Haskell County History

20 Years Ago—Aug. 17, 1913

First bale of 1913 cotton was brought in Monday by A. M. Williamson, who is farming the Kemp place east of town. The bale was ginned at Haskell Co-Op No. 1 and weighed 400 pounds. It was purchased by the gin at 9 cents a pound. In addition Mr. Williamson received $35 premium given by Haskell business men.

George Holmes and Arthur Brown returned the first of the week from old Fort Griffin, where they had been on a fishing trip. They report excellent luck, with their biggest catch being a 50 pound yellow catfish. This is one of the largest taken in recent years.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ratliff, who have been living in Louisiana for the past few years, are here visiting his parents, Judge and Mrs. L. D. Ratliff.

County Judge Chas. M. Conner has been notified by the State Highway Department that Haskell County will be required to make a tax levy sufficient to take care of the county's part in the amount of $23,890.10 coming due next year. Based on current valuations, this will require a 35-cent levy for this purpose, the county official estimated.

Trustees of Brushy school district awarded a contract this week to S. S. Dishongh, local contractor, for a new school building at Brushy.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas politics appear calm on top. Only an occasional ripple indicates the seething turmoil under surface.

Such a ripple is the announcement by George W. Sandlin of Austin, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, that the group will meet September 11 in Mineral Wells.

Small space was occupied in the newspapers by the announcement, which was casual in tone.

Sandlin said the purpose of the gathering was mainly "finding out what the members might have on their minds."

What they might have on their minds might be plenty. It would involve whether the Shivers "conservative" people would retain control of the Democratic party in Texas, or whether the "liberalist" faction would regain control.

Hopefuls in the political race next year were concerned especially prospective candidates for state and national offices.

Politically and otherwise, a great deal depends on the governor's decision as to whether he will run for another term, seek some other office, or retire from the public service.

Several potential candidates are waiting for the governor's announcement before completing their own plans.

Some of the "experts" here said Shivers will try for a third elective term as governor, because in that position he could exert his influence most effectively in keeping Texas on the "conservative" side with respect to national politics.

A meeting of the executive committee at this time indicates strongly that the political forces are beginning early to prepare for next year's three-sided campaigns, with competition from both Democratic factions and from the Republicans.

Otherwise, there was the business of replacing two members of the executive committee.

Mrs. L. E. Tennyson of Clifton resigned because of illness in her family. Peyton McKnight of Quitman left the committee to take a position with Jack Porter of Houston, oil man and national GOP committeeman.

Sandlin's announcement of the Mineral Wells meeting came while Shivers was attending the national governor's conference at Seattle, where President Eisenhower expressed his views on states rights.

The federal government, said the President, should never undertake to do for the states anything the states can do for themselves.

This was what most of the governors wanted to hear. Shivers, chairman of the conference, had said that the problem of "bringing the government closer to the people" was considered by most of the delegates as the most important question before the meeting.

Governor Dan Thornton of Colorado agreed that there should be decentralization of government, and that the nation is still in danger of "drifting into socialism."

From Seattle came an indication on the part of some of Shivers to enter the presidential race in 1936. Louisiana's Governor R. F. Kennon made the suggestion to reporters there—a thought that has been expressed in Texas and elsewhere before.

—tpa—

Everett L. Looney of Austin, president of the State Bar Association of Texas, has removed himself as co-counsel for District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

Looney gave two reasons for his withdrawal: first, he is ill and unable to appear at the ouster proceedings; and second, some of the directors of the state bar association felt that it was improper for him, as president, to appear in the Laughlin case.

Looney called for a special meeting of the bar directors for August 13 to determine what action if any the lawyers' organization should take in the Laughlin case.

Eleven South Texas attorneys petitioned the Supreme Court to hear a list of complaints against the Alice judge and to consider removing him from office.

The proceedings are scheduled to begin August 17. Laughlin is accused, among other things, of interfering with a grand jury investigation into election matters in his district.

Annexation powers of cities is being studied by the Texas Legislative Council.

Laws governing annexation have not been changed in 30 years, and there is need for revision, in the opinion of many, including Representative Marshal O. Bell of San Antonio.

