Cotton Farmers Advised to Buy and Store Insecticides for 1951 Crops

The outlook for increased supplies of the more widely used insecticides is not very favorable at this time. Cotton farmer should keep this fact in mind when they make plans for expanding their 1951 cotton plantings. But according to A. C. Gunter, associate extension entomologist of Texas A&M College, farmers can help the situation by purchasing now and storing the insecticides on the farm.

He urges farmers to purchase their minimum insecticide needs at this time or at least within the next few weeks. The insecticide manufacturers have limited storage space and when this space is completely filled, they must cease operations. Farmers and distributors by taking delivery now can keep the insecticides moving and at the same time, help the storage and transportation situation.

Gunter says that insecticides will cost no more now than they will next summer and there is a possibility they may come cheaper. He says dusts and sprays can be stored safely on the farm. The dusts must be stored in a dry building and the spray containers should be stored where they will not be damaged from breakage. Both types of material can be stored for months.

He says sprays will not freeze because of the emulsion they contain and that no cases have been reported that show that dusts or sprays have broken down when kept in storage for as long as a year. Most of the metal containers, he adds, have a special lining and unless this lining is broken, no trouble from a leaky container should occur.

He says the recommendations covering the use of insecticides for cotton insect control have not yet been made for 1951 but he has been assured that the standard formulas will not be changed.

It must be remembered that the basic chemicals used in the insecticide manufacturing process are also needed in connection with our national defense program and any change or changes in the present situation could quickly effect the supply of insecticides.

As a courtesy to the Magazine Club, to honor the Press and in observance of National Flower Week, the local florist presented an attractive arrangement of Fall flowers in the club colors for the speaker's table.

Honor guests from the Haskell Free Press were Mr. and Mrs. Jetty V. Clare, publishers; Alonzo Pate, editor; Miss Janella Couch, office assistant. Honor guest from Wichita Falls Record-News was Mrs. Fay Stewart, society editor.

Honor guests from Abilene Reporter-News were Frank Pruitt, circulation manager; Mrs. L. R. Jackson, assistant society editor. Mrs. Ada Rike, club president, extended greetings to guests and reminded the club members to send to her house donations for the Christmas Friendship Box, to be sent to the Navajo Indians.

Mrs. John Rike, program director, introduced guest speakers. Jetty V. Clare discussed "Our Home Town Paper." He opened his talk by giving in detail the history of the Haskell Free Press from its establishment to the present time. His explanation of the efforts made in getting the news and printing the paper, the necessity of advertisements as a means of keeping the newspaper in circulation was most enlightening. Mr. Clare stressed the fact that the paper is just as important to the advertiser as it is to the reader.

Mrs. Fay Stewart spoke on the general subject of the influence and responsibility of the "Power of the Press." Her particular theme being "News Not History." She explained very minutely how quickly a newspaper gets its news and how pictures are received for publication. Mrs. Stewart had for display reams of wire copy, showing how news is received and run off for printing.

Mrs. S. R. Jackson's theme was "For and About Women." She told the story of the writeup in Life Magazine of Mrs. Leltie Faucett, society editor of the Abilene Reporter-News. Mrs. Jackson gave club members definite rules and helpful suggestions that aid in making a successful reporter. She pointed out errors to avoid in getting the reports for the paper and humorously remarked that in reports she had been served "soup-to-nuts" on the refreshment report.

The club hostess assisted by active club members and Miss Ruth Burnece Naron served refreshments to the guest speakers, club guests and club members: Mmes. Ada Rike, J. U. Fields, Earl Atchison, Robert Wheatley, H. F. Barnes, Terry M. Diggs, John Rike, J. G. Vaughter, Bill Richey, John Couch, Hugh Smith, O. E. Patterson, Wallace Cox, N. I. McCollum, W. A. Kimbrough, C. L. Lewis, Virgil Bailey, A. F. Pierson, Noah Lane, W. A. Cox, Misses Nettie McCollum, Maybelle Taylor, and Burnece Naron.

The Magazine Club thanks The Haskell Free Press, The Abilene Reporter-News and the Wichita Falls-Record News for their courtesies in making the "Power of the Press" program, an outstanding event in the club activities.

Willing Workers HD Club Sponsors Spook Party
 Black cats, witches, jack-o-lanterns and weird noises lent a festive air to the dimly lighted ghost house when the Willing Workers H. D. Club sponsored a spook party on All Hallowe'en Eve.
 Masked spirits blew noise-makers and roamed about. All ages joined in the general beldam as they visited the spooks house and goblin alley. Gala entertainment was followed by prizes. Edward Ray Yarbrough won first prize as being the most appropriately dressed. He came attired as a little red devil.
 Mrs. D. N. Powell won a prize for pinning a glow-in-the-dark tail on a black cat in a black room. Also Mrs. Powell rang the bell when she pitched marbles in a jack-o-lantern's mouth.
 Fortunes were told by Mrs. Bill Peters.
 Refreshments served were popcorn, balls, cookies, ritz crackers and iced drinks.

Labor Saving Devices Help Homemaker Do Work Easier and More Efficiently

Labor saving equipment, better planning and proper arrangement of working equipment have removed many of the disagreeable features that have made washing and ironing the most disliked household tasks. These jobs, says Thelma Wirges, are being done more easily and efficiently because homemakers are effectively managing their time, energy and equipment.

Planting Seed May Be Short For '51 Cotton

The problem of obtaining good planting seed is one of the most critical facing cotton farmers in their efforts to produce 16 million bales or more in 1951, the National Cotton Council said today, urging producers to save their good seed and store them properly.
 The Council emphasized that weather conditions and other factors have prevented many cotton farmers from producing enough good seed to meet their needs in planting greater acreage next year. Cotton growers who have produced more planting seed than they will need are urged to save their surplus in order to supply less fortunate farmers.
 The small cotton crop this year and wet weather during the boll opening and harvesting period are two factors which have combined to add to the seriousness of the cottonseed situation, the Council explained. Rainy weather in many areas has prevented evaporation of moisture from opening bolls and has increased its content in fiber and bolls already open. The germinating power of cottonseed decreases rapidly if the moisture is 12 per cent or above.

