

COMPLETION OF GAP IN HIGHWAY 120 URGED AS CONTINUOUS PROJECT

LARGE CROWD SEES 'JUNK CAR' RACES SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Dunlap Wins Major Share of Awards; Races To Be Staged Again

Before an estimated crowd of five hundred automobile race fans in the grandstand at the race track of the Central West Texas Fair association Sunday afternoon, "Leadfoot" Paul Dunlap, local automobile mechanic, took advantage of the first two events on the triple-race program of "Junk Car" races to get the feel of the five-eighths mile track, and also to condition the motor of his entry. At the same time he came in second in both events for a cut in the purses offered for the 8 and 12-lap events.

Then he came confidently back to outdistance the field in the final 20-lap event and cop the day's fattest purse.

With ten cars entered for the afternoon's program, only seven started in the first race of 8 laps around the track. Wilbur Green, Haskell, in a V8 Ford, got the checkered flag in the first race, with Dunlap trailing.

Green repeated in the second event, 12 laps, and again Dunlap was on his heels, for second-place money.

In the first two events, awards were posted only for first and second place winners.

Concluding the afternoon's program was the 20-lap contest, with prize money for first, second and third place winners. Dunlap's Chevrolet was the first to complete the twelve and one-half mile grind, with Ball of Stamford in second place, and Green of Haskell third.

Race Again Sunday
The races will be staged again next Sunday afternoon, with more cars and drivers assured, sponsors announced following the events Sunday afternoon. Additional entries are being received daily, and at least twenty drivers are expected in next Sunday's races, sponsors said.

First event on the program will begin promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

During the six years that Mr. Diggs has served as local postmaster, service of the Haskell office has been extended on all rural routes out of Haskell, along with other improvements in the mail service locally. CHURCH OF CHRIST GOSPEL MEETING TO BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY

The local congregation of churches of Christ will begin the annual summer meeting next Lord's day with J. P. Prevatt of Miami, Fla., doing the preaching. Mr. Prevatt is a graduate of Potter Bible College of Bowling Green, Kentucky, of the class of 1911. He is also a graduate of the University of Florida. He was a professor in Cordell Christian College for several years, leaving that position to become the head of Dasher Bible School of Valdosta, Georgia.

His ability as a preacher and congregational builder is measured by the fact that he served as minister of the church of his boyhood home, Gainesville, Florida, for several years; and that for eight years he has served one of the churches in Miami. Fully equal to his ability as an expounder of the gospel is his winning personality. Now in the prime of life, he is full of rich experiences.

Mr. Prevatt is a very devoted friend of the local minister, J. G. Malphurs. They were class friends in the high school in Gainesville, Fla., and the same ministerial college in Bowling Green, Ky. He baptized Mr. Malphurs, and performed the ceremony when Mr. and Mrs. Malphurs were married.

The highway commission has already allotted the sum of $25,000 to be expended in construction of grade and drainage structures on the six-mile stretch of the highway, with work to be started in the immediate future. It is estimated that this sum will complete primary construction work of the highway for a distance of three and one-half miles, and the Haskell group is urging an additional allotment by the State Highway Department to provide for completion of the entire six-mile stretch including caliche base and asphalt topping as a single project. Right-of-way for the entire distance has already been secured by the Commissioners Court, it was pointed out to Mr. Hines.

The highway commissioner assured the Haskell group that as soon as engineer's surveys and estimates covering the six miles of highway were completed, he felt reasonably sure the Highway Commission would give the project favorable consideration.

NEGROES CHARGED IN RECENT THEFTS OF COW, TURKEYS

Wills Point Negro Alleged to Have Butchered Stolen Animal

Charge with cow theft, a Wills Point negro was arrested last week by Sheriff Olen Dotson, and is being held in the county jail to await action of the Grand Jury.

The animal was butchered in an adjoining pasture, officers said. Johnson implicated another negro in the theft in statements made to officers, they reported.

Sheriff Dotson also reported the arrest of two Weiner negroes, Fred Griffin and Leo Johnson, who are charged with the theft of six turkeys from the farm of Ben Bruton near Weiner. Assurance that the State Highway Commission was vitally interested in the early completion of Highway 120 west from Rule to the Stonevally county line, was given a group of Haskell businessmen and Chamber of Commerce officials by Hon. The Haskell group composed a delegation that attended the Jones county pioneer's celebration held last week, and they conferred with Mr. Hines while he was in Anson as principal speaker on Friday's program. In the group were Sam A. Roberts, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Ralph E. Duncan, secretary-manager, John A. Couch, T. C. Cahill, and Dr. T. W. Williams.

The highway commission has already allotted the sum of $25,000 to be expended in construction of grade and drainage structures on the six-mile stretch of the highway, with work to be started in the immediate future. CHARITY FIGHT PROGRAM PLANNED HERE POSTPONED

Events Called Off When Out-of-Town Boxers Unable to Attend

To the disappointment of a large number of fans, amateur fights which had been arranged as a charity event at the Firemen's Arena in this city last Friday night, were at the last minute indefinitely postponed.

