WORK STARTED ON SIMPLIFIED FARM PROGRAM FOR '39

With Texas Agricultural Conservation Association committee and state AAA workers back to their Texas A. and M. College headquarters at College Station after a regional conference in Ft. Worth, field men went to work this week on a simplified farm program for 1939.

Chairman George Slaughter of the state committee said the bulk of 1939 cotton acreage allotments will be calculated and sent to farmers by December 1, well ahead of planting time, and in broad contrast to the situation which aroused criticism last year.

Because of late amendments to the farm act of 1938, allotments this past spring could not be calculated until April 7, or after most Texas cotton had been planted, Slaughter observed.

Mr. Field was accompanied on the trip by his son, Menard Field of South Plains, Texas, and a group of Lubbock portmen. Each member of the party secured a nice specimen, Mr. Field reported.

Visiting Bands and Out-of-Town Delegations Are Added Feature

The season's first "norther" with its accompanying sharp drop in temperature failed to discourage attendance on opening day of the fourteenth annual Central West Texas Fair Wednesday. Hours in advance of the opening parade scheduled at 1 o'clock, all available space around the square had been taken by cars whose occupants were anxious to secure a vantage view point for the spectacle. By 1 o'clock, throngs of visitors lined all sides of the square, estimated as one of the largest gatherings ever attracted on opening day since the first County Fair was inaugurated.

Visitors and delegations from surrounding towns helped to swell the attendance, together with accompanying bands and high school groups. Bands from six nearby towns and cities marched in the parade, in addition to the Haskell Municipal Band.

Largest out-of-town delegation came from Abilene, accompanied by the snappy ACC Band. Heading the delegation was L. A. Sadler, Abilene City Commissioner, Chief of Police T. A. Hackney, Merle Gruver, C. of C manager, Brooks Peden of the Abilene C. of C and Representative Bryan Bradbury.

Others in the Abilene group included Mrs. J. E. Grissom, a former resident of Haskell and her daughter Nancy, Princess from Abilene in the coronation ceremony held for the Queen of the Fair Wednesday night Sam Kennedy, Frank Hobbs, Lacy Beckham, J. B. Castle, Bill Reedy, Ray Crowell and Maurine Roe, staff writer for the Reporter-News. They were the first to arrive, and a complete list of the entire Abilene delegation could not be secured as they scattered to greet Haskell friends immediately upon arrival.

With two members of the State Highway Patrol preceding, riding at the head of the opening parade on spirited mounts were Dr. T. W. Williams, C. of C. president and Fair association officials, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Murchison, wife of the Fair association president, Walter Murchison.

The Haskell High School Band and the Queen's float followed next in order. On this float were Queen Virginia of the House of Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Atkinson and her ladies in waiting, Misses Janie Lyle Martin and Melba Cullum.

Then came the cars of the visiting duchesses, a number of commercial floats, the Abilene Christian College Band of 55 members, directed by Dr. W. Crain and cars of Abilene visitors. The first prize winning float entered by Public Chevrolet Company, carried four little girls, Jane Bradford, Jane Roney, Mary Beth Payne and Ann Catherine Rike, all of Haskell.

Second award for best decorated float went to the Mays Store entry, and third to the float entered by Lively's department store.

The next section of the parade was featured by floats entered by the North Ward, New Cook, Mattson and Paint Creek Schools. In this division first award went to Paint Creek, second to South Ward and third to North Ward.

Following these were the Anson High School Band, the Rule Bobcat Pep Squad, Stamford American Legion Band, Hamlin Pied Piper Band, Paint Creek High School Band and the Knox City Band.

The Haskell Boy Scout float headed another section of the parade, consisting of commercial floats and livestock entered in the show. Frank Rhoades and Joe McCuskey of Throckmorton headed the section devoted to cowboys and cowgirls.

THE PIRATE LOG

Official Newspaper of Paint Creek Rural High School

Our Principal and The Senior Class

Mr. Everett is a graduate from Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Texas, and is now doing work on a Master of Arts degree from Texas Technological College in Lubbock, Texas. Last year he taught in Olton High School, which is located near Plainview, Texas. He was head coach of Olton High School's successful football team.

Mr. Everett is now our high school principal, football coach, and is sponsor of the senior class, aside from his regular teaching duties. As principal of our high school, he is an enterprising, enthusiastic worker, friendly, and vitally concerned with all activities sponsored by the student body. Born with an amazing talent for getting along with people, Mr. Everett has a splendid sense of humor, is a good conversationalist and has a thoughtful, observant and vigorous personality.

As football coach, Mr. Everett has succeeded in making Paint Creek's first football team, one of which we can be proud. He thinks football is important and is interested in all sports, and always enjoys a good football game. Mr. Everett is robust and healthy himself, and believes in training for physical perfection.

