Haskell Soldier Visits Scotland on 7-Day Leave

In recent letters received by Haskell relatives, Flight Officer Odor Akins, who is stationed with U. S. Army Air Forces in England, the young Haskell officer told of a recent visit in Scotland, and from brief comments in his letter, the trip was made after he had taken part in the invasion of France.

The young officer wrote in part: "Well, I have been on a nice seven-day leave. I went 'up to Scotland' because that was about the only place to go. The country is very beautiful—even more so than England. I spent most of my time in Edinburgh, the capital of Scotland. The castle there is one of the oldest and most beautiful in the British Isles. It was built in 826 and I think Queen Mary of Scots was the first person to live there. Edinburgh was the home of Sir Walter Scott and Robert Louis Stevenson. I think this was the most interesting trip I ever made."

Board Will Be Placed On Courthouse Lawn for Benefit of Public

Following the custom of past years, returns from the primary election will be posted on a large bulletin board on the courthouse lawn Saturday night, and the totals will also be announced over a loud speaker system as soon as they are received from the various boxes.

Principal effort will be made to post early returns on county and precinct races, although an effort will be made to secure early returns on state and district races as early as reports are available.

Cooperation of election officials in the various Haskell county voting boxes has been requested in sending in their reports as soon as the ballots are checked, either by telephone or by bringing the report in person. If the reports are given by telephone, election officials are asked to call the office of Mrs. Hettie Williams, County Clerk.

Despite the lack of advance interest evidenced on the part of voters, balloting in the First Primary Saturday is expected to be fairly heavy, with the several contested races due to attract many voters to the polls.

Aside from the State races, Haskell county voters have only five contested places in which two or more candidates seek nomination, not taking into account the several precinct posts to be filed.

The five principal races to be decided Saturday include the following: For Sheriff, Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, and for Constable of Precinct No. 1.

In the race for Sheriff, three candidates are listed: Jim Isbell, present Deputy Sheriff, Mart Clifton, Haskell alderman and former deputy sheriff, and A. W. Shelley, who is making his first bid for public office.

In the race for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, six candidates are listed. They are Terry Robertson, who is seeking re-election, Ira L. Blair, A. C. Sego, E. H. Baugh, Claude Ashley and S. S. Dozier.

For Commissioner of Precinct 3 W. W. Griffin asks re-election, and is opposed by Noah S. Lane. In Precinct 4, Commissioner Bill Fouts, seeking re-election, is opposed by M. D. Crow for the office.

For Constable of Precinct 1, Sterling Edwards, a candidate for re-election, is opposed by A. Tonn.

Supplies and Troops Continue to Roll In Striking panorama of the French invasion beach was made by a coast guard combat cameraman from a hillside cut with trenches, in foreground, by ousted Nazi defenders. The channel is black with ships as reinforcements and supplies pour ashore to reinforce the troops to continue their advance southward. Barrage balloons float overhead to protect the landings. Until captured harbors have been repaired, and perhaps even later, the beachheads are being utilized to land men, supplies, munitions and food as well as hospital and canteen supplies now being furnished the invaders.

A Small Industry

Strawberries classify as luxuries if they are absolutely essential to anything but strawberry shortcake. I don't know what it is. Few lower animals will touch them. Apparently they were created for the enjoyment of mankind. Their food value seems quite incidental to the pleasure they afford some people and the havoc they cause to erupt on others.

Strawberries however have become a primary economic factor in the lives of a few thousand people and a good many of them are my neighbors here in White County, Arkansas. Strawberries to us are what celery is to Kalamazoo or chicsee to Roquefort. What this little industry has experienced in the last three years under cut-and-dried economy is set forth very plainly in the figures below:

The Strawberry Crop

White County	1944	1943	1942
Acres in Berries	4,000	7,500	12,000
Crates per Acre	25	45	70
Price per Crate	$7.80	$8.50	$1.50

Remember the story of Sinbad the Sailor and the Old Man of the Sea? Well—blows White County has sustained at the hand of the OPA suggest what Sinbad endured from the OMS. Large industries like Aviation, Petroleum and Textiles touch a larger number of people in a more vital way but the little ones are not exempt from the effects of official tampering. And there are many little ones.

Strawberries are extremely perishable; the season is very short and early. People in the business are prepared for inevitable "off years" when crops are damaged by weather conditions but they are almost obliged to have their occasional seasons of rich return in order to keep the wolf from the door during the lean years. The 1943 season was about average in acreage and yield per acre.

