HOPE RENEWED

Some 1900 years ago there was revealed to the world an amazing truth!

That world, too, needed faith and love! It had known bloodshed, the rule of tyrants, and the fall of empires.

But,—it had never known a Resurrection!

Then He came! Jesus, who took the humble station of a Carpenter's Son, and showed men how to live, to die, and live again!

He was King of LIFE! Life in all the universe . . . in nature . . . in man!

He was King of the wild, restless ocean billows tossing their spitting foam against the egg-shell ships of little men. Of the velvet coverlet, sprinkled with the gold dust of stars, that softly rested over the sleeping world. Of the great, sky easel splashed with rose-and-gold, as day melted into dusk. Of the arched bow in the sky after summer raindrops had bathed the soiled air. Of the aged forest, and the tiny brook!

Miracles, these, before man's eyes . . . he had seen the naked earth, stretched beneath the sky canopy, suddenly rise into newness of life. The little birds return from the southland, filling the air with their chirpings. A small, hard seed, planted within the earth springs into a living shoot, its tiny arms outstretched toward the sun's warm rays.

Yet man knew hate. He made war. He suffered. He saw death, and feared it.

But, on that first Easter morning, the King of Life taught him that no grave can hold the spirit of man. That even as there is renewal of life in nature there can be new hope and courage within the human breast.

There is no death! Now, today, our world is engaged in another war. Perhaps a greater war than ever before! But, there can be a new peace . . . perhaps a greater peace than ever before!

So, as the flowers of another Easter burst into blossom, silent reminders of that amazing truth revealed some 1900 years ago, let us look forward with faith and confidence to this new and better world! . . . By Jane Hunt Mohr..

Senator Morris Sheppard Died In Washington

The additional schedules makes a total of five now operating from here to Ranger and Abilene with four schedules daily from here to Mineral Wells. King George Regained Throne
The Greeks kicked him out, then called him back to rule them. Thus George II, king of the Hellenes, is one of few monarchs who has lost and regained a crown.

George fled Greece in 1923, during an uprising against him, a year after his accession. A republic was established by plebiscite in 1924, continued for 10 years. Then the Greeks, following democratic principles which governed ancient Athens, voted again, this time to restore the monarchy. George returned, but the late Premier John Metaxas was made virtual dictator.

George II is no Greek, but a Dane. When Greek independence was achieved in 1821-29, Prince Otto of Bavaria was given the crown. He ruled for 29 years, was expelled in 1862. Prince William, son of King Christian IX of Denmark, was elected king, became George I. He was assassinated in 1913, succeeded by Constantine, who was deposed by Allied Powers in 1917.

Tailless Sheep

Sheep without tails have been developed by the South Dakota experiment station, it was recently announced, after experimenting for 25 years in cross-breeding head of sheep imported from Siberia with American sheep.

Advantages of the tailless breed of sheep are many, according to the animal husbandmen—they are very hardy and good hustlers of their own food; they have no tails to be docked and there is an absence of blow flies common with long or imperfectly cut tails.

The first sheep, both male and female produced without tails was in 1924 after about 10 years of experimenting. It is believed that this flock of sheep is the only one of its kind in the world.

Few Heavyweight Babies

Out of 8,800 babies delivered at the St. Louis City hospital in the past five years there were only 102 babies who weighed more than nine pounds. This is 1.1 per cent.

According to the hospital staff, its studies of the large babies gives little ground for the proud fathers to boast of the abnormal size of their offspring. The large baby, the staff reported, is not a sign of an extra healthy condition.

"In fact, it is liable to be a liability, not only at the time of birth, but also for some years afterward," said one staff member.

IF YOU LIVE IN West Central Texas
YOU'RE IN THE OIL BUSINESS

I am a farmer who knows what oil means to West Central Texas.

All of us who live in this section share in one way or another in the income which oil creates.

Nearly three and one-half million acres of our land are now under lease. Each year our lease and royalty income is an extra cash crop of over 6 million dollars.

Almost 30,000 residents of this area, including oil workers and their families, get their entire living from the petroleum industry. All told, this industry spends nearly 28 million dollars a year in West Central Texas.

This money is spent and respend until every farmer, merchant, business and professional man... in fact everyone... in our section gets his share of it.

Everyone living in West Central Texas today has an important stake in the oil industry and its future in Texas.

First Baptist Church Repeal Of Chain Store Tax Recommended

A. A. DAVIS, Pastor

We call special attention to the following announcements. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock we will hold a Baptizing service at the Church. All Candidates awaiting Baptism, will be baptised at that time. Sunday night the entire service will be given to the observance of the Lord's Supper. The sermon will be on the WHY and WHEREFORE of the Lord's Supper, after which the supper will be observed. Please note: we are observing both Church ordinances on the same day, and that day will be Easter Sunday. Sunday morning we plan to bring a message on "The Club Footed Boy At The Kings Table". Surely we will have a great day Sunday, surely everyone in Baird will attend Church somewhere. We invite you to come our way for the service of the day.

