First Assembly Is Held In New Auditorium

When the students met their first class Wednesday morning. they didn't know there was a big surprise in store for them But soon after classes had begun, the announcement for all students and teachers to meet in the auditorium came around Many of the students burst forth into big grins and even those who hadn smiled all morning managed small one Some one suggested giving fifteen cheers, but that was quickly vetoed by the teacher A few of the students looked slight by downcast by not being asked to bring their own chairs (probably because they want to play choo-choo train in the halls) but that lasted only a few minutes.

When all the student swere seated, admiring glances were focused on the room. "Just look at that ceiling!" said one "Oh. just perfect!" sighed another. a lot bigger than it used to be. isn't it' was another comment All in all, everyone seemed very pleased with the results.

Then Mr Ramsey called for order and made a few announce ments. Dan Oates then made known some new plans made by the Student Council Also, Mr Horton gave a report on the track meet, which was very good! It seems our boys were really on their toes. After that, Mr. Ramsey displayed some books which last year's Senior Class has presented to our library. Then he announced the date of our spring holidays, and that brought to an end our first meeting in the new auditorium, and a very pleasant one it

Seniors of '41 Present Library Books

The Senior Class of '41 left money enough for their sponsor Miss Couch to purchase seven books for the new library. A section of Freshman English bought the largest students amount of defense stamps Friday, and the class of History IV came the nearest to being 100 percent purchasers.

Increased Purchase

The total sale this week about on a par with the sales of the past two weeks. The total was $72.85. This still isn't doing well as we did a few weeks, but fewer bonds are being bought now than were bought at first However, we want to raise our sales every week, if we can do so consistently. Only 37 percent of the imes last week to discuss and put students bought stamps last week and only 70 percent of the faculty. You that haven't bought any yet, can't you even "scratch up" a dime next week? Why don't we work toward 100 percent for next week, we could make it if we'd all cooperate The government urges and discussed with those students a small way.

Last Pages of Annual Sent Off

Have you noticed the calmness that has overtaken the members of the annual staff since last Wednesday? There's a reason for this-they report that the last shipment of pages was sent off on Wednesday. Not only the staff but everybody can be glad of this, because now we have only to wait for the publishers to finish their work before we have this "long awaited" annual, the University each year for senio Exactly how long it will be is several weeks yet And by the way, students have you bought your annual yet? As you know there's only a limited number left, so you'd better hurry. If you don't get one, "You're gonna be sorry!"

Sports Roundup

Last Saturday a county volley ball tournament was held in our gym Our team-composed of Billie Jack Speer, Janet Viney, Rachel Carr. Mary Jo Zelisko, Onella Moore and Kathleen Davis — was unfortunate in that it lost its first two games; both by narrow mar-gins. Weinert was the winner of the tournament.

Also Saturday tennis tourna-ments were held in Rule and Sagerton. At Rule our senior players came a very impressive showing Garene won second place in girls' singles, Roy McClintock won second in boys' singles, and Dan Mc-Clintock and Wallace Johnson won first in boys' doubles. We were not represented in the girls' doubles class.

At Sagerton, although the junior boys didn't win any places, they made a very good showing. There were no girl representatives in the junior group from here.

RUBY ANDERSON Ruby, one of our prettiest blondes came to us from Rochester. Before entering school there, she attended Old Glory schools She is best known around the campus for her winning personality and good looks. Ruby plays baseball like an expert and is a very good student. She was a member of the pep squad at least one year and likes football very much. Of course, she has her reasons, just as the rest of us do.

She has some very good ambitions and we sincerely wish you the best of luck in trying to fulfill them

Ruby is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson.

DESMOND ALLISON

Our tall, dark and handsome lad, Desmond Allison, graduated at mid term, but we still count him one of us. He plans to get his diploma with us so for that reason, he is one of us.

Desmond was president of his class two years and was vicepresident when he graduated at mid-term. Perhaps, we may call him our "Dizzy Dean" because he played baseball like one. He also played football, and as you would expect is very friendly.

Desmond is now working in the Watson Drug Store and seems to be making good. He knows we al-ways wish the best for him.

Desmond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allison of Rule.

More Young People Needed to Help in

National Defense

There is an urgent need for more young people to aid in National Defense.

They are needed by business and government-in the executive departments.

