Server Leon, owner and manager of the Texas Theatre here, has leased the Albany Theatre and assumed charge of the show there this week.
A. C. Boggs, Jr., left Tuesday morning for Grandfield, Okla., where he will join his brother in the produce business.
Haskell voters will ballot Friday on legalizing the sale of 2.2 beer within the city limits. Outcome of the voting has been widely discussed, with the opinion about equally divided on whether or not beer sale will be approved. However, one thing is certain—no "joins" will be permitted if the election carries, city officials have announced. If and when beer is sold legally, it must be in establishments where perfect order is maintained, they declared.

G. E. McGee of Rochester was struck by a truck and killed almost instantly. He had gotten out of a car near a gin in Rochester, and in going around the car stepped into the path of a truck driven by a Knox City man who was unable to avoid striking him. The accident was termed unavoidable.

Haskell stores will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, in observance of Armistice Day, which comes on Sunday this year.

Ratliff & Ratliff have moved their offices from the McConnell Building to the Sherrill Building on the northwest corner of the square.

J. O. Jackson was here Monday and says that the recent rains have put the roads in worse condition than he has seen in many years.

After being halted by rains and bad weather, work has been resumed on three new buildings under construction here. They are the J. E. Lindsey filling station on the southeast corner of the square and the Jones & Son Tin Shop which is being rebuilt on the site of the building which burned several weeks ago.

J. H. Ivey, who lives six miles east of town, was here Saturday. Due to the condition of the roads after recent rains, he walked to town rather than trying to drive his jitney or using a team.

Mrs. F. M. Morton and her niece, Anna Kate Ferguson, have returned from Dallas where they have been visiting for the past two weeks.

Mrs. W. J. Sowell has returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where she spent several weeks with relatives.

A crowd of young people spent a pleasant evening Saturday at the home of Mrs. Hubbard in the south part of the city.

Waterfowl Hunting Regulations Cut To Measure

Only two changes from last year mark the new waterfowl regulations, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The daily shooting period was extended until sunset and baiting was forbidden altogether.

Here are the major rules for shooting ducks and geese:
Season—From noon on November 6 through January 4.
Hours—From one half-hour before sunup to sunset.

Bag limit (Ducks)—Five per day or ten in possession.

Bag limit (Geese)—Five per day or five in possession, including in such limit not more than either two Canada geese (or its subspecies, Hutchins or lesser Canada) or two white-fronted geese, or one of each.

Weapons—Use of rifles to kill waterfowl is forbidden; guns must be plugged to a limit of three shell capacity.

Boats—Ducks or geese may be taken from outboard motor boat provided motor is removed from boat and placed inside the boat, or boat is secured to a shooting blind.

Federal duck stamp costing $2 is required.

With colder weather just around the corner, livestock will need even more attention and of prime importance is the supplementary feed. Oil meal products are the most economical and dependable source of supplemental protein.

The weather holds a direct bearing on the future price outlook for beef cattle. With the exception of seasonal ups and downs the markets should level off and prices become more stabilized unless drought conditions and other weather factors force marketings.

Langston Lions Swamp Paul Quinn 31-0 In Annual T-O Colored Classic Saturday

Demonstrating superior power from the start, and scoring in three periods of the contest, the Langston University Lions blanked the Paul Quinn Tigers 31-0 Saturday night in the third annual Texas-Oklahoma Colored Classic. As a result of their win, the Lions took the coveted Q-B Club trophy across the Red River for the first time since the Classic was inaugurated here in 1951.

The game, a scheduled inter-conference affair with Langston representing the colored Southwest Conference, and Paul Quinn of Waco the South Central Texas Conference, was witnessed by a crowd of more than 2,000 fans. When interest in the one-sided game lagged, spectators derived entertainment from the music and antics of "Widemouth" Brown and his orchestra with their continual round of boogie-woogie and jitterbug tunes.

