ent Appeal Is Made For Greater Response To Scrap Metal Campaign In County

Committee Chairmen Need For Cooperation

Appeal for every scrap metal that can be used in Haskell county is being made by A. D. McClintock, chairman of the Haskell county committee, in the farm-to-farm metal campaign made by a Government to pick up the scrap metal that remains from the war.

People to the plea to scrap metal, in order to get the scrap metal dealer channels and sorting, Mr. McClintock said.

we are worried — because so many people are in their junk shops. It has to go through the junk dealer. We don't think it is propaganda; it is a fact that scrap metal is being used for the war program. Either the scrap metal dealer or the junk dealer is going to over-price of scrap metal.

war of steel—it is a steel war. Steel is used in steel ships, steel guns, steel submarines, and steel armor. It is a war of iron and steel scrap.

we read in our newspapers more ships, but there are no ships (Eight)

Draft Board of Fisher County Quits In Group

After placing in a deferred classification all but seven of 42 men who were to have answered an Aug. 28 call for induction, the Fisher County Draft Board resigned Sept. 3 and charged state selective service headquarters with arbitrarily reclassifying a registrant.

A signed statement issued by the board said that state headquarters had placed a registrant in Class 2-A because he was a farm and ranch hand, declaring "the same conclusion could prevail in the cases of 98 per cent of the county's registrants."

County board members were W. W. Morton, Roby; George W. Riley, Rotan, and A. B. Hilburn, Roby.

The board voted to place the 42 men subject to the Aug. 28 call in Class 2-A after receiving instructions from state headquarters to place the farm and ranch hands in question in 2-A for six months.

The board claimed the man had never appeared before the board to ask for deferment. "His employer," said the board's statement, "who seemingly wields a deal of influence in Austin, brought sufficient influence to bear in our Capitol to have the classification dictated after the district appeal board in Amarillo has sustained the Fisher board before in its findings. If the state headquarters sees fit to arbitrarily classify men as they have this man, the Fisher County board should, in duty to the citizenry, take immediate steps to obtain the release of a number of men who have been sent to the army."

Sam G. Cobb, Jr., Enlists In Navy As Aviation Cadet

Samuel Gatlin Cobb, Jr., son of S. G. Cobb of Haskell, has been selected for training as a Naval Aviation cadet and will be ordered to active duty shortly.

Young Cobb graduated from Lueders High School in 1938 and has been farming since graduation. When ordered to active duty, he will report to the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia, for three months of physical conditioning instruction in naval essentials, military drill and ground school subjects. After completing this course, he will be sent to one of the Navy's numerous reserve bases for primary flight training.

Ensign Ober Johnson here for visit

"One More Shell For The Guns!"
The cannons roar; the shells scream. Planes zoom through the air at terrific speed with motors pounding. Guns flash; men die. America is at war. For the freedom of democracy we must win. The collection of scrap iron, scrap rubber and waste fuel will help them win. Fighting men are calling for your help. More equipment, more ammunition is needed. Perhaps your own son is one of these men. Perhaps your son will survive the war and return home, when you see him the shell of a man with sightless eyes, or a leg or arm missing. Perhaps you will hear your son say, "One more shell for my gun and this could never have happened." Collecting salvage helps win.

MARSHAL HOLCOMBE DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME OF PARENTS

Injury Suffered In Recent Fall Believed Cause of Death

Marshal M. Holcombe, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. (Jake) Holcombe, died at the family home 16 miles east of Haskell Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock after an illness of only a few hours and before he could be brought to the hospital in this city for medical attention.

The youth, while playing with several companions about ten days ago, had fallen from a tree and suffered a slight injury on the back of his head, but he had apparently recovered from the injury and had been doing his regular chores on the farm. Shortly before noon Tuesday the youth complained of a severe headache and a physician was summoned, who advised that Holcombe be brought to the hospital here, but the youth died before an ambulance arrived. Death was believed to have been caused from a brain or spine injury suffered in his recent fall.

Funeral services for the young man were held at the First Baptist Church in this city Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Rev. C. Jones, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in Willow Cemetery with Holden funeral home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were Edward Moeller, Raymond Stiewert, Louis Chamberlain, Olton Blair, D. C. Nicholson, Troy Ash, Jr., Frank Moeller and William Von Gonten, Jr.

Marshall M. Holcombe was born July 1, 1923, and had lived in Haskell county all of his life. In addition to his parents, he is survived by three brothers, L. D. Jr., Boyce and John Lea Holcomb, three sisters, Wanda, Oma Gayle and Elva Mae Holcomb, all of Haskell, and a grandfather, I. N. Furrh, of Weinert.

220 Students Registered In High School; 462 In Grades

An enrollment of 700 or more students in the Haskell Public Schools for the 1942-43 term appeared likely this week when a total of 682 students had been enrolled during the first two days of the term—Monday and Tuesday—it was announced by school officials.

With the term officially opening Monday, Sept. 7th, the first two days of the week were devoted to registration of students, and regular class work was begun Wednesday morning in all school divisions.

Heavy rains Sunday and Sunday night cut down first day attendance and registration figures to a considerable extent, school officials believed.