Bell told the council that "cities should grow in an orderly way, but we ought to prevent the incorporation of 'parasitic' areas seeking to avoid city taxes while obtaining the benefits of a nearby big city. On the other hand, cities should be stopped from annexing farm territory, or from expanding where there would be no benefit offered to residents of the area."

Findings of the Council will be referred to the next Legislature.

Scheduled in federal court is the National Labor Relations Board's attack on the Texas "right to work" law.

Federal Judge R. E. Thomason of El Paso ordered Attorney General John Ben Shepperd to appear and testify in regard to an injunction suit filed by the NLRB.

The board by its suit is undertaking to prevent the attorney general from enforcing parts of the law as applied to a San Antonio collective bargaining case.

Texas' law in this instance is in conflict with the national labor relations act, the NLRB contends.

Behind the NLRB action are two injunctions forbidding the International Fur and Leathers Workers' Union of the United States and Canada from participating in an election to be held by workers of the Nelson Tanning Corporation of San Antonio.

Under present Texas laws labor unions are prohibited from operating in the state without first filing a detailed financial and operational report with the secretary of state. And union organizers must file a report and secure an organizers' card before conducting their soliciting activities in Texas.

Another Texas law under attack is the driver responsibility act.

The test is going to the U. S. Supreme Court.

D. C. Gillaspie of San Antonio is contesting the law, after registration of his family car was suspended because his son, who was driving it, figured in a traffic accident.

The Texas supreme court upheld validity of the law, but Associate Justice G. B. Smedley cleared the way for the case to go to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gillaspie argues that the sections of law applying in his case are harsh and unreasonable and nullify the entire statute.

Construction in Texas for the first half of the year was greater than expected, reported Richard C. Henshaw, Jr., of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Non-residential building more than counterbalanced a slump in home construction, the employment Commission reported that of May, but below June last year. The drop was attributed to roll cuts in federal establishments, and other factors.

SHORT SNORTS: Maddox has resigned as state highway engineer and a position with the Farm Management Association at San Antonio. David Irons, state attorney general and president of the Texas Public Employment Association, will go to Washington to head up a subcommittee investigating unit of the Attorney General's Department. Pay raises of $50 have been granted to employees by the Texas and Historical Commissions. The first pay increase of the new appropriation

Editor Stresses Importance of Water Conservation in Talk Here

Wishcamper, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-Press, was the guest speaker at the meeting of Haskell Lions Tuesday. Theme of his interesting and factual talk was Soil Conservation in West Texas.

Wishcamper, a long-time supporter of these conservation efforts, said that the related facts and figures which proved conservation would bring money to the farmer and consequently to the community and professional people.

He said that a giant pipeline in May of this year near Colorado City when five major oil companies pooled their resources to open up the largest pipeline in the world.

"After the ceremonies were over, we were fed out there in a cotton patch by a catering service out of Fort Worth which did a marvelous job of serving approximately one thousand persons in just a few minutes. Immediately after the meal, one of the worst sandstorms which I have ever seen blew up and it made me wonder why we couldn't co-operate to conserve the soil as we did other things," he said. "Today farming is a science and we have learned that crop rotation, planting cover crops, terracing and other modern practices are the means of conserving both the soil and water," he continued.

"The farmers and merchants are not the only ones concerned about our soil and water problems," he said, and quoted from a pamphlet published by the West Texas Utilities Co. entitled "Six Inches from Starvation" to prove his point. Haskell County is in one of the better farming areas in the entire state yet only this year some fifteen and one-half sections were considered a total loss from wind and water erosion.

Jetty V. Clare, publisher of the Haskell Free Press was in charge of the program and introduced Mr. Wishcamper to the Club.

Dr. Frank C. Scott reported that as yet no one had asked for the club to purchase glasses but that school time was near and he was expecting calls to be made in the near future.

Guests for the luncheon were Odus J. Curry, director of the California Creek Soil Conservation office; J. T. Dominey, V. L. Hazelwood, Phillip Biard of Abilene; George Burkett of Morton, Jim Ferguson and Johnny Mullins of Haskell.

President Willard Warren presided at the meeting.

Cotton Crop Forecast at 14,605,000 Bales; Production Controls Likely

The Agriculture Department Monday forecast this year's cotton crop at 14,605,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight—a figure which virtually assures production controls on next year's crop.

