Local VFW Post Offers Services To Community In Time of Emergency

Commander Roy Frierson of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 3966, of this city, has proffered the services of the entire membership of his post during any emergency that might arise because of the serious aspect of international conditions.

Commander Frierson volunteered the services of his organization to Mayor Hunt, to County Judge Patterson to the city commission and to the county commissioners court.

In the event the Texas National Guard and active reserve components of the Army and Navy are ordered to full time military duty, we of the Veterans of Foreign Wars assure our city and county of our fullest cooperation and immediate action in forming the nucleus of a home defense unit qualified to meet any emergency that might arise," Commander Frierson said.

The V. F. W. commander also pointed out that every member of his organization has served in his country's armed forces on foreign soil, or on hostile seas in time of war, and that in the ranks of his post are men expertly trained and competent to handle any emergency that might possibly arise because of present world conditions.

"We of the Veterans of Foreign Wars urge our fellow citizens not to be alarmed and in organizing our post into a unit ready to take over in case of emergency, we definitely are not even remotely attempting to create war hysteria. On the other hand we are only making certain that should the demand arise we will be ready for action," Commander Frierson said.

At the meeting of the Quarterback Club previous and coming football games were discussed and suggestions were made on how the team might be improved and mistakes corrected. Usually a film of a college football game was shown where ideas could be picked up for the betterment of the local team.

Due to the fact that the club is young and not completely organized, the membership was active only during football season. Plans are being made to broaden their field by backing other high school sports.

Rodeo Boosters From Seymour To Visit Haskell

The Fifty Fourth Annual Seymour Rodeo and Reunion will get underway Thursday morning, July 27, when the old settlers gather at the Seymour city park for a day of feasting and reminiscing. This affair each year attracts hundreds of pioneer citizens who had a hand in carving the community out of the old west.

The Rodeo and Reunion is sponsored by the Seymour Chamber of Commerce and is headed by Henry Arledge and Dick Morris as general chairmen. The rodeo will open July 27 and run through July 29.

A big street parade will precede each night's show, featuring a number of bands, floats, and literally hundreds of horses and riders. The shows will be held at night only, in Seymour's famous two-ring arena, where there is something happening every minute. Dances will follow each night's show.

Nat Fleming of Byers, Texas, well-known rodeo announcer, has been employed to announce the shows. Buddy Heaton of Hugoton, Kans. has been secured to clown the performances. Both of these fellows appeared in the rodeo last year, and their popularity merited a return performance.

As an added feature, the Lucas-Wood Indoor Circus, top tumbling and acrobatic troupe from Wichita Falls, will thrill the spectators with their daring tricks.

The rodeo, which is strictly amateur, promises to be the biggest and best of the fifty-three that have gone before.

Writer Cites Trend Against Game Hogs

The Hill Country of Texas, through increased conservation sentiment and better cooperation by the courts, is pointing the way to better wildlife protection, according to an article in the current "Texas Game and Fish" Magazine.

The author, Fred Weston of San Antonio, vice president of the Texas Wildlife Federation, writes that universal adoption of the Hill Country movement "will mark the beginning of a downward trend in game law violations in Texas."

Weston emphasizes that "conviction for game law violations must be considered the ultimate goal of game and fish conservation." "Rather," he goes on "it is the prevention of violations which we should be primarily concerned. Prevention is brought about by two conditions. Sincerity of conservation belief is one, and sure punishment of violators is another."

"Both conditions exist in much of the Texas Hill Country. More and more individuals are becoming conservation-minded and certainly the knowledge of the great number of convictions obtained in this area prevents many violations because of the fear of getting caught."

Weston stresses that while reports of game law violations disturb sportsmen that citizens are not alarmed in sufficient force. This, he explains, is "because of the philosophy that warp the minds of otherwise lawabiding citizens and lets them violate a game law with no strain on their conscience."

He pleads for application of the same reaction to ordinary crime to game law violations since "killing deer out of season is just as much a violation of the law as is burglary, for all laws are

Many Special Services Now Available To Smaller Public Schools of Texas

The smaller public schools of Texas now have available many special services which have raised the standards of education and improved the health of the children.

Until enactment by the last legislature of the Gilmer-Aiken laws, only the larger and richer school districts could afford the numerous services now being utilized throughout the state. Miss Waurine Walker, president of the Texas State Association, declared today.

