HOPPER POISON MIXING STATION NOW OPERATING

Farmers Advised To Poison Insects Early To Prevent Crop Damage

The grasshopper poison mixing station is now in operation at Haskell, according to G. R. Schumann, County Agent. The station is located in the same building which has been used for the past two years. Mr. R. H. Smith will again be in charge of the station, and the grasshopper poison will be put out to farmers on the same basis as it has been for the past two years. For each 100 pounds of bran furnished by the Federal Government, the farmer will have to furnish an equal amount of bran or cotton seed hulls. The Federal Government will furnish all of the poison necessary to go into the mixture. Farmers may have syrup or other materials added to their poison mash—this is not a requirement, but where farmers want the syrup in the meal, they will have to supply the syrup themselves.

Although the grasshopper situation is not serious over the entire county at the present time, some areas have a heavy infestation and some crop damage has been reported. Farmers are urged to poison the hoppers while they are young and before they enter the fields. R. R. Reppert, State Grasshopper Leader states, "The best time to poison hoppers is while they are young and while they are congregated on fence rows and low places in the pastures." If farmers will do this now serious crop damage later on will be avoided.

Until the hopper situation becomes more serious than at present the grasshopper poison mixing station will only be open on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

Class Prophecy of 1939

Here is a special edition of the "Warwhoop" issued May 19, 1939, covering the 1939 Times' Recreational program of the class of '39.

Here are the articles which look for an "old" glimpse of our class, written by Mary Jo Free, who is now editor of the "Roberts Times Herald," which is now going into its 100th year.

The first to be mentioned is of course our president, Eugene Rogers, but we wish to leave his name to Jim Bob Webb, and Jack Simmons, and their reports, but after all that is a long list on these PWA winners.

Our vice-president, Eula Faye Glass, and when asked about her ambition to become a doctor, she laughingly said she was wondering what all rights for a group of little children.

One of the first to arrive was Louise Hill, followed as always by a group of boys. When asked what she had major married, she replied that she just couldn't make up her mind which one of the three she wanted.

Frances Merle was another early arrival. She lives in Knox City now, but she goes to Wynona.

Jack Watson informs us that he is now riding "the hot" pigeons in a town. When asked about Paul Crawford, he said, "Paul's still using his tongue to get along, but this time he's trying to talk his way out of it."

Among the more famous members of the class we have Christine Lewis, latest Hollywood sensation, formerly seen behind the spoon counter at Woolies.

Madge Leon—Chief investigator of the activities of the PWA.

Earline Steadman—Gravely endangering "Rufus" Davis' "funny face" popularity.

Odeus Akins—Holding the world's heavyweight boxing title.

Milton Wilford—World's champ at pole vaulting.

Amelia Beth is a champion too. She was the first woman to make a non-stop solo flight from Haskell to Tulsa.

Joyce Nell Hambleton has at last proved that Martha Rye "ain't got nothing."

Thurman Howeth is fire eater and sword swallower in Mickey Mackey's show.

Evie Jo Ratliff—America's foremost artistic model—seen on every signboard.

Joe Maples is still "tootin' his horn" this time on the Doodle Bug Limited.

Selma Steinfath is hostess of an airplane flying from Weenert to Judd.

After 10 years Betty Jean Bressie is still "A Sweet Little Headache" at McMurry.

Louise Hill gives advice to the lovers through the columns of the Dallas Morning News.

Curly Ballard is now taking pictures of colored life in the Amazon.

Doris Waggoner is happily married to an orchestra leader and travels the Mississippi in the "Snow Boat."

Fern Tinkle now grows poppies for the Lucky Nursery in Fort Worth.

Lon McMillin is still "singing sodas" only now for his sandy haired "youngins."

There are two seniors still loyal to H. H. S. Wallace Patten is now manufacturing the best speaker and Theo Moore is in the line.

Louise Cook helps Ode Smith run a little hot dog stand in competition with the Waggoner.

Heard Crawford is assistant manager of the Birmingham, Mont., "Kaiser" in the "Kaiser."

Quinton Bailey is mayor of the U. S. (U. S. is in Alaska and looks like an old pros and makes his own and).

Frances Merle is still "singing sodas" but this time it's with her own and other in her singing can perform the operations.

Bertie Noy is a reporter on a night shift in New Orleans.

Billie Murphy studies "singing" through Carlbad Covered.

LaVone Hise has given "royal permission" to go to South America if she can go along.

Pauline Jenkins is Mae West's personal hair dresser and Irene is a "school marm" at T. S. C. W.

Deputy Jasselet is curb hop at the "Tower" in Abilene.

Frances Kugler is dancing instructor for the A. & M. cadets.

Marie Ballard has replaced Glenda Farrell as "Torchy Blane."