Worse Than Frost

The only recent year of promising pay-off was 1942. Everything looked hopeful including the weather. Acreage was large and so was the yield. But in April the government's newly installed food rationing department did some warning-up maneuvers on sugar. The sugar shortage was begun but there was a lot of hubbub about it and the effect was real. White County farmers lost out, thus: Price to the grower that year was $1.50 for a case of 24 quarts. It wouldn't pay for picking and packing. The fruit was fine but the buyers were afraid because they had no reason to believe Mrs. Housewife would be able to set sugar on her table at any price. Processing firms, panners and jam makers, took what they could handle and the rest (most of the crop) rotted in the field before the sugar shortage fable was debunked.

Discouragement Comes

If the entire crop might have been sold at the ridiculously low figure of $1.50 a crate, White County would have received $1,260,000 for it, and gone in the red. In 1943, however, it was the consumer who paid dearly. Discouraged Arkansas growers set out 37 1/2% less land and produced 35% less per acre. The farmer's price trebled but gross return to the county was still under $2,000,000 for the season.

The 1944 season is hardly worth counting. Last summer and fall were dry and the labor shortage at plant-setting time cut the county's gross strawberry revenue below half a million dollars and next year's hopes are drooping. Farmers feel pretty certain, after the fourth consecutive disappointment, that either drought, man-power shortage, late frost or bureaucratic price-fixing will finally ruin them.

Politicians may cloud issues because they may be lost in a fog themselves.

REMNANTS MAKE A FLOOR LAMP

COLLEGE STATION.—Given a few odds and ends, county Extension agents sometimes demonstrate miracles. But the demonstration is their Pandora's box of methods to teach farm people greater efficiency and how to multiply their home comforts.

Here is an outstanding example of the ingenuity of one county home demonstration agent in fabricating a useful household article from an automobile part, old newspapers and a bit of plank with the aid of two handy 4-H Club girls.

Edith and Fay Ryder, Knox County 4-H Club girls, desired to make a floor lamp out of the steering wheel of an automobile. So they sought the help of the county home demonstration agent, Kathleen Lucile King, who listed the things necessary to do the job. First, they shredded enough newspapers to fill a gallon bucket, and when Miss King reached their home she added a one-inch cube of soap cut into tiny bits and a handful of salt. The mixture was covered with water and allowed to stand overnight.

Next morning, Edith took a washboard and rubbed the soaked paper into pulp. Flour was added to thicken it and form a paste and the bucket placed on the stove. While Edith prepared the papermachie, Fay cut the circular part of the steering wheel with a hacksaw and then sawed a four by four inch piece from a plank. Using a carpenter's square she found the exact center of the block where she bored a hole about half way through with a brace and bit. It was then placed on top of the steering wheel rod.

With the parts assembled, the agent proceeded with the wiring. The cord was run through the block and the plug put on and tested. Next the socket was screwed to the four by four block, and rags cut in one inch strips were used to wrap the steering wheel. Lastly, the papermachie was spread on the stand, smoothed down and set to dry. When properly dried it will be painted or enameled white or ivory.

Like good demonstrators the sisters invited eight women and 4-H girls to see the job done.

My Answers to Questions

Questions on allotments, legal problems or other matters as they relate to the Army will be answered in this column or by letter. Write Headquarters, Eighth Service Command, Dallas 2, Texas.

Q. An application was filed July 1 for maternity care for myself and my child which is expected in November. My husband was a sergeant at the time the application was filed, but on July 9 he was promoted to staff sergeant. I understand that the wives of staff sergeants are not supposed to have this care. Will my application now be disapproved because my husband was promoted?

A. No. The status of the husband at the time the application was made determines the eligibility of the patient throughout the entire treatment.

Q. My husband needs a certificate proving our marriage in order to apply for my monthly family allowance. I have lost our certificate and cannot obtain another one. Will anything else serve the purpose?

A. Yes. If a certified copy of the church or public record of marriage is not available, the affidavit of the person who performed the ceremony or the affidavits of two or more eye witnesses to the ceremony will be considered adequate proof of marriage.

Q. When our son went into the Army he was listed as a conscientious objector. He has changed his mind about that now and would like to get into some kind of combat duty. Would the Army let him transfer?

