We haven't heard a word of complaint about the price being paid for cotton in Haskell this season, which is mighty good evidence our merchants are paying the top prices.

Miss Lillie Brockman, who spent the summer here with her sister, Mrs. W. L. Hills, left yesterday morning to join her parents at White Bird, Idaho. They moved to that country last fall from Stephens County.

The store building and stock of merchandise of the Baker-Bryant Company at Aspermont burned Monday night about 10 o'clock. The origin of the fire is unknown. Nothing was saved from the building, and the loss is estimated at $12,000, with $3,000 insurance. Although Aspermont is 35 miles from Haskell, glare of the fire was plainly visible here and was noticed by several persons.

We are told that every gin in the county is crowded to capacity in handling the big cotton crop.

WINNING ESSAY NO. 3

"What Oil Industry Means to Haskell County"

By BEULAH BRADY

Is the real value of oil in Haskell County known? I do not believe that it is.

The effects economically are so widespread that no sure measurement can be made of the "oil dollar."

One group that shares in the distribution is the land and royalty owners, who share in the production of oil and gas for a vast sum of money each year throughout the county.

No figures can be given on money received for lease rentals, but estimates are very high.

The schools in Haskell County like those of other counties benefit from oil because of all the taxes collected. Sixty-eight per cent of the taxes are from oil and gas producers.

Grocers and other retail business men find their cash registers tuned with oil activities. They share in the petroleum industry's $900 million annual payroll.

Well service men, of which there are six companies in Haskell County employing a dozen men, bring Haskell county business men more profit.

Preachers and layleaders are endowed and have investments in the oil industry.

Bankers and insurance companies make loans which are secured by oil.

Builders in Haskell County have benefitted by increased building activities, such as residences and business places.

Ranchers and farmers in the county have benefitted from money paid on leases and the sale from royalties often amounts above the original cost of the land.

There are 2,500 employees in Haskell County alone. Many oil company employees live in Haskell, and their children to school, buy clothes, groceries, cars, and homes here. Many have bought land and become tax payers. Also these people have brought fine leadership and community spirit with them.

Drilling is an expensive operation. A staff of one hundred and twenty-five skilled workers are needed, a few of these are geologists, exploration crews, drilling crews, engineers, mud specialists, and other technicians.

A few local lumber yards, supply companies and oil or butane dealers are: steel casing, cement, mud, water and butane.

Paints, varnishes, dyes, drugs, plastics, rubber, rayon and nylon are a few products of oil that we use almost daily.

Really to prove how important the oil industry is in Haskell

County think of its contribution in the last three years. Few people would dare think what would have happened to the business men of Haskell County, during the drought, had it not been for this "unseen crop."

WINNING ESSAY NO. 4

"What Oil Industry Means to Haskell County"

By BETTY KAY

O'Brien High School

As I gaze out my window at night, it seems I am almost in different surroundings than from my early childhood. For what was once a dark, black scene is now a "gaily" lighted land of oil wells. The scene has changed very rapidly in about seven years.

There are approximately 65 wells near the city of Haskell. About 40 wells are near Rule, Rochester, and O'Brien.

This industry has brought about the establishment of several companies. These companies that deal with the oil industry itself include cementing companies, drilling companies, etc.

The companies have employed many people from our county and many from other parts of Texas. The latter group has moved into the county of Haskell, thus increasing the population.

The increase in population has had several effects. Small rent houses have been built. Housing projects in towns have increased. The grocery business has increased.

Also profiting from the increase in population are the motion picture industry, restaurants, drug stores, etc.

As I drive over the county and enter the towns I can see a replica of the oil derricks in the television aerials at the homes. Television is a luxury which oil helped many to acquire.

The tremendous cash income oil has brought to Haskell County has financed industrial growth, agricultural improvements, and developments of county and municipal services. The people can afford luxuries.

Roads being improved is a valuable asset. The companies build or improve a road, thus improving travel on the county roads.

Perhaps the most important "business" to benefit from oil are our schools. The added taxes in the school districts help improve the general status of the school. Improved buildings, play ground facilities, and other such things make our schools better able to serve the students.

