Haskell Indians, following their last week, stop into the Class AA Big Spring Friday night in a non-conference game of the final home game of the season on Friday night, Nov. 10.

Indians, plagued by injuries which have hit key players, had reserves called in for at least another game.

Wheatley, reserve back, is the reason for the Indians' lack of a fracture of his left leg last Thursday. Additional injuries received by the Indians include a fracture of the right arm of Robert Brock, center, and which was expected to be a fracture. The slow-healing injury made Wednesday and that the small bone of the hand was fractured. Brock is almost unaware of the extent of his injury. Physicians of the player would be expected for at least another game.

Smith and Overton will be expected for adequate rest Friday night's tilt with one of the area's AA teams. Coach Cole has a playing roster of 15 squadmen available.

Out of the regular reserve Indian center, Wilson and Darrel likely play a major role Friday night. The game for the Indians is at Ammonett and Rutherford.

Hassen's Store To Open This Week On Limited Scale

With a formal opening of the modern new department store to be held at a later date in the near future, Hassen's Store will be opened this week end on a limited scale, according to an announcement today by S. Hassen and son, Rajah Hassen, who will be associated with his father in operation of the new store.

Location is the same site formerly occupied by the store, in the newly completed I. O. O. F. Building on the north side of the square, on which construction work was finished by contractors last week.

Mr. Hassen stressed the fact that the store would be open on a greatly limited scale, due to the fact that they will not have all of their merchandise stocks unpacked and on display. Some work remains to be done in rearranging the modern new interior fixtures of the store, and Mr. Hassen explained that the store's display windows will remain covered temporarily until merchandise has been arranged and other details completed for the formal opening.

In announcing re-opening of their store, the owners and proprietors expressed their sincere appreciation to their friends and the people of the Haskell trade area for their loyal help and encouragement during the misfortunes of the past 18 months.

Friends will also be glad to learn that both Mr. Hassen and Rajah have almost completely recovered from critical injuries received when the store and Odd Fellows building was wrecked in an unexplained explosion Dec. 29, last year.

Haskell Man Loses Leg In Accident At Abilene

Grady Piland, 37, of Haskell, who had been employed in Abilene for several months, received critical injuries Friday afternoon in an accident on the Abilene Southern Railway industrial tracks in South Abilene. The injured man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Piland of this city, and had lived in Haskell the greater part of his life.

Piland, an employe of E. F. Smith, Abilene contractor, was helping unload a coal car of asphalt rock when the accident occurred about 5 p. m. Friday. A switch engine, switching on the Abilene & Southern track, was trying to couple two cars of sand on the track above the working men.

The coupling failed to hold or the "knuckles" of the coupling were setting on the wrong angle, and the switch engine's bump started the two loaded cars rolling, according to C. A. Dawson, A. & S. traffic agent. He said the sand cars collided with the coal car and knocked Piland and Allen Myers, another E. F. Smith employe, from the coal car on which they were sitting. Piland fell under the moving car and both his legs were crushed. Myers managed to leap clear of the car, and was uninjured.

Dawson said the switchman saw the sand cars were going to hit the coal car and yelled a warning. L. M. Wallace was foreman of the crew and J. M. Hudson, a helper was reported to have yelled. O. D. Allphin, another member of the crew, was standing at a road crossing out of hearing distance.

The Smith workers had a "dipper" on a truck, which was parked beside the coal car. They had stopped work temporarily and the two men were sitting on the edge of the car when it was hit.

Marine Corporal Wm. Glenn Hewitt Is Killed September 24 In Battle For Seoul

A Rule corporal has been killed in battle in Korea, first Haskell county soldier to lose his life in the Korean fighting.

He was Cpl. William Glenn Hewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hewitt of Rule, and former resident of this city. According to information received by the parents, Cpl. Hewitt was killed while fighting with the Marine First Division on Sept. 24.

