An Announcement

This week we again assume the management and publication o the Free Press after being absent for the past year. We are happy to he back on the job and will do our very best to give the people of Haskell County a readable newspaper. However, we would be coolish to make any rash promises regarding the coming year with the labor problem as acute as it is in the printing industry.

In this connection we wish to announce that we have secured the services of G. D. Triplett of Anson who has been connected with one of the Wichita Falls newspapers until he joined the Free Press staff, as editor and advertising manager. He is an experienced newspaper man and has worked on both weekly and dally publications. Any assistance given or courtesies shown Mr. Triplett will be appreciated by the management.

We trust that our friends and customers will understand the handicap under which we will be laboring in the publication of the Free Press under present conditions and be as lenient as possible with their criticism and long on cooperation and assistance -SAM A. ROBERTS

Marital Strategy (Pathfinder Magazine)

Urging many more counseling centers and courses in marriage relationships, the Federal Council of Churches says returning soldiers will often find marriage comparable to war in that "it requires sound strategy, effective tactics, and coordination of effort" to attain success-

"Families which have a religious faith and a vital church life have a higher average of marital happiness," the Council's Commission on Marriage and Home said. In its message entitled "Marriage Happiness After Wartime Separation," the Commission says many more churches and other organizations are needed to adequately aid these young married couples.

> Half-Minute Sermon (Pathfinder Magazine)

Ask the average man what he thinks a Christian is and he will probably tell you that a Christian is one who obeys the Ten Commandments. He forgets that he may uphold the Commandments and still prove to be the chief obstacle in the coming of the Kingdom on earth.

There has been given the Commandments a centrality and finality that they were never in-tended to possess. A Christian life consists of not merely in refraining from obvious sins but in finding out in what direction God of the Christian to help Him get there and to achieve His goal. cese of South Carolina.

Good Plans—But

Various tax plans have been proposed in an effort to establish a Federal taxing system which would insure adequate governmental revenue and at the same time encourage the productivity of industries and individuals.

All of these plans have a common characteristic. They have been evolved by the best brains in the country and are constructive efforts to bring the in astrous problem of Federal taxation under control before it destroys the very freedom for hich American men are fighting in every corner of the world. Bu -and there is a very large butno plan will were unless the politicians and the people sincerely wish it to work. The old battle of class taxation with group pitted against group, each seeking to unload taxes on the other fellow, if continued, will block any same tax plan-

Ahead of the Planners

Once again the American people have proven that left to their own devices, they can progress faster than paternalistic planners can plan. The idea has been promoted that this country is behind the times in the distribution and quality of medical care However, if it ever was behind the times in these respects, it is now out in front.

The United States has a top notch medical profession. In technique and scientific accomplishment American doctors are unsurpassed. The distribution of medical care is broad and rapidly in-creasing. There are hundreds of voluntary medical and hospital groups and societies reaching into every corner of the nation. One of these, the Blue Cross which protects 14,000.000 employed persons and their families, is known as the "fastest growing movement in America". It is a non-profit, co operative plan providing complete hospital service for members in 3,000 hospitals. It is endorsed by the medical profession. It reaches into rural sections and cities alike. Officials of the Blue Cross say that as soon as a basis for sound operation is worked out, the plan will include complete medical service. Its cost at present is a dollar or so a month for whole families.

Again it should be emphasized that Blue Cross is but one of hundreds of worthy organizations They are all the result of intelligent action on the part of free citizens working toward the common objective of making the miracles of modern medicine available to every man, woman and child in the United States.

DAVID ANOINTED KING

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 16:1-5, 11-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.—I Samuel 16:7.

Outward appearance, by which man judges, is almost always deceptive. God knows the heart and is able to evaluate a man correctly. In calling David, the ruddy shepherd boy, to be king, God cut across the ideas of men, but He was, as always, right.

I. A Man from God's Storehouse (v. 1)-"I have provided."

God's great storehouses are full of blessings, material and spiritual, but He also has a great and constantly replenished reserve of men and women from which He calls and sends them forth. The thing we must guard against is the way, either in our own lives or in the lives of others.

A man power shortage is very serious, for it simply cuts off the stream of production without which action becomes impossible. There should never be any shortage of man power in the Lord's work, and there would never be any if all His creation were willingly subject to and He had David ready. Samuel the prophet was still grieving over ing for Saul was most commendable, but it could not go on.

When men, even of our own fami lies or circle of friends, persist in rebellion against the Lord, we must not let our grief hold us back, but move on with the man of God's choice.

II. A Man Who Had to Be Sought (vv. 2-5)-"Send and fetch him."

Usually those who are quick to offer themselves for an important place are not the ones for the place. And those who are sitting around doing nothing but waiting for some honor to come to them, are not the ones to choose.

"Let the office seek the man" is the highest ground, even in politics;

David might well have wanted to be at the place of sacrifice and the feast that day, but since all his family were there, and someone had to care for the sheep, he did it. is well worth seeking when something important needs to be done.

effort to find one among Jesse's seven sons (vv. 6-10) is well worth reading. Samuel still had the idea that a king must be prepossessing and able to thrill men by his appearance. He should have learned better from his experience with God put him right (v. 7), and we do well to renew our thinking on that point. The world is in a place where many leaders must be chosen in the months and years just ahead. Will we be eager and willing to have God lead us in our choice? Or will we be swayed by personal interests or political expediency?

III. A Man of Spirituality (vv. 11-13)- The Spirit of the Lord came upon David."

The Holy Spirit, ever active in all periods of Bible history, became the abiding presence in the beduring the Old Testament period He came on chosen individuals for a particular work. As David was anointed king the Spirit came upon him for that service. In spite of his failings (when he forgot the Lord) David was throughout his reign a spiritually-minded man who wanted God's will and His glory to be

God never calls a man without enabling him for his task, and the chief and indispensable enabling is that of the Holy Spirit's power. Like David, we may enter upon a Godappointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower, and use us for God's uppermost.

IV. A Man Willing to Serve (vv. 14-18).

Upon Saul there came tremendous moods of despondency These were "from the Lord" (v. 14) in the sense that God permitted His disobedient and rejected servant to suffer the result of his self-will and failure. How awful it is for anyone to be out of the will of God and conscious of His disapproval.

To help Saul in those dark hours David, the sweet singer of Israel was willing to serve with his voice and his harp. How many thousands of times David has served all the generations since with his psalms. He was a man of gifts. gladly given for the Lord and for

Bear in mind that while David was not yet publicly crowned, he was already anointed to be king Yet he was ready to serve the one
