Map Shows Territory To Be Served By Water Facilities Project

The California Creek water facilities project which will be operated to assist farmers of the California Creek watershed area in the development of water supplies on farm and range lands is one of 38 such projects approved by the Water Facilities Board in Washington for operations in 17 western states. Paul Walsler, state coordinator for the Soil Conservation Service in Texas announced today.

Mr. Walsler announced that plans have now been completed to assist farmers living within the 700,000-acre watershed in the northern half of Jones County, the southern half of Haskell County and parts of Fisher and Throckmorton Counties, in the installation or construction of stock ponds, farm water storage reservoirs, wells, water spreaders, small garden irrigation systems and windmills or pumps. Headquarters for the project have been established at Stamford.

The water facilities program in Texas is a cooperative enterprise, being carried on jointly by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Farm Security Administration and the Soil Conservation Service.

Under provisions of the Department of Agriculture water facilities program, the Soil Conservation Service is given general responsibility for the operations phase of the program, especially in working out plan for water facilities with the farmer and in supervising the construction or installation of water facilities. The Farm Security Administration is responsible for financing the program for individual farmers and in assisting in the preparation of a farm plan. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is charged with overall planning for designated agricultural areas.

Work on individual farms will be financed through loans made to the land operators by the Farm Security Administration. Funds thus advanced may be used by the farmer to meet costs of installation of the facilities. The farmers will not be required to pay for planning or other technical assistance furnished. The loans will be made at three per cent interest and may extend for the life of the structure, but in no case for more than 20 years.

Farmers and ranchers must agree to furnish as much as possible of the necessary labor and materials needed to install or to construct a water facility. They also must adopt a sound farm or range management plan worked out in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service and the Farm Security Administration. Such plans will provide for the use of a complete and coordinated soil and water conservation farming system and a crop production program which will provide living expenses, operating costs and loan payments as well as subsistence crops to furnish food and feed for family and livestock.

In announcing the approval of the projects from Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace stated that "the program is an outgrowth of the report made by the President's Great Plains Committee in 1936. This report recommended the development of small water facilities in arid and semi-arid sections as a means of promoting better land use and assisting in the self-rehabilitation of distressed farm families."

It was pointed out that the addition of certain installations to supply water for farming needs will make it possible for many farmers who are now unable to profitably operate their land to make a success of their operations.

Applications for water facilities work may be made to any county agricultural agent, rehabilitation supervisor or member of the Soil Conservation Service.

Scouting Scandal
 The out-of-town girls certainly do have a drawing power. One boy was in such a rush to see his girl at the Anson-Stamford football game that the result was a ticket for speeding; but he told me that it was worth it.
 Say, have you heard? Well, the water boy told me that he was beating the fullback's time with the little freshman girl—and after she gave the fullback a birthday present ahead of time, too.
 The closest that an Indian has come to getting scalped was last week when Ray Buford was thrown through the car glass in a wreck.
 By the way, were you chased by the police several nights ago and did you hide behind a farmer's house, and did they pass by and come back and search your car and ask if you came from Anson, and then let you go? Were you scared, Butch?

Dramatic Club Gives Program

The Dramatics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Kaigler gave the assembly program Friday afternoon. One of the outstanding features, showing how quickly gossip can spread and get tangled up, was vividly portrayed in a skit called "Gossip" by Eloise Koonce, Jeffie Maud Tolliver, Janelle Warren and Josephine Parish.
 The other parts of the program consisted of individual readings, November 23, 1938.

Can We Beat Stamford?

Eula Faye Glass—The game should be ours and I think we can win if we have right spirit—and then we'll make that trip to Crowell and win.
 Joe Maples—I've wanted Haskell to win this district ever since I've been in high school, and they have never succeeded, but I feel sure they will this year.
 Mary Beth Menefee (Watch "77")—I think Haskell can win this district this year, because we have a better football club.
 Paul Crawford—The game will undoubtedly be one of our hardest; but with the backing of Haskell in its entirety, I believe the Indians will be the best team on the field.
 Mary Jo Free—As some one has already said, the game should be ours, I think, because every one is in the right spirit, and we must win this district.
 Paul Roberts—If the Indians play as good a game as they did against Anson, we'll be the best.

