IRS News

Dallas. Texas—Inefficient record-keeping habits can do more to destroy a small business than inflation and fickle customers combined, according to an official of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) here.

A. W. McCannless, district director of IRS operations in North Texas, said today that the IRS is going all out to impress this fact on owners and operators of small businesses. "Good records are essential to keeping businesses in operation," he said. "They enable the owner/operator to keep track of profits and they will show which business property is depreciable, allowing a businessperson to get full tax deductions."

Mr. McCannless said good records are also necessary to show which business income is taxable and which is not taxable, to substantiate information provided on tax returns filed, to help answer a tax examiner's questions in the event of an IRS audit, and to establish reportable earnings for social security purposes.

The IRS does not specify any particular style of record-keeping, as long as the records clearly establish all income, deductions and credits. For advice and assistance to small business owners, the IRS has experts standing by ready to help, as well as free booklets on record-keeping and other facets of business operations.

Send Your Recipes Before November 21

AUSTIN Haskell County cooks are invited to submit their favorite recipes for publication in the winter issue of TDA Quarterly, a Texas Department of Agriculture consumer-oriented magazine.

Recipes unique to the Plains area and old-time specialties will be stressed. However, any good recipe will be considered. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Since cattle are important to the Plains area, a special look out will be kept for beef recipes.

In addition to recipes, old-time methods of food preservation in danger of disappearing will be printed. Anyone with tips from the past on preserving foods is invited to send them in, White said. Deadline for submitting recipes and hints from the past will be November 21.

TDA Quarterly takes a look at a specific region of Texas in each issue. It began publication this year.

Recipes and tips selected for publication will be credited to the sender. They will not be returned. They should be mailed to the Texas Department of Agriculture, Information Section, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

LAREDO EXPORT FACILITIES—Tony Martinez, manager of the Texas Department of Agriculture's newest livestock export facilities in Laredo, demonstrates the operation of a new electrically-operated chute which allows easy movement from one level of a livestock truck to another. The Laredo pens, like the export facilities in five other Texas cities, enable cattle being exported to Mexico to be examined before being shipped across the border.

Mental Retardation

Editor—This is the fourth in a series of articles about Mental Retardation prepared by Mrs. Eugene Cochran and the Public Education Committee of the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens.

DECLARATION OF GENERAL AND SPECIAL RIGHTS OF THE MENTALLY RETARDED Whereas the universal declaration of human rights, adopted by the United Nations, proclaims that all of the human family, without distinction of any kind, have equal and inalienable rights of human dignity and freedom; Whereas the declaration of the rights of the child, adopted by the United Nations, proclaims the rights of the physically, mentally or socially handicapped child to special treatment, education and care required by his particular condition; NOW THEREFORE The International League of Societies for the Mentally Handicapped expresses the general and special rights of the mentally retarded as follows: ARTICLE I—The mentally retarded person has the same basic rights as other citizens of the same country and same age. ARTICLE II—The mentally retarded person has a right to proper medical care and physical restoration and to such education, training, habilitation and guidance as will enable him to develop his ability and potential to the fullest possible extent, no matter how severe his degree of disability. No mentally handicapped person should be deprived of such services by reason of the costs involved. ARTICLE III—The mentally retarded person has a right to economic security and to a decent standard of living. He has a right to productive work or to other meaningful occupation. ARTICLE IV—The mentally retarded person has a right to live with his own family or with fosterparents; to participate in all aspects of community life, and to be provided with appropriate leisure time activities. If care in an institution becomes necessary, it should be in surroundings and under circumstances as close to normal living as possible. ARTICLE V—The mentally retarded person has a right to a qualified guardian when this is required to protect his personal well being and interest. No person rendering direct services to the mentally retarded should also serve as his guardian. ARTICLE VI—The mentally retarded person has a right to protection from exploitation, abuse and degrading treatment. If accused, he has a right to a fair trial with full recognition being given to his degree of responsibility. ARTICLE VII—Some mentally retarded persons may be unable, due to the severity of their handicap, to exercise for themselves all of their rights in a meaningful way. For others, modification or denial of rights must contain proper legal safeguards against every form of abuse, must be based on an evaluation of the social capability of the mentally retarded person by qualified experts and must be subject to periodic reviews and to the right or appeal to higher authorities. ABOVE ALL—THE MENTALLY RETARDED PERSON HAS THE RIGHT TO RES-

An American Classic . . .