He is married and quite proud of a charming wife who is an accomplished musician. Their young son, David, has inherited his father's liking for football.

Mr. Everett says he has no hobbies.

Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

by; however, after following him through a day's activities we see no time left for a hobby. He teaches Texas History, Geometry, World History and Junior Business Training.

With Mr. Everett as sponsor, the senior class has accomplished much in the past seven weeks.

The class was organized on September 9. The following officers were elected: Willie Lee Medford, president; Kenneth Brown, vice president; Bertha Adcock, Secretary; Ruby May Sheets, treasurer and Sybil Nanny, reporter. Pink and blue were selected for our class colors and carnation was chosen for our class flower.

The senior class was fortunate in having the winning candidate in the race for Football Queen. Sybil Nanny won over the three lower classmen by a large majority.

On Thursday, October 6, the senior class put on the chapel program which proved that there was some very good stage talent in the senior class. They intend to put on their senior play in the near future.

Two of the candidates in the Aggie Sweetheart contest were selected from the senior class. Nannie Bell Sandefer and Bertha Adcock. Again they were successful in having the winning candidate, Nannie Bell Sandefer.

On September 28, the seniors selected their class rings. They chose a very beautiful gold ring with the school's emblem, a Pirate engraved on the sides of the ring and the school's initials P. C. in the center.

The seniors plan to sponsor a year book. The year book will be similar to those published last year by some of the larger schools in the county. It will contain individual pictures of all high school students and members of the faculty group pictures of all high school organizations, snapshots, pictures of all the class favorites, and a summary of all the important events during the school year.

On October 28, the seniors will participate in the school carnival by having a recreational room where a number of very interesting games will be played.

Paint Creek School Is Well Represented at Fair

There are three hereford calves at the fair by Elvis Harris, Ray Overton Jr., and Irwin Overton.

No Need to Leave the Porch to Tune Radio — Philco Mystery Control Does the Work

The most sensational and revolutionary invention since radio itself appeared has just made its appearance in the form of a little box, weighing about two pounds, and possessing a mysterious power to tune stations, regulate volume, and silence a radio located as much as seventy-five feet away—all without the use of wires. With this Philco Mystery Control it is now possible to control and regulate the radio in the living room from the bedroom, the kitchen, the dining room, the porch, or even out under the trees with no more effort than the flick of the finger on the dial of the little control box. Above it is shown operating on the porch and controlling the radio in the house. The little speck of light on the panel of the radio shows the station tuned by the Mystery Control.

These calves have been on feed ever since July 1, and have been putting on flesh rapidly ever since. The FFA chapter is sponsoring a booth exhibiting products raised by the boys on their own home farm. Willie Lee Medford, president of the FFA is entering an individual exhibit.

This is the boys first year to enter the fair in any department but we know it will not be a very big handicap.

Heard In The Hall

The love bug bit Kenneth Brown too hard.

Irvin is down-hearted on account of tests or Jerry one, so which could it be.

Ruby was disappointed in J. V. because—well maybe he stood her up or something.

Juanita didn't like to sit on the front seat in the sixth period study hall.

Dorothy Faye must be inviting Jack Landess to a party.

Ray Jr. wasn't interested in the girls much.

Polly would soon learn to play basket ball.

Mary must be collecting pictures.

Mr. Harmin: Billy, why don't you be quiet and not talk so much.

Billy: Well, my tongue just won't let me be quiet.

Tacky Party Given By FFA Club

The Paint Creek FFA Club had its "tacky party" Friday night, October 14. Acting as masters of ceremony were Sybil Nanny and Dorothy Fay Prewitt.

There was a grand march in which the "tackiest boy" and the "tackiest girl" were determined. The tackiest boy was Joe Alford McMahan and the tackiest girl was Mrs. Boyd. Two large red jaw-breakers was the prize given to the tackiest persons.

After the grand march several games were played and refreshments were served to the following: Opal Rose, Monroe Sanders, Ruby Bunkly, J. V. Weaver, Loretta Rose, Elvis Harris, Dorothy Hise, Clarence Chapman, Billie Mae Welsh, Jack Lane, Lavada Dean, Kermit Brown, Nannie Bell Sandefer, Kenneth Brown, Lavern Bichophausen, Elmer Dean.

School Spirit

Perhaps you have read in various school papers articles entitled "School Spirit". Could you, if the question were asked you, define this phrase? If not, perhaps it will be necessary to find out just what the word "spirit" means.

Mr. Webster says "spirit" means liveliness, enthusiasm, and courage. Now that we have defined spirit apply this test to yourself. Are you lively, enthusiastic, or courageous? Does the student body possess these qualities? If so, you have "school spirit" for if the student body is in high spirits the school must be, for they are responsible for making a school what it is.