Langston Scores Early The Lions scored quickly in the first frame on a pass from quarterback Veran Sharp from 27 yards out, into the hands of Lion halfback Johnny Peek on the paystripe. Peek's try for extra point sailed wide. Later, in the facing minutes of the first quarter, Carl Burch, Lion end, intercepted a Tiger pass on the Paul Quinn 30 and returned it to the 10. On the next play, Curtis Clay, Lion halfback, skirted right end for the TD. Peek's kick for extra point again failed.

In the second period, Acie Clark, Lion guard streaked through to block a Tiger punt which was recovered by Lion halfback Curtis Clay on the 1-yard line. Sharp carried over for the TD on the next play. Try for point failed, to set the score 18-0 at the half.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Lions capitalized on Tiger bobbles to score twice more. First counter came when a Paul Quinn punt was blocked on the 10-yard stripe, then Griffin Jones, Lion substitute back, found an easy alley through the Tiger line for a TD. Conversion try for extra point failed.

Final tally for the Lions came minutes later, when Curtis Brackeen, Lion guard, intercepted a Tiger pass intended for halfback Will Oliver Hooge, and reeled off 40 yards for a TD. In his sixth attempt of the evening, Peek's kick for extra point after hit the mark.

Despite the one-sided nature of the grid contest, spectators enjoyed the several entertainment features and specialties, particularly the half-time activities. Highlighting the mid-game program was the colorful HHS Indian Band in novel field stunts,

Ranch Show Nov. 19-22 Fort Worth

The most complete exhibition of farm and ranch equipment staged in the Southwest will be in Fort Worth, Nov. 19-22. The show will feature the latest equipment and ranchers' families will find every conceivable type of equipment or device used on the farm or ranch on display when the second annual Texas Ranch and Farm show opens its doors at 10 a. m. on Thursday, Nov. 19. The show is being staged in the exhibit building at the rear of Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum on Fort Worth's west side. More than 100,000 visited last year's show and this year's event is expected to attract even more interested Southwesterners. In addition to the many commercial exhibits, show visitors also will find varied displays of an educational nature. A big grass exhibit is being arranged under the joint sponsorship of the Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club and the Texas Research Foundation for the express purpose of assisting ranchers in the re-seeding program. The exhibit which shows all of Texas' fish and wildlife will be set up by the Texas Game and Fish Commission. The show is being sponsored by Texas Ranch and Farm, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's farm magazine.