Department officials have said that, because of reserves already on hand, a crop of more than 12,000,000 bales would create a surplus requiring rigid marketing quotas on the 1954 crop.

Officials said it was inconceivable that weather conditions between now and harvest would reduce the indicated production enough to make controls unnecessary.

A control program probably would require farmers to reduce planting next year to around 18,000,000 acres, compared with 24,618,000 this year.

The department said production prospects were more favorable Aug. 1 than was indicated a month earlier. A month ago, the department said, about 1,500,000 acres in Texas and Oklahoma had not germinated because of dry weather.

The department said special surveys late in July indicated about 1,000,000 acres of this land had germinated and was up to a sufficient stand to be retained for harvest. The remaining 500,000 acres appear to have been already abandoned, the department said.

In arriving at its forecast, the department said it took into account a greater than average abandonment of planted land in Texas and Oklahoma.

For the country as a whole, it appears that abandonment may be around 4.5 per cent of the July 1 acreage compared with the 10-year average of 2.5 per cent.

In the coastal areas of the Carolinas and in South Georgia and Alabama the crop was said to be well advanced with a good set of bolls. In Central and Piedmont areas of these states, plants have set a good bottom crop of bolls and are continuing to fruit.

Frequent rains in Georgia were said to have been very favorable for plant growth but weevil infestation was said to be increasing materially. Weevil damages were described as comparatively heavy throughout these eastern states.

In the central region early cotton was reported to have made very satisfactory progress. Following a slow start, cotton in New Mexico, Arizona and California made excellent progress during July.

No estimate of cottonseed production will be made until final ginnings for the season are released. However, if the ratio of lint cottonseed is the same as the average for the past five years, production would be 5,970,000 tons. This compares with 6,176,000 tons last year.

Secretary Benson has until Oct.

15 to decide on production controls for next year.

The indicated yield of cotton per harvested acre was reported at an average of 291.7 pounds, compared with 282.7 pounds last year and 271.4 for the 10-year average.

The condition of the crop on

Aug. 1 was reported at 79 per cent of normal, compared with 75 per cent a year ago and 77 per cent for the 10-year Aug. 1 average.

The condition of the crop Aug. 1, the indicated acre yield and production, respectively by states included:

Arkansas, 80 per cent of normal, 320 pounds per acre and production 1,225,000; Louisiana, 76, 363 and 885,000; Oklahoma, 85, 176 and 360,000; Texas, 70, 183 and 3,525,000; New Mexico, 455 and 296,000; Arizona, 93, 679 and 951,000; California, 88, 583 and 1,725,000.

Letters From Our Readers

Dear Editor:

In reading our local Metropolitan newspaper I notice a column devoted to events occurring 30 years ago.

The writer was formerly employed by a music firm, known as the Columbia Conservatory of Music, of Dallas, Texas—year 1912.

They sold music courses and taught music by mail. They used a patented gadget called a Tono-graph (about 20 inches long, 1 inch wide and about 1-8th of an inch thick). This instrument had 3 to 4 octaves of the piano key-board printed or stamped thereon, giving the names of the keys, notes, sharps and flats, thus helping the student to read the musical notes. I recall Haskell and Slaton, Texas, had a large number of students enrolled.

If your newspaper carries any news items of this subject, the teacher who gave personal assistance was named Prof Wolf. He had an assistant, but I do not remember his name.

The Columbia Conservatory of Music was very successful in their venture, and helped many girls in the country to learn to play the piano and organ.

My letter is an inquiry. If you could find one of these Tono-graph instruments, could it be bought and at what price?

It would not have to be in perfect condition.

Respectfully yours,
E. F. Galbraith, care New Miami Hotel, Tulsa, Okla.

Slaughter Yearling Prices Firm To Strong on Ft. Worth Markets Monday

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth—While it appears that accusations of chiseling on the drought relief program, et cetera, will occupy the headlines for some time to come—the basic program will remain.

Government authorities are watching very closely the percentages of cows and heifers being marketed each day. Until such time as the slaughter of females reach 50 per cent of the total kill—then the cattle population is still swelling.

Many observers feel that huge cattle numbers, rather than the drouth are responsible for the current low prices and the disastrous declines of the past year or so. Many sections of the southwest not in the drought area, are heavily over-populated with cattle at this time.

