bible with their fists and stamp the floor in utter defiance of Satan and his hosts. It was generally understood that that was a cleaning up day, and that Satan and his hosts had no work to perform in or around that house."

Candidate for County Judge

Your County Government Is
As Strong As The Men You Elect To Govern It.
Please Read This Message

It Is Your Duty As a Taxpayer and Citizen To Investigate, and Vote For The Candidate Best Qualified.

TO MY FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF HASKELL COUNTY:

When making my formal announcement I courteously solicited your support. Again I most humbly solicit your vote and support. I offer you in return for this favor, my greatest effort to give you an efficient, economical, constructive, business-like administration. I will put forth every effort to direct the business affairs of Haskell County in such manner as will reflect honor and credit to the Citizenship of Haskell County.

A business of the magnitude of Haskell County's should be managed economically, efficiently and with system. The office of County Judge and Commissioners are of more importance to you, than any vote you will cast in the July Primary. The County Judge and Commissioners are the principal official connection between the citizenship and the State and Federal Governments. Your Judge is at the head of your business; he should be a man of integrity, a man with ability to organize. He should be experienced in ability to command the cooperation of the citizenship of our County; he should be experienced in business management, in business efficiency and system, he should have knowledge of accounting and budgeting. He should be capable of representing your county in all public matters, before our State departments such as Highways, Railroad Commission, Comptroller, etc. He should be familiar with, and experienced in probating wills, appointing guardians of minors, etc., granting letters of administration, settling accounts of executors, etc.

I do not feel it out of place for me to call to your mind some of the constructive accomplishments I have had a part in obtaining for Haskell County and West Texas. Believing the first 12 inches of soil is the basis for all wealth, I have never let an opportunity pass to do something constructive for the farmers. I had a part in hiring our first County and Home Demonstration Agents, which are now indispensable. When our Farm Program was first set up, West Texas, and especially Haskell County were grossly discriminated against. I had a part in cooperation with 130 West Texas Counties in having our cotton acreage, and production allowable materially increased. I have served as Red Cross Chairman a number of times; at one time I was successful in procuring two cars of seed wheat from the Red Cross, for the farmers of Haskell County without cost. I have served as County Chairman for our President's Party to raise funds to combat Infantile Paralysis, also County Chairman for U. S. O. and for China Relief. I had part in obtaining a government grant, and the building of our modern County Hospital, which has proved a success and a saving to our County. I am at this time on the executive committee of our Seymour Dam organization of the Brazos River, embracing 9 West Texas Counties. This project, when developed, will prove to be our greatest asset. . . . For 30 years I have had an active part in our County's highway building. I advocate the building of farm to market roads (when conditions permit) from the State Bond Assumption surplus fund. I advocate making all school bus routes, all weather roads.

I want to be your County Judge because I want to render that valuable service that the office of County Judge offers.

Any consideration you may give my candidacy for County Judge will be greatly appreciated, and if elected, I will try and render constructive service, and make you the kind of Judge you want and need.

Respectfully,
COURTNEY HUNT.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

MAYBE I shouldn't admit it, but there are a few things about this writing job I really like.

For instance, I like the part where . . . after all the writin' and the routine is done . . . I just set back and think about things in general. (Oh, yes, that's part of the job, too.)

Doesn't matter much what I think about. Sometimes I concentrate on one thing. Sometimes I think of lots of things, one right after the other.

Well, here I am . . . going on and on thinking and talking about beer. Probably could go on for hours. That's the way I am when I set back and get to thinking about things.

And by the way, taking it easy and "just thinkin'" is fun. Try it sometime . . . quiet and comfortable like.

LET'S MEET ON MY PORCH!

Your porch is so cool and shady that you hate to leave it? Why not invite the women you work with most closely in Red Cross or other war work to come to your house? Have the meeting on the porch—and serve an easy porch supper, or lunch, or breakfast. Women get to know each other better when they discuss their work together over the tea or coffee cups or a light lunch. And here's a suggestion for such a porch meal.

Stuffed Ham Rolls Garnished with Watercress, Radish Roses and Cheese Puffs

Tomato Biscuits Plain Biscuits Jam or Preserves Strawberry Shortcake Hot Coffee

Have the lunch ready when they arrive and serve at once.