This additional word about the Sunday School. The Cradle roll and nursery department has been set up with Mrs. A. S. Briscoe as Supt. So let the mothers plan to attend. We are ready to care for your baby while you attend the Sunday School and preaching service. Certainly this is a very important item and the mothers will appreciate this department. The elementary departments, from Juniors down, meet in separate opening exercises downstairs to themselves and a keen interest is manifested. Enlarged attendance will be the inevitable result. Mrs. Archie Nichols is Supt of this Dept, assisted by Miss Frankie McClelland, and this work will make definite progress under their leadership. Certainly the entire Sunday School is growing and will continue to grow to new heights.

This special word concerning our Midway preaching appointment Sunday afternoon. Due to our Baptizing services announced above, we will be unable to meet this appointment, but Rev. J. F. Woods of Clyde will preach in our place there. Let the people of Midway community note this announcement.

FOR SALE— Piano, good condition. Dining Suit, Kiddie Koop, and mattress, also a number of books among them 20 vol's of the "Messages and Papers of Presidents of the United States." Sees Mrs. S. P. Rumph Baird, Texas.

Chain stores should be relieved from the burden of double taxation, as represented by the state chain store tax and the franchise tax, according to a statement made here by Rep James E. Taylor, publisher of the Kerens Tribune.

The legislature now has before it a proposal to repeal the chain store tax as part of the revision of the state's tax structure. All this is provided for in the omnibus bill, now pending before a Senate sub-committee composed of Senators Weaver Moore of Houston, chairman; Van Zandt of Tioga, Chadick of Quitman, Shivers of Port Arthur and Weinert of Seguin.

"A tax for the privilege of doing business in Texas is a franchise tax," Rep Taylor said, "whether it goes by the name of franchise tax, chain store tax or occupation tax, and no industry or business should be compelled to pay the same kind of levy twice, under different names.

"If the omnibus tax measure is adopted to revamp the entire franchise tax measure, it would be unfair not to take all privilege taxes into consideration, including the chain store impost, which taxes stores according to their number for the privilege of doing business in Texas. Only in so doing can duplication of taxes and injustice to the taxpayer, and in this case to the consumer, be avoided."

Various other members of the legislature have also expressed agreement with the proposal to repeal the chain store tax, among them Representatives Morgan of Denison, Hanna, Harris, Stinson and Crosthwait of Dallas, and Senator Van Zandt of Tioga.

U. S. Marines Offer Opportunity To Young Men

The United States Marines are offering young men of draft age a wonderful opportunity of serving their country in the Marine Corps Reserve with active duty during the present national emergency only, with an assurance of reemployment upon return from active duty. Major J. D. O'Leary, Officer in Charge of the Dallas Recruiting Office stated that it is the opinion of Marine Corps Headquarters that the reemployment provisions of the National Guard and Selective Training and Service Acts of 1940 apply to all members of the Marine Corps Reserve who were on active duty on 27 day of August, 1940 or who since that date have been or may be during the present national emergency assigned to active duty, regardless of date of enlistment or appointment.

The Dallas Recruiting District was again on top of the list for enlistments during the month of March.

The following is the oath taken by men who enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve:

"I, John Doe, do here acknowledge to have voluntarily enlisted as a PRIVATE in the Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve for a term of FOUR years, unless sooner discharged by competent authority; and I do obligate myself during such enlistment to serve in the Marine Corps in time of war or during the existence of a national emergency declared by the President. And I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America; that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever; and that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States, and the orders of the officers appointed over me, according to the Rules and Articles for the Government of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps of the United States. And I do further swear (or affirm) that all statements made by me, as now given in the record, are correct."

AROUND TOWN

With Otto B. Grade

Because this corner views with interest the rising "Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association" of Madisonville, Texas, and because Otto Bordenkircher og "Vignettes" in the Fort Worth Star Telegram is the best authority either in or out of captivity on the goings-on in this state of ours, I appeal to him for additional data on this organization. Now this rule on eligibles for cowboy boots, as I understand it, the wearer must own a certain number of cattle before he can stalk the streets in boots, and even before he can tuck his pants into the tops. However, I haven't been able to find out if the required beef must be on hoof or if the rule can be stretched to include the beef consumed. There ought to be some provisions made to give consideration and retribution to the fellas who make the market for cattle, the men who order T-Bones in preference to lamb chops.

Anyone who tries to tell you that a reporter's life isn't the next thing to Eden has never worked on a small town paper. Last week this reporter received a gift of home made pickles and onions from Mrs. Hooker, and you have only to taste any of that dear lady's culinary triumphs to know what treat I had.

Have you seen young Larry Josnson, Cliff and Flo's baby? He is a cute bright eyed little imp, slightly larger than a postage stamp, but the supreme monarch of that household.

And Around Town say its nicest "thank you" to Mrs. Frank Stanley for the giant red, white, and blue pencil. "In case I'm ever away you can write to me", said Mrs. Stanley with all of her good humor sparkling in her eyes and I made a mental note that with as likeable a personality as she has, Mrs. Stanley need never wonder but that anyone who meets her will go to any length to keep within her good graces.

It's always sad when we reach the parting of the way with good friends, and so, it's hard to say "Adios Amigos," to Ruby and J. B. Beeson of the Plaza Theatre, but the leaving will only take them to Abilene and we can still count them as neighbors. Welcome in, to, Bill Wall, a localite, will be the new manager.

Nicest asset to the business section is Ruth Weathers, new clerk in the Holmes Drug.

