Suspect Sought In Slaying

Investigation into the death of a 32-year-old beer store attendant was continuing Wednesday, according to law enforcement officers.

James Wendeborn was found late Monday night shot in the neck at the Mini-Mart in the Tuxedo Community. Sheriff Garth Garrett said the victim was unconscious when deputies found him and that he never regained consciousness. He died three hours later at a Stamford hospital.

Sheriff Garrett said Wednesday that the department is currently "following up some leads" in connection with the shooting which occurred about 11 p. m. Monday. Garrett said, "We have ruled out robbery as a motive for the shooting because no money was taken and nothing was missing from the store." "Right now we don't know what the motive could be," he added.

The Sheriff said that Wendeborn was found lying in a pool of blood near the store's telephone. He added that the man had apparently tried to call for help because the receiver was found off the hook and near the man's body.

in the Highland Memorial Cemetery.

He was born Jan. 17, 1942, in Knox City. He married Connie Gonzales Aug. 16, 1969 in Stamford.

Survivors include his wife; his mother, Mrs. Winnie Wendeborn of Stamford; two sisters, Mrs. C. O. Richards of Stamford and Mrs. Marta Marciniak of Hamilton, N. J.; and one brother, Fred, of Richardson.

Man Trapped In 277 Accident

Tense moments were experienced Wednesday afternoon as Horace Floyd, driver of a truck belonging to Montgomery Tractor Co. of Seymour, was trapped inside his truck after an accident on the south side of town.

Floyd was traveling north on Highway 277 when, according to reports, a vehicle pulled out onto the highway from the vicinity of the Haskell Steak House. According to eye witnesses Floyd applied the brakes on his trailer rig, which was loaded with two farm tractors, and the trailer began to weave causing him to lose control and overturn in front of Godwin's Service Station No. 45.

The driver was pinned in the wreckage for approximately 15 minutes during which time numerous citizens and passersby stopped to lend assistance. The Fire Dept. was called to wash down spilled gasoline to prevent a fire at the site. After being taken from the overturned vehicle, Floyd was carried to the emergency room at the hospital for treatment. He was later carried to the hospital in Seymour with apparently only minor injuries.

The tractors being hauled on the trailer were considered a total loss and the truck was damaged extensively.

Bicentennial Medallions Available

The Bicentennial Association of Texas has announced that the official bronze and fine silver medallions struck in commemoration of the American Revolution are now available for purchase in more than 200 banks across the state.

Mrs. Bill Hobby, president of the Association, said that royalty revenue from medallion purchases will be a major source of financial support for official American Bicentennial activities authorized by the Legislature.

In Haskell, medallions can be purchased at the Haskell National Bank.

"We greatly appreciate the help of so many members of the Texas Bankers Association in marketing the medallions as a public service," Mrs. Hobby said.

The American Bicentennial Texas medallion commemorates the founding of the United States and pays tribute to the peoples of Texas.

The official emblem of the American Revolution is a medallion struck on the front of the dollar.

The converging arms of the emblem represent the coming together of the states and more to form the United States. A two-headed eagle man on the reverse side inates the design of a beautiful land. The face looks through a prism to a new age with promise of an even greater future.

Each 50 millimeter (2 inches) diameter medallion is struck in both bronze and silver and is encased in a number of plastic sleeves. The medallion may register his name and number along with his name in the Archives of the American Revolution Bicentennial.

Second Annual International Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off Set For Abilene

Plans for the Second Annual International Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off are beginning to firm up. Max Polen, chairman of the Abilene Convention & Visitors Bureau Cook-Off committee, said today.

All three judges have definitely been secured for the annual event, scheduled for Labor Day weekend, August 31st through Sept. 2nd at Old Abilene Town on Interstate 20.

Gary Luskey, President of Luskey's Western stores; Acey Lockhart, president of Hydro-Tex Oil Co., based in Ft. Worth, and Mrs. Ruth M. Malone, the food editor for Holiday Inns of America, have been confirmed as Cook-Off judges.

