Women Cash In On Cream During Past 4 Months

The cream of the crop for some families in Haskell County is just that, cream.

During four months 120 families reported to Miss Louise Newman, HD agent, that they had sold 17,700 pounds of cream, in addition to the home use of whole milk and use of cream for butter. Also to be taken into consideration is the fact that during the four-month period dry weather probably cut production to some extent. The months were April, May, June and July.

Another 181 families reported to Miss Newman that they were milking 359 cows during that time.

Eggs, too, have contributed considerable money to the income of 120 families who have sold 39,203 dozens of eggs and in addition this same farm group have sold 10,000 pounds of poultry and meat.

One hundred and twenty HD club women of Haskell county started the year with poultry projects as club work. They started with 2,500 laying hens and 5,522 other chickens. Reports will be made on the projects until later.

The clubs of the county adopted as one of their projects for the year various aspects of marketing and will continue this part of their club work during the coming year.

Lanier Purchases Hardware Store From McCollum

In the latest change of business ownership in Haskell, S. E. Lanier has purchased the McCollum hardware store on the northwest corner of the square.

Lanier, who came to Haskell six and one-half years ago, took ownership of the store Monday.

The store has been operated in its present location since 1907, and for the last 20 years has been owned by N. I. McCollum. Prior to becoming owner of the business he worked for other hardware stores and helped move the store to the location when it was owned and operated by Scribner Brothers and company. Since 1927 Mrs. McCollum has assisted her husband in the store, and for a time during Mr. McCollum's illness, operated the store herself. Mr. and Mrs. McCollum will continue to make their home in Haskell.

Lanier was reared in East Texas and for five years was tax auditor for George Sheppard, State Comptroller. He and his wife and three children have lived in Haskell since he came here to take charge of the Texas Company agency, which he operated until three weeks ago.

Fall Season Opens In Haskell, Ginning Starts, Merchants Well Stocked

C Of C Will Box, Wrap, Tie, Address Soldier Packages Free

Beginning Friday the Haskell Chamber of Commerce will wrap, tie and address all parcels for shipment to men in the service overseas, John Couch, president, announced Thursday. There will be no charge for the service.

Decision to assist people of this trade territory in boxing, wrapping and addressing of the packages was made during the directors meeting Wednesday at 10 a. m.

The organization will provide all boxes, paper, twine and will employ one person just to assist in proper packaging of Christmas packages, so that the packages will arrive in proper condition.

This service will be carried on from Friday to October 15, which is the deadline for mailing overseas packages.

During the 31-day period beginning Friday parents, wives and relatives may mail one package a week to relatives in the armed service overseas, without the request of the serviceman or woman.

There are several do's and don'ts in mailing these packages according to postmaster J. M. Diggs. First the contents should be packed in strong containers, something that will stand a long trip without coming apart. Second the packages should be wrapped in strong paper and tied with stout cord. The address should be written on the package on gummed labels should not be used. It is also a good idea to put another address on the inside of the package.

Matches, lighter fluid or other highly inflammable articles should not be placed in the packages.

Free Flowing Dollars Stimulate Business, Outlook Is Good

Maize money and cotton cash have started the fall business boom in Haskell.

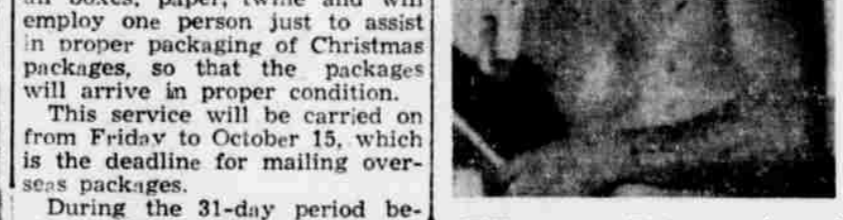

The fall rush of cotton picking and ginning and the resulting buying of fall and winter merchandise, farm tools and equipment, household furniture and other needs of residents is expected to be in full swing within the next ten days.