Feeding tests were conducted during the winter of 1952-53 at the Spur station to compare the value of solvent processed cottonseed meal with hydraulic cottonseed meal in fattening rations for yearling steers. This report completes a 3-year series of these feeding trials. In addition, it contains the results of a 2-year feeding trial with soybean meal and hydraulic cotton seed meal, and a comparison between three varieties of sorghum grain. The yearling Hereford steers used in these feeding trials were purchased as short-age calves weighing 320 pounds from the Swenson Land and Cattle Co., of Stamford. Following studies on winter maintenance and summer grazing, the 59 steers used to compare solvent and hydraulic cottonseed meal were placed in the feedlot at an average weight of 763 pounds. The 39 head used to compare soybean meal with hydraulic cottonseed meal averaged 732 pounds and the 30 head used to test the different sorghum grains weighed 727 pounds at the start of the feeding trials. During a preliminary period of 10 to 14 days, the steers were fed an average daily ration of 2 pounds of cottonseed meal, 2 pounds of alfalfa hay and 50 to 60 pounds of sorghum silage. These feeding tests were conducted with high roughage fattening rations. This method of feeding was developed at the Spur station over a 20-year period to make use of maximum amounts of roughage and relatively small amounts of grain. The procedure is to feed from 2.5 to 4 pounds of cottonseed meal and 2 to 6 pounds of alfalfa hay with a full feed of sorghum silage. Ground sorghum grain is added to the ration only as necessary to produce carcasses of choice grade in 140 to 170 days of feeding. The average amount of grain fed per steer seldom exceeds 800 pounds. Since near equal amounts of cottonseed meal and grain are used, the total energy of the cottonseed meal is important. Livestock producers in the Rolling Plains of Northwest Texas have made wide use of hydraulic-extracted cottonseed meal and cake for years. Since 1950, many cottonseed mills have produced solvent-extracted cottonseed meal, which is low in fat, and it has largely replaced hydraulic cottonseed meal of higher fat content. As a result of this change, livestock producers and cottonseed mill operators asked for information on the comparative feeding value of the two kinds of cottonseed meal. The solvent-extracted cottonseed meal fed in these three tests averaged 1.68 per cent fat and the hydraulic meal averaged 4.56 per cent fat. Other differences in the chemical composition of the two meals were small. Over the 3-year period, steers fed hydraulic cottonseed meal made an average daily gain of 2.35 pounds, as compared with 2.30 pounds for the steers fed solvent cottonseed meal. Those fed hydraulic meal also had small advantages in feed required per 100 pounds gained, shrink en route to market and dressed yield, while those fed solvent meal had a slight advantage in carcass grade. Although these differences were small, they were consistently in favor of hydraulic cottonseed meal. With "wet" rations containing large amounts of sorghum silage, the steers fed solvent cottonseed meal maintained good appetites and consumed 1.3 pounds more silage per head daily than those fed hydraulic meal. Because of the powdery composition of solvent meal, it appears to be better adapted for use with silage rations than with rations made up entirely of dry feeds. At times, soybean meal is sold in the area at prices that make it favorable for use as a protein supplement in fattening rations. The chemical composition of soybean meal is similar to that of cottonseed meal. In a 2-year comparison with hydraulic cottonseed meal, steers fed soybean meal made an average daily gain of 2.30 pounds, while those fed cottonseed meal gained 2.23 pounds per head daily. Other differences were small but generally favored the steers on the soybean meal ration. However, the price of soybean meal was too high during the 2-year period to compete with cottonseed meal. When the price of soybean meal is the same or less than hydraulic cottonseed meal of near equal protein content, it can be fed in place of cottonseed meal. New combine type grain sorghum varieties have been compared with commonly grown varieties for the past 2 years. In the 1951-52 test, Redbine 60 was compared with Early Hegari and Martin. Results were given in Progress Report 1499. Due to the drought, Redbine 60 and Early Hegari were not available for the 1952-53 test; therefore, Westland and Kaffir 60 from the High Plains were compared with Martin sorghum. In the 1951-52 test, the red grains, Redbine 60 and Martin, produced higher gains than the white grained Early Hegari. The 1952-53 feeding period lasted 163 days, and the steers were fed more grain than usual in order to reach choice to prime conditions and sell at the highest price possible on the market. An average of 1,080 pounds of grain was fed per steer, or 6.63 pounds per head daily. Steers fed Martin sorghum grain made a daily gain of 2.04 pounds. The steers fed Westland made the lowest daily gain of 1.99 pounds. All three groups sold for $23 per 100 pounds and showed an average loss of $87.50 per head due to the high feed prices and a 21 per cent drop in cattle prices while steers were on the feed. These tests indicate that there is very little difference in the feeding value of these varieties of sorghum grain. Therefore, the variety which produces a high yield should be grown. Other factors, such as use of the crop for fodder, grazing and residue left on the land to prevent blowing and increased moisture storage also should be considered. Early Hegari has been one of the

Bobby Howard of San Angelo, former resident here, visited in Haskell the first of the week on his return from a hunting trip in the northwest corner of Colorado near the Wyoming and Utah line. Howard killed a 14-point deer that dressed out 220 pounds of meat. The San Angelo man joined a party of 12 hunters at Walsh, Colo., and their original plan called for a elk hunt in the Blair Mountains. A 30-inch snow stranded the party for two days and cancelled their elk hunting plans. VISITORS IN I. V. MARRS HOME

P-TA Hallowe'en Carnival Proves Big Hit As Cotton Festival Week Event

WSCS Circles Meet In Home of Mrs. Ernest Kimbrough

The Hallowe'en Carnival sponsored by the Elementary P-TA as a Cotton Festival week event, exceeded all expectations of sponsors and proved one of the outstanding entertainment features on the Festival program, taking on the air of an old-fashioned community gathering.

Although no record of attendance was kept, crowds that jammed the new elementary building at one time was estimated at more than 1,000 men, women and children.

