Select Only Quality Turkeys for Family Thanksgiving Feast

Although there may be some doubt about which Thursday in November to select for celebrating Thanksgiving this year, there should be no doubt about the quality of the bird you select for your Thanksgiving dinner.

Regardless of whether the holiday is celebrated on November 23 or 30, Thanksgiving is only a few weeks off, and thousands of Texans will soon be selecting the turkeys that will be eaten later on that day. D. R. Barrett, assistant poultry marketing specialist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, has a few pointers for the many people who will want to select live birds and do the dressing themselves or will be having it done at the local locker plant.

Quality of the live turkey cannot be improved by any method of processing. It is important that only live turkeys of the best quality be selected, since no higher quality meat can be expected to arrive on the table than was selected from the pen of live birds.

Flesh, finish, and the absence of pinfeathers are the important factors which Barrett advises considering when selecting quality turkeys. Well fleshed turkeys will have broad breasts that are well covered with meat. The thighs will be large and the drumsticks bulging.

Barrett says that some fat over the entire carcass is desirable. He says that the creaminess of the skin on all parts of the carcass indicates that the bird is well finished. Turkeys should also be free of pinfeathers. Pins cause difficulty in cleaning the bird and detract from the appearance of the carcass.

Keeping these points in mind when selecting the live bird will help bring a delicious, appetizing turkey to the Thanksgiving table.

Cotton farmers are urged to purchase their minimum insecticide needs at this time or at least within the next few weeks. Farmers and distributors by taking delivery now can keep the insecticides and at the same time, help the storage and transportation situation.

Although the farmhouse is the business center of the farm, its location should be considered from the standpoint of its relationship to other buildings, roads, water supplies and the prevailing winds.

Gunter points out that officials in the USDA are making every possible effort to see that adequate supplies of the standard insecticides are made available but changing national and international conditions will probably be the determining factor on the 1951 supply.

He says cotton farmers should also get their spraying and dusting equipment repaired during the slack season and if new equipment is needed, now is a good time to buy.

Many problems are sure to arise in connection with the expanded cotton program and if they can be solved ahead of time or at least partially solved, production can be made more efficient and insect damage can be held to a minimum.

Texas 4-H Club Members To Observe Achievement Week

Texas 4-H members, more than 113,000 strong, will join with the nearly 2,000,000 members in the nation to observe National 4-H Achievement Week, November 4-12.
Working towards their 1950 theme, "Better living for a Better World," 4-H youth have been a busy group during the past year. They have produced and conserved food, worked to make their homes more comfortable and attractive, helped to supply the extra labor needed to produce crops and livestock and furnished "Know How" for making their farms more efficient and productive. During National 4-H Achievement Week, they will report to the nation on just what they have done. The local volunteer 4-H leaders and the outstanding members will be recognized for the contributions they have made to the welfare of their state and nation.
Their work is not limited however to producing and conserving the food and feed they produce for they devote much time to personal improvement programs. They participate in leadership training activities, citizenship work and group discussions that help them to better understand some of the important social and

NO matter how sweet a tooth you have, once in a while your taste buds appreciate tartness. Cranberries are tart but here we supplement them with pineapple for a Cranberry Pineapple Pie. The amount of sugar added isn't enough to make the filling sweet. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, 1/4 tsp. salt. Add 1 1/2-cup whole cranberry sauce and 1 9-oz. can (1 cup) crushed pineapple. Mix well. Pour into pastry-lined pie plate, dot with 1 tbsps. butter or margarine. Cover with remaining pastry and don't forget to slit the pastry top. Bake in a hot gas oven (425°F.) for 30 mins. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Such laundry as towels, corduroys, bedspreads that don't need ironing when they're dried in the gas dryer, shouldn't be left in the laundry basket to wrinkle. Fold them and put them away as soon as you take them out of the dryer.

Beets won't lose their gay red if the long taproot leaves and an inch or two of stem are left on.

Recently approved by the American Gas Association's Testing Laboratories are new gas furnaces which may be installed in such confined spaces as closets — especially convenient for the new basement-less homes.

Pickle-making? Follow the Hawaiians' lead and add curry to sharpen the flavor. A pint jar takes about 1-1/2 tsp. curry powder.