A. Yes. He must submit a voluntary request in writing through his commanding officer.

Q. I am the widow of a veteran and would like to apply for a civil service job. Am I entitled to any preference?

First Marines to Land in U. S.

The First marine division, with 2,743 happy members, arrived in San Diego after 26 months in the South Pacific. This unit struck America's first land blow at Japan at Guadalcanal. Their most recent action was on New Britain Island where they drove out the Japs.

"Commando" Kelly, the Yankee Irishman who became a Texan and won the Congressional Medal of Honor by fighting heroically with Texas' 36th division, stopped off in Austin recently to thank the "home folks" for their contributions to the war effort.

"We know Texans are behind us," he told Wayland D. Towner, manager of the United War Chest of Texas, "because we got National War Fund services even up close to the front lines. USO camp shows, War Prisoners Aid and other agencies are doing a great job. Thanks to $5,000,000 given by Texas last year. Keep up the good work, and we'll keep hitting the enemy hard!"

The Nazis in Normandy made a mistake when they made a Texan mad one day last week. When a German bazooka knocked out his tank, Lt. Dick Martin of Fort Worth got sore, jumped on top of the stranded machine, cut loose with a sub-machine gun, and personally killed 35 Nazis.

Lt. Dan Gilmore, who home is Luling, has made six bombing runs over Berlin, and still is in there pitching. Now he holds the DFC for heroism and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Lt. Neilan Bemis of Denison is towing more glider troops to France after winning the DFC with cluster . . . Lt. Winfred Alfred of Commerce is back home after 28 missions over Europe as a Flying Fortress pilot . . . Sgt. Julian Barkman, whose home is near Texarkana, has been taken prisoner by the Germans. But his lot will be made easier by War Prisoners Aid, National War Fund agency which provides sports equipment and other supplies for our men behind enemy barbed wire.

One of the youngest generals in the Army is C. D. "Casey" Vincent, veteran fighter pilot. He's only 29, but strictly a Texas fighting man. His home is Gales.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lamkin have returned from Longview, where they spent the past several weeks visiting in the home of their daughter.

KEROSENE HAS GONE TO WAR—

Kerosene use on the home front must be reduced wherever possible this year, the Petroleum Administration for War warns, because of the tremendous and increasing consumption of kerosene in vital war fuels. Diesel engines use a fuel a portion of which has been diverted from the manufacture of kerosene. Diesel fuel oil, made of approximately one-third kerosene fractions, powers bulldozers, Diesel trucks, caterpillar tractors construction machinery, dock and yard locomotives, every American submarine and nearly 100,000 invasion barges. PAW calls on users to use sparingly of kerosene—also known as coal oil, range oil lamp oil, burning oil and stove oil.

OPA PRICE ACTIONS—

Prices for the 1944 crops of a number of fresh food items have been set by OPA. Potato prices will be the same as for the 1943 crop except that for July there will be increases in the F.O.B. shipping point prices of 20 cents a hundredweight in Nebraska and 30 cents a hundredweight in Kansas, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia, states in which adverse weather caused decreased yield. Retail prices of 1944 sweet potatoes—with a national average of about 10 cents a pound over the 12 months—will be lower than for the 1943 crop, OPA says. Retail prices for the 1944 red sour cherries for table use or home canning will be about 18 cents a pound with stems and sold in containers and about 16 cents a pound without stems and sold in containers. The F.O.B. shipping point prices for these cherries in containers will be 11 cents a pound with stems and 9 and 3-4 cents a pound without stems. Sold in bulk without stems the price is two cents a pound less than the container prices. Highest prices for fresh peaches for table use should range from 14 1/2 to 16 cents a pound, OPA says, as these peaches are now under price control for the first time.

The Texan's share in this war is truly a big one. Of every 19 men in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, one is a native of the Lone Star State. Recent reports show approximately 650,000 Texans in the services.

Every dispatch from the fighting fronts reminds us that the descendants of the heroes of the Alamo are first-string scrappers. The recruiting officer who told the boys up north that they should "join the army and help Texas win the war" was not too far from the truth!

Here's the latest on some of the Texas fighting men:

Capt. John A. Paul of Kerrville is wearing a bronze star won in the hard fighting at Bougainville . . . Lt. Bill Hogan of Clarksville, now recovering from wounds has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism in wounding out an anti-tank gun crew . . . and the same medal has gone to Lt. Delbert C. Gates of Joinerville, with a citation which attests his "extraordinary heroism" in fighting off a Jap attack while armed only with an automatic rifle.