Most observers in the Southwest hope that surplus cattle here can be moved before the heavy grass-cattle runs from midwest and western ranges hit the markets later this summer and in the fall. Chaotic conditions could result if shipments are delayed in the Southwest and South.

brought firm to strong prices at Fort Worth Monday. Several loads of well finished cattle in the $21 to $22.50 bracket. Common and medium kinds sold from $10 to $17. Fat cows were steady at $9.50 to $12.50, and canners and cutters 25 to 30 cents higher at $7 to $9.50. Bulls ruled steady at $8 to $13.50.

Good and choice fat calves were sold at $14 to $18, and killing calves generally ruled weak to 50 cents lower. Cull, common and medium butchers sold from $10 to $14.

Good and choice stocker steer calves drew $14 to $20.50 with heifer calves $18.50 down, the top prices paid for a load of Montague County calves from S. D. Howard. Stocker steer yearlings drew $12 to $18. Replacement cows cleared at $10 to $15. Hogs sold $1 higher. Hog growers balked in the face of recent low prices. Offered only 42,000 hogs around 12 major markets—25 per cent below a week earlier. Top at Fort Worth Monday $23 to $23.25. Sows steady at $17 to $19.

Slaughter lambs weak to 50c lower at Fort Worth Monday. Other sheep and stockers and feeders steady. Active demand for Better kinds of fat lambs $18 to $20, quotable $1 or so above that on the strictly choice kinds. Feeder lambs $13 to $15. Old wethers $7 to $10. Slaughter yearlings $10 to $15, feeder yearlings $12 down. Two-year-olds $10 to $12. Slaughter ewes $5 to $6.50. Sold mouth ewes from $7 to $10.

Married Men Without Children Will Be Subject To Draft After August 25th

Any young married man registered with a draft board had better be on the alert about reporting children in his family or expected birth of a child.

This was the information received Monday from State Selective Service Headquarters, through Local Board 77 at Anson.

On August 25 and thereafter, fathers are not deferrable because of their children. Draft boards have this new regulation following an executive order of President Eisenhower.

Those who now have children, and those who are expecting birth of a child, are deferrable; likewise, those who become fathers or expectant fathers before mid-night, Aug. 24.

But these men who are fathers and expectant fathers before Aug. 25 must act at once to advise their draft boards in writing. If they fail to perform this important duty required by draft regulation, they will be liable for the draft simply because they failed to advise their boards of the facts.

In the case of expectant fathers, certificates from a licensed physician must be secured, stating that the child has been conceived, probable date of delivery, and evidence upon which positive diagnosis of pregnancy is based.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, urges all married men who come under the provisions of this new regulation to act at once if they wish to retain their deferred status.

Crude Price Hike Adds $11 Million To Westex Income

Recent increases in the price of crude oil, averaging 25 cents per barrel, will add approximately $11,500,000 per month to income of West Texas producers and royalty owners according to estimates prepared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The additional revenue for District 7-B, which includes Haskell County, is estimated at $878,734. The $11,500,000 total increase is based on West Texas.

The estimate was based on production reported to the Texas Railroad Commission in March, the last month for which the commissions detailed statement of crude oil allowable, production and removal from leases has been distributed. March production in the West Texas districts of the commission's Oil and Gas division totaled 46,061,406 barrels. This would have added $11,515,352 to the market value at an average hike of 25 cents per barrel. The additional revenue by districts in West Texas, is estimated as follows: No. 7-B, $878,734; No. 7-C, $1,342,097; No. 8, $7,266,860; No. 9, $1,435,259; No. 10, $592,402.