Haskell merchants are better prepared for the business than in most towns, having large stocks on hand, so far as wartime conditions permit. In fact one lady shopping in Haskell last Friday, from a larger town and miles removed from Haskell, remarked:

"I can get better service and superior merchandise at less cost in Haskell than in any of the so-called large merchandise centers of West Texas".

While the gins of Haskell have turned out only 53 bales to date all of the farmers, ginners and cotton men expect the season to be in full swing within 10 days or two weeks.

Home On Leave

Willner Lee Blair, member of the Merchant Marine with six weeks to Europe completed, has been spending a leave in Haskell visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blair.

He joined the Merchant Marine in October, 1942 and shipped on a vessel that was reported sunk. Later he met a friend who asked him if he knew he had been "sunk" for five days. After his leave here, he has returned to duty but hopes to be back in Haskell for Christmas. He is shown with a 40-day growth of beard.

Funeral Services Are Held Monday For Haskell Woman

Funeral services were held on Monday at 5:30 p. m. in Willow Cemetery for Mrs. W. A. Overcash, 72, who died at her home in Haskell Saturday at 10:15 p. m. Services were conducted by the Rev. C. G. Clemmons of Haskell, with Kinney funeral home of Stamford in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Overcash had lived in Haskell since 1920, moving here from Ellis County. She had been in ill health since July.

Ellis, Jessie Crowley was born July 25, 1872 in Louisiana and married W. A. Overcash July 11, 1901. She was a member of the Assembly of God church.

Survivors are her husband, one son, Milton Overcash, Haskell; one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Corder, Huntsville; one granddaughter, Sylvia Joe Overcash, Haskell; and one brother, Joe Crowley, Monroe, Louisiana. One son had preceded her in death in 1933.

Rochester Crops

Reports from Rochester indicate much more ginning there but the cotton was earlier than is the general rule around Haskell.

O. E. Patterson, vice-president of the Haskell National Bank, said, "we have pretty good crops this year and from all indications cotton will begin coming in good in a week or two."

W. Q. Casey, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State Bank, was of the same opinion as to crops at Patterson, and added, "in some sections of the county they have excellent crops, in the Weinert community for example."

Ten Lettermen Return To Team, Prospects For Season Are Bright

The Haskell Indians will meet their first opponents of the football season Friday night when they take on strong competition, the Spur high team, on Haskell's field.

Coach Roberson reports that he has a squad of 27 with ten returning lettermen for the team. He started twice-a-day workouts September 1 and the squad has developed rapidly.

The game will be started at 8:15 p. m.

John Barnett, one of the strong lettermen of last year, who Coach Roberson had hoped to have on the team this year, has been lost to a far bigger team, the armed services.

Roberson believes that with the returning lettermen as a nucleus he can develop a strong eleven and thinks prospects are bright for a good season, considering the number of reserves that can be (Continued on Page 5)

HD Agent Gives Suggestions For Overseas Gift Packages

Many Haskell County residents with sons, husbands and relatives overseas, are now doing Christmas shopping for the boys who'll spend the holidays on the far-flung battlefronts of the world.

Perishable foods are being placed in gift boxes and Miss Louise Newman, county HD agent, makes the following suggestions for preparing some of the foods so that they will arrive in edible condition.

Any food prepared for shipment should be protected against grease, water, rats, insects, and odors of all kinds. To cooperate with instructions issued by the Post Office, do not pack glass jars in the boxes for overseas shipment. Tin cans makes the ideal container for perishable foods, for they may be sealed and processed here so that they protect the food for the entire trip.

Fruit cake, pickles, relishes, jellies, preserves and the usual cookies and candies may be shipped in this way. Barbequed chicken, beef, tamales and chili as well as canned chickens are the meats easiest to ship. This is also the ideal way to ship black-eyed peas, beans, etc. which some of the boys miss so much. It is not advisable to ship chocolate fudge, home canned potato salad or eggs.
 The commercially canned potato salad may be shipped if it is obtainable.

