Brothers Charged Murder as Result Of Slaying

Johnson and Lonnie negro brothers are being held in the county jail on murder charges as the result of the slaying of John Thomas Blockett, a negro, following an affray which allegedly followed an argument between Tull and Blockett over a woman in a dice game.

County $241,000 Behind On Quota; $425,000 Is Total to Date

The Third War Loan drive will officially close at midnight Saturday, Oct. 3. Haskell county citizens were reminded Thursday by R. C. Couch, War Finance chairman, as he called on ever citizen to purchase at least an extra war bond during the final days of the campaign in order that the county might make as good a showing as possible toward raising its quota of $666,900.

Total purchases in the county up to Thursday stood at $425,000. Mr. Couch reported. This total was approximately as follows for the various communities in the county: Haskell, $200,000; Rule, $130,000; Weinert, $30,000; O'Brien-Rochester, $54,000; Sagerion, $11,000.

The county war finance chairman met Wednesday night with community committees at Rochester and O'Brien, where plans for the final days of the drive were discussed.

"We face a tremendous task this last week of the campaign," Mr. Couch said. "We are still a long way from our quota in the county and everyone who possibly can will have to increase their purchases during the closing days of the campaign if we are not to fall down on our quota."

"It's going to take lots of purchases by the small purchasers to meet the quota," he concluded, in urging community committees and drive workers to get every pledge fulfilled this week.

Out-of-Town Purchasers

Bond purchases by out-of-town persons and individuals credited to the Haskell county quota received since last week's report include the following: Slavonic Benevolent Order of Texas, Fayetteville, $5,000. Better Conduct Needed In Our School

Even though most of us don't everyone should behave properly in school.

While in the classroom, we must remember our manners and be polite to both teachers and fellow-students. Moreover, we should retain a spirit of co-operation and willingness to work at all times. Our teachers ought to be regarded in a respectful way and our attitude toward them should be a grateful one—not resentful.

Between classes in the halls we can show our consideration for those around us by neither shoving, pushing, nor standing around in everyone's way. Walk quietly, don't shout or talk too loudly. Honesty is a trait all should have and since our lockers are open, it is a trait we must keep in mind while in the halls.

Not all of us take physical education, but the majority will have physical education, etc., out of doors before the year is over. When doing this we must play fair and always be good losers. Again, as in the classroom, we should have a co-operative spirit. We could all improve our actions during assembly programs. First, we should enter the auditorium with a receptive mind—a willing and interesting outlook on what is to follow. As a result, we will give closer attention with a natural respect for the speaker or the one who performs.

Yes, I think these suggestions, if carried out, will better the behavior in our school.

For Freedom

The Third War Bond Drive is now taking place. They're asking us for a loan. Let's buy, so our soldiers will be able to face, and say we did something to protect our home.

Our boys are fighting and doing their best.

Freedom—their only thought. They're doing their bit; with us lies the rest.

How many bonds have you bought?

—Vaughn Ray Stuart

War bonds and stamps bought on Friday will aid in our 3rd war loan to a very great extent. The total of $4582.90 was a large increase over last week's sale. This week as well as last week Mrs. Williams' geometry class led the sales amounting to $4502.50.

Bonds were bought by the following: Janice Pace—$4,000; Loyd Kennedy—$500; Coach Roberson—$25; Mary Dell Turner—$25; Janet Turner—$25.

We could all still buy more bonds and stamps so let's go — H. H. S.

Classes will be organized in a few days and class activities planned for the forthcoming year.

Indians Meet Defeat Bravely

Opening the season the Haskell Indians played their first game with Spur on Friday night. Even though they were defeated with a score of 13-6, every boy gave all he had during the whole game.

During the first quarter the boys seemed to be a little jittery and didn't play as successfully as they did in the rest of the game. But when they did get started they pushed Spur all over their end of the field beginning with the second quarter until the game was over.

Every boy on the squad is looking forward to the game with Munday on Friday night Oct. 1st at Munday.

The boys say the score is going to be changed to where the big end of the score will represent the Indians.

Pep Squad Work Progresses

The pep squad is losing no time this week getting ready for the coming football games. New songs and yells along with many old ones are being learned. They also have several new field stunts that are really different.

Wanda Dulaney, a former pep squad member has written several songs and yells for them. She has been kind enough to come to the meetings and work out some of the field stunts.