Bread toasted under the broiler has a certain crisp taste that's delicious. Preheat broiler about 3 minutes, put bread on broiler pan about three inches from flame.

Too high a flame under frying fish — and any other fried food will make it stick to the pan. Turn down the flame to prevent sticking.

economic factors that are now at work in the world. They study and practice democratic procedures and are doing their part to develop the good-neighbor spirit at home and abroad.
Miss Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent tells us that the seven 4-H Clubs in Haskell county have started a new year's work and will be showing their past achievement in various ways during the next week.

Miss Joyce Beauchamp, from O'Brien, was selected the Haskell county Gold Star Girl, by the education committee of the Haskell County home demonstration council. This means that she had made very outstanding achievements, as a 4-H club girl. She will be presented her gold star pin Saturday, November 4, by Mrs. Howard Sloan, 4-H club leader, at a regular meeting of the home demonstration council.
Haskell county 4-H members are extending an invitation to the public to join with them in their observance of National 4-H Achievement Week.

Haskell Invited To Have Special Day At Ft. Worth Show

Haskell has been invited to have a special "day" designated in its honor during the 1951 Southwest ern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, dates of which are Jan. 26 through Feb. 4.

W. R. Watt, president-manager of the Fort Worth show, in a letter to the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, said:
"Your city is invited to have a special day at the 1951 show, Jan. 26 through Feb. 4). By coming in an organized group, your citizens have lots of fun and advertise your city, as do the high school band and the Cowgirl Sweetheart."
"Plans are being made—new buildings, new features—to make the shows 55 years. A colorful yet. We need your help and we're counting on you. So please let us know which day you wish designated as Haskell Day."

A total of $140,000 in cash awards is offered, the highest in the show's 55 years. A colorful Western parade on Friday afternoon, Jan. 26, through the Fort Worth business district will usher in the show, with the first performance of the rodeo that night, and afternoon and night performances thereafter.
Construction now under way includes the Poultry Building, doubling of space for carload-and-pen division of bulls and glassing in of the archways connecting the livestock buildings. The world's greatest indoor rodeo will be held in the magnificent Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The boys' show will be a big feature of the livestock department, with the first Saturday Future Farmers' and Future Homemakers' Day and Monday, 4-H Day.

Buy and store insecticides now for use on the 1951 cotton crop. They'll cost no more and possibly less than next spring and summer when you need them.

Hauling and spreading barnyard fertilizer daily will prevent the nutrients from leaching out and being lost before it is hauled to the field or pasture for spreading.

Manager Neale Gordon announced today. John Wayne, Hollywood's greatest action star and Maureen O'Hara, the film's most beautiful woman, team with ace director-producer John Ford to achieve the year's finest outdoor screen adventure in "Rio Grande." The John Ford-Merian C. Cooper presentation for Republic co-stars Ben Johnson, Claude Jarman, Jr., Harry Carey, Jr., and Chill Wills, with J. Carroll Naish, Victor McLaglen, Grant Withers and the Sons of the Pioneers in support. "Rio Grande" is a spectacularly thrilling story of the U. S.

Cavalry at a crucial period in the turbulent history of the West. In 1875, the United States and Mexico had signed treaties respecting the sovereign rights of each country. Therefore, U. S. troops could not enter Mexico for any reason. Notorious Apache outlaw, Geronimo, took advantage of this treaty. He and his white-hatting warriors would make forays on American villages in Texas, then scurry back across the Rio Grande into Mexico before they could be captured.

Around this dramatic situation hinges the tense action of the film. Wayne, as the Colonel in command of the Cavalry fort on the border of the Rio Grande, has to choose between letting the Indians continue their marauding, or breaking the treaty in order to stop them. A personal problem arises when his son is sent to his fort as a recruit, and his wife, from whom he has been separated for 15 years, follows in order to buy the boy's way out of the troop.

Miss O'Hara plays the wife whose hate for her husband is turned to love when she comes to understand the quality of the man she married, and Claude Jarman, Jr., plays their son, who is torn between loyalty to his father and love for his mother. Ben Johnson and Harry Carey, Jr., are his buddies, and Chill Wills adds comedy as the fort's doctor.

