CLINIC SUCCESSFUL

CLINIC STATION.— Making out of an old one, expenditures ranging from $1.48 to $1.48. Appeared to be a recent hat clinic by Mrs. Dora R. M. College Extension and new ribbon.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Ernest Range of the Central Club reported she would present her husband with a bill for $10 after her new "beanie" had been dyed, shellacked, and trimmed with flowers and veil. Her total expense was $1.48.

MOWING PASTURES

COLLEGE STATION.— The profit from mowing pastures is readily demonstrable, says R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Production of pasture grasses generally can be increased 50 to 60 per cent by mowing weeds because grass thereby is allowed more moisture, sunlight, plant food and air, he asserts. Also livestock grazing clean, open pasture can get about 28 per cent of the palatable forage instead of 50 per cent where weeds are in the way.

Furthermore, animal products could be doubled by clearing and mowing several million acres of land along streams, on overflow crop land and other soil now overgrown with a variety of weeds and worthless shrubs. While the most extensive benefit from mowing is to speed up the transition from a weedy pasture to a good turf, mowing also improves and freshes even the most palatable pasture grasses.

At the Angleton sub-station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station experimental yields of mowed bermuda grass were doubled, and total protein and phosphorus were four times greater than from unmowed grass.

Lancaster counsels that mowing to control weeds must start when the first of the worst begin to bloom, or soon enough to mow all before seed can form. Bitterweed, a common pest in bermuda

Returns Home After Visit With Parents

Mrs. E. J. Gragerud has returned to her home in Chicago after spending two weeks in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Foot.

Mrs. Kragerud has recently received the Air Medal awarded to her husband, Lt. Kragerud, who has been missing in action over Germany since November 28th. The medal was in recognition for his duty with five combat missions.

Visits with Parents

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Larned had as their guest last week their son, Cpl. Tommy Larned of Camp Shelby, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Larned and boys of Portales, N. M., and Miss Willis Larned of Ft. Worth.

Large Shipment WAC's Arrives Recently at Battlefront in Mediterranean Area

With the Allied Armies in the Mediterranean.—The largest shipment of Wacs into the Mediterranean Theater made news despite the fall of Rome and the jubilant headline of invasion. Skirted soldiers, although of two years' vintage and no longer "hot" news as a Corps or an overseas contingent, distracted correspondents from their tales of heroic feats as they landed nearly 400 in number from the United States.

Photographers on the alert and "the know" who had been zeroing their cameras for months on the Holy City from the frozen stalemate of Cassino, took the gamble that Rome would not fall to the Allies for forty-eight hours and boarded planes for the famous bay city to greet America's women soldiers on their latest and largest landing overseas and to record the event in cables and film.

"They're here" was the word passed around, and the girls from "back home" lifted their chins proudly under their helmets and walked briskly down the ship's gangplank, not knowing quite WHY they were so welcome but realizing that it was up to them to be truly representative of the best in America's young womanhood. They had had a long voyage, and troop transports aren't hotels. Nevertheless every skirt was starched and wrinkless and every WAC was spic and span.

In a long and seeming unending line they came. From every walk of life, representing 42 states and 40 different professions. And the ever-new story that "the Wacs have landed" made the usual good copy for the newsmen and newsreelmen, reporters of the foxholes and photographers of the battlefronts.

"Gee, but they look wonderful," was the comment of the gentlemen of the press.

"When — and where — do we start to work?" was the first and foremost query of the Wacs.

The Wac troops comprised 357 enlisted women and 32 officers. They were commanded by Capt. Kathryn J. Royster, 29 years old, of Route 1, Bessmer City, North Carolina.

For nearly all of the enlisted women and WAC officers it was a first sea voyage, and for all of them it will be a first sight of the terrain in which they will serve. The entire shipment is slated for service with the ground forces of the United States Army and a majority of the officers have been requisitioned for operational jobs. Names and addresses of the newest overseas arrivals include: T-5 Benny U. Sellers, Box 181, Rule.

ARE YOUR POCKETS STRIPPED FOR ACTION?

This is it. The zero hour all over the world. The big push we've waited for so long. This is the time for belts to be worn tighter. For pockets to be scraped. For every last American to wring more dollars out of himself than he thought he could spare!

The U. S. Treasury needs $16,000,000,000 right now! $6,000,000,000 from individuals alone. That's more than $100 in cash from every wage-earning person in the country! We're going to have to double what we did last time!

Just to show you the seriousness of this drive, our Government says—It's probably the biggest effort we'll ever be called upon to make!

Haskell Girl, Lieutenant to marry

Two families long prominent in West Texas were united in marriage Tuesday, June 20, of Josephine Parish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elam Parish of Haskell, and Second Lt. John Henry Atterbury Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Atterbury of Knox City.

Marriage vows were said at the twilight hour in the scenic Little Chapel in the Woods on the campus of Texas State College for Women—where the bride has just completed her second year of study.

Given in marriage by her uncle, J. U. Field of Haskell, the bride wore a chapel-length dress of white marquisette trimmed with lace and styled with sweetheart neckline and elbow-length sleeves. Her fingertip veil was attached to her blond hair with a tangle of orange blossoms and pearls.