Postponement of the event became necessary late Friday afternoon when boxers who had been entered from surrounding towns—matched with local fighters—were unable to take part in the tournament.

Last-minute calls to surrounding towns failed to provide suitable material for the matches, and as a last resort the affair was called off, with sponsors hopeful that the charity event could be staged without a hitch in the near future.

All proceeds from the affair had been pledged to a county-wide charity fund, and sponsors had been given liberal support of Haskell, Rule and Rochester merchants in advertising the event. Local sponsors, expressing regret that the event was "called off" at the last minute, expressed their appreciation for the liberal support and cooperation given in planning the tournament.

Highway Official Explains Meaning of Governor's Veto

Relative to the veto by the Governor of approximately $1,000,000.00 of the appropriation to the Highway Department for the next biennium, Julian Montgomery, State Highway Engineer, issued the following statement today:

Heretofore, only the Department employees at the central office in Austin were itemized in the Appropriation Bill.

It is my opinion that Governor O'Daniel had no desire actually to reduce the needed personnel of the State Highway Department and thereby interfere with its efficient operation. It is my belief that the Governor felt that the practice followed in previous years of carrying these positions as non-budget items was more simple and that to permit the itemization of these positions in the Appropriation Bill for the next biennium would create erroneous impression that the Highway Department was receiving $1,000,000.00 more for the biennium than formerly.

As matters stand today, the personnel of the Highway Department has been reduced to the absolute minimum required for efficient operation.

It is my opinion that Governor O'Daniel had no desire actually to reduce the needed personnel of the intention of doing anything that would prevent the Department from continuing the 327 necessary field employees itemized, and which he vetoed from the Highway Department's appropriation.

Farmall Dealer Lists Features of New Tractor

"I couldn't believe it until I saw it," said W. L. Richey who has just attended a preview of the new Farmall-A tractor, held at Sweetwater by the International Harvester Company.

"This latest rubber-tired addition to the Farmall line," continued Mr. Richey, "which sells for a new low Farmall price, brings the grower of row crops something he has never had before—full vision of the work that is being done under the tractor. Just as television brings the radio listener something he has never been able to see, so the Farmall A enables the man who is cultivating corn or other row crops to see what he is doing without having to crane his neck or twist his body."

At its interesting low price this new Farmall-A will be in big demand immediately. Production at the factory is in full swing and samples should arrive soon.

'39 Cotton Price Payment Plan Is Being Simplified

COLLEGE STATION—Administrative affairs of the AAA this week took a turn toward simplicity. B. F. Nance, assistant state administrator, announced distribution of an application blank for 1939 cotton price adjustment payments which is hailed here as the simplest form ever used for this purpose.

It will cause a substantial reduction of errors and corrections in applications, Vance said. "Undoubtedly the form will save time and money," he predicted, "as most any sixth-grader could fill it out without much trouble. Fewer errors will mean fewer suspensions of applications for payment and smoother distribution of cotton price adjustment checks."

Sometimes referred to as a "parity" payment, this reward for planting within cotton acreage allotments, which is 1.6 cents a pound on the normal yield of the allotment, is expected to add approximately $22,500,000 to buying power of Texas cotton producers.

At its interesting low price this new Farmall-A will be in big demand immediately. Production at the factory is in full swing and samples should arrive soon.

Strip Crops Help In Prevention of Soil, Water Loss

Farmers who are cooperating in the water facilities program on California Creek watershed are planting strip crops to aid in reducing soil and water losses on their farms, according to T. P. Porter, Project Agronomist. These strip crops consist of close - growing, fibrous - rooted, crops, such as small grain, Sudan grass or sorghum, which are planted in bands 40 to 50 feet in width. These bands are spaced at regular intervals across the fields and are on the contour. Consequently, when run-off water flows across a field on which these strips are growing, it is intercepted by the strips and has a tendency to spread out and deposit much of its silt load.

Strip crops are urged in connection with other conservation measures, such as contour cultivation and terracing in order to strengthen and protect those devices in holding soil and water. On the more level fields which have absorptive soils, the strips are used in connection with contour cultivation. On sloping fields and on fields which have heavy soils that absorb water slowly, terraces are necessary to hold the water on the land long enough to be absorbed. In such cases, strips are planted in connection with the terrace system.

Farmers who constructed new terraces this year before planting time, planted crops on the terraces. Thus, the close-growing crops used for this purpose is better able to utilize the surplus water that collects against the terraces, and at the same time, it protects the terrace against erosion during the period when it is settling.

Those farmers who were unable to construct terraces before planting time, but who plan to do so later, had their terrace lines run and planted strip crops along the terrace lines. In this manner, they not only expect to get protection against erosion, but the strip provides a means to mark the terrace line, and because they are planted to crops that can be harvested early, they expect to be able to start terrace construction sooner, Porter said.

