COUNTY'S COTTON THREATENED WITH LEAFWORM DAMAGE

Infestations Reported This Week to County Agent's Office

An infestation of cotton leaf worms ranging from light infestation to a heavy infestation in some fields have been noted in many Haskell County cotton fields during this week according to G. R. Schumann, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Although the infestation is not serious yet, farmers are urged to watch their crops carefully during the next few weeks so that if and when a heavy infestation appears in their fields control measures can be started at once.

It is advisable for all farmers to get a supply of calcium arsenate now so that they will have this material on hand when an infestation of leaf worms attacks their crops. If dusting equipment is available, calcium arsenate should be applied to the cotton in the form of a dust at the rate of from 5 to 7 pounds per acre. This will also help to control boll weevil and boll worm.

Spraying cotton with lead arsenate, calcium arsenate, or paris green will control leaf worms but have no effect on boll weevil or boll worms.

Immediate survivors include her husband and their two daughters, Nettie and Doris Harrell, of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Nasby Ballard of Rochester and Mrs. Troy Turpen of Haskell, a half-sister, Mrs. R. B. Davis of Haskell; a brother, B. R. Adkins of Haskell; and three half-brothers: A. D. Wayne and Billie Adkins, all of Haskell.

WHEAT FARMERS BENEFIT FROM CROP INSURANCE

Farmers of County Have Collected 154,061 Bu. In Indemnities

Records from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation show that Haskell County farmers have been greatly benefited from the Wheat Insurance program during the past 4 years according to John W. Brock, Chairman Haskell County Committee.

Records for the year 1941 show that Haskell county farmers have received much more wheat in indemnities than they have paid in the Crop Insurance Corporation premiums.

Records by years for the Wheat Insurance program in Haskell County are as follows:
In 1939 Haskell county farmers paid in 7,027 bushels of wheat as premiums and collected 46,384 bushels in indemnities. In 1940 they paid 23,612 in premiums and received 54,630 bushels to cover losses. In 1941 premiums paid amounted to 19,020 bushels and 41,959 bushels received in indemnities. This year farmers received 11,088 bushels to cover losses and paid in 10,307 bushels in premiums.

According to these records, Haskell County farmers have paid 59,966 bushels of wheat in premiums, and have received back 154,061 bushels of wheat in indemnities. The Federal Wheat Insurance program guarantees a farmer 75 percent or 50 percent of his normal wheat production, and by taking out wheat insurance, a farmer is assured at least some income from his wheat crop.

Applications for wheat insurance on the 1942 wheat crop are now being taken at the County AAA office, and any farmer interested in having wheat insurance on his 1942 wheat crop is urged to contact the County AAA office at once, August 31, 1942 is the closing date for taking applications for wheat insurance on the 1942 wheat crop, according to John W. Brock, Chairman Haskell County Committee. Positively no applications for wheat insurance will be taken after that date, stated Mr. Brock.

Democratic Chairman Challenges Charge Against Primary Officials By O'Daniel

Concerning references made by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel in recent campaign speeches inferring that election officials were inaccurate in reporting the total votes cast for him, the following letter has been received by John A. Couch, county chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee from Chairman E. B. Germany of the State Democratic Executive Committee of Texas:
"Over the radio and in the press, Senator O'Daniel has challenged the integrity of the various county and precinct election judges of the Democratic Party by inferring that there was not an honest count of the vote in the July 25th primary.
"As State Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, I believe it is my duty to say to you that the Senator has not offered or tendered any evidence whatsoever to substantiate the charges made by him.
"It has come to my notice, however, that a number of voting boxes normally Republican which voted for Willie and Landon against President Roosevelt, turned in enormous majorities for Senator O'Daniel in the July 25 primary. REPUBLICANS HAVE NO RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN A DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY and it is your duty and the duty of every election judge to see that the Party pledge is strictly adhered to in every respect. If a voter should fail to take the Party pledge or should scratch, mutilate or alter the Party pledge, then under the law, the vote should not be counted.
"The sanctity of the ballot and the process by which Democracy functions should be guarded against baseless insinuations and accusations. Election laws MUST be strictly adhered to in all cases."