Lewis Schatz of Dobbin, who is back home for hospitalization after being twice wounded in Italy met his brother, Pfc. August Schatz, at Salerno. August is still in Italy chasing the retreating Nazis.

"Lucky boots" have carried Lt. E. W. Bridwell of Winters through 23 bombing missions over Europe. The high-heeled Texas footgear, first worn by Capt. L. A. Brumley of Del Rio, were passed

A. Widows of veterans are entitled to preference in civil service ratings.

Q. Is a soldier covered by National Service Life Insurance only while he is actually fighting?

A. The holder of a National Service Life Insurance policy is covered in all cases, whether he is fighting or not. The only exception is that no benefits will be paid if he is executed for a capital offense.

As to the size of war bonds you buy—the bigger the better to batter the enemy.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lamkin have returned from Longview, where they spent the past several weeks visiting in the home of their daughter.

One of the youngest generals in the Army is C. D. "Casey" Vincent, veteran fighter pilot. He's only 29, but strictly a Texas fighting man. His home is Gales.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lamkin have returned from Longview, where they spent the past several weeks visiting in the home of their daughter.

Re-elect

Geo. Mahon

to Congress

Congressman Mahon

- Occupies a key position in the war effort, being a member of a seven-man committee on Military Appropriations and is working for victory at the earliest possible moment and return of our boys to their homes.
- Advocates American participation in positive program to insure lasting peace.
- Is a strong supporter of the Pace Bill, which has passed the House requiring that all labor costs be included in fixing farm prices. The farmers of this District know him as a friend who has never failed them.
- He was original supporter of Rural Electrification Program, and is on committee for appropriations for this project. When he was elected to Congress, there was no REA; now there are 10,000 farm homes served by electric lines in this Congressional District. Plans are already made for immediate expansion of REA at end of war.
- Is strong supporter of Soil Conservation program, and is confident that, at end of the war, Soil Conservation districts will receive quota of surplus dirt moving machinery from Army.
- Stands for less regimentation of the people and abandonment of Government interference with private business after the war.
- Considers that strikes have hurt morale and the war effort more than any one thing, and his voice and vote have always been against wartime strikes and profiteers, and he is therefore on John L. Lewis' blacklist.

The friends of Judge Milburn Long unreservedly recommend him to the people of the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District. Judge Long served the 42nd District 17 years as District Judge. He has had a large docket and has tried many complicated cases. He has made a superb judicial record. As a judge he has always been fair, just and impartial.

He is a young man—51 years of age—in the full vigor of life. The responsibilities of the Appellate Court requires tireless energy. Judge Long has that energy. He has poise, learning and, above all that splendid common sense that it requires to make a success in any walk in life. An unreasonable delay of justice is in many instances a denial of justice. Judge Long, as a trial judge, has promptly and efficiently dispatched the business of his court, demonstrating his executive ability. He will do the same if selected on the Appellate Court.

We unhesitatingly and unreservedly recommend him to the voters of the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas as eminently qualified and fitted for this responsible position.

WEST SIDE SQUARE R. N. MORRIS, Owner HASKELL, TEXAS

Know Texas

A. Garland Adair, Commissioner Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission, Austin

Texas Memorial Museum on the U. of T. Campus at Austin displays exhibits that stimulate American patriotism. These emphasize that all of our wars have been for a common cause, the same purpose to liberate man. The Revolution of 1776 was to get the privileged class of England off the backs of the American Colonists who were redeeming this wilderness. The war of 1812 was to rescue American shores from oppression. The Mexican War was to liberate the settlers of Texas from the whimsy cruelty of Mexican War Lords. The Spanish War was to save the people of Cuba from the tyranny of the Spanish Government. Every time our army and navy and flying corps have gone forth it has been to clean up some filthy autocracy. But all of our wars have been but a preparation for our present task. We did not realize it. No man foresees his destiny, no nation foresees its mission. Yet the life of every nation, as of every man, is a plan of God. God has been piling up riches on this continent until we are the wealthiest nation in the world. He had been sharpening our inventive skill and our business ability. Our training has been intensive. Now God says: "America, you are come of age. All I have done for you is to prepare you for the present conflict, for your real work. Go forth and make the world a decent place to live in." At this time every son of America is called upon to do his utmost. The slacker is a traitor. We are sending men across the ocean, men who are physically and mentally the pick of the world, an incomparable army. But the men at home must back them up.