Indians Ready For Bulldogs

After a long week of hard practice the Haskell Indians go into the last three days before they play on Turkey Day. As everyone knows, this game tells the tale. We are starting in this week with our hopes still high to win championship honors.
 The team and the student body are all ready to have Bulldog meat on Turkey Day instead of turkey. Nearly all the injured on the Indians team are well, and ready to go.

 The little boy I "claimed" passed my desk and I punched him. The next thing I knew I was standing my back toward the class in a corner.
 One day we decided to quit fighting, so we went a whole week without having a fight; then one day a boy offered me a pen point and a stick of a pencil to beat the "dickens" out of this boy and our record was broken.
 In that same year my grandmother passed from invalid life to her reward, and I was left to the mercy of my parents for life.
 During that time two main events happened in my life. One was being crowned May Queen, and the other was being the bride in a Tom Thumb wedding.

Are You A Sponger?

Are you a sponger? A sponger is the lowest type of life next to the slimy worm that lives under rocks and old boards. Someone who slides along on other people's steam. Someone who borrows other people's brains and time. The person who does your lessons for you day after day thinks you're a sponger—a nuisance—and a thief as well.
 You'd be surprised at all the cheating that's being done in our school. The nicer a student is the more adept he seems to be at smuggling the answers over someone's shoulder. The busier he is trying to be president of student government, the less time he has for studying and the more time he spends on sponging.
 Maybe Joan does translate all your Spanish lessons for you. The result is that she can talk or read Spanish like a Spaniard—you can't. Ellen can write your book reports—she reads books; but you are going to find yourself lacking in literature some day.
 What are you getting out of school that will benefit you when you have finished? Well, you know the things your diploma stands for? Will you deserve your diploma or will the one who did your studying deserve two? You won't know much if someone else does your studying!

Homemakers Attend Rally at Rule

The Future Homemakers and sponsor Mrs. Meyer attended a district rally Saturday November 19 at Rule.
 When we first arrived we were entertained by a group of volunteer numbers. The pastor of the First Baptist Church gave the welcome next. Then reports were heard from each club.
 At noon most of the members enjoyed lunch served in the gym. After dinner there was an amateur contest and we are very happy that our contestant, Betty Ruth Blake, won second place.
 I think every girl knows how to write her name by now for having signed so many autograph souvenirs.

Let Us Be Thankful for the Privilege of Living Electrically

Thanksgiving

1620 They cooked a turkey before a blazing hearth fire.
 They baked in a dutch oven.
 They dipped candles, had flickering light.
 They spun, wove and sewed cloth by hand.
 They spent weary hours cleaning house.
 They chopped ice in rivers and lakes.
 They didn't have it so easy.
 They would have been thankful for all the electric servants we now have.

1938 We depend on an automatic electric range to cook the turkey.
 We use controlled electric heat.
 We flip a switch, get a flood of good light.
 We use electric looms, electric sewing machines.
 We use electric vacuum cleaners, save time.
 We have electric refrigeration.
 We have it a thousand times easier.
 We are thankful to live in an age when Electric Service is plentiful—and costs so little.

Why Worry—It May Never Happen

(By R. L. Thornton, President Mercantile National Bank, Dallas)

We have all heard over and over again that the thing you worry most about and try to hedge against hardly ever happens. The things that have brought the greatest fortunes on the other, have all arisen from circumstances which I did not know about, could not hedge against and, therefore, had not the fine opportunity to do a lot of worrying about.

Take, for instance, the ponderous scare the whole world had only a few weeks ago over the inglorious prospect there was for war; what avail was there for you or me to worry, worry, worry about whether we were going to have war? As much as we would want to prevent it, what in the Sam Hill could we do about it? Most certainly I did have a very great care about it and had considerable concern about the final outcome and agreement reached by the high spokesmen representing four great powers that govern 400,000,000 people, but again, what could I do about it? Why worry about things over which we have not even the slightest fraction of control, such as war, markets, crop production, sunshine, rain and such?

to which we are supposed to devote a certain number of hours will fare better if we report on or before time with a purpose to do the things before us unafraid, unperturbed, calmly and without worry. If you want to get overdrawn on your energy, just start worrying.