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. FLIPPEN HELD ON SATURDAY

Death Occurred Friday Following Lengthy Illness

Oretha V. Miller was born February 1, 1887, in Gordon county, Ga., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Miller and she came with her parents to Haskell in 1896. She united with the Methodist Church in her childhood, and had been a member of this faith for more than 60 years at the time of her death.

She was married to G. W. Flippen in this city in November, 1901, and they made their home here until 1904 when they moved to Bosque county. Mr. Flippen preceded his wife in death in 1937, while they were living in Walnut Springs, Texas, and in 1938 Mrs. Flippen came to Haskell to again make her home here.

Immediate survivors include four children, three daughters, Mrs. Clarence Oldham of Haskell, Mrs. Buster Glenn of Hico, Texas, Mrs. B. C. Howell of Proctor, Texas, and a son, L. G. FOOD STAMPS WITH VALUE OF $12,880 ISSUED IN COUNTY

Program Began in March Has Benefitted Large Number of Families

How the Food Stamp Program helps Haskell County farmers as well as underprivileged families was pointed out in a report released today by David G. Guthrie, Jr., Wichita Falls, Area Supervisor, Agricultural Marketing Administration.

Over $12,880 in blue food stamps which have been issued to needy families in the county from the beginning of the program, March 1, 1942 through July 31, 1942, represent additional farm markets created by the program the report showed.

An average of 1422 families representing some 5,688 persons have received increased food purchasing power in the form of blue food stamps each month since the program began.

"Farm products often come to market in season and out in such heavy supply prices would be ruinous to the farmers if use of the commodities by consumers was not increased," Guthrie explained. "The Food Stamp Program helps bring about this increased use.

"Families using Food Stamps are first required to buy orange stamps with the money they would normally spend for food. They are then issued blue stamps which give them an increase of 50 percent in food purchasing power. "Orange stamps will buy any kind of food while blue stamps will purchase only those foods for which farmers need an additional stamp."

Blue Stamp Food Lists are subject to change by the Department of Agriculture each month, it was pointed out. Therefore, the commodities for which farmers need added markets can be included on the list at all times.

SPEAKING OF BONDS

On The Home Front

(August 13, 1942)

While our armed services and those of the rest of the United Nations are fighting on the far-flung battlefronts and while the civilians are giving vigilant cooperation on the Home Front, it is well now and then to think of what we are fighting for. And, although victory may be far off, it also is well now and then to think of what will come after the war and make such plans as we can for that time, both as individuals and as a community of nations.

One year ago Friday, on August 14, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill announced that they had signed a common statement of aims and principles for the kind of peace free men can make. That statement, which became known as the Atlantic Charter, gives the answer to what the aims of the United Nations are.

The Atlantic Charter has become the central statement on the kind of peace on which we plan to build. It has eight points. Their purpose is establishment of the kind of peace that will:

Afford to all nations the means to live in peace and safety within their own borders.

Assure to all people the opportunity to choose their own government and to "live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."

With that purpose stated in points No. 3 and No. 6, the Charter provides for:

No seizures of other people's lands.

No territorial changes except by choice of the people concerned.

Restoration of sovereign rights and self-government to those forcibly deprived of them.

Equal access for all peoples to the trade and raw materials of the world.

International action toward securing for all a higher standard of living, improved labor standards and social security.

Freedom of the seas for all men.

Disarmament of the aggressors followed up by the setting up of a permanent system of international security that can keep the world at peace.

Under the system of helping our friends and allies, known as Lend-Lease, we are sending supplies and finished weapons to all parts of the world. But we also are depending on our friends and allies—especially those in Latin America, but elsewhere, too—for a great variety of vital war material.

In the last week, WPB announced that some 500 items imported from every corner of the globe had been placed on an emergency list, so that they might be sure of space in ships to America. The list is a long one, including metals, wood products, chemicals, lumber—an altogether imposing catalog of things we must have, and for which we depend on our friends.

Here on the Home Front, the U.S.A. has pretty well ended all output things not needed for war, but now and then the War Production Board still finds places where we can tighten up further.

Stretch Your Food Dollar!

