These FFA and 4-H exhibitors compete in one of two divisions of the Houston Livestock Show-the junior show division. The other division, the open show, attracts its exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry, who are primarily professional breeders and ranchers.

Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston Livestock Show the world's largest. Those representing Bailey county are: LeAnn Altman, market lamb and market barrow; Lindsay Altman, market lamb and market barrow; Ben Angeley, market barrow; Buck Angeley, market barrow; Katie Black, market steer and market barrow; Lysnie Black, market steer and market barrow; Jacen Claunch, market barrow; Dustin Cleavinger, market barrow; John Bryan Cowart, beef scramble, heifer and market barrow; Robin Cowart, market barrow; Brandi Harrison, market barrow; Krystal Heathington, market steer and market barrow; and Myndi Heathington, market steer and market barrow.

A total of 12 market steers, one beef heifer, two market lambs, 29 market barrows and one beef scramble will be shown in the show from Bailey County.

Representing 862 Texas 4-H clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 11,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories (steers, sheep, swine and poultry) represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1992, at the four junior show auctions exceeded $3 million.

"Our junior show is the highlight of our livestock show, placing an emphasis on education, supervised instruction and fair competition," said Steve Woodley.

Houston Livestock Show and rodeo manager.

In addition to the upcoming livestock show competition, a series of lectures, seminars and live animal demonstrations again will be on the calendar for the month of February--the International Livestock Congress. Held Feb. 24-26, at the Sheraton Astrodomo Hotel, this school focuses on lectures and seminars delivered by agricultural experts from throughout the world.

Returning to the horse show arena is the International Cutting Horse Contest, featuring competitors from several nations. This contest helps kick off the upcoming Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo beginning Wednesday, Feb. 17. The National Cutting Horse Association World's Championship Finals is scheduled for Thursday-Sunday, Feb. 18-21. The 1993 Horse Show also will feature competition from six different breeds.

Bar-b-que cooking fans can enjoy the World's Championship Bar-B-Que Contest beginning Friday, Feb. 19, at 4 p.m. in the northwest corner of the Astrodomo parking lot and the contest continues through Saturday, Feb. 20.

Also on Feb. 20, the streets of downtown Houston will fill with hundreds of thousands of spectators for the 55th annual downtown rodeo parade. The parade, featuring more than 6,000 trailriders, marching bands and colorful floats, will begin following the Conoco 10K Rodeo Run.

Starting at 9:45 a.m. downtown, this year's race is expected to draw 4,500 to 5,000 runners. All entry fees will be donated to the Show's scholarship fund. A total of $278,000 in entry fees has been donated to the Show by Conoco since the race's inception in 1988.

the ground water stored in the Ogallala Formation. We will follow through to see that they are properly closed. Two-thirds of the county has been completed," says Engineer Technician Glenn Blackmon.

Open holes and cave-ins are a direct route to the ground water supply for chemicals and other contaminants. In addition, they are a potential death trap for both people and animals.

Since the creation of the Water District in 1951, there have been two cases in which children fell into open water wells. Luckily, both were rescued unharmed.

"We certainly do not want an accident of this type happening again in the District," says Blackmon.

CofC Officers, Directors Installed At Breakfast

A large crowd gathered at the Bailey County Civic Center Thursday morning for the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Annual Appreciation Breakfast.

Mayor Robert Montgomery installed the new chamber officers and directors: Charles Bratcher, president; Mark Morton, vice president; Pat Prater, treasurer; and new board members: Pat Prater, Bill Moore, Lavon Hunt, and Mark Morton.

Working along with these new officers in the coming year will be past president Mike Mc

Dearmon, and directors, Kid Castleberry, Randy Lewis, David Tipps, Mike Dale, and Richard Edwards.

Following the meal, R.A. Bradley gave the invocation and Kid Castleberry led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mike McDearmon welcomed everyone to the breakfast and stated that he had enjoyed the year as president of the chamber. "We had an exciting time, 'The Biggest Little Banquet in Texas' and we have another banquet scheduled for March 26 with Rick Perry scheduled to speak. Muleshoe is a warm, loving community."

