In the first period the Indians fumbled two times, but still managed to hold the Wildcats to only one TD. This one was late in the period. With 57 seconds left, David Bell carried the ball over from the one for the first 6 points. Bell kicked the PAT. This drive started after the Indians fumbled a fourth down Wildcat punt, and they recovered it on the 15.

Be A Safe Hunter

Considering the thousands of men and women who are roaming the fields and woods with high-powered rifles during hunting season in Texas, it is not too surprising that a few hunters fail to return home alive each year. Others return with a serious gun shot wound that requires extensive medical treatment.

The primary cause of hunting accidents is carelessness. The hunter who blazes away at anything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter. The professional hunter will know what he or she is firing at before pulling the trigger. The hunter must never forget that any weapon capable of killing birds and animals also can kill humans. To avoid being mistaken for wild game, the Texas Medical Association urges every hunter to wear "daylight fluore-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Would you please tell me if you know of any old lime kilns, or old lime kiln sites, in your area, which I might visit, or about which I might collect information? Or could you refer me to any persons who would know? Your county once had many such kilns. I hope to write a Bicentennial story on these fast-disappearing, early-day institutions. Very little appears in print on this Texas subject. Older people are the best source on it. Even a very little bit of information could be a great deal of help to me. Thank you very much. Ralph A. Haskell Bicentennial Happenings

By Roxle Parker

Rochester's two-day celebration this week is like killing two birds with one stone-they combined a Bicentennial emphasis and a reminder of our original Armistice Day, Nov.

Mrs. R. A. Shaver, president of the Women's Literary Club who is also a member of the Haskell City-County Bicentennial Commission, and her committee are to be commended for their work in planning the festivities for the community

Monday night in the competition for Miss Veterans Day Queen Jami Beauchamp was crowned winner, with Brenda Stegemoeller and Jana Mc-Ghee runners-up.

The Bicentennial Queen is Mrs. Ben Williams and this contest really elicited a lot of interest. The older women of the community were encouraged to participate, wearing appropriate dress of pioneer days, and there were twentyeight contestants. Mrs. Blanche Corley and Mrs. Maude Newberry were runners-up.

Jinx Shaver was Master of Ceremonies and Haskell's Yankee Doodle Girls performed for the program; they were enthusiastically received by the audience, said to be "a huge crowd", by Mrs. John Nichols who as a hostess greeted me Tuesday when I went over for the morning's activities.

The Literary Club sponsored a bake sale and antique show, plus World War I and II exhibits, and as usual I didn't have time to browse as long as I would have liked.

Hostesses wore colonial dresses and caps and were most gracious in greeting visitors. There were old tools and toys and books among the many things displayed. Especially interesting was a cookbook, "Good Things To Eat," compiled in 1932 by the Methodist Ladies Missionary Societies of Rule and Rochester and owned by Mrs. W. L. Ballard whose mother, Mrs. C. M. Manley helped compile the book. A letter dated March 17, 1986 was written from Chicago on stationery whose letterhead read, "Sears, Roebuck and Inc-Cheapest Company, Supply House on Earth." Referring to their catalogue to be offered for 15c: "The book is free; the 15c only partly pays the postage or express."

Very neatly arranged was a Veteran's display featuring John Nichols, World War II Sea Bee with pictures, his dog tag, a pack of cigarettes bought on Guadalcanal for a nickel and a photograph with poignant caption: buddies were left behind-Cemetery, Guadalcanal."

There was a display of antique pitchers and dishes and several newspapers from days gone by. One table drew a lot of comment-a 1908 calendar and a 1964 calendar had the same dates falling on the same days and it was noted that this will again occur in 1992.

Remember the satin, fringed pillow tops the service men all sent home? The ones that said "Mother-Fort Bragg", or "Sweetheart-Camp Clairborne"? Those were displayed; there was even a complete World War I soldier's uni-

Across the street was the Rochester Hobby Club building and the ladies there were dressed in colonial garb and having such a good time showing their wide selection of handcrafted items which were for sale-everything from place mats and dolls to stuffed animals and crocheted pillows. There were two quilts up in frames being quilted: the 'Lone Star" in colors of red. white and blue, which the club members are making as their Bicentennial project, and the other, the "Bow Tie" pattern on active military duty. Of the in different colors pieced by an individual.

club, and I could not help remembering that well-worn "Never underestimate the power of a woman!"

That twenty women, the number in the club, could accomplish so much was astounding.