Book of the week is "The Shining Cloud", another soft and sweet love story of the same weave that is so popular among the patrons of the County library. It's by the author of "The Hermit of Far End", an engaging little book that can't be kept on the shelves. If you want entertainment in your reading you can't go wrong on this one.

Spotlight of the week goes to Mr. and Mrs. Tots Wristen, tried and true friends, and dependable business people. Mr. and Mrs. Wristen's many friends here in their home town speak much more than any written word as to their sincerity and pleasantness in all of their dealings.

Senator Connolly Seeks Action To Halt Labor Strikes

Rising to the floor of the Senate last week, Senator Tom Connolly urged his colleagues to give heed toward halting labor shut-downs in national-defense plants. Connolly emphasized his interest in getting immediate legislative action on the problem.

"It seems to me" said the Texas Senator, "that fundamentally there is no difference between the employer refusing to go on and produce and the employees refusing to proceed with normal production. So, if I had my way about it, I would adopt a provision directing or authorizing the President, through the Secretary of War of the Navy, to take over any plant which has a contract for the production of essential national-defense articles, arms or ammunitions, where disputes between the employer and the employees, or other labor disturbances, are impeding and delaying production."

Law exists now for the government to take over plants where the owner refuses to cooperate in the defense drive: Connolly feels that the law can and should be amended to permit the Government to take a hand in cases where employees refuse to cooperate and tie-up defense production.

"There is a law against striking against the United States," remarked Senator Connolly. "If the government should take over a plant as it did during the World War, governmental boards would determine in each particular factory what is a fair wage and what are fair working conditions."

Connolly's legislative record has long been considered as friendly to labor; yet at the present time he considers "the Union of the United States as Union No 1 in this country, which is superior and paramount to any other union."

Good Friday

And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots...

And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour...

And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

—Luke 23: 33-46

PROCLAMATION

Quiet, bitter tragedy comes annually to hundreds of the families of our state because of cancer. Last Year this disease destroyed 163,000 men and women, many of whom were in their prime, between the ages of 40 and 65, when their seasoned ability and tried leadership were most useful.

Death is always sad, but when it is avoidable death the tragedy is least bearable. Conservative medical authorities tell us that between one-third and one-half of those who die from cancer could and should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment.

Medical and research science is doing its part. Million volt x-ray machines have been developed, radium is more widely distributed, new surgical techniques have been perfected. We who are the lay public, the chief victims of this disease, are not doing our share.

In order to give the individual information necessary for his own protection and for the protection of all, a campaign of education and enlistments, aimed at both men and women, is being conducted by the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. Its program is carefully planned by leading physicians and carried out by devoted volunteer women.

As Mayor of Baird, I hereby proclaim the period from April 1 to April 30, 1941 as Cancer Control Month, and I call upon all men and women of goodwill, all agencies of education and enlightenment, to unite in support of the Women's Field Army in its peace time war against cancer. Attend its meetings, read its literature, enlist in its ranks. Many lives can and must be saved.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 5th day of April, 1941.

ON THE BAIRD CAMPUSES

PAE

Of course you're proud of these youngsters of yours and you have every right to be. Look at the splendid rating given each of the Baird contestants at the district meet in Breckenridge last week. The boys and girls placed high in every contest entered and in some cases we have entrees for the regional meet in Abilene next week.

The typing team of Charity Gilliland and Betty McCoy took top honors in Breckenridge and brought home a cup for the trophy case.

The Ward School can be justly proud of their champions at the district too. There are few contests open to Ward school children but Theda Ruth Kerby managed to win the coveted first place in Essay and T. A. White declaimer, won a second. This, by the way, makes the youngsters more than just promising material for those all important High School careers ahead of them.

Ay yi yi, and a coupla' war whoops. Spring football training underway and there's a smile on the face of our incomparable coach, Bill White, which can mean only one thing. Baird has a number of letter men back in the saddle. You'll be hearing more, much more, of this later on, but here are the returning Bears with letters to their credit, Bill Odum (captain), Raymond Cook (captain) Frank Crow, guard; Buddy Brumbaugh, guard; Elwood Goin, end; Ben Glover, tackle; Bill Hatchett, back; J. C. Earp, guard; Carl Yarbrough, back; Roy Wylie, back Junior Cutbirth, tackle; Bill Wylie, back, Jim Bob Denney, tackle, and Aaron Hatley, tackle.

Though Baird finished up 2nd White will still have his representatives at Regional Meet next week. Spark plugs Cook and Yarbrough will be there in all of their glory to uphold the fighting Bear name. Yarbrough is scheduled to enter 100 yd dash 220 yd and low hurdles. Cook will shine in discus throw, low and high hurdles. Yarbrough chalked up 20 points at the district meet, and under ordinary circumstances that alone would have chinned the meet. Baird has won on less.

Another all important entree in the Regional Meet will be Baird's Girls tennis doubles team of Ruth Dyer and Pauline Coats. The girls brought in the cup from the district meet and are hoisting high sails for the Regional and State. Ruth, pretty little champion of the courts, chalks this up as her 3rd win at district. Ruth has never lost a matched tennis game except in semi-finals at State Meet and that is enough to make anyone, except Ruth's level head, swell with pride.

In closing here is a tip, don't miss the Band Concert to-night at 8 p. m. Director Dale McCook will have all of his 35 band members in new uniforms and a complete concert program is planned.