Paint Creek School Improvements

Paint Creek rural school has been rapidly improving by installing a new oil burning stove for each room. A new light plant has been bought which will light the gym and have a surplus of 5,000 watts. There has been four sewing machines purchased. The Home Economics room has been refinished, making it very attractive. The school library is also developing rapidly. Many books have already arrived and more are to arrive soon.

Members of the school board doing the work of the first class carpenters have just recently completed a farm shop building to aid in the teaching of Vocational Agriculture. The vocational agriculture II class is building tables and tool racks. A small tool room has been built in one corner so that an accurate check can be had on the tools at any time.

Program To Be Held Friday Night

A free program will be held at Paint Creek high school Friday, October 21 at 8 o'clock. Different numbers will be contributed by the various classes using exclusively school talent. Everyone is extended a cordial invitation.

Every Day Life of the Girls At Paint Creek

Hello Mr. and Mrs. Reader! Lets go to the gym. For the last five weeks the girls have been playing volley ball. This past week they have taken up basket ball. It looks as if we are going to have a promising basketball team in the near future.

From three to four o'clock the girls go running down to the gym in black, blue, maroon, green and yellow gym suits. Some have determined looks on their faces, while others are lagging behind as if unwilling to play.

We are encouraging every girl to do her best and we hope to have the best girls' team in Haskell county.

Paint Creek Loses In Game With Rule

Paint Creek went into their fourth football game of the season with the Rule Bobcats and were defeated 45 to 7.

The Paint Creek score of the day was made when Willie Lee Medford received the ball on Rule's 15 yard line and ran eighty five yards for a touchdown.

Rule has a good ball team. Every body working together made it possible for a successful game. Both teams showed good sportsmanship.

This defeat did not discourage the Pirates as their spirits are high. They have set their goal high to win over Swenson. The game is to be played there Friday, October 21.

Your reporter wishes to drop this hint to those interested in Paint Creek's success: Our boys have the backbone but they need you to do the backing.

The Pep Squad

The Pep Squad of Paint Creek High School is improving and learning more songs. We are planning to go to Rule to watch the fight between the Bobcats and the Pirates Friday.

The pep squad girls and the Aggie boys are giving a carnival in our new high school building Friday night Oct 28. The sponsors are Mr. Harmon and Miss Koonce. Each room in our school is to have a booth. The pep squad will have a booth and we are looking forward to having the best.

Using Up the Feed Crop

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association
 Someone has described a well-managed industry as a sort of perpetual motion, in which the processes of production are continuous throughout the year. The factory which runs only a few months and stops its machinery, closes its doors, and lays off its labor for weeks or months at a time has to make higher profits for its operating time or go out of business. The farm which loafs between crop seasons is in the same boat of inefficiency.

With the exception of the subtropical portions of the Southwest, where marketable crops may be harvested the year round, there is only one way of providing profitable use for the available farm labor and keeping the farm factory running twelve months in the year, and that is by keeping livestock and poultry in connection with crop production. Livestock and poultry grow while the farmer sleeps, and use much that would be lost without them, while crops await the season. The only perpetual motion farm therefore is a balanced farm, where plants and animals work together in their natural relation, each supporting the other.

With a surplus of feed on hand above normal needs, a good many Southwestern farmers this year will have to decide the best use to make of it. There are plenty of pitfalls for anyone who undertakes a new enterprise without previous experience, and this is particularly true in "going into" the livestock or poultry business on a commercial scale right out of a cotton patch.

Notice that we said "going into," not "growing into" the business, for there is a vast difference. We Americans like to do things in a big way, and the temptation is great to start with a big herd of dairy cows, a large flock of sheep, a carload of beef cattle or hogs. Those who go in with a bang too often go out the same way, and then say the business is a failure. With pastures and roughage and a small amount of grain, raising dairy cattle from calf-hood to milk cow age carries about as little risk for the beginner as any livestock enterprise. W. R. Hancock of Erath county tells of wintering 29 head of grade Jersey heifers on pasture, about two bales of hay per day, and a light ration of oats and cottonseed cake. They cost him an average of $10.50 and sold when fresh at $35 to $50.

If pastures are available for summer and the operator intends to finish them the second fall and winter, beef calves may be wintered on cheap feed and pastures. It has been found that weight lost during winter on pastures alone costs a good deal more to gain it back than it would have cost to hold it by supplementing maintenance ration sufficiently to keep the animals gaining slightly. If there is a great amount of grain to be sold the preference should go to fattening for slaughter, or feeding for heavy milk production or eggs. On the average farm, however, under average conditions, stock cattle or sheep are safer for the beginner than buying feeders and finishing them for the killing market. Bred ewes and heifers, fed and cared for through one winter, begin to pay off within a few months, and require less time and less technical knowledge of feeding them to slaughter animals. No conceivable farm legislation and no predictable set of circumstances promises to make cash-crop farming profitable again. Wise farmers are acting accordingly, to set up some combination of crop and livestock suitable to their particular circumstances, which will utilize their land and labor to a better advantage and greater profit.