German Students at Texas Tech Air Views on U. S. Customs

LUBBOCK.—(Special)—"Americans marry so young! In Germany you do not get married until you are about 30."
 That is how Christine Saueremann expressed one difference in American and German customs. Christine is one of nine German girls taking Home Economics at Texas Technological College.
 They are taking a year of training as part of the general reorganization and reorientation program of German education.
 The students now studying at Texas Tech under the supervision of Dr. Mina Lamb are the only group in the United States at this time doing Home Economic work under the plan.
 Speaking of the State Fair at Dallas, the girls said, "The people were always polite, even when there was a large crowd. Seeing the air view of the campus at the Tech exhibit made us feel like we were home, again."
 They expressed surprise that so many phases were covered in one fair, since in Germany each exposition deals with one subject, such as automobiles or home appliances.
 The girls also attended "South Pacific" and compared it favorably with the modern German operetta.
 Casualness and friendliness at Tech also impressed them, since they are accustomed to social development through participation in professional and regional clubs.
 They remarked that the dormitories here are less restricted in the U. S. and that dorms at the German universities are merely rooming houses.
 The girls' average age is 24. They all have served two years' apprenticeship on an approved farm, which trains from 40 to

USDA Develops New Control Treatment For Screwworm

A new treatment for the control of the destructive livestock insect pest, the screwworm, has been developed by the USDA's Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine at their Kerrville laboratory. The new treatment is known as EQ 335 screw worm remedy.

According to F. W. Martin, County Agent, the new remedy will replace the old reliable smear 62 formula that has been used for the past 10 years. The formula for EQ 335 contains by weight 3 per cent of the powerful new insecticide Lindane, 35 per cent pine oil, 42 per cent white mineral oil, 10 percent emulsifier and 10 percent silica gel. Production of the new remedy is to start immediately and there will be smears of different consistencies on the market depending upon the type of emulsifier used. Any of the smears that contain the 3 per cent lindane and the 35 per cent pine oil will be effective even though the other items in the formula vary somewhat from the original.

Here are the advantages for the new smear over 62. It will not deteriorate upon standing. An application usually lasts for seven days or about twice as long as an application of Smear 62. Treated wounds heal quickly and the lamp black and other coloring chemicals that stain clothing, wool or hair are not found in the new remedy. The treatment kills maggots deep in the wounds, young maggots as they hatch from eggs and flies attracted to the wound to feed or lay eggs.

According to Martin, the new remedy has been tried on thousands of animals during the past four years and none have been injured from the treatment. He points out, however, that young animals, especially calves, might become sick if the treatment is not applied properly. The smear should be applied with a small paint brush and only the wound and a narrow strip of an inch or less about the wound should be treated.

Martin urges livestock producers to use good livestock management practices and to be on the alert for infestations of screw-worms, because the use of the new remedy alone will not give screwworm control. Infested animals should be treated at once and operations or other livestock management practices that cause wounds should be avoided during the screwworm season.

The same formula can be diluted with water, one part of EQ 335 with nine parts of water, and can be used to treat sheep that are infested with wool maggots. The liquid should be applied to the infected portions of the sheep.

Screwworms have caused heavy damage this year in Texas and since the weather still remains warm over most of the State, further damage can be expected. This new smear will soon be available on the market. Check the container label, to be sure the product you purchase contains the 3 per cent lindane and the 35 per cent pine oil by weight for these are the items that give the smear its kick.

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

Are Our Texas Highways Being Destroyed by 1% of Highway Users?

This question is presented squarely for the first time by the Texas Tax Journal in its booklet, "The Case of the One Per Centers."

Every Texan who wants good highways, adequate for 99 of every 100 users, should write for a free copy of this revealing booklet.

Approximately 99% of all Texas motor vehicles are registered for a gross weight of 20,000 pounds or less.

All Texas taxpayers, including your Texas Railroads, have reason to be concerned about the high cost of constructing and repairing our highways and the prospect of building more costly roads made necessary by the operation of highway "box cars."

No one has any desire to bar vehicles of reasonable size from our highways, so long as each pays its fair share of construction and repair costs.

Other Texas taxpayers should not be required to shoulder the burden of a roadway system for highway "box cars", representing only 1% of highway users.

Every Texan interested in good highways without increasing the growing tax burden should fill out the coupon below and get a copy of this valuable booklet.

Rankin Man Stops Here on Return From Deer Hunt

James W. Kennedy, formerly of Haskell and now District gauger for Shell Pipe Line Corp., Benedict Field, Rankin, Texas, was a business visitor in Haskell Thursday. He and his fifteen year old son, Weston who formerly played in the Haskell Band have just returned from a hunting trip in the Crystal River Country in Colorado.

Rankin Man Stops Here on Return From Deer Hunt

They each got a deer as did a brother-in-law, C. H. Justus from Clovis, N. M. Five deer were killed by the party. Mr. Kennedy leaves Nov. 3rd for his annual hunting trip in the Kent country west of Pecos. He will be accompanied by Theodore Swigart, president of Shell Pipe Lines; S. B. Bean, division superintendent, New Mexico; E. C. Reece, Div. Supt. West Texas area; Geo. B. Journey of Houston, an independent oil operator; Mr. McVean, contractor from Odessa; R. B. High, former general manager of Shell Pipe Line Corp., and Fred Asche of Houston, rancher and oil man.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Haskell, Texas, in the office of City Secretary until 1:30 P. M., November 24, 1950, and then publicly opened and read for the furnishing of all labor and materials and performing all work required for the construction of certain Street Improvements in the City of Haskell, Texas.

Haskell Men to Attend Demo Meet In Lubbock Today

With at least five Haskell business men expected to attend, Democrats of West Texas will hold an informal meeting in the Hilton Hotel at Lubbock this evening, honoring Hon. Lyndon Johnson, junior United States Senator from Texas, Senator Johnson will be guest speaker at the gathering.

Warns Against Over-Confidence In New Cold Remedies

"The wide advertising of antihistamines for the prevention of colds should not persuade people to place too much confidence in these drugs as a treatment for colds," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer warns the citizens of Texas.