Corporal Hewitt's wife, who now lives in San Bernardino Calif., had received a letter from her husband written Sept. 22, two days before he was killed. The Marine wrote that he was on a hill overlooking Seoul, so it is presumed he was killed during the bitter fighting for that city, capital of South Korea. In the letter, Cpl. Hewitt told that he and a buddy, a Sgt. Smith from Houston, had managed to stay together since going overseas together, and that they both had occupied the same foxhole during some of the bitter fighting.

Cpl. Hewitt was a veteran of World War II, having volunteered in the Marines in the summer of 1941, six months before Pearl Harbor. At the time of his first enlistment the family was living in Aspermont, where he attended high school.

During the last war, he served in the Pacific theater and was wounded in action in the battle for Saipan. He served in the Marines eight and a half years, having re-enlisted shortly after his discharge following the close of hostilities in 1945. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor for two years, where he was Rifle Range coach at the U. S. Naval Yard. He was stationed in Idaho before going to Korea July 20 of this year.

Adjoining the lodge hall proper is a large recreation and game room, and a completely equipped modern kitchen. An entrance and fire escape leads from the second floor in the rear of the building.

An open house is being planned in the near future, when the public will be invited to visit and inspect the new lodge building.

Wake Up Morning Appetites!

This time of the year, brunch parties on Sundays are wonderful solutions for informal entertaining. Main thing to remember is that people are cheerier if their morning meal is tasty, so set out their favorite fare and the seasonings to make the main dish a hit, salt and Tabasco. Serve individual casseroles of browned hash topped with poached eggs. Either canned hash or the homemade variety, using up left-overs from your weekend roasts, will prove filling and delicious, and the poached eggs give the hash a dress-up touch. Tabasco and salt give the eggs the final fillip for flavor.

Continued Climb In Business Activity In Texas During August

The level of business activity in Texas continued to climb during August in spite of the fact that the hysterical consumer buying in July had begun to subside, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. Every important phase of business activity rose over July, and all lines of business were substantially above a year ago.

The index of business activity compiled by the Bureau rose 3 per cent in August after adjustment for seasonal variations. This increase brought the index to a level 19 per cent above August 1949 and again represents a new record. It should be noted that May and June both set new records, before the stimulating effects of the war were felt. With the rush of consumer and business buying that resulted from the war in Korea, July and August continued to climb.

The value of building permits issued in August rose to almost 13 times the volume issued in the prewar period of 1935-39. The Bureau's seasonally adjusted index of building permits advanced in 1281 in August, an increase of 19 per cent over July. Building costs have been rising since the beginning of the Korean war, but after making allowance for these increases the volume of building increased 16 per cent between July and August and was 83 per cent higher than a year earlier.

The Bureau's index of sales of durable goods stores slid 4 per cent in August from July. This decline, however, still left the index at 63 per cent of the prewar base period.

Jewelry stores and building material dealers were the only durable goods stores reporting an increase in business for August over July. Sales of soft goods boomed during August, with non-durable goods stores reporting an increase of 5 per cent over July after allowance for seasonal variation.

Texas farm cash income for August showed an increase of 16 per cent over July after adjustment for seasonal variation, but was 27 per cent below a year ago.

Culling Dairy Herd Involves Many Factors

Milk production is the final test of what a cow is doing in the dairy herd, but many other factors need to be considered before a cow is culled from the herd, says R.E. Burleson, associate dairy husbandman for the Texas A.&M. College Extension Service.

The management and feed that the cow received as a calf, as a heifer, and in the milking herd may have prevented her from producing to the best of her ability. The dairyman must consider whether or not she was developed as a calf and as a heifer.

Improper management in the milking herd, the cow's production of a good milk production composed of hay, grain along with pasture, and her best. Burleson culling without looking at the management and feeding some may result in the loss of some good cows.

Consider the cow's production of a longer period of others. It may be desirable to obtain another calf for replacement.

Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Cox are visiting relatives in Throckmorton.