Mrs. Malone is also the food editor of the Holiday Inn Magazine and is known as "The Cook Book Lady" from coast to coast. Some of the cook books to her credit are "The Dogpatch Cook Book", "Swiss Holiday Recipes", and "Where to Eat in the Ozarks and How It's Cooked". She was selected by the Smithsonian Institution to contribute an article for the 1970 Festival of American Folklife program book.

The Cowboy Campfire Cook-Off was conceived to preserve the historic tradition and color surrounding the cattle era of the old west. Polen said, "While trail drives are a thing of the past, ranch cooks and a few remaining trail cooks continue to feed the cowboys that bring beef to the world's tables. We are trying to perpetuate the tradition of the hearty, wholesome, outdoor meal in this cooking competition."

The committee is planning a multitude of events around the actual competition which this year will include three categories: Pro-Trail Cook, Campfire Cook, and Maverick Cook.

Pro-Cooks are persons who make the major portion of their living by cooking, such as ranch cooks, restaurant chefs and caterers. Campfire Cooks are those who have entered the competition at least once, but do not wish or cannot qualify to compete in the Pro division. Mavericks are amateurs, persons who cook primarily for their own pleasure and who receive no major income from their cooking.

Entry fees will be $10 for the Pro-Trail Cooks; $5 for Campfire Cooks, and $4 for the Mavericks.

Richard Marcantel, ACVB manager, said the committee is also looking into the possibility of a concert at the Taylor County Coliseum in conjunction with the affair. There will be Barber Shop Quartet entertainment daily. Also a western shootout at Old Abilene Town, Double Decker Shuttle Bus service between Old Abilene Town and Zoo World, square dance demonstrations, a mock-up Indian village, pony express throughout the weekend and a Texas Travel Fair open to the public.

Polen emphasized that all of this is open to the public free of charge and said, "We want this to be an Abilene function and not just a Chamber or Bureau activity. We are encouraging the entire community to be

Brazil Topic Of Rotary Program

Vice President Sam Rosser presided for the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club in the absence of newly elected president Ferrell Coston who was unable to attend. The meeting was held in the dining room of the City Cafe at noon, Thursday, July 11.

Rotarian Gaines Post presented one of the most outstanding and interesting programs the club has had the privilege of enjoying in a long time. Miss Maybelle Taylor of Haskell who spent 35 years as a missionary to South America in the country of Brazil where she also taught and did social work, gave a most interesting talk on the country which has for many years been called the "sleeping giant."

She calls Brazil her adopted country and she was high in her praise of the people in this, the third largest country in the world, for their constant work to bring their homeland to the front in education, culture and industry. Rio De Janeiro, its capital city, is by far the most beautiful city in the world with outstanding art and culture but the back country along the great Amazon River has many problems confronting the natives, she said. National Highways have been built which makes it possible for you to tour the entire country by automobile if you so desire, she advised. All mineral rights belong to the government and the money derived from oil and other minerals are being used for the highways and other needed facilities. The country of Brazil now has only 50% literacy but the government is working diligently to alleviate this and there are at this time 37 universities in Brazil. Miss Taylor explained that prior to her retirement, she was made an honorary citizen of her adopted country and said that she was the first Protestant ever receiving this special honor from the nation.

She displayed numerous works of art from Brazil which showed the fine craftsmanship of the natives. The United States has been the chief source of assistance to the awakening of the great country and the native Brazilian has a deep fondness for Americans, she said. She noted that the Rotary Clubs of Brazil were very active and that they sponsored many scholarships for students, many of whom come to the United States for further study. Miss Taylor is the daughter of the late Dr. L. F. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, pioneers of Haskell. She is a graduate of Haskell High School and holds numerous degrees from institutions of higher learning in America.

The invocation for the meeting was given by Rev. Bob Brown, who is to be inducted as a new member of the Haskell Rotary Club soon. The singing was led by R. C. Couch, Jr. with Joan Dean providing accompaniment on the piano. Farred Hassen of the Stamford Rotary Club was introduced by Bill Comedy as being the only guest present for the meeting.

