Interest & Sinking Fund Balance(s)	$ 0

Obituaries

Lona Mae Phelps

LONA MAE PHELPS

Celebration of life services for Lona Mae Phelps, 91, of Haskell, were held Tues., Aug. 9 at First Assembly of God Church with Rev. J.C. Amburn officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery under the direction of Haskell Funeral Home.

Mrs. Phelps passed away Sat., Aug. 6.

Born Jan. 21, 1925 in Weinert, she was the daughter of the late Jack and Sallie Alexander Sanders. On Oct. 6, 1943, she married Dudley Alfred Phelps. He died Nov. 20, 1993.

She was a charter member of Foursquare Gospel Church and currently attended First Assembly of God. Lona Mae's priorities were always her family and church. Any time the church doors were open, that's where she would be, and any time family would gather, she would be there, too. She was known to her family and friends as Fluffy or Shorty. She will be greatly missed by all.

She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, and two sisters, Eva Hardman and Martha Maupin.

Survivors include her daughter, Elaine Campbell and husband Kenneth of Haskell; granddaughter, Karen Mitchell of Abilene; great grandchildren, Kendall Mitchell and Valerie of Abilene; Allison Mitchell and Tony of Abilene; great great grandchildren, Alexavier, Adym, Anhelica, Keegan, Kayson, Lacoste and Angel; her siblings, Oman "Bud" Sanders and wife Wilma of Coleman; Ethel Slade of Eagar, Arizona; Andy Sanders and wife Marlene of Cross Plains; Marie Kirkland and husband B.D. of Fort Worth; Sue Cox and husband Walter of Naples; Jacky Sanders and wife Sandra of Haskell; Scarlet Cole and husband Kenneth of Seguin; Rocky Sanders and wife Marsha of Abilene; brother-in-law, Bill Maupin of Odessa; numerous nieces, nephews and a host of dear friends.

Pallbearers were Bobby Howeth, Vicente Solano, James McFadden, Doyle Mitchell, Eugene Gibbs and David Parsons. Honorary pallbearers are Kendall Mitchell, Tony Navarrette, Danny Payne, Claude Payne, Robert Payne, Curtis Payne and Jerrel Payne. PD. NOTICE

Protect your eyes from the sun

Ophthalmologists at UT Southwestern Medical Center remind everyone to protect their eyes from the sun. The surface of the eye and the cornea are particularly vulnerable to the sun's rays.

"Excessive exposure may increase the risk for the formation of a fleshy tissue over the cornea, some forms of cataract, and possibly macular degeneration," says Dr. V. Vinod Mootha, a specialist in cornea and external disease, as well as refractive and cataract surgery. "Sunglasses should be used by adults and children when outdoors for prolonged periods of time. For eyeglass wearers, polycarbonate lenses, which are thin and shatterproof, offer protection from ultraviolet radiation."

UVB exposure is higher on sunny days (especially at noon) and low-ozone days.

Texas on alert for local Zika, urges precautions

With local Zika cases detected in Florida and increased travel to Brazil for the Summer Olympics, Texas is on high alert for local Zika transmission by mosquito bites and is urging everyone to strictly follow precautions.

"It's the perfect mix—local transmission in Florida, travel to Brazil, and we're at the height of mosquito season in Texas," said Dr. John Hellerstedt, Texas Department of State Health Services commissioner. "Local transmission here is likely at some point. The good news is that Texas is ready."

The Texas response plan is in effect. Texas has reported 93 cases of Zika virus disease—all related to travel abroad to areas with active Zika transmission. No local transmission through mosquito bite has been detected yet in Texas. State efforts have been underway since January to delay and minimize the impact of Zika on Texas.

"If Texas has local transmission, we'll quickly announce it and describe the area of potential risk for Texans," Dr. Hellerstedt said. "We're working in lockstep with our local and federal partners to ensure a strong Texas response."

DSHS is spending more than $6 million in state and federal funds on disease surveillance, expanded lab testing capabilities, public education and awareness, Zika prevention kits and other efforts to build a strong infrastructure to help protect Texans from Zika. Texas Medicaid announced it will cover the cost of mosquito repellent for eligible women who are between the ages of 10 and 45 or pregnant.