Counties composing District 7-B are: No. 7-B — Sotnewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Parker, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Eastland, Erath, Hood, Coleman, Brown, Comanche, Hamilton, Coryell, Lampasas, San Saba, Mills.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Many letters are received on government's financial condition following request to raise national debt limit. This would mean an expenditure estimated at least $15 million per month on the pay and maintenance of officers, men and civilians, whose military activities consist of running a merchandising organization. For years the Armed Forces sold tobacco, candy, other minor articles militarily classified as "comfort" items. During World War II, Post Exchanges leaped to big operations, with experienced merchants commissioned right and left to operate them. Today Armed Forces are huge department store operators. Even fair traded items are sold at cost by the Armed Forces, as they are exempt from state laws. The average pay in the Armed Forces is on a par, or higher, than that paid by many cities to their police and firemen. Yet no municipality makes their taxpayers provide and staff quarters to sell merchandise at cost to city employees. Securing full facts would require an investigation. As evidenced by past experience, it is difficult to get full facts out of the Pentagon, yet opinion prevails that the information that would be uncovered merits an investigation. It is felt that if the Armed Services Post Exchanges were cut back to the old custom of handling accommodation "comfort" items, cost of operating U. S. defense establishments could be reduced at least $200 million per year, or about the amount the government needs to pay annual interest on $14½ billion worth of bonds, or about the amount of income tax paid by 350,000 families with two children and incomes of $5000 per year.

Many comments come from businessmen near military installations, pointing to fact Post Exchanges offer a wide range of merchandise at cut prices, to service men for their own use, but undoubtedly friends and members of families also benefit. Naturally, this is competition local merchants cannot meet, and due to broad scope of merchandise sold, few businessmen escape this competition. However, the protest is against the Armed Forces using money intended for defense in operating a wide scale merchandising venture. No one seems to know exactly just how big a merchandiser the Armed Forces have become. Some claim Army is now world's biggest merchant. Post Exchanges sell for about cost, because overhead is paid by tax money, it is claimed. Rent, light, heat, wages of operating personnel presumably come out of defense funds. A piecing together of vague information indicates at least the equivalent of three divisions is employed in manning and servicing post exchanges. Delaware has only three counties.

SCIENCE and your Health

TREATMENT OF BURNS by Science Features

The origin of fire is lost in antiquity, but it is probably safe to assume that on the first day man learned to use fire he burned himself. Burns are among the most common of all injuries, causing approximately 6,000 deaths in the U.S. every year. Burns are classified as first, second or third degree, according to their severity. First degree burns are usually not serious. Second degree burns cause blistering of the skin, and a third degree burn chars the flesh. Actually, the side-effects of a severe burn are more serious than the wound itself—although it is only in recent years that science has discovered this. The victim may suffer shock, which causes an estimated 80 per cent of deaths in fatal burns, or a serious infection may enter the burned area. To combat these problems, blood plasma or whole blood may be given to restore body fluids lost in shock, and the body's resistance may be bolstered by administration of the hormones ACTH and cortisone. Antibiotics such as terramycin and penicillin are often given to prevent infection. Treatment of the burn itself may be either by covering it with a pressure bandage or by the new, open-air method, which has been used with success in Korea. In this method, the wound is not covered, but allowed to dry and heal in the open air. But the best cure for burns is still prevention.

Pre-School Planning Important In Giving Children Successful Start

Most parents are already thinking about school clothes for their children and getting supplies and equipment selected. Equally essential for this annual preparation is the physical check-up and emotional preparedness that mother and father can provide the young people.

According to Miss Thelma Wirges, Home Demonstration Agent, the ready and anxious feeling children have about starting to school is good insurance for happy and successful school years. Children need complete physical examination by the family doctor. This has not been done within the past six months. Especially these children beginning school need dental examination a n d thorough eye, ear, nose a n d throat check as well as inspection of heart and lungs. Dental defects should be corrected even though they occur in the baby or milk teeth. An early examination may detect other ailments that require medical attention before school opens. In addition, children attending school for the first time need have smallpox vaccination and diphtheria immunization.

Going to school is a big step in growing up and there will be many more happy first days if parents spend time in family preparation for this event. Wise parents help children understand what school is and what children do at school. A visit to the building before school starts, meeting a teacher, touring the school with its different rooms and the yard with its safe play area, and pointing out safe play habits can reassure the parents as well as the children. Playing school at home helps children learn activities they will share.

Miss Wirges says more opportunities children have for making choices in selection of foods, clothes, and play, and assuming responsibility for health and safety habits, help build good foundations for this first big adventure in independence.

Outlook Remains Favorable For Egg Producers

Storage holdings of shell eggs on June 30 were the lowest on record for that date. Stocks of frozen eggs on the same date were seven million pounds below the figure for one year ago. Then, to make the picture still more favorable, says F. Z. Beamblossom poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the egg-feed price ratio is the most favorable since 1949.