THE RECORD . . . Facts That Concern You No. 26 of a Series

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places. Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—31,165 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and $2,273,968.64 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

Remember Ping Bodie? He's Now in Hollywood
 Remember Murderers' Row? The old original Murderers' Row? Babe Ruth batted No. 3, Ping Bodie No. 4, Bob Meusel No. 5, Wally Pipp No. 6, and the ball game was over. Well, on either an R-K-O or a Paramount stage, depending on just how the work falls, you will see an electrician handling a sun arc or a baby spot or whatever the cameraman happens to be wanting. He is middle-aged, a little thick around the parts, more than slightly bald, and he has the sloping, gorillalike shoulders that all good hitters seem to have.
 He's the old No. 4 of Murderers' Row, Ping Bodie, the Yankee outfielder. Real first name Frank, but nobody uses it even now. He was named Ping on account of the sound his bat made when it hit a ball. "They weren't baseballs; they were rocks," says Ping, who turned up 30 or 31 home runs lots of seasons in many ball clubs.
 Bodie is now an operator—meaning he can do anything an electrician is expected to do. Probably the best trained and ablest men are assigned to the sun arcs. With modern high-speed film cameramen get along in small scenes with 500-watt lamps, but big scenes still require the carbon burning arc lights, and there's an art to keep a pair of carbons burning without flicker and without noise.
 Ping has been married to the second Mrs. Bodie for 15 years and they're about to build their own house in North Hollywood, which is in the San Fernando valley. The valley is hot now, as real estate goes, with more and more movie folk moving across the mountains away from Hollywood.

Cats Have Appreciation Of Music: Accomplished
 Did you know that a king once made a special decree to fix the price on cats? He did. This was Howell the Good, king of Wales in the 900s. A kitten, he said, before it could see should cost a penny; before it had caught a mouse, two pence; and after that, four pence, a great sum in those days. But—the animal must be perfect in hearing and sight; a good mouser with whole claws; and, if female, a careful nurse. If he failed in any of these conditions, the seller must refund a third of the purchase money.
 But the cat is accomplished as well as good for catching mice. It can sing. Perhaps you don't admire its song but, unlike the dog, the cat has an appreciation of music that can be trained to a high degree. Cats like to walk up and down the piano keys, listening to the notes.
 And don't you ever think that cats can't count! A mother cat, checking over her kittens, knows instantly if one is missing.
 And cats can talk, in meows as eloquent as words. One very cold night, someone had left the window open in the kitchen where a cat and her small kittens were sleeping. The cat went to the mistress's bed and meowed so piteously that the woman went to the kitchen and closed the window.

People of Darien
 Much has been heard but very little really known about the people and country of Darien province in Panama.
 Darien starts at the Gulf of San Miguel and follows the rugged Pacific coastline to the Colombian border.
 There are two tribes of Indians living in this district, the Cuna and Chocoi. Both are friendly.
 These people hunt with spears, bows and arrows, an 'quated shotguns and rifles. But for fishing they use hook and line and many barbed spears. Their homes are built 5 to 10 feet above the ground and are roofed with palm fronds, the sides being left open. Sometimes as many as 25 members of one family occupy a single house.

Tube Will Aid Television
 An invention which may revolutionize television by stimulating mass production of small, cheap cathode ray tubes, to be used in a multiple arrangement for the projection of a large image instead of the present method of a single expensive cathode tube, was disclosed in New York city recently.
 The invention, by ingenious electrical circuits, provides that each small cathode ray tube in turn scan only a small section of a large screen. Such cathode tubes, according to Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, the inventor, may be made almost as simply as the ordinary home electric illuminating lamp, once the industry swings into large production, and costs might be lowered considerably.

Diabetes Theory Contradicted
 The theory that diabetes often is caused by some injury has been contradicted by Dr. Elliott Joslin of Boston, who has had years of experience with treatment and study of the ailment.
 "So far as I can remember no definite case in which I considered injury a cause of diabetes has occurred among approximately 19,000 patients with diabetes who have consulted me," Dr. Johnson said.
 "I know no surgeon who has postponed an operation on a patient because of the possibility that injury would bring on diabetes."

Coeds Spend More
 Although the college man pays the courting bills, the college coed spends more money.
 At least a recent survey taken by the business staff of the Kansas State Collegian shows the average woman student here spends approximately $538.72, while her male counterpart averages $521.64.
 It revealed the average Kansas State university student spends $530.18 during the school year and that the total buying power of the 4,000 students is $2,066,309.
 The greatest part of the $2,066,309 is amount spent for food, totaling $620,184.65 per year. Candy, ice cream and chewing gum purchases amounted to $27,271.94, and $31,570.24 is spent for drinks.

Remember Shelter Belt?
 Six years have passed since plans were undertaken for a great shelter belt of trees which would redeem miles of dust bowl from encroachment desert.
 The idea seemed too visionary at the time—it was said trees wouldn't grow, but despite the skepticism of farmers, the trees have redeemed every promise made for them.
 In South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, trees are growing and thriving. In eastern South Dakota 32,000,000 trees are growing and thriving on 4,229 farms. About 70 per cent of the trees in this area survived. The trees have changed the very climate of these deserts and turned them into Edens.