Ranchers and farmers also benefit. Those who have oil wells on their land benefit greatly from this income. The added income enables them to improve their land and to take care of more livestock. Therefore, oil indirectly helps the farming and cattle industry.

Many lives have been made exciting and easier, where once they had to "get by" on a meager income.

Nearly everyone, in some way, is affected by the progress of the oil industry. As the oil industry progresses, generally speaking, the people of some town or community progresses.

Even during the past two years when Haskell County has been caught in the grip of a drought, the security of our county and our life has depended immeasurably upon oil.

We realize the importance of oil to our economic structure. It is making a richer and better Haskell County.

WINNING ESSAY NO. 1
"What Oil Industry Means to Haskell County"

By ROBBIE SUE ROBERSON

The oil industry has helped Haskell County in many ways. It has meant financial stability to many people during a period when agricultural income has been immensely reduced by the most severe drouth known for this area. In fact had it not been for the money received from the oil industry, directly or indirectly, many people would have lost their homes and land that they had worked so hard to secure. Many farmers were able to find employment in the oil fields in our county enabling them to earn a living at home and thus making it possible to remain with their families.

The oil industry has brought many newcomers to our county, who in turn bought or rented new homes and apartments thereby helping the lumber yards, home contractors, and apartment owners. Of course these new homes meant increased valuation for taxes for our cities, schools, precincts, etc.

The new people not only bought or rented new homes, but they brought with them their children which meant an increase for our school census. These added students made it possible to qualify for more school teachers, and these added teachers made it possible for more subjects to be taught, and more individual instruction was possible due to having more teachers. More and better equipment was possible as a direct result of increased valuation brought about by increased oil production.

Better roads have increased immensely as a result of the oil industry. The pavement west of Rochester is an example of this. The oil industry has built many roads used by the public at their own expense, and in many instances they have been contributors to the regular channels for road building.

Many new businesses have been put in since the oil industry started. In Haskell we have Service Pipe Line, Schlumberger, Lane-Wells, two mud companies, and Carl Anderson Construction Co. In Rule we have Halliburton, Republic Supply, Tri-angle, Dowell Chemical, and several trucking companies.

The income of the new people moving into here and the increased income to many who already lived here have helped our churches, social clubs, and worthy organizations such as the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and all chest organizations. Their presence in church is helpful and the contributions they make add to the efficiency of caring for all worthy needs and calls.

Many businesses in Haskell have been able to keep their doors open as a direct result of new purchases made possible by revenue brought in by oil industry. Not only did many businesses survive as a result of this, but all sound establishments were made more secure.

The increased valuation of property, I am sure, is one of the most helpful assets of this important industry. For example, the valuation of property for state and county is approximately seventeen and one-half million dollars as compared to ten million dollars in 1949. It is estimated that eighty per cent of this increase is brought about as a result of the oil development. This increased valuation has made it possible for us to vote bonds without increased tax rates. Our new hospital, new schools, and our proposed new jail are examples of this.

Haskell County has been better advertised over the state and nation as the oil development has made progress. This has helped the Haskell Chamber of Commerce to carry on public relations with other parts of the country.

In summing up some of the benefits of the Oil Industry to Haskell County I want to list them. Namely: better churches, better schools, better roads, new businesses established, increased valuations, larger incomes, better medical attention, and a better standard of living. All of these have added to the happiness and security of many people living in our county. Had it not been for the development of our oil, we would not have these.

Statement of Facts Concerning the Jail Proposal, and Explanation of Financing

Letter of Facts
A personal letter of facts concerning your county taxes, and the new jail proposal.

It has been talked throughout our county, if the tax payers vote a bond election, it would raise everyone's taxes.

I wish to take this opportunity to say, this is very much untrue. This proposed jail issue will be voted on, and carried out on the same basis and merit as our last County Hospital project was handled. In the early part of 1951, the commissioners court and I asked the voters of Haskell County

Haskell; Wanda Fae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Jones of Haskell.

Four From County Attending Texas Lutheran College

Enrollment in the freshman class at Texas Lutheran College at Seguin for the fall semester shows a 47 per cent increase over last year. A total of more than 160 first year students is a record freshman enrollment for the 4-year liberal arts college.