But, adds the specialist, latest reports indicate that egg production in Texas is still declining from the peak reached in 1945. This means that more eggs will have to be shipped into the state to meet the demand, says the specialist, the present situation might cause some producers to think they would profit because of higher prices; however, this is not necessarily true. For if eggs needed in Texas are not produced here, they will be shipped in from other states. He poses this question for Texas egg producers: "Should Texas lose this segment of the poultry industry?"

He says producers should buy chicks for replacements to keep production as near the same level throughout the year as is possible. Fall purchases of chick replacements is one means of maintaining uniform production. Beamblossom also reports that egg producers in counties where eggs are being bought on a graded basis are receiving a wide spread between U. S. Grade A Large and current receipt prices. He encourages producers to take advantage of this program if they are in one of the areas where eggs are being bought on a graded basis. Finally, he says, now is time to plan and get the fall hatched chicks.

Want to be nimble, smooth and quick?

TT Dynaflow* does the trick!

WE have just the place for you. If such is your desire.

And we suggest you hold on to your hat and your heart when the action starts—for here's what happens:

You press the pedal and, from a standing start, you're up to a legal 30 mph before you have time to breathe but twice.

Or, you're in the thick of traffic—moving smoothly, easily, quietly. Then, when it's safe to do so, you move instantly into the clear with the greatest of ease—in one progressive build-up of velvet acceleration—without a single gear shifted or a clutch pedal pushed.

That, sir, is the big thrill command you get in any 1953 Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER with new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.

For this fully automatic drive now has two turbines where one did the trick before. Two turbines for instant getaway response—with whisper quiet—and with infinite smoothness through all ranges.

Of course, a lot of able power goes with this smooth, quick getaway—the highest horsepowers and compression ratios, Series for Series, in all Buick history.

And so does big room. And the supreme comfort of the Buick Million Dollar Ride. And the superb handling ease of finely balanced weight. Even Power Steering* is at hand to make parking and turning still easier.

Why not drop in on us soon and sample one of these great new 1953 Buicks with TT Dynaflow? It's an experience—and a value story—too good to miss.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Siren Going Full Blast, One Fire Engine Gone, But Location of Blaze Was Mystery!

Alfred (Satch) Lusk, paid driver for the Haskell Fire Department, is the first member of the department to receive information concerning a blaze.

But "Satch" was a bewildered fireman for a minute or so early Wednesday morning by some fast action on the part of Chief Ray Lusk.

The paid driver, who with his family occupies an apartment in the City Hall and fire station, was awakened at 12:15 a. m. by the fire siren going full blast—but the fire bell attached to his telephone hadn't sounded.

Hurting into his clothes, he hit the slide pole besides the trucks and one of the fire engines had already left. He called telephone operators but the fire had not been reported to them.

Nightwatchman Bob Marlow came up then to give "Satch" the location of the fire, at Banner Lee and Cold Storage Company a block north of the square.

It all came about because the fire had been noticed by Chief Ray Lusk and Jack Speer, also a fireman, as they were driving in to town after checking highway conditions after the hard down-pour Tuesday night. They drove immediately to the fire station, turned on the fire alarm and drove a truck to the blaze, without taking time to notify "Satch."

"Those fast boys had me stumped for a while," he admitted.

"Signs of Life" Theme of August Safety Program

"One traffic accident is one accident too many."

Col. E. B. Tilley, Service Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, and president of the Texas Safety Association, made this statement today in announcing his group's cooperation with the August "Signs of Life" traffic safety program of the Texas Safety Association and the Department of Public Safety.

"Whether at a highway-railroad crossing or anywhere else, a traffic accident doesn't just happen. It is caused, and it can be prevented," he said. "Traffic signs and signals, sometimes called 'Signs of Life,' can do a lot to reduce accidents. But these signs can be effective only if people heed them," he explained.

More than 96 per cent of all highway-railroad intersections in the United States are marked by signs and signals to protect the motorist and pedestrian. Yet in 1951 deaths in grade crossing accidents totaled 1,691, and there were 4,222 people injured.

