3 Bedroom House Engineered For Simplicity

HOUSE PLAN No. 32

Farm and Ranch presents an unusually attractive, spacious 3-bedroom house Plan No. 5032 which you can build for the cost of most two bedroom houses. How is this possible? To begin with the rooms are arranged in a simple rectangle. The width of the house is such that light frame trussed rafters can be erected at a minimum cost. There are no excess corners or offsets in the foundation of roof plan. All this will greatly facilitate the framing and will permit the use of materials with a minimum of waste. Other new methods of construction are provided in the plans that will make a great saving in both materials and labor.

The three bedrooms are of good size, plenty of closet space for ordinary family use. The windows have been located to permit attractive furniture arrangement. All the counter and storage space in the kitchen will be a boon to the housewife. A convenient feature is the broom and mop closet. The large closet in the workroom will be ideal as a "catch all."

If the water heater is used in conjunction with the range, we suggest that the range be moved slightly further from the chimney. If you do not want this arrangement, the heater may be placed in the workroom.

If you desire a basement, we suggest that you arrange the workroom and provide an entrance from that area. However the workroom may serve for many of the functions normally handled in the basement. The chimney will take care of both the kitchen range and the living room heater.

This house has a very attractive exterior, achieved by the proper selection of large windows and lowered shutters on the front. The 12-inch boards which frame the colonial door, and the small wrought-iron rail gives an unusual charm to the front entrance.

You can obtain blue prints for this Haskell Free Press-Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5032 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-South-Central Agricultural Department L-98, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5032. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

HHS Band Notes

DON PAYNE

Well, another week's gone by and school's getting to be just about like it always is. You know recently I said something about the band looking forward to some trips—well, we've been asked to go to the State Fair at Dallas this year for Musical Festival Day and now it's a pretty sure thing we'll get to go—if we can raise enough money to charter some buses.

That's where you come in . . . You know, every year we've had some tags made for cars with "Haskell Indians" printed on them. Always before we've sold those tags to make enough money to either buy new band instruments or something like that—well, this year we're going to use that money to go to the State Fair. They have asked us to come and march in the Cotton Bowl—and with those new basses and that new French horn and all those new uniforms, we think we can make Haskell proud of us—so, if you've got a car, why not show your support to the Haskell Indian band by dressing up that front bumper with a tag with your home town name on it—you'll be helping us out too.

See you at the game in Hamlin Friday night. I'll sure be listening for that band come game time.

Work Simplification Program of Local H-D Club Woman Told In Farm Magazine

The work simplification program worked out by Mrs. Ira (Buck) Townsend of the New Mid Home Demonstration Club to save steps and energy in her household tasks is the subject of a recent story in The Farmer-Stockman, widely known farm publication.

The following story by Katharine Randall, women's editor of the magazine, and the accompanying illustration, appeared in the September issue of The Farmer-Stockman:

Theme song in Mrs. Ira (Buck) Townsend's kitchen might aptly apply to the Gilbert and Sullivan song "I want what I want when I want it." At any rate these words sum up the principles of her kitchen cabinet efficiency.

"I even moved the fly swatter to a central location," pointed out Mrs. Townsend, as she explained her kitchen work simplification.

"It's surprising how many little things we do that add up to many unnecessary steps and motions. I didn't realize it until I started checking up after my home demonstration club made a study of better methods of homemaking."

Mrs. Townsend represented her club at the Haskell County Demonstration Ass'n. leader training school. These women met for 2 days in the club members' homes to study their problems of human conservation.

They discovered that the work simplification lessons applied to every one. Even those who lived in the most modern homes found there were step-saving things to do.

"It isn't just what we have, but where we have it" pointed out Mrs. Townsend. "Items should be stored at point of their first use. Each club member selected a work program in her home, studied her working methods and a way to better them."

Some women made a study of their steps and motions when feeding chickens; others studied washing and ironing problems, making beds, setting the table, baking a cake.

Mrs. Townsend made a study of her kitchen cabinet efficiency, and work areas. She figured out how she could make improvements and have the right items in the right place at the right time.

She now proudly tells how with proper use of kitchen storage space she is saving countless steps and valuable time.

Mrs. Townsend already had her kitchen work centers arranged so that work flows in the most direct route possible from food preparation to cooking and serving to cleaning up.

These work areas center around the refrigerator, range and sink—and the cabinet space available at each of these 3 centers. Herein lay Mrs. Townsend's trouble.

The range was on the west wall—and no cabinets. The mixing center on the south wall (a metal table on rollers) had no cabinets. The sink wall on the north was lined with cabinets.

After studying her problem kitchen which is a remodeled old-fashioned kind with too many doors, Mrs. Townsend had metal cabinets installed above the range and the table.