DSHS has identified and exercised eight state public health Zika Response Teams that are ready to deploy if local transmission is detected in Texas. These scalable regional teams will be able to assist local entities with investigating possible cases, evaluating environments for mosquito activity, providing door-to-door education and other response efforts.

Last week, state health officials briefed Gov. Greg Abbott on the state's response and preparations. Next week the Governor's Task Force on Infectious Disease Preparedness and Response will meet again in Austin to discuss Zika and other issues.

"We're doing everything we can, and people have the power to protect themselves," Dr. Hellerstedt said. "Insect repellent and information are our best defense."

To amplify precaution messages, DSHS has boosted its statewide Zika public outreach campaign, which now has an expanded budget and an additional emphasis on travelers. The website www.TexasZika.org launched in February and continues to be the anchor for the campaign and the source of official Texas public health information about Zika.

While local transmission in Texas remains likely at some point, public health officials do not expect widespread transmission across large geographic areas of the state. Small pockets of cases are more likely. This assessment is based on the state's past experience with dengue, a similar virus spread by the same mosquitoes, and on the prevalent use of window screens, air conditioning, insect repellent and other mosquito control efforts in Texas.

DSHS has approved more than 1,200 human specimens for Zika virus testing by the DSHS laboratory and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Other labs across the state now have the ability to test for Zika. In late July, DSHS added the more complex serologic testing for human specimens to detect Zika infection in people who may not have had symptoms. Texas also has the capability to test mosquito specimens for Zika as warranted for identified high-risk areas, though the best indicator of Zika prevalence is human case detection.

Zika poses a serious threat to unborn children, and protecting pregnant women is a central concern. Texas has reported 42 individuals into the CDC's Zika Pregnancy Registry. That number includes three pregnant women who are confirmed Zika cases. It also includes pregnant women and any newborns who have laboratory evidence of Zika infection but don't qualify as Zika cases because they have had no symptoms or because the infection couldn't specifically be identified as Zika virus. Texas provides data to the Zika Pregnancy Registry weekly. With local transmission in Florida and mosquito season in full force in Texas, state health officials urge everyone to follow precautions to protect themselves from mosquito bites:

- Apply EPA-approved insect repellent.
- Wear pants and long-sleeve shirts that cover exposed skin. In warmer weather, wear lightweight, loose-fitting clothing that covers exposed skin.
- Use screens or close windows and doors to keep mosquitoes out of your home.
- Remove standing water in and around the home. This includes water in cans, toys, tires, plant saucers, and any container that can hold water.
- Cover trash cans or containers where water can collect.

To avoid infecting local mosquitoes, people who travel to areas with active Zika transmission should apply insect repellent every time they go outside for at least three weeks after they return to Texas—and longer if they develop an illness that could be Zika.

Food handlers courses scheduled

by Darlene Hopkins
CEA/FCS, Haskell Co.

The "Texas Food Establishment Rules (TFER)" was revised and updated and became effective Oct. 11, 2015. A major change in the revision now requires all food employees to complete an accredited food handlers training program within 60 days of employment, effective Sept. 16, 2016.

A Food Handlers course, accredited by the Texas Department of State Health Services, is being offered by Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, Jones County. Food Safety: It's In Your Hands is scheduled for Wed., Aug. 17 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The training will be held at the Lawrence Hall Activity Center in Anson. The address is 801 23rd Street, Anson.

This 1-2-hour course will now be required for all food service employees to help promote the service of safe food. The certificate is good for two years and is valid anywhere in the State of Texas. The course is a basic overview of food safety practices that are necessary to ensure that safe food is served at your establishment. Practices discussed include good personal hygiene, cross contamination, and time and temperature abuse.

To register for the Aug. 17 course, call the Extension office at 325-823-2432 or come by 1100 12th Street, Courthouse basement in Anson by Aug. 12. The cost is $20.00 per person and must be paid in full before the course begins. Cash, check or money orders are the only forms of payment that will be accepted. The class is taught in English, but Spanish handouts are available if requested in advance.

Individuals with disabilities who require auxiliary aide service or accommodation in order to participate in the event are encouraged to contact our office within five working days prior to the program. Educational programs of Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service are open to all people without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, national origin or genetic information or veteran status.