Several new members have been added to the pep squad this week. They want all others, members or not, to come and help out at games.

The pep squad did not go in a group to Spur to the game, because of lack of transportation, but will always be on Indian field with plenty of pep.

New Schedule Starts Tuesday

Beginning Tuesday all classes will go back on regular schedule. Due to students picking cotton the classes were shortened so as to dismiss school, but all classes will be regular length from here on out.

The schedule is as follows:
 9:15-10:15—1st period.
 10:20-10:50—Activity Period.
 10:55-11:55—2nd period.
 11:55-12:45—Noon.

Disposing of an Enemy Observation Post

A direct hit from this United States gun disposed of an Italian tobacco factory which was being used as an artillery observation post by the Germans. After successfully resisting desperate German attempts to defend Salerno, Allied forces steadily pushed northward toward German capturing strategic military and industrial towns.

Bookkeeping Class Begins Monday

The bookkeeping class began Monday the 22nd with approximately 22 students in the class. Mrs. McCreary who also taught in H. H. S. last year as a substitute teacher is now teaching the class. The students are progressing rapidly and by the end of the school year hope to be A-1 bookkeepers.

Gossip

Some of the Juniors certainly seem to be getting around. How about it Bobby J.?

If you were a little late on some of the details of the Haskell-Spur game, just ask those early birds, Williams and Dulaney.

Bookkeeping is essential, therefore you seniors must calm down. If you want to see two real Indian Squaws just watch Nell

King and Joan Berry when they take over the Pep Squad.

Mildred is getting just too popular (five boys drooping around at once). Come in kid and give the other girls a chance.

We have finally decided that if Doris Homsley can't have Tommy Dorsey or Harry James she will just take V. A. Brown, their close runner.

Dick Horner and Douglas Smith are presenting H. H. S. in a big way. Keep up the good work boys.

Last but not least, we as a student body, are sending our best wishes to an ex-student Gordon Johnston, who enlisted in the U. S. Navy last week.

Gasoline—In 17 states of eastern shortage area A-6 coupons are now good. In states outside the eastern shortage area A-8 coupons are now good.

Fuel Oil—Period 5 coupons in old rations are good through September 30. Period 1 coupons in new rations are good through December.

Sugar—Stamp No. 14 good for 5 pounds through October. Stamps Nos. 15 and 16 good for 5 pounds each for home canning through October 31.

Shoes—Stamp No. 18 good for 1 pair. Validity has been extended indefinitely.

Processed Foods—Blue stamps U, V and W expire October 20.

Cut Expected in Shoe Ration
The new shoe stamp, No. 1, on the "Airplane" sheet in War Ration Book Three, which becomes valid November 1, probably will have to last six months, OPA has announced. At the same time OPA said that Stamp 18, originally scheduled to expire October 31, is extended indefinitely and will overlap the next stamp. OPA's present plan is to eliminate expiration dates on shoe stamps valid as soon as supplies warrant. This enables a person to save shoe stamps until shoes are needed.

More Soap Provided
Consumers will have greater soap supplies within a few weeks. The War Food Administration has announced a program to provide a 28 percent increase in soap production for civilian use. WFA emphasized that there will still be no excess and urged soap-saving by every way possible.

May Requisition Idle Trucks
Idle used trucks may be requisitioned by district ODT offices or Agricultural County War Boards to transport vital agricultural products where such transport service is vitally needed. Requisitioning will be necessary only where owners of idle used trucks are unwilling to allow the use of their vehicles in this service.

Market Turkeys Now
Farmers are urged to market their turkeys as soon as possible so that the American Armed Forces overseas can have typical Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. In a joint statement, Maj. Gen. E. B. Gregory, Quartermaster General, and Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, appealed to farmers to "go over their turkey flocks carefully now with a view to offering as many as possible for sale to the government. Send them to our processor as early as possible. If you don't know where to market them contact your nearest war board office or Quartermaster Market Center."

More Heavy Underwear Coming
The War Production Board has acted to increase production of certain types of men's and boys' heavy knit underwear in which a shortage loomed.