Fresh Cranberry Steamed Pudding

Fall's abundant harvest of plump, ripe, fresh cranberries can bring many pleasures to your table, and surely one of the most delightful is a classic steamed pudding. Beloved for generations, this piquant cranberry dessert will enhance a special dinner or a festive holiday occasion. Served warm from the oven, it can be elegantly garnished with sugared cranberries and topped with hard sauce or whipped cream. If there is any pudding leftover, it can be easily reheated by simply wrapping it in foil and replacing it in the oven. It's good, too, to know that you can buy beautiful fresh cranberries and freeze them simply by popping boxes or bags right into your freezer. When ready to use, just follow the recipe instructions exactly as for fresh berries. That way you can have Cranberry Steamed Pudding and many other delectable fresh berry dishes for many months to come.

CRANBERRY MOLASSES STEAMED PUDDING

(Makes one 1½-quart mold)

- 3½ cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3 cups Ocean Spray fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 2 teaspoons nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 cup light molasses
- ¾ cup hot water
- 4 teaspoons baking soda

Combine all ingredients except hot water and baking soda in a bowl. Mix hot water and baking soda. Add mixture to bowl and beat until well blended. Spoon mixture into a heavily greased 1½-quart mold. Cover tightly with a piece of greased foil. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) for 1½ hours. Uncover and bake another 10 minutes. Unmold and serve warm with frosted cranberries and orange hard sauce or ice cream. Wrap leftover pudding in foil and chill until ready to serve. To reheat place foil wrapped pudding into a preheated moderate oven (360° F.) for 30 minutes or until heated through.

Leland Thane and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Toney. A pop-up toaster was given to Mr. and Mrs. Meier in appreciation of all the things they did for the group while they were sponsors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ulmer and Erna Hansen of Stamford attended funeral services in Grand Island, Nebraska last week for Mrs. Ed Hanson, Mr. Ulmer's aunt.

Information About PSCI

The Parent School Community Involvement program began in Haskell County in September of 1975. It is funded through Title I and is closely connected to the Migrant program in that we deal with Migrant families. The Migrant program helps the children and the PSCI helps the parents. This program has been tried and has successfully worked in the valley.

The purpose of the PSCI program is to strengthen the relationships between the school, parents and the community.

The community aides who work for the PSCI program visit in the homes of the migrants and invite the parents to come to the school and observe the latest equipment and methods used in teaching the children. Programs giving information about the services available to the parents are also given.

Statistics show that 9 out of 10 migrant children don't go past the 8th grade. A child loses approximately 50% of what he's learned when he moves from one school to another. With this continual moving around, the child keeps getting further and further behind. Finally he gets so frustrated that he gives up and joyfully looks forward to the day that he can legally quit school and quit being a failure as he considers himself by this time. Much of this could have been avoided if the parents had showed some interest in the school. The vicious circle has started. The child will grow and more than likely will think that school is a waste of time when his children go to school. His attitudes like those of his parents will rub off on his children. And so it goes on and on.

Interseeding is picking up steam around the country with greatest attention being paid to the wheat-soybean combination. Farmers have reported good results in a variety of experiments where soybean seed was planted in wheat crops to give the beans as much as 20 extra growing days. Early success of this interplanting system has been significant enough to encourage experiments with other crops such as heavier grains like corn or sorghum interseeded with small feed grains. Obviously the interseeding is most advantageous in areas with the most limited growing time. Another consideration receiving attention in non-irrigated areas is soil moisture utilization since interseeding may be a method of using early season moisture more effectively. No formal testing of the interplanting process was planned by the USDA early this fall, but observers indicated if interest continues some testing could begin next spring.

Veterans Day Back to November 11

President Ford recently signed into law a bill which returns the observance of Veterans Day to the traditional date of November 11. According to C. H. Herren, Service Officer for Haskell County, Public Law 94-97 was signed on September 18, 1975, and officially changes Veterans Day from the fourth Monday in October to November 11, starting in 1978.

November 11 of each year is of special significance to the veterans of World War I and their widows, as this was the date in 1918 when that long conflict came to an end. This date, known as Armistice Day, commemorated the ending of World War I. In 1954, it was changed to Veterans Day, a day on which all veterans would be honored. The Congress, in 1968, included Veterans Day in the Special Holiday Act, to be observed on the fourth Monday in October as part of a three-day weekend.

Counting the American Revolution, the United States has been involved in nine wars since 1776. More than 44 million citizens have served in the Armed Forces during these periods of conflict, and 29 million of them are still living, reminding us of the wars during our own lifetime, dating from the Spanish-American War in 1898. Those who answered the calls for the cause of freedom deserve our salutes, and the annual observance of Veterans Day is one significant way to honor them and their efforts and their memories.

Earlier in 1975, the Texas Legislature enacted a law which returned the observance of Veterans Day to November 11, starting in 1975. The Federal government will continue to observe Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October until 1978. Hawaii, Nevada, Rhode Island and Utah are the only states which have not returned Veterans Day to November 11, along with the District of Columbia. Major efforts are currently under way by veterans organizations, such as The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, to encourage these states to enact legislation to return Veterans Day to the traditional November 11 date.