STUFFED HAM ROLLS
(To Serve Eight)

8 slices cold boiled ham or baked ham
2 cups cooked potatoes, cubed
2 cups cooked carrots, cubed
2 cups cooked peas
1 cup diced celery
1 tsp. onion juice
4 tsp. well seasoned French dressing
½ cup mayonnaise dressing

Trim ham and twist slices into cornucopias. Mix together the potatoes, carrots, peas, celery and onion juice. Cut up any left-over bits of ham which are trimmed from the slices and add. Marinate in French dressing. Add ½ tsp. mustard to mayonnaise and mix with salad just before serving. Additional salt and dressing may be added to taste. Fill the cornucopias with salad and sprinkle with finely minced parsley. Arrange on individual serving plates, place sprigs of watercress or parsley with radish roses and black olives around for a garnish. Deviled eggs may be added, too, if desired. Have additional salad ready in a bowl to pass.

CHEESE PUFFS

2 cups grated yellow American cheese (½ lb.)
½ cup butter
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ tsp. salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Paprika

Blend grated cheese and butter together (working with spoon or fingers until mixture is smooth). Sift flour once before measuring. Add flour, salt, cayenne pepper, and Worcestershire sauce to butter and cheese mixture. Mix thoroughly. Shape into balls about the size of large marbles. Place on well-greased baking sheet. Chill until just before you want to serve them. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a hot oven, 450° F. This makes 5 dozen small puffs.

Tomato Biscuits—Add ½ cup grated cheese to dry ingredients for biscuits.

Tomato Biscuits—Use tomato juice in place of milk in making biscuits.

Vote for ARTHUR C. FOSTER for County Attorney

County Attorney Walter Murchison, Now In Army Service, Withdraws From Race For District Attorney

In a letter to The Free Press this week, County Attorney Walter Murchison, who recently volunteered as a candidate for Officers Training in the United States Army, and who is now serving as a private at Camp Walters, Mineral Wells, during his basic training period, announced that he was withdrawing from the race for District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District.

The letter announcing his withdrawal appears below:

"To The People of Haskell County: Ever since I passed my examinations for the army on April 20 I have realized that I would, in all probability find it necessary to abandon my race for the office of District Attorney of the 39th Judicial District. Today, having been formally inducted into the armed forces of the United States I take this means of formally withdrawing. "Many of my friends tried to persuade me to keep my name upon the ticket and being only human and has ever ambitious to hold the office I was often sorely tempted to do so. However, I feel that it would be asking too much to request an office I might never be able to fill and in fairness to you people who have honored me so generously and so much I have decided upon this course. "More properly I might say that I must now postpone my campaign for when these days have passed away and peace returns, I hope to renew my candidacy, not as a new candidate but as one finishing a campaign begun in 1942. "From the depth of my heart

I would thank all of you for your friendship and the generous encouragement given me, for the honor you have bestowed upon me and the cooperation you gave me as your County Attorney. Words alone can never express my gratitude for all these things. Respectfully, Pvt. Walter Murchison, Co. C 65 Inf. Training Batn. Camp Walters, Texas."

The Peace That Is To Come

While we fight a war, we must also plan for the peace that is to come. When the last shot is fired, this nation will face problems as vast, as difficult and as vital to its survival as those posed by war itself.

On the credit side, we will have a productive machine greater than that of all the rest of the world combined—a machine which will be unparalleled in efficiency as well as in size. On the debit side we will have a national debt of $200,000,000,000, and interest payments alone on that debt will amount to some $6,000,000,000 a year. That debt can be serviced, and gradually reduced, only if our national income holds to levels unknown before this war began. And such income can be secured only from private enterprise—from the earnings of industry and the individual—not from government spending.

When the war ends we will have, on the one hand a colossal bureaucracy built up during the war. We will have, on the other, the incredible resources and installed capacity developed by private enterprise. And then the great test will come. If democracy and freedom are to survive the peace of the American standard of living is to again rise to ever-greater heights, that system we call private enterprise will have to be freed of all the restraints and controls the war emergency made unavoidable.

We cannot progress in the future with a philosophy of scarcity. We cannot progress and meet our obligations if super-government is perpetuated and competes with private enterprise in many lines of endeavor. We can progress if, and only if, the enormous energies of the American people and American industry are completely released and encouraged to produce—then they can pay the needed taxes to keep this country solvent.

In a famous address, Vice-President Wallace said that the post-war era must be the era of the common man. And that can have only one meaning. It must be the era in which all men are not only permitted, but encouraged to go as far and as fast as their abilities and energies can take them, untrammelled by the dead hand of bureaucracy. It must be the era of true freedom for all people everywhere.