"Perpetual motion" and the farm is more easily attainable than in the factory, for life goes on without artificial power. The natural cycle of plant and animal life is the answer—"God's plan" as an East Texas negro farmer calls it.

Magazine Club Has Formal Opening For Club Year

Friends and fellowship gave happiness and new zest to life at the luncheon in the Magazine Club rooms, Friday afternoon. The occasion was the formal opening of the club for this year.

Attractive apparel, snowy linens, lovely flowers, beautiful silver and delicious food all contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion, and brought words of appreciation for the entertainment committee.

The president, Mrs. Austin Coburn gave words of greeting and discussed the study of Home Making outlined for the year. She expressed the hope that each member would take for her aim this year, the following prayer:

"Our Father in Heaven, we ask Thy guidance in our everyday living. Help us in our desire to do those things which will bring unity and harmony into our homes. Help us to be fair always in our decisions and to be loving and thoughtful. Guide the young people who go from our homes, strengthen their character; give them power to resist temptations and to be always desirous of being as Thou wouldst wish them to be. With Thy help, may our homes be a haven of peace and love."

Two piano selections were given by Mrs. O. E. Patterson.

The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. J. U. Fields. She held the attention and interest of the entire group as she talked in her charming way of Homes Here and There. She gave glimpses of some of the homes she had visited in our own country and abroad. Some high points in her talk were: "It is the influence of subtle things that go toward creating the ideal home atmosphere. Culture, courtesy, refinement, respect, spiritual relation in every day living, the study and teaching of God's word are the finer attributes upon which successful homes must be built or founded. Contented happy homes are a nation's greatest stabilizers." As a summary of her talk this poem was given: "It isn't the house that makes the home. The place where true joy abides; It isn't the furnishings, rich or poor. But the folks that live inside."

The following members and guests were present: Mmes. R. J. Reynolds, S. Hassen, Matt Graham, C. L. Lewis, Server Leon, C. V. Payne, J. U. Fields, Austin Coburn, Reynolds Wilson, J. A. Gilstrap, O. E. Old-Fashioned Dinner Party Given in Home of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford

An old-fashioned dinner party, unique in decorations, costumes, menu and even conversation was given Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bradford. As the guests arrived, their thirst was quenched at the improvised well on the front porch where water was offered from a cedar bucket in a gourd dipper. Adding to the setting was the old-fashioned wash stand with the huge white wash bowl.

Guests were invited into the dining room where the long dining table was covered with a red and white table cloth and arranged with old fashioned dishes—even to the spoon holder, butter bowl and cake stands. Long wooden benches were used as chairs on either side of the table. The light for the room was supplied by kerosene lamps. The menu consisted of boiled cabbage, black-eyed peas, fried chicken, stewed chicken and dumplings, fruit, raw cabbage and potato salads, cold meats of assorted variety, onions, large biscuits, corn pone, lemon and mince pie, coconut and devil's food cakes and buttermilk.

Costumes for the guests were also very interesting. Mrs. John P. Payne was dressed in yellow georgette, Mrs. John Payne in pink georgette, Mrs. Roy Killingsworth in black silk, Mrs. C. V. Payne in white linen, Mrs. Courtney Hunt in her white silk wedding dress with the train, Mrs. E. M. Kimpbrough in white net, Mrs. Ben Bagwell in lavender, net with hooped skirt, Mrs. A. Bradford in white all over embroidery, each dress made on colonial lines.

The men were also dressed in costumes typical of colonial days. After dinner, games of bridge and bingo were played in modern fashion with a background of colonial conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bagwell were winners of high score prize in bridge, and Courtney Hunt was winner of the bingo prize.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

J. G. Malphurs, Minister

Religion is a necessity to the advancement of any people. Tests during the many centuries past have proven to many nations that Christianity is by far the best kind of religion. The most hopeful and contented individuals are those who have the most faith in Christ the most contented family is the home where Christ is the head; the most peaceful and happy community is the one where Christ is recognized as King. Hardly a man in Haskell, he ever so wicked and unbelieving in Christianity, would want to continue to live here if all churches were destroyed, as is getting to be the case in Russia and Germany. Let all believers in Christ and his church rally to the support of Christianity in Haskell. Attend services, engage in, and enjoy the "Sweet Hour of Prayer." We'll be glad to have you worship God with us. Sermon at eleven o'clock and seven forty-five.

POPULAR QUARTET WILL AGAIN APPEAR AT M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT

The Golden Harmony Boys made such a hit at the Methodist Church last Sunday night that they have a return engagement for a week from next Sunday night.