Four students from Haskell County have registered at the college. They are Lois Knipping, freshman, and Jerry Kainer, freshman, of Sagerton; Jerry Thane, junior, of Stamford; and Bernhard Letz, freshman, of Rule.

They were all home last week end to visit their families.

ty to vote a $100,000.00 bond issue to enlarge our county hospital. Also, we instructed you at the time there would not be an increase in county taxes, and there DEFINITELY WAS NOT. We are speaking of County tax only, which is separate from city, state and school taxes.

To prove to you that your taxes were not raised, will you please check your county tax receipts and see for yourself. After checking you will find for the past number of years, you have been paying $1.05 per $100 valuation, county tax with a 15c special road tax. Your past receipts are the best proof you can have, regardless of what has, or will be said, concerning the coming election.

On October 31, 1953, the commissioners court and I are asking the voters to vote another $80,000.00 bond issue to build a new modern jail. We do this for several reasons, namely:

1. We as your county officials earnestly and sincerely believe the county is in need of a new jail.

2. We have on hand approximately $65,000.00 of surplus money in our road bond sinking and our permanent school interest and sinking funds, that definitely cannot be used for anything but an investment or improvement. We can buy in $65,000.00 worth of our own jail bonds. Also, we have state laws that require the commissioners court to keep all surplus money from these funds invested as soon as possible.

3. We think the 43 year old jail is beyond repairing and making it a nice, modern jail that everyone would be proud of.

4. We feel it is very unjust to ask a law enforcement officer to live and serve us, the voters of Haskell County, in a place where there are no modern conveniences at all. Although I wish to state our present sheriff has not complained, nor has he asked the court to call the said election.

5. We realize the 43 year old jail is subject to being condemned by the State at any time, as one of neighboring counties has been done.

6. The most important thing, it definitely will not increase anyone's taxes nor will it change our tax rates.

The county now owns $120,000.00 worth of Government Bonds that have been purchased with the surplus money from our Road Bond Interest and Sinking funds, over a number of years. Our valuations from oil and other industries have increased from year to year. Also, the county owns $480,000.00 worth of permanent school bonds purchased from the surplus of permanent school interest and sinking fund.

It seems to me, we the voters of Haskell County, have only one of two choices to make, concerning the surplus money in the funds stated above. We can only invest this in a new jail or Government G. Bonds. There will be an open house at the present jail, Saturday, October 24, and Sunday, October 25, 1953, from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. each day. Every citizen of this county is invited to go through and inspect the jail. In order to make up your own mind, whether we need a new jail or not.

I have done my very best to explain the proposed new jail deal, and your tax problems, as clearly and truthfully as I know how. If there is anyone that does not understand all, or any part of this proposed deal, will you please come by my office and I will be more than glad to go over this with you, whether you agree with me or not.

I am your friend always, and ready to help in any way I can.

Sincerely yours,
Alfred Turnbow,
County Judge.

Josselet HD Club Hears Report on State THDA Meet

The Josselet Home Demonstration Club met in a regular meeting in the club house Oct. 13. Each member answered roll call to Ways I Can Make My Home Safer. After a short business meeting, Mrs. Paul Cothron gave a report on the State THDA meeting. Names were drawn for club pals to be revealed at the Christmas party.

Those present were Mmes. J. L. Toliver, Jr. and Patricia, J. P. Perrin, Lottie Shackelford, Carl Bailey, J. L. Toliver, Sr., Paul Cothron and the hostess, Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Lottie Shackelford Oct. 27.

Original stories about their pets and enjoyed dramatizing many stories. Getting to school and back home safely created much discussion. Many rules were suggested by the group. The children drew pictures of the many ways of coming to school. The safety of each was discussed as the pictures were displayed. The various means of transportation to school were counted as well as the number of blocks or miles each child lived from school.

The group cooperated very well in the various room activities. An opening and closing prayer was learned, also the pledge of the flag, four choral readings, and ten little songs. Some games were played which were good for room games and involved numbers, colors and listening.