Increased state funds for districts after they have met state requirements as to financing on the local level has made available teacher supervisors, student counselors, librarians, visiting teachers, nurses, physicians, itinerant teachers, more vocational teachers, home economics and trades and industries courses, distributive education and more training of exceptional, or handicapped children, Miss Walker pointed out.

"The time is past when children in rural areas cannot have an education as good and in as many fields of endeavor as students in the centers of population," Miss Walker commented.

State aid to schools is offered on a variety of bases. Schools are allowed funds for a supervisor or counselor on the basis of one to every forty classroom teachers. Supervisors work with the teachers to improve education. Counselors devote their time to guiding and advising children.

Librarians, health nurses, doctors and visiting and itinerant teachers are provided for on the basis of the school districts having their choice of one of those for each twenty classroom teachers. Visiting teachers work with which prevent children's regular attendance at school. Itinerant teachers are those specializing in such subjects as art, music or physical education who give instruction in several schools in the same district daily or several times a week.

School districts in the same county can combine teacher totals to be eligible for more of these specialists.

Vocational education departments increased during the last school year by more than 500, making a total of 2,087 in the 2,492 school districts in the state.

State aid has enabled these high schools, when they have enrollments of sixty or more pupils, to hire instructors in vocational agriculture, trades and industries and home economics.

There has also been a big demand for more distributive education and it is being met. In these courses high school students devote half of their school time to classroom work and the other half to gaining actual experience in their chosen field, whether it is in mechanics, printing, selling, farming, merchandizing or work as beauty operators.

Classes for handicapped children increased 50 per cent through out the state for the last school year. Another such increase is anticipated during the 1950-51 school year as more teachers trained in this highly specialized work become available.

Smaller school districts can also combine to establish joint classes for these handicapped children. Miss Walker expects that practice to be expanded.

"Handicapped children benefit greatly under specially trained teachers, but outside the larger centers of population there are so few in many school districts it is not feasible from an economic standpoint to hire instructors. Two or more districts generally have a sufficient number of children to make possible this badly needed service," the state association president declared.

New GI Home Loan Regulations Now In Effect

New GI homeloan regulations went into effect July 12 for the more than 13,000,000 World War II veterans who have not yet used this GI bill benefit to buy or build a home.

Veterans Administration said that probably the most important aspect of the regulations to veterans is that providing for the use of the new 60 per cent guarantee up to $7,500.

The new guarantee is available only to those veterans who have not used all or part of the old 50 per cent guarantee up to $4,000 for home loans.

For veterans who have not used the old or the new guarantee the regulations provide that they may take advantage of either, but that this is a matter between them and the lender.

Veterans who elect or more of the new guarantee have no further claim on the remaining amount of the old guarantee.

The new regulations up mandatory minimum requirements for start on or after July 12 with GI loans.

Methods Outlined For Controlling Ivy or Poison Oak

He points out that several methods can be used for controlling both species. Small infestations can be grubbed out but he warns that the individual who does the grubbing should be careful. The worker should wear a long sleeved shirt, with the sleeves rolled down, a pair of gloves that come above the bottom of the sleeves and tight boots. Grub out the roots, he says and then check regularly for new growth.

If the plants are grubbed and burned, he says be careful, for the smoke from the burning plants carries the toxic volatile oil of the plant and is extremely poisonous.

Chemicals can also be used to control the plants. The weed-killer 2, 4-D has frequently been used and under certain conditions has given satisfactory control. He points out that if the plants are growing in full sunlight and the application is made in warm weather, one treatment may do the job but to take care of re-sprouting, other applications may be needed. He says best results will be obtained if the treatment is made when the plant is growing vigorously but 2, 4-D can be applied at any time when leaves are present.

The ester formulation of 2, 4-D offers the most promise as a poison ivy killer and several formulations are available. He says the directions given on the container should be carefully followed and the user should always bear in mind that 2, 4-D will kill desirable plants as well. Some plants in the garden are harmed by as little as one-millionth of an ounce of 2, 4-D. Dust mixtures should not be used because of the danger from drifting particles.