Valerie Atterbury of Dallas, sister of the bridegroom was the bride's only attendant.

Talented musician, Miss Parish was a violinist in the TSCW symphony orchestra and a speech major in the college. She was a member of College Capers, a group of TSCW students who visited Texas camps to furnish a program of entertainment for disabled soldiers. She entered the Denton college following her graduation from Haskell high school.

Lieutenant Atterbury was graduated from the Knox City High school and was a student in Texas A&M college when he was sent last summer to Camp Roberts, Paso Robles, Calif., for basic training. He returned to A&M to continue his training in the Army Specialized Training program, and from College Station was sent to Officers Candidate School, Ft. Benning, Ga., where he was commissioned in the U. S. Army infantry, Mechanical engineer major at A&M, he was on the distinguished student list.

SURGICAL DRESSINGS WORKERS OFF TO A FLYING START

The July, Aug. and September quotas (34,200) of surgical dressings gauze came Saturday, June 24. Work started early Monday morning. By 9 o'clock Tuesday morning more than 2,000—4x4 sponges had been folded. This is a fine beginning, but we MUST keep this pace all summer because the NEED IS IMMEDIATE. The armed forces have asked the Red Cross to furnish more than a BILLION surgical dressings this year. Our mid-western area has been asked to supply 30 MILLION each month. Haskell county chapter has been asked to accept an emergency quota. Of course we can and WILL do it.

We have tentative plans for issuing quotas to the various churches and you have the choice of working morning or afternoon, but WORK one day or sometimes every day.

We know the weather is hot and we grow weary, but aren't these trivial excuses when we consider that for the want of a few sponges we might have made but DID NOT—a boy's life was lost. A medical corps captain in the North Pacific has written the Red Cross as follows: "We here and on every other front, are fully and completely dependent upon the things you in the States send us. It takes many things to fight wars and our weapons are dressings and plasma first. Were the supply of surgical dressings to stop then we would stop and stay stopped. That you keep up your supply is of UTMOST importance in the winning of this war."

Former Resident is Married at Plainview

Mrs. R. L. Dendy of this city received the announcement last week of the marriage of her grandson Chaplain Louie B. Dendy of Fort Jackson, Carolina to Miss Wanetah Clydell of Plainview on June the 4th.

Chaplain Dendy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dendy of Plainview, former residents of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Roberts of Wichita Falls were week-end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Roberts and other relatives here.

Methodist Youth Fellowship

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met June 25 at their regular time, 7:30 in the Menefee Bible class room.

The program was presented by Janet Turner, Kenneth Tooley read the scripture.

Know Texas
 A. Garland Adair, Commissioner
 Texas Centennial of Statehood
 Commission, Austin

Q. How long did the first U. S. Senators from Texas serve in that office?
 A. Samuel Houston served from February 21, 1846 to March 3, 1859 when he left Washington to serve as Governor of Texas and Thomas Jefferson Rusk served from February 21, 1857 until his death at Nacogdoches, July 29, 1857.
 Q. Who was president of the convention that confirmed the annexation of Texas to the United States in 1845?
 A. Thomas Jefferson Rusk presided at the convention ratifying the annexation of Texas. He then was elected as a Democrat to the United States Senate and was reelected in 1851 and 1857.
 Q. Did Senator T. J. Rusk have a part in the admission of California in the Union?
 A. Yes. He was presented by the people of California with a fine walking cane in token of appreciation for his service. This cane may be seen in the great hall of the Texas Memorial Museum, having been made available to this state institution on the University of Texas campus at Austin by Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler.

Q. What is being done to create state-wide interest in the observance of the Texas Centennial of Statehood?
 A. Many patriotic, civic, fraternal and other organizations have already manifested a deep interest in the preparatory phases of such a state wide celebration, some of whom by resolutions have tendered their cooperation to Chairman Karl Hohltzelle of the Statehood Commission.

Mrs. Carry McAnulty, manager of the Texas and Rita Theatres in this city, was a business visitor in Abilene Tuesday.

Group Hospital Service of Texas is one of the 77 affiliated groups of the Nationally known Blue Cross Plan of hospital service. There are more than fifteen million American people who are protected by this service. The plan is endorsed by the Texas and by the American Hospital Association and also by the American College of Surgeons.

Federal Aid
 School teachers are influential people. They choose their calling as a rule because they love children, and love influences children. Youngsters, in turn, control their homes and parents more than they realize; in ways they don't know about. Thus a good teacher is a power in the community. Any politician could cut quite a splash if only he could line up all the teachers behind him.

The idea is not new. Starts are made in that direction often. Plans to harness the public schools of America in a bureaucratic treadmill have come before Congress four times since 1937. They have failed every time but each new attempt shows more strength. The most recent one, discussed in this column about a year ago, gained enough momentum to get talked about from Bangor to Burbank.

Maybe Nine Lives
 This latest sally on the public school system was led by Senator Lister Hill of Alabama, helping Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah. The bill, (S. 367) as finally rejected by the 78th Congress, is dead but the senators' ambitions can still wiggle. Hill is campaigning now for re-election on a platform of "federal aid to education," and that's been a hobby of Thomas' for a long time.