"Regardless of the effectiveness of these new products it remains most desirable to take the ordinary precautions against contracting a cold—adequate sleep, clothing adapted to the weather, well balanced diet, moderate outdoor exercise and avoidance of unnecessary contacts with those already suffering from colds. Extra rest and the drinking of large amounts of fruit juices are still important aids to physical well being and cure if a cold occurs."

"Unfavorable reactions such as dizziness, drowsiness, and temporary loss of muscle control sometime occur after taking this drug. Everyone is strongly advised against driving an automobile or working around machinery while taking the pills." "Some readers of advertisements may get the idea that taking small doses of antihistamines every day will prevent colds. Such use of drugs should be discouraged. Antihistamines are still new and largely unproved drugs. Physicians have not yet determined what effect these products may have upon the human system if taken over a long period of time."

DRIVER TOO RUSTY

Chicago — When Walter Karakuska, 50, who had not owned an automobile in 25 years, bought one he noticed that quite a few changes had been made, but that didn't freeze him. He got behind the wheel and drove off. His car carromed off across a sidewalk and smashed into a store window.

Haskell National Bank, Founded In 1890, Will Observe 60th Anniversary Monday, November 13th

Record of service to the Haskell area extending from the pioneer era of the nineteenth century down to the present time, the Haskell National Bank will observe the 60th anniversary of its organization Nov. 13th.

Organization beginning in 1890, the region's strongest institutions is the Haskell National Bank, which over a period of 60 years has weathered droughts, wars, and three major wars. Movement was made possible by the solid foundation laid by its founders, and their faith in the resources of Haskell County and West Texas.

Organized in 1890, the bank was organized Nov. 13, 1890, by a group of five farmers and business men at a meeting in the office of the late Judge F. D. Sanders. The adequate banking facilities for the then small inland town of Haskell, trade center of a wide ranching and livestock area, had been keenly felt by merchants and ranchers whose nearest banking connections were Albany, Seymour, and Abilene.

Organizers of the bank and subscribing the $50,000 capital stock of the institution were M. S. Pierson, W. E. Johnson, H. G. McConnell, A. C. Foster, and S. H. Johnson. Minutes of the first meeting, still preserved among bank records, show that M. S. Pierson was elected president; H. G. McConnell, first vice president; A. C. Foster, second vice president; and S. H. Johnson, cashier.

Organization papers were executed and forwarded to the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C., and a short time later, on Nov. 25, 1890, a charter was granted the Haskell National Bank as an authorized banking institution.

Immediately following the organization of the bank, and pending approval of the application for a charter, the institution was opened for business. The assets of a private banking service. The Haskell County Bank which had been operated on a limited scale by W. E. Johnson and S. H. Johnson, were taken over with these two men becoming officers in the new institution.

First location of the Haskell National Bank was in a small frame building on the southwest corner of the square, where the Tonkawa Hotel Building now stands. This site was occupied until a two story native stone building was erected on the northwest corner of the square in 1891, and this site was to continue as the home of the banking institution. In 1927 the building was enlarged and remodelled into the present modern structure housing the bank.

Resources Increase

During the first six months of the bank's operation, total resources climbed to $86,614.32, according to the first published statement of condition, published June 3, 1891.

Loans and discounts were listed at $44,384.62, while deposits amounted to $21,352.89. Net earnings for the first six months amounted to $1,709.85, after deduction of taxes and current expenses, and $1,700.00 was carried to a surplus fund.

The bank had purchased U. S. Bonds in the amount of $12,500 to secure circulation, and had outstanding National Bank notes on the Haskell National Bank amounting to $11,250.00, with a redemption fund of $562.50 deposited with the U. S. Treasury. Resources included $12,165.39 due from reserve agents and other national banks, and $2,290.07 cash in vault.

Resources Today $5,090,000

Today, sixty years after its founding, resources of the strong financial institution are at a record peak of more than $5 million dollars, and making the Haskell institution one of the largest and strongest banking institutions in West Central Texas, with its record of growth unmatched when it is considered that is based to a major degree on the agricultural and livestock development of the area and a stable growth of the petroleum industry in more recent years.

With capital stock of $75,000 and surplus fund of $55,000, the Haskell National Bank had deposits of $4,917,103.09 on Nov. 3, 1950. The capital structure also included undivided profits of $35,961.33 and reserves for taxes of $7,723.67 on that date.

Total loans and discounts amounted to $1,162,961.76. Other resources included $2,703,878.85 cash in vault and due from banks, $1,001,840.61 in United States bonds, other bonds and securities in the amount of $205,306.87, bank building and fixtures valued at $16,000, and other assets $1,200.

Keeping pace with the growth of the bank's services, an extensive remodeling of the building interior was completed last year, enlarging the facilities of the institution and utilizing all available space on the ground floor of the building.

Bank Founders Pioneers

In Business

Founders of the Haskell National Bank all were early day business and professional men who visualized the wealth of natural resources available for development in the then sparsely settled region embracing the Haskell trade area.

Mr. Pierson, moving spirit in organizing the bank and its first president, before coming to Haskell early in 1890, owned and operated mercantile establishments in Emory and Winnsboro, Texas, and formerly was postmaster at Emory.

H. G. McConnell and A. C. Foster, Sr., both were lawyers and abstractors, and in addition Mr.

Bank President Has Served In Many Civic Posts

"When there's a job to be done, give it to a busy man." is an axiom which aptly fits A. C. Pierson, bank president and outstanding civic leader and church worker of this city.

Born and reared in Haskell, the bank executive practically "grew up" in the financial institution founded by his father, and has held responsible positions in the bank since young manhood and has literally worked his way up to the executive post as head of the strong West Texas bank.

Likewise, he has been prominently identified with civic, church and community affairs of Haskell for practically his entire lifetime, and despite his present-day responsible business duties, still devotes much of his time to civic affairs.

Member and a deacon in the First Baptist Church, Mr. Pierson served the church as Sunday School Superintendent for more than 23 years. He served several terms as a member of the city council, and was president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce two years, held a similar post in the local Lions Club, and is a former president of the Seven County Bankers Association.

The Haskell banker was a Drouth Relief Administrator disbursing agent for the Red Cross in Haskell county in 1930, and has served as chairman of the County Chapter of Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

A former treasurer and director of the CWT Fair Association, Pierson has also served as Haskell County chairman, Boy Scouts of America, and has been an active adult worker in Scouting. He has been a director in the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company for many years, and is a former director of the Bob Baskin Dam Association.