Frances Holmesley is tour bouncer at the skating rink in Rochester.

Mary Louise Holland is head clerk at the Tate Cash and Carry Grocery.

Lois Holmesley is still checking around in a little "Model A."

W. C. Holt and Cullen Heath are co-partners of a 1936 acre chicken farm. (They make dumplings).

Mary E. G. is now the wife of Joseph Switch City Marshal.

C. G. "Beetle" Burson is now settled down on a nice "peanut farm," raising peanuts for Ruby and raising sheep for her on the same.

Mary L. Curry, who was formerly of the class, is now a costume designer for the Barnum Bailey Circus—assisted by Neva Mae Gay.

Ray Buford has just perfected a cockpit ship in which he intends to fly to the moon.

Joe one needs to see what has happened to LaVerne Bynum—Lloyd is still around.

Elise Henson has just invented an automatic hair comb and comb comb.

Miss Wainwright is still sponsoring senior classes and does not grey-haired yet.

FASHION PREVIEW

YOUTH is served by fashion this season. Witness this cunning suit for the sixteen-year-old, shown in Good Housekeeping for June. The flaring skirt is fastened to the brief bolero with big buttons. The suit is of tweed linen and the blouse, with a fly-away bow under the chin, is of checked gingham.

At noon the Seniors spread their lunches picnic-fashion, in the Home Economics room, and after bombarding the Wigwam for "pops," settled down to see how much they could eat. The best part of the feast was the lovely cakes—iced in pink with "Seniors of 1939" in orchid lettering—which Mrs. Couch gave the Seniors. Thank you, Mrs. Couch.

Climaxing Senior Day was the following assembly program, given with Eugene Rogers, class president acting as master of ceremonies.

History of Senior Class—Madge Leon.

Will of the Seniors—Paul Crawford.

Teachers of H. H. S.—Mr. Breedlove, Jack Watson; Mr. Wimbish, Jack Simmons; Mr. McCollum, Quinton Bailey; Mr. Vannoy, C. G. Burson.

After a nine months seige the Seniors captured the diploma. They were becoming rather old now, and since they had acquired their desired culture they left these plentiful grounds to the younger members of the Haskell High Tribe.

Attracting yellow and black posters were seen throughout school Friday, May 19, proclaiming Senior Class Day. These posters were made by two of the Senior artists—Wynona Post and Neva Gay. As each Senior entered the building, a bow of crepe paper in pink and orchid—the class colors—was pinned on him by Flash

Quartet—Eugene Rogers, Joe Maples, Quinton Bailey, C. G. Burson.

Prophecy of the Seniors—Elise Henson.

An Appreciation—Eugene Rogers.

Haskell High School Song—Student Body, led by Louise Pierson.

To Our Seniors

(From the Freshman, Sophomores and Juniors)

To you who are the higher,
 In quality and rank,
 For setting good examples,
 It's you we wish to thank.

You have been the faithful lighthouse,
 That guided our ocean way,
 You have been our true advisor,
 Through every cloudy day.

So now may we appeal to you,
 To accept our gratitude,
 Perhaps we shouldn't say this,
 For fear you'll think it rude.

But selfishly we want to keep you,
 Since no one can take your place,
 To us you are just one body,
 With an honest, smiling face.

In the near future you will have us,
 Too quickly that time will roll,
 So all we can do is to wish you success,
 And pray that you reach your goal.

Correction

The name of Frances Merle Edwards should have been included in the list of Seniors who started in the first grade together in the North Ward.

Summertime BRINGS UP THE QUESTION OF Kitchen Comfort!

COOLER is the 1939 Gas Range because of heavy oven insulation which keeps heat in the oven out of your kitchen. Accurate oven heat control, too, eliminates the need of oven watching as well as overheating. It is Cooler because the oven need not be used for broiling, as many of the new models have separate, smokeless broilers using less heat. And the 1939 Gas Range is cooler because most top burner cooking can now be done on the new low-heat simmer burners, which keep foods boiling with minimum use of heat, thus eliminating most steam and vapors. Think what these features mean in Kitchen Comfort.

PLAN NOW FOR Kitchen Comfort

Don't go through another summer in an uncomfortable kitchen. Trade your old range for a cool-cooking 1939 gas range. Your meals then will be easier prepared in a cooler kitchen and at less cost!

Life Expectancy Almost Doubled During Century

One often hears about the good old days when grandfathers was a boy but according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, now are the good days for babies. A baby born today can expect to live until he is 62 years of age. This is almost twice the expectancy of babies born 100 years ago. There has been a gain of 14 years since 1900.

While still somewhat below the biblical promise of "three score and ten" Texans can look forward to reaching that goal within a few years.