Their six quartet numbers, a solo by Sue Busby and short readings by Janelle Warren and Margie Busby made thirty-five minutes of most pleasant and worthwhile entertainment. This fellowship hour service is becoming more popular and better attended every week.

You may expect another good program, song service and good fellowship for Sunday night.

The young people are to have a special young people's meeting beginning forty minutes before church time next Sunday evening.

There were about fifty more at Sunday School last Sunday than at this time last year.

Preaching at First Church Sunday

Rev. Clifford W. Austin will preach at the First Church in this morning and night. cordially invited, and urged to be present.

Mother and Infant Meeting

Mrs. Bill Fouts and her mother, Willie Maurice, will from the Stamford home day morning to the home in the Scales community and daughter made the Holden ambulance.

G. R.'s Donate Their Services

The Gypsy Ramblers are always selling things to make money to pay for stage curtains and such as that. But on Saturday, although they were selling again (and this time it was tags) it was not to swell their own treasury. None of the money obtained from the sale of tags went to the Gypsy Rambler Club, but rather to local charity. The Gypsy Ramblers were happy to render their services Saturday in that good cause.

"H" Club Has First Meeting

The H-Club had its first meeting last Friday to elect officers for this year. They are as follows: President—Fred Barnett. Vice-President—Eugene Rogers. Secretary and Treasurer—J. C. Scott. Reporter—Jerry Carmichael. Committee of Rules—Jack Simmons, Bob Cousins, Odie Henshaw. This club is for athletes only, and they are going to try to help each other to become better athletes. The only way to become a member is to win a letter for the Haskell Indians in some athletic sport. The charter members are: Gene Rogers, Jack Simmons, Bob Cousins, Odie Henshaw, Ray Buford, Fred Barnett, Eulis Hayes, Sam Henshaw, Milton Wilfong, Curtis Balard, Quinton Bailey, J. C. Scott.

Ministerial Student Is Ordained Here

Robert Barnett, of the class of '35, was ordained for the Baptist ministry last Wednesday evening at the Baptist Church in Haskell. Robert is one of the several H. S. boys who have gone into the ministry in the past few years, and we are very proud for him to be making such splendid progress.

Indians Defeat Eagle "B" Team Friday

The Haskell Indians scored another victory last Friday night over the Abilene Eaglets (Abilene B team) winning by a score of 35 to 6. The team has shown great improvement since their first game of the season at Crowell, when the Indians went down in defeat. But at that time the Indians came near beating Crowell than any other team has done this year. The Haskell Indians play the Roby Lions next Friday night. We hope they keep up their great playing. We would like to give mention to one Abilene player who was a former Indian up until this year. He was Parramore Sellers. Parramore played fullback for Abilene and did some nice playing.

Personals

Frances Kaigler spent the week end in Lubbock visiting with her brother Thomas, a student in Tech. Mrs. Ralph Ross of Stamford (Miss Kathryn Kinney of H. H. S.) visited friends in Haskell Sunday afternoon, and exhibited Ralph Jr., aged nearly two months. Mrs. Meyer attended a meeting for Home Economics teachers last Friday in Lubbock. T. R. Odell Jr., has been absent recently, due to having his tonsils removed. He will soon be back in school. Jack Watson spent the week end in Dallas, and there attended the Dallas Fair. J. C. Scott celebrated his eighteenth birthday last Thursday. A number of his little friends extended their congratulations to him on that happy occasion. Helen Coleman was out of school the latter part of last week with a painfully sprained ankle. The seniors have been missing Cullen Heath who has been absent for several days suffering from an infection.

Students Enjoy Booster Trip

Members of the Municipal Band that are in high school enjoyed a two-day booster trip last Thursday and Friday. When I say enjoy, I believe that is the very word to express it. While we were riding along in the bus between Albany and Anson we all had the honor of witnessing the wedding of Mr. Joe Maples to the one and only Dorothy (Polly Parrot) Jossel. "Rev." Jim Bob Webb was the one that joined the couple in wedlock. Frances Chapman and Betty Jo Hester were the flower girls. The bride wore a white flannel skirt and white satin blouse and carried a slick white baton. She looked lovely. (Boo).

School Is Resumed

School was resumed after a three weeks suspension, and instead of blue, blue, blue Monday, the students and faculty returned with enthusiasm which we hope will continue to make this a year of memorable achievements in all departments.

Editor Is Ill

The newspaper staff deeply misses the presence of the school paper editor, Joannah Gordy. She has had a tonsillotomy, but we hope to have her back soon, and we are sure she will get a different hum on the reporters.

