Trash and Garbage Disposal Plan Studied By Council

For regular collection of trash and garbage disposal a residential trash and garbage disposal plan has been under consideration by the City Council for several months, and at the meeting of the Council held last week the matter was further considered.

Some tentative plans for instituting garbage refuse collection are being made of the kind in other progressive cities and will be submitted to the Council to enlist the cooperation of all residents in the plan is adopted. Mayor Hunt said today.

It was known that clean streets are not being kept clean as many of our citizens do not use their systems in accordance with the system declared.

Mayor Hunt said that the people will agree to a fair plan, and that is what he is going to submit, he added. A street cleaning plan is finally being put into effect.

In that same year he accepted the call to be pastor of the Broadway Baptist Church, Fort Worth. He moved to Waco in 1946. The Waco Church has grown marvelously under his leadership. He is an outstanding administrator, organizer, teacher, preacher and evangelist.

Light Balloting Indicated In First Primary July 22nd

With the first Democratic primary only 15 days away and a seeming lack of interest on the part of voters, balloting in this year's primary is likely to fall below that for any election year in the past decade, political forecasters were predicting this week.

Poll tax receipts issued for this year are much lower than in any previous election year since the early 30's. Assessor-Collector R. A. Coburn reports a total of 3,446 poll tax receipts issued for the current voting year, compared with 3,884 issued two years ago—a decline of 438 in potential voting strength of the county.

Balloting in the 1948 first primary almost equaled the poll tax figure, a comparison shows. In that year, 3830 votes were polled in the first primary—only 54 short of the number of poll tax receipts issued.

Using the same comparison, balloting in the first primary this year is expected to fall below 3,400—and may drop as low as 3,000, some political observers are declaring.

Potential voting strength of the county's twenty polling places is indicated in the following totals of poll tax receipts and exemptions issued in the respective voting precincts. For comparison, the 1948 total is given in the first column.

	1948 1950
1 — Haskell	632 599
2 — Haskell	451 402
3 — Haskell	261 230
4 — Haskell	351 259
5 — Rule	317 255
6 — Rochester	362 354
7 — O'Brien	200 203
8 — Jud	53 43
10 — Weinert	300 279
11 — Brushie	60 43
12 — Cottonwood	65 60
13 — Jim Hogg	59 48
14 — Howard	137 128

Haskell County Red Cross Chapter Active In Many Phases of Relief and Assistance Last Year, Report Shows

In an annual report to Area Headquarters for the fiscal year July 1, 1949 to June 30, 1950, the following activities were listed by the Haskell County Chapter, American Red Cross.

There were 709 cases in Home Service alone, 511 of which were active servicemen and their families, 193 for Veterans, and 205 for civilians. The services included financial assistance, communication services, vocational classes, confirmation for emergency through job and dependency discharges, consultation and guidance.

In April of 1950, 80 families were affected by a tornado which struck the Rochester, O'Brien, Weinert area, destroying or damaging all of their homes. Six families applied for assistance and relief was based upon need instead of loss. A grant for $3801.11 was sent from Area Headquarters for the rehabilitation program in that territory, and Disaster Headquarters were established at the City Hall in Rochester. Two National Disaster workers, Miss Melba Turfitt, and Miss Helen Corkin were assigned to this area to assist the chapter personnel in the program.

Although this chapter does not sponsor a blood bank, its services are available any time a transient patient requires a transfusion and his family does not know anyone list on the hospital's blood type list. Upon their request, the chapter contacts suggested blood donors and requests their services.

In the production division, 186 garments were made by the Weinert Volunteer Services committee and sent to the Veterans Hospitals. Each year a different town in the county accepts the production assignment, and Haskell and Rule have met the quotas of the past two years. Sagerton will be in charge of the 1950 quota, with Rochester and O'Brien assuming the responsibility for the next two years.

In the Haskell County Learn-to-Swim program, 131 students were enrolled, out of which 94 certificates were issued in beginning, swimming, and advanced classification. Billy Chas. Matthews contributed his services as instructor and he was assisted by sixteen volunteers. The program was co-sponsored by the Haskell County Red Cross, the Haskell Free Press and Jack Ruten, manager of the Haskell Rice Springs Pool. No charge was made for use of the pool, and the entire program was free to the children. Matthews and Jerry Johnson represented this chapter at the National Aquatic School in Marshall this year.