Haskell Officer Praised for His Devotion Duty

Praise for the devotion to duty and superb leadership of a Haskell officer, Lt. Marvin (Proch) Henshaw, who lost his life by drowning early in April on the Southwest Pacific war front, was contained in a letter received recently by the officer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henshaw of this city.

Col. H. T. Hoffman, Commanding Officer of the Fifth U. S. Cavalry in which the Haskell man served as a junior officer, wrote Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw in part as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Henshaw: With deep regret and profound sorrow, shared by all the officers and men of the regiment, I must inform you that Marvin was drowned on April 6, 1944.

"Throughout our campaign against the enemy his courage, devotion to duty and superb leadership won the affectionate esteem of all. His personal contribution to the achievement of this regiment were marked. He has become a part of the spirit and tradition of the regiment. So you see we do share your sorrow, and your tragic loss.

"Marvin was returning to our headquarters with a group of officers and enlisted men, when the accident occurred about half a mile off shore from one of the islands in this group. Unfortunately none of the bodies of the men could be recovered, although the area was searched diligently for several days. The words I know, can bring you but little consolation in your bereavement. No one could lose such a son without a feeling of terrible loss, and I wish you to know that we grieve with you and sympathize to the keenness of your loss. May God bless him and you and give you strength to bear this tragedy.

"May I suggest that you communicate directly with the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C. for information concerning the exact location of the accident and disposition of his personal effects, as security measures prevent me from informing you at this time.

Respectfully and humbly,"

H. T. HOFFMAN, Colonel, Cavalry Commanding.

Tractor Riding "Grandma" Praises War Bond League

Mrs. K. C. Henkle of Kenton, Ohio, does more than her share of war work. She and her husband run two farms at maximum production and with almost no outside help. In addition, Mrs. Henkle is chairman of her township for War Bond sales for the Red Cross and for the compiled scrap paper and grease collection campaign. She is also a writer and has composed poems for War Bond and Red Cross programs in the towns of WARREN, Madison, and WELLS, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Henkle, who has an Army son, a Navy son, and an Army son-in-law, enthusiastically endorses Mrs. George C. Marshall's appeal to grandmothers to buy Bonds for their grandchildren.

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3:

Because of necessary wartime restrictions with which we all are familiar, I take this method of soliciting your consideration and support in Saturday's Primary, and thank you for the encouragement given me in my race for Commissioner.

Your vote will be appreciated, and if elected I will appreciate the suggestions and cooperation of the people of Precinct No. 3.

Politicians may cloud issues because they may be lost in a fog themselves.

To the Citizens of Precinct No. 4:

My friends, I have not made a house-to-house campaign for re-election for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, due to the war. Therefore I wish to take this means to thank you for all past favors and to earnestly solicit your support in this campaign. Please take this as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence.

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. K. C. Henkle takes time buying Bonds for her five grandchildren ranging in age from 4 months to 14 years. "These Bonds," she says, "will help educate the children and set them up in business and farms ten happy years from now."

True humility is not an abject, groveling, self-deceiving spirit; it is but a right estimate of ourselves as God sees us.—Tryon Edwards.

World Trade and Employment

That leaders of business in the United States are fully awake to the part American industry must play in postwar employment, is made evident by the formation of the Committee on International Economic Policy, 18 Pine St., New York 5, N. Y. Fifty-four outstanding men in industrial, educational and religious groups at present compose the Committee which will seek "to further the serious and competent consideration of the issues which confront all the free peoples of the world and which imply their useful cooperation in reconstructing their economy after the victory of the United Nations."

To that end the Committee will welcome cooperation of organizations and individuals, and will be happy to receive the comments and suggestions which it hopes that the publication of a series of papers from its Advisory Committee on Economics may call forth.

The Committee seeks an exchange of views with other committees engaged in postwar studies, and states: "Employment is more than a national problem. It is an international question, the solution of which can be found only in expansion of world trade, and economic cooperation—the traffic must be two-way. Trade is a two-way street—a fair adjustment of trade barriers is essential to promote balanced trade development."

This is the kind of program in which we must interest ourselves if we hope to do our part in building a sound postwar foundation for industrial progress and employment

Let's Lead the Procession

Surveys are being made over the nation for the purpose of determining postwar demands for air express and air freight. When one looks at a map showing the design for America's worldwide air routes, the importance of such preparation and coordination of the facilities to be offered the public becomes self evident.