Worry is a kind of a termite. It eats away at your very foundation. It digs and gouges at your vitality while you are usually unaware and when the old frame begins to sag, lean and creak under such disintegration, it is then a little late and very difficult to prop up or make satisfactory repairs.

"My tellers have told me that often they cash certain out-of-town checks in an off-guard way for strange people and no sooner than they had handed over the money, they began worrying, even lie awake at night counting the outstanding days against the time they would know the fate of such items and candidly they say they never have any trouble with the transactions that caused them the most worry. . . . It's these old-time buddies and cronies who come up kinder side-wise to the window in a 'double-second cousin' manner who slip it to them. . . . They mumble softly through their tonsils and get a 'V' on a check that comes back with a little white sticker on one end.

I am told that some insurance companies in computing their mortality rate take into consideration the fact whether one worries or works. The reasoning being that if the applicant worries, there is a definite shortening of his expectancy; while on the other hand if he works ever so much his expectancy is thereby lengthened for several reasons the best of which is he hasn't time to worry.

I know a case where a man began to worry about losing his job. . . . He worried and worried. According to the actual facts in the case as revealed later, he had not the slightest chance of losing his job, but he did; because his constant worry rendered him inefficient mentally and physically so much so that he was unable to perform his duties.

A business man of much means and ability told me he had been worrying so much recently that about two weeks ago he found himself home sick and unfit to manage his affairs. Suddenly, he caught hold of himself, ceased his worry and stood in my office only a week later, a fit man to manage his prosperous business. Good health and the pleasure it affords are too precious to lose them both at the same time worrying.

So, why worry about the outcome of things beyond your control, such as the weather, markets, personal fortune, social standing, dominance, power, immense wealth or big business?

You can't take it with you! After hunting for each other for 12 years, Charles and Lawrence Tolhurst, brothers, were reunited in a hospital in Sydney, Australia.

A man wrote Sheriff M. L. Seils of Sioux Falls, S. D. that he wanted his wife back, but he wouldn't pay her fare back home because he thought it the duty of the man she ran away with to bear the expense.

Thanksgiving Holidays

The students of Paint Creek Rural School are expecting to have a good Thanksgiving. Although this is six weeks exam week it has very little effect on their joyous holiday spirits. Many of the students will spend the holidays visiting relatives and friends and will probably come home sick from eating too much turkey. Other students plan to attend the football game between Haskell and Stamford. All will come back happy and ready to begin another week of school.

Guess Who

The answers to last week's Guess Who

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 24, 25 and 26 years ago.

20 Years Ago—Nov. 23, 1918 Tom Davis of Camp Travis is in the city this week on business. Mr. Davis was formerly County Attorney but resigned his office to enter the service.

J. U. Fields left Thursday for Fort Worth where he was called to the bedside of his wife, who was stricken with an attack of influenza while visiting in that city.

The Haskell High School football team defeated the Stamford squad last Friday 38-0 in a game played in Stamford.

The War Work campaign committee for Haskell county announces that there has been a little more than $3,500 subscribed to the fund in this county. This is indeed a good showing when it is taken into consideration that less than 200 bales of cotton has been raised in the county this year, and practically no feed, while normally the county produces from 30,000 to 40,000 bales of cotton annually.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Williams left this week for Cisco, where they will make their future home. Mr. Williams has accepted a position with The Texas Oil Company in that city.

W. M. Reid made a business trip to Dallas this week, returning Wednesday. Mr. O. V. Payne assisted at the drug store during Mr. Reid's absence.

Rev. J. P. Patterson, the new Methodist minister, preached his first sermon here Sunday evening. The other churches of the town dismissed their evening services and joined the Methodist congregation in welcoming Rev. Patterson to Haskell.

A report was received in Haskell today that gas had been struck in the oil test drilling near Monday, at a depth of 1100 feet. Estimates of the gas flow range as high as one million cubic feet near to Haskell, the Kouri well on the Ballard Ranch east of town has drilled to 740 feet, with operators optimistic in regard to formations found to this depth.

30 Years Ago—Nov. 21, 1908 On last Tuesday Messrs. G. T. McCulloch, N. McNeill, J. F. Pinkerton, J. J. Stein and T. A. Pinkerton and Dr. W. A. Kimbrough loaded their camping equipment into Mr. Stein's automobile and left for the shinnery in Stonewall county for a several day's bird hunt.