Jack Wilson, manager of the chamber, also welcomed everyone to the breakfast and read two articles, "City" and "Great Mans Words", that he felt were fitting for Muleshoe.

Mark Morton recognized the new officers and directors as well as the retiring directors. Those retiring are Curtis Carpenter, Cliff Black, Pat Young, Robert Montgomery, and George Nieman.

Incoming president Charles Bratcher stated that McDearmon had been good for the chamber and Muleshoe. He also thanked the members for the opportunity to serve the coming year as president.

Door prizes donated by Fry & Cox, Higginbotham-Bartlett, Main Street Beauty Shop, Perry's, Poyner's Home & Auto, Williams Brothers Office Supply, Wilson Appliance and Bratcher Motor Supply were given to those registered.

Arson Blamed In Fire Of John's Custom Mill

Arsonist may have set John's Custom Mill back, but they didn't put them out of business. Mark Winters told the Journal Wednesday afternoon that he will remain open and that business will go on as usual. Winters has made arrangements for grinding to be done at another location for the time being.

Winters stated that he plans to rebuild the mill at the same location, but it will take a little time. According to Winters, they managed to salvage some of the equipment.

"It may be a little inconvenient for some of our customers, while we are in the process of cleaning up the rummage, but we are getting it cleaned up and the city is providing us with a truck to aid in the process," Winters said.

In speaking of the fire that destroyed the mill last Saturday night, Winters said, "The State Hot Line For Arson is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) who were responsible for the fire. The Hot Line For Arson is sponsored by the Texas Commission For Fire Protection, National Insurance Crime Bureau and Texas Advisory Council on Arson.

If you have any information on this or any other suspicious fire the number to call is 1-800-835-6422 or the Muleshoe Police Department at 272-4569.

The fire at John's Custom Mill is still under investigation.

Dr. Orby Butcher Gives Program On Thailand

"Tiland is about the size of Texas and in 1960, had a population of 28 million people," Dr. Orby Butcher said, while speaking to the Rotary Club at noon Tuesday. "By the year of 2000 they expect to have a population of 60 million people."

"They have a government similar to England. Although the King has no real power, he spends much of his time trying to improve their lifestyle. Their economy is primarily agriculture," Butcher continued.

Butcher told a little about his work as a missionary in Thailand. When he first arrived in Tiland they didn't have a hospital. They started out with a clinic. In 1964, they built a 25 bed hospital. In 1980, they abandoned the mobile clinics, they didn't feel the need for them at that time. "They had two Medical Schools, but no modern hospitals," Butcher said. "In Thailand they have Socialized Medicine. You go to the hospital, they give you aspirin and tell you to go lie down."