To Issue Ration Book Four
War Ration Book Four, which will last approximately two years, will be issued to more than 120 million persons through school-house distributions during the last 10 days of October. OPA has announced. The book combines point and unit stamps. It has eight pages containing 384 stamps,

Farm Items Under Price Control
Used hay loaders, side delivery rakes and manure spreaders were recently placed under specific price control by OPA. This ruling applies when these items are sold by any persons, such as farmers or auctioneers. Maximum prices will be determined on the following basis; 85 percent of the price of the machine when new, if the equipment is less than one year old and 70 percent of the price of the item when new, if the equipment is one year old or more.

Prunes and Raisins Rationed
Dried and dehydrated prunes and raisins were restored to rationing September 5. Values were placed at four points per pound. Allocations of dried prunes and raisins to Government agencies will be large. However, the balance of raisins and dried prunes available from the year's production for civilian distribution is expected to be over 90 percent of the average annual civilian supply for a five-year period preceding rationing.

Texas State College for Women

Back the Attack With War Bonds

LOOKING AHEAD
BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Harding College

Vigilance
Forms of government never have been static. Dominions rise and they fall. History shows that democracies and republics are especially short-lived. Some change by revolution, quickly; some by degree, more slowly; others by indirection, deviously. Many a nation has lost its power of self government. The immediate causes differ, but fundamentally they all had the same trouble—apathy.

Liberty demands attention! Even in America with a system that fosters the best living and working conditions any segment of mankind ever knew; even in America where a vast majority of people appreciate their opportunities, eternal vigilance is the price of freedom. Self-seeking, short-sighted minorities can play havoc with any democracy whose loyal majority is off its guard.

Signs of Danger
Little groups of opportunists play pressure politics. They cultivate class hatreds, they stimulate unlawful ambitions and magnify resentment at offenses, real and imaginary. These things are at work now in America. The form of government which is ours in the United States has no more assurance of endless life than had the Roman Republic or the Athenian Democracy, both of which died young, as did a score of more recent ones.

Safeguard Government Checks
Despite repeated warning, records of the Bureau of Naval Personnel show a steady increase in the number of allotment and family allowance checks stolen or lost after delivery. To prevent loss, the following suggestions have been offered: (1) be sure your name is on your mail box or door; (2) watch for your check and deposit it promptly in a regular place; (3) if you move, notify your postmaster and either the Allotment Division or the Family Allowance Division of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Cleveland, Ohio.

Cut Football Travel
All school, college and other football teams have been asked by the Office of Defense Transportation to confine the sale and distribution of tickets to the residents of the local area of the cities in which the games are to be played. By so restricting sales ODT pointed out, football games can be held without increasing the already heavy load on intercity buses and trains.

Give Soldier's Serial Number
The public is asked to use a soldier's army serial number in every case where inquiries are made to official agencies concerning either officer or enlisted personnel. Much time and material is wasted if the number is not given, according to the War Department.

Four Pillars
1.—Popular Vote: the right of every man to a voice in the government under which he lives.
2.—Free Speech: man's inalienable right to have thoughts and express them to other people.
3.—Free Enterprise: man's right to work, earn, save, buy, own property, trade and get gain.
4.—Worship: the right of every intelligent being to worship God as his conscience dictates.

Extreme Measures
Production of critical materials certainly ought not to drag for want of government help or intervention where needed. Just the same, a fictitious demand for government aid can be set up like stage scenery. National security is fully recognized as a proper government responsibility but, in America, authority to conduct a war is vested in government for preserving democracy, not to cripple freedom and lay the foundation for a socialist state.

Peace Practices Support War Effort

When one thinks about the war effort it is generally along lines of production of ships, airplanes, tanks, guns and munitions.

No better example can be offered than the trained engineers made available by the fire insurance companies for fire prevention work.

The service rendered to the government by the engineers of the insurance industry will never be fully known to the general public.

Life saving and property saving endeavors of this kind have long been fostered by the fire insurance companies through the coordinated activities of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

American Initiative Saves Lives

It is a matter of record that medical service for American armed forces is unequalled throughout the world, and fatalities among our wounded are unbelievably low.

The foundation for such a service was an independent American medical system and a privately supported and operated American Red Cross.

The blood plasma service of the American Red Cross will go down in history as one of the most remarkable life-saving activities ever recorded.

One of the things to be proud of about American medical service and Red Cross service is that it is a testimonial to the superiority of private initiative and enterprise in science and relief work as contrasted with the ideals of the totalitarian state in controlling and dominating the lives of citizens.