Pictures, flowers, and books were brought to school by the children to make the room more attractive. The chairs, tables, supplies and toys were kept in place by room helpers. Other activities developing during the progress of the unit included the building of a doll house from large boxes, painting and papering the house and making furniture, rugs and drapes for it. Little booklets, called "My House Book" were made by each child. These included original drawings and immature first grade writing about their doll house. Experiments in clay modeling, free expression in water, crayola and spatter painting proved to be very enjoyable tools. Flash bulb pictures were taken of the various activities.

A well planned excursion of the school unit was enjoyed by all. A great appreciation for their school home grew from the experience. The basement was an interesting discovery and all the "school helpers" became more real to them after they saw them working and learned their duties. The children dictated stories about the helpers and drew pictures. They counted the class rooms in the building. They observed the shrubs and flowers and learned why they should be well cared for.

As a result of the unit of work, there has been established a lasting friendship among the group, a desire to share, a more helpful attitude at home and at school, an appreciation for the school helpers, a very friendly feeling toward their principal and all other teachers, a well-adjusted group with a lot of curiosity and anticipation about what will take place tomorrow.

Mrs. R. C. Lyles was elected delegate to represent the club in Austin at the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Convention.

Mrs. Pippin presented Mrs. J. G. Vaughter, director of the afternoon's program. Mrs. Vaughter told the club it was time again to celebrate the birth of the United Nations which would be eight years old on October 24. She pointed out that U. N. officials had asked that organizations and cities celebrate this day so that the people might become more aware of the U. N. and its work. A film was shown of the work of U. N. through the organization known as U. N. I. C. E. F. (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) for the women and children in the war devastated countries. U. N. I. C. E. She said the Texas delegation was treated most royally by our representatives in Washington.

Mrs. Fitzgerald's group of beginners has experienced a happy time during their first six weeks in school. They have enjoyed working on the unit, "Learn To Be Happy At Home And At School." This subject was chosen first because the little child knew more about the home than any other subject and needed to learn about the new school home in which he would spend so much of the future. A feeling of security and happiness must be instilled before the child can become adjusted to a happy school life.

The unit began with free discussion periods, the children talking about their home and families. They told the color of their homes, the number of rooms in them, and how many people lived in each home.

The activities of the homes and how to become a more helpful member of the family were discussed. The suggestions liked best were written on the wall charts by the teacher.

Pictures showing good times at home were drawn by the children and displayed on the bulletin board. They also drew pictures of each family.

Insurance lets you take your choice

Would you rather spend a little that you can afford, each year — or take a possible whopper of a loss that may darn near ruin you, someday?

Insurance lets you pay out a little every year, to protect you against losing maybe everything you own or more — on one sad, unfortunate day — by fire, storm, burglary, personal accident, or a damage suit.

You can budget insurance cost—but you can't budget a fire or a hurricane or a big damage suit.

Let us tell you how little it costs you to protect yourself with America Fave policies against possible terrific losses.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR YOU CAN'T BEAT A PONTIAC

It's the RIGHT CAR!

What's the "right car" for you? It must be handsome, of course. A good performer, too. And dependable? Economical? For beauty, Pontiac offers the Silver Streak distinction that is admired everywhere. The power and stamina of Pontiac's rugged, high-compression engines are unmatched at anywhere near the price. Pontiac's dependability and long-life economy are a matter of record. For every important value extra Pontiac's your car!

It's the RIGHT PRICE!

The price of a Pontiac will never sway you from buying the right car. Pontiac engineers discovered long ago that—for very few extra dollars in price—they could build into Pontiac cars a great deal of extra quality. Come in and let us prove how easy it is to own a big, luxurious, fine-performing Pontiac!

It's the RIGHT TIME!

Your present car will never be more valuable as a trade-in! So don't put off the pleasures of Pontiac ownership. "Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac" never meant more than it does today! We're sure you'll agree it's the right car—the right price—and the right time.

Q-B Members Discuss Plans For Colored Classic

Final details in connection with the coming Texas-Oklahoma Colored Classic were discussed by Quarterback Club members at the weekly meeting Tuesday night. Entertainment feature of the evening was a film in color, of the 1953 Cotton Bowl game between University of Texas and Tennessee.