Singing While You Work Makes Child Like Music
 If you want your children to grow up appreciating music, don't make fun of your husband's singing in the shower. Let him sing!
 Singing in the shower, singing in the sunshine, singing in the rain, singing at odd times or special times, spontaneously and often, will do more than any other one thing to foster your child's interest in music. Sing with him, encourage father to sing, too, and never dampen their spirits by the slightest frown.
 Mrs. Satis Coleman, a mother as well as one of America's most widely known music teachers, believes you can give your child music. "Its soothing qualities," she says, "relieves tension and quiets nerves. Music will enable him to get away from problems and worries. But if he is to find this solace in adult life, he must have music from babyhood.
 Parents should begin singing to him then. And the songs need not be confined to lullabies. There should be no set time for singing. Sing to the baby at sleepy time, but sing to him, too, through the day.
 Alice McKenna, who supervises music in the two nursery schools that are part of the department of child study of Vassar college and is making a special study of music for young children, shares this opinion.
 Music for a child should be of two kinds, the music he hears and the music he himself expresses. Singing, she says, is a creative form of expression. Little children like to sing songs of their own making, and should be encouraged to do so.

Many Countries Supply Products for U. S. Candy
 More than 15 countries pour their quotas into Uncle Sam's enormous sugar barrel from which candy is made, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.
 Thousands of miles of transportation are represented by the sugar alone, for machetes flash under the torrid sun of Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines.
 Hot sea breezes off the Equator fan the cacao trees on Africa's west coast that produces chocolate, an ingredient of 40 per cent of candy produced today. Tons of chocolate come also from Panama and South America and The Netherlands Indies.
 The Philippine islands annually ship millions of pounds of peanuts across the broad Pacific to United States candy makers. From Italy and Spain come the almonds and from Brazil the Brazil nuts. Chinese gather 2,000,000 pounds of walnuts for our candy kitchens, with large quantities coming also from Rumania's Black sea port of Constanta.
 The pistachios come from India, Syria and Persia and pignolias from Italy. India is the principal source of the famous cashews and the Philippines supply the 67,500,000 pounds of coconut meat consumed in this country. Citron is supplied by Greece, while Arabia and Persia and Turkey furnish figs and dates.

Posture Held Vital Factor
 Years immediately following high school or college graduation constitute the "dangerous age" for health and posture for the average person, according to Miss Gertrude Hawley, lecturer in posture and health for the University of California.
 "Instead of the leisurely schedule of school and home study, and the all-absorbing participation in sports and social recreations, one must be prepared to catch a 7:30 car or bus daily and settle down in an office for seven or eight hours.
 "And when one settles down to an office job, through the entire day, certain muscles tend to lose their tone or strength," she pointed out.
 Whenever possible, she added, the office worker should walk to and fro from business.

Liberty Bell
 The first "made in America" bell, the historic old Liberty Bell, which announced the birth of freedom, is pictured on the U. S. two-cent Sesquicentennial commemorative issued in 1926.
 The bell has had a remarkable history. It was ordered from an English foundry in 1751 for the Pennsylvania state house. The bell cracked before it could be installed.
 When return to England was delayed, two Americans, Pass and Stow, offered to recast it. The tone of their first bell was not satisfactory, but a second casting produced the Liberty Bell, with its famous inscription: "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, to all the inhabitants thereof."
 The bell announced the first public reading of the Declaration of Independence in 1776.

Eye Hunger Causes Defects
 Perhaps 50 per cent and certainly 25 per cent of the country's population has impaired vision by vitamin A deficiency, says Prof. Robert S. Harris of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
 He told a convention of New England optometrists that the eye, like other tissues and organs, must be well nourished if it is to function properly. Harris says the diet should include vitamin A, vitamin B, vitamin B2, protein, calcium and sodium.
 The biology and public health professor declares the eye becomes hungry and even starved when the diet doesn't contain the right foods.
 A condition known as "twilight blindness" can be cured within a few hours, according to Dr. Harris, by injection of one milligram of riboflavin or vitamin B2.

Army Stocks False Teeth
 The Canadian government, through the department of munitions and supply, has bought 100,000 false teeth for men of the armed forces and other orders are being placed for as many more.
 It has been found necessary to build up a reserve of teeth, first, to assure that civilian demands would not leave the army at a disadvantage, and, secondly, because it is necessary to have an adequate variety of sizes on hand to suit the different facial and jaw characteristics of the soldiers.
 So far, the value of orders placed by the government has been $45,000.

Last Third of Cigarette Contains Most Nicotine
 "Cold hands, warm heart," the old saying goes.
 The Northwestern National Life Insurance company recently modernized the axiom to cold hands, glowing cigarette. A study of the effects of smoking released by the firm included the statement:
 "If your hands and feet are habitually cold, smoking will make them colder. Though there is much dispute among medical authorities about some of the effects of tobacco, there is universal agreement that it slows down the blood flow to the hands and feet."
 The study also looked into the matter of smoking mothers to discover that about 50 per cent of hospital maternity cases smoke nowadays as compared to one young mother out of five who smoked 10 years ago and virtually none 25 years ago.
 "Tests have indicated," the report stated, "that there is little or no danger of nicotine reaching the infant through the mother's milk if she smokes less than half a dozen cigarettes a day; tests made with heavy smokers show definite nicotine content in the milk."
 The last third of the cigarette or cigar gives off as much as 66 per cent more nicotine if smoked rapidly, the study finds, because of the increase in moisture content, the shorter filtering, and the previous accumulation of chemicals from the outer two-thirds.