Now more than ever before it has become necessary every housewife to stretch her food dollars to the limit, to shop more carefully in securing the best quality foods at the lowest possible price.

Among recent moves of this nature are the orders against use of iron and steel in mattresses, sofas, lounges, etc., and other orders which will virtually eliminate civilian use of shellac.

The action on shellac will mean fewer phonograph records. Record makers up till now have been able to get 30 per cent of the shellac they normally use, but now the need is greater for the protection of munitions.

The Office of Price Administration also is continuing its battle to keep the cost of living down and to prevent evasion of the price ceiling regulations.

In the last week, the OPA warned bedding manufacturers and dealers that they must stop combination sales forcing purchasers to buy unneeded merchandise to get an article which could be bought as a separate unit last March. In other words, no one can insist on your purchasing a bedroom suite to obtain a bed-spring.

Other important developments of the price week were the placing of a ceiling on lamb, and the duling that from now on, milk and cream in bottles or paper containers cannot cost more than it did last March; and that persons selling drinks in paper cups or containers must stop charging a separate price for the cups if they did not charge for them last March.

Folks in the Southwest had an opportunity this past week to find out what Washington OPA officials were saying about the battle on the Home Front, with a visit to the Dallas regional office by John Hamm, senior deputy OPA administrator, and Paul Porter, deputy administrator for rent.

Mr. Hamm talked mainly of the danger of inflation. Said he: "People just can't realize how critical this problem of inflation is. The amount of goods available to the consumer is gradually declining but the national income is swiftly rising, and as these draw further apart, the danger of inflation increases. By the end of 1942, our standard of living faces a return to the worst of the depression years, simply because our production of consumer goods will be so low. We must explore the

Weekly Health Letter
Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Physical exercise, labor-saving devices, of nature's basic remedy for vigorous health, frequently is overlooked, middle-aged and older who deliberately exert to a minimum, who neglect the automobile, who do not do for themselves, who, in a less abundant age, they called on their own. This tendency is being overdone," stated Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

A few days ago of fifty consulted a doctor relating her symptoms, the doctor said she was overworked, and she had a headache, read breakfast, read with friends on one, had lunch, went to played bridge, dined or played more bridge or book until bedtime. "You said, I don't do any work," I said, "that is not an extreme example, it could be taken to many men and women age or older. Substitutions and inventions to take up the slack of nature's plans for achievable health."

Dr. Edward H. Hume, veteran medical missionary to China and now secretary to the Christian Medical Council for overseas work, is urging that Christian hospitals in America and throughout the world enlarge the scope of their ministry by employing trained staff members to inquire as to the economic, social, mental, and religious background of each patient, in addition to discovering the facts of his physical well-being. In the search for ways in which "the ministry of the spirit might aid in bringing full health to nations, we have scarcely crossed the threshold," Dr. Hume believes. He adds: "We need fuller understanding of the inter-relationship of body and mind and spirit. We need continued study and development of the contributions that faith and prayer and religious practice can make to the maintenance of mental and physical health and to the cure of disease."

NEWS IN THE WORLD
by W.W.R.E.I.D

With seventy members of its congregation in the armed forces of the United States, the North Shore Baptist Church, of Chicago, Ill., has had several hundred of its members sign a "Covenant Book" in which they pledged to be more faithful in their church attendance and thus take the place left vacant for the duration. "As our fathers, brothers and sons have pledged themselves to defend our precious liberty until it is assured beyond a question," the Covenant states, "I too declare myself ready and willing to be especially faithful to my church for the duration of the war or for that period of time our men have given themselves to the service of their country in the cause of human freedom and religious liberty."

During the past two years, the American Bible Society has distributed more than 200,000 volumes of Scriptures among prisoners of war in camps in Germany and elsewhere. These have reached men who have practically nothing else to read. The volumes have been in more than a score of languages: English, French, Dutch, Norwegian, Slavic, Greek, Roumanian, Russian, Polish, Yiddish, Finnish, Italian, German, Serbian, Spanish, Hebrew, Armenian, Czech, Ethiopian, Galla, Hungarian, Lithuanian, and Portuguese.