Comptroller Views On Property Tax

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that Texans are entitled to know the possible effects of taxing real property at true market value as required by the finance article of the proposed constitution. "The backers of the constitution keep telling us that taxing on a basis of true market value is a good thing—and it is—but property owners have a right to know what this means in plain English," Bullock said. "What would this re-evaluation mean to the average property owner? It means that on a statewide average their houses and lots could increase more than 60 per cent on the tax rolls," he said. "It would then be up to local taxing authorities, such as our cities, counties and school districts, to reduce their tax rates and/or assessment ratios or property taxes would go skyhigh." Bullock pointed out that "in the 10 years between 1963 and 1973 local government spending and local property tax bites both more than doubled." He cited Texas Research League statistics showing that local property taxes were increased more than $1 billion during that period.

"The required re-evaluation could add $75 billion to the $125 billion in property values now 'claimed' on the tax rolls. That's a 60 per cent increase any way you cut it, and at today's tax rates that would be approximately $750 million in new property taxes each year," he said.

"I think most homeowners believe that all real property should be taxed in an equal and uniform manner. However, it's been my experience that they are referring to the other fella's property because they believe theirs is already over valued and over taxed," Bullock said.

Wood Carver Creates West Texas History Art

Louis Chamberlin is concentrating his wood carving talent on creating art pieces for the bicentennial year. He has designed and marketed a Texas-shaped plaque commemorating Big Spring's natural history, picturing the front view of the Big Spring and other representations of important influences on the history of Big Spring.

Chamberlin carved the original bicentennial plaque from wood and a mold was made from it by a California-based plastic company. The company sends the plastic plaques to the artist for staining and highlighting. The finished plaques are available to the public for $7.50 at Big Spring Hardware, the Phillips Truck Stop, Ramada Inn, Airport Grocery, the 87 South Grocery and D&M Garden Center.

Plaques commemorating other cities' history are planned as soon as Chamberlin gets the Big Spring momentos completed. The artist has sketched a rough plan for a large wooden wall hanging picturing the Big Spring and a train of the type that came through Big Spring in the 1880's. The smoke billowing from the train's stack extends across the top of the drawing forming the words "Big Spring, Tex." The artist hopes to be commissioned by the city to carve this wall hanging.

Since leaving Dow Chemical Co. in Midland in 1969, Chamberlin has made his wood carving hobby into a profession. The Chamberlins moved to Big Spring in 1972 and live at 2908 Cherokee.

Chamberlin has been carving and working with his hands since he was eight years old. He also likes to paint and build furniture. Most of his paintings are in oil, and in the 1967 Midland Art Show a painting of ducks on a pond with a dead tree stump in the background took a third place award. He built his own gun cabinet from solid mahogany and adorned it with carving. In it he keeps his guns that have decorated stocks.

Much of his carving has been done on gun stocks and pistol grips. He starts with blank rifle stocks or pistol grips and carves whatever design his customer wants on it. Usually a hunting or outdoor scene is carved, but Chamberlin said he would put anything on them that his customers want.

Chamberlin has also made hand-carved wooden knife scabbards. He owns two, one holding a 125-year-old knife with an ivory grip and the other holding a wooden knife he designed.

He has also produced candle holders, decorative wall plaques, western figurines, furniture, a grouse statue and picture frames. Among his most unusual frames are a large wooden family tree and a fire hydrant-shaped frame for a pet's picture.

An interesting outgrowth of his wood carving talent has been the design and making of ventriloquist dummies. He has made three, and has designed a spring and steel trigger system for moving the jaws and eyes.

Chamberlin's creativity also sparks ideas for practical inventions. He has designed a toilet tissue holder featuring an outhouse front. It also has a slide-in loading rod decorated on the sides with corn cobs. Chamberlin has also made a toilet tissue storage unit shaped like an outhouse.

The ideas for most of Chamberlin's art work comes from a vast knowledge of the history of the United States and especially West Texas. He said that when he gazes at the West Texas countryside visions of the past fill his mind. Carving those visions out of wood is his hobby, his profession and his art.

Chamberlin is the nephew of Mrs. John C. Chamberlin. He lived with her here in Haskell.

Must I keep up with all the premium dates on my policies to keep them in force?

Most companies and agencies have well thought-out, proven systems that do this for you. With property companies, usually your policy is renewed, issued and mailed to you with a letter in ample time for you to review the insurance and ask questions or increase your benefits. Many companies carry "errors and omissions" policies which protect you if they make a mistake. Life companies usually use bank draft or periodic notices to notify you of a premium due. If you don't get the notice, they follow up with a second notice and usually a personal call.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH from Roberta High

Cholesterol is a fatty material blamed for clogging up arteries and so causing heart attacks. An Anti-Coronary Club in New York of 814 men, age 40 to 59, followed a low-fat diet for seven years with only seven of the men dying of heart attack. Of a control group of 420 men who kept their old diets, 12 died of heart attack in the same period—three times the rate of the low-fat diet group.