Future Home Makers To Give Carnival

The annual carnival of the Future Home Makers will be given Halloween night starting at seven o'clock. The booths will be open before the crowning of the queen. If one wants to vote for the queen it costs one penny a vote. The candidates for queen are: Alpha Mary Monke, Senior; Wanda Daken, Junior; Juanita Gordy, Sophomore; and Pauline McBeth, Freshman. Be sure and vote for your favorite queen in the boxes in the school building and at town. The seventh grade representative has not been elected yet, but will be Thursday. The escorts are: J. C. Hawes, king of Seniors; Foy McKinnon, Juniors; Clarence Sparkman, Sophomore; and Dray Lowe, Freshmen. A detailed program will be given in next week's paper. The proceeds will be used for expenses of the home economics department.

Higher Mathematics

Rayford Tiffie is proving himself an apt pupil in practical geometry. He has learned that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line—between his house and Estella Dunnam.

Science

Leo Beason and Alton Reeves recently exhibited their handmade models of the overshot and pelton water wheels to the General Science class. Other projects are being planned by members of the class. Mr. Perrin has been showing a living specimen of the leech to his Biology class. We wonder if he hopes to thus encourage the class in sticking to their work.

The Snooper Says—

Alpha Mary and Carl seemed to be enjoying each other's company very much at the midnight show recently. Elsie C. seems to like boys from Munday and Knox City. It must be fun to break up so that you can make up. Ask J. C. and Pauline. Ask Elizabeth M. why she couldn't get along with a certain boy from Rochester. Extra! Extra! Attention, Weinert boys. The girls seem to be more interested in out of town boys so you had better sit up and take notice if you don't want to lose all of them. (P. S. I think that you are losing your technique). Foy, you should be giving young ladies jewelry instead of taking it away from them. What about it, Wanda? Haskell seems to be attracting Aesatha's attention of late. Say, does the Civics class feel "stuck up" since Mr. Duff has made them all Senators and Representatives. Pete sure does look lonesome since school has started again. We wonder why? Dorene wants to be an actress.

Sport Review

Well folks, those old Weinert football boys have really been going since school has been suspended, with three straight conference

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, reputation or standing of any firm, individual or corporation will be gladly corrected upon being called to the attention of the publishers.

The dividing line between news and advertising is the line which separates information for public interest from information which is disseminated for profit.

Federal Competition

If a private corporation were to use the same methods to drive a competitor out of business as are employed by the government in competition with private enterprise, the Federal Trade Commission would go into action immediately.

In other words, it appears that we have one legal standard of ethics for private business and an entirely different standard for the government. The fact is that there seem to be no rules whatever that a government agency is bound to observe in competition with private enterprises.

An illustration of this is seen in what is happening to the electrical industry. Private companies are being put out of business or seriously crippled through government subsidy of publicly owned distribution systems, supplied with power generated by Federal hydroelectric dams built through an enormous and wasteful expenditure of public funds.

In a decision which is now being appealed to the United States Supreme Court, a lower Federal court ruled that private power companies were not entitled to any protection against government encroachment, although their business might be curtailed or even destroyed.

If this principle should be allowed to stand, no industry would be safe from possible destruction at any time the government decided to enter its field in pursuance of a socialistic program.

Hitler's Career

Fifteen years ago Adolph Hitler was in prison at Landsberg, Germany, where he served nine months after an unsuccessful attempt to start a revolution. Today he is perhaps the world's most powerful figure. A few highlights of his amazing career follow:

Born in Austria, 49 years ago; from the age of 14 worked as builder's helper, carpenter, draughtsman and painter in water colors; at 25 a private in the German army; later lance-corporal; was severely wounded; returned to the front again, was gassed and temporarily blinded; won the Iron Cross for bravery.

After the war he became a political agitator; was jailed, but resumed political activities after release. In 1932 he was defeated for the presidency. His strength having become too great to be ignored he was offered the post of vice-chancellor by President Hindenburg, but declined. Was offered the post of chancellor, but refused to accept on Hindenburg's terms. In 1933 he was made chancellor with full power as such. Upon Hindenburg's death in 1934, Hitler assumed the duties of both president and chancellor.

Since 1933 Hitler has rearmend the nation; won back the Saar region by plebiscite; remilitarized the Rhineland; annexed Austria and a part of Czechoslovakia. What will be his next move? The world wonders.

College Endowments

It is to the credit of philanthropic rich men that they have given generously of their wealth for college endowments. But in view of the overcrowding of endowed colleges by alleged students who only go to college for the sake of being known as "college men," it is pertinent to ask whether the best results are obtained from these large bequests.

That any young person not possessing the natural qualifications or character to make proper use of a college course should crowd out an earnest and qualified student is shameful. That any who possess the mental and moral capacity for using higher education for the advancement of mankind should be denied it is a tragedy.

Some of the millions which are donated for the general use of colleges might be put to better use by devoting them to the establishment of scholarships, including living expenses, for talented boys and girls who are unable to secure higher education without such aid.