Blood plasma ranks as the foremost saver of lives in our Army and Navy. The job of the Red Cross is to secure 4,000,000 additional pints of blood in 1943.

Safety In Congress

Congressmen have recently enjoyed a long spell of getting first-hand information from the folks back home. They have found that their constituents are willing and anxious to help transfer the nation's needs into realities.

Our lawmakers have undoubtedly asked themselves, "Have our people reached a point where their every act, their every purchase, their every sale must be planned by some super bureau or bureaucrat in Washington?"

There must be a happy wage and price medium which we can help maintain to encourage the necessary functioning of American production and distribution in conjunction with war-time requirements of our armed forces and civilian population.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS AND THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 5:17-20; 19:16-22; John 8:39, 40.

GOLDEN TEXT—Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets; I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.—Matthew 5:17.

With this lesson we begin a series of studies which should be of unusual value, a consideration of the Ten Commandments in the light of the teachings of Jesus, and other related New Testament passages.

It is appropriate to point out that, far from being outmoded, the Ten Commandments are really the basis of all moral law.

As interpreted by the Lord Jesus and applied to our daily living, the truth of these commandments should be brought home to every boy and girl, man and woman in our Bible schools.

We learn here that our Lord did not come to set aside or destroy the law, but to fulfill it in the most complete way.

I. Built on the Law (Matt. 5:17-20).

The law of God is eternal, never to be abrogated, never set aside. Christ Himself, although we might properly say that He was in reality the Lawgiver and thus had power and authority over the law, indicated His purpose in coming to be that of giving the law its full meaning, not of destroying it.

Recognizing Christ as the fulfillment of the law should prepare one to manifest obedience to every moral precept through His grace.

II. More Than the Law (Matt. 19:16-22).

Obedience to the commandments brings a man up to the very entrance upon life, but to enter in, he must have more than the "things" of the law; he must have the Person who is "the Door" to eternal life.

The young man who came to Christ was rich. His mind was obsessed with things. He had made it his business to observe the law, and had done well (v. 20), but his soul was not satisfied.

The general attitude of the man was commendable. He sensed his lack of the vital something which would remake his life. He came to the right one—the Lord Jesus—with his question.

His failure to go beyond the things of the law to a faith in Christ, however, showed that he loved his possessions more than he desired to follow the Lord.

Those in our day who are trying to please God and gain eternal blessedness by works, by doing things and keeping commandments, need to recognize that in Christianity we have the One who is more than the law. They need to look away from things to be done, to the great thing that was done once and for all on Calvary.

III. Greater Than the Law (John

A Little Thing

What was it, theft, robbery, extortion, bribe-taking? I was not able to classify the offense, neither could I justify it because it was plainly immoral in principle.

Precisely this is what's wrong with our system of taxation in the United States, especially right now. It is wrong in principle.

Look Behind Them Everybody who can multiply understands (or can figure out) that our government can't run without taxing poor people.

The Scriptures are great because they bear witness to the Christ who can give life. But obviously the One to whom they bear witness is greater than they are.

Paul speaks of the law as a "schoolmaster to bring us to Christ" (Gal. 3:24). The picture is literally of a servant charged with bringing the child to school where he may learn the truth.

A Growing Menace In years gone by, revenue bills did not arouse much popular protest because rates were low.

"If our study of the Scriptures does not bring us to Christ, then it is vain indeed. For that reason we cannot study the Ten Commandments without turning constantly to Jesus as the One greater than the law" (Lesson Commentary).

One Suggestion

It is my sincere and studied conviction that most of today's complicated tax mechanism ought to be junked and replaced with an honest sales tax, for one main reason: The fairness of a sales tax is so obvious.

1.—Sales taxes are not hidden taxes. They are not drawn up to fool anybody. We can all see how big they are and who pays them.

2.—Being out in the open, in plain view of every voter, certain features can be abolished when no longer needed.

3.—Sales taxes resist inflation. Inflation is not mysterious. It is nothing but spending power that people have, over and above the available supply of things to buy.

4.—Sales taxes indirectly build cash reserves. Whereas an income tax is a draft on savings, a sales tax throws a brake on spending.

5.—A sales tax is the only perfect pay-as-you-go tax ever devised.

More Terraces for Texas

Because farmers need to use every practice that has been proved to conserve soil fertility and increase farm production, B. F. Vance, state AAA administrative officer, is asking county AAA forces to cooperate with county agents, soil conservation technicians, and vocational teachers, in organizing terracing programs in all of the hill counties of the state.