Original Declaration of Independence Changed
 Thomas Jefferson spent 18 days writing the Declaration of Independence.
 The average age of the men whose names were signed to the document was 45. Benjamin Franklin was the patriarch of the group—71 years old.
 In Jefferson's first draft of the Declaration of Independence appeared the words, "all men are created equal and independent." For some reason the words "and independent" were later scratched out.
 New York city didn't receive official notice of the signing of the Declaration of Independence until five days had elapsed after the affixing of signatures.
 The "official" Declaration of Independence was signed by 56 men, and is on exhibition in Washington, D. C., today. The original document had but two signers—John Hancock, president of the congress, and Charles Thompson, secretary. The public has never seen this historic paper. It was an engrossed copy of this that was signed by Hancock and 53 other men.
 The Declaration of Independence was signed by some men who were not present and not signed by others who were present, says Rupert Hughes, historical authority.
 The Liberty Bell did not ring out the news of the signing, as popularly supposed. The ringing of the historic bell did not begin till July 8, and then it lasted all night long.

Why Newspapers Lead All Other Advertising Media!

- 1 Newspaper reading is a universal habit. Newspaper advertising therefore, reaches virtually all who read and buy.
- 2 A newspaper advertisement can always be seen by the reader.
- 3 The newspaper advertisement, as part of the complete paper, goes into the home as a welcome guest.
- 4 The newspaper advertisement can have as much reader interest and news value as the news item.
- 5 Newspaper advertising enables manufacturers and dealers to state where their products may be bought.
- 6 Newspaper advertising is inexpensive. Merchants have learned that it covers more families for less money than any other form of advertising.
- 7 Newspaper advertising results may be checked.
- 8 Newspaper circulation is known and is comparatively unaffected by daily change.
- 9 Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is concentrated in its own market.
- 10 Newspaper advertising reduces selling costs because it entails no waste of circulation. This helps reduce cost for the consumer.
- 11 NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUILDS CONFIDENCE AND GOOD WILL . . . ATTRACTS NEW CUSTOMERS . . . INCREASES SALES . . . AND STABILIZES MERCHANDISES, METHODS AND PRICES.
- 12 The Baird Star affords full circulation coverage of the city of Baird and the Baird trade territory. In fact The Star has a splendid circulation all over Callahan County.
- 13 Advertising rates of The Baird Star are low, because to the average family there are four readers of each paper.

Good Pasture Foundation For Economical Beef

Good pasture is the foundation of economical beef and sheep production because it furnishes much cheaper food than harvested crops, states J. E. Comfort of the University of Missouri college of agriculture. Unless beef herds and flocks of sheep are maintained on adequate pasture during as large a part of the year as possible, the costs will generally be increased and the profits reduced.

Beef cattle, especially cows, are the most liberal users of pastures and the use of pastures with cows.

On most farms the principal grazing problem in handling beef cattle is that of extending the grazing season to reduce the quantity of harvested feed required. In general, the costs of winter feed for four to six months are from two to four times as great as the cost of grazing for a period of from six to eight months.

To extend the grazing season most effectively one must have more than one permanent pasture in order to save ungrazed forage for grazing in midsummer, late fall, winter or early spring. Temporary annual pastures such as winter barley, wheat or rye and Korean lespedeza, sweet clover or sudan, may be used to supplement permanent pasture.

With such crops it is possible to begin grazing from two to four weeks earlier in the spring, to have an abundance of feed during July and August when bluegrass and other pasture grasses are dormant and to extend the period of good grazing from four to eight weeks in the fall and early winter.

Spinach Is Conducive To Physical Activity

Experiments with rats at the Pennsylvania State college have shown that spinach, which contains vitamin A, is conducive to physical activity. Dr. N. B. Guerrent, professor of biological chemistry, who conducted the experiments, declared that the effects produced in rats may be the same in humans.

In some of the tests, the rats were allowed to take voluntary exercise in special types of rotating cages, and in others the cages were rotated a definite number of times daily, a practice which forced the rats to "go for walks." The animals which were fed no vitamin A were less inclined to exercise voluntarily than those which were allowed an adequate amount of this food element in their diet. The energetic rats made smaller increases in body weight and required less vitamin A than the lazy rats, apparently because their systems made better use of the food eaten.

Thus far the investigation has shown that an adequate amount of vitamin A in the diet is conducive to physical activity. Rats which were forced to exercise actually consumed less food than litter mates which were confined or allowed to exercise at will. The fact that they consumed less food when performing vigorous exercises may not be strange, said Dr. Huerrant, pointing out that men doing hard work are inclined to eat more on their days off than when actually on the job.

Origin of Nicknames

The name "Heinie" given to the German soldier by the American doughboy during the last World war still clings to our popular speech and now refers to any German. The giving of national nicknames, so popular today, has permeated history for centuries.

From the time of Queen Elizabeth the Spaniard has been known in England as Don Whiskerandos. Cousin Michael is the European term for Germans, and Mynheer Cosh, or simply Mynheer, for Hollanders. The inhabitants of Switzerland are known as Danskers, and Italians are Lazzaroni.