R. P. Simmons of Lee county came out this week for a look at our country, and was so well pleased that he bought L. N. Riter's residence for $950 cash, and we understand he will move his family here around December 1.

B. L. Frost has been taking in the State Fair and looking after business interests in the Dallas section this week.

Ed Jones of Stephens county, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones of this place and who live on the old homestead place in the Clear Fork valley, had quite a stirring experience during the recent flood on the Clear Fork.

On the night of the flood, he walked to find his residence surrounded by rising waters. Fearful for the safety of his wife and children, he loaded them into a buggy and using the only horse he had up, finally managed to get his family to higher ground on nearby hills. After the flood had gone down he found that water had reached a depth of 26 inches in his house. He had several stacks of millet and sorghum, in fact all his feed, washed away. Nine meat hogs he had in a pen were washed away but finally came back, he said. None of his horses or cattle were lost, and he had heard of no loss of human lives but many people in the valley suffered heavy property losses.

It is estimated that water in the river was 4 feet higher than in the rise of 1875.

Try to do to others as you would have them do to you, and do not be discouraged if they fail sometimes.

Mens' Shirts Take Top Place As Cotton User

Mens' shirts have climbed to the top of the list of the cotton industry's chief customers, the National Cotton Council revealed today in a report of cotton consumption statistics for 1949.

In 1949 an estimated total of 534,000 bales of cotton was used in the manufacture of mens' shirts. The next four leading cotton customers for the year were sheets, accounting for 449,000 bales; bags 404,000 bales; drapery and upholstery fabrics, 388,000 bales; and tire cord, 384,000 bales.

The Cotton Council's market research department issued the new consumption statistics in its 1948-49 edition of Cotton Counts Its Customers, a study of cotton uses.

Abilene Refinery Announces Huge Expansion Project

Keeping pace with the oil industry progress, the Onyx Refining Company of Abilene, Texas, announces a $650,000.00 expansion program.

Officials of the company stated 'Agricultural and industrial development in West Central Texas have provided a sound economy, and we are convinced that the area can and will support a larger refinery capable of producing highest quality petroleum products. Since we purchased Onyx in 1947, 100 per cent of the revenue from the refinery and pipeline operations have been re-invested in West Central Texas, and this expansion program further proves our faith in this area.'

Principal additions to the refinery will be a "platforming unit" and a new thermal cracking still. Other additions will include stabilization unit, vacuum distillation unit, additional tankage, pumps and lines to support the expanded operation which will increase the crude oil output from its present 4250 barrels per day to 5500 barrels per day by June 1, 1951. Recently nine acres of land was purchased adjacent to the present refinery site on Highway No. 277, eight miles north of Abilene.

Contracts have been executed, designs approved, and procurement of material is underway by the company's engineers, contractors and suppliers.

The platforming unit, under license from Universal Oil Products Company, is the latest development in petroleum processing to increase quality of motor fuels. This process reforms straight run gasoline produced from the primary distillation method. It employs a special catalyst containing a derivative from the metal platinum; hence, the name "Platformer" and the high octane product, "Platformate," rated as the highest quality motor fuel possible to produce.

Onyx will construct the new units with its own personnel, under the engineering supervision of the designers of each unit. Approximately 35,000 barrels of additional steel tankage has already been added as a part of this project, to support the increased production of refined products. This program will continue at a steady pace with construction to proceed as materials are delivered.

It's brand new! SURIN for speedy, temporary relief of local, superficial pains of arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, bursitis, sciatica, lumbago* and also fatigue and muscular aches and pains of simple colds. Here is the secret of SURIN's fast action and blissful temporary relief of local superficial pain. SURIN is based on a new application of a principle which permits a marked degree of absorption of the anesthetic drug through the skin and treats the pain at the point of pain. SURIN contains a modern, research drug—n-methylolcholine chloride, a powerful ingredient to dilate surface blood vessels when used locally at the point of pain. SURIN has 2 way action (1) it increases the superficial blood supply (2) allows relaxing agents, camphor and menthol and local anesthetic, methyl salicylate to penetrate rapidly. SURIN acts fast. In a few minutes you feel a soothing warmth and get relief lasting 1 to 3 or more hours. No internal dosing with SURIN—use it locally! SURIN is quite different from old-fashioned ointments and lotions. SURIN may be applied without fear and is so easy to use. Has new ointment base that is smooth, creamy white. Oil has been ready!