Another brush and weed killer that is sometimes used is 2, 4, 5-T. This chemical or a mixture of it with 2, 4-D is generally recommended for woody plants and may be more effective if the plants to be destroyed are mature. The addition of one quart of diesel oil or a miscible summer oil to three gallons of spray will inmost

Livestock Provides Large Portion of Farm Income

Twenty-five years ago only about one-fifth or 20 percent of the agricultural income in Texas came from the sale of livestock. Today more than 45 percent of the state's agricultural income comes from that source, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

This situation, coupled with the fact that more than one-third of all the farms in Texas are operated by tenants, is creating a great need for practical long-term lease or rental agreement. Both landlords and tenants, says Bates, are interested in working out long-term rental agreements that will prove mutually beneficial to both. Involved are such items as the division of the initial cost of the breeding animals, the division of the income from livestock how to divide the costs of improving pastures or sharing supplementary pastures, soil building crops and the like. Then there is the question of providing the additional equipment in the form of fences, water facilities, barns and other equipment that is needed on most tenant operated farms before the livestock enterprise can really be set up to the best advantage.

First Bates says both parties must realize that through necessity the livestock rental contract must be for several years. The pastures and equipment can be improved slowly and this will in turn spread the expenditures over a long period and will not necessitate the borrowing of excessive amounts of money to get the cases add to the effectiveness of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T. McClrath says that ammonium sulfate commonly known as ammate is highly effective on poison ivy but also kills all other vegetation which comes in contact with it, therefore care must be exercised when it is used.

Sprayers used for applying these chemicals should not be used for applying insecticides to flowers, ornamentals, shrubs, vegetables and the like until they have been thoroughly cleaned for only minute particles of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T will harm or kill these plants. It is best to use another sprayer, cautions McClrath for the spraying jobs.

business going. It is usually wise if other things are equal, for the experience and information gained during this growing period often means the difference between success and failure, says Bates.

Secondly, Bates points out that the kind of agreement will depend to a great extent upon the individuals making the contract but the important items is to keep the agreement and arrangements on a sound and practical basis. Both parties should profit from the rental contract not only financially but from more security and the greater satisfaction between the contracting parties that comes from the actual partnership relationship that must exist if the arrangements are to be workable.

In the absence of the president Mrs. Wisdom was in charge of the meeting. Reports were given by committees, and the type of the club exhibit at the fair was chosen.

Mrs. Howle, County Agent, gave a demonstration of Master Mix. Refreshments were served to Mes. Wisdom, Pogue, Lytle, Shaw, LeChaire, Russell, Davis, a visitor Mrs. Wheeler, and hostess, Mrs. Ray.

Miss Marjorie Whitaker spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Whitaker. She is returning to her home in Dallas Monday afternoon.

Bilberry Family Reunion Held in Lubbock Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ragsdale of this city accompanied her brother, Rev. A. R. Bilberry of Jacksboro to Lubbock last week for a reunion of the Bilberry family held at McKenzie Park in that city.

There were more than 500 relatives and friends registered for the affair. Mrs. Ragsdale met all four of her brothers there and they came back to Spur for a visit with friends there.

The reunion of the Bilberry family is an annual affair and is held each year on the second Friday in July at McKenzie Park.

Willing Workers H-D Club Observes Anniversary

The Willing Workers club of Jud met Thursday, July 13 at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. C. M. Manley for their regular program followed by a birthday party honoring the club's second anniversary.

Summer flowers decorated the entertaining rooms. Mrs. Joe Mathis led the opening song. Mrs. Cecil Jetton gave the county council report.

A birthday card and congratulations were read from a former member, Mrs. J. H. Isbell of San Angelo.

The president, Mrs. J. C. Powell, Jr. appointed a special committee to make plans for entertaining another club. Another committee was appointed to further plans for making money for the council. The recreation committee reported on the progress of the skit to be given at the Women's Encampment at Lueters Aug. 10-11.

Mrs. Vee J. Howle, the HD agent, gave a demonstration on making the Master Mix. The siftings and measurements of the dry ingredients and the blending of the fat was done at one time to be used for a dozen future bakings. The mix and receipts were developed and tested in the experimental cookery laboratory in the school of home economics of Purdue University.

Mrs. Howle presented each club member with copies of the Master Mix recipe and receipts for biscuits, cornbread, waffles, nut bread, coffee cake, gingerbread, fruit crisp topping, dumplings, yellow cake, orange cake, chocolate cake, donut muffins, chocolate drop cookies and oatmeal cookies.

Clubs, like human beings, all have birthdays to celebrate. This being our second anniversary we chose to have visitors and celebrate in song. Special songs to old times were sung.