John C. White, Commissioner

Harvesting and Planting . . . Baling Going Well . . . Cattle Sales Drop . . . Milk Production Up . . . Turkey Hatches Down.

HARVESTING and Planting of several crops in this big State are going on at the same time. The first bale of cotton of Texas' No. 1 crop was ginned June 10, while cotton planting was going on on the Low and High Plains. Crispin Gamroz, who had the first bale in 1971 and 1972, brought the first bale to Pharr, in the Rio Grande Valley. Most of the 1974 cotton crop has been planted but there is some replanting of cotton hulled out on the Low and High Plains. Sorghum crops are in about the same situation as cotton, with harvesting underway in the Valley and South Texas and some replanting going on on the Plains where hail and sand damaged some crops. A lot of rice is heading out, and combining may begin any day now. Most of the peanut and soybean crops are planted over the State but some planting remains to be done.

HAY BALING is underway over much of the State, especially in East Texas where rains have been accommodating. Prospects are good in some areas for third and fourth cuttings. Baling wire and twin shortages and/or prices have been a handicap, running costs of baling higher than they have been in years. Prices on baling wire and twine are about double what they were last year. Ranges, for the most part, are in good condition, except on areas of the Trans-Pecos, Southern High Plains and Edwards Plateau where rain has not been adequate. Highest temperature reported in the State was 106 degrees in Wichita Falls June 16.

SALE OF CATTLE and calves at auction rings showed a sharp drop during the month of May, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. There were 362,000 head of cattle and calves sold, which was 51 per cent below a year ago and 18 per cent below April sales. The 40,000 hogs sold in May was 2 per cent below a year ago and 7 per cent below the previous month. Sheep sales at auction rings numbered 145,000 head, 17 per cent below a year ago but 19 per cent more than a month earlier. During May, 297,327 head of cattle and calves were shipped out of Texas to other states, and 102,292 were shipped into Texas, according to health certificate tabulations. A year ago, 417,786 head were shipped out of Texas and 188,508 head were shipped into Texas. Sheep and lambs shipped to other states totaled 120,045 head, a drop of 37 per cent from a year ago.

Tole Painting Popular Hobby

Tole Painting—what is it? Tole Painting actually means nothing more than painting on tin. Toleware is tinware. A correct definition of Tole Painting as it is used today might also include Tole Painting and Decorative Painting, allowing to paint on any surface desired, not just tin. Many surfaces used by those in Tole and Decorative Painting include woodenware, tinware, plastic, and glass.

That Tole Painting can be learned by anyone having a sincere desire to paint is being learned by almost 100 in Haskell this summer. Eight classes are now in progress at the Craft Corner in the Wigwam Drive-In, owned by Mrs. Alta Faye Davis. First classes of the summer included 35 students, and the classes now in session have 60. Paula Everett, instructor for the group, says the painting is more technique than talent. Tole and Decorative Painting is really method painting since you do not have to design or draw but work with patterns.

The pattern chosen may come from a Tole Pattern Book, a coloring book, wallpaper, or even a decoupage print will often make a great pattern. Classes at the Craft Corner range from six to nine persons each and they are held Monday through Thursday mornings, afternoons and evenings.

Mrs. Everett states that pupils can become efficient in the three week courses. They learn the basic strokes, basic colors, learn to mix colors, blend colors, and the use of different brushes. Tole Painting can be done with oils or acrylics. The finished effect will be different due to the characteristic of the chosen medium and there are advantages to both. The acrylics dry much faster, and oils allow more blending. Brushes used are the finest Red Sable and they are either round or flat. The brush is the most important tool in Tole Painting.

This is the first time classes have been offered in Haskell and pupils are enrolled from Rule, Knox City, Stamford, Weinert, and Haskell. Mrs. Everett has been teaching beginner and advanced courses. This will be the last course offered this summer and it is already filled to capacity.