How To Care For Pewter

COLLEGE STATION—Pewter, long-beloved of collectors, will enjoy new popularity for the Bicentennial-but it needs special gentle care. Mrs. Janice Carberry, a family resource management specialist, says.

"Pewter, a soft metal that is easily dented and scratched, needs this gentle care to maintain its lustrous beauty. Wash by hand in lukewarm sudsy water, rinse and immediately dry with a soft cloth to restore luster and prevent water spots."

Mrs. Carberry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She suggested a quart of water with two tablespoons of ammonia is a good pewter cleanser.

"Polish pewter according to desired finish for a bright finish, use a silver or special pewter polish. It can be made from a whitening and denatured alcohol paste. Let it dry on the pewter, then polish. Wash, rinse and dry."

"For a dull finish, rub the piece with a paste of rottenstone and olive oil," the specialist said.

She pointed out that some pewter items may have a protective finish and shouldn't be polished. Check tags accompanying the purchase for care information. And if giving pewter for a gift, be sure care instructions are included before wrapping. Mrs. Carberry reminded.

Modern pewter is usually 90 percent tin, plus copper and antimony. Its excellent heat and cold retention makes it usable for hot and cold drinks. But it can't stand direct heat. Acetic foods damage the finish so pewter trays or bowls used to serve citrus fruits and vinegar type salads and relished need protective glass or plastic liners, she said.

Caramel Apples For Fun

During the fall, plan some family night fun. Spend an evening making one of everybody's favorite treats—Caramel Apples; or shape up some Confetti Mallow Popcorn Balls, delicious crunchy treats studded with chopped gumdrops.

To make Caramel Apples, you'll need a 14-oz. bag of caramels and some water. Just melt caramels with water in a covered saucepan and dip apples into the hot mixture. Invite your family to decorate apples with cereal or miniature marshmallows. Set out raisins, chopped nuts and coconut too; they're all tasty toppings for delicious caramel apples.

Although crisp, juicy apples and creamy caramels are available year 'round, apples are in greatest abundance in autumn. The International Apple Institute reminds you that you can use your favorite harvest-time variety for Caramel Apple making, making sure that the fruit is firm and vivid in color. They also suggest you wash and dry apples thoroughly for best results.

The apple industry expects a bumper crop this fall, so you'll find plenty of apples in the produce section of your supermarket. You'll find caramels there too, as well as on the candy shelf, with sticks for making Caramel Apples right in the bag.

Wooten Wins Adams Memorial Here Sunday

Sunday the Haskell Trap Club held the fifth annual Richard Adams Memorial Handicap with Wallace Wooten of Haskell being the first trap shooter to win it more than once. Wooten won it a Big Six Gun Club of Wichita Falls in 1971 with a 96x100 from the 27. Wooten has only to win it one more time to claim it permanently. Runner-up was Robert Chilton of Vernon from the 21 with a 91x100.

In Singles action, Class AA went to Don Cain of Henrietta which shot 98x100. Steve Ellis of Plains won Class A with 94x100. Class B was won by Bill Stanley of Odessa with 96x100. In Class C, Greg Byars of Vernon took the honors with 87x100. Class D went to C. L. Boynton of Vernon who won with 94x100.

In Doubles, Cain had 46x50 in Class A. In Class B, Church Hay of Gainesville won with 42x50. Dale Stanley took Class C with 42x50 of Odessa, and Class D went to W. V. Blankenship of Guthrie with 41x50.

High Over All honors, with a total 250 targets, went to Cain with 228x250.

H-SU's All School Sing November 7-8

Hardin-Simmons University's All-School Sing, scheduled Nov. 7-8, will have all the features which have traditionally caused it to be a sell-out, but there'll be some innovations this year.

The sponsoring organizations, H-SU's men's and women's professional music fraternities, announced that the Sing this year will have a general theme for the first time, and that all seats in the auditorium will be reserved for the first time. Also, instead of having the usual master of ceremonies to fill the gaps between numbers, there will be special entertainment provided by the fraternities.

"We're reserving all seats because of popular demand," said Paul Krake, president of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia. "In the past, people attending the Sing, particularly those in groups, had to get to the auditorium as much as an hour before the show started to get desirable seats. We hope the reserved seat plan will solve that problem."

The theme of the Sing is "Harmony Through Heritage," which also is the general theme of Homecoming this year.