For more information, contact Kim Miles, County Extension Agent—Family & Consumer Sciences at 325-823-2432 or kamiles@ag.tamu.edu or Darlene Hopkins, County Extension Agent—FCS Haskell Co. at 940-864-2658.

The "Texas Food Establishment Rules (TFER)" were revised and updated and became effective October, 2015. A major change in the revision now requires all food employees to complete an accredited food handlers training program within 60 days of employment, effective September, 2016.

Two food handler courses accredited by the Texas Department of State Health Services are being offered by Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, Taylor County. Food Safety: It's In Your Hands is scheduled for Thurs., Aug. 25 and repeated Thurs., Sept. 22. Both courses will begin at 2:00 p.m. at the Extension office, 1982 Lytle Way, Abilene. The Extension office is located on the Taylor County Expo Center grounds.

This two-hour course will now be required for all food service employees to help promote the service of safe food. The certificate is good for two years and is valid anywhere in the State of Texas. The course is a basic overview of food safety practices that are necessary to ensure that safe food is served at your establishment. Practices discussed include good personal hygiene, cross contamination, and time and temperature abuse. The class is taught in English but Spanish handouts are available if requested in advance.

To register for the course, call the Taylor County Extension office at 325-672-6048. Registration can also be done in-person the day of the course.

Cost is $20.00 per person and must be paid in full before the course begins.

Vet office open

The Veterans Service office in Haskell is now open. The office, located on the first floor of the west wing of the courthouse, will be open on the first and third Thursdays of each month from 10 a.m. to noon. For information, call 940-256-1125 any time or email Haskell vaso@yahoo.com.

Sheep/goat tags

It is time to order the 2016-2017 State and County sheep and goat tags. If you will be exhibiting a sheep or goat at the Haskell County Livestock Show or state shows next fall you will need tags. Please contact your County Extension Agent or FFA teacher to order tags. Deadline is Aug. 24.

4-H sets back to school dance

The Haskell County 4-H Clubs will host the annual back to school dance Sat., August 20. This dance is open to any youth in the area ages 9-18. The fee for entry is $5.00. The dance will begin at 8:00 p.m. at the Haskell Civic Center pavilion.

Adult sponsors will be in attendance as chaperones.

The 4-H dress code is stated as follows:

Visible body piercings or clippings are limited to the ear; earrings for boys are not permitted; appropriate shoes are required, no house shoes; no visible tattoos; hair should be clean and appropriately groomed.

4-H'ers will not be allowed to spray or dye their hair green, blue, red, pink, or other unnatural tints. Haskell County 4-H also prohibits hairstyles such as, but not limited to, spiked, Mohawk, unicorn, liberty, or designs added to or cut into the hair that draw undue attention;

Shorts, dresses and skirts will be allowed only if they are at least fingertip length. Sleeveless shirts must have tight armholes and seams and not reveal any undergarments. Shoulder straps must be at least 1.5 inches wide. If overalls are worn, both straps must be over the 4-H'ers shoulders and buckled or strapped in their proper place.

Pajamas and house shoes will not be allowed. Tank tops, miniskirts, short shorts, bike shorts, halter tops, mid riff tops, blouses that are low cut or see-through, backless dresses or shirts, torn or ripped clothing, and "sagging" pants will not be permitted.

No facial hair is allowed for boys.

Appropriate undergarments are required. If belts are worn they must be buckled in an appropriate manner. No exposed mid-riffs will be allowed. This dress code will be enforced for the dance.

If you have questions or concerns, contact the Haskell County Extension office at 864-2658.

Texas A&M University AgriLife Extension Service

by Jason Westbrook, CEA-Ag, Haskell Co.

by Steve Byrns

After months of planning for this year's Texas A&M AgriLife premier sheep and goat educational events, coordinators say all that remains is waiting out the dog days of summer.

For a second year, the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service and Texas A&M AgriLife Research coordinated two back-to-back educational programs set for Aug. 19-20 in San Angelo. The events will feature live animal demonstrations, new technology, stock handling techniques and facility tips spiced with plenty of fun, food and visiting, said Marvin Ensor, AgriLife Extension regional program leader at San Angelo.