We wanted to bring one of these new FARMALL-A tractors back with us, so you could have a look at it right away, but there weren't enough to go around. We'll have one before long, though and you'll really want to see it. It's the tractor to do all the work on a small farm, or to replace the last team on a large farm!

The most satisfactory way to sweeten fruit punches is by a syrup, Mrs. Otis Matthews told the women of the Mattson H. D. Club when they met at the Home Ec building on July 13th.

Mr. Merchant:

TO SELL 'EM YOU'VE GOT TO

TELL 'EM

Each Week The Free Press Reaches 2,000 Families Waiting to be

Told and Sold

The headline to this advertisement isn't merely a catchy but meaningless jingle—the thought it expresses is really based on the soundest logic and soundest merchandising, as a moment of reflection will prove. For it stands to reason that before a merchant can make a sale to a customer he must attract that customer into his store.

Every merchant knows the value of location — he knows that if his store is situated on a street which has considerable sidewalk traffic his business will vary in proportion to this traffic. He knows, too, that this takes place because potential customers are attracted by his offerings displayed in his windows. He sees to it that his windows tell passersby that he has money-saving values for them.

Free Press advertising offers all the advantages of an ideal "traffic" location and more. It is the modern magic carpet which transports more than 2,000 Haskell families on a tour of Haskell advertisers' stores each week. It is the medium by which the greatest number of potential customers can be told at the least cost.

And Free Press advertising sells 'em as it tells 'em! Haskell families have found that it is a reliable index to authentic values. That it gives them a chance to compare price and quality . . . that it saves them time and trouble and money . . . that it enables them to do their marketing in an easy chair. It sells 'em, furthermore, because it finds them in a receptive mood . . . at home.

Mr. Merchant, 2,000 Haskell County families are waiting to be told and sold. Use the Free Press—the most efficient and most economical advertising medium—to tell 'em and sell 'em!

The Consistent Advertiser Gets The Best Results!

It pays to advertise consistently! Regular insertions add to the prestige and reputation of the advertiser, for they indicate that he has day in and day out values for Haskell shoppers—values that are important enough to be publicized.

Lack of advertising creates a negative impression—it implies that the merchant has no values worth advertising. Advertise in the Free Press every week to attract Haskell shoppers every week!

Future Farmers of America

There is no group of young citizens in this section to whom the entire citizenship look with greater comfort and pride than to the Future Farmers of America. They are our fondest hope. They are the leaders of our great tomorrow, and if there is one quality above all other that characterizes the Future Farmers of America, it is the quality of leadership.

Where in this country could we find so many young men so well qualified for leadership as among the 200,000 students of vocational agriculture, who are the members of the 6,000 local chapters of the Future Farmers? Where in this state could we find so many young men so well prepared for leadership as among the splendid groups who call this their home?

"Texas needs more organizations of young people with the same major objectives as the Future Farmers," commented the Hon. Pierce Brooks, speaking recently before the 4-H Clubs. "The development of leadership, cooperation and citizenship are the attributes most needed for the prosperity and progress of our community. State and Nation."

In pioneer days individuals largely determined their own destiny. They had to rely almost entirely on their own energy and initiative and the cultivation of the land. As long as there was a frontier, they could move to new land when erosion and over cropping had taken too great toll of soil and fertility. Their needs were few. They asked little of society and in return contributed little to society.

Texas became a Republic more than 100 years ago, but Texas still had frontier land for many decades after it was first settled. The disappearance of the greater portion of the land frontier has resulted in the necessity for a new kind of farming. Your farm production will have to be continued largely on land now under cultivation. Modern agriculture demands that farmers work and plan together in the spirit of cooperation.

Future Farmers are learning how to cooperate and to stand on their own feet.

50-Year Men Honored

At Memphis a few days ago 19 railroad men, each of whom had completed a half-century of service with the Illinois Central, were honored at a luncheon given by J. L. Beven, president of the road, and each was given a gold pass, good on all trains of the system.

It is interesting to note that nine of these 19 veterans were locomotive engineers. The 10 others included a conductor, division superintendent, chief dispatcher, local attorney, agent, gang foreman, yard clerk, section laborer, travelling auditor and a chief operator.

In the group was C. P. Chandler of Memphis, one of three brothers, all engineers still in active service after more than 50 years with the road. R. T. McMillan of Centralia, Ill., also an engineer, represents a family which has furnished three generations of Illinois Central employees. R. L. Stokes of Memphis is another engineer whose two brothers have each served nearly fifty years in the same capacity.

Many interesting facts might be told of the other veterans who deservedly honored by President Beven, and it may be mentioned that since the custom was established in 1936 no less than 146 I. C. employees have received the gold passes awarded for 50 years of service.

Brazil's Army Chief

Considerable significance is attached to the present visit to the United States of General Pedro Gomes Monteiro, chief of staff of the Brazilian Army, following that of Brazil's foreign minister a few months ago.

The desire of President Roosevelt to strengthen the ties of friendship with Brazil is indicated by the somewhat unusual efforts which have been made to favorably impress both of these distinguished visitors.