"We are not laying down any strong rules about a theme, because we didn't want to hinder the participating organizations," Krake said, "but we did ask them to keep it American."

The between-acts music, incidentally, will fit the theme, because it will feature the best acts from the recent Stephen Foster tribute concert presented by the two music fraternities.

Miss Alexia Mayfield, president of Sigma Alpha Iota, the women's music fraternity, said that seven campus organizations are now rehearsing for the Sing. They will compete for category prizes and for a sweepstakes prize.

Tau Alpha Phi, men's social club, which won sweepstakes last year, is entered again, with Fred McNab, senior from Port Isbell as the director.

Other entries and the directors: Alpha Phi Omega, men's service club, Joe Don Carter, graduate student from Odessa; Phi Phi Phi, women's social club, Pat Bridges, junior from Dallas; Lange Hall, Stephanie Lewis, senior from Montgomery, Ala.; Delta, women's social club, Rande Thompson, senior from La Porte, and Carmen Kaevando, junior from Port Isbell; Sigma Delta Sigma, men's social club, Lou Lindsey of Brownfield and Larry Moss of Memphis, Texas; freshmen class, Conley Cook of Odessa and Maria Watson of Dallas.

Tickets are now being sold by mail, with seats being reserved on a first-come, first-served basis.

"When we get a ticket order by mail, we'll send the very best seats that are left," Krake explained. Adult tickets are $3 and student tickets $1. Each H-SU student may claim one free ticket. Tickets will be available to students Monday, Nov. 3.

The Sing will be the main entertainment attraction for the combined Parents Day-

Homecoming weekend, with performances Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 7-8.

JAYCEES TO HOLD DANCE FRIDAY

The Haskell Jaycees are having a Homecoming dance Friday night, October 31 following the Haskell-Munday football game. It will be held at the Haskell Country Club.

There will be two dances Saturday night following the Homecoming activities. The Jaycees felt that this would give some of the exes a good chance to get together Friday night. The public is invited.

Local Resident Wins Contest

Nobody knows more about nursing homes than the people who live in them. A letter-writing contest is being sponsored by Texas Nursing Home Association for all residents of nursing homes in Texas. Judging of letters is on the basis of originality and the thoughts expressed. Ruth Ann Klose, administrator of Rice Springs Care Home, is proud to announce that Charity Bradley, a resident since September 22, 1973, has won second place and received a $15.00 check, certificate of recognition and publication of her letter and picture in "Caring", the association's bi-monthly publication. The following is her letter: I live in Rice Springs Care Home. The Care Home personnel are wonderful to me. There are so many wonderful things I love about the home that I couldn't begin to name them all. I will only mention a few. The good care and love I get in the home is to me like one big family. Loving and visiting with one another, that is, the ones who are able to be up and about. Also those who can be up and about visit with those who are confined to their beds or rooms. We also have a lot of entertainment, games, and crafts, music of different kinds, singings, church every Sunday, Bible study every Wednesday night, devotional and our exercises every morning except Saturday and Sunday. All of which I enjoy very much. Good food and our personal laundry done real nice. So I would advise all elderly people when they reach the age where they are not able to wait on themselves, to get in a Care Home like Rice Springs where they can be loved and cared for. I will soon be 89 years young. The hospital is near by so I can get a Doctor if needed.

berd, Gene Butler and Elmus Swales for their fine endeavors. We appreciate a nice place to live. We are elated to hear that Mrs. Lucille Martin is home from the hospital and we look forward to having her back with us very soon. We have been missing a bright and cheerful person around here this week, as Joan Meier is taking the last of her vacation days now. Hurry back. We welcome Susie Munoz to our staff and plan on having her as a very good aide with us. We are in need of more LVN's to help take care of us and hope that some will come and help us out. Mr. and Mrs. Don Peavy of Houston visited with Mrs. Mattie Peavy; Wallace and Opal Stark of Artesia, New Mexico and Garland and Johnny Stark of Dallas, Texas visited with Susie Stark. Others visiting Susie were Beulah May and Red Wallace of Hamlin. Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Rose of Abilene surprised Mrs. Ethel Rose with a visit. Gladys Fraley of Lubbock visited with her mom, Mrs. Eva McMillan and with her sister Faye Jetton who is director of nurses here. Mrs. Edvin Thane of Stamford visited with Alvina Holle and among our other visitors were Ona Mae Simmons of Midland, E. W. Cox of Cisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vaughn of Aspermont. In the above paragraphs we paid tribute to three of our favorite people who make living here so nice. There are also 53 other personnel here who wait on us twenty-four hours a day, cook our meals and comfort us in many other ways. Sometimes when our children cannot come or to those of us who have no children to come, the days seem so long. But then cheerful personnel out here come in and help make our day a little brighter and things take on a different design after we have up-lifted our frame of mind. Maybe in future weeks we can give honor to the rest of these loving, caring people. We are still concerned about Annie Lassetter who is a patient in the hospital and hope she can come back and be with us soon. Our congratulations to Mrs. Pearl King who celebrated her 93rd birthday with us this week. My hasn't she seen some changes in her. So long until next