H. B. Bruce W. Bryant, the newly-elected county attorney, has returned from a business trip to Sherman.

Last Saturday evening there assembled at the home of Elsie Tyson a group of little girls to celebrate her eleventh birthday. They had a good time playing "Wolf Over the River", jumping the rope and getting riddles out of starch books.

Rev. C. B. Meador has been returned by the conference to the Methodist pastorate here for the ensuing year, and will hold his regular service at the church Sunday

"Every Winter had Terrible Colds" Nurse's Grateful Letter "I want to thank you for the cough and cold medicine, BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE. I bought the best bottle I saw, for the old gentleman whom I am taking care of, for he had had terrible colds every winter. The first dose helped, and after the third dose cold was gone. It does such quick work." Mrs. C. Davis.

Don't take chances, for even the most stubborn, racking cough swiftly yields to the powerful influence of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE (triple action), the largest selling medicine for cough, cold and bronchitis in all of our country. Get a small bottle. Any druggist anywhere. But don't forget the name!

Who were Jerry Gipson, Francis Larned, and Lorena Rose. A certain junior at Paint Creek High School has reddish-brown hair and green eyes. It seems as though she just can't go to school a half a day without getting into some kind of mischief. She is very popular with the junior boys and one of them has her monopolized. I wonder who he is? I wonder who she is?

There is another junior at Paint Creek High that has brown hair, and brown eyes. She has a very bad habit of taking a little round mirror and looking at all of the boys. I wonder why. She has many favorite foods so I won't mention any of them. Her favorite radio program is One Man's Family. Her favorite actress is Alice Faye. Her favorite actor is Gene Autry. I wonder who she is?

Peacock Wins in Last Game of Season Our last football game of the season was played at Peacock on Friday November 18. Peacock led with a score of 36-14. With this year's football season as history, let us profit by our mistakes. In turn look into the future with assurance of a leading team next year.

Senior Rings Received Monday On Monday morning, November 22 at 9:00 o'clock, the senior class of Paint Creek High School were presented with the dearest and most prized high school token that can be offered, beautiful rings. The rings were selected from a large number of very beautiful ones. They are solid gold with a Pirate engraved on the sides. The school initials P. C. are indeed very attractive on the top of the ring.

What Now Just wait until Mary comes back to school, Jiggs. Lorena enjoys going to school these days. Ruby Mae seems to be having a good time lately. I wonder why Jerry wasn't at home last Thursday night. Lavada's dark curly hair and soft smooth complexion seems to attract attention.

Elvis is a certain girl's football star. Ray Jr. is wearing bright colors today. I wonder why? Frances is just beginning to get into mischief. Why does Mr. E. Harris grin so much? Jack Lane please don't tear covers off your books. Mr. Boyd will have to see about that.

Willie Lee is the gentleman in blue today instead of the lady in blue. June is studying real hard today. I wonder why. Did Durwood find Edith Saturday night. Oh! Leota be quiet, and please don't wiggle your feet so much.

Paint Creek High School Boys Start Basketball Since the football season is over the boys are very anxious to begin basketball practice. There is very good material for basketball and the boys are expecting to have one of the best basketball teams in Haskell county. Although the boys have not had any practice this year they already have a game matched. It is to be played with Sagerton at Paint Creek on November 29. The boys are anxious for that time to come so they will get to try out their new basketball suits. Although Paint Creek didn't win much in football just watch them win in basketball.

Elder E. A. Findley of Fort Towson, Okla., will preach at the Church of Christ Sunday Nov. 29. The church contemplates calling him to the work in Haskell.

40 Years Ago—Nov. 26, 1898 W. R. Stander left Thursday for Arkansas with a bunch of horses. J. N. Ellis has purchased an interest in the meat market with Mr. McCrary.

T. J. Lemmon is acting as cattle inspector on the quarantine line, stationed at Seymour. Jim Pratt got back this week from Amarillo, where he has been employed.