A report compiled in the office of Supt. C. B. Breedlove Wednesday showed a total enrollment for the current term of 682 pupils on the first two days of the week. Of this number 220 students were registered in High School, 312 were enrolled in the North Ward School and 150 in the South Ward School.

Despite the fact that the Haskell School system has been faced with the necessity of filling a number of vacancies in the faculty during recent months, full corps of teachers in both High School and Grade School were on hand for the beginning of the term this week and few, if any changes in teaching assignments will be necessary to take care of the full enrollment of the district.

HEAVY RAINS GENERAL OVER AREA SUNDAY

Precipitation of 1.28 Inches
Heaviest Received Here
In Months

Fall rains bringing the county the heaviest downpour in several months fell generally over Haskell county and a wide area of West Texas during the week-end with precipitation of 1.28 inches gauged here Sunday afternoon and night. Heavier rainfall was reported at Stamford, where more than four inches was received during the downpour, and at Throckmorton, where precipitation was reported at more than three inches.

The moisture will be of great benefit to late feed crops and pastures, and provided a supply of stock water in stock tanks that was badly needed.

However, the cooler weather and continued cloudiness created a grave threat of heavier damage by leaf and bollworms to the county's cotton crop. Farmers in most sections had been dusting cotton to control leafworms, but the heavy rains washed the poison from the plants in many fields before it had been effective. As a consequence farmers will be required to poison again where the worm infestation is heavy as quickly as they can get into their fields.

Gathering of this year's cotton crop has also been delayed by the heavy rains, but with fair weather during the next few days most farmers expect cotton gathering to be in full swing if sufficient labor is available.

lations issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which has regulatory power over migratory birds and migratory waterfowl.

For the same reason, limits on new licenses, provided a daily bag of four geese and a possession limit of eight. But the Federal authorities recently amended waterfowl rules to provide for a daily bag of two geese or brant, and a possession limit of four.

There is a qualification, as there was last year, concerning the goose limits. The daily bag limit is two, but in addition four blue geese may be taken. If blue geese only are taken, then the bag limit is six.

The possession limit on geese other than blue geese is 4 a day but in addition two blue geese are allowed and if only blue geese are taken the possession limit is six. On the opening day of the season the possession limit is the same as the daily bag limit, and this provision applies also to ducks.

News From the North

Mourning doves in the northern tier of Counties where the season opened September 1, are big, fat and numerous and nimrods are having little difficulty bagging their limits each day, according to reports from Game Wardens in that section of the State. The season opens in most of the remainder of the State on September 16. Mourning doves appear plentiful in almost all localities, but the white-wing crop in the lower Rio Grande Valley appears shorts of expectations.

Hunters who will take out after white-wings at high noon of September 17th were urged, incidentally to retrieve every possible bird brought down. Thousands of these rapidly vanishing birds, each year are crippled and left to die in the dense brush that is their native habitat. If hunters were to retrieve every bird shot, they would greatly help those trying to save the white-wing from extermination in this state.

Skunk Fat For Skunks

T. P. Lawdermilk, Irion County Clerk might have something here. In a letter to the Game Department he points out that trappers of bearing animals annually waste much of the fat from animals. The government needs fats for the manufacture of explosives. So why not ask each hunter and trapper to save the animal fat, turn it over to retail fur dealers, who in turn could take it to district rendering plants? And if a little skunk odor remains in the fat of the striped creatures, then "why not fight the skunks with a little skunk fat?" asks Mr. Lawdermilk.

The Federal Census of Agriculture estimates that in 1940 there were 21,799,610 chickens in Texas.

State law provides that new licenses must have printed on the back the bag and possession limits of game species, and the current State law limits provided by the Legislature last year were followed when the licenses were made up and sent to the printer months ago. Recently these State limits fixed by the Legislature were superseded by Federal regu-

A Suggestion to Mothers of School Children

With the beginning of school the average housewife has a doubly important task in providing healthy, wholesome meals for her family, special consideration for the children. Housewives who shop here have found that they can concentrate on menu selection instead of prices, because prices are kept at the lowest possible minimum every day in the week—and these prices are well within the average budget for quality foods.

A Modern Kitchen Guide
Shows How to Prepare Delicious Meals at Low Cost
With Food Prices Going UP This is of Prime Importance These Days

MODERN KITCHEN GUIDE
is essentially a practical cook book with many fine recipes that make low cost meals. Recipes are not fancy, hard to make concoctions of some domestic science "expert" but the favorite recipes of successful home cooks who compiled the book.

912 Recipes — 256 Pages
Binding Bound for Easy Reference

Because of its practical character women praise and ask for it. More than 900,000 have been sold in all parts of the country. Here is a typical letter from Mrs. Emma Blutz, East Stroudsburg, Pa.
"I have your cook book called a Modern Kitchen Guide, given me by a friend. Several of my relations and friends who have read the book like it so much they all want one. Would like to know where they could be bought."