Beginning on Rally Day, Sept. 27, and continuing through World Wide Communion Sunday, Oct. 4, thousands of Protestant churches of some forty denominations will observe Religious Education Week with plans that seek to encourage the home, the church, churches working together with other agencies, and the community to face more adequately their responsibilities for providing a vital program of religious education for every child, every youth and every adult. An interdenominational committee, sponsored by the International Council of Religious Education, Chicago, Ill., is planning the observance.

Hearing that the United States Government is planning to settle in Arkansas about 10,000 Japanese uprooted from the Pacific coast, some 200 Methodist ministers recently gathered in Conway, Ark. for the Arkansas Pastors' School, adopted resolutions which constitute a welcome to these new-comers. The pastors agreed to maintain a Christian spirit "toward these fellow citizens of ours," to provide them church buildings if necessary, and to ask the Board of Missions and Church Extension to place a Japanese-speaking missionary among them. They have also set up a "Board of Managers," under the chairmanship of Bishop C. C. Selcman, to give effect to this welcoming of the American Japanese.

Fleeing along the Burma Road ahead of the advancing Japanese army, and suffering from malnutrition, fatigue, and the infectious diseases of this area, thousands of refugees carried cholera and typhoid into the Province of Yunnan, West China, according to reports made to the Church Committee for China Relief by its Chungking representative, Maurice Kotvay, by radio. According to Kunning, Yunnan, hospital reports, wards for contagious diseases treated 5,250 cases of cholera by early June, and more than one-fourth succumbed. Other thousands died along the Burma Road or elsewhere in West China. The National Health Administration, the American Red Cross, the National Red Cross Society, the International Relief Committee and other agencies—a number of them using American relief funds—are now assisting the refugees and the hospitals and other agencies serving them.

For Your County Superintendent Vote For

MRS. IVA PALMER

All the necessities for the schools of this county that are obtainable will be secured if you elect me as your County Superintendent. There will be shortages, and I am asking to serve you fully realizing and understanding these complications. My experience and training will enable me to perform the duties of this office as thoroughly as conditions will permit.

During the last depression schools in many counties in Texas received script. The script issued in this county was due to no faulty operations in our county office, but to an inevitable outcome of a staggered financial system of the whole county. Such conditions may return, but no one person in this office could rightfully promise protection against such handicaps.

I earnestly solicit your vote and if I am elected on August 22 I promise you that everything that can be done to meet the demands will be executed efficiently, promptly and impartially in an economic manner.

JUNK
needed for War

"What's it good for?"
"Guns, tanks, and maybe part of a plane"

In the barnyards and gullies of farms and in the basements and attics of homes is a lot of Junk which is doing no good where it is, but which is needed at once to help smash the Japs and Nazis.

Scrap iron and steel, for example. Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel. It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed, and can be quickly melted with new metal in the form of pig iron to produce highest quality steel for our war machines.

The production of steel has gone up, up, UP, until today America is turning out as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; the necessary tanks, guns and ships cannot be produced.

The rubber situation is also critical. In spite of the recent rubber drive, there is a continuing need for large quantities of scrap rubber. Also for other waste materials and metals like brass, copper, zinc, lead and tin.

The junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Will you help?

First—collect all of your waste material and pile it up.

Then—sell it to a Junk dealer, give it to a charity, take it yourself to the nearest collection point, or get in touch with your Local Salvage Committee.

If you live on a farm, consult your County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

JUNK MAKES FIGHTING WEAPONS

One old disc will provide scrap steel needed for 210 semi-automatic light carbines.

One old plow will help make one hundred 75-mm. armor-piercing projectiles.

One useless old tire provides much rubber as is used in 12 gas masks.

One old shovel will help make 4 hand grenades.

MATERIALS NEEDED

Scrap iron and steel.
Other metals of all kinds.
Old rubber.
Rags, Manila rope, burlap bags.

Science In The News

By ORSON D. MUNN, L.H.S., L.L.S., S.D., Editor, Scientific American

Soap stands for cleanliness, sanitation, health, and civilized living; it is indispensable to human comfort. But soap has other values which become especially apparent in wartime, values which send carload lots of soap to many of our war production plants.