Under the 1943 AAA farm program farmers can earn 80 cents per 100 linear feet of standard terrace established. Last year Texas farmers built 109,927,000 feet of approved terraces to conserve soil and moisture and earned $824,407, in payments for carrying out this practice, Mr. Vance said. The goal for 1943 is 150,000,000 feet.

Soil conservationists say the correct construction of terraces with proper outlets is one of the first and most important steps to take to prevent erosion and to conserve soil and moisture on cultivated rolling lands.

Terraces serve to collect and retard the flow of water off the land. The grade of the terrace caused the water to move more slowly giving it more time to soak into the soil.

The State AAA Committee can make terracing available to farmers of any county as conservation assistance upon proper application to the county AAA committee for this service, Mr. Vance said.

In counties where terracing has been approved as conservation service, local farmers can get terrace lines run and terraces constructed and have the cost deducted from the soil-building payments they earn, Mr. Vance stated.

Destroy Cotton Stalks Early

Experience shows that farmers who destroy cotton stalks early in the fall have less boll weevil damage the next season. This is especially true where a group of farmers in a community cooperate as a community in stalk destruction. G. R. Schumann, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service states that the earlier the stalks are destroyed the better. Sixty days before frost is better than thirty. With the cotton crop maturing in Haskell County at a date earlier than usual, it is possible this year for farmers to have their crops gathered before frost, and in such a case, this may be one year that farmers can destroy their stalks before frost which is not often the case in this county.

In any event, cotton stalks eradicated at least four weeks before frost is effective and profitable in reducing the number of boll weevils which survive the winter to attack next year's cotton crop. Weevils feed only on growing cotton. When cotton is harvested early and all green stalks destroyed, weevils are without food until they seek winter quarters.

Experimental data from different sections of the Cotton Belt reveal that from 19 to 24 times as many weevils survive the winter in or near fields where cotton stalks grow until frost, compared to fields where stalks are destroyed by October 15.

One pair of weevils which survive the winter is capable, under favorable conditions, of adding 12 million weevils to next year's population. In view of this a farming practice as simple and economical as stalk destruction which will destroy 18 out of 19 carry over weevils is a good investment.

Any practical means such as plowing, discing, or cutting which completely stops the growth of cotton is satisfactory.

Cattle Grubs Waste Meat and Leather

Enough meat to feed 46,000 soldiers is lost in Texas each year because of cattle grubs, according to G. R. Schumann, County Agricultural Agent, based on reports from livestock specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

In addition, hides sufficient to provide shoes for a million soldiers for one year are lost because of holes punched in cattle hides by these pests. Figures compiled recently for a series of District Extension meetings revealed that every year 42 percent of Texas beef cattle—or 840,000 head—go to market in a grubby condition. This results in the trimming of about two pounds per animal from the loins and ribs.

Last year, some 30 Haskell County farmers cooperated with the County Agent in treating their cattle for grubs, and this year, Mr. Schumann looks for many others to treat their herds. The method used in treating is very simple and relatively inexpensive. Since grubs make their appearance in the backs of cattle in November, the first treatment should be applied to the cattle at that time; additional treatments may be necessary in the following months of December and January. Cube or Derris powder (containing 5 percent rotenone) and wettable sulphur are used in treating cattle for grubs. Both of these ingredients are non-poisonous and do not harm cattle in any way.

Dipping cattle for grubs and lice has been practiced in Haskell County for 6 years at a cost of only 1-4c per head. The scarcity of dipping vats in Haskell County prevents many farmers and ranchmen from using this method of grub and lice control, and under such circumstances, hand applications must be made

Farmers Asked to Continue Good Farming

College Station—Produce more wheat but not at the expense of sound farming was the message sent to Texas' 40,000 wheat farmers by B. F. Vance, administrative officer of the AAA in Texas.

Citing years of conservation work in which farmers have rebuilt their soils, he said they could easily meet next year's 5-million acre goal while continuing sound soil management.

"Through wise land use we can get a big wheat crop next year and be all set to come back with another big crop the following year," he said.

He explained that although increased wheat acreage is being called for, special importance should be given to other war crops such as flax, dry beans and peas, potatoes and feed crops in areas where these crops are adapted.