It is a service to the community this newspaper is glad to make this splendid book available to its friends and subscribers. Through our connection with Bunting Publications, Inc., North Chicago, Ill., specialists in this type of book, we are able to offer Modern Kitchen Guide not as you might expect, at $1.50 or $2.00 but for ONLY 50¢.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Post Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Post, whose parents were among the first families to settle in this section of West Texas, observed their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary at their home in this city Monday. No special observance of the event had been planned because of the fact that it was impossible for all their children to be at home at this time, but Mr. and Mrs. Post were the recipients of messages of congratulations from relatives and a host of friends on the anniversary.

Residents of this city during their entire married life, Mr. and Mrs. Post have been active in church and civic affairs of Haskell for more than a half century, while Mr. Post was actively connected with the various business development of this section for a long period, having been engaged in business and in banking until his retirement several years ago.

Both members of pioneer families here, Mr. and Mrs. Post were married Sept. 7, 1892 at Dickens, Texas, then known as "Dickens City". Mrs. Post was the former Rachel Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ballard who had moved from Haskell to Dickens a few months before her marriage.

Mr. Post, who was employed in the Dodson general mercantile store here at the time, recalls that it took him almost three days to drive in a buggy from Haskell to Dickens for the wedding, going by the way of Benjamin and Guthrie. On the anniversary of the event, Mr. Post recalls that a few years ago he and Mrs. Post while returning home from a visit in Lubbock, drove over the same route from Dickens to Haskell in just four hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Post still retain an active interest in community and church affairs, and both are enjoying good health. Their four children are Marvin H. Post of Denver City, Texas; J. B. Post of Stamford; Prof. Gaines Post of Madison, Wis.; and Mrs. George Cannon of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford and Fred Ford of Fort Worth spent the week end in Haskell visiting friends and relatives.

Woman's Missionary Society of First Christian Church Meets

Thirteen members of the Woman's Missionary Society of First Christian Church met in the church Monday, Sept. 7th. The president, Mrs. C. N. Williams conducted a brief devotional and business session. Mrs. J. M. Glass directed a most inspiring program on "The Home Fields", the third in a study of "Our Worldwide Task". Mrs. H. S. Post leader for the worship service in developing the topic "A Sense of Missions" made us feel very keenly the need for deepening our missionary passion and renewing our belief in the Biblical basis of missions at a time when foreign missions face difficulties abroad and critics at home.

Mrs. C. N. Williams gave a very concise and eye-opening resume of the world we are carrying on through our great program of missions and the work we ought also to be doing.

Mrs. Lynn Pace Jr. and Mrs. W. A. Duncan discussed "When Men Worship". This is the story of Chaplain Ewart H. Wylie, Captain, U. S. Army tells of the strange places and circumstances under which men of our armed forces worship and of the new significance the presence of God has in the lives of our soldiers. Mrs. W. P. Ratliff discussed "China Past and Present". The underlying theme of her talk was nothing can happen to China which christianity and christian living cannot eradicate. The meeting closed with the Missionary Benediction.

Church School Council and Fellowship Meeting

The Church School Council of First Christian Church met in the basement Wednesday evening, Sept. 2nd with the superintendent Judge Dennis P. Ratliff presiding. Plans for rally day, goals and achievements were formulated, each teacher and officer pledged himself anew to the task of spiritual and numerical increase in the church school by Homecoming day which is the first Lord's Day in October.

A fine fellowship period followed the council with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bradford as hosts. We indulged in a lot of fun, foolishness, food and faith. Special guest for the evening were Jake Prince who leaves for Camp Barkeley Sept. 8th, Josephine Parish and Beunis Java Ratliff who leave for college Sept. 13th. Judge Ratliff presented a gift from the church in appreciation for loyal and untiring service through the years. The period closed with a "rousing" cheer for the swell hosts, a sing song of patriotic and spiritual songs and a circle of prayers. There will be one of these fellowship meetings each Wednesday evening sponsored by the various classes and organizations of the church.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Aside from the sixty-mile an hour Mosquito Torpedo Boats, the Sub Chasers are the speedsters of our Navy. Light and fast, they are the eyes of the Fleet on the water. They displace approximately 1,500 tons and cost about $2,400,000 each.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

We need many of these powerful, fast little boats to cope with the treacherous submarine type of naval warfare fostered by our enemies. Everybody can help pay for more Sub Chasers by putting at least ten percent of his income into War Bonds. Buy Bonds or Stamps every pay day. Buy them from your bank, your post office, or from your office or factory through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Weekly Health Letter By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer Austin, Texas—With the nation facing a loss of more than 6 million man days per month in defense industries alone from accidents and illnesses, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is intensifying the Texas State Health Department's effort to cut down the total days lost in this State. "The number of man days lost from accidents alone each month reaches an alarming total. But when we consider there are 9 times more absentees from communicable and other diseases it becomes apparent," Dr. Cox asserted, "why it is necessary to urge that each individual protect his own health to the best of his ability." Communicable disease and even mild epidemics can seriously handicap the nation's war effort by slowing down the production of the necessary ships, planes, guns and tanks. Careful attention to personal cleanliness, proper nutrition, sufficient rest, fresh air and sunshine is the personal responsibility of every individual at this time. "It's our job," Dr. Cox said, "to fight sickness and accidents. Production can be boosted and lives can be saved by strict adherence to community and industrial hygiene standards and full cooperation in such community projects as mosquito control and rat extermination for preventing the spread of malaria, dengue and typhus fever. Loss of time renders aid to the enemy and this country must be able to depend on peak production from all of its industrial army." Corn, having been grown by the Caddoes and other semi-civilized aboriginal tribes of Texas, is the oldest cultivated crop in the state.

