Haskell Schools Will Begin New Term Monday Morning, Sept. 3

Haskell public schools will begin their 1951-52 school year Monday, Sept. 3, Superintendent S. H. Vaughter announced today. Registration for high school students will begin at 9 a. m. Friday, Aug. 31. Grade school students are to report Monday.

A general teachers meeting will be held in the high school building Saturday morning, Sept. 1.

Thirty-three teachers have been named to fill the necessary positions during the coming school year while three others are still vacant. However, Supt. Vaughter said they will be filled before Sept. 4. They are still in need of a grade school teacher, a grade school principal, and a junior coach.

Supt. Vaughter said the school lunch room will be open on the initial day and lunches will be served. The same prices will be charged that were charged last year, 20 cents for students in the first five grades and 25 cents for students in grades above the 5th grade.

Also, Supt. Vaughter said that the buses would run on the opening day. He explained that they would make the same routes at the same time as they did last year.

The usual improvements have been made around each of the public school buildings during the summer. A new field house has been built and the old one has been recon-ditioned, Supt. Vaughter stated.

A new band house was completed at the end of the last fiscal year and is ready for use this year. Supt. Vaughter said that enough furniture had been purchased and installed to furnish four class rooms. The new furniture was placed in two of the grade school rooms and two in the high school. Supt. Vaughter added, "By the beginning of school, the bermuda grass around the new grade school building will completely cover the playground."

Also, several improvements have been made on the Negro school building and they have added the first two grades in high school to their curriculum along with another teacher which enlarges it to a four-teacher school.

The most important physical improvement to the Negro school was that of connecting it to the

Of Haydite block construction and modern design, the station is one of the most attractive in the city, and will offer complete one-stop service, Howard said. A washing and greasing rack is included in the station facilities. A complete line of Mobil products and accessories will be handled.

Howard will be assisted by Billy Davis as station attendant. Herman Whitaker, colored, will take care of wash and grease jobs.

Teachers have been chosen for the coming term, and they will report for duty on Saturday, August 25.

Howard also said that the school would operate on a 6-6-6 term. Under this plan, the school would include the six grades, from primary to sixth. The seventh grade would be included in the school schedule or brackets, according to Supt. Horton, 14 of the best schools in the state are in the Wainert district.

Halie Chapman, C-C president, announced that no successor to Duncan would be named immediately. However, he stated definitely that the C of C office would be maintained on active basis to serve the community and trade territory. Miss Grace Robison, office secretary, will be retained in that capacity, Chapman said.

"Civil Defense May Mean Survival," Speaker Declares In Talk To Lions

"Civil defense may mean the survival of our country in the event of World War III," members of the Haskell Lions Club were told at their regular meeting Tuesday by French M. Robertson, Abilene oilman and Southwest Regional Director of Civil Defense.

The Abilene man, former Haskell County Attorney and resident here many years, was appointed in January as Regional Director of Civil Defense in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas. His office is in Dallas, where he has direct contact with State directors in the capitals of the four states.

Purpose of Civil Defense is to so organize the people that they may be able to defend the home front in case of war. People remote from important cities and industrial areas must have the "know how" to help in those areas, Robertson explained.

Program for the day was in charge of Leon John Crawford, who presented the guest speaker.

Visitors at the meeting included Sam Wilson of Fort Worth, Rev. Tommie Lewis of Weimert, and Gerald Simmons of this city.

duction were the major factors which enabled us to win the last war, the speaker pointed out.

"We know that the policy of Russia is to dominate the world in any way possible," he continued. "We also know that we have a vast superiority over Russia in atomic weapons which keeps Russia from advancing," he said in reminding that America must continue alert against the ever-present threat of war.

Robertson explained that the Civil Defense Administration was organized late in 1950. The United States is divided into eight areas, which in turn are divided into States, which are zoned into districts down to the county and community levels.

"We find our country and our world in a terrible way, and the church is the only power under God, that will save us. Let the members of this church know that the time has long since passed when it can ignore the call of God and the duties of the church membership.

"For the next two months, this church is called to prayer and to work. We know you will count it a privilege to have a part in this great campaign for God."

General Rains Over County Brighten Cotton Prospects

Mrs. C. R. Cook's Father Dies In Dallas Aug. 13

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Kerens, Texas, last week for M. F. Hammett of Dallas, father of Mrs. C. R. Cook of this city.

Burial was in the Kerens Cemetery.

Mr. Hammett died August 13, in Dallas. He was a former resident of Haskell, having lived here for several years.

He is survived by eight children, seven grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Beneficial rains ranging from light showers to heavy downpours were general over most of Haskell County and a wide area of West Texas Tuesday and Wednesday, brightening prospects for the 1951 cotton crop that had deteriorated rapidly during the past two weeks of excessive summer heat.

Cooler weather accompanying the rains was welcomed by cotton farmers as beneficial to cotton, even in areas where little moisture was received.

Heaviest rainfall came Tuesday afternoon and night, when a total precipitation was measured at 1.37 inch here, most of the moisture falling Tuesday night. In the area northwest of Haskell, farmers estimated the heavy downpour brought 2 and 3 inches in some sections. Rochester gauged 1.45 inches, while in Rule the rain measured .80 of an inch.

In the immediate vicinity of Weimert moisture ranging upward from one-fourth inch was reported, while in the Matson community to the east some farmers estimated 1.50 inches and more. Sagerton received an estimated one-half inch of rain, while the area south of Sagerton was drenched with more than an inch of moisture. In the Paint Creek area southeast of Haskell, light showers were reported Tuesday.

East of Haskell light to heavy rains were reported which ranged upward to 2 inches on some parts of the Coody Ranch.

County Agent F. W. Martin said that this week's moisture and accompanying cooler temperatures would be of immeasurable benefit to the county's estimated 260,000 acres planted in cotton. However, he added that insects could be expected to present an increasing threat to new cotton growth, particularly fleahoppers.

County's First Bale '51 Cotton Ginned Here For Rule Farmer

Haskell County's first bale of cotton from the 1951 crop was brought to the Duncan Gin in this city Monday, by Lee Weldon Norman, from his farm six miles south of Rule.

This year's first bale was received three days earlier than the first from the 1950 crop. Haskell County's first bale last year was ginned on August 23.

The bale ginned here Monday for the Rule farmer was gathered from 25 acres of a 50-acre patch on Norman's farm which was planted in April. The 555-pound bale was ginned from 2,580 pounds of pulled cotton, ginners reported.