To pay special honor to General Monteiro our government first sent our own General Marshall, who is to become chief of staff of the United States Army in August, to Brazil on a military mission which including bringing Monteiro back with him on the American cruiser Nashville.

All this is a bit of diplomacy designed to keep Brazil from leaning in the direction of Germany, which is making a desperate effort to increase its influence in Latin-America. Germany had previously invited General Monteiro to visit that country, but our government induced him to "see America first."

General Monteiro and his staff will make a tour of the country, extending to the Pacific coast, and will be given every opportunity to form an idea of the vast resources and potential military might of the United States.

Ghost Writers

The employment of "ghost writers" by statesmen and others to write speeches for them is a very ancient custom, according to Senator Ashurst of Arizona, who himself is one of the greatest of contemporary orators.

He said it seemed well established that Nero the Roman emperor, delivered speeches written by his prime minister, Seneca, and that Julius Caesar had a ghost writer named Hirtius. Ashurst quoted Senator Vandenberg as authority for the statement that Alexander Hamilton, wrote all but four lines of George Washington's famous Farewell Address.

The ghost writers have often caused their clients much embarrassment by cribbing from the writings of others. The most tragic instance of the sort is told of Speaker John White of the Twenty-Fifth Congress who employed a writer to prepare his farewell speech to the House.

It seems, Ashurst said, that the writer copied extensively from the farewell address of Vice-President Aaron Burr, delivered before the Senate in 1805. When the source of the language used was discovered, White was "so overcome with mortification and disgust that he committed suicide."

Which is a warning that if a statesman must have a ghost writer he should be careful to select one that won't let him down.

Time to Bait Our Hook!

LETTERS From Our Readers

REPLY TO REP. HUNT

In the issue of the Free Press of June 30 our Rep. Mr. Hunt in his letter to the public gave his reasons why he voted against S. J. R. No. 12. I wish to say that I am a Democrat, sired by a Confederate Soldier, rocked in a democrat cradle, taught from childhood up to stand one hundred per cent for equal rights to all and special privileges to none. Believing this I feel that the voters of District 113 have received a slap in the face and have been given a dirty deal. Why do I say this? My first reason is when our Rep. and the other 55 voted against S. J. R. No. 12 they said by their actions that the voters of our great State of Texas did not have sense enough to vote with intelligence. Our Rep. Mr. Hunt who is our servant and we the people of district 113 his master assumes by his actions that he is better qualified than his master to settle this question. When the master speaks the servant should obey but it seems that our Rep. and the other 55 feel that they are the Master and the people are the Servants.

"By their fruits ye shall know them."

I would like for our Rep. to answer a few questions. During his campaign was he not asked how he stood on the Old Age Pension? This question was asked him through the County Papers and if he answered it I nor any one whom I have been able to see have seen it in print. All I have seen that he said was, "I voted for the Old Age Pension". He dodged the question. Why did he not come clean and answer this question. My second question is did you not, Mr. Hunt, tell several old people in front of Mr. Tyler's Grocery Store that you would not vote to put a tax on, but would leave it up to the people. If the majority said put a tax on, would you change? Did you know that one act is worth more than a hundred promises? My third question is why should our Governor call a special session as our Rep. suggests. I ask what is the use of him calling one? Our Rep. was down there over one hundred days costing the taxpayers of Texas nearly a million dollars this summer. This reminds me of the story told of Tommy. Tommy's mother was cooking pies and Tommy said, "Mother if you will give me some of the pie I will do the chores, slop the hogs, feed the chickens and bring in the wood. He got a good sized piece of pie, then he forgot his promises. He did not make good his promises and yet he came back and asked his mother for another piece of pie. Mother said, "No Tommy, you did not do as you promised. I'll not give you another piece of pie. So Tommy sat down and began to cry because he wanted another piece of pie. It seems that our Rep. sure wants some more pie with the other 55. I will venture to say that the letters our Rep. received were not from the Farming and Laboring class in his District. Unless it was from the fellow that is trying to gobble up the whole country and work it with labor at starvation prices. If I am wrong it is up to Mr. Hunt to bring forth the undisputable proof. I fear our Rep. has got himself in a hot spot.

I close by saying to the people of District 113. Let us from now on put men in office that are true democrats at heart. That believe in equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

Respectfully,

W. B. Arnold,

TEXAS OUT-O'-DOORS

AUSTIN, Texas—Recommendations which, if adopted by the United States Bureau of Biological Survey, would give Texas duck hunters considerably better sport, were strongly urged upon Ira N. Gabrielson, Bureau Chief, by Will J. Tucker, Executive Secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at the recently annual meeting of the National Game and Fish Commissioners Association.

Tucker asked that Texas, which biological survey reports indicate had 100 per cent more ducks last season than the previous year, be allowed shooting to start at sunrise rather than at 7 A. M.; that earlier shooting be allowed in the north half of the State and that the use of a few live decoys be permitted.