War Enters Fourth Year

On the first day of September, the greatest war the world has ever known entered its fourth year. Those three years have witnessed a series of almost uninterrupted triumphs for Hitler and his satellites. The timetable of conquest makes almost incredible reading—Poland fell in 28 days, Denmark in one day, Norway in two months, Belgium in 18 days, France in 43 days. Of all the nations Hitler has invaded, Russia alone remains. It is very likely that the historians of the future will write that Russia was the savior of the free world. Whatever happens, the magnificent resistance of the Red Army will mark one of the brightest and bravest pages in the long and sanguinary history of combat.

On December 7, 1941, Japan joined hands with the Axis. And the Jap timetable of conquest is comparable to that of Hitler. Guam was taken in five days. Wake Island was conquered in 14 days, after a superb defense by a handful of United States Marines. Malaya, with its supposedly impregnable naval base at Singapore, fell in 54 days. The Philippines were forced to surrender in a little less than five months. In short, the war so far has consisted largely of disasters for United Nations' forces—and a series of great victories for the dictators. This is simply a matter of record and it does no service to the democratic cause to attempt to hide the truth.

Basically the cause of all this is simply explained. The enemy was ready for war, and we and our Allies were not. The enemy understood precisely what total war means—and we did not. In Germany and Japan there are no strikes. There is no shilly-shallying on the part of the officials of the government. There is a grim and all-encompassing efficiency. The Axis means to destroy us utterly, and every resource at its command is devoted completely to that end.

So much for the debit side. On the credit side there is also a great deal to say at the end of three years of war. The quality of the United Nations' fighting men is first class. Only a little of the long and bloody story is now known—but that little is magnificent. The RAF after Dunkirk, the Russians before Sevastopol, the Dutch army and sailors in the East Indies, the U. S. Army in Bataan, the Marines in the Solomons—in those campaigns free men wrote with their blood a glorious saga of courage and achievement. The Germans and the Japs have paid a tremendous price for their victories.

There is much to be said also for American war production. The burden of supplying the troops of all the United Nations falls squarely on us. No other nation has even a tithe of our potential productive capacity. And it can be said to the everlasting credit of American industry that the changeover from production for peace to production for war was generally made swiftly and effectively. But there are many bad spots still. We have not yet achieved, in many vital lines, the essential production goals which have been laid down. There has been mismanagement in labor, in government, and in industry itself. These bad spots must be erased before we can carry the war fully to the enemy. No American should feel optimistic today. He should feel instead, that infinitely more must be done before victory can be assured. He must not forget that this war can be lost if we fail to coordinate our efforts.

It is a favorite saying in Washington that "the American people don't yet realize the gravity of the situation." But, as many columnists have been pointing out, Washington officialdom has created confusion and indecision in the minds of the people. The conflicting "official reports" that still seep out of Washington concerning such basic issues as rubber, fuel, gasoline, the draft, etc., have attained the stature of a national scandal. Only lately, through Elmer Davis' Office of War Information, has a start been made toward clarifying official policy. Every poll indicates that the American people are willing, ready and even eager to make any necessary sacrifice—if only their leaders will tell them simply and clearly what sacrifices are needed.

We are just beginning to feel the economic effects of war. Non-essential businesses are closing fast. Whole occupations—such as that of the salesman—are being virtually wiped out. As store inventories run down, it will be impossible to buy once-plentiful commodities as radios, sofas, water heaters, and any number of other conveniences. Taxes will be even heavier next year than they are now, and it seems inevitable that a sales tax and some form of enforced savings will soon be adopted. In many fields, the labor shortage is acute. These are but a few of the consequences of total war.

As the war enters its fourth year, Germany and Japan dominate an immense part of the globe. They have gained through conquest, gigantic quantities of vital raw materials. Despite its losses, the German Army is still the most potent military machine on earth. But, at the same time, America's growing military power is at last being felt. The U. S. Army is increasing fast in numbers, and is being superbly equipped. The U. S. Navy and Air Forces have demonstrated that they have splendid striking power and brilliant leadership. The courage of Allied fighting men is beyond question. To paraphrase Winston Churchill's phrase, if we give these fighting men enough tons, they will finish the job.

Saboteurs All
The people have listened to a lot of pledges by the heads of union labor that there would be no more strikes. Yet, every day new strikes delay war production. The excuse given by labor leaders for these stoppages of work, is that the strikes are "unauthorized." But the fact remains that war production is tied up and that when the men go back to work they are not disciplined in any manner by their own organizations which calmly accept their "unauthorized" obstruction of the war effort. A striker in these times creates havoc the same as a saboteur who lands on our shores from a German U-boat. The purpose of each is to hamper production at a critical time. Fathers, mothers, wives, brothers and sisters whose men folk are in the armed forces waiting for supplies on which their lives may depend, are fed up with the striker who enjoys the privilege of staying at home, drawing high wages, working reasonable hours, and getting time off while their boys risk their lives to protect the strikers themselves from the dangers which the armed forces face.