A fair-sized blizzard came down upon this section Sunday night and by Monday morning the temperature was down to about 16, the lowest it has gone this winter. All the past week has been cold, with one or two attempts to rain. A light sleet and snow fell Friday morning, but melted about as fast as it fell.

J. L. Jones had a couple of turkeys who evidently held Thanksgiving Day in great dread, as a day or two before Thanksgiving arrived they committed suicide in a tank of water.

T. P. Martin and family moved this week to Scurry county in order to live near Mr. Martin's father.

Rev. W. S. Rogers preached an interesting and instructive sermon at the Baptist Church on Thanksgiving Day to a large and appreciative audience. It was at 11 a. m. and the pupils of the public schools attended in a body.

We notice in the Dallas News' report of the N. W. Texas Conference at Brownwood, Rev. M. L. Moody has been returned to the pastorate of the Methodist Church at this place.

300 acres of land out of and part of Archibald Richie Survey No. 119 abstract No. 353 patented Archibald Richie Sept. 25, 1857, by Pat. No. 791, Vol. 12, situated about 3 miles north of the City of Haskell and most generally known as the W. B. Taysman Farm, and being a deed from O. A. Light to O. F. Harlan and W. B. And in compliance with Law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Haskell Free Press, a newspaper published in Haskell County, Texas. Witness my hand, this 5th day of November 1938. GILES KEMP, Sheriff Haskell County, Texas. By Mrs. Pauline Kieke, Deputy.

TEXAS' RICHEST HARVEST

From the Panhandle to the Rio Grande, from the Sabine to the New Mexican border, Texas abounds in oil. It is the largest single "money-crop" in the state. Oil pays Texas a revenue of well over $600,000,000 per year, exclusive of the 50-odd million dollars of state and federal taxes. This huge figure includes over $200,000,000 for materials, supplies and service; about the same amount for salaries and wages; about $20,000,000 for lease rentals; about twice that much for lease bonuses; some 30 to 40 million dollars for royalties; and the balance in state and county taxes.

The Humble Company has been privileged to participate in the development of this Texas industry. During 1937, Humble produced approximately 138,000 barrels of Texas oil per day; it bought from other producers and royalty owners approximately 229,000 barrels per day, sending a total of 367,000 barrels to the markets of the world—more than 25 per cent of Texas' total daily production.

The Company provides direct employment for approximately 14,000 Texans. So it realizes what this oil business means to Texas—and what Texas means to the oil business. The appreciation of this fact stands behind the unequalled service the Texas motorist finds in Humble Service Stations.

Largest Enrollment In History of H-SU Reported This Year

Hardin-Simmons University, at Abilene, founded in 1891, has an increased enrollment for its forty-seventh year, recently begun. The freshman class is the largest in H-SU history, said Dr. J. D. Sanderfer, dean of senior college and university heads in Texas, who is beginning his thirteenth year as president at Hardin-Simmons.

The student body enrollment includes undergraduates from 105 Texas counties, thirteen states, and the foreign countries of Mexico and Brazil. Taylor County, with Abilene as county seat, leads with 266 students.

Enumerated by classes, students at H-SU this year from Haskell County are: Frances Fouts, freshman, Haskell; John McGuire, freshman, Weinert; Helen Lucille Thomas, freshman, Weinert; Robert W. Thompson, freshman, Haskell; Anita Jo Simmons, freshman, Haskell; Mattie Ruth Riddle, special, Rochester; Joyce Alene Johnston, sophomore, O'Brien.

Miss Simmons has recently been elected freshman favorite and Robert Thompson, as a member of the H-SU freshman football squad, is seeing considerable service playing center for the eleven.

Housewives Here In Drive Against Consumers Taxes

Mrs. Kenneth Thornton of Haskell, today was named chairman of a local unit of the National Consumers Tax Commission as women here moved to join the commission's nation-wide crusade against taxes that penalize the consumer.

Mrs. Thornton's appointment was announced from the commission's national headquarters in Chicago. The new chairman is also president of Haskell Parent-Teacher Association.

The commission is described as a non-political organization conducting a drive by housewives of the nation against hidden and direct taxes that add to the burden of the consumer by increasing prices.

The drive is led in Texas by Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, of Dallas, commission president, and Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, Texas, member of the organization's national committee.