Easy To Prepare
 One of the easiest foods to prepare for shipment is fruit cake.
 Use any favorite recipe. After mixing the ingredients in the usual way pack the mixture to within 1-2 inches of the top of R-enamel or plain No. 2 tin cans which have been lined with oiled butter paper cut to fit the can. Seal the first roll on the can.
 To steam in the pressure cooker leave the petcock open and let steam escape in a gentle stream for 75 minutes. Complete the seal and process immediately for 30 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.
 Plum puddings are prepared in the same manner as fruit cake, but are processed at 10 pounds for 15 minutes.

Pickles or relishes should not be left in tin more than 2 or 3 months. Using any of your favorite pickles, pack them into R-enamel cans and heat the contents of the can to 175 degrees F. before sealing. This usually takes about 20 minutes in a No. 2 can in the hot water bath. At the end of the steaming time, seal the cans, thoroughly to prevent any brine on the outside from causing corrosion. In canning a freshly made relish, pour it into the can while it is boiling, seal and cool; then it is ready for mailing.

Preparing Preserves
 In preparing preserves, pour the hot preserves into "R" enamel cans leaving no headspace, invert the cans and let cool in cold water. Preserves already made could be re-heated and packed in the same manner.

Jelly should be made and poured directly into the cans. Once it is placed in the water to cool, do not move until it is set.

Honey cookies, molasses and butterscotch cookies keep well.
 Pack between layers of waxed paper and fill in the extra space with tissue paper. Some like to fill this space with popped corn.

Peanut brittle, fruit-nut candies taffy and crystallized fruits are the best keeping candies. The fat in chocolate breaks down easily when subjected to high temperatures and long storage, so chocolate candies are not recommended.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The special services begun last Sunday a week ago at the First Presbyterian church have continued not only with sustained but increasing interest. Each night Evangelist Guy Green has brought in his own unique way Gospel messages full of human interest and great spiritual helpfulness. One of the best of these services was that of last Saturday evening at which time the speaker gave a memory recital of large sections of the book of Genesis to a splendid congregation. On Sunday night the First Methodist and First Baptist churches dismissed their congregations in recognition of these meetings and a very fine audience heard a stirring sermon on "Messengers of God". The congregational singing at these services has been especially good and beautiful special numbers have been brought by Mrs. Alton Middleton and Misses Edna Minnick and Velma Frierson. The services will continue through next Sunday night with preaching services each night at 8:30 p. m. and with both morning and evening services on Sunday. Saturday night Mr. Green will give a memory recital on "The Sermon on the Mount. This is looked forward to with eager interest. Sunday morning has been set aside especially for the reception of new members. We take this opportunity to renew our invitation to the community in general to attend these meetings. A cordial welcome will be extended to all.

NOTES ON AGRICULTURE

Notes of Stalks
Haskell County farmer reports that his cotton over knee high, fine. I've ever seen—but its thing—you know about stalks don't single bell on them."

Doves Are Few
Haynes Paint Creek reports there are not too doves there "and quail due to the recent dry they did the same thing. There were plenty of quail but before the season they all left."

Sagehen Crops
Newton says combine his community produced 1,500 pounds to the late feed being after than that planted pretty good but there has been no picking yet.

In County 39 Years
S. L. Medford, southeast of Haskell, said Monday that his cotton was not too good this year due to the long dry spell in the summer which also cut production of his combine maize crop to around 600 pounds to the acre. Medford has lived in Haskell county 39 years "practically all of my life," he added.

Grain Sorghum Loans Obtainable Through Triple A

Due to the recent decline in grain sorghum prices the County AAA office has had many requests in regard to the 1944 loan, according to Bob Crocker, AAA secretary. The loan is approximately 20 to 30 cents per hundred pounds above present market prices.

A producer can obtain a farm stored grain sorghum loan by filing his application with his AAA county committee. However, the following qualifications must be met. The grain must have been stored not less than 30 days; it must be free of smut and not have a moisture content in excess of 13 per cent.