Cake and punch were served from a lace laid table centered with the beautiful birthday cake flanked by two large white candles in crystal holders.

Visitors were Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Terry, Misses Fayma Downey and Ann and Sandra Powell of Pecos. Eleven members and Mrs. Howle were present.

Fish supplies the same high quality protein that is found in other meats and is an easily digested food. Most fish provide the consumer with vitamins A and B and the salmon and mackerel also contain the recently discovered vitamin D.

Couple Popular In Haskell Business Circles Wed In Tuesday Ceremony

The wedding of a popular Haskell couple who have been prominent in business and professional circles of this city for many years was solemnized Tuesday morning, July 18 at 9 o'clock, when Mrs. Lola Welsh Lemmons and Dr. Frank C. Scott were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan in this city.

Baskets of white and yellow gladioli and daisies were used for decorations in the living room, where the vows were read by Rev. Francis Nickerson, pastor of the First Christian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan served as attendants and only close relatives were present.

The bride chose for her wedding a Navy sheer dress with velvet trim, using Navy accessories except for white kid gloves. She wore a white orchid. Mrs. Duncan wore a pink sheer voile and yellow corsage.

Mrs. Scott, before her marriage was connected with The Free Press for a number of years as bookkeeper and in the advertising department, and also has been active in church and civic work.

Dr. Scott, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, came here from Stamford in 1939, and has maintained a modern clinic here for the past ten years.

After a brief honeymoon, Dr. and Mrs. Scott will be at home at 507 North 2nd St.

Mrs. Duncan served coffee and cake to the wedding party following the ceremony.

Homemakers Advised To Look For Safety Features on Washers

Many mashed fingers, some crippled hands a few broken arms and other injuries have resulted from accidents that have occurred around washing machines. Most of all of these could be prevented, says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, had the machine operator known how to operate the safety release on the washing machine wringer.

She points out that prospective purchasers of the wringer-type washers should check the machine to be sure that the safety release on the wringer can be easily reached and that it will work at all times.

All wringers on washing machines have safety releases but some meet individual safety needs better than others, says Mrs. Claytor. The location of the release is a mighty important consideration for if it is on the opposite side of the machine from where the housewife stands when putting clothes into the wringer, it will be hard to reach. Then some releases require considerable pressure and may call for more strength than a woman can exert in an emergency.

Some machines, she adds are now being equipped with an automatic shut-off which stops the rolls when the release bar is tripped.

She suggests that prospective buyers do a little extra checking before buying. Visit a friend or neighbor who has a machine of the type you like and try operating it on washday. This way you can get first hand information. If the dealer demonstrates the machine, be sure and try out the safety release. See for yourself whether or not you can reach the release without difficulty and can trip it easily. This one feature might someday prevent a serious accident, concludes Mrs. Claytor.

Increased consumption of milk by city people would be a big step toward improving their diets. In 1948 sixty percent of all city families were using less than five quarts or its equivalent per person per week.

SEASON'S FAVORITE

The redingote dress in a smart new semi-formal length is a fashion favorite of the summer season. This glamorous cotton redingote was fashioned by Emma Domb in handkerchief sheer plaid cotton. It is worn over a theatre length formal of solid colored cotton chambrette in frosty summer colors.

Mrs. Eva Chapman won honorable mention for the most sewing. Mrs. Winnie Copeland was in charge of the recreation. A letter and word game was sponsored by Mrs. J. B. Edwards. A little comical song was sung by Mrs. Winnie Copeland and her grandson, Jimmy Copeland.

Leafworms Make Appearance In Some Fields

Leafworms have made their appearance in some cotton fields in this section, according to reports reaching the office of County Agent F. W. Martin. To date, the infestation has not reached an alarming stage, and prompt steps have been taken by farmers in the affected areas to combat the worms.

probably occurs in every cotton-growing county in the State, but heavy infestations are still widely scattered except in southern counties. The reports indicate the moths are spreading northward in large numbers from South Texas and Mexico.

The report adds that flea hoppers are numerous in the northern part of the state and are increasing in some fields in the northwestern area. The infestation in general is low but some fields need flea hopper control immediately.