This country is the leader in producing for war. It must also be the leader in producing for peace. All over the world, hungry and destitute people, living in ruined lands, will want and need what our American factories can provide. The salvation of the world will lie in more trade, more production—and more free enterprise.

The problem of the debt is not simply a problem in economics. It is a problem in philosophy as well. If it is faced in the typical American manner, and all private capital is encouraged to go to work and create maximum production, it can be solved. If it is faced in the manner of the totalitarian states, and more and more power is seized by governments, accompanied by more and more power is seized by governments, accompanied by more and more public debt, leaving the people with less and less freedom of action, it can never be solved. Then we would have truly lost the war, entirely aside from the military decision reached.

After this war, free enterprise in America will be in a position to make an unprecedented contribution to the well-being of our own people and the peoples of all other lands. It will be in a position to raise the general standard of living to unprecedented heights. If we have faith in this country if we understand this country and all it stands for and all it is now fighting for that will be done.

Your Retail Store

As time goes on, your retail store will have a changed appearance. There will be less goods on the shelves in many instances. Some items will vanish altogether, and some will be extremely scarce. In time, widespread rationing of a large number of necessities may be put into effect. These are the inevitable result of war's enormous demands on America's productive resources.

But there is one thing that will not change in your retail store—and that is its management's ambition to serve you to the limit of its ability. Whether you patronize a chain store or an independent store, its policy will be guided by the competitive urge. Tomorrow, as in the past, it will be seeking ways and means to earn your patronage.

In addition, retailing is now carrying on some extremely important special activities on behalf of the consumer. It is conferring with manufacturers and others in developing suitable substitutes to take the place of priority goods and materials. In the food field, the chains and other retailers have taken the lead in promoting the National Nutrition Program—a program which is backed by the government, and whose purpose is to help build a stronger, healthier country. In every sound activity on behalf of consumer welfare, retailers are always at the forefront.

War will force immense changes in the home life of the American people. We will have to forego most luxuries, and use a minimum of many necessities. Retailing's job is to help us in making these difficult adjustments in our living standards.

Distributing The Load

The American people are at last learning one inescapable fact—everyone must help pay for this war. The old slogan, "Soak the rich", no longer has any meaning.

The next tax bill goes down into income brackets never before reached. And in the view of economists who deal with facts, not hopes, it will not be long before the people of small and modern means will have to be hit harder still. The people in the middle and high income brackets are already paying just about all the traffic will bear without total confiscation of income. We can't substantially increase taxes on industry without depriving it of the money that is vital to its progress, expansion and solvency. Nothing is left save to turn to the lower-income groups—and those groups are the groups which, for the most part, are receiving the bulk of the costly increased purchasing power resulting from war expenditures.

The annual income tax will not be adequate. Some system for collecting taxes, in part, on a monthly basis will be put into effect. Dire necessity is also likely to force the passage of a general sales tax.

This should have one good effect on the American people. It will give many of them, for the first time, a knowledge of their own stake in the government. It will prove to them that governmental spending comes out of their own pockets and is their own business. Every American, whether he earns ten or a thousand dollars a week, must join in demanding that all government non-war spending be cut to the bone—and that every frill, every luxury, every non-essential, be immediately eliminated. It is essential to curb government spending as well as personal spending, to check

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

"We must accept global planning or perish," said Dr. Charles W. Iglehart, Far Eastern counselor to the International Missionary Council, in an address at Union Theological Seminary. "We have no choice but to lift the earth's resources out of the grasp of selfish or private hands and put them in trust for all with balanced planning and equitable distribution. Our organ of finance, our systems of world trade, our management of world police, our international law, our regulation of population movements, all these and many other aspects of our complex modern living must go under planning and controls on a world scale. There is no alternative except recurring world wars."

The 30 days allowed Pres. Morgan Jones in which to give our railroad committee a definite answer as to whether or not he would extend the Wichita Valley railroad to this place having expired, he has notified the committee that he will not extend.

We understand that he bases his unexpected decision of the failure of Wichita Falls to respond to his demand for a bonus to extend the northern end of the road into the Indian Territory.

Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, dean of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. Because its own edifice was badly damaged by bombing in the early days of the war the City Temple congregation is now worshipping in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Dr. Hough has been an annual preacher in London for many years.

seven children are cared for in these centers. The Chinese government provides funds for the care of some of them; and the Church Committee or China Relief (American) assists in the support of others. A kindred organization is the Wartime Children's Protective Association, founded by Madame Chiang Kai-shek. It has gathered thousands of refugee children of the streets and roads. In eleven provinces it conducts 46 nursery schools for 7,194 children—partially supported from America.

So Take Good Care of Your Gas Equipment

Make it Last till We Win this War

Since this country has to skimp on metal household goods urge you to keep your gas equipment in first class condition.

I. ROOM HEATERS: To store for the summer, remove dust inside and out; wrap in newspaper and keep in an enclosed place.

II. RANGES: Do not let food spill over (in top cooking the simmer-burner heat prevents this; in oven-cooking, careful handling does it). Do not set hot vessels on the bare porcelain surface. (Use cork mats.) Do not use the oven to heat kitchen in cold weather (prolonged heat will cut down life of the oven walls). Do not clean up the range while enamel is warm. When it cools, remove crumbs and spill with a damp cloth. Do not over-cook foods. It means wear and tear on the range, as well as on the groceries.

III. REFRIGERATORS: Defrost regularly, and do not overload. Canned goods do not need to be stored in the refrigerator, and neither do jellies, ketchups, etc. Do not set dishes on the bare porcelain top; keep a mat on top to protect.

SPECIAL NOTICE
The Government Order freezing all types of gas heating equipment has been amended. Floor Furnaces, Gasteam Radiators, Circulators and Radiant Heaters NOW may be sold and installed for use in rooms which do not already have some type of heating equipment. Likewise, under certain conditions, you are permitted to purchase and install Gas Ranges and Gas Water Heaters. Your gas company will be pleased to advise and assist you with complete information and details.

Austin—During the first 10 days of June fishing license sales showed a gain of approximately 5 per cent over those during the same period last year.

Indicating, the Executive Secretary of the Game Department said, that at least so far Texans are going fishin', war or no war.

The war as a matter of fact has increased the desire of the outdoors-loving public to get a little relief from the high tension necessarily brought on by wartime conditions, according to reports from Game Wardens over the State. Many soldiers stationed in Texas find excellent recreation during their off hours at the old fishin' hole. And since fishing generally has been good to date it seems that Johnny Bass and Red (Eared) Bream have been trying their best to make the future fighters happy.

Factors other than the desire for recreation have contributed to the increase in fishing however.
Officials pointed out that in Texas this year there is much more fishing water available to the public, the most conspicuous example being the pride of Northwest Texas, huge Possum-Kingdom Lake located in Palo Pinto, Young and Stephens Counties.

Further, many good-sized farm and ranch ponds have recently been complete dover the State and stocked with fish, principally by the Game Department, and these ponds today support a sufficient population to justify removal of a considerable number of fish. Most of them are rewarding the anglers handsomely, Wardens report.

Another factor luring anglers to the cool waters is the fact that some chains of lakes, such as the Lower Colorado River Valley's system of Buchanan, Inks, Marshall Ford, and Tom Miller lakes are just now coming into their prime, so far as fishing is concerned. They have been scientifically stocked for several years

under the direction of the Game Department's Chief Aquatic Biologist, and the results, according to reports, are today more than pleasing to the angler.

"Fishing won't win the war," the Executive Secretary said, "but it will keep our minds and bodies healthy and clean, and more fit for the hard jobs that are still ahead."

Record Fish Fight

A. F. Pierce is a landlubber from the South Plains of Texas, where the redwing blackbird in swift flight cuts the blue horizon with bullet points of crimson wing shoulders.

But he also probably holds a record for playing a big salt water fish longer than any man who ever cast tackle into the Gulf of Mexico, according to the Harlingen Valley Star.

Using a light rod and line, he hooked the farge fish at 7:30 in the morning and skillfully played him until shortly before midnight, when his line finally snapped.

He didn't have a fish to show for his 16-hour battle, but he did have a record—and what a record!

He lives in Lubbock.

Rattler Lost Out

There are few dramatic battles in Nature that veteran Game Warden John Hearn has never seen, but he had never seen, and for long had wanted to see, a blue snake tackle a rattler. Last week it happened, reports the Cotulla Record. Hearn came upon the scene to find the blue snake had wrapped itself around the rattler and had broken its neck. The blue snake was in the act of swallowing the rattler when it was disturbed and took to cover.

You can't carve anything out of rotten wood.

Truth may be stranger than fiction, but it isn't nearly so marketable.