The 1944 loan rate is 95c per bushel on No. 2 grain sorghum or approximately $1.68 per hundred pounds net to the producer after all charges are deducted. Insurance is carried by the Commodity Credit Corporation at no additional cost to the producers. The loan can be liquidated in part or whole if the producer desires to use or sell some of the grain during the time of the loan.

A producer that plans to store grain on the farm under the 1944 Loan Program should determine that his storage structure is eligible and will meet requirements.

Former Haskell Man Gets Army Promotion
Robert E. Lee Jr., grandson of Mrs. M. S. Jones of Haskell, has been promoted to Staff Sergeant at his base in Tennessee. Sgt. Lee was born in Haskell and moved with his parents to Odessa several years ago.

He entered the army in March, 1942 and later graduated from armored school in Colorado. Sgt. Lee has been overseas and has completed 15 combat missions with the Ninth Air Force over the continent of Europe. He received his aerial gunner's wings at Fort Meyers, Florida.

Howard ...

has been returned to the United States for hospitalization.

Sgt. Howard was wounded in action in Italy and by a coincidence his doctor in the hospital overseas was also from Haskell, Captain Floyd Taylor who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor of Haskell.

Mrs. Howard has received a letter this past week from Pfc. Ralph B. Nash of Odessa, who served with her son in Italy and was also wounded in action and is now in a hospital at Longview. In his letter Nash said of Sgt. Howard: "please don't worry about your fine son, because I was around him long enough to know that he has one of the strongest hearts and that helps so much. It was encouraging to hear that Howard had everything necessary to lead us. He was the first to get to me and see that I got first aid, as well as the rest of the boys. Howard has earned the respect of all the officers and the rest of the non-coms too."

"We talk a lot about home and I know that Howard is as proud of his family as I am. That is what keeps most of us going when we are discouraged."

Former Haskell Man Receives Army Citation Recently

Technician Fifth Grade Willard C. Melton, who is now on New Caledonia with the Quartermaster Corps, has received a citation from his commanding officer, according to a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Melton of Haskell.

Melton lived in Haskell for three years and entered service two years ago from Rising Star. He landed overseas June 8, 1943. The citation follows:

During the period from December 1942 to 15 May 1944, Technician Fifth Grade Melton has been a typical American Soldier. Although 42 years of age, he carried on through all phases of the intensive military training program. His actions were a guide and inspiration to members of this command, many who were half his age. Technician Fifth Grade Melton faithfully carried out all assignments which he was given with a smile and will to get the job done. He has always been among the first to volunteer for any additional assignments. The younger men of the unit have come to Technician Fifth Grade Melton for advice and guidance. The unit having no chaplain, he set about giving spiritual guidance to the members of this command.

Since his arrival at this overseas station, Technician Fifth Grade Melton has carried on in the same traditional fashion he exhibited back in the States. He has been operating his truck on a 10-hour shift, alternating between the day and night shift on a seven-day week for the past eleven months. The actions of Technician Fifth Grade Melton have helped greatly in the maintaining of high morals in this unit so as to carry out the task of this battalion in its operations of hauling supplies.

2. Since the act on which the recommendation is based the service of Technician Fifth Grade Melton has been honorable.

3. This recommendation is based on the personal knowledge of the recommending officer.

Back From Fort Worth

Mrs. Wesley Liles and Mrs. Vanna Lee Whatley accompanied Mrs. Aletha Liles to Fort Worth, where she will teach this fall. They were accompanied back to Haskell by Mrs. Whatley's son, Jimmy, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Medkief.

Licenses to Marry

Only license to marry issued by the county clerk this past week was to Johnnie Busby and Stella Faye Smith, both of Haskell.

The enemy had us completely surrounded and our contact with our company was cut off. We finally got word back to the company commander and he sent up reinforcements. We broke through and captured 70 prisoners. Then we went on ahead and captured a small town in which we found a hospital filled with American paratroopers and infantrymen. Boy, were they a happy bunch!"