The fact that a child born in 1938 who weathered the infantile storms of the first year could expect to live 62 years in contrast to the boy born in 1850, who could live only 38 years is a tribute to the American Medical Profession and the preventive technique of public health, Dr. Cox believes.

Vaccination is a preventive measure that saves thousands of lives annually. Prophylactic measures against typhoid, diphtheria and smallpox have greatly reduced the incidence of these diseases in Texas. Widespread sanitation efforts safeguard the water we drink, the food we eat and our environmental surroundings to lessen the spread of communicable disease germs.

Semi-annual physical examinations which have become a health habit for many of our citizens check illnesses at their onset and allow for simpler cures. Science has provided us with effective drugs to combat the spread of syphilis and gonorrhea, diseases which take an annual toll of blindness, insanity, locomotor ataxia, bone infection, enlargement of the arteries and deformity of infants.

Tuberculosis and Cancer have been brought into the curable classification of diseases. All and all the last twenty years have been the Medical and Public Health professions making this a safer nation in which to live and at the same time a nation in which to live longer.

Although we claim no special gift of entertainment, we can go all one better in GUARANTEEING respite from worrying over possible loss of property by fire, theft, storms, and many other hazards. Years of savings to accumulate a home or business property can be wiped out almost instantly by storm or fire, yet our policies assure absolute protection against loss—that's why they have proven indispensable to far-seeing buyers.

You may own your home, business property, etc.—but in our insurance policies "You've got something" to borrow a slang expression. Let's talk it over.

Jossett Home Demonstration Club Has Regular Meeting

"The family water supply should be tested at least twice a year," stated Miss Mildred Vaughan, Home Demonstration Agent, when she met with the Jossett Club member at the club house May 9.

"The gutters leading to a cistern should be kept clean and sanitary as possible. The water should be allowed to run over sand, charcoal or gravel in order to clean and purify," continued Miss Vaughan in her demonstration.

We had three new members: Mmes. Frank Pannell, Thurman Bynum and Walter Chatwell, and two visitors Mrs. Allen Adams and Miss Elsie Tolliver.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mmes. Buck Callaway, J. L. Tolliver, W. C. Norton, S. G. Perrin, Jesse Jossett, J. P. Perrin, O. T. Sturdy, Louise Merchant, Frank Spencer, C. A. Thomas, L. M. Bass, Misses Margaret Tolliver and Mildred Norton.

Meeting Hour of Methodist Missionary Society Is Changed

In a brief business session of the Missionary Society conducted by the president, it was voted to change the regular meeting hour to four o'clock. Also the first lesson of the foreign mission book, "The Church Takes Root In India" was announced for Monday, June 5th in the home of the director, Mrs. Kenneth Thornton.

After the business was concluded, Mrs. Montgomery read a most interesting letter from our friends, Dr. J. C. Pace of India. Mr. Pace is principal of a school, but in his letter he also described his work as he went about teaching the people in the villages of Christ.

With Mrs. Wallace Cox at the organ the group sang the hymn "What A Friend."

Rev. Haynes brought a very encouraging message to the women of the society. He used as his subject, "The Influence of Women in the Church." He said, "Although the influence of women is not always conspicuous, it permeates throughout the departments of the church. When Christ said, 'Ye are the salt of the earth,' and 'Let your light shine' he was speaking to the women also. May your influence grow and your fervent prayers cause the very presence of God to be felt in our church services."

At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Breedlove and Mrs. Harrison invited the society to stay for a social hour. They refreshed everyone greatly by serving delicious cake and punch.

Since next Monday is the fifth Monday of the month there will be no meeting.

Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club Has Meeting Thursday

"Water is the most necessary and useful thing around the home," said Miss Mildred Vaughan to the Blue Bonnet H. D. Club which met in the home of Mrs. Floyd King May 18.

And yet in many homes very little attention has been given to making water supply convenient, continued Miss Vaughan.

Mrs. Joe Holcomb and Mrs. Less Lewis led a 10 minute recreation period.

The next meeting will be held June 1st in the home of Mrs. Edd Conner. Visitors are welcome.

Ice cream and cookies were served to Mmes. O. J. McCain, Joe Holcomb, Edd Wilson, A. C. Denson, Less Lewis, Homer Hines, Floyd King and agent Miss Mildred Vaughan.