Many scholarships are provided for at present, it is true, but there are not nearly as many as there ought to be. To really educate one exceptionally bright and deserving boy or girl would be more beneficial to society than the turning out of a dozen mediocre graduates, whose college training is of doubtful value to themselves or anyone else.

Government Salaries

Some interesting facts respecting the early salaries of high government officials are given in a recent publication, which notes that Washington's salary of $25,000 a year was the pay of all Presidents until 1873 when an increase to $50,000 was made. In 1909 the present salary of $75,000 was authorized by Congress.

Cabinet officers in the early days received what would be considered very meager pay today. Thomas Jefferson drew only $3,500 a year as secretary of state; Alexander Hamilton drew the same as secretary of the treasury; General Knox, the first secretary of war, received but $3,000 and at attorney-general had a part-time job with little pay. These four were the only cabinet officers from 1789 to 1799.

Members of Congress received no regular yearly salary in the early days, but were paid $6 a day when actually attending sessions. In 1816 a salary of $1,500 a year was provided, but this was repealed the following year and $8 a day for actual service was established as their compensation. In 1856 the pay of members of Congress was fixed at $3,000; in 1866 at $5,000; in 1875 at $7,500, and in 1925 at $10,000.

Leading opera singers, movie stars, prize fighters and baseball players would sniff at these salaries, except that of the President, and many of them receive, even if they do not earn, much more than is paid the nation's chief executive.

AGAIN ON THE MARCH!

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

40 Years Ago—Oct. 22, 1895
Mr. J. C. McJilton of Anson took charge of the Haskell post-office this week as assistant postmaster.

Mr. Joe Rome returned to his Haskell county ranch this week after a lengthy visit with relatives at Fort Worth.

We have had a genuine taste of winter this week, the thermometer registering 30 degrees on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Mr. Terrell is fitting up the old bank building very neatly and will have it ready to open up his stock of drugs in a short time.

Messrs. Lemmon and Shook drove to Seymour this week for delivery of about 500 head of beef cattle sold by themselves and others to Quannah parties.

Mr. L. W. Roberts, who took a bunch of horses to Arkansas a few weeks ago, returned this week. We didn't learn what success he had in trading.

The city of Haskell has a population of twelve hundred. So orderly and law abiding are the people of this chosen spot, that there has not been a criminal in the jail during the last five years. Who can beat that record?

T. G. Carney was over in Throckmorton this week trading in sheep.

J. S. Rike and wife returned this week from a visit to the state fair at Dallas and also to relatives at Farmersville.

A balloon ascension will be one of the main features at Abilene Fair and Round-Up Exposition. To be used is the largest balloon in the United States, from which at 2,000 feet the aeronaut will drop in a parachute to the ground.

30 Years Ago—Oct. 17, 1905
Gus Grussendorf of the east side was in town Monday and reported that his neighborhood was called out Sunday evening to fight a fire that burned off about 300 acres of grass in T. E. Ballard's pasture in that section. Mr. Grussendorf thinks that the fire started from the branding pen where some branding had been done a few days before.

Dudley Boone has returned from a prospecting trip out west. He says that lands are held at a high figure in the sections he visited.

John Baldwin of Fannin county, brother of our fellow townsman J. L. Baldwin, was here this week. The Fannin county man has purchased and shipped larger herds of cattle from this section the past year than any other cattle buyer. He shipped 200 hogs to this place this week.

Capt. W. W. Fields has returned from a trip to Lakewood, N. M., where his son Ernest Fields lives. He left his brother, R. B. Fields out there, who will remain awhile for the benefit of his health.

E. E. Martin, who went to South

Work was begun on the institution two months ago, and will likely require 18 months to complete, he says. To be built are nine buildings of reinforced concrete, averaging 50x100 feet and from two to three stories high.

Ralph Bernard of Abilene spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bernard.

The election in Commissioner's Precinct No. 1 for the issuance of $150,000 road bonds, carried by a good majority last Saturday. Every voting box in the precinct gave the bonds a good majority except the Haskell box. Total vote was 336 for and 156 against.

Mrs. Jennete Pertain Cook, who has been one of the teachers of the Haskell schools for several years, received a telegram Tuesday stating that her brother, Burns Pertain, had died en route to France. The body is in New York and will be shipped to Cuero.

Otto Moeller, who left Haskell in the spring for the training camp died Sunday October 12th at Camp Mills, N. Y. A message to his relatives here stated that the remains would be sent home for burial.

A deal was made the first of the week whereby J. F. Kennedy takes complete charge of all departments of the Haskell Garage. Heretofore Mr. Kennedy has only conducted the accessory and oil and gas business.

H. Weinert of Weinert was in the city Saturday to attend the Fourth Liberty Loan meeting. Mr. Weinert subscribed $500 to be credited to Weinert's quota of the loan.

Lowell Robertson, Albert Lemmon and Jason Smith left Tuesday for Dallas where they will be employed by the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph company.