J. S. Swilling has returned from a couple of trips that took him through about 50 counties in Texas as the past month, and he stated to us that crops in Haskell county will average up in general with crops in the counties he visited. Mrs. M. B. Gentry and daughters Misses Dick, Mattie and Kate, who live in the southeast part of the county were in the city Friday. The young ladies took the train for Canyon City, where they will attend school this winter. Miss Lillie Ellard, who has been visiting Mrs. Fred Sanders of this city left Wednesday for a visit in Alabama and Georgia. Mrs. L. F. Taylor went to Abilene Tuesday to see her little daughter Lucille, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. Misses Tommie Boone, Fannie Jack Baldwin and Lela Odell left Tuesday morning for Fort Worth where they will attend TCU this winter. A. W. McGregor made a trip to Weirnet this week. Mr. McGregor owns a 1500 acre farm adjoining and east of that prosperous little city. Messdames Cunningham and Reynolds of Anson and their mother, Mrs. W. T. Hudson of this city, visited Mrs. J. E. Robertson of Weirnet last week. E. H. Tinsley arrived here on Thursday night and presented his credentials as civil engineer for the new railroad to our Railroad Committee with the statement that he had come to locate and survey the line. Friday morning he went out with members of the committee and the starting point was located on the ground set apart for depot purposes and Mr. Tinsley proceeded to employ hands and make other preparations for beginning his work. Hearing that there are a large number of ducks on the lakes on Lake Creek a few miles north of town, Judge H. G. McConnell and County Clerk C. D. Long armed themselves with shotguns Thursday evening and drove out to try their marksmanship. Capt. W. W. Fields and wife, J. U. and Hollis Fields and Misses Belle Rupe and May Fields went down on the Clear Fork Monday evening to spend a few days hunting and fishing. The work of harvesting one of the biggest forage crops ever made in Haskell county is now in progress. Messrs. K. Jones and J. W. Wright have purchased the confectionary and cold drink business of Roy Cummings and are now in possession. They plan to add a full line of canned goods to the business. Miss Una Foster left Thursday for Boston, Mass., where she will take an art course in one of the leading colleges in that city. She goes via Galveston, taking a steamer there for Boston. Messrs. Sanders & Earnest say they have their ginning plant ready to start on the season's run. Miss Ethel Alexander will leave next Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., where she will enter Belmont College for the ensuing term. Both English arrived home Saturday from the upper Panhandle where he has been looking after his stock interests. D. S. Kretal of McLennan county was here last week and bought the old T. E. Ballard place on Paint Creek. It is his intention to move to this county this fall.

On The Home Front
As the tempo of war increases and the machinery of war production moves at a faster clip, the effects are felt increasingly on the Home Front. This has been especially true in the last week. Announcement of immediate allocations of meat for civilians with full-fledged rationing to follow as soon as details can be arranged heralded the fact that it won't be long before the nation at home goes further into the war than just "ankle deep." During the week also, War Production Board actions showed a general tendency of tightening up on the civilian. Additional restrictions were applied to civilian use of materials that are also needed for war, and some restrictions were applied to civilian use of materials that are also needed for war, and on some restrictions already in effect additional squeezes were applied.

A development on the price control front during the week emphasized the fact that the government feons business in keeping the cost of living down. This came in the filing of more than 100 court actions against major meat packers and wholesale distributors in 18 cities. Seeking injunctions to force compliance with OPA regulations the government charged violations of price ceiling orders in sales of beef and veal. Most of the suits are concerned with so-called "up grading" whereby inferior meats have been stamped and sold at higher grades. Many of the suits merely allege over-charging. This nationwide drive against violators is the outcome of extensive investigations by OPA and Department of Agriculture in the Southwestern OPA region, suits were filed against companies in St. Louis and Kansas City, which operate throughout the region.

As for meat rationing, so that all may share and share alike, while demand exceeds supply, the national food requirement committee was asked to speed up plans for equitable distribution. Pending working out of rationing details, which may take four months, it was announced that the War Production Board would issue orders for allocations of meat by packers and wholesalers to retail outlets. Also in the meantime, voluntary "rationing" through adoption of a "meatless day" plan will be suggested. The proposed ration is 2 1/2 lbs. of meat per person per week—about the same as average consumption during the late 1930's. This is far greater than present rationing in Europe. Britons get a little more than a pound a week while Italians are allowed 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 ounces each per week. Meat rationing will be a result of increased buying power: Our supply has reached the record-breaking total of 24 billion pounds a year, but even greater record-breaking demand resulting from military and lend-lease needs and increased civilian consumption is estimated at 27 billion pounds.