The cotton was classed as rough middling, with 29-32 staple, and was bought by R. L. Stephenson, local cotton buyer, at 32.10 per pound.

Mr. Norman received the annual $50.00 "first bale" premium awarded by Haskell merchants through the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. In addition to the premium, Duncan Gin Company ginned the bale without charge. The Rule farmer said that he expected to have another bale gathered from his field Tuesday, but harvesting was delayed by light rains.

Last year's first bale was brought in Aug. 23, 1950, by J. E. Lovvorn, farmer living in the Plainview community southwest of Haskell. Prior to the rains over most of the Haskell area Wednesday, cotton was reported opening in parts of the county. Local buyers explained however, that excessive summer heat during the past two weeks was causing the cotton to open immaturely, and that staple from this cotton was rough due to that fact. Rains and cooler weather will permit bolls already on the stalk to mature fully before opening, with a resultant improvement in the grade of the cotton.

Speaker Stresses Civil Defense In Talk To Scouts

Assuring his hearers that American "know how" and the nation's resources and mass production would contribute to victory in the event of another war, French M. Robertson, Regional Civil Defense Administrator, stressed the importance of civil defense if Russia attacks the United States.

He was guest speaker at a program and Court of Honor sponsored by Scout Troop 36 Monday night at Fair Park, when merit badges and awards were presented to Haskell Scouts for achievements. Members of Troop 36, under Scoutmaster Joe Tyson, gave demonstrations of survival, first aid and rescue work. Second Class, First Class, Star Life, and Merit Badge awards were presented to members of Troop 36.

Robertson, a Boy Scout in his youth, praised the youths for their achievements in pointing out the importance of Scouting. The speaker was introduced by Myriam Biard, Haskell businesswoman and boyhood friend of the civil defense administrator.

Texas Methodist Evangelistic Plan Is Outlined

W. A. Holt, secretary of the Committee on Public Service of the First Methodist Church, outlines the program of the United Texas Evangelistic campaign of Methodism.

"There are five Annual Conferences in Texas, and all of them will be cooperating in the work of evangelism this fall.

"There will be a combination of Gospel preaching, and visitation evangelism by the laymen of every church in the state.

"In early October, all the preachers in the Northwest Texas Conference will work in the Texas Conference; then from October 27th to November 4th, the preachers of the Texas Conference will work with us here in our conference.

"Every Methodist Church member will be asked to help in this great work. Some of them will be on committee assignments, but all will be asked to have a part and to pray for this campaign of soul winning, and to talk with their friends about Christ. We would ask each member to pray at least five minutes each day, and all will pause for a minute of prayer at 6 o'clock each evening.

"We find our country and our world in a terrible way, and the church is the only power under God, that will save us. Let the members of this church know that the time has long since passed when it can ignore the call of God and the duties of the church membership.

"For the next two months, this church is called to prayer and to work. We know you will count it a privilege to have a part in this great campaign for God."

Several Sections Grassland Burned On Coody, Sloan Ranches Saturday

Between eight and nine sections of grassland in the eastern edge of Haskell County and partly in western Throckmorton were burned over by a grass fire Saturday night and Sunday morning.

It was this section's worst grass fire since January, when fire raged over a large area in northwest Shackelford County and parts of Haskell and adjoining counties.

Saturday night's blaze, believed to have been started by lightning, was fanned over several ranches located about 15 miles southeast of Haskell.

Throckmorton and Albany fire departments sent equipment for fighting range fires to the blaze, and were joined by volunteer fire fighters from Haskell and other towns who worked all night fighting the blaze. During several hours Saturday night flames and reflections from the blaze were clearly visible here. The fire was brought under control early Sunday morning, but crews of volunteers and ranchers remained throughout the day Sunday watching the smoldering tree stumps to prevent the fire from breaking out again.

The fire started in a lightning and thunderstorm about 7 p. m. Saturday on the Ross Sloan ranch, in the vicinity of the old Cobb homeplace which is now a part of the ranch owned by the Brock-eridge man. It burned an estimated three to four sections of the Sloan Ranch, and spread to the adjoining pasture owned by Joe and John Patterson, and a corner of the Brooks Early Ranch. The adjoining J. R. Sloan Ranch lost between two and three sections. In addition to thousands of acres of fence burned, but there was no other property loss reported.

Who Will Speak for Farmers?

FARM PEOPLE ARE FACED with a choice which may have much to do with how they will work in years to come. There is a strong move to organize farm thinking from Washington to strengthen the hand of the present ruling powers. On the surface this move seems all very constructive and harmless, but it is loaded.

According to Washington reports, the Department of Agriculture will carry out a poll of farmers to get their grassroots thinking. First a great deal of educational material will be showered on the country through farm information sources. Farmers will then be asked to hold discussion groups and report their findings to local PMA controlled county mobilization committees. The committee will report to Washington.

Bypass Organizations

THE IDEA IS TO REVIVE the usefulness of local PMA committees and make them the means of bypassing farm organizations in getting farm opinion to the nation's capital.

Many of your good neighbors will take part in this plan. They will do so in all sincerity, convinced they are doing a real service to their community.

Nevertheless, they are a part of a semi-political system whereby the ideas of political appointees in Washington are siphoned down through to the community level. Here these ideas are juggled around until they get a local flavor, and are then sent back through the same organization to be laid before Congress as true farm opinion.

War Emergency

THIS PROCESS ALWAYS works best when there is a war emergency to give it a push. Many good things will be said, and by good and honest people, but it is dangerous for us to forget what it is going on. When grassroots thinking is harnessed by Washington, it isn't grassroots thinking at all. It's government thinking.

Do we really want to bypass our farm organizations for this kind of system?

Naturally, farm organizations aren't perfect either. Sometimes they lose touch with the thinking of their own members.

But they can't be controlled by government officials trying to keep their jobs. And every organization has the chance to spank or change its own leaders when they get out of line.

Look Them Over

IN THE PRAIRIE FARMER STATES, Farm Bureau has the greatest strength. It is essentially conservative in policy, but it has made a great record fighting for legislation favorable to agriculture, even when such legislation was opposed by conservatives. The Farm Bureau has become a mature organization through the years, struggling hard to hold together the diverse interests of farm people in various parts of the country. It has had the courage to say no to political offerings.

The National Grange is another fine farm organization with roots deep in the traditions of our country. It has done outstanding work in its local groups in promoting neighborliness and community cooperation. Its national policies have had a strong American ring.

For those farm people who think more to the left and who believe sincerely in continuing the socialistic trend in this country, the Farmers Union is the answer.