And they all had the time of their lives "taking in" the many carnival attractions including games, cake auction, fish pond for the kiddies, House of Horrors and numerous other lively features. Attracting possibly a major share of attention was the Midget Show presented by Mr. Hunter in one of the class rooms. Other features included two comedy films that were shown continuously to changing audiences, and the fortune telling booth of Madam Za Za.

A chilly supper at 6 o'clock was the initial event on the evening's program, and the turn-out for the supper exhausted the supply of food prepared far ahead of schedule.

Sponsors realized a substantial revenue from the evening's activities, and all proceeds will be used in the P-TA's projects for the school.

Mrs. Jean Elliott, Elementary P-TA president, praised the cooperation of members, Room Mothers, school officials and the public in making the Hallowe'en Carnival an outstanding success.

There will be no special session of the Legislature on drouth relief at this time, the governor has announced.

In an official memorandum,
 Attorney Genral John Ben Shepperd ruled that the governor can use his $200,000 deficiency appropriation to finance a state-federal hay program.

Agriculture Commissioner, John
 C. White, in Shepperd's opinion, is empowered to administer the program for Texas.

The governor's deficiency appropriation is the Legislature's authority to the chief executive to spend money for any necessary purpose, that may be unfor-seen while routine appropriations of state moneys are being made.

With $200,000, the governor estimates, the drouth relief program can be carried along for a couple of months. After that time, the situation can be re-studied.

November's quota is 2,803,528 than the figure for July, when the downward trend began.

From the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association came cries of protest at the drop in production.

Association spokesman protested that the reduction in Texas oil production comes about by virtue of the importation of foreign oil.

"We have merely forfeited more of our domestic market to foreign oil," said M. D. Bryant of San Angelo, president of the association.

Imports of foreign oil amounted to 869,125 barrels daily in September, according to reports re-sion.

 For years, the Legislature has worried over laws regulating annexation of territory by cities.

Still troublesome, the question will get a going-over by a Texas Legislative Council committee composed of Senators Gus J.
 Strauss of Hallettsville, N. H.
 Colson of Navasota, and Jap S.
 Fuller of Port Arthur; and Representatives Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, Charles Murphy of Houston, Scott P. Sayers of Fort Worth, and Tom King of Dallas.

How to provide for the orderly expansion of cities while protecting the property rights of citizens is the problem.

Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey is chairman of the council. He also appointed committees on game and fish laws, juvenile code, and revising Texas' court system.

Livestock Market Receipts Hit New High; Prices 50c to $1.00 Lower

By TED GOULDY

Fort Worth—The movement of cattle and calves to market in the United States reached a new highwater mark as the first market day of November became history last Monday.

Most observers had felt that probably the peak of the Fall runs had been reached a couple of weeks ago, and that numbers would moderate in the weeks ahead.

However, the nation's 12 major livestock centers reported 162,600 cattle, nearly 35,000 more than a week ago on the same day. Monday's cattle runs more than 49,000 head above the same date a year ago.

The 12 major markets reported 33,000 calves, about 1,000 above a week ago, but 6,500 ahead of the same date last year.

The tops of the cattle market at Fort Worth was bearish from the outset and bids and sales of 50c to $1 lower were the rule at Fort Worth with many sales fully $1 below last week's close. Exception was choice stocker calves, which ruled steady.

Good and choice drylot fed steers and yearlings cashed at $17 to $23, and common and medium grassers sold largely from $9 to $15.50. Some ramthan kinds of yearlings and steers cashed at $7 to $9.

Fat cows sold mostly from $9 to $11 at Fort Worth, a few higher. Canners and cutters drew $6 to $9. Bulls sold from $7 to $11, with best heavies around $12.

Good and choice slaughter calves sold largely at $13 to $16.50, and common to medium offerings drew $9 to $12, and cull sorts sold from $7 to $8.

Good and choice stocker steer calves sold from $13 to $17, a few $18.50. Stocker and feeder steers and yearlings sold from $9 to $15.50. Stocker cows drew $8 to $11.50.