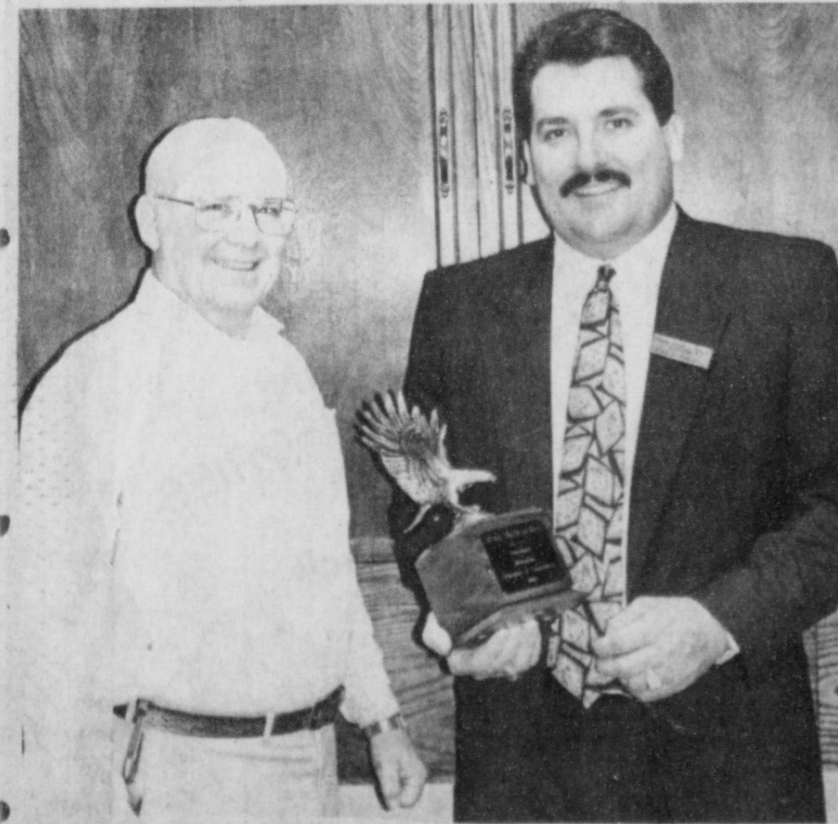

"Disposable items are used over and over again to help keep the cost down. We even used nylon fish lines to sew up wounds. You can sew up a lot of wounds out of a roll of fish line."

Dr. Butcher was introduced by Sam Harlan. Jay Messenger was in charge of the program.

David Tipps called the Rotary meeting to order. Following a song

SIGNING PROCLAMATION---Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox signed a proclamation Thursday afternoon proclaiming the week of Feb. 8-12 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week," as Donald Puckett, left, and J.L. Dale look on.

Judge Proclaims 'Farm Bureau Membership Week'

Bailey County Judge Marilyn Cox signed a proclamation Thursday afternoon, designating February 8-12 as "Farm Bureau Membership Week" in Bailey County.

The week is part of a statewide observance during which county Farm Bureaus will make a special effort to enroll new members, according to Don Puckett of Muleshoe, president of the Bailey County Farm Bureau.

J.L. Dale also of Muleshoe is chairman of the membership committee which is responsible for membership acquisition and maintenance.

"The Texas Farm Bureau, with more than 296,000 member families, is influential in both state and national affairs on behalf of agriculture," the proclamation reads.

"Farm Bureau is a grass-roots organization. Its foundation is the county unit. There are 211 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state including the Bailey County Farm Bureau," the proclamation states.

Puckett said the local county Farm Bureau has 803 member families and is seeking to exceed that figure in 1993.

He said that the Farm Bureau is a general farm organization that seeks to improve income and living conditions of farm and ranch families. It represents the farmer and rancher at the local county courthouse, in Austin, and in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C.

Naming a Horse

NEW YORK (AP) — Naming a race horse is no willy-nilly assignment, even if you wish to name him Willy-Nilly.

All names must be approved by the Jockey Club in New York, names cannot be more than 18 letters, counting spaces and punctuation marks.

Names of great horses are not allowed to be duplicated and neither can a lesser horse for at least 10 years.

All names in poor taste are prohibited and so are blatantly commercial titles.

AAUW is dedicated to promoting equity in education and providing informative programs for its members. The local branch of AAUW meets at 7:00 p.m. the first Monday of each month. (during school months) and welcomes any new member who is a graduate of an accredited university. This organization also offers a scholarship to a deserving young college student each year.

AAUW in the Muleshoe area began a tradition several years ago of honoring deserving young senior girls for their achievements in academia and service. Each month, an outstanding young lady is chosen from the Muleshoe High School Senior Class as "Girl of the Month", and twice a year, a Senior girl from the Lazbuddie Senior Class is chosen as either the "Fall" or "Spring" outstanding young girl.

These young ladies are chosen for their contributions to school, church, and community as well as for academic excellence. The members of AAUW are very proud to be able to recognize these wonderful girls and further honor them with a dinner party in the month of May.

The Muleshoe branch of the American Association of University Women is pleased to announce this year's February girl of the month, Sonya Cisneros.

Sonya is the daughter of Paul and Tina Cisneros of Muleshoe.

TWU Helps Young Moms Get Educated

Kids, even if they are still in diapers, are welcome at Texas Woman's University if they're accompanied by a mother who is a single parent.