Also Special Groups

THEN THERE ARE SCORES of farm organizations interested in special lines, such as conservation, livestock, co-ops, fruit growing, and the like.

These provide plenty of chance to discuss farm programs and special problems, and to influence policy. On the educational side, farm people have the help of the extension service, which draws its support and direction from local people and the state agricultural college, but it is under no obligation to promote the Washington line.

It seems to us that now is the time to build the strength of our own farm organizations rather than bypass them for a tailor-made government substitute.—From "The Prairie Farmer." (Adv.)

Polio Cases Reach Peak for Season: Under Last Year

The state last week logged its highest polio incidence of the season, but it was still far short of the record set last year.

Ninety-seven cases of the virulent disease were reported by the State Department of Health for the week ending August 11, bringing the year's total to 874. Last week's report bested the previous week's incidence of 92 cases by five.

"Even one case of polio is too much," State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox said, "but I'm mighty glad we don't have polio in wholesale lots like we did last year and the year before."

"Of course we still have to get through September and October—they can be mean for polio, too," he cautioned.

Last year Texas suffered 2355 cases for the entire season. There were 210 deaths for the entire year. State Health Department statistics show 88 of them occurring during the first 6 months. Through June of this year 29 polio deaths have been recorded.

Counties heaviest hit last week were Dallas, 17 cases; Tarrant, 10 cases; Bexar, 10 cases; and Harris, 7 cases.

Meanwhile, dysentery, always a leader among communicable diseases, continued its hot weather rampage. Morbidity statistics show 16,775 cases to date. Border counties—principally Cameron, Hidalgo, and Webb—reported the highest number of weekly cases.

"A return to fundamental personal, household, and community sanitation will do more to cut polio and dysentery rates than anything else," Dr. Cox asserted. He appealed to parents to take the lead by keeping their houses free of flies, and by demanding that the city officials take steps to "permanently eliminate breeding places."

You can Beat the Bushes - but you can't Beat this

If you want to know why shrewd car shoppers are saying "Smart Buy's Buick," take a look at this.

It's the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan - and it's roomier than most 4-door sedans, higher-powered than many costlier cars - and priced, as you'll discover, right down near the lowest.

Now, we ask you: where can you beat it for the money?

Can you beat this beauty on looks and style and rich bearing in any other car near its price?

Can you match, at the same money, the big power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine (128hp with Dynaflo Drive*) - or the big miles-per-gallon figure it delivers with such thrills?

Can you equal this traveler's roominess in any other car of comparable cost - get full-size headroom, legroom and hiproom both front and rear in any other 2-door automobile?

Can you come even near the gentle levelness of its ride and the solid steadiness of its going - have coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube keel beneath you - except in another Buick?

And where can you top the restful ease and luxurious smoothness of this sweetheart's Dynaflo Drive* in any other automobile at any price?

The answers, from a lot of certain-sure folks, sum up to a great big, "YOU CAN'T!"

But why take anyone else's word for it?

Come in and get your own answers. Look over this bedrock-priced Buick - compare it with any other automobile at the same money - and you'll agree you can't beat this smartest of Buys.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. $1 Standard on ROADMASTER optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

ACP Includes Deep Plowing In Soil Conservation Plan

"Plow deep where winds sweep and you will have soil for crops to keep."

According to John Brock, chairman of the Haskell County PMA Committee, this paraphrasing of one of "Poor Richard's Almanac" saying fits conditions in Haskell County "pretty well."

Plow deep to bring adequate amounts of clod-forming subsoil to the surface on sandy cropland, according to the chairman, is one of the most effective means of protecting light top soil from blowing in some areas.

Because of its effectiveness in controlling wind erosion, this practice is included in the Agricultural Conservation program, the chairman states. To qualify for assistance under ACP, the heavier subsoil must be brought to the surface. No assistance will be given on land where this practice has been carried out in previous years. To qualify the land must be plowed at least 12 inches.

McCulloch County Works Out Efficient Plan for Fighting Fires in Rural Areas

BRADY, Texas. — McCulloch County is doing a very effective job of controlling rural fires and may not need an amendment to the state constitution to allow for creation of rural fire prevention districts and the levying of a tax not to exceed 50 cents per $100 valuation to finance them. Such an amendment will not be voted on in Texas next November 13.

This county has a very efficient rural fire-fighting organization of citizens who function voluntarily. Only one of 31 range fires has damaged more than 100 acres since the organization was formed two years ago, according to Joe T. Ogden, manager of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, in which the organization is anchored.

The McCulloch county plan was described at the request of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which, as a public service, is conducting a survey to determine whether there is need for the amendment in West Texas.

When a fire is discovered anywhere in the county, the Chamber of Commerce is notified. Ogden carries in his billfold a list of the names and telephone numbers of 21 ranchers living in all parts of the county who own cattle spraying machines.

The first move is to send one of the two pieces of fire fighting equipment, which the McCulloch County Commissioners Court maintains for rural use, one being kept in Brady, and the other in Melvin, and one or more of the spraying machines which are located nearest the fire.

Next Radio Station KNEL is notified, and it, in turn, begins broadcasting the location of the fire.

Then one of the REA mobile units is dispatched to the scene of the fire to furnish direct communications. Through this radio communication, Ogden determines the number of men and equipment and other supplies that are needed to control the fire.

The jeep or pick-up-drawn sprays are at all times filled with water and are ready to combat fire at a moments notice. These machines are equipped with pumps and can refill themselves from tanks, creeks, or any available water supply. When the fire is in a dry area Brady in large tanks to refill these sprays.

There are 14 community foremen. They are responsible for enlisting "beaters" armed with wet tow sacks or other "weapons." They fight the fires in trees and logs that is not extinguished by the machines, which are more effective on weeds and grass.

In all cases the owners of the damaged land have telephoned back to the Chamber of Commerce office and reported that the fire has been brought under control and requested that no more men or equipment be sent as the highways are already congested.

Work on Oil Pipeline, Slowed By Hot Weather, Now Making Good Progress

Recent temperatures of 114 to 116 degrees slowed the progress of two pipe line construction crews on the Service Pipe Line Company's 135-mile Jud-Bowie line, Division Manager F. M. Willenburgh said today at Bowie.

Welders, compelled to wear heavy clothing and hoods to protect themselves from sparks, have been made ill by the heat, Willenburgh said. The Smith Construction Corp., building the line from the Brazos river east, and Parkhill Trucking Corp. from the river west.