Post-game discussion of the Haskell-Roscoe till last Friday emphasized the value of participation support in important games. Good response in advance sale of tickets for the Colored Classic was reported, and this angle will be pushed in the time remaining before the game.

Tentative plans were made for some of the parade details Saturday evening preceding the game on Halloween night, and outline of half-time entertainment features for the game was given by Rex Felker and Willard Warren. After discussion members of the Club voted that the T-O Classic would not be broadcast.

All Q-B Club members are urged to be present at next Tuesday night's meeting, club President Tom Watson said. At that time final assignments will be made for members volunteering to help stage the classic, he said.

Watch That Wallet! Gang of Super-Salesmen Hint Invasion of Haskell Soon

Home owners in Haskell who have in their possession dogs of any size or breed which are inclined to be a bit unfriendly to strangers, are hereby urged to keep them either tied securely or locked up in the back yard for a period of at least one week.

Also, husbands who might not fully trust their wallet in the hands of the little woman, are warned that it might be a good idea to place it under the pillow or very close by where a watchful eye can be kept on it during the night of the week mentioned.

Advance information indicates that a gang of supersalesmen are scheduled to hit the residential section of Haskell in the very near future. These salesmen will be in the person of members of the Haskell

Lions Club who are chiefly interested in placing in your home one or all of three handy household articles which were made by the blind in the Eight Light-houses for the blind in the State of Texas. Local club members have in their possession whisk brooms, ironing board covers and rubber door mats which they are eager to deliver to your door.

Lions Clubs of America are closely cooperating with this worthy cause and are most instrumental by their sale of the blind articles in helping these Lighthouses to be self supporting.

A small per cent derived from the sale, will go into the funds of the local club but the greater share will be sent to the blind where it will continue to work for their upkeep.

FFA NEWS

Thirty-five members of the Haskell Chapter, Future Farmers of America attended the State Fair in Dallas Saturday. The day had been officially designated as FFA and FFA Day, and students from hundreds of Texas schools thronged the Fairgrounds.

Haskell Future Farmers were accompanied by the Chapter Advisor, Mr. Stone, and Edwin Jeter. The trip was made by school bus, the party leaving late Friday night after the Haskell-Roscoe football game. They left Dallas on the return trip late Saturday. While attending the Fair, the Future Farmers were given a free lunch on the fairgrounds as a courtesy of the exposition.

Farmers Urged To Cooperate In Wage Survey

Haskell County area cotton farmers participating in the wage survey were asked today by G. B. Purcell, local office manager, of the Texas Employment Commission, at Wichita Falls, to enter actual wages received by domestic workers in the field. It should not include fees and charges for crew leaders, or weighing and hauling. Purcell further stated that if such charges are shown on the card which is returned every other week to the TEC office, a distortion of actual wages might result and that the wages paid to Mexican Nationals might be influenced as a result.

49 Return Cards
Results of the mailing program so far have been below expectation, Purcell said. The sampling possible from those cards returned has been too small and information too inadequate to warrant making wage finding. The results of the survey to date are as follows:

A total of 370 cards were mailed out to Haskell farmers, and of this number only 49 responses were received. Twenty-four cards were completed, 10 stated rates but no more than 10 to workers in the cotton to state both Purcell urges all farmers to be harvested receive the survey card week in order that the wages being paid pullers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cox of Old Glory, before moving to Lubbock, Cox owned and operated the City Barber Shop at Knox City.

About four months ago young Cox organized the Plains Recording Company which released its first record Aug. 21. The infant company recorded its first songs July 20. Twelve-year-old Hope Griffin of Idalou, was the vocalist, accompanied by the Texas Hotshots. The songs they recorded were "I'm Through With You," and "Only Once In A While." Both tunes were written by Lonnie Sansing of the Texas Hotshots.

The record was submitted to the first disc jockey on Aug. 15, and was placed on sale on Aug. 21. The record has been distributed in the South Plains area, as well as the Panhandle, El Paso and Eastern New Mexico sections. The tune attained instant popularity, and was number 10 on the All Request Hit Parade on Radio station KSEL during the last week of August.