Also pertaining to distribution of commodities and supplies, and in line with the tightening-up trend it was announced that the WPB has approved a plan to regulate inventories of finished civilian goods in the hands of wholesalers and retailers. This form of distribution and inventory control, when finally ordered probably will call for quarterly inventory and sales reports, and limitation of stocks to a "normal inventory." In its announcements, the WPB said that it was recommended that the plan include general exemptions for businesses with an annual volume of less than $100,000 and whose inventory on September 30, 1942, or at the end of any subsequent month was less than $25,000 at cost value, in addition to a general exemption for merchants primarily engaged in the food business, second hand stores, service establishments, grain and feed stores, farm implement dealers, merchants handling fuel, and other specific lines.

4 STEEL FACTS in one minute

Fine Steels Made Entirely from Scrap
Some of the finest electric furnace steels used today are made 100 per cent from scrap iron and steel.
168 Pounds of Steel Become 41 Pounds
A vital part for an anti-aircraft gun is produced from a steel forging weighing 168 pounds. The finished gun part, after machining, etc., weighs 41 pounds—almost 75 per cent of the original weight of the forging becomes scrap.
Ton of Scrap Conserves 4 Tons of Mineral Wealth
Every ton of steel scrap going into a steel furnace conserves nearly four tons of our nation's precious resources of iron ore, coal and limestone.
37 Tons of Blueprints per Ship
A tremendous stock of blueprints weighing a total of 37 tons is prepared for use during the construction of a large battleship.

Medical missionaries and health officials in the Belgian Congo, Africa, where it is customary for the white man to fight malaria by doses of quinine every day, are greatly concerned over the lack of that and other drugs because of the war. According to Dr. Arthur L. Piper, for twenty-five years in charge of the Methodist Hospital at Kapanga, the small amount of quinine raised in the Congo will not be nearly sufficient for everyday needs. "Scientists in Germany developed attractive substitutes several years ago, and this can be manufactured and replaced in the Congo," he says. "Substitutes notwithstanding there are going to be a lot of deaths all through the malarial countries due to the grabbing of Java (principal source of quinine) by the Japanese."

Added to these new orders, bicycle production was limited to two of 10 plants with the other eight plants to produce war materials; materials allowed to manufacturers under the Production Requirements Plan were forbidden for use in plant improvement or expansion; used laundry and cleaning equipment were placed under restrictions, manufacture of men's and boys' woolen lounging robes was forbidden and storage battery production was ordered limited to a replacement rate only.

NEWS IN THE WORLD—Dr. Francis C. Tucker, a young interne in the Roosevelt Hospital, New York City and Mrs. Tucker have been appointed as career missionaries of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions (Congregational) for service in China. Dr. Tucker is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis F. Tucker, both for many years medical missionaries in China. The young doctor was born in Hoppi Province, China, and expects soon to begin practice there. He is a graduate of Oberlin College and Harvard Medical School. Mrs. Tucker, the former Miss Emma Scott of Chicago, is a graduate of George Williams College.

"So far, America's greatest act as a nation has been the liberation of the slaves," says Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary to India, now on a lecture tour in America. "Her next great act will be to give the descendants of those freed slaves equality of opportunity. We must do it not through patronage or condescension, but through simple justice—an already too long delayed justice. The Negroes have more than earned the right to that justice. Although suppressed and thwarted at every turn they have made more progress in these eighty years since slavery than any race in human history in that length of time. We should be proud of them and open the gates of opportunity to them."

Haskell County History

20 Years Ago—Sept. 15, 1922
The first norther of the season visited Haskell and vicinity last Sunday morning, causing a decided drop in the temperature. It was accompanied by a light rain, which came too late to benefit cotton but will help late feed.

30 Years Ago—Sept. 14, 1912
Miss Beattie Gilliam of Hubbard City arrived in the city last Friday to assume her position as teacher in the Haskell schools. G. Myers of the Paint Creek, or Irby community, was here this week. Mr. Myers is running a gin and is kept busy. He says they are now entitled to a name for a town, as they have a store and a gin, a good school building and a good school.

40 Years Ago—Sept. 13, 1902
E. H. Tinsley arrived here on Thursday night and presented his credentials as civil engineer for the new railroad to our Railroad Committee with the statement that he had come to locate and survey the line. Friday morning he went out with members of the committee and the starting point was located on the ground set apart for depot purposes and Mr. Tinsley proceeded to employ hands and make other preparations for beginning his work.

As an indication of the breaking of the railroad strike, J. L. Southern local agent for the Wichita Valley reports he arrived Thursday of nine empty freight cars, first to be sent here since the strike began. Frank Kimbrough left Monday morning for Abilene, where he will attend Simmons College during the coming term. Monday evening about seven o'clock a Chevrolet car tried to enter the Oates Drug Store, and if the large brick pillar by the side of the entrance had not been so substantial, the car would have come right in. Albert Lemmon and Andy Walsh, who have been working in the Haskell Telephone Company have returned home. Cedric Sanders, who for the past summer has been traveling for the Post Toasties Company, has returned home for a short visit before entering college this fall. J. L. Tubbs and family, formerly of this city but now of Trinidad, Colo., are here this week on business. Mr. Tubbs states that he will likely move back to Haskell.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS
The Garand semi-automatic rifle, which is the standard issue today for the U. S. army, is superior to the old Springfield rifle in many respects. We literally need millions of these fast shooting powerful rifles to equip our army. They cost $85 each and are being manufactured at the rate of one a minute. They fire sixty 30-calibre shells a minute.