The common nickname for the French, is Jean Crapaud, or Johnny Toad.

John Bull was first applied to the English people by Dr. Arbuthnot in "The History of John Bull," a satire on the duke of Marlborough, published in 1712.

Giving Them Away Cheaper

Alvie Frey of Mount Carmel, Ill., bought three cabins for 15 cents each. His were the only bids on the three buildings, included in a group of 11 items offered for sale by the Rock Island district army engineers.

The buildings, consisting of cabins and outbuildings, are on the Iowa shore of the Mississippi river and on islands near lock and dam No. 13, Fulton, Ill.

Three other cabins on which awards were made were a little more expensive. Walter Crawford of Sabula, Ill., got two for $1.25 each and Donald A. Arnold of Savanna, Ill., bought one for $5.

"It's cheaper to give them away at these prices," the engineers said, "than to go to the expense of burning them."

Founded by Sailor

In 1739 Charity hospital was established in New Orleans through a bequest left by a French sailor, Jean Louis, who wished his savings to be spent in founding a center of medical attention for the poor. It is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the world and is owned and administered by the state.

Lincoln Was Unknown When He Was Nominated

"Nothing ever happened like this before," was the remark often heard following the nomination of Wendell L. Willkie. A glance at the history books of political conventions, however, shows that Abraham Lincoln was nominated in so much the same fashion as Willkie that the comparison is almost perfect.

When the 1860 convention delegates assembled, a New York favorite son, William H. Seward, was so far ahead of the field that there was hardly any competition. Straw votes had given him a tremendous lead.

The night before the balloting, the Lincoln crowd gave their first hint of a blitzkrieg. One of their henchmen took the floor and made a speech that lasted until after midnight, eliminating the Seward speeches that were scheduled.

That same night, Ward Hill Lamon went to the printers of convention hall tickets and all night long a corps of young men wrote the names of Lincoln bucks on the tickets.

The next day, rooters stomped the streets and shouted for "Old Abe" and "The Rail Splitter." The Lincolnites took over the Wigwam, the huge old rough lumber barn where the convention was to be held, and when the Seward shouters arrived there were no seats.

As the voting started, Lincoln had barely a hundred votes but every one that was cast for him brought such a din from the galleries that "a thousand steam whistles, ten acres of hotel gongs, a tribe of Comanches might have mingled in the scene unnoticed."

On the third ballot, Lincoln had gone from nothing to a near majority. What he needed, the Ohio delegation provided, and the nomination was won.

'Imaginary' Friends Are Harmful to Children

Better take a chance on flesh-and-blood playmates for your child than on the imaginary companions with which a child is capable of "peopling" his new and small world, counsels Miss Alva Anne Owen, authority on child development and parent education, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Although there are still some parents who feel that the neighbor's children are not desirable companions, the imagination, a desirable characteristic in any child, can be carried to an extreme wherein the child prefers to play with himself and does not reap the benefit of contacts with other children, Miss Owen reports.

All children need to play with children who are younger, of the same age and older, so as to learn how to lead and direct others, learn equal competition and learn what it is to be inferior and yet be all right.

The guilty feeling which a child is likely to acquire if he does not seem to be able to be spontaneous and natural and at the same time come up to family standards is a product of the over-zealous intentions of parents, Miss Owen says. The higher the standards of the family, usually the harder it is for them to accept their mistakes.

Cuba's First Minister

The portrait of Gonzalo de Quesada, Cuban patriot, author and diplomat, is introduced to philately on Cuba's commemorative issue marking the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Pan American Union.

Quesada was an active leader in early efforts to bind the republics of the Western hemisphere more closely together, attended three Pan American conferences. He was secretary to Argentina's delegate in the 1890 conference of American states, where the Pan American Union was born, was Cuba's delegate to the Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro meetings.

During Cuba's struggle for independence, Quesada represented the revolutionary government at Washington, was instrumental in winning U. S. recognition of the republic. He later became the island's first minister to Washington.

New East-West Railroad

Although railroads have lagged behind airways in South American transport, construction of the new transcontinental line from Santos, Brazil, to Arica, Chile, opens vast productive areas of the interior to settlement and development.

As early as 1890, an intercontinental system from U. S. to Argentina and Chile was proposed and the 10,227-mile route surveyed but the line has never been completed.

In 1925 Argentina, Chile, Bolivia and Peru were linked by rail, but this route is not direct. The shorter Transandine line, from Valparaiso, Chile, to Buenos Aires, Argentine, was damaged by flood several years ago and reconstruction has been delayed.

Puppet Government

Napoleon, in the only peace he ever made with Great Britain—that of Amiens—sought the surrender of French exiles. The demand was indignantly repelled. To give up these men to certain death "would be," said Charles James Fox, "the worst and basest act I am capable of conceiving." But such an act came easy to the puppet government of Vichy which, in relation to Hitler, has no will but the will to obey.

The yet-unborn American republic faced a vital crisis on April 18-19, 1775, when Paul Revere made his famous midnight ride from Boston to Lexington. Above are shown dramatized scenes from his ride to warn Middlesex villages that the British were coming. The noted portrait of him (lower right) was made in later life when he was a silversmith.