Cox has plans for several more records in the near future, including another by Hope Griffin. He has big plans for his company. He readily admits that the recordings now lack perfection, but he feels that time and work can correct imperfections. And if record fans response matches the enthusiasm of the young West Texan, success of his venture is assured.

Lone Star Begins Work On Abilene-Stamford Line

Lone Star Gas Company has begun construction of a 36-mile pipeline from Stamford to Abilene, which will strengthen the gas supply for towns in eight west Texas counties, according to an announcement by Julian L. Foster of Dallas, general superintendent of Lone Star's transmission division. The pipeline facilities, designed under supervision of Thomas S. Bacon, chief engineer, will cost in excess of $838,000 and will serve as a second connection with the company's interconnected transmission network for the local distribution plants.

The 12-inch diameter pipeline will join the transmission system at Lone Star's compressor station one mile west of Abilene, cross Jones county and terminate at Stamford where it will connect with transmission facilities serving towns in Hardeman, Wilbarger, Foard, Knox, Haskell, Jones and Fisher counties. The line will also supply gas to the West Texas Utilities Company's Paint Creek power plant near Haskell.

Construction headquarters for the project have been established at Anson where Vaughn Sears is construction foreman.

You'll get more than you expect with fine car ride . . . fine-car build . . . and fine-car V-8 GO!

In feature after feature, Ford matches the finest . . .

Check these fine car features that are yours when you buy a Ford, the one fine car in the low-price field. You get glass area galore . . . the most in Ford's field. You get more usable inside space than in any other low-priced car. Seats are foam-rubber-cushioned both front and rear. You get such Ford advances as convenient Center-Fill Fueling and suspended clutch and brake pedals. But here are the big reasons why Ford is worth more when you buy it and when you sell it, too!

V-8 or Six power

Only Ford in its field offers you a fine-car high-compression V-8 engine . . . the result of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined. And Ford's high-compression, low-friction Six is the most modern Six in the industry. Both engines have Ford's exclusive Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last drop of power out of every drop of gasoline.

Up to 80% less road shock

Ford has reduced front end road shock (the kind you notice most) up to 80%. And by a perfect teaming-up of rear springs, diagonally-mounted rear shock absorbers and tailored-to-weight front springs, Ford has proved that a car can ride smooth as silk without gas-eating extra weight.

Master-Guide power steering

Ford Master-Guide is the last word in power steering. It does up to 75% of the steering work for you when you need it . . . yet it leaves you with a natural feel of steering on the straight-away. And it helps you control the car on rough, rutted roads. Available on all V-8 models.

Built like the finest

Ford's hull-tight body is sealed against water, dust and draft. Body panels are made of steel of the same quality and thickness as that used in the costliest cars. Ford's rugged box-section frame has five strong cross members including a special K-bar member which adds extra twist resistance . . . gives longer car life.

Fordomatic Drive

It's the finest, most versatile of all automatic drives . . . combines the smoothness of a fluid torque converter and the "Go" of automatic mechanical gears. Ford also offers you Overdrive and Conventional drive.

"Bigger pies, not smaller slices"

We ran across a new word the other day . . . "demographer." That's a research man who studies statistics on births, deaths, populations.

Well, it seems the United States will have 20 million more people aboard by 1960, or thereabouts. Logical enough. We gained 20 million people in the forties.

Bigger pies are the order of the day. In the electrical industry, for instance, men with sharp pencils have figured that demand for electric power will have doubled during the decade ending in 1960. More power equipment is therefore needed. More electrical machinery for industry.

And better pies. Americans insist on better products, year by year. Somebody has to pioneer things. Looking ahead for five, ten, fifteen years—creating new and better products and improving old ones—that is the business of General Electric. For seventy-five years progress has been our most important product.

The babies who come into the world today won't want smaller slices of the world's goods and opportunities. Or even the same slice. They'll want more. Wait and see. Nothing less is worth planning for by the people who must organize for the future. It's no job for pessimists.