He is an active member of the Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce, and has held many

National Bank Cashier Is Active Civic Worker

W. R. (Roy) Johnson, cashier of the Haskell National Bank, has been prominently identified with, and an active worker in civic and community affairs of the city since coming to his present position in January, 1947.

He is an active member of the First Methodist Church, and a member and director of the Haskell Lions Club, and is treasurer of the Central West Texas Fair Association. In preparation for staging the recent successful exposition, Mr. Johnson was one of the group of key workers in promoting the 1950 Fair.

When a Federal Housing project was approved for Haskell last year, Mr. Johnson was named chairman of the Haskell Housing Authority, in charge of plans for completing the project.

Before coming to Haskell, Mr. Johnson was assistant cashier of the Farmers & Merchants Nat'l Bank in Abilene. He began his banking career in that city in 1920, shortly after his discharge from Army service in the first World War.

During his residence in Abilene, Mr. Johnson was active in civic affairs in that city. He was Post Commander of Parramore Post No. 57, American Legion, in 1936 and '37. He was also a director in the Taylor County Tuberculosis Association, treasurer of the Chisholm Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, and an active leader in other civic groups and clubs in Abilene.

When the United States became involved in World War II Mr. Johnson re-entered the armed forces and spent three and a half years in the service, a major part of this time overseas in the ETO theater with the Quartermasters Corps of the Air Force. He was discharged with the rank of First Lieutenant.

important committee assignments in the organizations. Mrs. Pierson is the former Miss Cora Killingsworth of this city. They have one daughter, Louise, who is married to Lt. Col. James A. Isbell, Jr., USAF, who is currently stationed at Godman Field, where Mrs. Isbell and their son, Jimmy, 6 years old, are living.

9 Bank Officials and Employees Have Combined Service Record of 120 Years

Nine officials and employees of the Haskell National Bank have a combined total of more than 120 years of service with the pioneer banking institution, and two new employees recently added to the bookkeeping staff increase the service record to double the number of years the bank has been in existence.

Dean on the veteran bank staff is A. C. Pierson, president, who has been identified with the institution since March 1920. Sharing almost equal honors is W. R. (Roy) Johnson, cashier, whose banking career started in Abilene in September, 1920.

Nettie McCollum, assistant cashier, has been with the bank since 1923. Charles Swinson, assistant cashier has worked for the bank since February, 1940, with the exception of time spent in the armed forces during World War II. Tom Patterson, also assistant cashier, is a veteran employee of the bank, having started in 1937 (with the only interruption being time spent in military service in the U. S. and the ETO theater).

In the bookkeeping department, Opal Dunnam and W. J. Adams (currently on leave in the armed forces) joined the Haskell National staff in 1947, having been with the Farmers & Merchants State Bank prior to its purchase by the national bank. Others in the bookkeeping department and length of service are Gene Brown, 2 years; Mrs. Pauline Baird, 1 year; Mrs. Betty Aeed, 4 months; and Mrs. Mary Bischofhausen, one month.

Bank, Newspaper, County's Oldest Business Firms

The Haskell National Bank, which will observe its 60th anniversary Monday, is Haskell County's oldest banking institution and the second oldest business establishment in the county. Distinction as the county's oldest business establishment is held by The Haskell Free Press, established in 1886 by the late Oscar Martin.

The newspaper was a strong supporter in the plan of the late M. S. Pierson in 1890 to organize a bank to serve Haskell county and the surrounding territory, and the growth of the pioneer banking concern has been chronicled in The Free Press during the past 60 years.

The development of effective hard water softeners and soaps and synthetic detergents have contributed to making the wash day job easier.

Local Farm Bureau Leaders Attend District Meeting

C. H. Herren, H. D. Gamill and Mrs. Gene Tonn attended the presidents and secretaries District Farm Bureau meeting at Wichita Falls on Monday. Congressman Ed Gossett gave an interesting address to the group and encouraged Farm Bureau members to continue to write their congressmen about their agricultural problems or offer suggestions whenever possible.

Loyd D. Barbour, district director brought some information relatives to the Wage and Hour Act dealing with the present Child Labor problem.

The State Farm Bureau convention will be held at Mineral Wells Nov. 20th to 22nd, with headquarters at the Baker Hotel there. Texas will be host for the first time, this year, when the National Farm Bureau convention convenes at Dallas from December 10-14 and all general sessions are to be held at the Fair auditorium. President Hammond has guaranteed visitors a true Texas welcome and local delegates are urged to make reservations at cabins so that hotel accommodations will be available for the visiting groups. A large delegation is urged to attend both conventions.

Youth Plays Big Part In Chicago Stock Show

Boys and girls from the continent's farmlands play a big part in the events of the International Livestock Exposition.

Jess C. Andrew, president of the International, from West Point, Ind., expects the coming show November 25 through December 2 in the Chicago Stock Yards to bring the usual high recognition of the accomplishments of youngsters in agriculture.

While touring English stock shows the past summer, he met and talked with King George who was interested in the work of youngsters in livestock in the United States. Andrew said he was proud to tell about last year's grand champion steer which was shown by the Pecos County, Texas, 4-H Club.

The sale of the grand champion brought the club a total of $13,000 which, divided among the 40 youngsters, made a nice scholarship for each. Junior sales total nearly half a million dollars at each International.

The Junior Livestock Feeding Contest in which boys and girls show baby beeves, lambs and barrows of their own raising is among the curtain raisers of the show on Saturday, November 25.

Youngsters have shown the International grand champion steer 14 times since they were permitted to show in the open classes in 1928. Similarly they have shown grand champion barrows and lambs in competition with adult livestock raisers.

But many more activities for boys and girls bring them into the twilight during International Week. The 29th National 4-H Club Congress will be held downtown, bringing delegates from most of the states, Canadian provinces and a number of foreign countries — the very cream of farm youngsters who win their trips to Chicago through accomplishment.

Judging contests are also slated for youths engaged in agriculture. College-age men and women will have their Collegate Livestock Judging Contest, while club youngsters will have their Junior Livestock Judging Contest. They will be rated on their ability in placing cattle, sheep, swine and horses.