"Most of these accidents—52 per cent—happened during daylight hours, and 67 per cent occurred when the weather was clear and the signs could be seen easily," he said. "These tragedies certainly could have been prevented if drivers paid more attention to the round warning sign, the crossbuck sign, and other special signs and signals which railroads use to warn the public of train crossings on the highway."

Col. Tilley pointed out that at highway-railroad intersections the train always has the right of way. This is because the motorist can stop more quickly and can swerve to avoid obstacles. "The engineer cannot stop the thousands of tons of his train quickly, and he cannot swerve to avoid anything or any person on the tracks," he said. "Three tips for safe track crossings, for both pedestrians and motorists, were offered by Col. Tilley. They are:

1. Be sure all tracks are clear before crossing. Even though one track is clear, there may be another coming.
2. Where there are no audible signals, stop, look, and look again before crossing.
3. Where there are no visible signals, stop, look, and look again before crossing.

"And above all," he said, "obey the signs of 'Signs of Life'—Obey Them!"

Conservation Greatest Need

When I entered the Senate in 1949, I had back of me some experience with water development on the Colorado River. I knew a little something of the water needs of Texas. I knew something of the benefits that result from solution of water problems. I felt a long-range program of water conservation and use was one of our State's fundamental needs.

Appraisal of Problem
One of the first things I did as a Senator was to ask the Department of Interior to have its Bureau of Reclamation appraise the Texas water problem.

A report of the Bureau's study shows Texas is using only a relatively small fraction of its potential water resources. That is true despite the fact that we are using water in Texas at a rate of two and one-half times as great as our rate of use in 1940.

Believe it or not, water used in Texas amounts to only about 15 per cent of the yearly discharge of streams that border or originate in the State. The remaining 85 per cent makes its way into the Gulf of Mexico and is lost to Texas.

Texas Drainage System
Texas has 15 major drainage basins. They may be divided into three groups: (1) those belonging to the Mississippi River system, including the Canadian and Red Rivers; (2) those rising in Texas and flowing into the Gulf; (3) the Rio Grande and its tributaries.

Texslsqm mfw rdl x
Texas has within its boundaries more streams of appreciable size than any other State. Texas has wholly within its boundaries a greater part of the streams that touch its surface than any other State.

That is where our surface water comes from. It is more than enough to meet all our foreseeable needs—if we will conserve it for our use.

For some years I have been telling everyone who would listen that water is more important to Texas than oil. We will be needing and using water long after our valuable petroleum resources have been exhausted.

All Texans Affected
The water problem directly and personally affects every Texan. It affects the mother with a thirsty child—and the rancher with thousands of head of thirsty cattle. It affects the man who wants to wash his car on a Saturday afternoon—and the chemical industry on the Gulf Coast using perhaps 100,000,000 gallons of water per day.

Above everything else, we must have water—plenty of water where it is most needed and when it is most needed.

Coordinated Program Needed
Up to now there has been no coordinated Federal-State water conservation program. We need one—badly. In fact, we must have one if we hope really to solve our water problem.

The Bureau of Reclamation report such a program. This appraisal may not hold all the answers, but it does at least give a basis for action.

It opens a path that can lead to a permanent solution of the recurring problem of water shortages in Texas. That is a path which we in Texas—for the sake of our own future—must follow.

Farmers Vote Friday on Wheat Quotas; Reduction Would Mean Cut In Parity

Wheat farmers have the opportunity Friday to decide whether or not quota controls will apply to their 1954 crop by voting in the wheat quota referendum.

If more than two-thirds of wheat growers with an allotment of more than 15 acres or those with an intention of sowing more than 15 acres this fall vote for the marketing quota the price support at 90 per cent of parity will be available for those staying within their allotment.

With this type of program production would be held down, thereby helping to bring supplies more in line with the market demand.

If one-third or more vote on the referendum, there will be no production. Acreage allotment will be in effect with 50 per cent of parity as the support price for those who plant within their farm allotment if the referendum fails to carry by the required majority.

While there has been wide expectation that the quotas will carry, grain traders on the futures exchange got nervous last week and prices dropped sharply.

The nervousness was occasioned by the fact that, for the first time since the marketing quota system was adopted, the Department of Agriculture has taken a strictly neutral stand. In previous years when quota votes were scheduled, the department sent out literature and urged farmers to vote for them, explaining in detail the consequences of unrestricted production and of the low parity payments.