WINNING ESSAY NO. 2

"What Oil Industry Means to Haskell County"

By JOY ALLEN

Have you ever been awakened in the night and heard the heavy rumble of engines and machinery or arise in the morning to smell a distinct and peculiar odor? If so, you are witnessing the rapid expansion of the oil industry in Haskell County.

Our story begins in 1908 when the people of the Haskell vicinity saw the first oil rig as it pulled into the south part of the county and began its attempt to bring the black gold of Ranger, Eastland, and Breckenridge to this area. Although this attempt was unsuccessful, it was not long until the first producing well was brought into production. It was in the early 1920's when the Reynold's Cattle Company recorded the first producer in the county.

Production was slow but steady until 1946 when the oil rush really got underway. Now we have approximately twelve fields and over two-hundred producing wells.

As you probably know, Haskell County suffered the most severe drought during the past three years in the history of the county. Crops were poor, grass died in the pastures, and farmers were forced to sell their livestock because there was no water. Had it not been for the oil industry, all kinds of business would have failed. But due to the income from the oil industry, business houses were able to keep their doors open until the earth was blessed again with rain.

Tax evaluation of Haskell County in 1946 was $9,247,000.00. Today our tax evaluation is $17,- 869,666.00. This is an increase of $8,422,666.00 in period of seven years. These figures indicate that there has been approximately one and one-fourth million dollars worth of taxable property added to our tax rolls each year. At least eighty per cent of this increase can be credited to our oil industry. More taxable property in the county means better law enforcement, better rural roads, more and better hospitals, and better schools for approximately three-thousand boys and girls of Haskell County.

The oil companies own vast amounts of properties in our county. Production and leases are valued at $5,230,494.00. Pipe lines are valued at $747,252.00. Oil improvements are valued at $80,870.00, and personal property at $114,110.00. This is a total evaluation of $6,380,474.00 or 3-7 of the entire evaluation of the county.

The eight schools located in Haskell County are far above the average as far as buildings, teaching equipment, and other facilities are concerned. Many people believe this is due to our oil industry.

But not all good things that have come about as a result of our oil industry can be measured in dollars and cents. We have many fine families of people that have moved into our towns and communities. They are filling places of responsibility in our civic organizations, Chamber of Commerce and churches. If one were to make a list of the people who serve the towns and the communities best, he would find that many of these people came to our county as a result of our oil industry.

Better schools, better churches, and better communities make a better county. Doubtless the oil industry has been instrumental in improving all three of these agencies. Therefore, the oil industry has improved Haskell County economically, socially and culturally. May the oil industry of Haskell County continue to grow.

WTU Supervising Engineer Returns From California

R. V. Sass, supervising engineer for West Texas Utilities Company on construction of the company's Paint Creek power plant, visited in Haskell last week on his return from California, where he had been for the past four months. Mr. Sass, one of the foremost construction engineers in the Southwest, came to Haskell when work on the WTU plant was started early in 1952 and remained as supervising engineer until completion of the project in early July of this year.

He goes to McCamey this week, where an expansion project for the West Texas Utilities Company is due to get underway. He will return here when work is started on an additional unit to be built at the Paint Creek station.

Buick Million Dollar Ride. The soft and steady and ever-level ride that comes of coil springs on all four wheels—a full-length torque-tube drive—a massive X-braced frame—a solid and substantial roadweight poised with meticulous balance on broadly spaced wheels.

But what makes the Buick SPECIAL so extra special is the low delivered price it carries.

WINNING ESSAY NO. 4
"What Oil Industry Means to Haskell County"

By DEWANE LANCASTER
Although the oil industry is young in years, the nation rates

it as its No. 1 industry. The security and prosperity of this county has become more and more dependent on oil. It has been said that "without petroleum the wheels of progress could not turn." Nearly everyone, in some way, is affected by the progress of the oil industry. As the oil industry progresses, the people of some community or town also progress.

Oil was discovered in this section of Texas only a few years ago, but it plays an important part in the security and progress of nearly every person living in this area. Since Haskell County has been noted in the past for its farming and ranching industries. I shall devote the first part of my essay toward showing the benefits such a community gains from the discovery and recovery of oil from its land.