These are the things Texas sportsmen have been urging ever since the biological survey set down stringent rules several years ago in an effort, which is proving successful, to save migratory waterfowl from extinction.

Final approval of the duck season and all restrictions will be made this year for the first time by Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the Department of the Interior, to which the biological survey was recently transferred. At present there are no indications of the season, its length or the limitations. Tucker said upon his return to Austin from the national meeting.

Coyotes, known as the most canny animal in Texas, get along! One hungry old coyote must have found the foraging rather tough recently, but he coped with the situation by catching and eating fish, believe it or not! State Game Warden P. D. Mosely of Canadian and J. H. Maggard of Amarillo, while patrolling near Tascosa, saw a coyote at the edge of the Canadian River, but paid little attention after the animal sneaked away. However, they saw the same coyote at the same spot at approximately the same time the following morning and were able to sneak up close enough to see the coyote scooping minnows five and six inches in length out of the river and devouring them.

Six more beaver have been trapped in southwest Texas and placed in the streams of Jasper and Walker counties, making a total of a dozen of the busy dam builders which have been put to work in East Texas.

The drought in certain sections of South Texas and the Hill Country has hit game birds and animals hard and it has become necessary for the State Game Department to feed wild turkeys in a dozen Hill Country counties. Seven game wardens are engaged in feeding the birds, which is vitally necessary in order to save sufficient stock for breeding purposes next season. The turkey crop this year will be well below normal in the Hill Country, Earl Sanders, Game Department Regional Game Manager at Kerrville, reports.

Texas can and is raising elk. The big game animal is protected the year 'round in the Lone Star State. A herd of forty-four planted in Jeff Davis county in 1927 has increased until there are now nearly 300 animals in the herd.

Triplet deer are very unusual, does usually giving birth to a pair, but Texas has at least two does which are more than doing their share in keeping the State stocked with deer. A does on the W. H. Ramsey farm three miles from Kerrville recently had three deer for the fourth consecutive year. She is not yet five years old. The other deer which has proved very prolific is one on the Hyatt Brothers Ranch near Johnson City. She recently had her third set of triplets. She has given birth to seventeen young, including four sets of twins, in the last seven years.

The Southwestern Sportsmen's Show held in Amarillo for one week and which was the first show of its kind ever staged in the Southwest, will be repeated next year, it was announced by Gene Howe of Amarillo, sponsor of the show and a member of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Several other cities in Texas have expressed interest in sponsoring such a program.

Question For Women

Many women and girls of the South and West are being asked—"Were you helped by CARDUI?" In twelve cities first visited by Reporters, 93 per cent of all the users queried said they were definitely benefited! CARDUI is a good stimulant of appetite and digestion; thus it assists women to build resistance and so helps them avoid pains of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Body Needs More Salt To Prevent Heat Prostration

The beating Texas sun these July days is beginning to take its toll in heat prostrations, from reports reaching the Texas State Department of Health. A simple precaution to help prevent heat cramps and prostration is to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat lag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body loses large quantities of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be used. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramps are characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then various muscles begin to cramp.

Decline In Texas Bankruptcies Is Shown In Survey

Only 19 Texas bankruptcies occurred during May, compared with 30 during April, The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has found.

Liabilities of the bankrupt firms also shrank sharply, totaling only $199,000 as against $402,000 during the preceding month. Assets of the failing concerns were likewise small, $148,000 as opposed to $446,000 for April.

Only twelve commercial failures occurred in May of last year, with liabilities of $241,000 and assets of $115,000.

Haskell County History

40 Years Ago—July 22, 1899

Great preparations are being made for the annual reunion of old Confederates on the Clear Fork near Elmsville. The grounds are being improved and enlarged and some conveniences added that were not previously had. We never saw such a crop of sorghum and feedstuff of various kinds as is growing in Haskell county.

They say the magic lantern men had a good crowd out to see his "show" Thursday night, to-wit: Henry Post, Sheriff Collins and Wilbur Wright.

R. M. Dickenson went out to his pasture after the heavy rain and thunderstorm this week, and found nine dead swine lying along near one line of the fence that had from all appearances been killed by lightning. Mr. DeLong has bought R. E. DeBard's farm in the western part of the county—the one known as the old Vernon place. J. J. Head from Comanche county arrived here this week and has decided to locate in this county. He has a well boring outfit and expects to engage in the well-digging business here.

Walter Wright left Thursday on his return to the I. T. with the remnant of his horses, about 45 head. He was accompanied by J. C. Bohannon, who wanted to take a look at the country.

Mr. Allen of Montague county, who recently purchased the F2 ranch of 1280 acres on the Brazos in the northwest part of the county, arrived this week with his family and went out to occupy the place.

The debate which was to take place here on the 20th inst. between Messrs. Jno. Couch and Marshall Person of Haskell and Messrs. Alex Britton and Lee Hill of Seymour has fallen through. Mr. Britton, who is a practicing attorney, has decided that he hasn't the time to give the debate.