Not only does TWU urge students who are single mothers to bring their children with them to the campus, but the school also houses them in a special dormitory. At last count, the red brick, two story Mary Hufford Hall had 43 adults (mostly single moms) and 54 children in residence.

The program at the Denton school is believed to be the only one of its kind on any U.S. campus.

Credit President Shirley Chater with the idea. The former vice-chancellor of the University of California-San Francisco came to TWU more than six years ago. One of her first acts was to visit a dorm that had been converted into "family" housing.

Primarily a university for women, TWU's "Family" housing translates into a residence for single mothers with children. While most of the mothers were grateful to be housed with their tots in an aging dormitory that had been converted into tiny two bedroom apartments, Dr. Chater wasn't satisfied.

Providing housing for married students is common practice at most large colleges and universities. However, the idea of offering separate special living quarters for single mothers is an innovation. Not many years ago, a single mom with even one child likely would have been counseled to "Go home and raise your family"! At best, she would have been advised to leave the child with a grandparent or in a day care facility.

Dr. Chater, who is both a mother of two and a visionary, wanted to change this. She recalls that when she was an undergraduate at the University of California at Berkeley, she startled professors and classmates by bringing her daughter to class. The baby slept in a basket at the back of the room during the lecture! This experience convinced her that every woman, including single mothers, should have a chance to earn a college degree without giving up the pleasures of motherhood.

Providing a homey atmosphere on a campus with more than 7,000 students hasn't been easy. Texas law requires that campus housing and food services must charge enough to pay all costs. This often poses a problem for single mothers on a tight budget.

Dr. Chater scrounged funds to convert some of the tiny two bedroom apartments into one-room family units. With a $40,000 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, she converted four other apartments and remodeled part of a dorm known as the "Clubhouse".

Volunteers from TWU faculty, staff and students provide daily supervision for children from 3 to 6 p.m. This frees the mothers for study, additional courses and even part-time employment. The volunteers also read and play games with the children, take them swimming in the university pool or on field trips in the area.

Remodeling included a study booth with one-way glass so mothers can work on their computers while watching the children at play.

School-age children aren't neglected, either. Dr. Chater has arranged for the Denton school district to provide bus service door-to-door to local public schools. Younger children go to the TWU Child Development Center near their home.

No family goes hungry either. The facility maintains a central pantry where families can borrow food without asking. They're asked to pay it back if and when they can, but nothing is said about it if they don't.

Dr. Chater hopes that the grant from the Kellogg Foundation will attract additional support for her effort. Since it costs about $12,000 to convert an apartment into a family unit, it will take awhile before Mary Hufford Hall becomes the campus home away from home that she wants it to be. One day she hopes to have another nearby dorm converted for the same purpose.

The TWU president is out to convince businesses that programs like hers are an investment that will return dividends to the state in hard dollars. Today almost one of every four households in Texas is headed by a single mother, many of whom can't hold a job because of their lack of education.

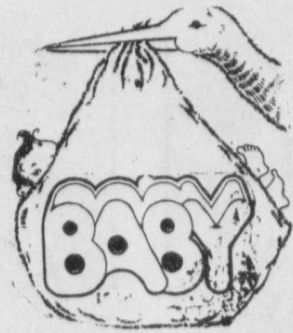

She hopes she can conceive foundations and employers that providing scholarships, subsidizing housing and funding programs for these women will have a noticeable impact on the economy.

"Employers should care about mothers because they make a contribution to the immediate work force," Dr. Chater says. "(A job) will get them off of welfare and poverty rolls where they might remain if they don't have an education."

She hopes the Legislatures will help, too. Two years ago, TWU asked for funding to provide scholarships and other needs of the program. The request was rejected because of budget constraints. However, Dr. Chater doesn't give up easily and she will be back again this legislative session. Meanwhile, she will make do.

"The transformation of these women from year one to year two is really wonderful," she says. "It's what makes my life worthwhile."

Those perfectly contented with themselves are blinded by self-satis faction.

ENMU Hosts Science Fair

Eastern New Mexico University will host its annual science fair Saturday, Feb. 27 from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. The fair hosts 6th through 12th graders from the Southwestern region along with their parents and teachers in Greyhound Arena where their science projects will be displayed.