The Meat Show, sponsored by the National Livestock and Meat Board will have its Inter-Collegate Meat Judging Contest. The International Grain and Hay Show has a Collegate Crops Judging Contest for agronomy students and for young corn producers at a Junior Corn Contest.

Because her father, Prince Philip of England, also holds the title Duke of Edinburgh, little Princess Anne is receiving this bale of long-staple cotton as a gift from the city of Edinburg, Texas. The Texas town did the cotton bale up in real Scotch fashion, using the Edinburg plaid for baling fabric. Perched atop the bale is Jeere Stephens of Edinburg, Texas, who helped give the bale a safe sendoff. The bale of fine long-staple cotton will make the tiny English princess a layette of nearly 3000 dainty towns or dresses.

Two Meetings Are Scheduled For Camp Fire Girls

Leaders of Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups will meet Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at the City Hall to make aluminum trays.

The first afternoon the ladies will put the design on the tray, shape it and paint it with asphalt. Thursday afternoon the muratic acid and water solution will etch the metal. Afterwards the trays will be cleaned. Each lady should bring rags for cleaning purposes.

Game Commission Sets New Rules On Taking Minnows

Two regulations affecting fishing in Texas were recently amended at the last regular monthly meeting of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, according to the executive secretary of the Commission.

The first of these regulations affects the taking of minnows from waters in the Panhandle area. Under the amended regulation not more than 1,000 minnows may be taken or possessed at any one time by any one person from the waters of the following counties: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Farmer, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall Childress, Cottle and Motley.

This regulation, prior to amendment, provided that not more than 200 minnows could be in possession of any one person at any time.

The second change in regulations acted upon by the Game Commission affects the North Bosque River below the Waco Dam to where the Bosque River flows into the Brazos River. All nets and seines, other than the 20 foot minnow seine and fruit jar type trap for taking minnows for bait, are prohibited in this two mile stretch of the Bosque River.

The Executive Secretary announces that these new regulations go into effect November 10.

1950 Census Gives Texas Population As 7,711,194

Texans account for 7,711,194 of the 150,697,361 Americans.

Those figures are official for the 1950 United States population count, given by the director of the census, Roy V. Peel, and Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer.

Texas thus remains in sixth place among the states, having been nosed out by Ohio for fifth.

Both the state and the nation show a tremendous gain in population since the last official census in 1940. It's an increase of 1,269,370 over the 1940 figures, a 20.2 per cent jump, for Texas. The country as a whole showed its greatest gain in history—an increase of 14.5 per cent of 1920's 686 persons.

As the result of the increase in

M. S. PIERSON, President and Founder

MRS. M. S. PIERSON, President
1909 - 1947

On November the 13, 1890 the Haskell National Bank was organized by M. S. Pierson who served as its president, with H. G. McConnell, Vice-President, A. C. Foster, Second Vice-President and S. H. Johnson, Cashier.

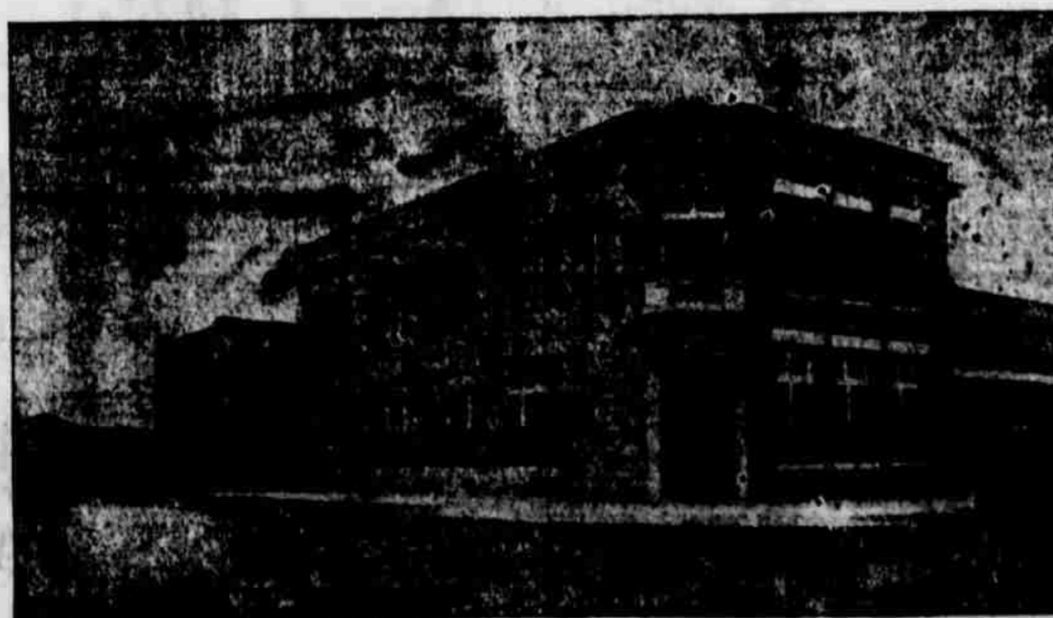

Mr. Pierson and those associated with him saw a need for a banking service for the people of Haskell and surrounding area. They felt that if a bank were organized and established upon the principles of honest service and sound banking it would be appreciated, accepted and patronized by the people of this area. The judgement of the group and the fact that the bank rendered an honest, straight forward banking service, is borne out in the continued growth of the bank as comparative statements shown below of then and now will verify.

The bank was organized with a capital of $50,000.00 and Mr. Pierson served as its president until his death in 1909 at which time Mrs. Pierson became president and served in that capacity for 38 years. At the time of her passing, A. C. Pierson, son of the founder, became the third president of a, now, 60 year old institution.

Relationship to the Individual

Your bank is a necessity for every progressive community. Its services are many and varied. It serves as a depository for the people of the area in which it is located, a clearing house for financial transactions. It is a source of financial aid for its patrons to meet an emergency or make a sound investment, provides capital for the expansion of agriculture, ranching, business and industry. It serves as a place of safe keeping for valuables by providing safety deposit boxes and serves as a financial index to the community in which it is located.

Its officers, who are always ready to aid in any way possible, in many instances, serve as financial advisers for its patrons.