According to postwar plans now on paper, the United States expects that its international airlines will fly 140,000 miles, 60,000 of those miles over new routes. Where, before the war, passengers were the principal load, it is expected that air express and freight will add tremendously to the future cargo of the airlines.

Just as an example to illustrate the possibilities, air express handled through La Guardia field during May, averaged more than 1,000 shipments a day, a 27.8 per cent increase over May, 1943. For the five-month period, January to May, at the same airport, express shipments increased 23 per cent over 1943.

Fortunately, the United States, has express facilities in almost every hamlet, which, under a coordinated pick-up and delivery system, are rendering universal service that can be extended to meet any future air transport requirements.

As usual, private enterprise in our country is one step ahead of demand. We can never afford to be the tail-end of the procession in future air developments for either passenger or cargo shipments, as this war has so dramatically demonstrated.

Labor Editor Looks at Socialism

A publication of the Seattle Washington Local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers ably reviews the position of labor under government ownership. "Regardless of previous views we may have had on the subject of public ownership of electric utilities," says the editor, "the present trend toward government ownership and bureaucratic control of them should cause organized labor to take another look at the situation."

All of the privately owned light and power companies have entered into satisfactory agreements with organized labor and the relations between power companies and unions have been excellent, as witness that no strikes or controversies have occurred between them over a period of years. How has labor's interest been served when government and public agencies take over the power business? Here are a few samples:

"The Consumers Public Power District of Nebraska has refused to negotiate with the six operating I.B.E.W. unions representing the employees."

"Very recently, the Los Angeles Bureau of Water and Power, in a dispute with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, refused to negotiate with the union as a bargaining agency and a strike was precipitated."

"Down in Oregon, the Lincoln County PUD refused to deal with organized labor and the result was a strike of its linemen after there had been numerous resignations of employees dissatisfied with wage and working conditions."

"Members of labor unions should consider the fact that Federal agencies and municipal plants operate subdivisions of government and they cannot execute regular contracts with organized labor."

"In this connection, the statement of Mayor LaGuardia of New York City is of interest."

"As far as I am personally concerned, I do not recognize the right to strike of city employees. When they quit, they stay quit. You can't apply the same rule of labor regulations between an employer and employee in private industry to government."

With the experience of the electrical workers to go by, labor should think twice before selling out to the serfdom of socialism.

WOMAN'S PART IN NATIONAL LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4:10, 13-16. GOLDEN TEXT—Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?—Ezra 4:14.

Women of our day have unprecedented liberty of action and almost limitless opportunity to show their ability to meet responsibility and to accomplish great things. They are measuring up to that opportunity both in the armed services and in the multitude of tasks they are creditably carrying on in civilian life.

To those who seem surprised at their response to the nation's need, the church could well testify that women have always served well in those things which count most for God and country.

I. A Woman Can Rule (vv. 1-15). God has established an order in the world which places woman where she best fits—in the home. There, under the guidance and with the help of her husband, she exerts her most powerful influence in the rearing of children. That is her normal, most effective and most blessed position.

All too often conditions in the world are not normal, and woman, like man, is thrown out of the customary orbit of existence. Deborah faced such a day. Israel had sinned and been given over to the chastising hand of the Canaanite. Then God heard their repentant cry and was ready to send a deliverer—as He did in the case of each of the Judges. Apparently no man was ready to take up the responsibility, or willing to thus serve God, and so He called Deborah. She sat under her palm tree and Israel came to her for judgment.

She typifies many women who have been the leaders of their people, and her story has been an inspiration to women in the church. May many more be encouraged to take up the weighty problems of moral and social righteousness, which the men of our nation (and others) do not seem to care or dare to attack!

II. A Woman Can Lead (vv. 6-9). Barak was a man of ability. Deborah gave him full credit for his capable service (5:1, 12), but evidently he lacked that initiative which would send him into conflict with his people's enemies. Without Deborah he would not go (v. 8), under her leadership he was willing and courageous.

It is easy to ridicule Barak, and no doubt he deserves some measure of censure, but let us not be too severe on him. When the records are all in, it will be known that many of the feats of courage, the high and noble decisions, the victories in the fields of science and culture, and particularly those things that have been accomplished in and through the church, were the result of the leadership of some woman.