Selectees Urged To Arrange Affairs Against Rejection

Texas' selective service local boards are urged by General J. Watt Page, state director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service system to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the army induction station.

General Page said that there are instances when men sent to induction stations by local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds by army examiners, and that state headquarters are extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by registrants in such cases be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," said the director, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations."

"But more serious is the possibility of inequity to reject registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connection when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted," Gen Page said "or to continue his employment if he is rejected."

"It is difficult to find an immediate cure-all for this problem, but it is hoped that through a closer co-ordination between the employer and prospective inductee much of the hardship and suffering in these cases may be alleviated. Employers should feel a 'moral obligation' to hold a registrant's job for him until he has actually been accepted at the army induction station. Even though he is rejected, surely he has fulfilled his duty to his country by responding to the call for service."

"Of course registrants should be cautioned to notify their employers immediately whether they have been accepted or rejected by the army examiners." General Page said.

Twenty 4-H girls of the Eula community went to visit Mrs. M. D. Farrar's frame garden and strawberry frame garden Friday. Mrs. Farrar's frame garden, a 7 ft. by 30 ft. had spinach, lettuce turnips, mustard, and radishes growing in it. The plants were large, tender, crisp and bright green. Mrs. Farrar gave each visitor a radish. They were crisp, sweet and tender. The garden not only supplies her with fresh vegetables, but she divided with her neighbors. To keep the wind from whipping the plants, Mrs. Farrar has her garden covered with cheese cloth covering. The strawberry bed was a mass of leaves, blossoms and strawberries a few had started turning pink. Mrs. Farrar a year ago last Nov. planted 100 plants, she estimated that she had about 5,000 plants at the present time. Mr. Farrar has made a strawberry garden on the north side of the house, spacing his plants 3 feet apart. These had been set out this year from plants by the first 100 plants.

The girls summed it by saying, "Well, it does not seem possible", but seeing is believing, and we are going to start us a garden."

Mrs. Farrar is happy for anyone to visit her gardens.

The group traveled on to Mrs. William Smith's to view a standard brooder house. Mrs. Smith had 250 baby chicks in the rock brooder. The wind on the outside was blowing a gale, but the chicks were cozy and warm. She had a kerosene stove and hover. The floor was covered with straw. Mrs. Smith explained that the straw absorbed moisture, kept the chicks off the floor, made the house easier to clean, and more sanitary in general. Mrs. Smith explained to the girls that the brooder was not so expensive and it cut down on the time spent in caring for the chicks and that the work was much simpler and easier. She further stated that mortality among the chicks was lower. They had just been taken out of a 250 bunch of broilers. At one side of the brooder was a pen, with oats just popping out of the ground. When asked, Mrs. Smith explained when the weather was suitable, the chicks were turned out to pick at the oats. She said the chicks grow much faster when they have green stuff to peck on.

At departing, Mrs. Smith gave a large bouquet of lovely irises from her yard.

The group returned to the school with the lesson for that meeting well in mind, for they had seen three demonstrations in progress.

Mattress Deadline April 30 has been set as the final date for Texas farm and ranch families to make application for cotton and ticking under the Department of Agriculture's 1941 Cotton Mattress demonstration program.

This announcement has been by B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the Triple A in Texas. Since the Extension Service is charged with supervision of the program, Vice Directors Mildred Horton and G. E. Adams are urging all county extension agents to be certain every eligible family in Texas has opportunity to make application before the deadline.

On March 24, more than a quarter of a million mattresses had been made in community centers in the state.

1855 mattresses have been completed in Callahan County. 1425 families will have received 2600 mattresses when the program is completed.

More Than a Million Mattresses Mattresses made in 20 states under the Department of Agriculture's cotton mattress demonstration recently totaled 1,225,481 according to the AAA's division of special programs. Cotton has already been ordered by 33 states in sufficient quantities to make a total of 2,380,440.

In Texas, farm families had received 261,532 mattresses on March 31, according to reports compiled in the office of Mildred Horton, Vice Director and state home demonstration agent of the A and M. College Extension Service.

Suggestions for Handling Tomato Plants The time for transplanting tomato plants being at hand J. F. Rosbrough, extension horticulturist for Texas A and M. College offers some suggestions to help the grower to do a good job.

Covers should remain off the frame day and night when the temperature is above 40 degrees. The amount of water given the plants should be reduced, even allowing them to become rather dry in order to check growth and harden the plant fibers. On the day of transplanting, water the plants thoroughly in the early morning. They may be set out in the late evening. Take care to mound the soil slightly around the stems to support them against wind.

With the first evidence of cut-worm damage, poison bran mash should be scattered around the plants in the late evening. This mixture should comprise five lbs of bran, one level tablespoonful of paris green, four quarts of water, with one-half pint of molasses stirred in.

Spacing of plants should depend upon the type of soil. Spacing the rows five to six feet and setting plants two to three feet apart in the rows is described on land which is included to be wet. The wide rows allow a deep furrow through the middle to provide drainage.

Where tomatoes are planted on a hillside and drainage is now a problem, rows may be four feet apart and plans set at intervals of three feet in the rows. Should April be wet and cool, it will be beneficial to side dress the plants with 100 lbs of nitrate of soda or ammonium sulphate when the first blooms appear. This will tend to stimulate growth which may be retarded by backward season.