J. O. Stark was visiting home folks in the city the first of the week. He is working on the North Texas Insane Asylum, which is under construction at Wichita Falls.

It looks like Five Years from Now!

THE vast Buick factory is a grand place to visit, these days.

Down the roaring aisles, throughout the sprawling bays there's a feeling of great things happening.

They're building something ultra, here at Buick, and they know it.

It looks like five years from now, they'll say of this dazzling 1939 Buick, and they're not talking of appearance only.

They're talking of "catwalk-cooling" that floods air under forced draft to ease the temperature of your engine.

They're talking of BuicCoil springing and the soft shock-smothering spirals that give you the true "full float" ride.

They're talking of that Dynaflex great eight engine, instant with life and wringing good from every drop of fuel.

They're talking of wheels that camber to let you take the curves more safely—of new visibility—up to 413 square inches more glass in SPECIAL and CENTURY models.

They're talking a thousand and one details of Buick that you'll never know nor need to know but that to their schooled eyes spell a better built automobile.

You can see this car they're talking of at the nearest Buick showroom.

When you do see it, think of what the men who built it are saying, not boastfully, but with quiet sureness.

They know. And they're saying, "Looks fine for '39!"

Finest Dividends Not Always Cash

The finest dividends are not always direct cash returns, is the opinion of Mrs. W. C. Dennis, about three miles north of Kirkland, Texas. The influx of birds to the farm, Mrs. Dennis believes, makes this especially true of an investment in tree shelterbelts of which the Dennis place has one planted in 1936.

There are ten times as many birds on the farm now as before the trees were planted, says Mrs. Dennis. She especially appreciates the presence of mocking birds and other song birds which stay near the home. Their continuous chatter and singing "brighten things up."

The Dennis shelterbelt, planted by the U. S. Forest Service, has become a part of the Texas State Extension Service program which has designated the place as a "whole demonstration" farm—that is, a place where approved methods are exhibited by the extension service.

The shelterbelt, only two years old, has grown to the extent that it furnishes nesting places for hundreds of birds, many of them insectivorous. Also, the extension service has found that the shelterbelt provides ideal cover for game birds.

Shelterbelt planting by the Forest Service is a cooperative enterprise with the farmers. The belts' principal purposes are to prevent blowing of loose-textured farmlands which has created a national problem, protect growing crops from hot summer winds, furnish fuel and fence posts for the farm, and to provide cover for wildlife.

The trees are furnished and planted by the Forest Service. The farmer prepares the land, furnishes the fence material, and cultivates the shelterbelt until the leaf canopy is closed.

CRITICAL EMERGENCY FACING WILDLIFE AND RESOURCES OF TEXAS

That Texas wildlife and our other natural resources are facing a critical emergency is asserted by V. W. Lehmann of the Texas A. and M. College division of Wildlife research in the current issue of Bird Lore, organ of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

The article is beautifully illustrated by photographs of the Big Thicket of Texas taken by D. W. Law, Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Lehmann points out the desirability of large natural refuges exceeding 100,000 acres in size. The Big Thicket, occupying parts of Polk, Tyler, Hardin and Liberty Counties in Eastern Texas, is potentially such an area and should be one of the greatest wildlife areas in the State, but exploitation already has rendered it one of the poorest he maintained.

Druggist Recalls Time When Coyote Poison Led Sales

Prairie dog and coyote poison at one time were the chief money-makers for West Texas druggists—not cosmetics and a sandwich counter, according to Walt Cousins of Dallas, publisher of the Southern Pharmaceutical Journal and former Haskell resident.

Cousins was a young cowboy of this section in 1898 when he bought a book to study pharmacy in his spare time. He quit the range three years later and opened a drug store at Munday.

"If it hadn't been for the wolf and prairie dog poison I sold to the ranchers, I couldn't have kept the store open."

Once the druggist order 2,500 pounds of poison in one shipment from Fort Worth. The quantity was so large that the wholesaler asked confirmation of the order. The poison, like the rest of the stock was shipped to Seymour by rail and freighted 60 miles to Munday.

J. A. Ford and children, Jack, Willard and Mrs. Bill McKennon have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ford and children in Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harrison and daughter Shirley Ann of Coleman spent the week end in Haskell visiting with relatives.

The program was cut short and held in the High School gymnasium-auditorium, where Miss Virginia Beas Atkinson was crowned Queen of the 1938 Fair, and Miss Louise Pierson was crowned Queen of Haskell High School. The crown was placed on the head of Miss Atkinson by the king of the Central West Texas Fair, Pyeatt McCollum; while Miss Pierson was crowned by M. P. Vannoy, secretary of the fair. Following the pageant, visiting dignitaries and members of the royal court and their escorts were honored with a dinner at the Tonkawa Hotel and dance at the City Hall auditorium.