When the job is completed, about the middle of September, the new line will provide an outlet for increasing oil production in Stonewall, Haskell and Knox counties, Willenburgh said. Gathering systems will connect production in the Old Glory, Kiowa Peak and North Aspermont fields of Stonewall county, in south Haskell field of Haskell county, and in North Knox City field of Knox county.

The Service Pipe Line Co. delivers almost half million barrels of crude oil to refineries each day through its 12,000 miles system. Much of the oil is gathered in Texas. The remainder comes from New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Wyoming. Principal delivery centers are Casper, Wyoming, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and Whiting, Ind. Directly or through connecting carriers the Company delivers crude oil to 47 refineries.

These two seem to have a lot in common. Like the little penguin, this pert model goes "formal" for swimming. Her trim cotton swimsuit by Juniors in stark black and white pique has straight princess lines and a full-dress tucked white bib front with black tie. The National Cotton Council reports that pique is a favorite fabric for sports outfits this summer.

Watermelon Rind Preserves Retain Popularity

Watermelons are in plentiful supply in most parts of Texas. They are so luscious looking and so good when they are red ripe and cold. Since watermelon cannot be frozen very satisfactorily, Louise Mason, Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialist, says if you want to preserve some for future use, it may be done by making watermelon rind preserves.

She says, select melons which have a thick rind. Trim off the outer green skin and the pink flesh, and use only the greenish white parts of the rind. Cut the rind into one-half or one inch cubes and weigh. Then soak the cubes for three and one-half hours in lime water (2 quarts water and 2 tablespoons lime - calcium oxide.) Next, drain and place cubes in clear water for one hour. Again drain off the water and boil for one and one-half hours after fresh water has been added.

For each pound of watermelon rind (weight before soaking), Miss Mason says use one pound of sugar (2 cups) and one quart of water. Make a syrup, then add the rind and boil one hour. As the syrup thickens add one-half lemon thinly sliced for each pound of fruit.

When the syrup begins to thicken and when the melon is clear, she says, the preserves are ready for the jars. Pack the preserves into hot sterilized jars, add enough syrup to cover the preserves and seal.

Miss Mason says watermelon rind preserves have a tasty flavor and can be used for sandwich spread, to add taste to salads, or to go with the breakfast toast.

WTCC Slates Farm Labor Conferences To Discuss Cotton Farmers Problems

ABILENE, Texas.—With dry conditions steadily worsening West Texas cotton farmers' labor problem is going to become even more acute, George Logan, agriculture and livestock director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said today as plans progressed for conducting three farm labor conferences in that region.

How to obtain Mexican nationals for gathering the cotton crop as well as how to keep them will be discussed by officials of several agencies figuring in the labor supply picture, said Logan.

Conferences will be held at the Kemp Hotel, Wichita Falls, Tuesday, August 28; at the Settles Hotel, Big Springs, Thursday, August 30; and at the Lubbock Hotel Friday, August 31.

Sponsors of the conferences are the chambers of commerce of the three cities, the Texas Cotton Ginners, and the WTCC.

Logan said West Texas is liable to be faced with the same situation reported from South Texas. Migratory farm labor crews are stopping in South Texas very briefly and moving on to central and northeast Texas where the cotton crop is not so retarded by drouth. Dry conditions that continue to lessen probable cotton production in West Texas may create this same problem in that region, he pointed out.

Mrs. Matt McCall, manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, will relate in these conferences how Dawson county got off the Mexican government's "blacklist" with cooperation of that government itself. Measures that were taken to satisfy the Mexican officials where there would be no discrimination against its nationals will be described by her.

The farm placement department of the Texas Employment Commission will be represented by a speaker in each city, Harry LeBlanc, chairman of that division, has informed Logan, who is acting as coordinator.

Efrain G. Dominguez of San Antonio, acting consul general of Mexico, notified the WTCC that he was requesting the Mexican foreign office to have its Dallas consular representative that nation.

W. B. McFarland of Dallas, regional farm placement representative of the U. S. Department of Labor, has accepted an invitation to discuss wage scales to farm laborers.

P. S. Riley, supervisor of the Fort Worth field office of the wage and hour and public contracts division of the Department of Labor, will discuss employment of children in agriculture while school is in session.

S. N. Reid, O'Brien, vice president of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Robert M. Fielder, of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC agriculture committee, and Frank H. Kelley of Colorado City, chairman of the WTCC taxation and legislation committee, will act as presiding officers for the meeting.

Reorganization of Camp Fire Girls Council Planned

A committee meeting for the reorganization of the Haskell District Council of Camp Fire Girls was held at the Chamber of Commerce last Friday with local interested citizens attending.

Miss Lois Jarrell, regional field advisor with the national staff of Camp Fire Girls, explained the need for the assistance of local citizens in camp fire work. Miss Jarrell is to help with the training of the District Council and leaders.

Another meeting will be held Sept. 7 in the Chamber of Commerce office at 9:30 a. m. at which the District Board will be elected. The District Council is composed of all the registered adults in the Camp Fire program and it will meet annually to elect a District Board.

The District Board which will meet bi-monthly, is composed of a chairman, a vice chairman, secretary, representative from the Leaders' Association and the following committee chairmen: finance, camp, extension, training, public relations and community service, awards, and adult membership which also includes nominating.

Miss Jarrell will return to Haskell Sept. 4 for an extended field visit. While here she will assist Miss Elmore Smith, the new executive director of Camp Fire Girls, in reorganizing the West Texas area which includes Haskell, Stamford, Albany, Hamlin, and adjacent communities. She will also help with the election of the District Board.

Attending Friday's meeting were Mrs. Raymond Davis and Mrs. D. P. Lake, representing the Progressive Study Club; Mrs. V. M. Wilson, former camp fire leader; R. P. Hattox, and J. M. Crawford.

More Openings and Fewer Teachers In School Picture

More jobs and fewer teachers than last year—that is the picture shown by the latest figures from the University of Texas Teacher Placement Service.

School administrators listed 984 openings in June, compared with 529 for the same month in 1950. July listings totaled 730, against 418 for July, 1950.

Registrations by teachers seeking jobs fell off from 1219 in 1950 to 976 in 1951, for the first 11 months of the fiscal year. However, June placements in 1951 amounted to 82, compared with 59 for June, 1950. The earliest pattern was resumed in July, with 148 placements, against 169 in July, 1950.

August is expected to be the peak month for hiring. Teachers and superintendents will be making up their minds as the time approaches for school to open, explained Dr. Hob Gray, Teacher Placement director.