A report from the Texas Experiment Station at A. & M. College states that confirmed leafworm reports have been received from 60 counties and this pest

In this case FEELING IS BELIEVING

No, the eye does not tell everything—not in this instance. True, it tells you ROADMASTER is smart. It tells you it's big. It shows, if you watch closely, that this brawny beauty rides level and unperturbed even when road-roughness has its wheels fairly dancing. A glance may even indicate how much lolling comfort there is here—what wide-open freedom passengers and driver know in this gay traveler. But how can the eye tell you how you feel touching off the great power that's under this broad bonnet? How can it reveal the silken, swift-mounting surge of oil-cushioned take-off—smooth, silky, unbroken, as Dynaflo Drive works its magic? Even when you watch a ROADMASTER settle down to a long steep pull and crest the top going away, how can it tell you what thrill your spirits get from such ability? And what can it say of the lift that's yours traveling in a beauty that catches all eyes, swivels passing heads, marks you by its very lines as traveling in as fine a car as any man can ask for? No, these things you have to feel for yourself, and we're delighted to help you do so. Your Buick dealer wants you to know about ROADMASTER firsthand—wants you to drive it, try it, feel it out. It doesn't cost a cent to arrange such a trial. It can do a lot toward opening your eyes to the day's highest standard of fine-car feel and fine-car action—not to mention "why pay more?" prices. How about seeing your dealer right away?

Statement To Voters

The District Attorney's duties have more to do with the safety and protection of life, liberty, and property than any other officer. It is the District Attorney who represents the state and the people in all criminal matters of the grade of felony. No doubt all of us believe and advocate enforcement of the law, but the crucial question is who can best handle the case when it is required.

The District Attorney must confront the ablest attorneys in the country. The automobile has made available the most astute attorneys to the small villages and towns.

I would ask for this office only on merit. If you feel that the interest of the public is safe in my hands I solicit your support. My record in this district for the last eighteen years is an open book. Most of you know it. The position of District Attorney is not an easy one. It takes a seasoned attorney to protect the society in the administration of the law. The judge can preside, but the real key man is the attorney. He must know the law from both the standpoint of the prosecution and the defense. If you cannot defend, you are necessarily a weak prosecutor. Persecution is never justified. It is as much the duty of the state to protect the innocent as it is to prosecute the guilty.

I spent four years in the State University of Texas preparing myself to practice law and was granted a Bachelor of Law degree. I have had years of experience participating in the trial of almost every phase of criminal law. I have a good batting average. When you employ an attorney to represent you on the 22nd day of July, choose him as you would choose an attorney to represent you in any other complicated suit in the court house. If after investigation, you give me a chance, I shall summon all my experience and capabilities to give you the service you deserve and uphold the law with all its dignity.

If I am your District Attorney, no mother need fear that her son or husband will be tricked into the penitentiary or by unfair means deprived of his life or liberty, but you may rest assured that violators of the law will be vigorously prosecuted without regard to social standing or pressure or group dictation. One man is as good as another so far as the law is concerned. When we declared in the Declaration of which amount appropriate the entire flow of the Paint Creek Watershed to that city; and Whereas the Bureau of Reclamation has estimated that the said 10,000 acre feet of water annually would be sufficient to supply thirty cities in this area for the next fifty years;

City Council—

Whereas, the 10,000 acre feet of water on Paint Creek is around 16 times greater than its present domestic need and is additional to 4,095 acre feet of water which the City of Stamford, Texas, now holds permit to appropriate from the Clear Fork of the Brazos and Dam Man's Creek;

Whereas, the State Board of Water Engineers in granting said permit to Stamford, has earmarked three thousand acre feet of said water for power development and industrial purposes, thereby violating the laws of the State of Texas, by giving a power company, which has fifth priority in the use of water, precedence over domestic use, which has the first priority;

Whereas, the Bob Baskin Dam Association for fifteen years, and Courtney Hunt, Mayor of the City of Haskell, Texas, acting as Trustee for that Association, has sought water for domestic purposes for the municipalities in the Bob Baskin Dam area from the State Board of Water Engineers long before the City of Stamford, Texas, had requested use of the waters in Paint Creek;

Whereas, these waters can be practically developed through the Bureau of Reclamation for domestic use to Haskell and all other cities in the area, and the Board of Water Engineers, by denying this plan of development, has illegally interfered with local self-government and made it mandatory for municipalities to impose tax and revenue bonds upon their citizens;