Every one of the 40,000,000 employed persons in America could easily buy one of these rifles for the army. Not that we need that many, but the reserve could go into shells and other much needed supplies. Buy more and more War Bonds and top the quota in your county by investing at least ten percent of your income every pay day.

Check Your Dry Roughage Supply

Check your hay or other dry roughages to be sure there is enough to last your dairy cows until hay can be made in 1943. Counsels E. R. Eudaly, dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

He says that each cow needs an average of at least one ton of hay or other dry roughage yearly, provided silage is available to take the place of green pasture. Without silage or pasture an average of two tons of hay per cow is needed. A Jersey cow needs 20 to 25 pounds of dry matter from roughage daily. She will eat about 80 pounds of tender green grass, which analyzes about 85 per cent water, leaving the equivalent of 12 pounds of dry matter.

In order to hold the cow's production it is necessary to supply her with eight pounds of hay, dry bundle feed, or cottonseed hulls. As grass dries the water content declines. When it falls to 75 per cent and the dry matter goes up to 25 per cent the cow will not need hay.

"The cow will know when she needs hay. Just offer it to her," Eudaly suggests. When cows are turned on the wheat, oats or barley pasture this fall they should have some hay or other dry roughage. When they are getting silage instead of pasture they need it also.

If plenty of hay or dry bundle feed (grain sorghum bundles, cane bundles, corn tops, etc.) are not available, Johnson and sudan grasses make good hay, provided they are cut before seed forms in the head.

It may be that you have hedges or other grain sorghum crops which you expect to behead for grain feed, the specialist observes. "If the majority of the leaves still are green after the heads have been taken off, the stalks can be cut and used as dry roughage."

Ten per cent of your income in War Bonds will help to build the planes and tanks that will insure defeat of Hitler and his Axis partners.

two to four inches with a turning plow or middle buster. The latter method places the seed on beds where plants receive better drainage. Seeding also may be done with a corn or cotton planter and a sorghum plate provided. Miller explains it is not worn as to allow seed to roll between the plate and bottom of the hopper where they would be crushed.

West Texas Utilities Company
"I flicked the switch —but Nothing Happened!"
CLICK!... Thousands of times each year, day and night, her fingertips had repeated that simple motion until it had become automatic and unthinking.
Let's suppose it's you. You let yourself in late some night. You flick the switch—and nothing happens! No light anywhere! At first you are annoyed. But your emotions quickly turn to confusion, concern—and fear.
Something's seriously wrong when the lights won't work!
The very fact that West Texans do take electric service for granted is a tribute to the men and women who supply it. They've made it dependable. And they've made it cheap.
The average West Texas family gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 10 or 15 years ago. It's made it possible for most families to enjoy the comfort and convenience of many more time and labor-saving appliances.
This has been accomplished under the American tradition of freedom. Freedom of business management under government regulation—freedom to make our own laws... live our own lives... freedom to invent, invest and produce more for everybody's benefit. That is the American Way—the absolute opposite to the Hitler system of political management and state slavery.
The American Way has made this the most power-full nation in the world today... proving that practical business management is meeting the needs of our way of life.

Scrap Metal—

"And steel is made from 50 per cent iron and steel scrap and 50 per cent pig iron!"

"More ships? Iron and steel scrap! More guns? Iron and steel scrap! More tanks? Iron and steel scrap! More planes? Iron and steel scrap! More shells? Iron and steel scrap!"

"And still so many people refuse to turn in their junk because it has to go through a junk dealer. Certainly it has to go through junk dealers—that's their business and if we didn't have them to sort, grade, collect and prepare this junk for the steel making furnaces the war would soon be over for us. Bear in mind that there are over seventy grades of iron and steel scrap and over one hundred grades and types of metal. All this junk must be carefully and accurately graded and prepared to specifications and then shipped to the mills in car loads of one grade. Who else but a junk dealer has the knowledge, experience, equipment and ability to perform this very necessary service?"

"Our people must awaken to the fact that we are engaged in total war, and that our enemies are determined to destroy us. Our brave young men are fighting to save us, but bravely alone cannot avail—they must have steel."

"And one half all steel is iron and steel scrap!"

"This is WAR—the time when we should consider personal prejudices is past—Either we unite in ONE SUPREME EFFORT, or else we face the fate of those brave and valiant people of Greece where in Athens alone hundreds of persons are licking out the empty cans from the garbage of the invading soldiers."

"Nothing must stand between us and our production of steel. Every piece of iron and steel scrap in Texas must go NOW to our steel making furnaces even if it has to go through the devil himself!"

"Brave men shall not die because those on whom they depended let personal prejudices stand between them and their duty!"

"Certainly in this tragic hour, when all civilization is at stake, no man can willfully hoard material (junk) so vitally needed and still maintain any semblance of self respect."