Many are the distinguished national and spiritual leaders who have said that all they were and had accomplished they owed to their mothers. Others speak with high appreciation of a noble and inspiring wife.

Think also of the many social and religious causes which have been largely carried on by determined and sacrificial women. Yes, a woman can lead, and often she must lead out to get the men to follow.

Not all the pursuits of life are lived out in peace or in preparation for war. The time comes when battle must be joined, and then we see that

III. A Woman Can Fight (vv. 13-18). True it is that it was Barak who led the army, but he went out at the word of Deborah. Hers was the responsibility for strategy, for the determining of that important D-day, when the blow must be struck.

The courage of women in the battles for country makes an inspiring story. Not the least of that courage has been shown by those who have quietly stood "by the stuff" at home, who have bravely parted with their cherished loved ones, who have borne the dark hours of loneliness, uncertainty and often of heart-piercing sorrow. They shall not be without their reward (see I Sam. 30:24).

This is the place to say a further word of appreciation of the women of the church who have fought such a valiant fight against liquor, social degradation, vice, evil politics, etc. "Hats off to them!" May they be encouraged to go on.

Then too, one ought to say a word of sad and earnest admonition to those countless women who have used their "freedom in our day" as a license to be wicked and ungodly lives. They do not have the courage to stand against the loose moral standards, the common acceptance of intoxicants, the immodest apparel of the day.

Christian women have the golden opportunity of setting a fine pattern of useful living now. Let them make the most of it, for the glory of God.

Managed Economy

Business took me to Indianapolis in the last week of May, just in time to witness another sickening fluke of manhandled economy. Dead hogs lay uncounted on the ground by the roadside in the sun, 100% loss to their owners, to the nation's wealth and to the world's food supply. It was a blunder, of course. Surely this time nobody will say, "We planned it this way."

It was two years ago that the government named an arbitrary price on fat hogs and guaranteed it for two years. The aim was for the people of the United States to have the right amount of pork at the right price. Obviously, price-fixing was only the first step. In order to get just the right amount of pork, the government rationed corn, which is essential in the growing of pork.

Feared Piggishness
 The next measure was to ration pork so just the right number of hogs would feed just the right number of people just the right number of days. It was assumed that smart bureaucrats knew precisely how many pounds of grain it took to produce a pound of pork, and could figure how many eaters there were and how much ham and bacon they ought to eat per family per day, or per county per degree Fahrenheit, or something.

If there is one reader of this column who lacks such knowledge, I want to offer some facts of life about hogs: Just ten months from the day a farmer consents to tolerate another family of pigs on his estate, he can be selling 250-pound, prime hogs. America is now in the third generation of swine since the government guaranteed the price. Apparently pig culture has become a national hobby.

Grown for Profit
 Now when pigs are right to eat, they are ready to sell, and the creaking timbers of America's bulging pig-pen had been heard in Washington for several weeks before the OPA lowered the bars, took ration points off pork and released the squealing deluge. Had the big-wigs figured right? No! Hog receipts at eleven main packing centers exceeded processing capacity. Result: embargo.

Indianapolis was only a sample. Hogs arrived too fast to kill. Packers quit bidding for them. Farmers with trucks full of hogs formed caravans on the roads. Traffic jammed. Lines waited and waited some more. Pigs died of thirst and hunger and were piled outside the stockyards. Then the green flies came. They didn't have to wait on the OPA—purely unofficial.

Weekly Health Letter

By Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Austin, Texas—"Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three months," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months."

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscopes. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness but in more severe cases the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one, or more, groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted."

"Flies, or other insects, while under suspicion, have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people that are healthy may be carriers of the germ. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack."

Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parents note any symptoms of illness in their children, the family doctor should be consulted at once."

ON CANNING FRUIT JUICES
 COLLEGE STATION. — Fruit juices may be canned safely without the use of sugar, however, adding it helps hold the color and flavor of the juice.

This assurance comes from Mrs. Walfred Levrens, specialist in food preservation for the Texas A. and M. If it is put up in bottles, a capper must be used. The specialist especially warns against sealing bottles with corks dipped in wax or paraffin, because this type of seal will not withstand processing.

Mrs. Laverenz advises only small batches firm fruit at a time. The secret of keeping natural flavor and color of fruit lies in heating to sterilize but not to lose the color and flavor.