Elementary teachers are still in demand. At the same time, more high school openings are reported. With University enrollment down from last year, there are fewer secondary teachers to fill these jobs, said Dr. Gray.

Positions in junior and senior colleges appeared later than usual this year, due to uncertainty about budgets and enrollment.

Farm Storage For Grain Becoming Imperative Need

Farmers with enough storage for their grain on their own places will be relatively independent of increasing transportation commercial difficulties, says Joe S. Harper, secretary of the Haskell County PMA committee.

The secretary points out that each year more and more of the small grains of the country are being harvested with combines. As a result more and more grain must be stored on the farm since transportation and commercial storage cannot keep pace.

In the chairman's words, "If a farmer has storage on his own farm there will be no question about his having a place to put his grain. If his grain is dry, he will be able to get a price support loan. In that way, he will be able to get money to pay current expenses and still be in a position to hold his crop for future sale."

Farmers interested in constructing additional grain storage on their farms still can borrow up to 85% of the money needed not to exceed 45 cents per bushel of the rated capacity of the structure for that purpose through the County PMA Committee, the secretary explains. Information on such loans can be obtained from county PMA offices.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Miss Margaret Free, Ray R. Overton, Jr., Recite Vows In Home Ceremony Sunday

In a simple but impressive ceremony in the home of her parents, Margaret Free became the bride of Ray Overton, Jr., on Sunday afternoon, August 19. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Free of the Paint Creek community and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Sr., of Paint Creek. The Rev. Truett Craft, Methodist minister, said the double ring ceremony before the white tiled fireplace. Baskets of white gladiolas formed the background with a fan-shaped arrangement of white gladiolas reflected in the large mirror above the mantle. Pre-nuptial music was two songs, "Always" and "I Love You Truly" sung by Mrs. Gene Overton, aunt of the groom. She was accompanied by Mrs. Truett Craft. Mike Overton was ring bearer, and Joan Frazier was flower girl. She wore a yellow taffeta dress with orchid and yellow flowers in her hair. She carried a basket of orchid flowers. The groom's attendants were Ben Brock, best man, and his cousins, Allen and Irving Overton. Mrs. Robert Free, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Dorothy Jean Overton was maid of honor, and Mrs. Alton Dunnam, lifelong friend of the bride, was the third attendant.

They wore identical dresses of taffeta with white organdy overskirt, and lace hats with heart-shaped brims. Mrs. Free wore blue, Miss Overton, orchid, and Mrs. Dunnam pink. They carried colonial bouquets of gladiolas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin with long pointed sleeves. The skirt was softly pleated to a fitted bodice, with Elizabethian collar and tiny covered buttons down the front to the hemline. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was held in place by a circlet of pear orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and white tuberoses.

Mrs. Free, mother of the bride, wore a gown of navy crepe with a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy crepe gown with a white carnation corsage.

Parents of the bride were hosts for a reception immediately following the ceremony. From a lace covered table, Mrs. Ross Hemphill, Mrs. Maud Derr and Mrs. R. W. Free were assisted by the bride's attendants in serving punch and cake to the guests.

For a honeymoon trip to New Mexico the bride wore a navy suit with a matching velveteen Juliette cap and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Overton graduated from Haskell High School and attended Hardin-Simmons University. She is an accomplished rider and represented H-SU as Duchess at many college rodeos. She rode one of the six white horses that preceded the famous H-SU Cowboy band. She has represented Haskell at the Stamford Cowboy Reunion and the Seymour Rodeo for the past two years.

The groom is a graduate of Paint Creek High School and Texas A&M College. He was a fighter pilot in World War II.

The couple will live in Haskell where Mr. Overton is basketball coach and assistant football coach, and teaches in Junior High school.

Stamford, Weinert Meet Tonight in Playoff Finals

Stamford will take their Park Stadium (Thursday) to battle the final game of the playoffs. The game will be a slight favorite because of their pitching staff and heavy, long-ball hitters such as centerfielder Ervin Overton, who has collected several home runs this season. However, Weinert will be greatly assisted at the plate by catcher Bob Raynes, who is a fairly consistent hitter.

Davis Scores First East TD in Greenbelt Bowl

Former Haskell Indian halfback Billy Davis scored the first East touchdown last Friday night as the favored West All-Star team chalked up a 20-14 victory over the Easterners in the second annual Greenbelt Bowl All-Star contest before 5300 partisan pre-season football fans. Davis was runner-up, along with Ronald Clinkscale, for the Outstanding Back of the Game honors. Elmer Wilson of Pampa took the honors by more votes than Davis and Clinkscale. Wilson received six votes while Davis and Clinkscale each got five votes. Davis was a member of the starting East eleven that participated in most of the entire game. He left the field after scoring for one play and was not taken out

T. B. Roberson Elected To Head '51 Quarterback Club

Thomas B. Roberson, former Haskell Indian Coach and retiring director of the Haskell Quarterback Club, was elected Tuesday night to call signals for the quarterbacks during the 1951 season. He succeeds Royce Adkins at the presidential post.

To succeed Roberson as director, J. C. Wheatly was elected and will serve with A. C. Pierson and Dr. Billy Kemp. Other officers elected Tuesday night were: John E. Robison, first vice-president; A. J. Josselet, second vice-president; Dr. William Ponder, secretary and treasurer; and Dugan Starr, Sergeant-at-arms.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed to reach a 250 membership goal, and to continue the plans to purchase the movie projector. Last year the Quarterback Club made the necessary plans to purchase the projector, but they were never completed. This year, Roberson said that one would definitely be purchased and plans are now being made to secure one by the next meeting.

Also, the Quarterback Club is making plans to purchase a movie camera. President Roberson stated that the club had enough money in the bank, along with this year's dues, to buy both the camera and the projector. However, nothing definite has been decided about the camera by the club.

A goal of 250 members was set by the club and a membership drive is already underway. Last year 170 members paid dues to the local club and this year they are expecting a large increase. Named on the membership com-

Haskell Indian Footballers Begin Two-a-Day Workouts Monday

The Haskell Indians will begin Monday preparing for the 1951 pigskin season.

All prospective footballers are asked to report to the fieldhouse at 6:30 a. m. Monday morning when equipment will be issued. Coach Smith said. He also stated that the opening drill would begin around 8 o'clock and two-a-day sessions will be held the rest of the week. The other workouts will be in the evening, around 6 o'clock. Workouts will be about one hour and forty-five minutes long, Coach Smith said.

Coach Smith, who has been the assistant tutor for the past two years, is taking over the duties as head mentor for his first time this year. He will be assisted by Ray Overton, Jr.