In the one at the range she now keeps such items as tea, flour, macaroni, salt and pepper.

She explained, "These may seem like small things. But I made several extra trips across the room for just such small things which meant many extra steps. Having the things that I need at the point I first use them saves energy. This is the simple secret of kitchen efficiency."

"For example, spaghetti, which requires the addition of boiling water before cooking, is more scientifically stored at the range center than at the food preparation center."

When I asked Mrs. Townsend why she kept tea here in this range cabinet, but not coffee, she explained, "We use an electric coffee maker over there near the breakfast table. So I keep the coffee in the cabinet nearest to it."

In the cabinet above the preparation table she stores her salad-making equipment, mixing bowls, seasonings, measuring spoons and beater.

Mrs. Townsend claims the work simplification lessons have been a challenge to her and to the other club members. Each one is working out better methods of homemaking.

Mrs. Townsend is now working out more efficient use of cabinets in the bathroom. She is going to put underwear in here because this is where they put on fresh clothes.

She will have plenty of room in the linen cabinet because she is moving the sheets out and putting them in each bedroom where they will be used.

The basic rules of work simplification apply to every household task, claims Mrs. Townsend. They are: Leave out any part of the job you can. Use the best tools and equipment for the job out of 2 or more.

Make both hands work. Keep everything within easy reach. Sit to work or be comfortable when you work.

Experts agree that speeding up old methods is not the approach to cutting down time. The answer lies in finding better methods and doing them at the individual's regular pace.

Three Former HHS Indians: Price, Davis and Ammons, Enrolled at McMurry

Included in the group of 33 new Indians working out on the McMurry College Reservation in Abilene is a trio that's played mightily potent ball games for another Tribe," writes a sports writer in the Reporter-News. The article continues:

The three, all former Haskell High School Indian football stars are also all three transfers. Bobby Jack Price, (210), end, went to Texas A&M last year, while Ed

Guar, New Legume For This Section, Proving Its Worth

Hiram Olson farmer in the Erichdahl community, has something to talk about this year. In 1950 he planted 10 acres of Guar to improve his soil fertility and soil structure. While harvesting seed, enough seed shattered to produce a volunteer stand of Guar in 1951. Mr. Olson used the 10 acres of volunteer Guar to graze his sheep.

This year the Guar paid off. Cotton following Guar is eight to 10 inches higher and heavier fruited than cotton on adjoining land following cotton raised last year. One of the main things Guar has done to improve the soil structure and allow more water to be absorbed and held by the soil. A water absorption test was recently run by a Soil Conservation Service technician on the cotton land following Guar and on adjoining cotton land following cotton. The test showed that cotton land on which Guar had been planted, absorbed 2 inches of water per hour, while land on which cotton followed cotton, only .6 inch of water was absorbed per hour.

Guar is a summer heat and sun loving legume which has proven itself to be a very fine soil builder and conditioner. Guar was introduced from India a few years back and has been found to thrive on the hot, dry areas of south and west Texas. Increased yields in Karnes County where it has been grown for several years amount to 22% average.

Guar is not a new crop to this area. In 1950 around 250 acres were planted throughout the California Creek Soil Conservation district. In 1951 around 400 acres were planted. Cotton following Guar on measured acres increased yields over one-third.

Mr. Olson started planting soil improving crops in 1946 with a 21-acre plot of vetch and rye. Since then he has been using legumes such as vetch, hubam clover and Guar to keep his soil in good condition. In 1948 Mr. Olson was named outstanding conservation farmer in the district by the board of supervisors of the California Creek Soil Conservation District. In 1950 he was elected to the board of supervisors by the farmers in this area. He is now chairman of the board.

Among other district cooperators who have planted Guar for improvement of their soil are B. O. Youngquist and Dr. H. B. Haterius, Avoca; John Grand Haskell; Joe Cuberson, Hamlin; and Albert Thane, Paint Creek supervisor for Zone 1 of the district.

Prices Uneven, Livestock Receipts Less At Ft. Worth Livestock Market Monday

By TED GOULDY

FORT WORTH—Considerably smaller supplies of livestock arrived at Fort Worth and the nation's 12 major public markets as the mid-September market ended Monday. Highly uneven prices were in evidence, with the trend steady to stronger on most cattle and calves with some sales 50 cents higher. Cows sold fully 50 cents, spots $1 higher. Other classes of cattle and calves, including stockers, were getting a bit better action than was evident in the dull close of a week earlier. Hogs opened steady at $15 to $17.