We don't—because we've just installed a new John Bean VISUALINER in our Steering Service Department. It's the first machine we ever saw that can make driving safer by harnessing beams of light. Checks the wheel alignment on an automobile quick-as-a-flash and even projects a picture on a screen so that you can SEE FOR YOURSELF if your car needs attention.

But you don't have to take our word for it. Drive in and let the VISUALINER show you why your car is steering hard. After all, SEEING IS BELIEVING and you can see for yourself whether your automobile is right for safe, economical, high-speed driving.

The cattle of Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Waters are 15 or 20 miles apart and there has been no communication between them, so that the disease must have been contracted from different sources. Our cattlemen are feeling somewhat alarmed at the situation.

Effect of Texas' New School Laws Seen In Increased Enrollment of Past Year

Texas' new school laws, in force one year, have had the desired effect of providing better education and of bringing more children into the classroom.

Average enrollment skyrocketed more than 100,000, L. P. Sturgeon, state associate commissioner of education, said at Austin.

"A renewed interest among educators in getting children into the schools, plus more attractive programs offered the pupils have had the desired effect," Sturgeon said.

The spotlight of publicity thrown upon the schools while new education laws were being studied by the public and enacted by the last legislature has caused Texans to take more interest in their schools than ever before.

"An illustration of this is the fact that in some district members of civic clubs have designated themselves as attendance officers. They have been extremely helpful to the school administrators in urging attendance so that Texas children can have a better education."

Every district in the state has waged intensive campaigns to get children in school and keep them there, Sturgeon said.

Schools have expanded or instituted classes in shop work to interest older children.

Classes for handicapped children have increased 50 per cent. They like many other special school services, were made possible by allocations of state funds under Gilmer-Aikin laws.

Visual aid facilities have been augmented, Sturgeon said, increasing the interest of children in school work.

School terms of six weeks to two months during the summer are popular in many sections of the state, according to Sturgeon. These make it possible for stu-

Game Commission Meeting Due On New Hunting Dates

Vital phases of the fall hunting season will occupy the attention of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at its July meeting next Friday.

Subjects to be included: Setting up a season on antelope in West Texas.

Prescribing hunting and fishing regulations in the new regulatory area in the Panhandle.

Establishing boat quotas and license fees for the Gulf Coast fishing industry.

Setting seasons and dates for mule deer and quail in the regulatory area West of the Pecos.

Dates and other provisions of the general big game season in the remainder of the state are set by law.

The dove and migratory waterfowl season dates, shooting hours and bag limits are set jointly by Federal authorities and the state.

The Commission, at its last meeting, adopted a resolution recommending that the Federal authorities place Texas in two zones for the coming waterfowl season.

Great Spiritual Film Coming Here

Arrangements have been made for the showing here of the "Prince of Peace" new $2,500,000 Hallmark Production, in Cinecolor that has been breaking attendance records everywhere, it is announced this week by Neale Gordon, manager of the Texas Theatre.

This unusual, two-hour attraction is a complete unit in itself, according to Manager Gordon. The breath-taking beauty of the Wichita are the background for the powerful, moving story.

A preview of the film was given a group of Haskell people Monday evening in the banquet room of the Texas Cafe.

"The Prince of Peace" will be shown three times daily at the Texas Theatre Thursday and Friday, July 13 and 14.

Licenses Required To Sell Wild Game, Commission Warns

More than 500 Texans have taken out game breeders licenses this year, the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reported to day. The 531 figure for 1950 is almost double the 284 total for 1949.

The license cost $2 and are required for all persons dealing in wild game. The same fee is necessary for persons obtaining a permit to keep wild game. The permits have to be renewed by August 31 of this year.

The chief clerk estimated that about 90 per cent of the residents obtaining the game breeding licenses raise pheasants. This is the only species which may be sold as food.

A few Texans raise migratory waterfowl which comes under Federal regulations. Game breeders who raise them are required to have a permit from the United States Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C. as well as the regular $2 state license.

The law stipulates: "Such a license does not entitle the holder to capture any of the wild game birds or wild animals of this state. He must procure his primary stock either from a game breeder in this state or from a game breeder in some other state or from the Republic of Mexico or from some other country."

dents to complete their annual scholastic work and yet allow schools to be dismissed during cotton picking time.