Promoted to Rank of Sergeant PERRIN FIELD, Texas (Special)—Ralph L. Moody, son of Mrs. Sarah Jane Moody of Route 3, Haskell, who is an airplane mechanic at the Army Air Forces basic flying field at Perrin Field, Texas, recently was promoted to the rank of sergeant in the 508th School Squadron.

As an airplane mechanic, Sergeant Moody plays a vital part in the war effort against the Axis—a part for which the Army Air Forces now is conducting an intensive campaign to enlist qualified men. Sergeant Moody is entrusted with the responsibility of keeping the plane to which he is assigned in a safe operating condition at all times.

In Officers Training School Scarborough J. Copeland, has been admitted to an Officer Candidate to the Air Forces Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Florida. After successfully completing an intensive twelve weeks course of instruction, Officer Candidate Copeland will be commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Forces, Army of the United States.

At this school, the first of its kind, the officer candidate studies more than 35 specialized courses in administrative, personnel and supply duties. Upon graduation, officers will be assigned to duty in one of these departments in the Air Forces, thus relieving trained pilots from such duties and allowing them to devote their full time to flying.

His father, Mr. Walter M. Copeland lives at Weinert, Texas.

ROAD TO VICTORY! (By STUART CLOETE) Why should anyone buy War Bonds? There is no compulsion to buy them. There is no winter relief... no SS man standing outside the door saying, "Buy, or else." Nothing is at stake but the future of the country... perhaps the World.

What then is a stamp or bond but a vote of confidence in ourselves? In our capacity to drive on, to break all opposition and then to reconstruct upon a new and better design a world that will be different. A world of surplus instead of one of scarcity. But a bond is more than this. It is an investment. It is something of a miracle that freedom can be bought and that in addition it should pay a dividend of almost 3 per cent. And this is not all. Bonds stand between us and the spiral of inflation which could engulf us more easily than any enemy outside our gates. For the first time in many years, demand backed by money exceeds supply, and even stimulates it by advertising and credit purchase plans. Are we to save money against the time when we may need it, or bid for the few consumer goods that are left against ourselves? There is one more reason for buying bonds. The President, who is also the commander in chief, has asked us to do so. Meanwhile... while we hesitate... while we complain of nominal hardship... men die... not only fighting men, but women and small children also. They die for a good cause. A good reason... for freedom. But we who are not dying must pay in time and money, or we shall find ourselves dishonored. The time is short. It passes... and having passed, is forever lost.

Men in France, in Poland, in Norway... men all over Europe are regretting time... are saying: "If only we had known!" But we do know. The writing is on the wall. Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, Singapore, Dunkirk, are not dreams. They are evil things that have happened, and now this evil approaches us. It lies in wait off our coasts. Time is money... but money cannot buy time, nor bring dead men to life, nor purchase freedom once it is lost. That is why we must buy bonds now... today and tomorrow, and the day after. Buy bonds until this thing is destroyed utterly... because time is not subject to manipulation... because the past is dead and the future mortgaged... because the world cannot live half free and half slave. Nor we, the free, allow the mortgage upon our freedom to be foreclosed. Failing now, we fail forever. Never before could so much be bought for so little. Never so much lost for lack of this little. —U. S. Treasury Department

ROAD TO VICTORY! (By STUART CLOETE) Why should anyone buy War Bonds? There is no compulsion to buy them. There is no winter relief... no SS man standing outside the door saying, "Buy, or else." Nothing is at stake but the future of the country... perhaps the World.

What then is a stamp or bond but a vote of confidence in ourselves? In our capacity to drive on, to break all opposition and then to reconstruct upon a new and better design a world that will be different. A world of surplus instead of one of scarcity. But a bond is more than this. It is an investment. It is something of a miracle that freedom can be bought and that in addition it should pay a dividend of almost 3 per cent. And this is not all. Bonds stand between us and the spiral of inflation which could engulf us more easily than any enemy outside our gates. For the first time in many years, demand backed by money exceeds supply, and even stimulates it by advertising and credit purchase plans. Are we to save money against the time when we may need it, or bid for the few consumer goods that are left against ourselves? There is one more reason for buying bonds. The President, who is also the commander in chief, has asked us to do so. Meanwhile... while we hesitate... while we complain of nominal hardship... men die... not only fighting men, but women and small children also. They die for a good cause. A good reason... for freedom. But we who are not dying must pay in time and money, or we shall find ourselves dishonored. The time is short. It passes... and having passed, is forever lost.

Men in France, in Poland, in Norway... men all over Europe are regretting time... are saying: "If only we had known!" But we do know. The writing is on the wall. Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, Singapore, Dunkirk, are not dreams. They are evil things that have happened, and now this evil approaches us. It lies in wait off our coasts. Time is money... but money cannot buy time, nor bring dead men to life, nor purchase freedom once it is lost. That is why we must buy bonds now... today and tomorrow, and the day after. Buy bonds until this thing is destroyed utterly... because time is not subject to manipulation... because the past is dead and the future mortgaged... because the world cannot live half free and half slave. Nor we, the free, allow the mortgage upon our freedom to be foreclosed. Failing now, we fail forever. Never before could so much be bought for so little. Never so much lost for lack of this little. —U. S. Treasury Department