They are needed to fill the vacancies created by those who have been called to the colors, and the thousands yet to be called. They are needed for new places that have been created by the defense effort, The call is urgent It is nation-wide. It is for men and women.

In a recent bulletin received by business schools the United States Civil Service Commission said that many "are prone to think of National Defense in terms of soldiers, sailers and marines. There are many types of defense work behind the lines."

A large number are now in duty in Goverrment Service assisting "thousands of executives and administrators. Thousands more

Business Schools Asked To Co-operate

Business schools were urged to encourage more young people to prepare for employ-ment in the Executive Branch of Government. Other governmental agencies have requested the country's educational institutions to streamline their courses to meet the exigencies of war.

Executive Training Posts

These positions are executive and administrative training posts. They offer a twofold opportunity

They offer to patriotic young men and women an opportunity to be of constructive service in the present emergency

They offer an opportunity to lay the foundation for successful careers in business

They lead to permanent, stabilized employment with security after the present emergency has passed.

Trained Office Personnel

The present urgent demand is for young men and young women who have been trained as secretaries, accountants, stenographers, bookkeepers, operators of office machinesgeneral office assistants

This training has always helped talented and ambitious young men and women to important and responsible positions. In The Military, Too

The country's armed forces need business-trained young men, too. In the army, navy, marine and flying corps there are places for young men as assistants to officers, for auditing, accounting, checking statistical and clerical work in the Quartermaster's, Finance, Procurement Divisions and others

Those who enter the country's armed forces with this training beforehand will have an advantage in qualifying for rating as specialists with extra pay allowances of $3.00 to $30.00 a month; and for non-commissioned officerships paying from $42.00 to $157.50 a

How You Can Help

Young men and young women who desire to aid in National Defense; those who are interested in employment leading to careers; young men who expect to be called for service and who desire to improve their rating; those under age and those not able to meet the military's physical requirements - all can take an important and constructive part in the present defense effort with profit to themselves and their country.

Courses To Meet Your Needs

Some of our courses have been condensed to meet the needs of war. Others are more comprehensive. All prepare for service with opportunity. Whatever your training requirements, we are prepared to serve you promptly, efficiently and at low cost. Your services are needed. Will you help?

Burlesque On Freedom

The Memphis Commercial-Appeal recently published a letter by a World War veteran whose only son is now serving in the Marines. In part, it says: "How can fathers and mothers of boys who are in the danger zone and who are being called upon to sacrifice their lives, feel any 'surge' of unity when the President and Congress permit a bunch of shipbuilders and munitions workers to quit whe they get good and ready? Do our boys at the front get 'overtime' and 'double time' in the fox holes of the Philippines? Do our sons who are giving their lives to protect the jobs of these and others like them (workers at home) quit on holidays? Is it the idea of our government that it is more important to preserve labor unions than it is to preserve the American Union? Why can't a free-born American citizen get a job in a plant without having to pay tribute to a high-powered labor leader?"

Donald M Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board, declares that the country's output of military supplies can be doubled if existing war production machinery is used 24 hours a day seven days a week

He said unless production is brought to victorious levels, 'we shall burn in the flames of a public wrath so intense that in its heat it might consume the very standards we have set for free men to

Every man who deliberately shuts off desperately needed supplies while his brother fights to preserve the country, has blood on his hands

Disrupting Jap Supply Lines

The first step which must be taken in carrying the war to Japan is an obvious one-to disrupt and to break the long-extended Napponese supply lines. Hundreds and in some cases thousands of miles of water he between Japanese bases and areas she has conquered Her life line consists of her merchant fleet and naval convoys. So long as she has enough protected tonnage to carry the immense quantitles of supplies needed by her expeditionary forces, she will hold the upper hand. Once substantial inroads are made into her transport and fighting fleets she will have to battle against steadily mounting odds. And the farther she goes across the wide Pacific, the more shipping she will require

Therefore, there is encouragement in the casualties our military forces and those of other United Nations have been inflicting on Japanese shipping Much of this news has never made the headof Japan's success in taking and mopping up Pacific positions. the long run, will do much to determine the outcome of the war As Paul Mallon puls it, "Day by day, in every way our Navy and Army have been pecking away, mainly at the indispensable but unspectacular phase of the Jap attack-the transport, supply and tanker ships and their convoy

The toll of Japanese losses is impressive. Up to March 19, the United Nations officially reported the sinking of 110 supply ships and damaging of 54, or a total of 164 put out of action. That, according to the most reliable estimates, is in excess of 20 percent of all Japanese shipping which can be used for supply purposes.