The building once housed the N. B. Webb Dry Goods store. Eventually it was inherited by Dr. Watkins Webb of Dallas, who gave it (that's right-gave it!) to the Hobby Club. The building was in great need of repair when the club received it 21/2 years ago. The front section has been re-floored and a new ceiling has been added, and the ladies plan to renovate the whole building, which includes a storeroom and bath and an upstairs before they are finished.

The members meet twice a month for all day and serve lunch to husbands and invited guests, and the shop is open on Saturday for the sale of the items. Mrs. Helen Cox is president; vice president is Mrs. Alatia Melton, reporter is Mrs. Mary Ada Bowman, treasurer is Mrs. Mae Speck. and Mrs. Wreyford is secret-

Representative W. S. Heatly spoke at eleven o'clock at the Armistice Day ceremonies held in the American Legion Hall with a barbeque luncheon and parade at 3:30 p.m. climaxing the activities.

It was good to see members of the American Legion in uniform-The Rochester Legionnaires have sponsored the annual Veterans Day celebration for several years

I returned to Haskell tired but happy-bringing with me a delicious fresh apple cake baked by Modelle Ballard from the Literary Club bake sale, and a couple of dolls dressed in overalls and farm dress and bonnet, with glasses on the end of their noses! It was fun to help Rochester celebrate the Bicentennial and Armistice Day.

A record 2,691,566 persons trained under the GI Bill during fiscal year 1975 and projections indicate the number will exceed three million persons in this fiscal year, Jack Coker, Verterans Administration Regional Director, reported today. The FY 1975 figures represented a 14 percent increase over FY

The current GI Bill entered its 10th year June 1. Participation rates have exceeded those under either of its two predecessors. Some 4.5 million of the 7.6 million eligible Vietnam-era veterans have used GI Bill benefits, about 60

The participation rate was 43.4 percent under 13 years of the Korean Conflict bill and 50.5 percent under 12 years of the original World War II

The FY 1975 total included 266,890 men and women still remaining 2.4 million veterans, almost two million saw Mrs. Hattie Wreyford gave service during the Vietnam me a tour of their building and era. Two out of three persons something of the history of the trained in FY 1975 were at the college level.

Preliminary reports receivbut most appropriate phrase, ed by VA of fall enrollment across the nation indicate the FY 1975 record will be short-lived. "Our best forecast at this time is for 3,077,000 trainees in fiscal year 1976," Coker said.

The FY 1975 figures included 890,000 persons entering training for the first time. This is almost 100,000 more than entered training in FY 1974. Of the new trainees, 67 percent entered at college level, exclusive of correspondence courses.

VA officials attribute the current surge in participation increased educational assistance allowances enacted under the Vietnam Era Readjustment Act of 1974.

Single veterans attending school full time receive $270 monthly. A veteran with one dependent draws $321 monthly, $366 with two dependents and an additional $22 monthly for each dependent over two.

A special outreach effort has been started by the VA to urge 94,000 eligible women veterans who have not used their GI Bill benefits to do so. Deadline for completion of training is May 31, 1976, or 10 years from the veteran's date of discharge, whichever is later. Only 46 percent of the 174,000 eligible women veterans have trained under the current GI Bill.

Among those 80,000 women who have used the current bill, some may be eligible for a special retroactive payment. Women veterans who were married and who attended school under the GI Bill between June 1, 1966, and October 24, 1972, may be eligible for about $30 for each month they were in training while married.

The special payment equalizes benefits with those received by married male veterans who trained under the GI Bill during this period. Women veterans may file claims for the money at any VA Regional Office before July 1, 1976.

Stuffed Peppers

Green bell peppers are the perfect "bake and serve" containers for a high protein, reasonably priced main dish. The combination of flaked halibut and bulk pork sausage, mixed with enriched white bread in a sherry-seasoned pepper, might be your unexpected flavor coup this fall.

Cream of celery soup makes the easy sauce base, and eight slices of enriched white bread contribute the B-vitamins-thiamine, niacin and riboflavin-plus the mineral, iron. The green peppers, a good source of vitamin C, also have a fair amount of vitamin A and only 15 calories per unstuffed pepper.

WASHINGTON

Congressmen-17th Bistrict

WASHINGTON, D. "PUBLIC OPINION" TESTED BY POLLSTERS on about every subject of what they perceive to be of national interest. Surveys and polls on everything from what the cat likes best to how well the President is doing seem to be a constant process.