Its services are responsible for many of its patrons using the community in which it is located as their trading center.

Appreciation

We would indeed be ungrateful if we failed to express our sincere appreciation for the loyalty, support, confidence and the many, many fine friendships it has been the privilege of this bank to enjoy throughout its 60 years of service. You are responsible for the growth of the Haskell National Bank. Your patronage through the years is your stamp of approval on our banking policy and your expression of confidence in our honesty and integrity.

Nothing has been spared or will be spared to merit that confidence. We want you to feel free to call on us at any time for any service we may be able to render. You can be sure of receiving our honest opinion and best effort.

Army Develops New Plastic Tableware

After three years of field and laboratory testing and experimentation, a new line of plastic tableware has been developed by the Army Quartermaster Corps. The new plastic plates, saucers and other items eventually will replace the heavy white chinaware now being used in mess halls. The tests on the new plastics were based on: acceptability by soldiers, meeting military requirements and annual replacement cost. The items tested were subjected to the rigors of climate—from deep freeze to tropical heat—and various durability procedure. One of the main ingredients used in the new plastics is rag-filled, phenol-melamine-formaldehyde. The plastic tableware has not been adopted by the Army as a standard item of issue, but it is believed that it soon will be incorporated into a new Federal specification.

Seeking Area Not Dependent On Cotton, Pioneer Banker Picked State's Banner Producing Region!

Although he was the owner of two thriving mercantile establishments or "general stores" in Emory and Winnsboro, Texas, the decision of M. S. Pierson to move to West Texas in 1890 was prompted by a desire to locate in an area not dependent altogether on cotton, the pioneer Haskell banker later recalled. Rains County, with Emory as the county seat, and adjoining Woods and Franklin Counties, were prolific cotton producing regions in 1890, while the staple was unknown as a crop in Haskell County. Today, the picture is exactly the reverse, with Haskell ranking as one of the banner cotton producing counties in the state outside of irrigated sections. Last year's cotton production in Haskell County, slightly in excess of 100,000 bales was more than the combined yield of Rains, Woods and Franklin counties from the 1949 cotton crop, according to available figures.

National Currency Note Is Keepsake Of Bank President

A souvenir of the Haskell National Bank which is prized by A. C. Pierson, president of the institution as one of his most valued, is a National Currency bank note of $5, carries the imprint of the Haskell National Bank as the issuer, and bears the facsimile signature of the late Mrs. Pierson as president and A. C. Pierson as cashier. The banknote, Series 1925, carries the serial number A0000071, and was a gift from Mr. Pierson to his mother on her 71st birthday, Sept. 20, 1934. Until national banking laws were revised in 1934, the Haskell National and all other national banks in the nation, maintained circulation of National Currency, redeemable by the U. S. Treasury. Circulation of the Haskell bank was $25,000 which was secured by U. S. Bonds purchased by the bank and deposited as a redemption fund with the U. S. Treasury. So far as Mr. Pierson knows, the national currency note he has is the only remaining outstanding banknote issued by the Haskell bank.

Foster dealt extensively in lands and real estate. S. H. (Sam) Johnson, first cashier of the bank, and W. E. Johnson, charter stockholder and director, were early-day West Texas merchants and land dealers. In addition to the Johnson Bros. general store in Haskell, they also had stores in Floydada and in Seymour. In later years, the Johnsons' opened the Johnson addition in West Haskell. A remarkable and outstanding feature in the Haskell National's 60 year existence is the fact that the institution has had only three presidents. A. C. Pierson, now head of the institution, is the third member of the Pierson family to hold the position. M. S. Pierson, one of the founders of the bank served as president of the institution for 19 years—from 1890 until his death in 1909. He was succeeded by his widow, who directed the affairs of the bank as president for 38 years until her retirement in January, 1947, when her son, A. C. Pierson, succeeded to the post first held by his father when the bank was founded. Before his elevation to the presidency of the bank, Mr. Pierson had been connected with the Haskell National as cashier since 1925, and prior to that time had been a bookkeeper in the bank since March, 1920.

Another interesting coincidence noted on the bank's 60th anniversary is the similarity in names of the first cashier and the present official in that capacity, although they are not related.

W. R. (Roy) Johnson, cashier of the Haskell National Bank since January 15, 1947, has been in the banking business since 1920. Before coming to Haskell he was assistant cashier of the Farmers & Merchants Nat'l. Bank in Abilene, and had been connected with that institution for a number of years with the exception of time spent in the armed forces during World War II. He is also a veteran of the first World War.

In addition to Pierson and Johnson, other officers of the bank are J. W. Gholson, vice president; Nettie I. McCallum, Charles E. Swinson and P. M. Patterson, assistant cashiers.

Directors of the bank are: Oliver Cunningham, J. W. Gholson, Fred Monke, Dr. I. F. Taylor, A. M. Turner, G. W. Waldrop, Wm. H. (Bill) Wilson, Jr., W. R. Johnson and A. C. Pierson.

Other employees of the bank in the bookkeeping and accounting department are Opal Duggan, W. J. Adams, who is on leave with the armed forces, Gene Brown, Mrs. Pauline Baird, Mrs. Betty Reed, and Mrs. Mary Bischofsusser.

In July, 1947, the Haskell National purchased the assets and properties of the Farmers & Merchants State Bank in Haskell in expanding their banking facilities and services to a rapidly increasing trade territory.

HASKELL NATIONAL BANK BUILDING
Erected in 1891, Remodelled in 1927

Bank and Drug Store Buildings Were Early Day Landmarks In Haskell

The original 2-story native stone building of the Haskell National Bank, erected in 1891, was the second building of permanent construction built in Haskell, old-timers recall.

First permanent building erected in Haskell was the two-story brick building now occupied by Oates Drug Store, which was built in the late 80's by a Mr. Harvey, and has been occupied by a drug store since it was first built. The original building was remodelled into the present modern structure in the 20's. Hill Oates, owner and proprietor of the drug store bearing his name, is a member of an early-day Haskell family. His father, the late Judge O. E. Oates, at one time was County Judge of Haskell county.