The United Nations further reported the destruction of 17 Jap cruisers, along with 27 sent to the bottom. And so have three aircraft carriers.

The United Nations' ship losses have, of course also been great But the military importance of such losses can only be judged in the light of replacement capacity. According to Mr. Mallon, Japan's merchant shipbuilding capacity is 300,000 to 400,-000 gross tons per year. We will build in the neighborhood of 6,000,000 gross tons this year and almost twice as much next year.

This does not mean that we should run the danger of minimizing Japan's existing fighting was being spread and coffee prefleet and merchant navy. Her main battle fleet has not yet been in evidence in this war, and is perhaps being held in reserve for a major engagement. It is likely that she has more fighting craft than officiating and the audience sang components and proportional parts used to be generally believed—there is certainly no reason for thinking that she carried out her part of the naval limitation agreements which she and all other naval powers signed back in the '20s. ing was led by Mr. John Minton What this does mean is that unless all authorities are wrong Japan does not possess a ship replacement capacity in any way comparable to ours. Japan probably spent twenty years preparing for this war, and she had a big edge at the start. Our job is to overcome that edge.

The Gasoline Situation

The country has now had examples of the wrong and the right way to handle the so-called 'gasoline shortage" problem.

The wrong way was tried briefly some months ago along the Atlantic Seaboard. Apparently working with insufficient or inaccurate information, the government suddenly imposed "curfews" on service stations, and it was generally believed that rationing would follow. Then it was found that gasoline stocks are above normal in the area, and that all this was premature. The public had been legal way. The proceedings were numbers. Incidentally Mr. Chavez unnecessarily inconvenienced and confused.

The right method to meet a gasoline emergency is now being put into effect in the Pacific as the Judge Presiding. In the Northwest and parts of the East. The public has session following. Mrs. Pauline gathering in front of the church been shown that lack of tankers makes normal deliveries of gas impossible to those areas. It was not Herren as a Texas Ranger opened confused by conflicting statements. Deliveries to service stations have been reduced. A gas rationing lie Chapman and Dennis Ratliff system will be started The public has accepted served as attorneys respectively these restrictions willingly.

Many tankers have been destroyed; many more have been transferred to our Allies and many more are being used by our own military forces.

In parts of the country where pipe lines, railoads and trucks have been the main source of signed and sealed, certifying his transportation, the situation is entirely different There is no need for rationing there and government agencies are cooperating to keep the wheels

It is an art, and for it men have to be specially selected and must undergo weeks of constant, careful training. The job is usually that of the observer to whom is also entrusted the task of navigating the ship. Why All Farmers Should Plant Their Full Allotted Cotton Acreage

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has called upon the cotton growers to plant their full cotton acreage allotment-4,000,000 acres more cotton than was planted last season, becuase the United States season, because the United States of cotton and cottonseed. Many farmers underplant their allotment from 1 to 3 acres, figuring that this small reduction does not amount to anything. Now figure this in a County where there are 2,000 farms each farmer underplanting his allotment 2 acres, makes a total of 4,000 acres in the County. If the cotton produces one-half bale per acre that means 2,000 bales of under-production

Out of this 2,000 bales of cotton there would be produced 800 tons of cottonseed

From this 800 tons of cottonseed there would be produced 200 bales of cotton linters for munitions; 240,000 pounds of cottonseed oil (4 tank carloads) for food; 360 tons of 43 percent protein cottonseed cake and mean for livestock feed; 200 tons of cottonseed hulls for livestock feed.

Now multiply this by all the counties in Texas that produce SHIRTING-Good heavy material cotton, Of course, many of them do not have as many as 2,000; farms that plant cotton, but many of them have more than 2,000 farms with cotton planted on Notice is hereby given that bids them. Anyway you can see that enient place during the annual farm increase when it is all addwill be needed, since as of next All bids must be sealed and in August 1st there will only be a carryover of 10 million bales of cotton May we urge every farmer to give serious consideration and plant his full cotton acreage allotment, which will be a great assistance to the National Defense.