Today the U. S. oil industry will be called on to supply the United States with 6,400,000 barrels of U. S. oil. It supplied that amount every day last week, and will supply it every day this week and next. It is a million barrels a day more than the peak of World War II, and it is 65% more than it was in 1940.

An increasing amount of today's oil goes to the needs of national defense, but the bulk of it supplies power for the millions of cars and trucks on American highways, the hundreds of thousands of tractors on American farms, and for the industries that make all the things that add up to a high American standard of living.

More cars, more tractors, more industries mean a need for more oil, year after year. This need has required the oil industry to look far ahead, to keep itself more than ready to supply current needs. It must be able quickly to meet increased demands.

And it is. Since World War II, U. S. oil companies have plowed back into the development of U. S. oil resources about $8 billion to find more oil, to increase oil production, to extend pipe lines and build tankers, to increase and improve refining capacity.

So the oil industry has been ready for the Korean emergency all along. It supplies today's greatly increased demand for oil in its stride. As still heavier demands are placed upon it, the industry is confident that it can supply them, too. It will be a big job. And make no mistake about it: it will involve many problems; consumers may be called on to make sacrifices; the job will require time for change and adjustment. But the oil industry is better prepared than ever before to take it on.

Experts Told Cheap Method For Adding Nitrogen To Soil

Experts told to put nitrogen into the soil by turning under legumes. M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist of Texas A. M. College, says this method is contained in a report received from one of the experiment stations in Virginia.

He says the report shows that corn yields rose to 104 bushels per acre on plots where crimson clover had been turned under for the purpose of adding nitrogen to the soil. The per acre yields on the plots where no legume was turned under, and on which no commercial nitrogen was applied, were only 50 bushels per acre.

The application of 100 pounds of nitrogen, in commercial fertilizer raised the per acre yield to 102 bushels but the nitrogen application by this method cost 17 cents per pound. He adds that tests conducted by the Texas Experiment Station have given similar results.

The test plots in Virginia were not grazed, Thornton says if livestock is taken off the legume in time to let it grow before plowing it under, that there will be no appreciable decrease in the amount of nitrogen added to the soil. The reduction, if any, will be more than offset by the feed produced and utilized as a grazing crop by livestock.

In addition to adding nitrogen to the soil that can be used by the crop that follows the legume, Thornton says the addition of the organic matter to the soil is also very important. Organic matter increases the water holding capacity of the soil and is a big aid in checking erosion. It also aids in improving the tilth of the soil.

Now, adds Thornton, is the time to get the winter legumes planted. An application of superphosphate will materially improve the growth rate of the legume and he says don't forget to inoculate the planting seed. It is the bacteria that form the nodules on the roots of legumes that have the ability to take the nitrogen from the air and store it in the plants. He says every farm is a potential nitrogen factory and the Virginia experiments clearly show the advantages of growing crops that will return nitrogen to the soil. Five cents per pound against 17 cents per pound when it is supplied in commercial fertilizer.

Don't blame the student if she thinks chickens bring good luck. Miss Inez Franz, freshman Texas State College for Women student from Barker, keeps one on her study desk. She wears miniature chickens on necklaces and bracelets. Reason? Chickens are paying her way through college. A pen of five entered in the Houston Fair brought a record $55 per pound or a total of $935.

Stars, Action, Top "Two Flags West" Showing at Texas Sunday, Monday

A star-studded cast brings to life the story of "Two Flags West," historical adventure spectacle based on a little known irony of the Civil War, coming to the screen of the Texas Theatre in a special preview Saturday night, and showing Sunday and Monday.