Following construction of the Haskell National Bank building in 1891, the bank and drug store buildings, exactly a block apart, were familiar Haskell landmarks for many years. In the original bank building, banking quarters were all housed on the ground floor. Most of the second floor was occupied by the exchange and offices of the Haskell Telephone Company until the late 20's, when the present telephone company building west of the bank was erected.

Bank Building Remodelled

In 1927 the bank building was remodelled and enlarged, with a 20 foot addition on the north side of the building to complete the modern structure as it appears today. Constantly expanding facilities of the bank have required utilization of all ground floor space, with some of the office quarters on the second floor of the building being used for keeping bank records.

With the completion of the Wichita Valley Railroad into Haskell in 1908, the town enjoyed an extensive building boom, both in the business and residential sections. In the ensuing building activity, practically all of the business buildings on the west side of the square were built, along with many permanent buildings of the north, east and south sides of the square.

Advent of the railroad also brought thousands of new settlers to this section, and witnessed the opening of a continued period of agricultural development in Haskell and adjoining counties—a period with which the pioneer Haskell bank was prominently identified.

Land Prices in 90's Ranged from $3 to $5 Per Acre

Faith of the early day settlers who came to Haskell County during the 80's and 90's in the productivity of this section as an agricultural region, has been amply justified, and today the county is rated among the most productive farming areas of the state. When the Haskell National Bank was established in this city in 1890, farm and ranch lands could be had at almost any price the prospective buyer cared to offer, according to old files of The Free Press.

Some of the best "level" land in the vicinity of Haskell was on the market at from $3 to $5 per acre. Today this same land cannot be bought for less than $200 per acre—with some of the county's best farm lands changing hands in the very few real estate transactions noted in recent months at prices ranging as high as $300 per acre.

Ranch land which was not thought suitable for agricultural purposes 60 years ago, was considered "high" at 75c to $1.00 per acre, while today some of the larger grazing tracts still intact in some parts of the county bring an annual grass rental well above that figure.

Bank Patron for 60 Years Is Record Of L. E. Marr

L. E. Marr of this city, retired farmer and early-day settler, is one of the original depositors in the Haskell National Bank when the institution was opened in 1890, and has been a valued patron of the bank during the entire 60 years of its existence. A. C. Pierson, president of the bank, said today.

Another individual depositor and bank patron for well over a half century is J. U. Fields, retired businessman, and former associate in the W. W. Fields & Son store, an early-day Haskell business concern.

In the ranks of business concerns, The Free Press likewise has been a patron of the Haskell National since its establishment in 1890. Other early-day Haskell firms and patrons of the bank include Jones Cox & Co., and Oates Drug Store.

List of depositors in the Haskell National today totals more than 3,500 individuals and firms in many States and one foreign country, England. Listed on the bank's deposit record are several patrons living in California, and others in Maryland, Illinois, and Delaware, to name some of the more distant states.

Tail Light, Reflectors Required on Cotton Trailers

Farmers of this area were reminded this week by Texas State Highway patrolmen that all cotton trailers are required to have a tail light and two red reflectors at all times, day or night, in moving on a public road.

Accidents involving cotton trailers have increased rapidly in this area in recent weeks. State Highway Patrolmen pointed out enforcement will be carried out in an effort to cut down the number of accidents, the Patrolmen indicated. Penalty for failing to mark cotton trailers as provided by law carries a maximum fine of $200 and court costs.

Recalls of Reserve Personnel Navy Announces Plans for Future

Plans for future recalls of Naval Reserve personnel and for their release to inactive duty has been announced by the Navy. Releases are slated to be in July 1, 1951 for enlisted reservists.

These plans are based upon present circumstances which require a build-up of the fleet and supporting establishment to a new, presumably stabilized level but to not take full mobilization procedure would be necessary and all Reservists would be counted on for active duty when required.

In compliance with Department of Defense directors Reservists will henceforth get at least 30 days notice before they have to report for active duty. Vice Admiral J. W. Roper, USN, chief of naval personnel said.

And, he added, a program to give four months notice to reservists selected for recall will be effected as soon as possible, probably on July 1, 1951. Some Reservists recalled during April, May, and June, 1951, may get the four months notice, but it is not guaranteed to them.

Replacements for released Reservists will come from newly recruited regular Navy personnel and, if required, from among Reservists with no post war duty.

Release of involuntarily recalled enlisted Reservists will be started in July 1951 under present plans, and will allow about 5000 men a month to return to inactive status. The order of release of various categories of men will be dictated by the needs of the service, Admiral Roper said.

No personnel will be held more than 21 months. Those released before that period of service will be in ratings for which the need is least pressing. Personnel desiring to remain on active duty will be permitted to do so within the Navy's needs for their particular ratings.

Those who originally volunteered for active duty will not be held beyond 21 months if they desire release.

Reserve officers involuntarily recalled between July 1, 1950, and July 1, 1951, will be returned to inactive duty beginning in October, 1951. Some may be released after 15 months service and no involuntary tour of duty will exceed 21 months.

These releases will be made at a rate of about 1500 officers per month until December, 1952, when the last of the original involuntary recalls would return to inactive duty.

Some replacements for these officers must come from among other Reservists, but numbers recalled will be kept at a minimum.

The present recall of Reserve personnel will continue in order to meet requirements to Navy expansion during the fiscal year and beyond July 1, 1951, to maintain personnel strength. The number of volunteers will be one of many factors governing the number of Reserve officers recalled involuntarily in future years.

The major portion of USNR enlisted January 1, 1951, Admiral Roper said, but 31,000 will be recalled during the first six months of 1951. They will consist of about half petty officers and half non-rated personnel in pay grade E-3 (seaman or fireman) or in lower pay grades with at least six months prior to active duty.

It is expected that a "relatively small" number of enlisted Reservists will be involuntarily recalled after completion of initial expansion during this fiscal year, Admiral Roper added. And those recalled in fiscal 1952 and future years will be untrained personnel without prior active service, he added.

On the Navy's priority basis for recall, Organized Reserve personnel are called first and Volunteer Reservists is one who does not belong to an organized unit.

Organized Reserve Reservists have been depleted by calls already issued, and Volunteer Reservists are being recalled in some categories.

Recalls are based on qualifications to fill specific billets on the basis of records of men concerned. Civilian records will be taken into account. So will ages, since personnel qualified for sea duty are needed.