Explaining why increases in wheat are needed for 1944, Vance said that during the last 12 months about one-third of last year's crop had been fed to livestock, that the use of wheat for synthetic rubber and explosives has increased to 150-million bushels per year and that additional millions

Early Turkeys for Fighters

Texas turkey growers have been asked to give their active help in assembling enough birds so that American boys fighting overseas will have their equal holiday dinners. Texas is the nation's number one turkey producing state.

The Quartermaster Corps and the War Food Administration have asked American farmers to market two million pounds of turkey through September 15. It is the opinion of George P. McCarthy, Poultryman of the A. and M. College Extension Service, that Texas should be able to furnish about three hundred thousand pounds.

The turkeys will be sent to every battle front in the world where Americans are fighting. But the first lot must get there in plenty of time for Thanksgiving. Getting the turkeys ready will mean more work for farmers. Flocks are developing slowly this year on account of the feed shortage. McCarthy suggests to farmers not to hold birds which have matured early. They can be sold to the army and their removal from the flocks will conserve feed.

He recommends that farmers begin now and select early hatched birds along with all old turkeys on the farm. Separate the fastest growing ones from the less rapidly developing young stock and feed them up so that they can be available for shipment early in October for Christmas dinners. This would help the larger turkeys develop faster and give the smaller ones the chance they need to gain in size and weight.

It is estimated that over the entire season, Texas should have close to forty-five million pounds of turkey available for marketing. This would be equivalent to about three million birds.

Haskell County farmers are especially urged to help with the program to place turkeys on the market early, according to G. R. Schumann, County Agent. Proper feeding and management will help to mature birds at an earlier date and any farmer that needs help in determining the best ratios to feed turkeys for fattening are requested to contact the County Agent.

We Have A Supply of 6-Row Cotton Dusters

These cotton dusters are now available, but the chances are they won't be when you need them for your 1944 crop.

It's a good idea to buy yours now—while they are available—and be prepared for cotton insects when they strike.

Just received a half-carload of Pennzoil, in all weights, in quart containers. The safest way to use motor oil is in sealed containers.

We have a limited supply of low, iron wheeled farm wagons on the floor.

DEPT. OF THE INTERIOR

Counties to Get WFA Awards

Counties in which farmers have achieved exception production will be awarded an agricultural achievement award by the War Food Administration. They will be cited for achievement in one or more of the following: production record and extent by which the county exceeded 1943 goals; overcoming severe handicaps; extent of shifts to vital war crops; improvement in farm production efficiency; fuller use of land and labor resources. One award may be made in each state with others in proportion to the state's ratio of the total U. S. farm population.

Probably most of the awards will be made in November. A similar award will be made to seasonal food processors with outstanding production records.

Certain Seeds Under Price Control

Buyer prices on processed and unprocessed seeds of alfalfa (northern, central and southern) red clover, alsike clover, sweet clover, and timothy have been restored to approximate levels paid last spring. At the same time, OPA has assured producer-farmers somewhat higher returns than last season, reflecting parity prices or better on sales of these seeds to them.

Buy Bonds

For boys and girls through the "teen" age, war stamps and bonds are a sure foundation for thrift and patriotism.

For adult men and women, and for people who want to be dependable in business, Bonds are the best evidence of stability and the best letters of credit that can be offered to your banks.

For men and women past middle age Bonds are the best insurance against deprivation and the most positive exterminator of the "wolf" that stalks the premises of eighty-five per cent of the people who live to be seventy years old.

The above are reasons why everyone should buy Government bonds in peace times.

We are in war today. As we look about us and as we go to and fro we see only the "unfit for military service". The cream of the country have disappeared from our regular paths. Young women by the thousands and young men by the millions have given up their chosen professions, have given up their civilian life and their homes and gone. They have gone to heed the call of "THEIR COUNTRY". They have gone to do their part and if need be to give their lives for our welfare. They have nobly accepted their assignments. They are carrying-on in a most illustrious manner.

They Will Not All Return To Us

The number and time of returning will be determined largely by the support given them from the home front. Our duty and our privilege today is to buy bonds. It is not necessary or even fitting at this time that we should wait for someone to come and sell us bonds. We have our newspaper and our radios, we know the need. We know that to buy a bond is a contrast rather than a comparison of what the soldier puts into the war effort.