The first event will be the 43rd annual Texas A&M AgriLife Sheep and Goat Field Day, whose theme is "Precision Production Practices." The event will be conducted by and on the grounds of the Texas A&M AgriLife Research and Extension Center located just north of San Angelo on U.S. Highway 87. That event will start with registration at 7:30 a.m. followed by the program from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Aug. 19.

The field day is to be followed by the second Texas Sheep and Goat Expo also on Aug. 19, and again on Aug. 20 at the San Angelo Fairground's Wells Fargo Pavilion.

All the activities are open to the public. The center field day and lunch are free while the expo has an individual registration fee of $30 due by Aug. 17 and $50 thereafter. Booth space and sponsorships are also available.

Register online for both events at <http://agrilife.org/westresults/registration/>. The complete program guide is also available on the site as is information on booth space and sponsorships.

For more information on the Expo, call Myra Marsh at 325-653-4576, ext. 237, or for the center field day, call Phyllis Benge, 325-653-4576, ext. 233.

"We ask folks to attend the field day, eat lunch at the center and then ease on over to the San Angelo Fairgrounds where the expo registration and exhibits will open at 1 p.m. followed by the program from 2 to 8:30 p.m."

Though last year's events were both major successes, Ensor said he feels this year's agenda will offer even more for attendees as planners have made every effort to ensure as much of the information as possible is new.

"We will offer some unique opportunities to show what's happening in the current markets," he said. "One session for example, will be a mock auction with live animals in the ring. The 'buyers' will be a panel of experts comprised of folks who own or operate sale barns, as well as order buyers, specialists and others. They'll evaluate the animals and share their experience on what makes certain animals bring what they do currently in the market and then explain where those animals are going; either to the ethnic or conventional markets and why."

"This will be just one of the unique opportunities featured for producers to ask questions of folks who actually are buying their lambs and goats, a group that producers don't normally have access to at one location."

Dr. John Walker, AgriLife Research resident director at San Angelo, said the center field day preceding the expo is dedicated to Dr. Charles "Butch" Taylor, who recently retired as superintendent of the Texas A&M AgriLife Research Station at Sonora following 45 years with the agency.

"I would say that everybody who has been involved with the sheep and goat industry for any length of time knows Dr. Taylor and appreciates the work he has accomplished," Walker said. "Honoring him during this special day is something I look forward to."

Walker said the center field day will feature a five-stop tour highlighting sheep equipment, feed supplementation, range management practices, herding animals with a drone, and work being done with livestock guardian dogs. The remainder of the program will be inside and will include results of a five-year goat marketing study, a Texas A&M University animal science update and drought scenario planning.

The expo will begin with a general session on the current sheep and goat markets followed by the mock auction. The afternoon will then break into three concurrent sessions on internal parasites, cooking lamb and predation, before coming together for dinner and an address by Dr. Dennis Stiffler, former chief executive officer for Mountain States Rosen.

The first day's activities will conclude with a stockmanship demonstration by Bob Buchholz, Schleicher County rancher.

"Aug. 20 activities will start bright and early with a chuckwagon breakfast prepared by the Cacklebur Camp," Ensor said. "The program will start with opening remarks and industry updates from 8:30 to 9 a.m. followed by four concurrent sessions about hair sheep, wool sheep, club lambs and meat goats, similar to last year. But the topics within each category will be new with only the class heading being familiar to last year's attendees."

Ensor said the sessions will meet for lunch and the presentation What is Going to Shape the Future of Animal Agriculture? by Dr. Ron Gill, AgriLife Extension livestock specialist at College Station, before dividing again for the final concurrent sessions.

The expo will conclude by 3 p.m. following a general session on consumer demands and a carcass quality evaluation presentation where representatives from various companies that market lamb products will provide information on current and future opportunities.

Cancer survivors invited to Relay for Life special meal

Living in an area where the word "cancer" is heard much too often, it is good to know there are people doing something about it—namely participating in the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life.

The Knox/Haskell Counties Relay for Life is scheduled for Saturday, September 17th at the Monday Track Field. The "Carnival for a Cure" event will begin at 4 p.m. and conclude at 10 p.m. Relay for Life is designed to promote cancer awareness, while raising funds to fight the disease.