Clark is the son of Mrs. Caledonia Clark of Haskell, Texas. His mother received word on Thursday that Howard was at Brooks General hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and that his condition was not serious.

All Blue Ration Tokens Must Be Used Before 17th

Housewives were reminded by S. N. Reed, Chairman of Haskell County War Price and Rationing Board, that if they do not want to lose the point value of their blue tokens they should use them before September 17, because after that date through September 30, blue tokens will be accepted by the grocer only in groups of ten.

He pointed out that the use of 1-point blue tokens in the processed food rationing program will be discontinued on that date, because of the removal of practically all canned and bottled vegetables from rationing effective on September 17. After September 16, points will still be required for canned fruits, canned juices, canned tomatoes and chili sauce, he said.

Reed said the following points should be kept in mind by consumers in making use of the blue tokens they have on hand:

From September 17 through September 30, shoppers will be only in groups of ten.

Housewives should be sure to use all their blue tokens by September 30 because after that date they cannot use them.

Two Sons Home On Furlough at Same Time

Mrs. W. E. Brock had the pleasure of both sons, Pvt. Joe and Edwin McElroy, visiting her the past few days.

Joe was home on a week-end pass from Randolph Field at San Antonio; Edwin spent the past ten days on his way from Las Vegas, Nev., to Tampa, Florida. He is an engineer-gunner on a B-17 and received his wings at Las Vegas. He will be on patrol duty somewhere on the Gulf coast.

Relative also visiting Mrs. Brock were Mr. and Mrs. Menard Fields of South Plains, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McElroy of Sweetwater and Mrs. M. O. Field of Floydada, Texas.

Sgt. Manley and Family Spend Furlough Here

S-Sgt. and Mrs. Preston R. Manley and daughter, Patricia Sue, formerly of Peteluma, Calif., visited in the home of Mrs. Manley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Elmore of O'Brien last week.

Haskell Schools

At a mass meeting held in Haskell High School building a few weeks ago, and to which all citizens were invited, a committee was appointed to present to all interested people certain facts pertaining to Haskell Public Schools. The committee has chosen this means of bringing the matter under consideration to your attention.

In 1936 fire completely destroyed the Haskell High School building. Some insurance was collected and Federal Aid was secured to construct a new building. When it was completed there was an unpaid portion of a few thousand dollars. In 1940 the new building was burned. Insurance, Federal Aid, and a $15,000 bond issue which was voted at that time were sufficient to construct the same type building. However, many citizens insisted that the School Board make the new structure fireproof. This was done at an additional cost of approximately $15,000.

Opportunity also arose to secure a large amount of Federal help in erecting the Home-making building, the Activity building and the Vocational Farm Shop building, at a cost to the District of about $15,000. After advising with numerous citizens in the community the Board decided to erect these buildings.

The Board planned to pay this indebtedness at a rate of approximately $5,000 per year. By 1942 the debt had been reduced to $20,000. In 1942-43, because of a change made in Rural Aid laws by the legislature, the Haskell Schools failed to receive from the State Rural Aid funds more than $5,000 which was anticipated in connection with rural schools contracted to Haskell. The same situation prevailed for the year 1943-44. Because of the unexpected failure to collect these funds the debt has not been reduced during the past two years.

The public meeting of citizens mentioned above discussed the matter very thoroughly. The rural schools which formerly were contracted now have been annexed to the Haskell Independent School District and taxes on property in those districts have been increased to correspond with those in the original district. The increase in size of the district makes it possible for the Haskell Schools to participate in Rural Aid and to increase teachers' salaries which the Board found necessary to secure enough teachers for the school.