In starring roles of the Twentieth Century-Fox production are Joseph Cotten, Linda Darnell, Jeff Chandler and Cornel Wilde, one of the luminous quartets of any film year. To assure a production that would be authentic as well as pictorial, the studio dispatched the troupe of 165 artists and artisans to San Ildefonso, New Mexico, actual locale of this story of the 1860's, for the seven-week filming assignment.

"Two Flags West" is the drama of Confederate soldiers captured by the Union Army and granted amnesty to aid in fighting the Indians in the West. This entire new subject, based on an overlooked presidential proclamation which made it possible, becomes the basis for a personal epic of action and romance.

Prompt destruction of cotton stalks following harvesting is not only a good control measure for the pink bollworm but for the boll weevil and possible other cotton insects as well.

Health Officer Cites Different Methods Of Curing Hams

Old style, palate tickling, succulent smoked hams like you used to prepare for special Sunday dinners are giving way to the tenderized and ready-to-eat varieties.

Increased danger of spoilage comes with the change, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox says. Used to be you could salt down a ham then home-smoke it slow and easy. When done, would hang it on the back porch easily accessible for a quick slice.

Those days are fast waning, for city folks. Ask your butcher for a smoked ham nowadays, and you get two choices: "tenderized," or "ready-to-eat." They look the same, and have some of the old sweetness. But there the similarity ends, Dr. Cox says.

Since less preservative salt is used in the smoking process, today's ham products have to be placed under immediate refrigeration, the same as any other meat.

"Tenderized" hams are smoked at a temperature of approximately 129 degrees, Dr. Cox says that means they have to be cooked before eating in order to kill any trichina larvae that may be present.

"Trichina larvae, which cause trichinosis, are killed at a temperature of 137 degrees F," the health officer cautioned. "That's internal temperature."

He warned that "ready-to-eat" ham products are smoked at approximately 160 degrees, and cured with less salt than regular smoked hams. They'll spoil easily unless kept under refrigeration until eaten.

Here are the health officer's recommendations regarding these products:

1. They cannot be stored in temperatures above 50 degrees. Neither can prepared dishes or sandwiches made from the products.
2. Strict sanitation should be observed in handling them.
3. They should be handled in refrigerated equipment from packing plant to consumer.
4. Cook-before-eating must not be confused with ready-to-eat meat products. Always ask the retailer about the meat to make sure of the cooking procedure.

Cotton Continues As Chief Source Of Crop Income

Cotton continued to be the nation's leading source of crop income for farmers during 1949, the Southern Regional Research Laboratory reports. Income from cotton amounted to $2,380,000,000 during the year, with an additional $257,000,000 obtained from the sale of cottonseed.

The income from cotton alone showed an approximate 11 per cent increase over the preceding year.

Crops which followed cotton in amount of income were: wheat, $2,168,000,000; corn—$1,358,000,000; and tobacco, $904,000,000.

With the exception of wheat and corn, income from cotton was two and one-half times greater than any other single crop. Cotton accounted for 8.5 per cent of the total $12,737,000,000 income which was derived from crops during 1949.

Like America's finest cars Ford offers you a V-8 engine. No other low-priced car does. Nor does any other car at any price offer you a choice of V-8 or Six engines. And remember, Ford's V-8 costs hundreds less than most since—Ford's Six costs even less.

Varicose Veins Common Ailment, Seldom Fatal

Varicose veins is a fairly common affliction. It is estimated that about 70 per cent of all women suffer from them and more than 40 per cent of all men. Although there is no evidence that varicose veins have ever been a direct cause of death, they do get painful if neglected.