Whereas, the State Board of Water Engineers in granting this permit to the City of Stamford has wholly failed to appropriate water on the basis of its need for the benefit of the public welfare; has wholly failed to appropriate our state waters in accordance with its availability; has, in violation of law, abrogated the domestic users to the power company users; has violated every principle of equity known to the people of Texas, and has imposed irreparable and suffering damages on the City of Haskell and the other municipalities of the Bob Baskin Dam territory;

Now, therefore, the citizens of Haskell and the adjoining towns of the Bob Baskin Dam Association in session, assembled on this 19th day of July, 1950, in the City of Haskell, Texas, do hereby proclaim and declare it to be the duty and responsibility of the City of Haskell, Texas, and Mayor Courtney Hunt, as Trustee for the cities asking for domestic waters, to forever defend and preserve the rights of municipalities to the prior use of the waters of Paint Creek Watershed, and that any and all necessary court proceedings be immediately launched against the State Board of Water Engineers and the City of Stamford, Texas, in order to defend and preserve these rights.

Passed and approved this 19th day of July, 1950, in public meeting by the citizens of the Bob Baskin Dam Territory.

It's Time for BROOKS! PIERCE BROOKS for LT. GOVERNOR A Business Man for a Business Job

Texas Crop Prospects Uncertain Due To Unfavorable Weather, Other Factors

The production of cash and feed crops in Texas cannot be accurately predicted at this time, however, prospects in Texas are not highly favorable. Dry weather in the very early spring handicapped farming operations and through late April, May and early June heavy rains retarded crop plantings in many sections, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College.

Crop damage from hailstorms and insects has been heavy in many sections of the state and unusually heavy rains in some areas have caused delays and costly replanting of cotton and grain sorghums as well as other crops, Bates adds. He points out that the acreages of the major crops are materially reduced by allotments on individual farms. The crops affected are wheat, rice, peanuts and cotton. For comparison, Bates gives the 1949 harvested acreage and the 1950 allotted acreages for the four crops. Wheat, 7,093,000 acres and 6,096,000 acres (only 2,743,000 acres are expected to be harvested in 1950); rice, 526,000 acres and 455,200 acres; peanuts, 572 acres and 499,800 acres and cotton, 10,296,000 acres and 8,057,000 acres.

The reduced acreages coupled with poor yield prospects at this time and with prices of most crops somewhat lower than a year ago, indicate, says Bates, that Texas farmers can hardly expect the returns they enjoyed in 1949.

On the other hand, production costs are remaining high. This means, according to Bates, that farmers must trim expenditures wherever possible if present living standards are to be maintained. Plans should be made now to utilize crops efficiently and this includes wise marketing. When possible, Bates says grain and feed crops should be marketed through livestock because the price outlook for livestock and livestock products is relatively favorable.

Generally, he says pastures and supplementary grazing crops look promising. Along with these, somewhat larger acreages of grain sorghum and corn have been planted and this extra grain and forage might be used for feeding out more livestock. This extra income will take up some of the "slack" but he adds, adjustments will need to be made to keep feed crops and livestock in balance over the long pull.

He concludes that good planning and close figuring may keep Texas farmers on the black side of the ledger this year but the need for sound farming and business-like management is increasing by the hour. Now is the time to really study the farm business and work out definite plans for increasing the income and reducing production costs in the overall operations of the farm.

Cerebral Palsy Clinic at Lubbock On August 14

A clinic for the examination of cerebral palsied children will be held Aug. 14 in Lubbock. Five specialists will be present at the Center to examine children.