In seeking reasons for the recent drop of prices, the trade believes:

Persistent refusal of normal demand for stockers and feeders to develop has been a tremendous factor in the slumping cattle and calf trade. However packers pointed to sharp reductions of wholesale prices of most kinds of calf meat and reiterated their inability to work out from under the inventories even at reduced prices. Cow beef, grasser steers and boned out beef was moving sluggishly in the meat channels because of large supplies.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $24 to $30. Plain and medium kinds sold at $15 to $24, with cull yearlings $12 to $15. Fat cows sold from $14.50 to $19.50, with canners and cutters at $10 to $14.50. Bulls sold from $13 to $20.

Good and choice fat calves cleared at $21 to $28.25, with common and medium sorts from $15 to $20, and culls at $12 to $14. Stocker calves ranged from $18 to $27.50 and stocker yearlings bulked at $15 to $26. Stocker heifers sold at $24 down, stocker cows drew $14 to $20.

THERAPEUTIC MUD PIES—In occupational therapy at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children highly skilled therapists translate prescribed muscular movements into interesting, creative activities. For this young man making mud pies both his treatment program and his natural inclinations. Result, a long step toward recovery. READ THIS YOUR "GOOD TIMES" DUE ONLY TO W

(T. Glenn Doss is editor and publisher of the Whitewright, Grayson County, Sun newspaper.)

Speaker Sam Rayburn is quoted by daily newspapers as saying the "present economic status of Texas is a result of the Democratic administration."

Sun editor has been voting the Democratic ticket for a good many years, but Sun editor is a stickler for the truth, whether it be in politics or something else. So let's have the facts.

In the 1930 November elections, the Republicans, in power for 10 years, lost control of Congress, although retaining Herbert Hoover as President. The Democrats organized the House in March, 1931, and elected John Nance Garner of Texas as speaker, in which capacity he served until he became Vice-President in 1933. So you see, it wasn't a Republican administration in 1931 and 1932, even with a Republican serving as President.

Mr. Rayburn has had much to say over the last twenty years about 5c cotton under the Hoover administration. Let's see what the record says.

In 1930, the last year this country had a Republican House and Senate and President, cotton sold in Whitewright the first week in September at 10 1/2c per pound, and cottonseed at $27 per ton, according to the record as published in The Sun.

In September, 1931, six months after the Republicans lost control of Congress, cotton sold in Whitewright at 6.20c a pound, and cottonseed at $10 per ton.

In September, 1932, still under the Democrat-controlled Congress, cotton sold (Pol. Adv. Paid for by Haskell County Republican Executive Committee, R. C. Couch, Sr.)

... Don't let TIME squeeze you ...
Get a long-term Federal Land Bank loan

The old fashioned farm mortgage came due all at once. Time was always squeezing folks to pay. Back in 1917, the Federal Land Bank changed this, with a long term loan — the kind you pay back gradually, with payments geared to your farm's normal income. If you're building or remodeling . . . or buying land or want to refinance other debts . . . SEE US NOW for a Federal Land Bank Loan.

ROADON MY GUST!

POWER STEERING
on the Roadmaster and Super

When extra power is wanted in a hurry — the "reserves" swing into action — feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power — a car of expansive room — restful silence — level in gait — beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in parking and slow-motion maneuvers, and still let you feel a proud sense of command and a sure sense of control on the highway.

There's just one question we'd like to ask: When are you going to come in and enjoy the ride of your life?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER and SUPER only.

HHS Indians—

Bulldog halfback, broke through on the Haskell 48 and cleared the distance for the visitors third marker. Kick by Moritz was no good.
Highlight of the game was the clicking pass attack of the Indians, with White completing 12 of 16 tries for a total of 106 yards. The Tribe made 8 first downs to 15 for the visitors. The Bulldogs received 3 penalties for a total of 25 yards, the Indians one for five yards.

With the entire squad of Indian regulars and reserves turning in a top performance in Friday night's game, stand-outs for the Tribe included Don Payne, Bobby Boutwell, Frank Clarkson, Charles Flanary, Wayne Harris, and others.

Preceding the game, Thos. B. Roberson, on behalf of the Q-B Club, presented the new scoreboard, clock and press box to the school, and Supt. S. H. Vaughter gave the acceptance speech.

At half-time, the sparkling HSS Band in Western regalia, presented a colorful program, accented by a rope twirling exhibition by Rex Felker, C-C manager and former featured performer with the H-SU Band.
Indians Play Hamlin Friday Night

In their game this week, the Indians journey to Hamlin Friday night in a non-conference contest with the Pied Pipers of SAA.
In advance of the game, a Pep Rally is scheduled at the High School at 3 p. m.
Junior High and B Teams Coach Ray Overton, Jr., will take his B team of HHS Indians to Abilene tonight where they meet the Sophomore squad of Abilene high school.

Coach Tom Jones and his Junior High School eleven will entertain Throckmorton junior high on Indian Field tonight, in the season's opener for the junior Indians.