R. M. Davis, Soil Conservation Service Administrator stated in the October Soil Conservation magazine, "Change is inevitable in the farmer's search for ways to conserve fuel and maintain yields in the wake of petroleum shortages and higher prices. Some farming systems will increase rapidly and other will be virtually abandoned. Minimum tillage, including no-till, is emerging as the most promising fuel saver for farmers. This practice has especially high potential for feed grains, cereals soybeans, and cotton-the crops most in demand on the world market.

In Texas, a switch from conventional tillage to minimum tillage saves an average of about 5 gallons of tractor fuel per acre per year. With some 456,000 acres being farmed with minimum tillage last year, Texas farmers saved about 2.3 million gallons of tractor fuel.

I know of about 1700 acres in Haskell County that were farmed using minimum tillage last year. This accounts for a saving of approximately 8500 gallons of tractor fuel. I am sure that there were many more acres farmed using this method than I discovered.

Added this year to the growing numbers of farmers practicing some degree of minimum tillage is Willard Mullins and Bobby Tankersley. Mullins reported some 1500 acres farmed using minimum tillage, while Tankersley stated that all his maize and small grains were farmed with minimum tillage. Mullins farms in the north central portion of Haskell County and Tankersley farms mostly in the O'Brien-Rochester area.

Another energy saver is better management of irrigation water. According to Davis, SCS estimates that by increasing the efficiency of both delivery systems and on-farm irrigation, farmers could save more than 230 million gallons of fuel each year. I have no concrete figures on energy saving in the field of irrigation for Haskell County.

Your SCS technicians and officials of the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation Districts urge you to look into these two ways of saving fuel and energy as a boost to our local economy. SCS technicians are available to assist you in planning both minimum tillage and irrigation water management as a means of direct savings in the cost of farm operations.

No Free Ride States Bullock

AUSTIN-Comptroller Bob Bullock said Monday that there are no free rides for either individual taxpayers or local governments in the Finance Article of the proposed constitution.

"Where the constitution giveth, it also taketh," Bullock said of the Finance Article's mandatory homestead exemption for the elderly and putting all personal property-including automobiles-on the tax rolls.

"What the constitution taketh may come as a surprise to one million taxpayers in Harris County who own automobiles if they wake up after November 5 and find a stack of personal property tax bills on their cars from the county, the city and the school district," Bullock said.

Putting all cars on the tax rolls would cost motorists more than $72 million a year in taxes, Bullock said, pointing out that more than 500 cities, schools and counties do not now tax automobiles.

Likewise, Bullock said, making homestead property tax exemptions for the elderly mandatory would take $21 million in tax money away from another 500 local governments which do not now grant the exemption.

"That $21 million would have to be made up from somewhere-and that 'somewhere' is the rest of the taxpayers in the cities and counties and schools affected," he said. "In the past the exemption has been massive-completely optional-and you are assured that any law granted it," he said.

FORD HAS OUT A CHALLENGE. He proposes to reduce by $28 billion a commensurate amount in spending by

PART OF THIS is not the rub comes in general expenditures. Both Members of and those in their who influence their ideas of actions should or be made.

WITH A REDUCTION OF $28 BILLION IN the coming Administration will stand at an $395 billion with a approximately $72

CHOICES THIS NATION'S FACES BECOME MORE acute. We not to cut back on spending and towards economic, or we can choose growth of Federal spending and put the money saved from reduced taxes right into people's pockets, to spend as they wish.

THAT IS A BASIC DECISION NOW IN THE PROCESS of being made. The tax cut of $24 billion last March expires at the end of 1975. Not counting the tax refund for 1975 it will take about a $13 billion extension of that reduction to stay where we were in 1974.

AN ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE BY THOSE OF US who believe there should be a definite commitment by the Congress to cut spending by at least an equal amount of any tax reduction to see this requirement is put into the law. Unless this Congress positively and unequivocally says by a resolution by both the House and the Senate that this be accomplished, it is not likely any spending will be reduced.

IT IS TRUE ENOUGH THAT THE CONGRESS cannot at the moment know exactly where reductions in spending can be made specifically. A budget must be examined in careful detail but if tax cuts are made contingent on the same amounts of less spending, a real incentive will hang right around our shoulders until it is done. We all want less taxes. If we want lower taxes, let's tie lower taxes to lower spending.