ACCORDING TO GEORGE GALLUP OF THE GALLUP POLL, THE POLLSTERS are beginning to run into trouble and he says that there is a threat to the long-term viability of the profession. THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT THE CONSTANT AND ALL-PERVASIVE SAMPLING of public opinion on matters of high national policy has, at times, distorted the political processes. It has been suggested that people are being 'turned off' to some of the opinion-takers who are surveyed because they believe their advice and opinions count for nothing. THIS DOES NOT RELATE TO HOW WELL THE CAT LIKES A CERTAIN food or what the man or woman on the street may think about floor waxes. The usefulness of opinions in marketing, if objectively made, is not disputed. When it gets into the political realm, however, samplings are another thing. Policy-makers and those who must make weighty decisions are not to make them on the basis of what the pollsters say they find out. Decisions of this nature must be done by a process of persuasion and education that public opinion supports. There is no such thing as instant democracy which could, if carried to extremes, pervert responsibility. It could, in the extreme, represent an abdication of basic responsibility if decisions are made by the findings of the pollsters. Certainl, not all services of whatever nature are slanted towards a preconceived result but it might be nice if they would let us be surprised for once by the workings of our systematic processes. In some instances, it might be best that Government wasn't being told all the time what the "people" want so that it could IN RECENT YEARS IT HAS

BEEN THE PRACTICE OF POLITICIANS to run a survey on how well their election chances might be. Four years, ago, a Congressman from lowa had a survey conducted which told him he could not win a seat in the United States Senate. The poll indicated the incumbent Senator could not be defeated. The House Member's Administrative Assistant thought otherwise. He announced and was elected. Of course, this does not conclusively prove everything, with all the factors which may be involved, but it may prove something.

The approach of guaranteeing future loans to the city by the Federal Government is viewed by the public as a much more preferable way of handling the financial crisis of that City than to allow it to default and go bankrupt." The poll, it is stated, was made in all regions of the Country-in cities, suburbs, towns and rural areas and among all age groups-Republicans, Demo-

Eighty eight persons went on two chartered buses on a tour through Virginia, Penn. to Niagara Falls and on to Toronto, Canada. They visited many historic spots including the homes of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson. The tour took nine days.

If you wonder what it is like to go through life with an unalleviated hearing loss, the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation suggests a simple experiment. Watch a favorite television program with the sound turned too low to hear. The experiment probably will be interesting for a short time, but is likely to become irritating as you discover you are cut off from communication.

To Conduct Bus Driver Training

Training contracts for public school bus drivers have been awarded the twenty Education Service Centers by the State Board of Education, and each Center is responsible for training bus drivers in the region it serves. Keith Long of Region 14 Education Service Center completed a 20 hour training course in Richardson to become a certified instructor and will conduct bus driver training sessions for a minimum of six local trainers in Region 14. These trainers will hold subregional training sessions for other bus drivers. To qualify for a local trainer an individual must be a high school graduate and either hold a valid Texas teaching cerfiticate, or have three years administrative experience in school bus transportation, or have two years experience in providing instruction in traffic safety education.

The local trainers will be nominated by superintendents in Region 14. They will be trained, supervised, and paid by ESC/14.

Training of bus drivers by ESC local trainers will be conducted from January through August 1976. According to Keith Long's estimation, between 600 and 700 will be trained in classes limited to 30. All drivers who transport students in buses, including substitutes, coaches, music directors, administrators, etc., will be required to take the training course.

Subjects included in the training range from preventive maintenance to defensive driving, safety and emergency measures, and procedures for unloading loading and students.

Reports from the Texas Education Agency show that Texas school buses travel some 617,000 miles along 10,000 state-approved routes each day. Some 7,000,000 school children ride those buses daily; buses are driven by 10,000 men and women.

More than a million patients each year occupy hospital beds provided by the Veterans

One of the ideas drifting out of the Industrial East is that farmers need to give up tractors and irrigation and return to the horse and mule as power sources. Along with this minor change the farmer could also give up modern pesticides and fertilizers. The thought (if there was any) behind this nostalgic notion was that the energy saved would alleviate the fuel crisis and that the jobs created would solve the unemploy ment situation. . . . couple of problems with this idea. First we would have to wait until 1993 in order to have enough horses and mules to go to work. Then there's the matter of 180 million extra acres to feed the 61 million animals required. Then there's 27 million people needed to take care of the 180 million acres and 61 million animals. Top it all off with an overall 150 percent increase in food prices and such a proposal takes on its appropriate designation . . . ridiculous!