Some of the new artificial rubber factories use enough soap to supply the homes of a small city.

In the processing of both artificial and reclaimed rubber, common soap is employed variously as a dispersing, lubricating, stabilizing, and wetting agent in synthetic rubbers of the butadiene type the ingredients are emulsified in soapy water. In a widely used method for the utilization of reclaimed rubber, scrap rubber is ground up and mixed with ten per cent of soap. Then water is added gradually while the mixture is being cooked and stirred to make a latex which is almost, if not quite, equal to the original.

At present, however, the largest industrial consumer of soap is the textile industry, where soap finds application in almost every process of converting raw materials into finished fabrics—in scouring raw wool, in felting, in bleaching and cleaning rayon and cotton goods, in dyeing, as a softening or filling agent, and in shower-proofing. Raw wool, cotton, and silk may contain as much as twenty to fifty per cent of dirt, which must be removed by repeated soap baths. More washings with soap and water are required as the woven fabric goes through printing processes.

Soap baths also enter many metal manufacturing routines. Steel ball bearings are thoroughly scrubbed in rotating drums; metal parts to be plated are first cleansed in a simple soap bath; and so on. As a lubricant to reduce friction and heat in wire drawing, tube drawing, and metal rolling under terrific pressure, it has been found that simple soap solutions stand up better than oils and greases, a characteristic which has become more useful under the stress of today's hurry-up methods. The flotation method of concentrating ores, which permits economical working of sources of essential minerals formerly considered useless, is calling for increasing amounts of soap. Soap has been successfully used in the flotation of scheelite (tungsten-bearing ore), hematite (iron ore), cinnabar (mercury ore), apatite (natural phosphate of lime), and others.

Because soap will penetrate many materials and carry other substances with it, it is a standard ingredient of compositions used to impart suppleness and finish to leather products. Leather dressings, leather cleansers, shoe polishes, etc., usually contain large proportions of soap. Leathers for a great variety of military uses are now treated with colloidal graphite, carried in a soap suspension, to increase their resistance to heat and moisture.

Since soap lowers surface tension, soapy water will cover a considerably greater area than an equal amount of pure water. This property of soap makes it an essential ingredient of insecticide sprays, more important now than ever on farms and victory gardens. Thousands of tons of soap are thus used, in conjunction with mineral and vegetable poisons, to spread the liquid over more area. Here soap does double duty because it also blocks the breathing tubes of its insect victims. The uses described here by no means exhaust the long list of industrial processes where soap is used for other than cleansing reasons, but they serve to indicate the importance of this well-known material in little-known fields.

IF YOU MUST USE SUGAR SUBSTITUTES

Remember this is simply the way to use substitutes for sugar in baked foods when it is necessary. We do not say that cakes, cookies, etc., baked with these substitutes are "just as good" as those made with sugar. We merely say that by following these directions you will get acceptable products. But sugar will give the best results.

In Quick Breads. In Quick Breads containing only a small amount of sugar (1/4 cup), use white corn syrup or honey in place of the sugar. In recipes with more sugar, substitute for 2/3 sugar and reduce the liquid as in cake (see below). Add syrup or honey with egg and liquid if "muffin" method is used. If "cake" method, beat it into shortening and sugar as for cakes.

In Yeast Doughs. Use white corn syrup or honey in place of sugar (same amount). If dough seems sticky to handle use a little extra flour.

In Custard-Type Desserts. In custards, cornstarch and bread puddings, in cream pie fillings, etc., use corn syrup or honey in place of sugar (same amount) and reduce liquid 1/4 cup for each cup of syrup or honey used.

In Canned Fruit or Berry Pies. White syrup can be substituted for 1/2 the sugar if the liquid (juice) is reduced 4 tbsp. per cup of syrup.

In Fresh Fruit or Berry Pies. Where liquid cannot be reduced, light corn syrup can also be substituted for 1/2 the sugar; but the flour must be increased 4 tbsp. for each cup of syrup used.