THIS IS A BIG ORDER BECAUSE OUR MUSH-

ROOMING Government programs have led this Nation closer and closer to the British type of socialism in which they find themselves. We are at a point now where many able economists warn that by the year 1980, one half of our people will be supporting the other half. If that point is ever reached, those 50% or more who receive Government largesse are not likely to want to turn back, and will in fact have changed our successful form of Government to a parental form patterned after England.

ECONOMISTS OF VARIOUS PERSUASIONS AND THEORIES have testified before the Budget Committee that a continuation of the temporary tax cut is necessary to stimulate the economic recovery which is now seemingly on its way. Most, however, warn that continuous deficits contribute to more inflationary pressures which could follow a sizable economic upturn. Inflation, the cruelest tax of all, must be brought under control if we are to have economic stability. The only way a tax cut can benefit people is to guarantee that savings will purchase something. Otherwise, it's giving with one hand and taking it away with the other.

THE PRESIDENT SHOULD, AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, submit a budget calling for the $395 billion he has already suggested and recommending where cuts of $28 billion should be applied. In the meantime, the Congress should say it will affect those reductions while, at the same time, reducing taxes.

IT WOULD TAKE SOMETHING LIKE A 7% ACROSS-THE-BOARD reduction in all expenditures to make up this sum. This would be the first thought on how these reductions should be made but it cannot be applied to some things like interest on the public debt. The Government would be in the same position as New York City should it default on its obligations. Therefore, this means that selective reductions must be made, although in certain categories a flat percentage on every expenditure could be applied.

BE PROUD that we are now officially designated as a Bicentennial City-County. Official badges available at the Haskell Free Press. $1.50.

Farabee Urges Absentee Vote

WICHITA FALLS—State Senator Ray Farabee urged all citizens who expect to be away from their homes for any reason on November 4 to vote absentee prior to November 1, 1975.

November 4 is the date of the Constitutional election. Voters will have the opportunity to vote for or against each of the eight separate articles of the proposed Constitution.

In November 1972, the voters of Texas approved a constitutional amendment calling for the Texas Legislature to act as a constitutional convention in 1974. The constitutional convention failed by three votes to obtain the necessary 2/3rds majority for submission.

The 64th session of the Legislature voted in 1975 by a 2/3rds vote to submit the new Constitution to the voters, thus giving Texas voters their first opportunity in 100 years to vote on a new Constitution for Texas.

Senator Farabee, who was one of seven Senate members recently appointed by Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby to the interim Committee on the Texas Constitution, stated,

"The proposed Constitution should neither be adopted nor defeated by default. Sometimes there is a tendency to vote against things we don't understand, or worse, to not vote at all."

Farabee continued, "Although I personally favor adoption of the proposed Constitution, I hope in the 30th District opportunity to document and make her own mind on. Then vote for or November 4-but

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

These days you see someone wearing expensive-looking jewelry, a necklace or a bracelet and silver jewelry. There is a large amount of interest in American Indian jewelry. It has been great, but unfortunately the number of people who have any knowledge to judge the value of such jewelry is small. The Attorney General's Protection Division has received more than a few complaints about this lack of evaluating authentic Indian jewelry. There was a chance for education by unscrupulous dealers from several states who indicate that a consumer's fee has been defrauded in their purchase of turquoise and silver jewelry.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys say the best safeguard inexperienced Indian jewelry purchasers can have is to deal with a knowledgeable, reputable dealer, one who has an established place of business in case you need to contact him later about any problem.

Some such dealers buy directly from Indian tribes who produce fine jewelry. Many belong to the Indian Arts & Crafts Association, which guarantees that merchandise will be as represented to purchasers. There are also museum shops that sell fine American Indian jewelry, as well as shops in national parks.

If high quality, craftsmanship, and resale value are important to you, or if you intend to collect Indian jewelry, you probably will want to pay more for an item handmade by American Indians, in which sterling silver and fine turquoises are used.

Don't give future Legislatures a blank check.

The Houston Chronicle calls the new constitution "a dangerous document." Governor Dolph Briscoe warns it will lead us down the road to a state income tax."

Governor Briscoe says: "It is my personal view that the present Constitution under which Texas has grown and prospered for a century is preferable to the proposed new constitution. Accordingly, I believe it is in the best interest of Texas that all eight propositions on the ballot be rejected."