Sturgeon also reported that inroads are being made on the problems of regular attendance of Latin-American and Negro pupils. Itinerant workers are prone to leave their children in school only two or three months of the year, at most Sturgeon pointed out.

Some districts which have heavy Latin-American and Negro populations reported gains in attendance of 15 per cent and more during the last school year as compared with less than 5 per cent state-wide gain.

But even with the increase in attendance, there are still approximately 150,000 children of school age in Texas who are enrolled, Sturgeon said. These are children of school age in Texas who are not enrolled, Sturgeon said. These are children whose parents are starting them in school a year late or older children who do not enter high school.

One of the most serious problems confronting school districts is lack of classroom facilities, according to H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Surveys of the organization and state officials show that 50 per cent of the school districts this year increased their classroom facilities. Many others will add classrooms during 1950 and '51 Tennyson said.

"These necessary additional facilities will be made available due to increased revenue obtained by the schools through the new and equitable laws which produce more funds, from both state and local taxes," Tennyson said.

High Incidence of Dysentery Noted Throughout State

Commenting on the unusually high incidence of dysentery in Texas at the present time, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, described dysentery as being an infectious disease characterized by diarrhea, pain in the abdomen, and toxemia. It is caused by a specific bacteria or germ.

These germs cause inflammation of the intestinal tract which produces pain throughout the abdomen and the discharge of many loose stools that frequently contain blood and mucus. Toxemia results from absorption of the poisonous substances produced by the germ.

"The germ gain entrance to the body through the mouth," Dr. Cox said, "and then make their way to the intestines in the same manner in which food does. When they reach the intestines they find conditions favorable to their growth, and there they establish themselves at the expense of the person infected and produce their harmful effects."

Dr. Cox warned that dysentery affects young children more often and more seriously than adults, frequently resulting fatally; however, he said, it may occur at any age. It is usually more prevalent during the summer season, and the great number of cases now being reported are unusual for spring.

"The germ is always expelled with the excreta of persons sick with dysentery and may continue to be expelled for some time after the patient recovers from the disease. These persons who still discharge the germs after they recover are called carriers, and they occur more frequently in this disease than in the majority of other infectious diseases.

"Food protection and adequate sanitary measures are more urgently needed now than ever before if we control the potential possibilities of epidemic dysentery in this State."

Old Draft Can't Call Veterans Into Service

Army and Air Force veterans who were discharged after the last war—and who didn't sign up for the Reserves then—cannot be recalled to serve just because the war emergency has never ended officially.

In general that was the reply of Army and Air Force spokesmen to these two questions being raised by veterans:

1. In case of a presidential call up of Reservists, what would be the status of former officers who did not sign for the reserve commissions after their war service?
2. Could a discharged GI be called back to service on the grounds that the draft law which was in effect during the war obligated him to serve for the duration and six months?

The Air Force said any air officer who was separated from the service, without signing up for a new reserve commission, could not be recalled. In case the country should find itself in a new emergency, a spokesman said, the Air Force would review the rolls of former officers and offer new

Government Reference Book Corrects Many Errors In Davy Crockett History

At last, after 23 years, an important government reference book is going to do right by Davy Crockett.

Thanks to the insistence of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas and to Sen. Tom Connally, no longer will an official biography of the famous Texas hero say he surrendered to Santa Anna at the Alamo.

The book involved is the "Biographical Directory of the American Congress," a huge volume of biographies of every man and woman who ever served in either house of congress.

Although many Texans are not aware of it, Crockett served several terms in congress from Tennessee before coming to Texas.

The government is now getting ready to print a new and enlarged up-to-date edition of the biographical book. The last edition, printed in 1927, said Crockett surrendered.

The Daughters of the Republic of Texas learned about the blunder during the May convention in Dallas this year and rushed through resolution declaring:

"Such a statement that David Crockett surrendered at the fall of the Alamo is entirely erroneous, inasmuch as all authoritative accounts of the siege and fall of the Alamo set forth that he died a valiant death fighting to the last with his comrades and with no element of surrender on his part.

The Daughters also found some other errors in the 1927 biography. It has said Crockett joined a band of 140 men in defense of the Alamo. It was 186, corrected the Daughters. The biography said Crockett's grave is an unmarked one in the vicinity of the Alamo. (Not so,) said the Daughters—Crockett's body was burned with all of the Alamo garrison defenders.