"The commission is glad to have Mrs. Thornton among the leaders of this needed movement," Mrs. Taylor said, in welcoming the new chairman. "Already hundreds of girls in many states are active in this educational drive on taxes that raise the cost of living for all of us."

"Most people pay hidden taxes without knowing it, and it's little wonder family budgets are strained when, for example, the commission's research department finds hidden taxes add 11 cents to a 29-cent purchase of meat, $10 to every $30 of rent, $1.95 to a $5 hat and $1.56 to a $4 pair of shoes."

A series of study programs will be arranged for members through which to inform mission families of their tax burden, Mrs. Taylor said.

Domestic Allotment Plan Would Solve Our Cotton Problem

By J. E. McDONALD, Commissioner of Agriculture, State of Texas

The five agricultural objectives of the Roosevelt Administration, as announced in 1933, were Production Adjustment, Crop Insurance, Ever Normal Granary, Soil Conservation and Parity Price. These objectives were sound and desirable in 1933 and are just as sound and desirable today.

During the past five years Congress has passed agricultural laws and appropriated huge sums of money in order that Secretary Wallace, through the administration of these laws and the spending of these huge sums of money, might meet the five agricultural objectives above mentioned. The result is that today the purchasing power of the wheat and cotton farmers is at the lowest ebb in the history of our nation, and they are facing farm mortgage foreclosures.

Five years is long enough to follow the present Federal agricultural programs, proposing to give prosperity through a policy of scarcity. Water just does not run up hill, neither do economic laws change to meet the fancy of brain-trusters. The present Federal agricultural program is forcing American agriculture into a state of peasantry such as has come to some of the older nations. It is destroying farmer initiative, placing thousands of cotton farmers on the relief rolls, destroying cotton farm values and surrendering foreign markets, through crop restriction and government loans to hold up the price.

The present Federal agricultural measure must be repealed at the next session of Congress and replaced with the Domestic Allotment Plan, which if adopted and wisely administered would allot to each farmer his fair share in the American market, upon which portion he would get a parity price or a price on the level with the tariff-protected things he buys. Then he would leave each farmer to be his own judge as to how much he produced in excess of his allotment to sell in foreign markets. This would be extending to the industry of agriculture protection and benefits such as the tariff laws afford manufacturers.

The Domestic Allotment Plan adopted and wisely administered would meet, in a practical manner, the five objectives of the Roosevelt Administration as announced in 1933 and above referred to in this article.

The farm problem is no longer merely a farmer's problem, it is a national problem which must have the sincere attention of those engaged in other American industries if we are to avert an economic crisis.

Every ginmer, oil mill man, merchant, banker, compress man, railroad executive and professional man interested in the welfare of our nation should join the farmers in demanding that the Congress at its next session, give agriculture a constructive and enduring measure.

The one greatest potential market for cotton is the cotton farmers themselves, for few cotton farmers have an adequate supply of cotton clothing or cotton supplies for their families and homes.

Under the Domestic Allotment Plan and parity prices for that portion of the farmer's cotton domestically consumed he would have purchasing power, and it is my firm opinion that if the Domestic Allotment Plan were adopted and wisely administered, within three years we would be consuming 10 or 12 million bales of cotton annually in this country, and this amount of cotton domestically consumed at parity price, and the farmer left free to produce any amount he desired in excess of his allotment, would provide means by which the farmer could bring prosperity to the entire nation.

Let's abandon the present fool agricultural measure before it further destroys us. Let our slogan be: "American Markets for the American Farmer; Tariffs for All or Tariffs for None."

Building Permits Since January 1st Amount to $67,290

Building permits for the first ten months of the year reveal total expenditures and work now under construction to the extent of $67,290, a check of building permits issued by City Secretary Coburn reveals. Thirty-three building or repair projects account for this total, largest unit of which is the County Hospital now under construction at an estimated cost of $48,500.

Only two permits were issued during the past month, one covering the expenditure of $600 for repairs to residence, and the second for $300 for the erection of a small frame residence.

Volume of building as indicated by the permits issued does not embrace more than seventy-five per cent of construction and repair work done within the city since the first of the year, according to local lumber dealers and contractor. They point out that numerous repair projects and several new residences have been erected for which owners failed to file a report of expenditures involved.