Victor McLaglen, is a tough-talking sergeant and J. Carroll Naish plays General Philip Sheridan.

Miss Ginger Crawford of San Antonio, daughter of Maj. Gen. Alden R. Crawford, has been named "Rio Grande" by Republic Pictures—honoring John Ford's historical cavalry epic of that name which will have its world premiere in San Antonio Nov. 1st during the city's two-day salute to the military starting Oct. 31 "Rio Grande" comes to the Texas Theatre for a Saturday night preview, and showing through Tuesday.

Camp Fire Girls to Observe "Better Breakfast Week" Nov. 5 to 12

For a better life, eat a better breakfast.

That's the advice West Texas Area Camp Fire Girls are giving friends and families they prepare to observe Better Breakfast Week, November 5 to November 12.

A basic breakfast, Camp Fire Girls say, consists of fruit, or fruit juice, cereal, milk or cocoa, bread and butter, or margarine. A breakfast of that type supplies one-fourth to one third of the nutrients needed for one day.

"This is the fifth successive year that Camp Fire Girls have emphasized the need of eating a nutritious breakfast," Kathleen Crawford, Executive Director said. "It is estimated that at least two out of three Americans eat too little for breakfast. If we can convince our friends and relatives how important it is to begin each day with a basic breakfast we will have contributed much to the health, safety and, perhaps, even the 'community disposition' of Haskell."

Ryland Gleason, Area President of Camp Fire Girls, also quoted the American Education Press to show that a good breakfast in the long run is economical. "The basic breakfast which supplies at least one-fourth of the day's food needs costs but 1-6 of the day's total food bill. Breakfast really is a bargain for the family budget."

During Better Breakfast Week Camp Fire Girls will study nutrition; then they will shop for goods that fit the Better Breakfast pattern. Singly, or together they will prepare Better Breakfasts for their families and friends.

It is also Membership March time for Camp Fire Girls. The drive to enroll new members, which continues through November, is emphasizing safety as one of its objectives.

"Eating a Better Breakfast is an important factor in safety," said Miss Crawford. "Tests made recently at a midwestern university showed that without breakfast work output goes down, neuro-muscular tremor increases and reactions are slower. The results are just opposite when a good breakfast is eaten. Relationship to the accidents caused by lions, bad timing and

Range Vegetation Knowledge Termed Beneficial To Quality Production

Texas stockmen can boast of being good livestock judges because the quality of their stock indicates that they have done a good job in breed improvement. But as judges of pasture condition, of vegetation—especially grass—too many ranchmen do not know just what to look for.

The importance of learning what to look for in a good pasture grass is emphasized by F. W. Martin, County Agent. He says that 15 to 80 per cent of the forage consumed by livestock in Texas is roughage in the form of native grass. Grass is the cheapest feed available, and Martin states that knowing the vegetation, primarily grass, is fundamental in the livestock business as knowing livestock.

In some respects judging livestock and judging grass are very similar. In judging a horse certain characteristics are looked for in the animal's head. Grasses also show different characteristics in the head. In fact, the grass family is broken down into various groups on the basis of the seed head.

On a horse you want a good firm middle with a short coupling and fairly level croup. The middle of the grass, that is the leafy part, should be abundant, produce over a long season and cure out well.

Every livestock man knows that a horse must have straight, well-muscled legs with strong bones, or he will be of little value. The legs on grass, that is the root, are just as important and require just as much care as those on a horse. A grass plant depends on its root system for food and water for leaf growth. Unless the roots are deep and well distributed, reduced forage production results.

Martin reminds ranchers that heavy or close grazing has the effect of reducing the root system of the plant as well as the top growth. Good native grasses that are close-grazed die out and are replaced by poorer, short-rooted grasses and weeds which require less water and produce less forage.

A good livestock man selects animals for breeding not only on the basis of their quality as individuals, but also from the standpoint of their desirability for use in the breeding herd. Grasses, too, should be selected not as individual plants, but on the basis of their suitability for use in a balanced grazing program.