Holding Phillipines By U. S. Called Way to Far East Peace

SAN FRANCISCO—Paul V. McNutt, American High Commissioner to the Philippine Islands, in a speech before the Commonwealth Club of California recommended a "re-examination of the Philippine independence problem," with regard to political and economic issues in the Islands themselves, and to affairs in the United States as well.

According to his view of the situation the United States would make a mistake to deliver up full control of all the 7,003 islands with their 16,000,000 population. The problem, he declared, has not been fully presented to the American public nor to Congress. He held that outside interests, plus a few isolationists, some vigorous islanders who sought independence without looking to the future, and numerous persons who honestly believed in independence as an inalienable right, had put over the fallacy that this country would be better rid of the Phillipines, economically and politically.

He documented his address with carefully worked out statistics and historical data which tended to prove that while the United States since 1909 has moved in the direction of preparing the Phillipines for full independence in the political field, in this same period it has moved in the opposite direction economically, making the Islands more dependent than ever on the mainland.

He contended that this two-way policy fogged the issue. Rather, he maintained, the United States had better take full stock of the whole long and short range situation in the Phillipines before going ahead on the assumption that all will be well for the Filipinos, for American Far Eastern and world foreign policy, for American trade, and for world peace.

The Commissioners described the Islands as "the only bright, prosperous, and healthy spot in the Orient." The Philippine budget, he explained, is balanced, on a pay-as-you-go plan. The per capita national debt is less than $2. The taxes are low, the government is free (now with only general observation and supervisory regulation by a High Commissioner), and the educational system is modern.

He maintained that Philippine trade does not operate to any great disadvantage to mainland producers or to farmers; for the Islands' farm imports to the United States are exceeded by the export of farm produce to the Phillipines. As for Philippine sugar encroaching on domestic sugar production, Mr. McNutt maintained that "Philippine sugar has never replaced an ounce of domestic sugar—it is the Cuban sugar that has been in competition with Philippine sugar."

He suggested that the United States keep in its hands the determination of Philippine foreign policy, currency, tariff, public debt, and immigration; all these bearing on the proximity to an overpopulated Far East with aggressive ideas. The United States keeping its flag waving in the Far East will contribute immeasurably, he observed "toward peaceful reconstruction."

SIDELIGHTS OF INDUSTRY

Midget Marker—

Forgotten consumers are the undersized families who can't afford the luxury of oversized eatables. Even a one pound package of coffee grows stale on the shelves of a two member family. Turkeys are taboo for a table for two.

Agriculturists, however, are catering to the new midget market. On research farms they're breeding birds that weigh as little as six pounds when fully grown, have chunky drumsticks, and plenty of tender white meat. Baby watermelons of excellent flavor have been developed to fit the refrigerator and the dinette.

Other modern Gullivers are raised midget cows which produce more milk and consume only half as much feed. Apple trees, dwarfed to 10 feet, save wear and tear on the pickers.

In New England where farms are small oil barrels are being replaced by 2-1-2 gallon cans which bring a wide variety of lubricants to farmers at a saving of space and working capital.

Lucky Motorists!—Motorists fortunate enough to get a flat on the new bridges and tunnels leading into metropolitan New York may sit placidly at the wheel while uniformed attendants swiftly change the tire—gratis!

It's a plot on the part of road officials to keep the bridge and tunnel traffic moving. The quicker the tire is changed, the quicker the motorist will be on his way—and out of the way, highway officials figure. The service is being publicized by television as a means of keeping traffic moving.

Popular Tennis!—Henry VIII, who wielded a tennis racket, probably would have found asphalt courts to his liking—at less than one-twelfth the cost of a 16th century court!

The evolution of tennis from royal pastime to a serious hobby for more than 7,000,000 commoners has kept industry busy supplying surfacing materials to meet rigorous modern demands.

Emulsified petroleum asphalt combined with cork, rubber, or bagasse makes it an outstanding material, tennis experts say, because it gives the much needed "spring" underfoot and the uniformly true bounce to the ball.

At Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., where many of the old-time hard surface courts are being converted with this new attractively-colored material, upkeep is one-tenth the monthly cost of other courts.

Equally useful surfacing material is the special petroleum oil used on dusty bridge paths. City park commissioners say it is light enough not to clog the surface of the path, yet heavy enough to lay the dust.

Arctic Servicing!—Tractor service stations with supplies of motor fuel, oil and food will make the going easier and safer for federal scientists on a forthcoming trip to the South Pole.

Moving toward the Pole on regular schedules, the mobile service station men will deliver the supplies at airplane depots. Planes will make quick trips between bases and distant ground parties, dropping the supplies.

Fliers will be equipped with radio directional compasses capable of sending beam signals over a wide area, thus making easy a hasty dash back to camp in case of sudden fog or snow. Scientific improvements in food and espe-

Pueblo Ruins In New Mexico Yield Ancient Pottery

Excavation of a ruin near Glorieta Pass, N. M., of Pueblo origin, dating from about 1392 A. D. by an archaeological research party of Texas Technological College students resulted in the uncovering of many pieces of pottery dating from the 14th century, several thousand sherds, several effigies, and various cooking vessels.