Mrs. W. A. Hedrick and children of Temple, Okla., stopped over on their way home from Long Beach, Calif., last week and visited Mrs. Hedrick.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

J. G. Malphurs, Minister

"This do in remembrance of me," says the Lord to all his disciples (1 Cor. 11:24). To forget Jesus is a mistake fatal to the soul. "If we endure, we shall also reign with him; if we shall deny him, he also will deny us." (2 Tim. 2:12). A one means of keeping his disciples from forgetting their Lord he has put his Supper in the assembly of the church. This Supper, the "breaking of bread" (Acts 2:42), is given as the main reason for the assembly of the saints "upon the first day of the week" (Acts 20:7). Around this memorial service other acts of worship and duties on the Lord's day revolve. The church that leaves it out has cut short the Lord's inspired program for the saints the individual that refuses to eat of it, when the church has prepared it, is out of harmony with the wishes of his Lord. If he has sinned, he should repent, and commune with his Lord. But many do not eat of the Lord's Supper because they are improperly taught on the subject. This will be our subject for the morning sermon, and you are urged to come and study the theme with us.

There will be no evening sermon because of the commencement service at the Christian Church. All other services for the week will be at usual hours.

OLD FASHION MISSIONARY BAPTIST REVIVAL

Rev. J. E. (Jim) Nicholson, son of our beloved and departed former pastor, Rev. J. T. Nicholson, is holding a revival in the Simpson building, where the Fundamental, Bible Baptist, now worship. Bro. Jim is a member of the Central Missionary Baptist Church, of Cisco, Texas, where he has been pastor for the past ten months. Bro. Jim says, "I am just what I have always been, an Old Fashioned Missionary Baptist, Independent, to follow the Holy Spirit's Leadership, without the dictation of any man or set of men. I am not any kind of an ite, and hold to none of the isms. You may call me a Fundamental Missionary Baptist, of the John The Baptist type, but not an ist of any kind. I do not set men above the Spirit to make out programs for me. I prefer the Holy Spirit's Leadership."

If you want to hear Old Fashioned Gospel preaching, come and hear Jim Nicholson preach, to Old Fashioned sinners in the Old Fashioned way. He condemns sin in no uncertain terms, you will understand him. He loves the sinner and will do all in his power to help you, but his messages are red hot. You will know where he stands when you hear him, no uncertainty in his message. Bro. Nicholson's love for lost souls is clearly seen in each message, and the power and presence of the Holy Spirit is felt in every service. Brother Nicholson, and the Church, and Pastor, Rev. C. Jones extend a cordial invitation to everyone to come to these services. Everyone is not only welcome but urged to be with us.

Services are held at 10 o'clock each morning, and at 8 o'clock each evening, and on the public square Saturday afternoon.

—C. Jones.

We Are Proud of Our Meat Department

So many women in this territory have complimented us on our market development we can't help being "puffed-up" just a little over this department. We've been doing a lot of "bragging" about our meats lately, and when our customers do this "advertising" for us we are grateful, and are determined to live up to the standard of quality, that has been set for us by these satisfied customers.

Royal Garden Party

Among the functions to be held in honor of King George and Queen Elizabeth of Britain during their short visit to the United States will be a garden party given by British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, and Lady Lindsay at Washington on June 8.

Invitations have been sent to about 1,300 persons, including all cabinet officers, under-secretaries, Supreme Court justices, high ranking officers of the army and navy, various members of Congress, and other prominent persons. About 400 persons from each state are invited to attend.

All guests are instructed to assemble three-quarters of an hour before the arrival of the royal party, and remain until after the king and queen have departed. Their majesties will not attempt to shake hands with the guests, but will chat informally with a number who will be presented to them by the ambassador and his wife, as they stroll through the embassy grounds.

Needless to say, extreme precautions will be taken by secret service men to prevent any untoward incident during the party, and every person admitted must have the official engraved invitation.

Following a British tradition, strawberries and cream will be among the delicacies served, and the affair will be conducted along the lines of the famous garden parties given from time to time by the king and queen at Buckingham Palace.

New Army Chief

In selecting Brigadier General George C. Marshall to be chief of staff of the United States Army, to succeed General Malin Craig next August, President Roosevelt passed over 20 major generals and 14 brigadier generals who now rank above Marshall.

The man who will thus jump over the heads of his 34 present seniors by being promoted to the army's highest post is not a West Pointer. He entered the service as a private soldier in 1902, but was a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute before enlisting in the regular army.

General Marshall is 58 years of age, and is now deputy chief of staff under General Craig. He served as assistant chief of staff of the First Division in France during the World War, after which he was aide-de-camp to General Pershing.

Later he commanded the 15th Infantry in China for three years, followed by service as instructor at the Army War College, and as chief of the war plans division of the general staff, before his appointment as deputy chief of staff last year.

Until his selection to be chief of staff a few days ago, General Marshall was little known outside of army circles, but he is said to be highly regarded by his brother officers. His new office will give him the rank of full general, the highest in our service.

Haskell County History

As Revealed by the Files of the Free Press 20, 30 and 40 years ago.