Leann Harlan is the event chairman, but has a committee of volunteers behind her, that are dedicated to fighting cancer through the American Cancer Society's mission of life-saving research. They are asking others to join them by volunteering, donating, joining or forming a team, holding and supporting upcoming fund-raisers and then taking part on Sept. 17th.

A very important part of Relay for Life is the Survivor's Meal, which will be held earlier in the day on Sept. 17th. All cancer survivors in Knox and Haskell Counties are encouraged to come be a part of the dinner. Invitations will be mailed shortly to known survivors, however if you are a cancer survivor or know someone who is, and don't receive an invitation, please contact Becky Offutt at (940) 864-3050.

The American Cancer Society's Relay for Life represents the hope that those lost to cancer will never be forgotten, that those who face cancer will be supported, and that one day cancer will be eliminated. Each person who shares the Relay experience can take pride in knowing that they are working to create a world where this disease no longer threatens the lives of our loved ones or claims another year of anyone's life.

For more information contact Leann Harlan at (940) 203-0142 or visit www.relayforlife.org/knoxhaskelltx to connect with other relayers in this area and find ways you can get involved.

Operation Round Up financial applications now being accepted

The Operation Round Up program, administered by volunteers on the Big Country Electric Cooperative trust board of directors, allows the cooperative and its members to partner together to provide financial assistance to those in need locally. This program is supported by co-op members whose electric bills are "Rounded Up" to the nearest dollar. The "Round Up" amount goes into the Operation Round Up fund for distribution to individuals and organizations with demonstrated financial need in the counties we serve: Borden, Fisher, Garza, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stonewall and Throckmorton. Applications are evaluated with the utmost confidence and funding decisions made by the trust's board of directors—your peers and neighbors—who volunteer their time, hearts and consideration to make decisions that will positively impact lives in our communities. Food needs and food banks, shelter, medical bills and health needs, rescue organizations, educational projects, child care programs and other special needs are just a few of the ways this fund helps families and groups in our local communities. Every penny stays right here at home, in the counties we serve.

Applications for assistance will be accepted now through Sept. 1 at 5:00 p.m.

Applications, instructions and FAQs are available at bigcountry.coop, just look for the Operation Round Up name or logo. Please contact Sarah McLen at 325-776-3803 or at smclen@bigcountry.coop with any questions about Operation Roundup.

Welcome to Bright Horizons. This article is a joint effort between the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, Development Corporation and Keep Haskell Beautiful. We have joined forces to bring you up-to-date articles about our organizations and projects. Each week, one of us will write about what is going on within our organization. The goal is to keep the public aware of current projects and educate citizens about various topics. The articles will also help to let the public know where the needs are and how to become involved in the community.

The Development Corporation of Haskell (DCOH) is hard at work. They are assisting the county with the Rolling Plains Detention Center project and helping to secure 140 jobs. The DCOH is also accepting store front beautification grant applications. Those are due by Sept. 30, 2016. Also, they are recruiting new participants to the adult leadership program. That deadline is Sept. 1, 2016.

Heads up on the Community-Wide Garage Sale on Sat., Oct. 1st, hosted by the Chamber of Commerce. This gives you plenty of time to get your garage sale items together. Also, come by the chamber to learn more about the Chamber's HOT Grant Program that can help with your organization's events.

Keep Haskell Beautiful (KHB) is a non-profit organization that educates and engages the citizens of Haskell to take responsibility for enhancing their community. So far KHB has held two clean-up events, one on the square and one at the park, and added two new pieces of equipment to the park. KHB hosted a volleyball tournament and commissioned the Deep Roots downtown. We are now in the process of putting in a sand volleyball court at the park and hope to continually add improvements to the park complex. Keep Haskell Beautiful is also in the process of starting a scholarship fund for the youth in our community.

For more information on any of these projects, visit www.haskelltxusa.com.

Turmeric powder recalled

by Darlene Hopkins
CEA/FCS, Haskell Co.
Gel Spice, Inc. is recalling one lot of Fresh Finds Ground Turmeric Powder because the product contains elevated lead levels.