Dr. W. C. Holden, dean and director of historical, anthropological, and social science research and director of the party, described the six weeks' field trip as "very successful." The group brought back about a dozen pottery pots which will be fully restored. In addition, pieces of modern pottery were obtained from living pueblos visited in New Mexico and Arizona and later will be exhibited in the West Texas Museum on the Tech Campus.

The group visited 14 living pueblos, going as far west as Hopi. At Hopi and Zuni the party saw Indian rain dances. Dr. Holden pointed out that the Zuni and Hopi Indians are the most unspoiled and least affected of the American Indians. The party spent five days at the Navajo reservation and went to Canyon de Chelly northwest of Gallup.

It is necessary for the average brakes to convert to heat as much as 500-horsepower of work in stopping a car from a speed of 70 miles an hour.

Smitty has the best brake lining to be had anywhere, and for less money. We also have the latest type brake relining machine for "Delining", "Relining", "Drilling", "Countersinking", and "Contour Buffing." The best is none too good for our customers.

Less vacuum is created in the cylinders and less oil will suck up past the pistons if the foot is removed from the accelerator slowly when driving long distance.

Less grief is had and more money saved when you buy your auto needs from Smitty.

There are few cases on record of automobiles being struck by lightning despite the fact there is water all about. The rubber tires are excellent protection against this agency of nature.

There are no cases on record of a customer finding a better bargain than the kind Smitty puts out. Trading here is protection against getting cheated.

One of the greatest aids to detecting noises in the car is to allow the vehicle to coast. If the noise is in the engine the fact will be revealed by its disappearance when the power plant is idle. If it is in the body it will be apparent by its continuance.

One of the greatest aids to money saving is to shop at Smittys for ALL auto needs.

In repairing the starter motor, sparking caused by the bare end of the battery cable touching some metal part, can be prevented by slipping a short length of rubber hose over the cable end as soon as it is removed from the starter.

In repairing any part of the car it is a good rule to install genuine Smitty parts. This is the one place where a guarantee means something.

The mechanism of an automobile contains more than 15,000 parts.

The Smitty Auto Supply of Haskell and Munday contain over fifty five hundred different parts for your convenience in making speedy and permanent repairs.

Texas Congressmen Urge Establishment Cotton Laboratory To Serve West Texas

Washington — Request for a Cotton Ginning and Fiber Laboratory for West Texas was brought directly to Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture by a committee of Texas Congressmen on Saturday. Those concurring with the Secretary were Representatives George Mahon of Colorado, Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, and Bob Poage of Waco, composing a Committee appointed by the Texas Delegation several weeks ago to cooperate with the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas in sponsoring the Laboratory for the western cotton area.

The work sought for West Texas would be done in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture's Cotton Ginning and Fiber Laboratory now existing at Stoneville, Mississippi. The Laboratory there was established in 1930 and has done considerable valuable work in the improvement of cotton fiber and ginning methods in areas characterized by damp atmospheric conditions. It was pointed out to Secretary Wallace that an altogether different situation exists in the western cotton area where atmospheric conditions are dry and often result in static electricity, which is a serious handicap in the operation of gins and at the same time is a serious fire hazard. The Texas Extension Service has estimated that gins in the West Texas area lose an average of four days per month during the ginning season from this cause, and also that 59 out of 3,498 gins in Texas burned last year.

The greater benefit from experimentation under such a project would be expected from the improvement in the cotton fiber, thus enabling the individual farmer to benefit directly from the higher price value of better staples. Importance of improved ginning methods was stressed as a necessary part of the cotton improvement campaign sponsored by the Department of Agriculture through one variety cotton communities, etc. The Department has estimated that cotton staple last year was increased 1-32 of an inch, which added approximately three million dollars to the cotton farmers' income through increased staple value. The Committee urged Secretary Wallace to give special consideration to the proposed Laboratory as a means of bringing greater benefits of the cotton improvement campaign to the farmers of the western cotton area.

Several weeks ago various conferences were held with Department of Agriculture officials by members of the Texas Delegation Committee and the State-Wide Cotton Committee of Texas, including Hon. Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, Chairman, and Professor Earl Heard, Head of the Textile Engineering Department of Texas Technological College. The meeting with Secretary Wallace Saturday was for the purpose of emphasizing directly to him the need for the project and urging his recommendation of the project in the Department's budget for the next fiscal year.

Representative Mahon, Chairman of the Texas Delegation Committee, explained that no new legislation would be necessary since the Act establishing the Stoneville Laboratory authorized establishment of branch laboratories when their need was evident. He also pointed out that the availability of facilities at Texas Technological College for cooperation with the Stoneville Laboratory would enable the Department to conduct the project without extensive allotment of funds. The Department estimates that approximately $75,000 would be required for the first year's work.