These enlarged, bluish veins which project above the surface of the skin in lumpy masses, are most common in the legs. Doctors explain that man's proneness to varicose veins in the legs is simply due to the fact that we walk upright. Walking and standing upright puts a strain on the long veins in the legs. Blood pressure in the veins of the legs is consid-erably greater when a person is standing than when he is lying down or otherwise has his feet elevated. That is why people who stand a great deal -- waitresses, salespersons, policemen, train and street car conductors--often suffer from varicose veins.

The person who suffers from varicose veins should see his doctor as soon as possible. There are various forms of medical treatment for varicose veins, including surgery, injections, or specified periods of rest, depending on the type and seriousness of the proper treatment.

There is no specific way of preventing varicose veins but a person can avoid certain things that bring on the condition, or aggravate it when it occurs. Tight, circular garters constrict the veins of the legs and their veins, can help bring on painful varicose veins. The person who stands a great deal should, if at all possible, try to get off his feet and rest them now and then, preferably with the legs in an elevated position.

Varicose veins should never go untreated. As they become progressively worse, there is danger of infection and of an ulcerous condition in the leg. Modern, medical treatment of varicose veins is efficient and frequently painless and the suffering and embarrassment they cause is nowadays unnecessary.

Think twice today when you buy a truck!

WHAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:

GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles--with the broadest truck engineering experience.

GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.

GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque--greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchro-Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, air-plane-type bearings and Lifetime Weather-sealed cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before--experience proves them best in the long haul!

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power—and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one? All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a standout buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo*—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—cuts its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

The right combination. You'll feel your best in a new Style-Mart Suit—the latest word in clothing luxury. The richness of fabric and the perfection of fit will bring out the best in you.

Other fine names you will find at Hunters — Hart, Schaffner & Marx, McGregor, Wilson Brothers, Florsheim, Mal-lory, Justin, Barsalino.

Excess 1950 Cotton To Retain Penalties If Sold In 1951

Farmers who have overplanted their cotton acreage allotments this year will not be allowed to hold the excess over for sale without penalty in 1951.

This announcement was made by B. F. Vance, chairman of the State Production and Marketing Administration, from College Station last week. It was to refute a recent press dispatch from Washington which had stated that excess cotton produced in 1950 could be sold without penalty in 1951.

The announcement pointed out that the removal of acreage and marketing controls in 1951 will not rescind or relax any of the 1950 regulations. Farmers who have overplanted their allotment will still be subject to the marketing penalty, regardless of when the cotton is placed on the market, Vance said.

Rust Prevention Required for Best Car Performance

Prevention of rust and corrosion important for continued good in automobile cooling system is service of the car, E. L. Harrig, manager of the Chevrolet service and mechanical department said.

Judging from the limited use of corrosion inhibitors with water it is apparent that many motorists do not realize the seriousness of this problem," Harrig said.

"In the winter, the standard anti-freeze products contain inhibitors which prevent corrosion. But the problem is even more serious in warm weather or in southern climates because of higher operating temperatures."

Oxygen from the air in the cooling system is the most serious cause of corrosion. Harris cited other causes as presence of corrosive mineral salts in the water exhaust-gas leakage into the cooling system, use of unneutralized acid- or alkaline-cleaner solutions and the use of certain acid-containing stop-leak preparations.

Radiators should be flushed and cleaned before use of anti-freeze or corrosion-inhibitor solutions. In cold climates, the inhibitor in the anti-freeze solution is adequate and should not be drained and flushed, and an inhibitor added for summer. However, if the permanent-type anti-freeze (ethylene glycol) is used, it may be left in the cooling system during the summer.

In warmer climates the cooling system should be flushed and cleaned every spring and fall, and a fresh filling of a good corrosion inhibitor added.

Astate-wide clinic will be held at the Fair grounds in Tyler on October 25-27. Problems dealing with broiler production and training for flock testers and selectors will be featured.

Texas stockmen can boast of being judges of good livestock but as judges of pastures and ranges especially rarer, they often do not know what to look for.

A state side clinic will be held equipment in the small home will allow the rooms to be used for more than one activity, yet will provide the space and privacy that every home needs.