Berries, red cherries are prepared for juicing in pits, crushing, straining through a cloth sugar as desired, about a cup of sugar for each of juice, depending on mes of the fruit. After is added, heat the juice simmering and pour into jars or bottles. Fill just to one-half inch of the top. Adjust the lids of caps on bottles. Process pint or quart jars or a boiling bath for 30 minutes.

As a part of the National Farm Safety Week Program, July 23-29, the Department of Agriculture offers some simple safety rules for women and girls doing farm work for the first time. In handling machinery — read and follow instructions stop machine for all adjustments and repairs; unhitch horses from machine before making adjustments; wear coveralls with no loose parts to catch in machine. Speak quietly to animals when going close to them. Wear gloves for rough work. When sun is hot, wear a broad-brimmed hat, dark glasses when needed and if skin is tender use skin lotion. To be sure you can do heavy work safely, get a medical check-up. Move a ladder often instead of stretching. In lifting, use knees and keep back straight. Cleanse slight cuts and scratches and cover with sterile material. Wear whole, clean stockings and well fitted shoes with low, level heels. Eat three well-planned meals each day. When perspiring freely use one-eighth to one-fourth teaspoonful of salt to each glass of drinking water. When hours are long and the work is hard, eat a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack.

MORE WORK CLOTHING—

More civilian work clothing for men and boys is indicated by a War Production Board order requiring manufacturers of work clothing to produce during each quarter beginning July 1 at least 90 per cent of the number of garments manufactured during the third quarter of 1942. A call for qualified nurses to work in Veteran Administration Hospitals to help provide adequate care of disabled veterans has been issued by the Veterans Administration. Hospitals are classified in three groups—General Medical and Surgical, Tuberculosis and Neuro-Psychiatric. Nurses work an eight-hour day, six days per week, with rotating shifts and additional compensation for overtime. Living accommodations may be obtained at the hospitals. Interested graduate nurses from recognized schools who are registered should write to Medical Director, Veterans Administration, Washington, 25, D. C. MAKE CHAIN FOR FARM USE

To provide necessary chain for farm uses, the WPB has issued instructions to chain manufacturers on filling orders for supplies and dealers serving the farm trade. Chain that the WPB expects to keep available includes harness chain, wagon chain, cow ties, tie outs, halter chain, log chain under one-half inch and repair and lap links.

CALLS FOR SHIPYARD WORKERS—

Fifty thousand additional shipyard workers are needed to meet the ship construction needs for European and Far Eastern operations, Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, Chairman of the United States Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administrator, announced. "Every man or woman who is able to work in a shipyard, and not at present employed in essential war work, should report at once to the nearest United States Employment Service office for enrollment in this most essential work," he said.

ROUND-UP—

USDA says—in all states farmers who need lumber for essential maintenance and repairs on farms may get preference ratings AA-2 or AA-3, as high as those assigned to any other civilian use. Civilian butter supplies for the last half of this year will be shorter than for the first half, inasmuch as production during the next six months is expected to be lower than during the corresponding months last year and purchases for the armed forces are behind schedule. OPA says—because sheepherders living for long periods in isolated areas eat large quantities of cereal foods and need more sugar than regular rations provide, they may get supplemental rations of one and one-half pounds a month. Sales of major canned fruits and vegetables by home packers whose output in any calendar year does not exceed a specified amount — 500 to 1,500 quarts—are exempt from price control.

Mrs. Fred Gilliam and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Watson and children spent the week end in Abilene, guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leta Smith.

The people who purchase enough war bonds will be able to retire in old age instead of just get up.

MILLION 4-H'ERS WILL TAKE PART IN NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK JULY 23

One million 4-H Club boys and girls throughout the United States will do their part in the observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 23 to 29, to help "Save Manpower for Warpower." This will be the second year that 4-H'ers have participated in a nationwide safety program to impress farm people with the vital need of preventing accidents on farms that result in 18,000 deaths and 1 1-2 million persons injured annually. Last year more than 400,000 club members in 31 states enrolled in the National 4-H

Farm Safety Activity, and made a very creditable showing. Members in 44 States are enrolled in the activity this year.

As outstanding achievement incentives in this year's 4-H Farm Safety Activity, William G. Merriam, of Newark, N. J., is providing roundly $10,000 worth of honor medals. U. S. War Savings Bonds, National 4-H Club Congress trips and college scholarships as awards respectively to county, state, sectional and national winners. In addition, the county in each state reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in 1944 will receive a special plaque designating the honor.