At one time a drought like the one that has been going on in this area for the past few years would mean many people would have to move on to other areas to try to make a living. But since oil has been discovered in Haskell County, there has been an increase in population instead of a decrease, in spite of the drought. Also, as one of the officials in our home town bank stated, deposits and incomes have been kept at a satisfactory level because of the lease rental and royalty checks paid to farmers and the distribution of payroll checks of oil industry employees. Lease rental and royalty checks have helped to pay many farmers' grocery bills, and have improved his standard of living. He has been able to improve his home and agricultural methods, not only through the use of this extra income, but through the use of the products which have been made from oil. Such products as chemical fertilizer for better growing, chemical sprays for ridding crops of insects, and chemical weed-killers are being used more and more every year by farmers in this area with great benefit. These agricultural men are becoming aware of the value of fighting destructive insects at small cost compared with the loss possible without chemical spraying.

There are many ways the people of Haskell County as well as other counties in Texas have benefited by the oil industry. One of the greatest of these is the financial aid provided for education by oil tax. Public school education has no stronger financial backer than the petroleum industry. Last year 46 cents out of every dollar of state aid to the state public schools came from the oil and gas producers.

Besides providing this state aid to every public school student, many oil companies provide for the education of their employees' children. They give financial aid to these boys and girls and provide jobs after graduation from college if the student desires. One company which I know about gives fifty scholarships for four years of college to boys and girls who qualify as good scholars. Such a scholarship means a great deal to boys and girls, some of whom probably would not get to go to college if the leaders of the oil industry were not so thoughtful and generous. I am sure some of the boys and girls in Haskell County will be given this chance to go to college.

Not only do oil taxes provide financial aid for public education, but they also pay for one-third of the cost of running our state government. They pay for the greater part of our good roads and help build churches and hospitals. Ask the ministers of your churches in Haskell and they will tell you that the oil industry has helped their churches greatly in a financial way during the past few years.

Every day we use hundreds of products of the oil industry which add comfort and convenience to the American way of life. Fuels made from oil helped put "luxuries" such as gas, autos, airplanes, combines and thousands of other developments within reach of millions. With motor power farmers can do in a day what used to take a week with horse-drawn equipment. Yet without oil to lubricate every wheel that turns, there would be no such progress—friction would defeat it. The new plastics, synthetics, and miracle fabrics such as orlon and nylon are all developed from a petroleum product. Asphalt for our highways is taken from petroleum.

Natural gas and petroleum are the main sources of the nation's supply of carbon black. Carbon black is the most important compounding agent in rubber, and without it the automobile tire which we depend on every day would fall apart before it traveled five hundred miles. Carbon black also shows up in products which we use almost daily. Some of these are, boots, heels, inner tubes, batteries, crayons, explosives, stove and shoe polishes, many black paints and many other articles.

Looking back over my essay, I think the oil industry has accomplished many wonderful things for America, Texas and Haskell County. The oil industry shall continue to progress, and with each step of progress, our county will be a richer and better place in which to live.

Megascopic observations are made with the naked eye.

Haskell Student Is Candidate For U-T Assembly Post

Austin, Oct. 20.—Horace Randolph Crawford, University of Texas student from Haskell, has filed as a candidate for Student Assembly representative from the Graduate School. The campus election will be held Oct. 28.

Texas Farm Income Shows Decline From 1952

Texas farm income for the first eight months of 1953 fell 19 per cent below the comparable 1952 figure, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research estimates indicate.

Income from grain sorghum was down 44 per cent; cotton, 25 per cent; and cottonseed, 31 per cent. However, revenue from oats increased 47 per cent and from flaxseed, 24 per cent.

Paralleling the crop trend, cattle revenue decreased 31 per cent. Income from calves was down 18 per cent. Sheep and lamb income was up 24 per cent.

Rail shipments of fruits and vegetables remained fairly constant. Such shipments will be subjected to wide variation during the remainder of the year, the bureau reports, because the bulk of the fruit harvest is yet to be marketed.

In a July-August comparison, total carload shipments of livestock fell 40 per cent.