Texas Venture
In Education • 1876-1951
Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

Lawrence Sullivan Ross, one of the most colorful figures in early Texas, did much to establish the A. and M. College of Texas as a ranking educational institution, and put it on the way to the position it holds today. "Little Sul," as he was affectionately known to Texans of the '90s, had made his reputation as an Indian fighter, Texas Ranger, sheriff, soldier and statesman, before he came to the presidency of A. and M. Among his more noted exploits had been the capture of Cynthia Ann Parker, his rise in the Confederate Army to a private general in four years and his effective term as Governor of the state, in the eight years from his inauguration in 1890 to his death, as evidenced by the popularity and stature of the college tremendously. The Sul Ross statue in the center of the campus is today a college shrine, while the Ross Volunteers, oldest student honor organization in the state, serve as a constant reminder of his place in the story of Texas A. and M.

U. S. Army Adopts New Point System For Handling Reserve Enlisted Men

A new point system, based on age, previous service and the number of dependents, is to guide the army's handling of its reserve enlisted men.

Announcement of the new plan was one of two developments affecting such men. In the other, the army announced that it is making no more mandatory calls for enlisted reserves except for a limited number of medical and counter intelligence specialists.

Both developments apply only to enlisted reservists, not to officers.

The point system is to be used in determining (1) which reservists among those on active duty will be sent overseas and (2) the order in which additional reservists would be ordered to active duty in the event of possible future call-ups.

In both these determinations, the first men to be chosen would be those with the fewest points, within desired military specialties.

Points-called service credits are to be credited under the system as follows:
One credit for each year of the reservist's age over 29, one for each year of reserve service, two for each combat award he has received, four for each year of active federal service, four for each year of overseas service, and eight for each dependent.

The army said that some men with the highest service credit scores probably will be relieved from active duty within three months.

County Council Of H. D. Clubs Meets Here

The Haskell Council of Home Demonstration clubs met in regular session Saturday Nov. 4, at 2:30 p. m.

Joyce Beauchamp of O'Brien was introduced to the council as Haskell County's Gold Star Girl by Mrs. Howard Sloana, leader of the 4-H Girls work.

The bake show has been postponed until next year. The tentative date of Thursday night, Dec. 7, has been set for the Council's annual Christmas party.

Miss Thelma Wirges, County Agent, asked that each club secretary send in a revised roll with addresses to her office immediately.

Mrs. J. R. Davis and Mrs. J. F. Rosdale reported that the education and expansion reports are failing to reach them in time to report to the council.

Mrs. E. B. Calloway, THDA chairman, read a card from Mrs. Dockery of Vernon asking that each club start collecting small articles for Christmas gifts that can be used in the State Hospital at Wichita Falls and the Old Folks Home at Vernon. These small gifts should be singly wrapped in an attractive package with the name of the article labeled on the outside.

Christmas Buying Time Approaches

'Tis the month before Christmas—and once again time to remember the old adage, "Do your Christmas shopping early."

Doubtless, few will heed these sage words of advice, and Christmas Eve will find the usual crowds scurrying from store to store in last minute shopping expeditions.

Shopping for men is usually a major problem because it is so easy to fall into the old time routine. This year, however, things are going to be different, the fashion authorities report. Cotton pajamas are destined to take over as the number one gift for men. New designs, smart colors, and trim tailoring in flannel, poplin, and broadcloth make the new pajamas welcome packages in masculine Christmas stockings.

Farm Output Due To Reach Record High In 1951

Given normal weather, farm production next year may set a new record to meet increasing demands for food under the national defense food program.

Agricultural economists made this forecast at a farm outlook conference in Washington last week as Secretary Brannan called for a larger crop of corn to assure plenty of feed to produce more meat, dairy and poultry products.

Carl P. Heiss, head of the department's division of farm management and costs, said it now looks as if farmers may top all previous production records—granted weather is normal—in response to an increasing demand for more food and fiber.

Brannan announced that the government will keep acreage allotments in effect for corn, but that they will be larger than this year. How much larger will be announced later.

The secretary said his announcement should provide the "go" sign, so to speak, for production of more pigs next year and for fall preparation of corn land to be planted next spring.

Brannan previously had suspended all production curbs for cotton next year and called for a 60 per cent increase in this crop.

He also urged some increase in wheat plantings. Robert E. Post, department wheat authority, informed the conference that farmers appear to be overplanting government acreage allotments in the case of winter wheat in some important Great Plains areas.

State Shows Big Increase of Gas In Home Heating

The number of Texas homes equipped with gas heat increased by 75,389 during the past year, a report by the state's utility firms points out.

About 75,868 more homes will get gas in the next year if heating materials continue to be available by the end of 1951, the report continues. This increase of 16 per cent in homes with gas heating over the two-year period is the result of the rapid expansion of natural gas pipelines on which $73,607,000 has been spent in the state since 1946.

Pipelines and storage facilities, authorized by the Federal Power Commission in Texas and adjoining states since V-J Day, have brought natural gas into Texas in such greatly increased volume that many thousands of homes and major industries now have the advantage of the low-cost fuel.

This new natural gas construction is part of a nationwide expansion program, in the course of which gas utility industry has spent three billion dollars since August, 1945. There are now almost 300,000 miles of pipeline in service in the United States, delivering energy for manufacturing and household uses at an annual rate exceeding four thousand billion cubic feet.

Because supply still does not meet demand, the gas utilities plan still further expansion through 1954. Of the approximately $3,140,000,000 to be spent in the coming five-year period, about $2,750,000,000 will be used by the natural gas industry.

A new screw worm smear, known as EQ 335, has many advantages over the old reliable Smear 82 formula which has been used for the past ten years. Formula EQ 335 lasts longer than Smear 82, retards wounds heal more quickly, and the lamp black and other coloring chemicals that stain wool clothing or hair are not found in the new remedy.

A visit to a nursery will help the homestead gardener to decide which shrubs and trees to look for when he takes to the woods and fields this fall in search of native plants for the home grounds.

A bale of cotton linters (the short, fuzzy tag ends of lint) provides the smokeless powder for 100,000 rounds of rifle ammunition or 2737 anti-aircraft shells.