Mrs. Henry R. Wofford of San Antonio, president of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, sent the resolution to Connally. Connally, who has always been keenly interested in Texas history, had never before been aware that such mistakes were made in the heavy reference volume.

A check revealed the new edition was about to go to the printer, and Connally got busy to see that the proper corrections were made. They will be made.

Connally was unable to find out why the mistakes had ever been made in the first place since no record was kept of where the information on Crockett came from for the 1927 edition.

Another little known sidelight on Crockett is that his son also served in the national house of representatives from Tennessee. He was John Wesley Crockett, and he was elected to Congress as a Whig twice in 1836 and 1838. His election in 1836 was only a few months after his father's death at the Alamo.

David Crockett, who was born in Tennessee in 1786 was elected to the Tennessee House of Representatives in 1821. He ran for the national house in 1825, apparently for an unexpired term and was defeated. He ran again as a Democrat in 1826 and was elected. He was reelected to congress in 1828. Crockett was defeated when he ran for reelection in 1830. He ran as a Whig in 1832 and was elected again. Running for reelection in 1834 he was defeated. He went to Texas two years later.

And Texas know the rest—even if a usually high dependable reference book didn't before.

commissions to those it wanted. Those offered new commissions would not have to accept them, however.

The spokesman added that discharge certificates protect enlisted air veterans of the war against being recalled.

An Army representative said former Army officers who were "discharged from their commission" and who did not sign up for new reserve commissions could not be called back. However, some who were placed on inactive duty rather than being discharged, could be.

Wartime GI's who were discharged couldn't be called back under the wartime draft law.

In the Naval reserve officers' commissions are for an indefinite period. Most Naval Reserve officers were placed on inactive duty after the war. They are still in the Reserve and subject to being recalled to duty. A few have been discharged or have resigned however.

Former Navy enlisted men, if they did not enlist again following discharge during mobilization have the same status as any other civilians.

Why New Telephone Rates Are Necessary At Haskell

NO BUSINESS CAN long survive and charge less for its products and services than it costs to furnish them.

GREATLY INCREASED COSTS of furnishing telephone service make it necessary for the telephone company to place new rates into effect at Haskell.

We are proud that in these past years we have been able to expand and improve our service without increasing rates. But the pyramiding effect of increased costs of operation—higher wages, taxes, materials and equipment—make new rates necessary despite the use of every possible economy consistent with sound business management.

EXPENSES ARE GREATER THAN INCOME

During and since the war, the demand for telephone service has been tremendous. While revenues have increased, the costs of furnishing service have increased much faster.

The cost of almost everything that goes to make good telephone service -- and almost everything is needed -- has increased sharply since 1940.

For illustration:
Payroll (wages), our biggest expense, is away up. Eight (8) general wage increases have been granted employees since 1940. Telephone poles cost 110 percent more than in 1940 -- cable is up 119 percent -- and manufactured items as much as 140 percent.

NEW RATES ARE REASONABLE

The new rates are reasonable and are necessary to help pay the cost of furnishing telephone service. We do not seek big profits, only reasonable rates that will provide enough earnings to place the system on a sound financial basis, and which will enable us to expand and improve service.

ADEQUATE EARNINGS ARE ESSENTIAL

To carry out its expansion and improvement program, the company must spend many thousands of dollars for new plant and equipment. This money must come from the savings of people who want to invest in something that will bring them a reasonable, regular return. A sound financial business with reasonable earnings is essential to attract new money necessary to expand and improve telephone service.

NEW RATES

The new schedule of rates for Haskell is given below. Federal taxes which apply are not included.

For residence users the new rates represent an increase of 3 1-3 cents per day. For business users the new rates represent an increase of from less than 6 cents to 7 1-2 cents per day.

Compared with increases in prices you must pay for other things—food, clothing, automobiles and almost every other item in the family budget—the increase in telephone rates is moderate.

Austrian Winter Peas Make Good Showing

Austrian winter peas are making a favorable showing in Hansford county this year, reports county agent, Zack Jaggers. The plants were not harmed by green bugs, and they withstood the drought almost as well as wheat. Jaggers says the fields that were planted early in August made excellent fall and early winter pastures, but were caught by a dry freeze in a luxuriant state of growth and the plants were killed by winter freezing.