40 Years Ago—May 27, 1899

Col. Ed S. Graham, the founder of the town of Graham, in Young county, died last week at Spokane, Washington. The body was brought to Graham for burial. Col. Graham was a large owner of western lands and has been for many years identified with the work of settling and developing West Texas.

A seed sowing and plant inaugurating rain came Monday night.

Two life insurance agents have been doing business in our city this week.

Mr. Sprowles now carries the mail and passengers on the Seymour route in a new hack.

Miss Una Foster arrived of home Thursday from Rome, Ga., where she has been attending college.

Mr. Burwell Cox has purchased of Mr. S. L. Robertson the Hammer place, consideration $750.

Mr. John Therwanger, who returned a few days ago from a trip to Quannah, says the oat crops are decidedly better in this section than in any he saw farther north.

It is said that the wool clip is turning out unusually heavy this spring. Some individual fleeces are reported as weighing as high as 15 1/2 pounds.

We understand that Messrs. Will and John Lanier have sold their cattle and ranch in Stonevall and are going on up in the Panhandle country to establish a ranch near Amarillo.

Mr. Jim Pratt came in from Albany Thursday where he went to see officials of the T. C. railroad with the view of getting a job in the construction of the extension of the road. We learn that he ascertained that the contracts would be let on June 30th for the construction of 50 miles of road, same to be completed by September 1st. He was informed that the proposed road would cross California Creek near the mouth of Spring Creek.

The Bible World's Leading Book

In these days when democracy is being forced to take stock of her resources, lovers of human freedom will read with encouragement the releases from the annual report of the American Bible Society, whose 123rd annual meeting has just been held and whose sole purpose for a century has been to make the Bible available to all men of all nations, however little they may have with which to purchase it. Whenever this great book has been seriously read human freedom has flourished and democratic institutions have been born. Earl Baldwin in an address in Toronto recently expressed his belief that Britain's disposition to attempt the solution of the international problems by honest deliberation and conference roots back into generation upon generation of Bible reading by the people of England. Even in the fact of the dictator's edict the Bible out-sold Mein Kampf in Germany last year by 200,000 copies. Latin America for whose trade and friendship dictators are strenuously bidding has a hunger for the Scriptures that is apparently insatiable.

China with all her appalling needs bought more complete Bibles from the Society than ever in her history. Japan likewise increased her purchases by about 10 percent over the year before. Meanwhile the Scriptures moved into a dozen new languages in 1938, bringing the total number of tongues in which some part of the Scriptures have been translated to 1021. It is now conservatively estimated that nine-tenths of the people of the world might hear some substantial part of the Scriptures read in their native tongue. No book in the world even faintly approaches this record. As long as this continues human freedom has a great ally.

Danzig, The Free City

The controversy between Germany and Poland over the free city of Danzig, has created fresh interest in this Baltic seaport, once one of the most important in Europe. When it was founded is not known, but records show it to have been a considerable town as early as the year 997, and it is therefore some two centuries older than Berlin.

During much of its early history Danzig was a free city, and as a member of the famous Hanseatic League of commercial cities during the Middle Ages it reached a high development in power and wealth. It declined in the 17th and 18th centuries as a result of the constant wars which ravaged northern Europe, but has continued to be commercially prominent.

Danzig came under the rule of Prussia (Germany) at the close of the Napoleonic wars in 1814, and so remained until after the World War, when it again became a free city under the auspices of the League of Nations, although its foreign and diplomatic affairs and certain other functions, are conducted by Poland. Danzig is governed by its own legislative body of 72 members.

The area described as the free city of Danzig is 734 square miles in extent, and contains three other smaller cities—Zoppot, Neufeld and Tiegenhof—and about 250 rural communities. The entire area has a population of about 407,000, of which number 95 per cent are Germans.

Poland desires to maintain the present status of Danzig, while Hitler wants it returned to Germany. Thus a relatively insignificant piece of territory is the world's chief danger spot at the moment.

A Negro truck driver asked by a New Orleans traffic officer why he had gone through a red light, replied: "Well, sah, I saw white folks goin through the green 'uns and ah thought the red 'un was for colored folks."

Three bandits who kidnaped L. R. Jones of Columbia, S. C., and robbed him of $4,300 were considered. They returned $75 to him and gave him a half pint of whiskey.

Janice Gilbert, 16-year-old radio actress, has often played four roles in a single broadcast. Her specialty is making baby sounds.

will have three splendid cement school buildings.

C. E. Bowers has rented the Ellis & Williams building and is putting in a stock of new dry goods.

Alex Edwards has purchased an interest in the City Grocery.

W. T. McDaniel started his gin plant on Sept. 1st last year, and the run continued steadily until May 29th when he finished ginning and shut down his plant which had been in operation 8 months and 18 days. The plant of F. T. Sanders is still running. He still has about five hundred bales of cotton in his sheds and on the yards to gin.