In Cookies. Use 1/2 the usual amount of sugar called for to cream with the shortening. Substitute corn syrup for the remaining sugar. . . . beating it into the creamed shortening and sugar very gradually and thoroughly before blending in the eggs. Dark syrup may be used in chocolate, spice and ginger cookies; but light cookies require the white syrup. In all cases, reduce the liquid 1/4 cup for each cup of syrup used. In recipes that contain less than 1/2 cup liquid, increase the flour until the dough will handle according to directions. Chill dough.

In Butter Cakes. Use 1/2 the amount of sugar called for to cream with the shortening. Substitute white corn syrup for the remaining sugar called for. (Dark syrup may be used in chocolate, molasses, and spice cakes . . . but we cannot guarantee perfect results in light cakes unless pure white syrup is used.) Beat syrup into creamed shortening and sugar very gradually and thoroughly before gradually beating in well beaten eggs (use large eggs). Reduce the liquid 1/4 cup for each cup of syrup used. In Egg White Cakes, fold in stiffly beaten whites (beaten just before adding) quickly and gently.

NOTE: In measuring syrup, take care to measure level (not over-full). Syrup is apt to round up a bit due to surface tension. Grease pans extra well. Cakes made with syrup are especially moist. Test carefully to be sure cake is thoroughly baked.

While Russia Fights

Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt and the military leaders charged with organizing a United Nations offensive might well ask those who chant "second front" to think more and talk less. Those of us who wish for a second front need to come more closely to grips with the question: How ready are we to accept the battle we are urging upon others? Are we even steely to do what is required on the home front?

The appeals now coming from the Russians should get more attention. For those appeals come from men and women who are giving their utmost on their own front. For fourteen months they have stood up to the full weight of the Nazi war machine. But they know, too, how close they are to the point where their power to regain the offensive will be destroyed. They know how much any diversion may be worth.

The British too can estimate the value of splitting the Nazis' attentions. They have some idea of how much the opening of the front in Russia saved them. But greater appreciation of the Russian front might fire the people of America and Britain to increased efforts which will speed the day when their responsible leaders can give the word for the second front.

While Russia fights her allies have the opportunity to forget their battle force. While Russia fights Hitler's bombers are busy in the East, can give only slight attention to the base that is Britain.

While Russia fights the bulk of 9,000,000 Nazi troops are engaged 2,000 miles from the second front area.

While Russia fights it is still possible to hold the Middle East with forces which would stand no chance against the full weight of the Wehrmacht.

Texas has a maximum length of 801 miles from the southern tip near Brownsville to the northwestern corner of the Panhandle. The area of Texas is 262,398 square miles of land and 3,498 square miles of water surface, a total of 265,896 square miles.

The first permanent settlement in Texas was made in what is now Ysleta and Socorro in El Paso county. Nearly one-fourth of Texas' population lives in four counties—Harris, Dallas, Bexar and Tarrant.

While Russia fights Japan's strongest land forces are tied up in Manchuria. While Russia fights there is still a large-scale blockade of the Nazis.

While Russia fights the occupied countries are not utterly crushed and can still keep up their own type of second front.

While Russia fights Britain and America can talk about a second front offensive instead of having to throw every man and resource into a defensive final front.—Christian Science Monitor.

News from Occupied Holland

The shooting by the Nazis of the patriotic Dutchmen still continues in Holland in a ruthless manner. Owing to the unrest and hatred prevailing in the schools, Nazi authorities will open special secondary schools for the children of Dutch Nazis and Germans. The occupational authorities sent some 200 Dutch boys and 60 Dutch girls, between the ages of 14 and 16, to German-occupied Ukraine.

As the zero hour for an invasion approaches, Nazi authorities have heavily increased the coastal forces. The occupational forces in Holland have entirely dissolved the Salvation Army charging that it was a secret espionage organization. The ousting of the Jews in every field of activity steadily continues in that unfortunate country. This will bring the early evacuation of all Jews from their strongest bastion.

The preferred shares of the important Amstel Hotel in Amsterdam, well known to American tourists, are now held by Reich's Commissioner Seyss-Inquart. Home-grown food supplies and green vegetables are continuously exported to Germany and 100,000 cows must be slaughtered, in order that their pasturage of 187,000 acres may be used for raising rape-seed. Underground resistance is steadily growing and espionage is carried out through underground warnings by municipal workers with access to secret information.