This annual event, which has been sponsored by Eastern since 1987, has many possible opportunities such as recruitment for certain colleges or departments. Roosevelt Hall and the science building will be having an open house for those students demonstrating in the laser lab or with the Scanning Electron Microscope. The museums on campus will also be open to the public.

In the past, groups, organizations and professional societies have offered certificates, posters, magazine subscriptions, cash, books, plaques, calculators etc. Awards are a wonderful way of showing support and awarding outstanding achievement.

As with most events, participation and support are mandatory in making them a success. If anyone is interested in sponsoring an award for any students or volunteering time as a judge or host/hostess you may do so by writing to Rosemary Mathews at the Science Fair Office, P.O. Box 2288 ENMU, Portales, NM 88130 or calling 562-2309.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS

CAN LOWER THE PROPERTY TAXES ON YOUR HOME

A Homestead Exemption

lowers the property taxes on your home by lowering its taxable value. For example, if your home is valued at $50,000 and you receive a $5,000 homestead exemption, your home will be taxed as if it were worth only $45,000.

You Qualify

for a homestead exemption if you owned your home on January 1 and used it as your primary residence on January 1. It doesn't matter whether your home is a house, a condominium or a mobile home.

Exemptions are available to all homeowners on their school taxes. Additional exemptions are available to homeowners who are disabled or age 65 or over. Other exemptions may be offered to homeowners by school districts, counties, cities, and special dis-tricts. All taxing units offer exemptions to disabled veterans.

Apply to your local appraisal district office at the address shown below for all exemptions you may qualify for. Application forms are available at this address.

If you received a homestead exemption on your present home in 1992 you won't need to apply again in 1993 unless the chief appraiser requires you to reapply.

However, if you passed your 65th birthday or became disabled before January 1, file a new application to receive additional exemptions.

If you haven't received an exemption on your present home, or if you moved to a new home, make a new application for 1993.

The Deadline

for applications is April 30, 1993. Contact your appraisal district before then if you need more time.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Taxpayer's Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Energas Customers Offered Direct Stock Purchase Plan

Atmos Energy Corporation (NYSE: ATO), which provides natural gas service locally through Energas Company today reported that its Direct Stock Purchase Plan has enjoyed a high degree of success since its introduction in August 1992. The company received over 16,000 requests for information, of which about 12 percent have joined the Direct Stock Purchase Plan. Information concerning enrollment in the plan will be sent to all Energas customers in their February 1993, gas bills.

"The Atmos Direct Stock Purchase plan offers an easy and affordable program for Energas customers and others to become shareholders through direct purchases of common stock without brokerage fees," said Charles K. Vaughn, Atmos chairman, president and chief executive officer.

"We believe that customers and residents of our service areas make good owners of the company since we share a natural interest in the benefits of having reliable, dependable natural gas service," said Energas President Eugene Ehler.

Atmos, which operates in Texas, Louisiana and Kentucky, was the first public utility in those states to offer a direct stock purchase plan. A variety of features and options allows investors to tailor the plan to specific investment needs.

The minimum initial investment is $200, and investors can purchase stock as often as monthly with optional cash payments of $25 or more. The annual maximum investment is $60,000.

The Atmos plan also provides a three percent discount on the price of shares purchased with reinvested dividends. Investors can choose to have automatic reinvestment of all or part of the dividends paid on shares registered in their name and on all shares held in the plan. The current indicated annual dividend is $1.28 per share.

An individual retirement account (IRA) can be established or an existing IRA rolled over with the plan, and an investor can make transfers or gifts of Atmos stock to another person or charity through the plan.

A prospectus offering participation in the plan and enrollment forms are available from the company. This is not an offer to sell nor a solicitation to buy securities. The offering will be made only by prospectus. For information, call the company toll-free at 1-800-38-ATMOS, or write

"Most landowners are very cooperative and usually have the problem corrected when we re-inspect the site in about 60 days," says Blackmon.

Similar "drive-outs" have been conducted in Hockley and Cochran Counties. Blackmon located 275 open holes in Hockley County and 59 in Cochran County. He adds that complete drive-outs of all of the 15 counties within the District service area will eventually be done.