J. R. Hopkins of Oklahoma is visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. B. Taylor. Mr. Hopkins has a three or four gallon iron pot that was brought over in the Mayflower in 1920. Mr. Hopkins says that he has refused several offers of $1,000 for the pot, and that it will go to his eldest son.

Haskell county was visited Tuesday by local snow and Wednesday morning it began to rain about 3 o'clock and rained for about four hours, putting a good season in the ground.

The Gold Skeletons of Panama

LESS than two hours by airplane from the Panama canal the Darien Indians protect one of the world's largest gold caches, buried with the dead. Since the Spanish explorers raided their villages, the Darien natives have kept all foreigners out. They value gold not for its wealth but because it is easily moulded and will not tarnish. When a chief dies a life-size golden skeleton is buried with him and each relative receives a small replica, also in gold. By the time a man passes away, he usually has quite a number of these replicas, and they are all buried with him. Thus the graves of Darien are veritable gold mines, filled with replica skeletons, called huacas. Since Dariens despise white men, few indeed are the huacas that have reached civilization.

LETTERS

From Our Readers

Haskell, Texas, May 15

There is much agitation among the people in regard to the European situation. Many people are in a frenzy for fear that we are going to the aid of England and France in the event of another European conflict. In my judgment, there is another way we will enter at the very beginning, but still I do not see any use of losing sleep of that fact. No one wants war unless it be the European dictators; they will avoid it, if possible to secure their wants without resorting to arms. Such I do not think they will be able to do. The demands they have made, especially upon France and England, will not be met without war. I hold no brief to speak for our former allies, neither do I have authority to say what our present administration will do in the event of another European conflict. My guess though is that we are already on the dotted line and our boys will be sailing the high seas in defense of the nations created in one of our President's peace dreams.

As I said in the beginning no one wants war, neither does one want to live under a dictatorial tyrant, such as some that rule some European people now with the iron hand. I hate war, but give me war in preference to a dictator, here or abroad.

Most of the agitation is in regard to sending troops to Europe again. No one wants to do it—but in the event of another World War, and we have to enter, which we will. I much prefer doing the fighting in their gardens rather than in our front yards. I have never been able to understand how one can get his mind in such a state that he wants his home attacked or destroyed before he is willing to offer his services in defense of same. Personally I prefer that those who start the war stand the brunt of same.

There are several things to consider before we pass judgment upon our former allies, especially England and France. We, along with England and France, pledged ourselves to protect and defend the creatures of the World War. In fact, those nations now being taken over by Germany were sired by our own then President. He was the virtual dictator of that peace conference. Those defenseless nations are our own war babies; or Woodrow Wilson's rather. It is true that we repudiated such by refusing to ratify the peace treaty, but still a great portion of America recognizes a moral obligation, so do our former allies in Europe.

When our then President boarded the George Washington to enter the east George Washington's Farewell Address to the four winds and forever begged America in Europe's petty political quacksand; that is that and we had as well face the music. At that time we should have refused to enter the peace conference at all; Congress should have passed a simple resolution that so far as America was concerned the war was over that the peace treaty belonged to Europe alone. To regain our national independence as held before the World War would require the elevation of a Borah or Johnson as President, but so long as those who were connected with the Wilson Administration as aides control the destinies of our government we will remain neck deep in Europe's affairs.

Then there is the question of just what kind of a treaty Germany would force France and England to sign in the event of a crushing defeat of the Democracies. Hitler has already stated that never again will the German people sit down in a peace conference without their guns. That statement alone means that the conquered would be ruled by the iron hand; that Europe would have to submit to his own master mind, which would be Lord over all. Now both England and France have possessions in America that in all probability Germany would demand; possibly Canada, also I certain to demand the Bermudas and the West Indies, British and French Guianas, and islands along the coast of South America. Then what would be our position; what if we did invoke the Monroe Doctrine, what good would it do? We would simply be a babe-in-the-woods, totalling lost at that. That arrangement we would not submit to without a struggle, a war that would totally destroy us for years to come. Now in that event you who prefer having your own mothers dodge aerial bombs could go, march forth to meet the enemy, but you would be defeated before you felt the bite of a coodle. No if there is a necessity to fight let's go to Europe to do it, do it while we have assistance.

Now should Congress pass the war referendum resolution now before it, let the same Congress in the same Resolution announce to the world that there is no longer a Monroe Doctrine, and that we as a nation will be no longer concerned beyond our own borders; that Canada, South and Central America, Mexico and all surrounding islands belong to Europe to pillage and rape; then refuse to sell or buy outside of our own borders.