The new head mentor said the Indians will continue their field operation almost the same manner, except for a few changes. This year Coach Smith will use the single wing T-formation combined with a slightly split forward wall. In the past, the Indians have run from the regular T-formation and the Notre Dame box combined with a compact line.

Coach Smith said the line would be slightly separated to allow for better chances at opening a larger hole for the ball carriers.

The Indians will begin the season with completely new uniforms, pants, jerseys and headgear. They also have a new field house and the gridiron is in perfect condition, Coach Smith said.

But, the Indians will be up against some pretty rough com-

Rain Postpones White Leghorn, Black Indian Series Until Friday

Threatening rains Wednesday night caused the postponement of the first of the 3-game baseball series between the White Leghorns and the Black Indians, but it will be played Friday night.

All three games will be played in Fair Park Stadium and they will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock, Walter Gresham, manager of the White Leghorns, declared. No definite date has been set by the managers of the two teams for the playing of the following two games. However, Manager Gresham said they would be played sometime next week and a definite date would also be announced.

Managers Gresham and Tom Roberson have secured baseballers that they expect to be a winning team, they said. Lannon Carter, who pitched for the TCU fresh-

Hammond on hand for relief duties for the series. Behind the plate will be Dickie Cannon for the first game. The managers of the White Leghorns have not announced a definite starting line-up of the campaign.

Manager Lusk Jenkins of the Black Indians was confident his team had the edge over White Leghorns and feels sure of a victory for his Indians. The Black Indians have the edge on the White Leghorns through experience. They have played eighteen games this season and are sporting a 14 won, 3 loss record.

Also, the Black Indians have one of the best pitching staffs in this area. Billy Davis, who is the probable starting moundman for the Indians, has a 9-1 record for the season. He also has Tommy Rivers, William Dorsey, and John

Fredrick 9 Trips Black Indians for 3rd Loss, 13-11

The pesky Frederick, Okla., Red Sox handed the Haskell Black Indians their third defeat of the season Sunday in Fair Park Stadium when they launched a barrage of hits and runs to overcome the Indians, 13-11.

The Black Indians have scheduled an exhibition game with the O'Brien Red Sox, a white baseball team. The contest will be played at Fair Park Stadium at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Not only the Red Sox but also the Indians leased a hit-fest game before the Oklahoma nine. Each team connected with opposing hurlers for 12 bingles, and each club used three different pitchers in the struggle for victory.

The Black Indians have chalked up fourteen triumphs for the year against only three losses. All three games were dropped before the Frederick Red Sox.

Sunday's contest was only an eight inning affair. It was called at the end of the eighth because of darkness after two hours and thirty-nine minutes of play.

The Black Indians started the game off with spirit that showed a victory, but the heavy, long-ball hitters from the north soon loosened them up. In the first inning, center fielder Bobby Ruffin singled, Doyle Adams tried a sacrifice and was thrown out at first by Pitcher Tommy Rivers, then Chester Neal singled. With a runner on first and second, Ben Stevanor hit a line drive to the hot corner where Billy Davis scooped it out of the air for the second out and then threw to L. C. Broadway at second for the third. If another out had been necessary, Broadway's throw to first would have been in time for both base runners were caught napping.

The Black Indians came up in their half of the first and scored two runs to take the lead. In the 3rd frame the Red Sox took the lead by 2 runs. The Indians deadlocked the score in the sixth and showed good chances of gaining a victory, but four Red Sox runs in the top of the eighth secured them the win.

Cleo Thomas lead the Black Indians with hits as he connected four times in his four trips to the plate. Two of his hits were doubles. Ben Lewis poked a triple into center field for the longest hit of the game.

Jimmy Crane got credit for the victory and William Dorsey was the loser.

Leadership Training Program Enlarges Scope of H-D Club Activities in County

Leadership will work. The Home Demonstration Clubs of Haskell County can prove this statement. Some three or four years ago a group of club women became club leaders when they relieved the county home demonstration agent of a few of her club responsibilities so that she could be a real county home demonstration agent and not merely a club agent.

Until then, most of the agent's time was spent meeting clubs; because she met with each club twice a month. When the leaders began to take their responsibilities they took charge of one meeting each month.

From that time until this, the agent has given a leadership training meeting to these leaders for each demonstration they have given. Each leader has then carried the demonstration back to her club.

This not only gives the County Home Demonstration Agent time for other things, but develops women in leadership qualities that will help them through life.

In addition to giving the leader demonstration to their own club, these leaders help individuals with their home-making problems, give the agent's demonstration when she is out of town, takes the program to other clubs when their leader is unable to give it, and visits other clubs to get interesting programs she can give her club when she returns.

Mrs. Vee J. Howle, former Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent started keeping a record of the Haskell County leadership in 1950. During this year 7 leadership training meetings were given to leaders. As a result of these meetings 58 demonstrations were given to individual home demonstration clubs by leaders. Three leaders gave the agents demonstration when she could not meet with clubs, 2 clubs reported helping individuals, and one leader gave a program to another club. The Veteran's Home Demonstration club were the two clubs out of the 13 in the county to have a leader at each meeting given by the agent and all programs to their clubs.

Leadership continued to grow in 1951. Miss Thelma Wirges, present County Home Demonstration Agent, has found rapid growth as she kept records this year. Miss Wirges has given 7 meetings to leaders at this time. As a result of these, leaders have given 82 demonstrations to their clubs. Two leaders have reported finding 36 individuals. Leaders found it most interesting to give programs to other groups so there were 8 leaders who took programs to other clubs. Miss Wirges helped 5 individual leaders, so they could give her demonstration at various times when she was out of town. One leader was unable to receive the training so she visited another club to observe the demonstration. After this, she returned with the demonstration to her club. To date, there are 6 of the 13 clubs that have leaders who have received all the training and have given the meetings back to their club. They are: Blue Bonnet, Lucky, Dennis Chapel, Willing Workers, Veterans' Wives, and Josselet.

As the leadership in Home Demonstration Club work has grown, so has the leadership grown to help build a prosperous and happy farm life for these women who have served as leaders.

Professor Lists Tips On Comfort In Hot Weather

You can install a personal air-conditioning system in 100-degree weather by following the advice of a University of Texas faculty member.

Dr. C. J. Alderson, assistant professor of physical and health education, suggests the following combination when temperature outside is higher than normal body temperature (98.6 degrees):

Wear a fibrous, loose-woven garment.

Try to find dry air which is moving.