Uncle Sam Has More Electric Power than All these Three Together!
POWER
...after 6 months of WAR...
TALK of a "power shortage" has died down. But if an uninformed person listened to occasional blasts from socialistic individual groups in Washington, he would conclude that the future of America's war effort depends on spending more billions of tax dollars for socialized electric power projects.
The truth of the matter is just the opposite.
In fact, Adolf, Hirohito and Benito probably are spending some sleepless nights because they know that this Nation's great and growing war production must inevitably turn the tide against them.
America can do it because America has the electric power to drive the machines that make tanks, planes, ships and guns
... more power than the three unsteady dictators and all their conquered countries combined ... five times more than we had in the last war!
Companies like this, under business management, publicly owned through millions of small stockholders, and regulated by the government, are generating and distributing over 90 per cent of all the country's commercially produced electricity.
They have met war needs, plus your normal needs, with perfect efficiency.
The increase alone in power demand within the last year equalled the total output of the entire industry 25 years ago.
Electric companies absorbed this increase without undue strain. The tremendous new wartime loads were met with the industry's total generating capacity working only 50 per cent of the time.
Expansion and improvement programs are being carried on to meet the greater demands of the future.
Your attention is called to this remarkable achievement because constant socialistic political attack, over many years, hindered normal expansion.
After six months of war, it can be said that there will be no serious power shortage in this country if the government gives the electric industry the same degree of cooperation it gives to other industries on which the war effort depends.
The needed power will continue to be distributed where it's needed, when it's needed, and without added cost to the taxpayers.
The experience and training of the men and women who operate your electric company are dedicated today to making Uncle Sam so power-full that the Axis dictators soon will be nothing more than three busts in the Hall of Infamy!

Jason W. Smith Enters Assessor-Collector's Race

The Free Press is authorized this week to announce the candidacy of Jason W. Smith, local abstractor, for the office of Tax Assessor - Collector of Haskell county, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Smith is a former county official, having served for several years in the capacity of County Clerk, and is well and favorably known to a majority of the people of Haskell county. Since retiring from office he has been engaged in the abstract business in this city. At the present time he is serving a second term as a member of the City Council of Haskell.

In the interest of his candidacy, Mr. Smith states that he will endeavor to see as many voters of the county as possible before the primary election to discuss his candidacy with them personally, and in the meantime submits the following statement to the people:

"To The Citizens of Haskell County: Having filed my name as a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor - Collector of Haskell County, I wish to take the opportunity to make a formal statement through the columns of this newspaper.

"I feel that I am not a stranger to the people of this County, as most of you know that I served as your County Clerk for several years, having been retired from that office four years ago.

"In announcing for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector, I do so with the belief that I have a good working knowledge of the duties of the office, and having previously served as a public official I well know what is expected of an office holder.

"For the past three and one-half years I have been engaged in the abstract business in the town of Haskell, which work has given me the opportunity to learn the location and value of the real estate of the county.

"As you have previously expressed your confidence in me by electing me to public office, I trust that you may see fit to do so again, and, if elected, I promise you a strict business administration of a very important office.

Sincerely, JASON W. SMITH"

Fresh Foods Are Added to July Blue Stamp Food List

Three fresh fruits and Irish potatoes have been added to the list of Blue stamp foods available during July under the Food Stamp program in Haskell County, according to D. C. Guthrie, Jr., Acting Area Supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Administration. Fresh peaches, fresh plums and fresh apples are the fruits added. These together with oranges, all fresh vegetables, including Irish and sweet potatoes, and the staple foods continued on the list, will give participants a wide variety from which to select the foods they require.

Dried prunes and fresh grapefruit are the only two commodities removed from the July list. Dried prunes are being acquired for use largely by our armed forces and the season of heavy marketing of grapefruit is drawing to a close.

With these changes the complete list of Blue stamp foods issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for July 1 through July 31 in all stamp program areas is as follows: fresh peaches, plums, apples and oranges all fresh vegetables including Irish and sweet potatoes, shell eggs, enriched wheat flour, self rising flour, enriched self rising flour, and whole wheat (Graham) flour. "Farmers", Mr. Guthrie said, "are working to produce abundant quantities of all the food needed by the United Nations. The Food Stamp Program helps to assure them, particularly in seasons of heavy marketing, of a fair return for the efforts they are making. At the same time the program adds many nutritious foods to the diets of families in need."