Peas that were planted late in August and September did not make sufficient growth to furnish much fall grazing, but did not winter kill. They made excellent spring growth, and by the middle of May had made a deep luxuriant cover on the fields. Although this growth was suitable for a green manure crop, Jaggers says that most farmers who had prospects for a seed crop left their peas to be harvested for seed.

Jaggers predicts that, due to the satisfactory showing being made by Austrian winter peas in Hansford county, the acreage planted will be greatly increased this season.

quality of eggs as directly nor as rapidly as does the environment the egg receives.

The importance of humidity in the egg holding room is reflected in the fact that only 31 percent of the top grade eggs will be maintained when the humidity in the room drops below 75 percent and the temperature rises above 65 degrees F. The failure of egg producers and handlers to pre-cool egg cases, packing eggs before the animal heat is removed and marketing eggs less than twice weekly greatly affects the percentage of high quality eggs marketed says Beanblossom.

Here is another item that is mighty important in handling eggs. Beanblossom says that research studies show that when eggs are given a ride to town on the big end instead of the little end five and one-half cents per dozen is lost due to loss in grade. Here is the way it works out; only 73 eggs out of 200 improperly packed eggs graded "A" or better when the eggs rode to town on the big end, while 164 graded "A" or better out of 200 when packed and transported with the large end up.

Beanblossom concludes that egg producers can do something about the quality contained in the egg market and he adds, an egg grading program will make it possible for quality producers to cash in on the better prices offered for the top quality eggs.

Time can be saved and inconvenience avoided if complete plans for the entire farmstead are worked out before new buildings are constructed. New buildings, including houses, should be placed in a suitable location with references to their use and to existing buildings.

Better Prices Due This Summer for Quality Eggs

In many Texas areas this summer, egg producers will have an opportunity to take advantage of the better prices offered for quality eggs. According to F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist of Texas A. & M. College, the egg grading programs in these areas are showing just how important environment, especially heat and humidity, are to the production and marketing of quality eggs.

The temperature of the freshly laid egg, he says is above 100 degrees F and if quality is to be maintained, rapid and thorough cooling of the fresh eggs is a must. Beanblossom points out that eggs will cool from 100 degrees F. to 50 degrees F. in three hours when they are spread out on a wire tray. It will take five hours for them to cool, if held in a wire egg basket twelve hours when held in solid pails and eighteen to twenty four hours when in an egg case.

Here is what excess heat does to egg quality. He says eggs 100 days old may be better than some eggs are only three days old because eggs held a 99.6 degrees F. drop to "B" grade in three days or less. Eggs held at 77 degrees F will usually hold up for at least eight days; when held at 45 degrees F. they were still "A" at 65 days and when they were held at 37 degrees F. they retained their top quality for 100 days. This, he says, clearly indicates that age does not affect the

Proper Methods of Grading Meats Shown at A&M

Grading demonstrations involving both live animals and dressed carcasses were conducted as part of the program of the annual 4-H Club Round-up and Extension agents' conference at Texas A. & M. College, June 11 to 18.

According to A. L. Smith, extension animal husbandman in charge of the events, the purpose of the two demonstrations was to acquaint county agents and other interested people with the grades of market livestock and the requirements for the grades.

Smith said that more interest in grades of market animals has been brought on by the increased practice of showing dry-lot fed animals in county livestock shows. Another factor which has added to the interest in grades is the classification shows, which are actually grading shows, he added.

The demonstrations also gave county agents information about what grade differences can be expected from cattle handled in different ways—such as pasture fattening as compared with dry-lot feeding.

Before the live animal grading demonstration was held, 77 county agents, Texas A. & M. students and professors, and adult visitors participated in a grading contest. Sixteen slaughter steers and 12 slaughter calves were graded.

After the contest, Tom Bruce, marketing reporting supervisor,

PMA, Kansas City, Mo., went over each of the animals graded by the contestants and placed it in an official grade. As he graded the animals, he pointed out the desirable and undesirable characteristics of each and explained why he placed it in a particular grade.

Bruce placed four of the slaughter steers in the choice grade, seven in good, three in medium, and two in common. Of the 12 slaughter calves graded, two were choice, seven good, one medium, and two were common.

Woodrow Allen, assistant county agent from Coleman, Texas, was high point man in the grading contest with a score of 89.