In participating in Rural Aid the district must first apply one half of all local taxes assessed to the current maintenance budget and the State pays the balance. Under these conditions, if the district should attempt to pay the indebtedness by increasing taxable values and collecting additional taxes, one half of the increased assessment would first be applied to the current budget and thus reduce the State's portion by an equal amount. That means that of every two dollars thus assessed only one could be used to reduce the debt while the other would replace one which otherwise could be received from the State. For this reason, the group of citizens decided the logical thing to do is to collect the $20,000 by subscription.

Each citizen of the district will be solicited by a committee. In order to lessen the work of the committees each person is requested to leave a check at the banks in Haskell. No check will be cashed until at least $15,000 has been collected. The committee requests all to be as liberal as possible so no special burden will be placed on any one person or small group of people. You are urged to make your contribution as soon as possible.

All In Same Boat

How to avoid unemployment after the war is a grim question that is foremost in everyone's mind. But job-creating industry and its problems, which are determining factors in the lives of all of us, is not receiving the public consideration it deserves.

Too many people still look upon industry as an entity unto itself. They feel that tax and legislative measures affecting industry are things for the "big guys" to worry about. They don't realize that when a corporation gets slapped in the face with crippling legislation or taxation, eventually the effect is reflected in its capacity to produce, and the little guy as well as the big guy gets hit between the eyes by loss of employment, or restricted output.

For example, when you take an aspirin, you are using a derivative of coal. Thus, although you may live thousands of miles from the Virginia coal fields, you are dependent on the coal industry. In fact, the bathroom cabinet would be swept nearly bare if the coal industry should fold up and quit. In addition to aspirin, bituminous coal derivatives are used in making laxatives, rubber goods, and perfumes, to say nothing of the life-saving sulfa drugs. These things are incidental to the more primary uses of coal which maintain the war effort, heat and light our homes and drive our trains and make steel.

Coal is typical of many industries employing millions of American workmen. In common with other industries, it is meeting its problems aggressively and resourcefully with two objectives in view—more production and more jobs.

American Enterprise Scores Again

After two years of research, the announcement is made that the oil industry is ready to produce at the command of the military forces, a new super-fuel for aviation so much more powerful than 100-octane gasoline that it will permit maximum bombing of the Japanese mainland on a "suburban service schedule." While the chemical details of the new product are withheld, the Petroleum War Council has disclosed that this "fuel," called "100-octane plus," is expected to surpass all other gasolines in the world in volatility and subsequent performance.

William R. Boyd, Jr., Chairman of the Council, said that the product was designed to "draw from the lethal B-29 Superfortresses and the futuristic B-32 Bombers and the most modern fighter escort planes, their originally intended maximums in sustained speed, short take-offs, combat radius and load-carrying capabilities."

It should be stated that this is just another accomplishment of private enterprise in the United States which again surpasses anything the dictators and their totalitarian governments have ever accomplished.

An election was announced for Haskell for October 1 for an incorporation for free school purposes only, to be named Haskell Independent School District.

An advertisement listed the following items northeast of Haskell for $2,500: 240 acres fine black land, including two-room house, 40 acres of cotton, 10 acres of corn cut and shocked, 11 acres maize, 8 acres in sorghum and some late feed, span of good mules and wagon, 4 good milk cows, 5 good mares, 3 fine hogs, all farming tools and household furniture.

The executive committee of a proposed two-day street fair to be held in Haskell were endeavoring to raise funds for the fair.

Miss May Murfee opened a school Monday in rooms at the residence of Mr. J. E. Fitzgerald for pupils of the sixth and seventh grade.

Several parties are preparing to make shipments of beef cattle next week.

Messrs. W. H. and M. C. Sherman bought of Mr. J. F. Pinkerton this week 300 acres of land situated near the Foster school house. The price was $10 per acre.

The excavations for the basement and foundations for the new school building have been completed and the foundation cellar walls are being laid.

The Snyder Light paper was noted as bragging on a farmer bringing in a 47 pound watermelon and the editor of the Free Press retorted editorially: "You ought to come over to Haskell County and see a watermelon. Our champion melon grower has 'em up to 96 pounds and there is no telling what he would have accomplished if there hadn't been a drought on."