Work up a sweat (this is easy). A gunny sack would be the ideal costume for Texans in 100-degree weather. Dr. Alderson says it holds moisture and allows circulation of air, thus producing a cooling evaporation process.

If you don't like the gunny sack idea, wear some type of loose, fibrous light clothing. This allows for effective perspiration and circulation of air, and it isn't so heavy to carry around. Be sure the neck is well ventilated. Wear an open-collared shirt, because the throat acts as the body's thermostat.

Eat lighter-type food in the summer. Dr. Alderson advises—liquids, coarse foods, vegetables, fruits, fruit juices, melons and tomatoes. Take more rest, and try to avoid strenuous activities.

ACP Aids Farmers In Production For Defense

Farmers of Haskell County are using the Agricultural Conservation Program to mobilize their farms for defense, says Joe Harper, Secretary, Haskell County FMA Committee.

Many of the soil building and improving practices carried on in the past and those emphasized this year are helping farmers to increase yields of livestock production and condition their land for continued high level production.

He explains that conservation practices carried out by farmers in the past have built up reserves of plant food which are being drawn upon to increase production today. The soil held on the farm through the use of contour farming terraces and other good conservation practices is now adding to the current production. The organic matter returned to the soil through cover and green manure crops and rotation pastures is now helping to turn out increased yields to meet defense needs.

In the same way pasture improvement practices encouraged by the Agricultural Conservation Program have increased yields of pasture and forage crops, which is reflected in current production of livestock and livestock products. The lime, phosphate and other plant foods which have been used by farmers to stimulate soil improvement through grasses and legumes have helped to build up these pastures to their present yields.

Currently, the practices emphasized under the program are geared to present stepped-up production needs and to maintain the soil for continued high level production. Deep subsoiling and deep plowing are examples, Harper said.

MINNESOTA MAN HERE ON FIRST VISIT TO TEXAS

Frank Kolasa of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived Sunday to spend a part of his vacation in the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hilliard in this city and to visit Texas for the first time. Summer climate of Texas was a decided change from that in his native state, Mr. Kolasa said. This summer has been unusually cool in Minnesota, he said. Temperature there was around 58 to 60 degrees when he left early Saturday. Mr. Kolasa is employed in the Minneapolis-Moline farm equipment factory in Hopkins, Minn.

180 Horsepower

Until you drive it you'll never know what does for you!

Chrysler FirePower V-8

YOU'VE HEARD THE TALK about Chrysler's revolutionary new V-8 FirePower engine... with its 180 horsepower, its amazing smoothness and acceleration...

NOW COME DRIVE THE REASON for all this excitement. Here is the most revolutionary advance in American motor car engine design in 27 years!

HERE'S 180 HORSEPOWER... a full 20 horsepower more than that of the next most powerful American passenger car engine!

A NEW KIND OF HIGH COMPRESSION... the first Hemispherical Combustion Chamber in an American car engine actually puts to work more of the energy contained in the fuel than other engines.

HERE'S EXCITING PERFORMANCE... responsiveness, acceleration, smoothness, which no other passenger car engine built in this country can equal today. And you can have it with FirePower even on non-premium grade gasoline.

HERE'S THE SAFETY OF POWER-IN-RESERVE greater than you've ever had at your command—a new high in the instant responsiveness which is the very essence of safety on today's highways!

YOU'LL LIKE CHRYSLER'S POWER BRAKING TOO... smoother, gentler, swifter stops at any speed than you've ever known. At the touch of your toe, power from the engine helps put on the brakes... reduces foot pressure by as much as two-thirds!

AND HYDRAGUIDE... THE NEW POWER STEERING! It makes driving a car a brand new experience. At your touch on the wheel, hydraulic power provides four-fifths of the steering energy. Even at a standstill, you can turn the wheels with your thumb and one finger! A great safety feature.

COME DRIVE IT... ONLY A RIDE CAN SHOW YOU WHAT ONLY A CHRYSLER GIVES!

Cash Income Shows Over '50

Texas—Texas farm income for the first nine months of the same 1950 period, the same Bureau of Economic Research reports, was $3,951,000 (million) in the most important. Egg profits were $18,595,000 to $52,000,000 from grain sorghums both increased 100% from mohair and wool in the first half of 1951 increased 95 to 75%, respectively, over the same period last year. The total value of both crops during January-June 1951, was $42,172,000—approximately $18,000,000 more than the same 1950 period. Milk and milk products (up 84%), corn (up 54%) hogs (up 46%), and cattle (up 36%), brought significantly larger sums to raisers. Cattle and milk and milk-products, the two most important commodity classes during the first half of 1951, brought Texas cattlemen $183,179,000 and dairymen $103,957,000.

Early Days In Haskell Recalled By Graham Man Here For Week-End Visit

Interesting incidents and early-day happenings in Haskell were recalled by Dave Hughes of Graham during a visit here last week end with old friends in Haskell and vicinity. Although he is living in nearby Young County, Mr. Hughes had not visited here in a number of years.

He first came to Haskell county in the late 90's and lived here until 1918, when he moved to Breckenridge during the oil boom days in that section. For a number of years during his residence in this area, he was connected with the old Ballard Ranch east of Haskell, now known as the Coody Ranch.

The early-day resident vividly recalls the Texas Cowboy Convention held here in 1898, and still has one of the souvenir badges issued for the occasion. Still retaining its original brightness, the badge is a five-pointed star attached to miniature horns of a Texas longhorn steer. Inscribed on the badge is "Third Annual Cowboy Convention, Haskell, Texas, July 27 to 29, 1898."

He remembers that cowboys taking part in the "convention" came from all over West Texas and from Oklahoma and other states. The contests were staged on an open tract southwest of town, about where the Pippen farm is now located. The bronco riding, roping, and other rodeo events were the "real stuff", Mr. Hughes declares. Pens built on the grounds were used only for holding the wild stock, he said. Once a contest started, the rider or proper was out in the open prairie without the hindrance of fences or other barriers, he declared.

The Graham man was fortunate in meeting a number of early-day acquaintances during his visit here, but said that new business buildings and home built here in recent years had entirely changed the appearance of Haskell as he once knew the town.

Increasing Number of 18-Year-Olds Failing To Register For Draft

AUSTIN, Aug. 18.—The number of 18-year-old Texans failing to register under the federal draft law is increasing, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said here today. State draft headquarters records indicate that registration has been falling off since the end of March. Gen. Wakefield estimated that 2,000 to 2,500 18-year-olds currently are unregistered.