To you who are scared out of your wits, the best thing you can do is to work for the passage of Tom Connolly's "No War Profits" Bill; then work to have every word on the statute books in regard to neutrality wiped out; try ever so hard to avoid war, our

HUGE APPETITES OF GROWING CHICKS NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

St. Louis, Mo.—"Baby chicks frequently surprise their owners because of the enormous appetites they develop by the time they're four weeks old," according to D. C. Purcell, Purina poultry authority. "Their eating capacity seems to grow much faster than the chicks themselves. Barely able to consume a thimbleful of feed a day at the start, each little fellow appears to have become 'all mouth,' with a bottomless crop by the time it's four weeks old.

"In tests conducted in our Purina Laboratories it has been found that it is perfectly normal for four-week-old chicks to have huge appetites. Good chicks weighing nine ounces at around four weeks of age often double their weight the next two weeks. This naturally calls for heavy eating, which should be encouraged by increasing both hopper and drinking fountain space, so that the chicks can eat all they want.

"Misled by the fear that chicks will over-eat, or for reasons of false economy, many chick raisers regulate or restrict the daily starting mash consumption of fast growing chicks.

DENTON, Texas—Cotton is no longer King. Yet the sharecropper family shown in the center picture above does not know it. Caught in the system of perpetual indebtedness and tied to a single cash crop—cotton—they are unaware that a new South is being born.

That South is a land which must learn to solve its problems in relation to its own geographical peculiarities, says Miss Mary Jo Cowling, instructor in geography at the North Texas State Teachers College. So Miss Cowling has organized a 6,000 mile tour of America's "forgotten land," the South, which will reveal the country below the Mason and Dixon line as an area of immense potential richness already building for tomorrow. The tour will last six weeks, from June 8 to July 17.

A new South glamorously studied with warm palm-fringed beaches, crystal lakes where fishermen find rich refuge and pleasure seekers rival each other in breath-taking water sports...

Rich in beauty, the new South should realize fully that its pleasure resorts can be increased, bear the section one of its biggest cash crops, says Miss Cowling—tourist trade.

A new South marching toward tomorrow, attacking such problems as erosion control, conserving its natural wealth as in the Tennessee farm shown above, where check dams, straw and brush are saving the soil. A new South which, through chemistry, is bringing science to its aid in utilization of agricultural crops in building a new industry.

The North Texas geography tour, which may be taken by students for college credit and by pleasure-seekers for pleasure, will

*This list includes county agents assigned to the various counties during the contest in 1938.

Terraces Alone Do More Good on Farm and Ranch Than $28,000,000 Marshall Ford Dam

WITHOUT expenditure of tax money and through the voluntary work of farmers, ranchmen, and county agents, over 50,000 linear miles of terraces—twice the distance around the world—were built in this West Texas region last year. They alone impounded 554,000 acre-feet of water, the same amount as that held by Marshall Ford Dam which will cost the taxpayers $28,000,000.

Terraces, along with a balanced program of contouring, strip-cropping, and earthen dams, stored moisture in the soil for crops, at the same time aiding flood control. Altogether they impounded over 1,000,000 acre-feet of water... all without tax expense.

Inasmuch as Marshall Ford and similar dams earned the reputation for being a "flood menace" during the same period, a lesson thereby is offered that the only effective curb on devastating floods must begin at the point where the rains fall.

Believing that industrial and agricultural development go hand-in-hand, this company has lent its efforts to promotion of soil and water conservation and the successful culmination of the 1938 soil and water utilization contest. Anything that benefits agriculture in the communities we serve also is beneficial to every other type of business and industry. It is our hope that the land may be passed on to the next generation in actually better condition than it is in this.

ust, 1885. Deceased had been a member of the Christian Church since early youth.

Mr. Grissom came to Haskell from Wise County in 1900. With his eldest son, Hardy, as partner a general merchandising business opened here under the firm name of C. D. Grissom & Son.

The business expanded rapidly into one of the largest business concerns in this section and the Grissom interests were extended into banking, livestock and farming.

About 25 years ago Mr. Grissom retired from his activities in merchandising. He was actively devoted to West Texas ranching and farming properties until early in 1938. Despite his advancing age he was an active and vigorous life until a grave illness last year confined him to his bed until death.

More than 10 years ago Mr. Grissom's sons entered the merchandising field in Abilene and their operations there met success of the type their father had led them into in Haskell. Ernest Grissom's and The Popular, widely-known Abilene department stores are owned and directed by the sons and their sons.