The issue will be revived. Political problems have a way of coming to life repeatedly until they are solved, and this one is not solved. Teachers have a right to earn as much in the classroom as they might get for manual labor in a factory and, until teachers' pay is adjusted, state school authorities will have their troubles born of somebody's mistakes; maybe their own.

Government has no magic source of wealth. It is the taxpayers who have to meet school bills and teachers' salaries whether the money is paid out in small amounts by a duly elected neighbor at the county courthouse or disbursed by billions in a distant city by some appointed bureaucrat.

Money Has Power
 Federal aid to education, if it comes, will be federal control of schools eventually, whether the author of the bill wants it or not. Whoever signs the checks can compel obedience to orders, even from teachers. Obviously most public school systems need, not federal support, but better state support. There are at least six good reasons. These are plain and practical, the others basic.

- (1) Federal control would cost taxpayers more for the same results than state control; an extra handling charge.
- (2) Federal control of public schools would make one more huge bureau with an army of henchmen in a maze of pyramiding salaries.
- (3) Federal control will ride down raditions. How the South will bristle at the first official effort to seat white and colored children together at school. It might easily result in widespread violence.
- (4) Concentrating school funds in the hands of far-away strangers is saying to all parents, "Hands off school!"
- (5) It is also fruitful of racketeering.
- (6) Worse yet, it violates the principle of state sovereignty which is the backbone of American freedom. Any time rich Washington sets up a W.P.A. for teachers, local sources at school requests will start drying

Army Answers Cemetery Assn. Meeting To Be Held July 5th, 1944

Questions
 Your questions on allotments, insurance, legal problems or other personal affairs as they relate to the Army will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters, Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

The regular monthly meeting of the Haskell Cemetery Association will be held on the first Wednesday in July, which will be July 5th in Holden Funeral Home at 2:00 p. m.

Q. I have just been notified that my brother was killed in action. I am his nearest relative and the War Department record shows I was designated as his beneficiary. What benefits am due?
 A. If he carried insurance with you as beneficiary, you will shortly receive a letter from the Veterans' Administration concerning its payment. You may also be entitled to the six months' gratuity pay, and if so you will be sent an application to fill out. As his designated beneficiary you are further entitled to receive any pay due him at the time of his death.

Let all members be sure and pay their dues for the year—and be present at the meeting.

ELK CAFE UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

The Elk Cafe on the east side of the square is now under new management, Cleve Decker and Boyd Decker having purchased the establishment from Mr. and Mrs. Eal Treadwell, former owners and proprietors.
 The new proprietors are both experienced cafe operators, and they invite the people of this section to visit their cafe.
 Pvt. John Yancey, who is stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., arrived during the week-end for a visit with relatives and friends in this city.

ROUND-UP—

OPA announces that it may establish ceilings on wage rates for independent contractors for services rendered on farms, where the War Food Administration has established maximum wage rates of farm workers. Used car rationing is not planned at this time or for the future, so far as OPA knows. Unused farmers Pr-19 certificates held by dealers have the same standing as new certificates for the purchase of farm supplies, WPB says. Passenger travel for the first quarter of this year was 25.5 per cent over traffic in the same quarter last year. OWI reports. To insure travel facilities for disabled military, naval and merchant marine personnel, railroads may cancel reservations, space assignments or tickets and if necessary must cancel or discontinue passenger train service and refuse permission of passengers other than disabled personnel or attendants to board trains, ODT has announced.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Martin have as their guests this week, their daughter, Mrs. Byron G. Reed of Phoenix, Ariz., and son, Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas A. Martin of San Louis Obispo, Calif.
 Dale Bartlett, student in Texas University arrived home Saturday to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bartlett.

S-Sgt. Glover Conner of Army Air Field, Casper, Wyoming, was in Haskell for a few days visit with friends and relatives this week before joining his wife in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Mrs. J. M. Ivy and little son of Merkel spent the week-end in the home of Judge and Mrs. John Ivy.

ip. Soon the U. S. Treasury will be footing all bills and that suggested 200 million dollars a year increase in pay for teachers will not be a drop in the bucket. In many states teachers need and deserve more pay. If it comes the people will pay it and they'd better handle it locally. A local solution to the problem is possible anywhere.

A FOURTH OF JULY SALUTE

To Our Men and Women Who Are Fighting to Preserve Our Freedom . . .

We hail with pride those courageous young people of ours who are fighting to maintain the ideals that were incorporated into a new state one hundred and sixty-eight years ago. A state that was born fighting for its rights and has fought for them ever since—and won.

And yet, we are not a warlike nation. Our youth has not grown up in rigid military tradition. We don't want that—we want our kids to be kids as long as they can, free to play ball on the corner lot, go swimming, skating, or anything else they choose. But this generation has had to put youth behind them sooner than they would have normally and go to war so that their children may grow up to enjoy the freedom of the corner lot, too.

We want to do all we can to bring those youths turned fighting men home soon. The best way we can help, of course, is to buy bonds — lots of bonds. Buy as many as you think you can afford and then buy another. Hold on to all of them. It's an investment in the future—and boys' lives.