For more information or to report an open hole or cave-in, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405-1499 or call (806) 762-0181.

HIV is Tenth in Texas, Ninth in U.S. On Lists Of Leading Causes Of Death

For the second year in a row, infection by the human immune deficiency virus (HIV) which causes AIDS was the tenth leading cause of death in the state during 1991. According to the Texas Department of Health's (TDH) Bureau of Vital Statistics, 2,065 persons, or about 12 per 100,000 population died from HIV infection or its complications.

Also, national estimates indicate that HIV jumped from eleventh place in the nation's leading causes of death in 1990 to ninth place in 1991.

Tom Pollard, director of the bureau's Statistical Services Division, said that although the proportion of deaths attributed to HIV shows steady growth, four other causes of death still comprise more than 60 percent of all deaths, both in Texas and in the nation.

"Heart disease has for years led the list, claiming 39,215 in Texas last year," Pollard said. He explained, "That was a slight reduction from 39,443 heart fatalities in 1990."

Deaths from cancer, ranking second most numerous, increased from 28,483 in 1990 to 28,960 in 1991. Similarly, third-ranked cerebrovascular disease claimed 8,399 in 1991, compared to 8,388 in 1990. However, third-ranked "accidents and adverse effects" resulted in 6,091 deaths in 1991, a reduction from 6,225 in 1990.

Other leading causes of death in Texas last year were: (fifth) chronic lung disease, claiming 5,313 lives; (sixth) pneumonia and influenza, 3,709; (seventh) diabetes mellitus, 3,593; (eighth) homicide, 2,720; and (ninth) suicide, 2,161.

You Can Attend College Free!

Most parents and students think that scholarships are only for the students with good grades, low-income families, or the athletically inclined. A small example of the numerous scholarships available to students include: Left-Handed Student Scholarships, David Letterman's Scholarship for 'C' Students, Veterans children's Scholarships, Scholarships for minorities and much much more!

The general public is not aware that over $10 billion is available to students from private sector scholarships. Over $20.4 billion from the federal government. In a U.S. Congressional study, it was reported that, "Over $6.6 billion of private sector financial aid went unused because parents and students did not know where to apply." A conservative college tuition for a full-time student runs from $10,000-$30,000. High scoring colleges run from $40,000-$100,000- and this tuition is per year.

There are organizations that have spent hundreds of hours in research, locating scholarship sources. These organizations are AEE (American Educational Excellence) members and have a list of over 400 different scholarships available. The lists include the scholarship names, addresses, telephone numbers, application deadlines, summaries about the scholarships and the amount the scholarships will pay your child.

Many scholarships pay the entire tuition; otherwise, students combine applicable scholarships together to form one large tuition payment. Most scholarships include junior colleges, career & vocational schools, 4 year colleges, graduate schools and medical and law schools.

For information on obtaining these scholarship lists, send a S.A.S.E. to: The U.S. Channel of Commerce For Higher Education P.O. Box 1161, Hanford, CA 93232.

Three Way News

by Mrs. H.W. Garvin

Mrs. Jack Lane and Mrs. Obie Standard visited her mother Mrs. Quesenberry in Mulleshoe Thursday.

The Three Way Baptist Church are having a World Conference each evening ending Wednesday. Missionary Andrew Biggersery from Lovington spoke Sunday morning. He is from an Indian Reservation in New Mexico. The Three Way people had lunch. Jack Smallwood from Farwell spoke Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lane and children and Mr. and Mrs. Obie Standard from Three Way were in Clovis Saturday to help the Rodger Hatcher's move.

"Only the rankings for the last three causes on the list varied from the order of the nationwide list," Pollard said. "Nationally, homicide ranks tenth, after suicide and HIV infection."

Pollard said that the Texas list differs from the national list in part because the rates-numbers of cases per 100,000 population--reflect a more youthful population in Texas.

For example, heart disease, cancer and cerebrovascular disease--most commonly identified with older people--occurred at lower rates in Texas than nationwide. At the same time, violent deaths--commonly occurring among young people--from accidents, homicide and suicide occurred at high rates in Texas than nationwide.