Five animals from each of the two market classes were slaughtered and dressed for the carcass demonstration.

Fred Beard, chief of the Livestock Grading Service, USDA, Washington, D. C., acted as official grader for the carcasses grading demonstration. Before placing the carcasses in their respective grades, he discussed the objectives of live animal and carcass grading. He said that each carcass is graded according to the specifications of the different carcasses that hang next to it.

As he graded each carcass, Beard discussed the desirable and inferior characteristics of the carcass which determined the grade in which it was placed.

Two of the slaughter steer carcasses graded choice, and one each of the other three graded good, commercial, and utility. None of the slaughter calf carcasses graded as high as choice; three graded good, one commercial and one utility.

Although the object in live an-

Successful Vacation Bible School Closed At Paint Creek

A successful Vacation Bible School was held at Paint Creek Baptist Church, even though every one was busy with their crops. There were 82 enrolled with an average attendance of 69. The closing exercises were held Sunday night, at which time demonstrations of things learned were given and handwork displayed.

RETURN FROM DALLAS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCurley returned Sunday from Dallas where they have been visiting their grandchildren, Bobby and Lynelle Tankersley attending the three week's singing and music school of Stamps Music Company. This is the third year they have attended. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tankersley, Jr. of Knox City, came down the last week of school and enjoyed it very much.

Animal grading is to place the animal in the market class corresponding to the grade in which the carcass will be placed when dressed. It is difficult to determine the quality of a carcass that will be produced by looking at the live animal. Smith said that the results of the grading demonstration, in which the carcasses corresponded closely, but not exactly to the grades placed on the live animals, indicate the variation to be expected between live animals and dressed carcass grades.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WE think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a toe-touch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this: That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROADMASTER your choice over any other car:

Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard: A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER!

Motorists Advised To Check Cars For Vacation Driving

Driving your car on a vacation trip? "Your vacation will be carefree only if the car which takes you there and brings you back is free of mechanical faults and is in top shape in every respect," said E. L. Harrig, manager, service and mechanical department, Chevrolet Motor Division.
"The pre-vacation checkup should be more than the customary oil change, lubrication, tire, battery and radiator check," said Harrig. "Brake adjustment, wheel alignment, rear axle and transmission lubrication and spark plug cleaning are among the items that should be checked on your vacation-bound car. Air cleaners should be cleaned, tires cross-changed, wheel-bearings packed and windshield wipers checked for proper functioning.
"For safety, the lights should be tested, windows and windshields examined. For comfort, don't neglect shock absorbers, wheel bearings and tire pressures. And for peace of mind, there is nothing like a motor tune-up to assure you that all's right with the road."

Effects of Atomic Weapons Told In New Booklet

A description of just what happens when an atomic bomb explodes will soon be available to the public in an official Government document now being printed at the Government Printing Office. Entitled "The Effects of Atomic Weapons," the book will be released about August 1, and advance orders may now be placed with the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C., at $1.25 per copy. All proceeds from the sale go to the Government.
Of primary interest to persons engaged in civilian defense and building trades, the book contains previously unpublished details on atomic explosions. The damage caused by the atomic bombs in Japan is examined with estimates of the probable effects on American cities. The types of buildings which test withstand the shock and the hazards of various radiations are described and illustrated.
The book was prepared by the Atomic Energy Commission from non-confidential scientific and technical information. It is the most information and authoritative book on atomic weapons which can be made public and is the most significant document to be published since the Smythe Report.

Peach Harvest Gets Underway; Short Crop Indicated

Some peaches are now being harvested in Texas but the total crop will be smaller than usual due to the unfavorable weather during the past winter and spring. Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A. & M. College says homemakers should bear this fact in mind and make the best possible use of the small crop that will be harvested.

First, she says, don't let that "skin you love to touch appearance" mislead you when selecting peaches. The best tasting peaches ripen from the seed outward and it is the poor quality varieties that ripen from the outside in to the seed.

Tree ripened peaches have a more desirable flavor because the fruit enzymes have an opportunity to do their job, adding the luscious flavor that is lost when the peaches are picked before they are mature. She says the fruit that is harvested before it is well matured never becomes soft not even when canned.

The tree ripened peaches must be handled with care for they bruise easily and deteriorate rapidly. They should be, according to Miss Mason eaten, canned or frozen as soon as possible after picking. If they must be held over for several days, keep them in cold storage at 36 to 40 degrees F.