Tole and Decorative painting is a craft being sought after by people all across the country and with the popularity rise will within five years be the number one art craft.

A number of paintings done by students are on display in the Wigwam Drive-In.

Farm and Ranch Safety Urged

COLLEGE STATION — Since family members themselves are the victims in most farm and ranch accidents, farm and ranch operators should consider developing a "safety system" to eliminate these accidents.

Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests the "Three E" approach to such a system: engineering (elimination of hazards), education (obtaining knowledge) and enforcement (supervision of workers).

Keese cites figures by the National Safety Council which show that 89 percent of all farm and ranch accidents happen to family members while only 8 percent occur to employed farm workers and the remaining 3 percent to family guests and other visitors. Thus he cites the need for a safety system for family members to reduce farm and ranch accidents which cause more than 500,000 disabling injuries and 6,000 deaths each year.

According to the Texas A&M University System specialist, the "education or knowledge" factor of developing a safety system is of utmost importance as it is based on locating accident hazards and then correcting them.

Almost two-thirds of the injuries of farm and ranch families are work-related. About 20 percent occur in barns and other structures around the home, 15 percent in home yards, 14 percent in both barn yards and fields, 10 percent in homes and 8 percent on public roads.

Farm machinery is involved in 20 percent of all injuries, with tractors having a hand in one-fourth of these accidents. Power and hand tools and motor vehicles each cause 12 percent of all farm and ranch accidents, and animals are involved in 11 percent of the injuries.

"Start your farm and ranch safety system by inspecting your complete operation and eliminating any and all hazards," advises Keese. "Eliminating such things as trash, litter and

If Herbicides Are Banned, Consumer Will Lose

COLLEGE STATION—(Sp)—The American consumer would become the ultimate loser and agriculture the immediate loser if future use of 2,4,5-T is limited or banned, according to a researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. Joseph Schuster, head of Texas A&M University's range science department and a TAES scientist, emphasized that future use of the herbicide that is widely used to control brush and weeds on rangeland is in jeopardy.

"This herbicide is highly effective in controlling noxious woody plants on rangelands and forests. It has a record of relative safety covering more than two decades of use. Now, this vital product is awaiting a public hearing called by the Environmental Protection Agency. Action following the hearing remains to be determined," the scientist added. Costs of such agricultural items as meat, wool, mohair, and forest products are likely to climb if use of 2,4,5-T is banned or limited, Schuster said.

What is happening concerning this herbicide points up the risk to other important agricultural herbicides, regardless of their safety records, Schuster continued.

"The general public needs to understand more about the vital uses of each product, their safety records, how to use the products effectively, as well as possible potential dangers. The public should be concerned with protecting the environment, but citizens should depend on scientists and others trained in the field to determine the hazards involved in using herbicides, he added.

Schuster emphasized that our country's economic strength and its ability to produce needed food, fiber, energy, timber and other resources are sometimes weakened by demands made in the name of protecting citizens and the environment

FOLLOW FARM SAFETY RULES

We all know what the rules are. The thing is to make them a daily habit ... set a firm example ... and make sure that family and farm hands get in the habit, no matter how busy you are, nothing is more important than farm security ... Get the rules straight and follow them until it becomes second nature to everyone. No smoking in buildings! No clowning around with machinery ... and no postponing repairs! Correct minor repairs or possible hazards immediately as you spot them. Report any changes in livestock. Make sure that everything on the farm is always in sound shape. Keep your eyes alert. Your security is at stake.

MINUTES

PLAYING THE GAME OF LIFE

Reaching 40—or even 50—doesn't have to mean the beginning of the end for you. What it may mean is that from here on, you will become more skillful in playing the game of life.

As in tennis, "court position" and "tactics" become more important to the older player.

As one passes the 40 to 50 mark, he quits chasing every ball beyond reach. He saves his energy for the important plays, and he learns all over again the importance of the follow through in serving.

God's presence becomes more real to the man or woman at this stage of the game of life, and often the score turns out to be "Love All."

Tennis anyone?