Brochure Provides Road Map To Preparing 1992 Tax Return

A free brochure designed to serve as a tax-preparation road map is now available from the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants (TSCPA). By pointing out how you can organize and document your income and deductions, and by plotting some basic tax-saving tips, this guide should help you lighten your 1992 tax burden.

The brochure, Lighten Your Tax Burden, A CPA's Tax-Preparation Guide for Individuals, is produced by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA). It offers tips on the type of records to review, how to make the most of your filing status, determining whether or not to itemize, how to maximize your deductions and more.

"Tax laws change so frequently and are so complex, it's difficult for an individual to keep up with it all," says Mason Backus, TSCPA president and San Angelo CPA. "This guide has been prepared by CPAs to help taxpayers make heads or tails of tax laws and forms in order to lower their tax liability."

TSCPA is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting professionalism among CPAs and influencing excellence in education throughout the state. Headquartered in Dallas, the 30,000-member Society has the largest in-state membership in the nation.

Texas taxpayers are using this brochure to save on their federal taxes. To order your free copy, call the Texas Society of CPAs Taxline at 214/689-6000, ext. 829 or T-A-X.

A New Beginning

A scene like this says: It's dawn--time for a new beginning, a fresh start.

The calendar says: It's January 1, New Year's Day--time for a new beginning, a fresh start.

That's what the churches in our community offer; that's what they specialize in--new beginnings, fresh starts. Many people have found a new beginning for their life in some church in our town--forgiveness, a new sense of direction, different goals, inspiration and strength to do a better job from day to day. Many people find it worthwhile to make a new beginning at the start of every week--in worship, prayer, and praise every Sunday at church.

Why not start this New Year in church? Why not plan to get the spiritual strength available with a "fresh start" every week by attending church regularly this year? You will find a warm welcome awaiting you and the opportunity for a new beginning in the church of your choice.

"Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (11 Corinthians 5:17)

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond in that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long preserve and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny: the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

News From Congressman Larry Combest

Each U.S. president swears an oath similar to those in the armed forces to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States. It is an honor and a privilege to serve our country through duty in the armed forces. Even more so, a president has an exceptional duty to the military as their Commander-in-Chief.

In the current firestorm over the president's moves to lift the ban on openly homosexual members of the military, he has inexplicably failed to heed the advice of his generals and the rank-and-file who indeed have the most to say about a fundamental change in their living and working conditions. I strongly oppose lifting the ban on homosexuals and if the president persists, Congress will step in. Military order and discipline within the ranks are vital issues. However, Clinton's spokesman told reporters at a White House press briefing, "I think we'll be able to sell it."

In the period right before Clinton took office, his transition team had extensive consultations—with everyone apparently, except the military. Only after a week in office, did his new Defense Secretary Les Aspin meet with the Joint Chiefs of Staff. A few days later, the president joined the meetings.

Secretary of Defense Aspin has urged the president to delay his Executive Order, "to avoid an immediate debate in the Congress...that is likely to be against this position." Clinton's administration cannot, however, escape the national debate.

Too often I am hearing the excuse that gays have already been serving in the military. That excuse misses the point. Certainly, there have been homosexual members of the U.S. military. Only now has it become an issue that Mr. Clinton wants to pursue. The effectiveness of a fighting force rests on order and discipline which, in the hard realities of battle, are absolute. President Clinton proposes a distraction at a time when the military is pressured with new missions and even deeper budget cuts.

Some advocates of lifting the ban chide the rest of us with sarcastic comments that we are paranoid about "Gay Pride" marches on base. However, I share the Joint Chiefs' additional concerns that without the military ban on homosexuality, how could the armed forces legally deny spousal benefits and requests for same-sex marriages by homosexual members of the U.S. military.

Bill Clinton as president has now had to face the tough realities of the many promises he made last year. Although he sat down with the Joint Chiefs of Staff to say he wanted to hear their concerns, one might seriously wonder how the new president will possibly meet their objections while still insisting that he will meet the promise made to part of his constituency.