Secretary Benson Saturday gave this explanation of the department's position:

He invoked the quotas—subject to farmer approval—because in the first, "we have too much wheat."

"All out production was continued too long. In the second place, the law directs the secretary of agriculture to proclaim

All Counties In State To Receive Alamo Memento

Every Texas county will have a bit of Alamo as a result of plans being made at the University of Texas.

The Texas Memorial Museum, located on the University campus, and the Texas Heritage Foundation will send each county a piece of stone from the famed San Antonio site where 155 outnumbered Texans, commanded by Col. W. B. Travis, fought in 1836 until death rather than surrender to Mexican forces.

Facsimile copies of a Travis letter in which he wrote, "We shall never surrender or retreat," will be sent with the stone pieces, Museum History Curator A. Garland Adair said.

Bigger, Better T-O Fair Planned At Iowa Park

"Make it bigger and better than ever" might be the wording on a directive for officials of the forthcoming Texas-Oklahoma Fair's Silver Anniversary in Iowa Park Sept. 28-Oct. 3, if the plans announced recently are an indication.

Outstanding in the lineup of new features for the Fair, according to President Gordon G. Clark, will be the Queen's Coronation. The coronation will be part of the official opening ceremonies on Monday, Sept. 28, he said. The Fair's queen will be selected from nominees entered by groups from communities all over the Fair area, and her identity will not be known until the coronation, the official declared.

The president also stated that for the third year, the Fair will be preceded by a giant All-Faith

Hurry! Hurry! The Big Show is about to begin!

Yes, B-K Electric Co-Op brings the big 1953 Electric Fair to Seymour August 20-21 for the Co-Op's Annual Membership Meeting. It's all free—and everyone's invited.

The big show opens at 6 p. m. Opening night is a special show for the people of this area. Exhibits of the latest electric and farm equipment, provided by local merchants, will line the midway. Under the Big Top tent, opening night visitors will see the highlights of the big entertainment program.

Then Co-Op members will take over the following day for their regular business session, plus the full entertainment program of the Electric Fair-Cowboy music, an amateur talent contest, trained animal acts, juggling, Previews of Progress, a wonder of science show and the laughable antics of Bozo the Clown.

A table model Stromberg-Carlson radio will be awarded the winner of the amateur talent contest, and the winner will also be judged for the state finals to be held in Mineral Wells in October. Winner in the state finals will receive a major Kelvinator appliance—an automatic laundry, an electric range, a home freezer, or a refrigerator—in addition to $50 toward expenses to Mineral Wells. The contest is open to talented amateurs in this area, and entrants should contact T. E. Craddock, manager of the Co-Op at Seymour, for complete details as soon as possible.

Principal business during the Co-Op's business session will be the election of directors. The Co-Op's nominating committee has already met to make nominations and additional nominations can be made by members attending the annual meeting, Craddock says.

Religious service on Sunday, September 27. A famed speaker along with participating figures from the clergy and lay fields of this area, will round an eventful program for the service. Rev. Chester Gleason of Iowa Park is general chairman for the religious service, with the Iowa Park Ministers' Alliance, the Iowa Park Council of Church Women, the Iowa Park Brotherhood of Church Men, and the Iowa Park Modern Music Study Club taking active parts in the planning of the service. Clark announced.

In speaking of the varied phases of the Fair, Clark pointed out that the Silver Anniversary of the yearly event will feature traditional sections of the Texas-Oklahoma event, as well as the largest group of new features ever to be announced in a single year.

"We are attempting," Clark said, "to summarize the past 25 years of Fair progress along with a salute to the future."

New units of the big show this year will include the Queen's Contest, the Battle of the Songs, the Republic of Mexico Day, a new Pleasure-Type Open Horse Show, and a poultry division for the Junior Livestock department.

Traditionally the Fair offers exhibits in the field of Agriculture, Industry, Education and Entertainment, he said.

Phases of the annual Fair included in the president's summary included the Women's department, the Junior Livestock department, the Quarter Horse department, the Hereford department, the Merchants' Exhibits department, the Industrial Exhibits department, and the midway.