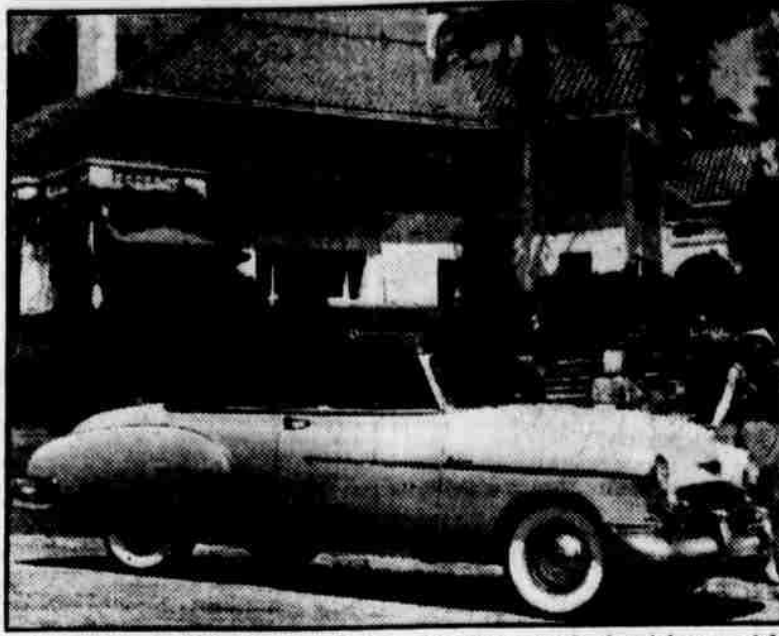

Cerebral palsy is a condition which may be present from birth or may be caused by childhood diseases such as whooping cough or measles, or by head injuries. Under treatment, many of these children improve to the extent that they can care for themselves, attend school or become employable. Treatment begun at an early age is most effective.

Parents interested in bringing children to the clinic on August 14, are requested to register the child at the Center at some time before the clinic date. Further information may be obtained by contacting Dr. Esther Snell, Director of the Treatment Center, 3302 Avenue N, or by calling Lubbock 6341.

State Game Commission Sets Hunting Season and Bag Limits for 1950

The Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission recommended a straight 45-day waterfowl shooting season beginning November 10. An earlier request for a zoning session to benefit Panhandle counties have been placed before the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service as has also a proposed bag limit of eight ducks per day and eight in possession instead of the four duck per day and four in possession allowed last fall.

The Commission authorized a 9-day antelope season west of the Pecos to be patterned after the 1948 special season in which 702 permits were issued to bag male antelope. The number of 1950 permits to be issued has not yet been determined.

The Commission approved a whitewing dove season for September 15, 17 and 19 beginning at 4 p. m. and lasting until sunset with a limit of ten birds a day and ten in possession. The Commission voted a statewide dove season of 45 days beginning October 20 and lasting until December 3 in the south zone and beginning September 1 and running through October 15 in the north zone, with a daily bag limit of ten and a possession limit of ten.

For the regulatory area west of the Pecos, the Commission authorized a deer season and quail season similar to 1949. In this area, El Paso and Terrell counties were eliminated from the antelope shooting regulations.

The statewide deer and turkey season are set by law and are not affected by the latest commission action. Deer and turkey seasons for the state at large run from November 16 through December 31, inclusive, with a limit per hunter of 2 buck deer and 3 gobblers. The quail season is from December 1 to January 16, inclusive, with a bag limit of 12 per day and a possession limit of 36 per week.

Insects Taking Toll of Cotton In Some Areas

Beneficial rains fell in many sections while drought in the southern one-third of the State has caused cotton to mature rapidly and in some sections bolls are opening prematurely. In Central, Northern, and Western areas cotton has made excellent growth but insects are taking a heavy toll in some sections where little or no control measures have been used. Continued showers in some local areas have been favorable for the increase of the pests.

Leaf worms have increased rapidly in many southern counties and have spread in fairly large numbers to Central, Northern, and Western areas in Texas and to five counties in Oklahoma. Reports from many counties indicate a rather widespread infestation in most sections of the state including the El Paso and Pecos valleys and the South Plains area. With favorable weather heavy infestations of leaf worms may be expected soon in almost any section of the state where cotton is still growing. The same insecticides recommended for boll weevil will control leaf worms.

Boll weevils have increased in many localities particularly in untreated fields where recent showers have occurred. In fields where insecticides have been used properly weevils are either under control or being controlled satisfactorily. With continued showers occurring in many sections of the state cotton fields should be checked closely and insecticides applied at 5-day intervals if the infestation is above 25 per cent. Scattered infestations of bollworms have been reported from many sections of the state and some fields are needing immediate control measures. Rapidly growing cotton should be inspected at least once each week and if bollworm eggs and 4 or 5 small worms are found control should begin immediately. An early start is most important for bollworm control.

In general fleahopper infestations are low. In some sections spotted infestations should be controlled. According to reliable reports there are no substantial stocks of insecticides available any where in the Cotton Belt. Shortages are likely to develop in many areas in the near future. Farmers should use available supplies to the best advantage possible by following recommendations closely. Damaging infestations should be controlled immediately to prevent a rapid buildup.