The recalled "Fresh Finds Ground Turmeric" is packaged in 3.75 oz. PET jars. It has a code of B/B 03/08/19 and B/B 05/18/19 on the neck of the container. The package also has a UPC code of 81026-01230. The product was distributed at Big Lots Stores throughout the United States.

Routine sampling by New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets' food inspectors and subsequent analysis of the product by the New York State Food Laboratory revealed the elevated level of lead.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this problem.

Lead can accumulate in the body over time. Too much can cause health problems, including delayed mental and physical development and learning deficiencies. Pregnant women, infants and young children especially should avoid exposure to lead. People concerned about blood lead levels should contact their physician or health clinic to ask about testing.

Consumers who have purchased "Fresh Finds Ground Turmeric" should discard the product. Consumers with questions about the recalled product may call 201-564-0435.

Local conservation program meeting set Fri., Aug. 19

The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) in Haskell County and the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District cordially invite the public to attend their Fiscal Year 2017 Local Working Group (LWG) meeting Aug. 19, 2016, 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

The purpose of this annual LWG meeting is to bring together conservation stakeholders to discuss conservation topics and issues, and to set local conservation priorities to help farmers, ranchers and private landowners conserve and manage the natural resources.

The meeting also updates attendees on recent conservation efforts and allows for an opportunity to collect public input to help guide future conservation activities. Through regular identification of conservation opportunities, effective Farm Bill investments can continue to benefit Haskell County. Farmers, ranchers, conservationists, and others interested in obtaining Federal technical and financial assistance to improve private lands are invited to participate.

For more information, please contact Cody Mathis, district conservationist, at 940-864-2617 ext. 4 or visit the NRCS web site at <http://www.tx.nrcs.usda.gov/>.

Casen's Crew sets golf tournament Sat., Aug. 27

by Caron Yates
While it began as a tribute and celebration of what would have been Casen Riley's first birthday, the annual event has evolved into a major fund-raiser for Pediatric Cardiomyopathy. In memory of Casen Riley and in support of all families affected by Cardiomyopathy, the 7th Annual Casen's Crew for Children's Cardiomyopathy is scheduled for Sat., August 27, at the Maxwell Golf Course in Abilene.

The six month old son of Casey and Heather (Steele) Riley, both graduates of Haskell High School, passed away in March 2010, after being diagnosed with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy.

Cardiomyopathy, is a chronic disease of the heart muscle that can present in four forms. In children, the disease can be either acquired or inherited. It is estimated that 30,000 children have this disease. This "silent disease" is the leading cause of sudden deaths and heart transplants in children under the age of 18. Because the disease may present itself without obvious symptoms, it often goes undiagnosed. Unlike other congenital heart conditions, there is no surgical treatment or cure that can repair the damaged heart or stop the progression of the disease. More research is essential.

All proceeds go to the Children's Cardiomyopathy Foundation and families affected by the disease. Since its beginning in 2002, the CCF, a non-profit organization, has grown into a global community of families, physicians and scientists focused on improving diagnosis, treatment and quality of life for children with cardiomyopathy. CCF is involved in all aspects of the disease from research and education to patient support, awareness and advocacy. Every dollar counts and every dollar makes a difference. This disease remains severely underfunded by federal sources and pharmaceutical companies, given its severity. However, with CCF-funded research, progress is being made in understanding and improving survival rates for children with Cardiomyopathy.

Searching for a way to honor and remember their precious son, the Rileys in 2010 organized a fund-raiser to help raise awareness of this disease.

This year Casen's Crew is holding a 4 Man Scramble Golf Tournament. It will be held at the Maxwell Golf Course, located at 1002 S. 32nd in Abilene. The desk opens and cart pick up begins at 7 a.m. The Shotgun Start is at 8 a.m. The entry fee of $75 per individual or $300 per foursome will include green fee, cart, range balls and a hamburger meal. Cash awards for first, second, third, closest to #9 and longest drive on #10, will be presented after the meal. Register by August 13th, to ensure you get a T-shirt.

They are also selling t-shirts for $15, metal crosses for $10 and wristbands for $4.

Events such as this are only successful with the help of individual and corporate sponsors, the many participants and, of course, the wonderful volunteers. Last year two hundred people attended the fund-raiser, and $15,000 was raised for the cause. A portion of the funds went to the CCF, while the remainder went to help two families whose lives are affected by Cardiomyopathy every day.