She says the delicious flavor is reason enough for eating peaches but they also supply needed vitamins. At the peak of ripeness, they supply a fair amount of vitamin C, some vitamin B and yellow peaches contain vitamin A. They also contain needed minerals.

From a nutritional standpoint Miss Mason says each person should get a serving of at least two fruits per day and peaches can be used to fill at least a part of the bill.

For breakfast she suggests serving a bowl of prepared real with sliced peaches and cream; for dinner, a peach chiffon pie or an old fashioned peach cobbler will taste mighty good to the family and for supper, you might try fresh sliced peaches and cream, frozen peach salad or cottage cheese and peach salad. Canned or frozen peaches may be substituted for the fresh fruit, she adds.

Other suggested ways of serving peaches include, peach shortcake, peach ice cream, peach sherbet, peach upside down cake, boiled custard and peaches, peach torte, peach tarts and on fruit plates.

She says be sure there are some canned peaches, preserves, peach pickles and peach butter on the pantry shelves for use when the fresh peach season is over and don't forget to stock the home freezer or locker box.

Miss Mason suggests that you visit your local county home demonstration agent if you need information on preparing and preserving peaches.

Careless Fishermen Face Multiple Charges at Austin

AUSTIN, Texas.—Two Austin fishermen were arrested in a wholesale fowling. The warden who handled the case said they were using illegal net to seine illegal bait for apparent use on an illegal line.

The arrest was made in Lake Austin at the mouth of Bull Creek. The warden reported the men were using a seine twice the size of the 20-foot limit on minimum seines of quarter inch mesh, that their catch comprised bass and crappie protected by law and that the game fishes apparently were being used to bait a 48-hook trotline in waters having a two-hook limit. Court action is pending.

The infestation of flowers and many plants is particularly year in many sections. They are often caused by them being planted in the ground. They suck the sap from the plants and cause them to take on a dried appearance.

Freshly laid eggs will cool from 100 F to 50 F in three hours if spread out on a wire tray. They will cool in five hours if held in a wire basket; twelve hours when held in solid pails and 19 to 24 hours when held in an egg case. Fast cooling is essential to quality.

Cottonseed oil made tremendous gains in the shortening market during 1940, preliminary estimates by the Department of Commerce reveal. A total of nearly 530,000,000 pounds of cottonseed oil went into shortening during the year, bringing an increase of more than 200,000,000 pounds over 1940.

Collections of wool lint around the baseboard of a clothes closet makes an ideal home for moths and carpet beetles. The same goes for accumulation of dog and cat hairs.

UP AND UP AND UP
Federal expenditures have risen from $3.4 billion in 1930 to 9.3 billion in 1940 and $42 billion in 1950.

Lake Whitney, on the Brazos River about 38 miles northwest of Waco, has received its first stock of fish. The dam is not complete but the water has backed up in the river channel about ten miles and is about twenty feet deep at the dam. Fifty thousand black crappie from the Dallas state fish hatchery comprised the first planting. More crappie plus black bass and channel cat will be released later.

Leo D. Lewis, recent Texas A. & M. graduate, is a new member of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission stationed at Wichita Falls. Kenneth C. Judges and Robert Kemp, Texas University graduates, have been assigned as aquatic biologists to the Colorado lakes and Caddo Lake areas respectively.

The average cost of trapping Texas deer for transplanting was $29.79 for the last year. The total cost for trapping 885 whitetailed deer on one South Texas ranch was $21,848.87 or $25.56 per head. At the same place, trapping 135 turkeys cost $5,534.73 or $4.88 per head. The cost of trapping 271 deer on the Aransas refuge was $11,699.01 or $43.17 each. Cost of 183 raccoons taken at the same place was $329.81 or $1.80 each.

Black Magic

As chic and cool a "little summer black" as you've ever seen is this rayon crepe dress featured in Cosmopolitan magazine for July. It has twin rows of buttons on front and back of the smartly plain, round-necked bodice. Jerry Farnis has given it a modified bat-wing sleeve, cropping it midway between elbow and shoulder. The skirt has soft, unpressed pleats at center front. About $55.00.

We consider Fagan Dickson thoroughly qualified; and we wholeheartedly recommend him to our friends and solicit your support for him for Place No. 1 on the Supreme Court.