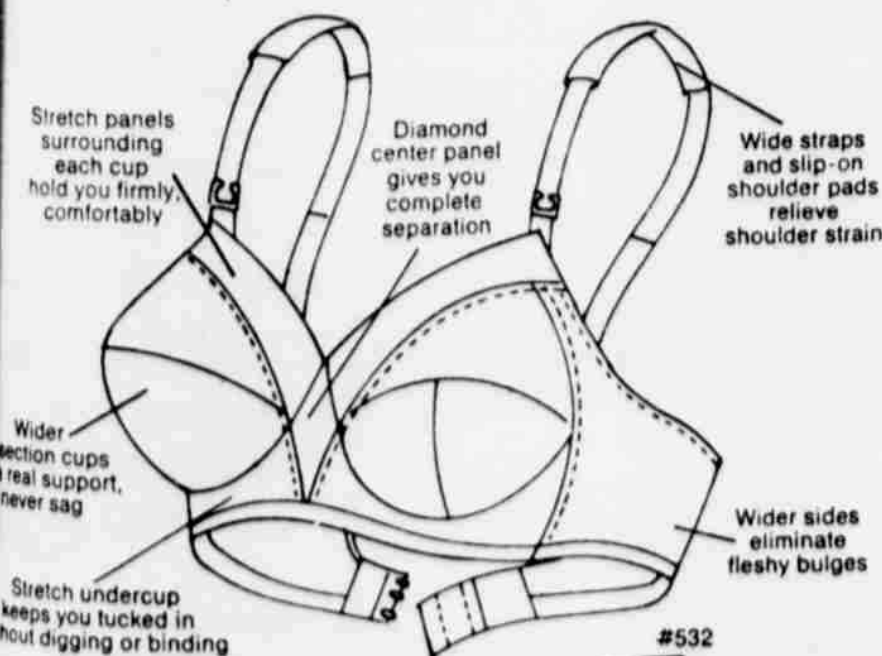

Make it safe. Keep our present Constitution by voting NO on Tuesday, November 4.

One thing to remember is that fine, antique handmade Indian jewelry is extremely scarce, and as a result, quite expensive. However, many Indian artisans are creating authentic new jewelry, some of it in the old designs, some in modern ones.

Experts say the fine, deep sky blue turquoises used in Indian jewelry are hard to obtain now too. The most valuable—and scarce—turquoises are Persian ones. American turquoise is lighter by nature than the Persian stones, but even fine American turquoise is becoming scarce.

Many of the dark blue turquoises found in modern Indian and "Indian-style" jewelry are lower-grade stones that have been treated with oil or wax to darken and intensify color, improve sheen, and add strength.

Treated turquoise, while inferior, should not necessarily be avoided, though. As long as treated stones are identified as such, and there is no attempt to deceive the purchaser, they

Retirement Plans Offered at HNB

When the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 was being drafted, Congress made it quite clear that every American worker should have access to a pension plan of some type. It was recognized that those who worked for an employer not providing a pension plan were being unjustly discriminated against.

For this reason, the Individual Retirement Account (IRA) was written into the law. With an IRA, a worker who is not covered by a qualified plan has the opportunity to set up a retirement plan for himself, and fund it through tax deductible contributions.

HASKELL NATIONAL BANK is offering special Individual Retirement Accounts for persons who qualify to establish individual retirement plans for themselves.

An individual setting up an IRA must meet the following requirements:

He must be under seventy and one-half years of age.

He must have income of compensation for services rendered (excluding investment income).

He must not be a participant in any other qualified employee benefit plan.

Interest, dividends and rents, as well as earnings from other investments, may not be included in compensation.

Under the provisions of the law, an individual may contribute each year to an IRA account the lesser of $1,500.00, or 15 percent of his yearly earned income or compensation. If both husband and wife have earned income or compensation, each may establish an IRA account and each may contribute the lesser of $1,500.00, or 15 percent of their earned income or compensation. Contributions to the special retirement savings account are tax deductible in the year they are made, and the tax on fund earnings is deferred until the time the individual begins receiving his retirement benefits.

The individual may terminate the account at any time, although there is a 10 per cent excise tax on withdrawals made prior to the time he attains the age of fifty-nine and one-half years, except in the case of permanent disability. Withdrawals can be made between the ages of fifty-nine and one-half and seventy and one-half without penalty, although that amount is includable as ordinary income. Withdrawals must begin by age seventy and one-half.

During the period of time money is deposited into the IRA account, it will be earning five per cent interest, compounded daily.

To open an Individual Retirement Account, contact the Haskell National Bank. The Employee Retirement

Income Security Act of 1974 also permits terminating employees with lump sum distributions from qualified plans, to postpone the income tax liability by setting up a tax-free "roll-over" Individual Retirement Account.

This account, if acted upon within 60 days from receipt of benefits, not only defers the income tax applicable to the distribution, but also offers a tax shelter on the income earned by the assets in the account—the individual realizes no reportable income until funds are actually withdrawn from the account.

"Rollover" IRA accounts are being administered by the Trust Department of the Haskell National Bank. For further information about "rollover" IRA accounts and the requirements, contact the Trust Department of the Haskell National Bank.