The Rileys are very appreciative of the past support they have received and look forward to another successful fund-raiser for a very important cause. For registration forms, more information on the event, information on the Children's Cardiomyopathy Foundation, Casen's Story or how you can help support this cause, visit www.casenscrew.com or call Heather Riley at (325) 370-6379.

This Week's Devotional Message:

When you visit God's wilderness, keep it clean

Whenever you pay a visit to the home of friends or relatives, you naturally remember your manners and do your best to keep the place as neat and clean as possible. By the same token, if your plans take you to a wilderness or camping area, this is also a good place to remember your manners. It's really a form of "love thy neighbor" because you do this out of consideration for others who may share the place with you. Another reason is that you are God's guest there. In any wilderness area you can see all the beauty which He has provided for your enjoyment. Think of it as an outdoor extension of your house of worship, and respect it as you would any place where you are an invited guest. In this case, the 'guest room' is all God's creation.

Alzheimer's group to hold free program

The Alzheimer's Association-North Central Texas Chapter will present a free educational program entitled, "Understanding & Responding to Dementia-Related Behaviors," Tues., Aug. 30, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., at the Abilene Regional Office located at 301 S. Pioneer Drive, Suite 105.

During the middle stage of dementia, the person with the disease often starts to exhibit new behaviors that can be confusing and difficult for caregivers. These behaviors are a form of communication, and are essential to understanding the needs of the person with dementia. Combining practical information, resources, and interviews with experts, this program is designed to help caregivers address the challenges of dementia-related behavior. Seating is limited. For additional information or to register, call Mindy Bannister at 1-800-272-3900 or e-mail mbannister@alz.org.

Present were the families of the late Jose Maria (Joe) and Luis Ozuna, Christina Ozuna Bryant and Betty Ozuna Martin of Haskell, Armando and Candie (Ozuna) Galindo of Dallas, J.B. and Dominga Ozuna of Denton, Danny Ozuna of Wichita Falls, Tim and Janie (Ozuna) Alexander of Haskell, Domingo and Dolores Ozuna of Dallas and Larry and Susie (Ozuna) of Dimmitt.

Texas A&M University AgriLife Extension Service

by Jason Westbrook, CEA-Ag, Haskell Co.

Sugarcane aphid populations are exploding in grain sorghum fields across the Texas High Plains, warns a Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service specialist in Amarillo.

Dr. Ed Bynum, AgriLife Extension entomologist, said the sugarcane aphid populations in the South Plains have reached economic thresholds. Infestations in the field can be just a few aphids per plant to a thousand or more aphids per plant.

Infestations were found Aug. 1 in sorghum silage trials near Bushland, and there was a report of aphids in an Ochiltree County field, he said.

"We need to make sure producers are out checking their fields, scouting for the sugarcane aphid and to be prepared for when insecticide applications are warranted."

Bynum said AgriLife Extension entomologists have advised the threshold for the High Plains is to treat when:

- 20 percent of plants have aphids in the pre-boot stage.

- 20 percent of the plants have no more than 50 aphids in the boot stage.

- 30 percent in the flowering-milk.

- 30 percent infested with localized areas of heavy honeydew and established aphid colonies in soft dough and dough stages.

- At black layer, when heavy honeydew and established aphid colonies are present. Treat only for preventing harvest problems.

Bynum said field trials have shown only two chemicals provide good control of the aphid. These products are Transform and Silvanto.

Other insecticide products that might be recommended for control have not proven to be effective in studies across Texas, he said.

"Producers can control the sugarcane aphid if they stay on top of the situation and make timely applications," Bynum said.

We would like to express our heartfelt gratitude for all the visits, food, flowers, cards and the memorial fund set up in Vance's honor. We want to thank Smith Family Funeral Home and Will Duniven for the beautiful experience in making Vance's service a very special one. Also, thanks to Brother David and the Methodist Church for the wonderful meal for our family. Thank you to our communities for all the prayers and outpouring of love shown to Vance and our family in his honor. These acts of love for Vance has helped us go through this difficult time. Thank you all from the bottom of our hearts. God bless each one of you.
The Vance Saffel Family