A mixture of adapted grasses which produces a maximum amount of palatable forage of high nutritive content during the major portion of the year should be the goal of every livestock man. Production of more good grass per acre means more profit from the same acreage through extra pounds of meat produced.

Knowing the various grasses, their growing and seeding season and their pedigree is essential to sound management says Martin. The ease of obtaining an excellent grazing mixture will depend on the kind and amount of the various grasses that are already present. If the pasture is being invaded by poor grasses, the job of improving the quality and quantity of the grass mixture will be more difficult. Good deep-rooted grasses for seeding out indicate that the pasture has been receiving the proper management.

If you need help in identifying the various grasses in your area, contact your county agent.

Safety Film Will Be Shown Camp Fire Girls

"Camp Fire for a happy life—Safety for a long one."

John Darnell, who is community chairman for G. M., is making available for all Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club girls, a motion picture on safety. "Safety on Wheels" will be of particular interest to girls of this age, as they are wanting to learn how to be safe while riding their bicycles. They are also learning in regular meetings how to travel safely in cars, and the Horizon Club girls are learning how to drive.

One of the State Highway Patrolmen will appear on this program to give them interesting highlights of Safety.

November 14 is the date for this city-wide event, when all the Camp Fire Girls will be seen at one time in their familiar red, white and blue service costumes. Parents and friends, young and old, are invited to come to this meeting. A meeting place has not yet been arranged, but further notice will be given.

Safety on Wheels is being stressed during Membership March time for Camp Fire. This time ends the last of November. It is hoped that by that time all girls who are interested in being members of this National Organization can be paid members. Women who will give their time to a worthy cause are needed to help girls grow into a beautiful and useful womanhood.

Children Host Reception Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Josselet on 40th Wedding Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Josselet were hostesses in the latter's home Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, from 2 to 5 for a reception honoring their parents' 40th wedding anniversary.

In the receiving line were the honorees, and their three daughters, Mrs. Estel Gilliland, Mrs. Thompson of Lubbock. Members of the house party included Mesdames O. W. Tooley, Cecil Gregory, R. L. Foote, Hudson Pitman, Jim Ferguson and Mrs. Roy Ada Rike, Walter Holt, Wallace Cox and Sam Scott. Jane Holt presided at the guest registry, which was a gift to the couple from the Philatelic Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church.

A four-tier wedding cake, decorated with red roses and doves, and punch was served to the guests from a lace appointed table, adorned with a bouquet of ruby chrysanthemums and white snapdragons, the color ruby symbolizing the 40th anniversary and a numeral on the cake completing the symbol.

Mr. Josselet and the former Minnie McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McDonald, were married Oct. 30, 1910 in the Haskell Methodist parsonage with C. B. Meadors, minister, officiating. They have lived in Haskell since that time. To this union were born three daughters, Jewel, the present Mrs. Estel Gilliland; Ruth, now Mrs. Jim Ferguson; and Dorothy, who is Mrs. Roy Thompson. They have five grandchildren: Jack Gilliland.

State Poultryman Named to Compete In National Test

Texas will be represented when 60 of the nation's leading breeders of poultry meat display their chickens next June at Fayetteville Ark., in the national Chickens of Tomorrow contest finals.

Joe Fatchel of the Western Hatches, Dallas, has been selected to enter his birds in the final stage of a three-year breeding test to develop bigger and better chickens for consumers' dinner tables.

The selections were announced by H. L. Shrader, senior poultry husbandman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who said the winning breeder will receive an award of $5,000 from A. & P. Food Stores originator and sponsor of the test. Forty poultrymen from every part of the country will be represented, all advancing to the finals by their showings in state and regional tests during the last two years.

The finals will be conducted at the agricultural experiment station of the University of Arkansas. Each breeder will send 720 hatching eggs to the University in February to be hatched under identical conditions. The following month, 400 chicks will be placed in special Chicken-of-tomorrow brooding pens. Their every meal and moves will be recorded by poultry specialists and later published as research data for the poultry industry.

At the end of a 12-week period, the birds will be judged, both alive and dressed, and final score will be determined by quality, economy of production, size and other factors. Most of these meat-type chickens will be large enough to roast, yet young and tender enough to broil or fry.