Whip Scorpion Not Poisonous, Despite Vicious Appearance

AUSTIN—A black scorpion-like animal strange to most of Texas was brought from Alpine to the Texas Game, Fish & Oyster Commission headquarters for inspection by biologists and bugologists.

It is known as a whip scorpion. Its habitat is the semi-arid sections of the Southwest and is found along the Mexican border of Texas westward from Del Rio.

The arthropod is vicious appearing but according to the director of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission, it has no venom and the only danger to humans would be from a bite becoming infected.

The animal, also known in Texas as a vinegaroon, has many odd gadgets. Its low slung body is about two and 1-4 inches long. It has two folded pincers in front, eight legs and a tail two inches long.

The antennae-like tail, normally extending upwards at an angle, apparently picks up sound. The many-jointed antennae has whorls of hair at the joints, possibly for insulation. Its long, jointed legs are very sensitive to touch.

The Director of Department of Publications, who has the specimen in a large jar, reports that it is a voracious eater. It has been fed grasshoppers, crickets, cockroaches and flies.

The vinegaroon is strictly a dry area dweller and has no apparent use for water. It seems to get the little liquid it needs from its victims.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bedford of Princeton, N. J. were here the first part of the week visiting their father, J. J. Bedford, and their aunt, Mrs. J. L. Odell.

"We've been watching this situation closely since late spring with the hope that the trend would stop," the state director said. "We've asked the local draft boards to act under a provision of the regulations whereby a letter will be sent to men in their communities suspected of being delinquent under the law."

General Wakefield reminded males subject to registration of penalties if convicted of failure to comply with the law. He quoted from a section of the law providing maximum penalties of fines up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to five years.

Under the draft act, all 18-year-old males are required to register with the nearest draft board on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

"It's up to local boards whether or not they want to turn any man over to federal district attorneys for prosecution," the state Selective Service director said. "Our board members are patient, considerate men, and usually give a man better than a fair chance, if he's willing to cooperate."

"If the registration record does not improve within the next two or three months, we're going to advise the boards to be a little tougher than in the past. After all, the man who doesn't register on time isn't pulling his share of the load our people are carrying. He isn't being fair to the man who does register on time."

"A man is dealing fairly with his neighbors if he obeys the law just as much as they do. We hope parents and public-spirited citizens will keep 18-year-old men reminded of their responsibilities under the law," Gen. Wakefield concluded.

the opportunity it offers. And in order to accept this new opportunity I would like to ask that I be released from this position at the earliest possible convenience to the Board of Directors, and not later than August 31.

"I am not at liberty to discuss my new connection, but it will be announced in the near future, and it will necessitate my moving from Haskell.

"I found it extremely difficult to make this decision. Perhaps nowhere in West Texas has any chamber manager had the opportunity to work with the type of people that I have had the pleasure of being associated with in Haskell. At all times they have been most understanding and cooperative. They have been willing to overlook the many mistakes that a chamber manager makes, and in the face of constant obstacles have continued to extend their cooperative spirit in my behalf and for the good of this organization.

"I know I shall miss very much this pleasant and long association with the people of Haskell and Haskell county. I am humbly grateful for the privilege I have had in serving the people of Haskell through the chamber of commerce since its organization in March, 1936.

"I want this opportunity to express my grateful appreciation to the present slate of officers, board members and members of all committees, as well as all past officers, directors and committee members for the invaluable help they have rendered in making possible the successful operation of this organization.

"They have given freely and unselfishly of their time and counsel in providing the community services through the chamber of commerce, and full credit should be given them for any measure of success that has been reached.

"I repeat that it was not easy for me to reach this decision, and I would like nothing better than to see the organization and community go forward in their development program that will make Haskell one of the better communities of West Texas.

Sincerely yours,
Ralph E. Duncan"

Local Red Cross Executive Tells Of Indescribable Destruction Wrought In Missouri Valley Flood

Miss Wanda Dulaney, executive secretary of the Haskell County Chapter American Red Cross and a member of the National Disaster Reserve, has returned to Haskell from a 3-weeks assignment in the Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois flood area. Over six hundred Red Cross workers are still on duty there and their services will continue for approximately four more months.

Miss Dulaney stated that the damages were indescribable, and more massive than could be imagined. Over 12,000 families have applied for assistance, many of whom are in mass shelters. Red Cross assistance is being given according to need and not with regard to losses, and each award will be in the form of a grant, not to be repaid. For instance, if a family's home was completely destroyed, with all their household furnishings and clothing, and their resources were inadequate to meet their needs, the Red Cross is building them a home, buying essential furniture and clothing needs for a family. The cost of this operation far exceeds the amount set aside during the fund campaign last March for all disasters during the fiscal year, and therefore, a plea is being made for an additional $500,000,000 to supplement the amount to be used for flood victims. Miss Dulaney stated that she hoped Haskell county people would remember the assistance given to the tornado victims in Rochester, O'Brien and Weinert last year, and would contribute for these people. No house-to-house solicitations will be made, but contributions may be mailed to the Red Cross office to be forwarded to the flood area.

Miss Dulaney said that many strange legends accompanied the flood, the one about the old Indian preacher being the one most told. It seems that he was an evangelist who held meetings under a big tabernacle all over Kansas City, Kansas, and for weeks he told his congregations that there would be a flood there on July 13, and that no matter how high they built the dike that it was beyond the power of man to stop the water, that the dike would break and there would be a violent flood, brought upon the people because they had forgotten God. On July 12, men from most of the large industries were dismissed from their jobs and worked diligently on the dike, hauling numerous sand bags. That night the army engineers broadcast that there was no need for alarm, that the dike would hold. The next morning, Friday the 13th, the dike broke, and in less than 20 minutes, Kansas City was a mass of water. Water in many districts covered two story buildings; many houses were washed away from their own foundations; numerous cars have still not been found.

In the Kaw River, separating Kansas City, Kans., and Kansas City, Mo., thousands of dead cattle, hogs, and poultry and rotten vegetables were floating, making an almost unbearable stench. Red Cross workers wore hip boots to work the first week after the water had gone down enough that boats were not necessary, and knee boots were needed for the remainder of the operation. Mud is 6 to 10 inches deep in the attics of houses still standing with "condemned" signs in front, forbidding entrance due to the danger of weak ceilings.

In addition to the loss of homes, thousands are out of work due to the flooding of the large packing houses and manufacturers' companies where the majority of citizens were employed. All of the industrial district in Kansas City was submerged.

Miss Dulaney said that this was only one of the 64 counties affected by the flood and the overall damage must be tremendous.