Our Weapon

Walter Lippmann made a keen remark the other day when, discussing the problem of war equipment in the New York Tribune, he said "America's secret weapon is the art of mass production."

It is, of course, not really a secret, but a talent, a knack, or an art. I started with the "Connecticut Yankees" who were made immortal in literature by Mark Twain's "Yankee in King Arthur's Court." That ingenious breed of men seem to have been, in the early years of this country, especially apt in inventing or devising all sorts of contrivances to solve new problems and make work easier.

In time, this trait spread pretty well over the whole country, and it is now seen particularly in the constructive genius of such a man as Henry J. Kaiser on the West Coast. Tackling war-time shipbuilding, when he had never made so much as a rowboat, and ignoring precedents, he quickly became the foremost shipbuilder in the world. With war jobs in new ways, America will soon be showing the big European and Asiatic warmakers plenty of tricks in waging war.

The population of Texas increased 94.5 per cent between 1870 and 1880. In 1910 the urban population of Texas was 241 per cent. In 1940, it was 45.4 per cent. Texas extends through more than ten degrees of latitude.

Gerick who lives near Weibert, and J. O. Stark, who lives 9 miles south of town, each brought a bale of cotton to the gins at this place. Owing to the fact that the gins were not in shape to gin the cotton, it was not ready for the market until the 10th. Mr. Gerick brought his bale in about three hours ahead of Mr. Stark and got it ginned at Newsom's gin and had it on the market about 30 minutes ahead of Mr. Stark. Local merchants made up a premium and by agreement one-third went to Mr. Stark. Both bales were sold on the local market at 12.60 per pound.

proposing an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 49a, requiring all bills passed by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriating money for any purpose, to be sent to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and fixing the duties of the Comptroller with reference thereto; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the issuance, sale and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid and approved obligations owing by the General Revenue Fund on September 1, 1943; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and providing for the necessary appropriation to defray necessary expenses for the submission of this amendment.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto, immediately after Section 49, a section to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

"Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each Regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature upon its convening a statement under oath showing fully the financial condition of the State Treasury at the close of the last fiscal period and an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements for the then current fiscal year. There shall also be contained in said statement an itemized estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws then in effect that will be received by and for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts to be credited during the succeeding biennium and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be submitted at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

"From and after January 1, 1945 save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each House, no appropriation in excess of the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which such appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or be sent to the Governor for consideration until and unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his certificate thereon showing that the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse such finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

Official U. S. Treasury War Bond Quotas for August

Washington, D. C., August 5.—While maintaining a tentative annual level of twelve billion dollars as its goal, the Treasury Department today fixed the August quota for the sale of War Bonds at $815,000,000 as shown by the accompanying map by states.

In lowering the quota from a billion dollars in July to $815,000,000 in August, the Treasury has given recognition to certain factors which may be expected to result in variations in sales over the 12-month period, such as the seasonal character of farm income.

with reference thereto." Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots, the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, requiring appropriation bills passed by the Legislature to be presented to and certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off State obligations outstanding September 1, 1943, and fixing the duties of the Legislature and Comptroller of Public Accounts with reference thereto."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the Marines get their service pack, there is included therein a bright shiny new shovel cased in a muslin carrier. The shovel costs 68 cents and the carrier 39 cents, or $1.07 for the ensemble.

These intrenching shovels are used by the Marines around camp, digging trenches, setting up barbed wire entanglements and in many other ways. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps every pay day can readily equip our forces with these necessary implements for warfare. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day. Buy War Bonds and Stamps from your bank, your postoffice and at retail stores.

To the Voters of Haskell County

Owing to conditions which I am sure every one stands and also the fact that I have tried not to neglect duties of the office I now hold it will be impossible for me to see each and every voter and I am earnestly soliciting your vote and influence in the campaign for County Clerk.

I have tried to conduct this campaign in a way would merit the confidence of the people and I promise that if you will elect me your County Clerk I will do my best to conduct the affairs of the office in the same way.