Survivors are: Mr. Grissom's wife Mrs. Florence Grissom; three sons, Hardy and Ernest of Abilene, and Clyde Grissom, Eastland, associate justice of the 11th court of civil appeals; a daughter, Mrs. J. Virgil Hudson, Haskell; ten grandchildren, Jack Russell of Waxahachie; Emily Jean, Virginia and Tom Frizzell Grissom, all of Eastland; Nancy Faye and Jack Hardy Grissom of Abilene; Edward and Charles Grissom and Mrs. Earl Guitler of Abilene; Great grandchildren are: Gail, Elizabeth and C. D. Grissom and Earl Guitler, Jr., all of Abilene; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Bowen of San Antonio, also survives.

Mrs. B. Cox was returned to her home Sunday from the Hendrick's Memorial Hospital in Abilene where she had undergone medical observation.

WEINERT SENIORS TAKE TRIP

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 is no primary number lesson; it's the roll call of the seniors on their annual trip. Even seniors get scattered and at the beginning of the trip we assumed a number for a name and each time the bus stopped we numbered before we proceeded.

It has become the custom for the seniors to take a trip each year, provided they can finance it, and this year they began early toward their goal. They had a considerable amount and won the prize of twenty five dollars at Denton which almost completed the fund. Each member of the party paid $1.50 and this furnished the total required, and on Monday morning May 15th at 5:30 o'clock the happy group drove away for Mexico, San Antonio and Austin. There were no rolls of dirty bedding to take up space and no greasy cooking utensils to mar our trip. Our class secretary made reservation ahead at special rates in a comfortable hotel in San Antonio, and our class sponsor, Mr. Perrin, and Mr. Duff arranged for the meals in the cafes along the route at special rates.

Our large new Dodge bus was perfect in performance, and with the skillful driver, Mr. Sloan, a comfortable and economic conveyance to the points of interest and also after we reached our destination.

The trip across the border, the stay in San Antonio and the visit to Austin were all interesting and educational, but to me the high point of the trip was crossing the international bridge at Del Rio, and seeing the town of Villa Acuna, Coahuila, Mexico.

One can not imagine the difference in customs of people living so near to each other. As we drove off the bridge on the Mexican side the customs house was similar, only much smaller, and there were practically the same officials. The first shops had signs written in English, but soon we found billboards we could not interpret. The drowsy looking, complacent, shop keepers, peddlers and loafers were enjoying comfort leaning against the gray adobe walls of the small buildings on either side of the narrow winding street, but when we drove our big orange bus into the town they seemed to exercise their latest energy, and by the time we got off to look the town over, the peddlers with baskets of trinkets and cigarettes on their arms swarmed the streets, and little black-eyed, dark-skinned boys seemed to bob up from every where, but there were few women on the streets. The shops were stocked principally with curios and while the seniors money lasted their proprietors did a thriving business. Occasionally as we walked down the street we avoided the garlic permeated the air around the eating places. Some of the girls complained that a fat man slightly inebriated lay sprawled across the sidewalk forcing them to walk in the street to get by. Their meat markets were a wonder to us since our meat is kept in refrigerators and theirs was hung like clothes on wash day across lines in their shops and the flies were defied to do their worst.

There were few automobiles except those of the tourists, and most of the people rode donkeys or rode in carts drawn by donkeys. We saw men harvesting wheat with a yoke. We were amused at their queer customs and they seemed to be very interested in us, and they were courteous to us. One of the business men volunteered to guide us over the town and help us find a place to park our bus, and give us the necessary information. We appreciated their courtesy and even though their customs amused us we respected them for we remembered that we were foreigners.

XERA, the broadcasting station seemed to be out of place in that old and primitive habits. It is housed in modern buildings and receives power to run its mass of complicated machinery from the United States. The manager took us through two large buildings and painstakingly explained the use of the different units. He showed us an extra tube which is kept for emergencies and he explained that it cost $38,000 which gave us an idea of the cost of the station since several tubes like it were installed.

The remainder of the trip was interesting but hardly as unusual as the crossing of the border. The whole experience will be vivid for years to come in the minds of the seniors of Weinert High School of the class of 1938-39.

Womanless Style Show to be Given at Mattson Soon

Sponsored jointly by the Mattson P. T. A. and the Weinert Baptist W. M. U., a "Womanless Style Show" will be staged in the Mattson high school auditorium on Tuesday night, May 30th.

Highlighting the performance, and one of the many mirth-provoking "bits" of the play, according to sponsors, is the scene when "Miss Roy Weaver" helps to select a trousseau for his younger sister, "Miss Elmer C. Watson". Other outstanding features on the program will include a solo by the famous prima donna, "Miss Bailey Guess" and vocal selections by a ladies quartet composed of "Misses" Halle Chapman, Leonard Force, T. D. McKinney and Bailey Guess and piano numbers by "Miss Fagan". The cast includes a number of other well-known celebrities of Weinert and Mattson.