From the Marcy community news: "The Mormons are here too, preaching at night. But they can't get any joiners, as the Texas people don't believe much in walking and these 'prophets' claim to walk everywhere."

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for September 17

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE KINGDOM STRONGLY ESTABLISHED

LESSON TEXT—II Samuel 2:4-7; 5:1-10. GOLDEN TEXT—They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth forever.—Psalm 125:1.

Position and power are important to a king, but of even greater importance is the winning of the hearts of his people. Only as he has them with him can he build a great nation.

David was the Lord's anointed. The kingdom was his. But God expected him to make the necessary effort and use his own abilities to bring it into a place of honor and usefulness. God gives us all we have, but He does not shower it down on us; we must go out and possess it.

Note in the three verses that precede our lesson (vv. 2-3) that David moved forward only after prayer and divine guidance. Little wonder that he succeeded.

I. The Southern Tribes Declare Their Loyalty (2:4).

The nation was divided into two parts, Judah in the south and Israel in the north. To bring them together again called for consummate skill. David had it.

When Saul had died, David showed his respect and genuine loyalty to the king by his actions and by his song of lament which we find in II Samuel 1. Then by the Lord's leading he went to Hebron, the national capital of Judah, and there awaited the will of the people.

Their declaration for David was not long in coming. They knew and respected him. He had shown himself to be their friend (I Sam. 30:26) and now they made him king. It was the first step and a long one in the right direction.

II. The King Makes Friends by Being Friendly (2:5-7).

The men of Jabesh-gilead, hearing that the Philistines had killed Saul, went for his body and gave it suitable burial. This gave David occasion to show his fine spirit of appreciation, which naturally warmed the hearts of all those who had loved and followed Saul. It was excellent strategy, but at the same time it was the natural expression of a kind heart.

He that would have friends must show himself friendly (Prov. 18:24). And why not? The friendly and open-hearted kindness of some Christians does more to win others to Christ than the brilliant discourses of some cold, exclusive Christian worker. Most of the Lord's work is done by ordinary people with warm hearts. Is there any reason why we cannot all be winsome and attractive in Christ?

III. The Northern Tribes Recognize Their King (5:1-5).

A period of seven years elapsed before this took place. The house of Saul was not willing to yield its supposed rights to the throne, and there was fighting and struggle. In it all David showed himself to be upright and considerate.

There is value in gradual development and in the struggle for the right. Had David found immediate success one wonders whether he would have gained the strength he needed for the future.

Then came the day when Israel, the tribes of the north country, of their own accord chose to put themselves under David. Note that it was because of their regard for him (v. 3). That was great gain.

A united people! How important that is in the affairs of the nations. Nothing is more disturbing or a greater hindrance than internal friction. We ought to deal quickly and decisively with any group or force in the life of our nation which is clearly divisive or disloyal.

Think, then, how important it is that God's people in the Christian Church stand together in undivided loyalty to Christ, our King, and in loving devotion to one another.

IV. The King Established a National Capital (5:6-10).

Jerusalem, which was to be the "city of David," and which figures so prominently not only in history but in prophecy, had to be wrested from the hands of the heathen Jebusites, and be established as the sacred city and the capital of the Jewish nation.

Note that the kind and considerate king was not a weakling. He knew how to fight and to win. Verse 8 is difficult to interpret, but evidently does not mean that David was cruel. The Jebusites taunted him by saying that their blind and crippled could hold the wall against David's men. Then they doubtless put their best soldiers on the wall, and David said to his men, "Let us take these cripples."

We see in verses 9 and 10 that David was not only a fighter, but also a builder. He began then the development of Jerusalem, the great city of which we are yet to hear wondrous things.

Since we have had a little cool weather we have started making chili. We think it's pretty good, and if we knew of any better anywhere we wouldn't tell you about it. John Tubbs came in and tried to insult me by calling my place a "chilli joint" but he doesn't know how thick-skinned I am.