What Became of the Shot Gun Shell and His Little Cousin 22 Short

Just in case you have not heard they have gone to war along with some of the rest of our vital farm hardware. The army has bought 1,000,000 new Winchester Pump shot guns as well as thousands of second hand shot guns from civilians.

The Army uses shot guns to train pilots and gunners on the skeet range and uses lots of shells in aerial gunnery. Many cases of 22 ammunition are used to train tank and infantry gunners.

Something like 2 years ago the War Production Board stopped manufacture of ammunition for civilian supply, and the machines which make this ammunition are now reposing in warehouses or out in the company lot. And in the meantime the Army requisitioned ten jobbers stocks of shells, leaving none for civilian supply. It is our belief that the War Production Board and Army should release or let be manufactured a limited amount of ammunition to the farmer for killing predatory animals and birds which destroy his crops, and poultry.

But we as civilians can not dictate to our Army how much ammunition it should have because we are many thousands of miles from the front and nobody is shooting at us.

To further complicate the shell situation it has gotten into politics. Various farmer groups, merchants, USDA war boards and hunters have been putting pressure on Congress and the War Production Board for ammunition.

Hence the War Production Board Directive to manufacturers, the newspaper articles which you have probably read, permitting a trifle of ammunition to be made. When our farmer customers read these articles in the newspaper quoting War Production Board DIRECTIVE, what happened?

They rushed into our store expecting to find a stock of ammunition and obtain some by signing up or obtain some later by making application to WPB.

We have always tried to give the farmer ammunition and vital hardware he needs. May we hasten the day of victory when we can sell him all the ammunition he needs. But right now we will have to do our best to get along without it. We have gone to a great deal of effort and expense to secure shells for farmers, including printing forms, which the WPB saw fit to change every time the moon changed. Telegrams, phone calls, and we have only secured a trifle of ammunition. We have farmers' applications for shells which were sent off in January of this year that have never been filled.

If and when we secure positive information by letter confirmation—not newspaper talk—that a supplier has the ammunition on hand and can and will fill farmers' applications we will again start taking them. Until then we can make no definite promise as to when we can deliver any ammunition or take any further applications.

Don't put the pressure on us as we would like to be able to supply our customers, and we have the funds and empty shelving space for a good stock.

When you come in our store wanting ammunition and we tell you it is all gone, there isn't no more, don't start fretting, think of the Tail Gunner coming home from a raid in a crippled Fortress with swarms of Messerschmitts on his tail, his ship, his own life and that of his comrades depending on his aim and accuracy, which was developed to a state of perfection on the skeet range with SHELLS, which you thought you should have gotten, but did not get.

"BOND DODGER"

I'm writing this short letter And every word is true. Don't look away, Bond Dodger, For it is addressed to you.

You feel at ease and in no danger, Back in the old home town; You cooked up your pitiful financial story, So you could turn the bond committee down.

You never think of the real men Who leave here day by day; You just think of your self and family, Whom you love while they're away.

You sit at home and read the paper, And jump and yell, "We'll win" Just where do you get that we stuff?

The war will be won by men. Just what do you think Bond Dodger.

That this free nation would do, If all the men were slackers And failed to buy bonds like you?

Well, I guess that's all, Bond Dodger, For I suppose your face is red; America's no place for your kind, And I mean every word I have said.

Now if you want to redeem yourself, Mr. Dodger, And be thought well of by your friends; Just go to your banker tomorrow And buy bonds before this campaign ends.

Wake up, oh sleeping public, And listen to the call; To invest a little money While the boys invest their all.

Now this is the least that we can do, To help those weary men To break the bonds of servitude So that free men might live again.

Itinerant Speaker Relates Strange Experience

Major McFlemky, world traveler and speaker who has been making interesting talks on the courthouse lawn here during the past week, relates the following occurrence during his stay here: "Saturday I was preaching on the courthouse lawn here. When I was about half through with my subject, a strange dog carrying a bone in his mouth came and laid the bone at my feet, then picked it up and climbed upon me as if he wanted me to take the bone. I pushed the dog away, and he repeated his actions. All the crowd saw it and City Marshal Ivey called my attention to just what the dog was trying to do, and all wondered what it meant. No one gave me a penny or a dime, but the half-starved dog gave me his all—his bone. I afterwards gave him a good feed of ham and chicken and a drink."