TEXAS HIT-O-BOORS

AUSTIN. — Game Department biologists working to build up the wild turkey and deer populations in the popular "Hill country" hunting grounds today submitted regular work reports that stressed the necessity of curbing overgrazing in that section if these species of game are to continue to be numerous.

The reports were the work of months of field research, and added the force of facts and figures to many beliefs that had been held by conservation authorities.

Cattle, sheep and goats graze this area heavily. Turkey and deer must compete with them for food.

Cooper and Mrs. D. W. Hamilton. Mrs. Jim Drake of New Boston spent several days this week with her mother, Mrs. Henry Qualls.

Mrs. Chester Speck is in Mineral Wells spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Blaine.

In addition, overgrazed areas offer poor nesting sites for wild turkeys and make turkey nests more available to predators, both bird and animal.

Deer, the reports state, graze about as much as they feed off browse. This contradicts the popular notion that deer live almost exclusively on browse and hence are not on a particularly lean diet when on a badly overgrazed ranch.

The struggle of wild turkeys to reproduce under adverse conditions is dramatically portrayed between the lines of the statistical tables detailing the number of nests checked, the number of eggs laid, the number of young hatched, and other essential information.

Two 500-acre study areas in Kerr County were given particular attention. One was the Kerrville State Park, which is ungrazed. The other was an area on the moderately grazed Real ranch. Thirty turkey nests were found on the two areas. The ungrazed Kerrville park area had 20 and the moderately grazed Real ranch area had 10.

Eleven of the Kerrville park nests and four of the Real ranch nests had been destroyed by unknown causes when found, leaving 15 active nests on the two areas.

They contained 137 eggs, all told. Of these 15 active nests, only three went to the hatching stage, and these three produced 29 poults.

Predators were believed to have destroyed 62 of the total of 137 eggs in the 15 active nests.

Many Hill country sportsmen and other residents have become accustomed to blaming the fox alone for this predation, but the biologists proved otherwise.

Traps were placed at many of the nests and skunks, possums and raccoons were caught, in addition to foxes. There was also evidence of bird predation, but it was impossible to identify the offending bird or birds.

Even on virgin ungrazed turkey range there would be predation by various animals and birds on turkey nests for that is in the scheme of Nature; but on heavily grazed lands the predation inevitably becomes more intense, it was pointed out.

Studies of the turkey situation in the Hill country region will continue in the hope that the Game Department may recommend and carry out a definite turkey restoration program.

The Game Department's library, now consisting of 15 films, and may be obtained free of charge for showing by Sportsmen's clubs, schools, colleges, and others who might be interested. The new movie is entitled "The Making of a Shooter." For sound projectors the film is on one large reel. For silent projectors it is available in three reels. If interested, address the Game Department, Austin, Texas.

In the early part of the 19th century, San Antonio, Nacogdoches and Goliad were the only Texas white communities of importance.

Bring Him Back Home for a While Each Week by Sending Him The Home Paper

The Son, Brother, Sweetheart or Husband, Who is Serving You and His Country In The Service . . .

A PAPER FROM HOME

Whatever you send to your boy, far away
In strange lands where he fights for his country today,
He will welcome with joy, like the hand of a friend,
His heart will be glad of whatever you send.
If it's candy or socks, if it's cake, cigarettes,
He'll be glad of the loved one who never forgets,
In bright isles of the tropics or chill, northern lands
He'll be glad of that one who so well understands
How a fellow is proud to be fighting and still Finds no scene in Australia or China to thrill
His heart, no adventure where soldiers may roam
That can match what he finds in the paper from home!
The paper from home! It is read into rags
And there's never a moment his interest lags;
For just while he reads it he's back once again,
Walking streets that are tranquil and ways free from pain.
The houses look friendly, the faces all smile,
As the paper from home takes him back for a while.

Sunbonnet Plaid

Sunbonnet plaid for a petticoat frock. The skirt is much like those you would have found in great-grandma's closet, though grandma would have been amazed at the midriff bodice — strictly a modern fashion feature! It's all the newest thing in "patio" frocks, designed for summer evenings at home or the beach. This ensemble, modeled by Bonita Granville, RKO film favorite, is a rust and old blue cotton calico plaid.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the barbs, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 36 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defensive warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.