LeRoy Fessaire returned to Snyder Monday after a visit with friends in Haskell.

SURE, you need a VACATION

... and don't let anybody tell you different! There was a time when the world was such a slow-poke sort of place that you didn't need to get away from your business and rest up. But those days, as the saying goes, are gone forever . . . Whatever you do, whether you're a farmer, a merchant, a housewife, a banker, a publisher—you name it—the doctors say you need to get away at least once in a while and rest your mind with a change of scenery, revitalize your body with a change of activity . . . Well, it's easy enough to do in this day and age; there's your car waiting in the garage, and in Houston, there's Humble Touring Service all set up to help you plan a vacation trip . . . And that part of it—Humble Touring Service's part of it—doesn't cost you a dime; the Touring Service is operated to give you, without cost or obligation, every assistance in planning a trip to and from any part of North America. . . . Stop at your Humble Service Station and ask for a Touring Service card (it requires no postage); use it to tell the Touring Service where you want to go—they do the rest . . . And while you're in the station, why not leave your car to be checked over for the trip—you'll want it looking good and running right while you're away!

Small House In North Part City Burned Tuesday

A small house in the north part of town occupied by Ray Oliphant and family, was destroyed by fire late Tuesday evening, together with practically all contents. The blaze started from an oil stove, fire department officials said, and flames had practically consumed the small structure when fire equipment arrived at the scene. Loss was estimated at $150.00.

Firemen answered an alarm turned in from the Haskell Motor Company Wednesday morning, when gasoline being used to clean an automobile greasing rack became ignited and threatened damage to the building. Only slight damage resulted from the blaze, it was reported.

Haskell Band Will Play at Methodist Meeting Saturday

The Haskell Municipal Band will have a part in the evening services of the First Methodist Church Saturday evening, and will play several numbers during the evening. Sermon subject for the evening will be "The Last Step". Large crowds have been attending daily services during the two weeks revival meeting, which will close Sunday night. Services are being held on the church lawn each night. Assisting the local pastor Rev. A. C. Haynes in the meeting are Rev. B. L. Nance and Rev. H. H. Hamilton.

Rev. Haynes will go to Leuders Monday, where he will take a course in the Intermediate Assembly of the Stamford and Vernon districts from Monday through Friday.

Church of Christ—

He comes to Haskell as a pure man, a lovable character and an efficient preacher of the gospel. Mrs. Prevatt and one daughter will accompany him, and they will of course, make their home with the Malphurs family.

Mr. Otta Johnson, formerly of Haskell, but now preaching for the church in Rule, will have charge of the song worship, and that means good singing.

Comfortable seats to take care of the largest attendance for years were placed on the lawn Thursday. Friday night a sandwich supper is to be served on the lawn at 7:30. Brother Johnson will be present for song drill. Besides singing and eating members will take the occasion to make further plans to boost the meeting. Visitors are invited to come and enjoy the evening with the local congregation. The evangelist might be here in time for the supper.

The first sermon will be at eleven o'clock, then each evening at eight-fifteen. The day services will be at four o'clock.

Frame Gardens Being Used On Numerous Farms

Frame gardens have been built on approximately fifty farms in Haskell county this year under the sponsorship of the Extension Service and Farm Security Administration. Vegetables are flourishing under the thin cloth coverings of the frames while outside gardens are drying up and blowing away, especially where ample irrigation facilities have not been available during the extremely hot weather of the past week.

This device for outwitting the weather man has been used by a few progressive farmers throughout the Southwest for many years, according to Miss Annie Mae Hudson, Home Management Supervisor for FSA in Haskell and Stonewall counties. Only in recent years, however, has the frame garden been utilized by farmers of this immediate section.

One of the best examples of a frame garden is on the farm of John A. Clark at Sagerton. Lettuce, mustard and spinach are being used from it regularly now and beets and radishes will be ready during the next few weeks. As rapidly as the soil is cleared of its present crop, the garden can be replanted, the owner said.

The Shell corporation is doing a good work in the teaching of safety first and first aid to all employees, and Mr. White is an able teacher.

Debt Adjustment Group Has Best Record in Westex

Concessions granted during June by creditors allowed seven Haskell county families to remain on the farm, keep their equipment, and gave them a good chance of eventually paying out, it was reported today by Guion Gregg, of Dallas, in charge of farm debt adjustment work for the Farm Security Administration.

Mr. Gregg said this was the best record of any county in West Texas. These concessions, he explained, were reductions in principal and interest and extensions of time to pay. "They were effected," he said, "by the county committee which as acted as mediator between debt-distressed farmers and their creditors. The adjustment involved 1,292 acres of Haskell county farmland."

Members of the county debt adjustment committee are Joe A. Jones and William P. Ratliff, both of Haskell; and Lewis C. Phillips, Stamford. The group works under direction of Robert E. Skipworth, county FSA supervisor, and is anxious to talk to any farmer whose debts are too much for him to carry.