Hog prices staged a mild rally, and top hogs sold at $20.75 to $21 at Fort Worth Monday on weights of 190 to 250 pounds. This was 25 to 50c above last week's close. Sows cashed at $17.50 to $19, or steady.

Sheep and lamb prices were stronger at Fort Worth Monday. The supply of desirable stocker and feeder lambs continues to be small and prices on them were 50c or more higher at Fort Worth Monday with some feeders sold in the $14 to $16.25 bracket. Good and choice fat lambs topped at $17 to $19, some lambs with Fall shorn pelts at $19. Low grade slaughter lambs drew $10 to $14. Slaughter ewes sold from $5 to $8.

Falling Farm Prices Lowest Since 1941

Farm prices skidded another 2 per cent in September, dropping the farmer to the lowest rung he has occupied on the economic ladder since 1941, the Agriculture Department reported Friday from Washington.

Cattle prices fell an average of seven per cent per hundred pounds. They stood at 71 per cent of the so-called "fair" parity price.

Prices paid out by farmers from mid-September to mid-October fell one-third of one per cent. But since the farmer's prices fell even more the net result was that he was less well off.

Average farm prices stood at 91 per cent of parity on Oct. 15, the lowest since May, 1941. That compared with the 92 per cent of parity on Sept. 15 and 99 per cent a year ago.

The all-time high was 122 per cent of parity in October, 1946.

Parity is a legal yardstick for measuring the farmer's purchasing power against that of the rest of the economy. When he gets 100 per cent of parity he is said to have the same buying power he enjoyed in the "normal" period 1910-14.

Lower prices for hogs and corn, with the sharp cattle drop, chiefly were responsible for the third consecutive monthly fall in farm prices.

The overall farm price figure on Oct. 15 was about 113 per cent below a year ago. Farmers costs were only about 3 per cent below the same time last year.

Beef cattle prices dropped from mid-September to mid-October from an average of $15.80 per hundred pounds to $14.70. Cattle were bringing $21.40 a hundred last October.

The present 71 per cent of parity prices compares with 76 per cent in mid-September.

$6.50, and shorn slaughter yearlings drew $12 to $13. Old Wethers sold from $6 to $8. Old bucks cashed at $2.50 to $3.

Texas Draft Call For 1,264 Men In December

A December state draft quota of 1,264 men has been received at State Selective Service headquarters, Brig. General Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, said.

The quota is the Texas share of a national call for 23,000 men. The November quota, announced in late September, was 1,210. The October quota for Texas, now being filled, is 1,208.

Gen. Wakefield said that, under present plans, local board quotas to fill the December call will be placed in the mail "sometime next week."

State draft boards will also receive a call for physical examinations, to be sent out also next week, for delivery in December. The state call for December examinations will total only 986 men.

Instructions were received from national Selective Service headquarters that all deliveries of men in December would be made through December 18 on account of Christmas holidays.

Instructions also were received that, where possible, only men 20 years old or older would be inducted in December. If necessary, any board may call men under 20 to reach its quota.

The number of men under 20 being inducted in Texas continues to be less, Gen. Wakefield said. Sixteen men out of every 100 inducted in September, were under 20. The figure was 19 out of every 100 in August.

This compares with 32 out of every 100 the past June. Gen. Wakefield attributes this mostly to a reduction in monthly quotas, which was forecast even before the truce in Korea. He says he expects draft quotas to go up by June of next year.

Shelly Royall Elected President County Farm Bureau; Cattle Price Support OK'd

Shelly Royall of this city was elected president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau at the annual convention meeting Tuesday night in the American Legion auditorium. Royall succeeds H. H. Segó, retiring president.

Other officers and directors elected were:

Gene Wheeler, vice president; H. H. Segó, second vice president. Six new directors named were: C. W. Dunnam, representing Rule community; Sonny Hughes, O'Brien community; H. W. Smith, ...

The three winning contestants were chosen from six finalists, which included in addition to the winning trio, Bobby Merchant and Betty Hester of Haskell and Carmen Kay of Rochester. Contest judges were Guy Mays of Wichita Falls, a former Haskell merchant; Paul D. Buck of Seymour, and Mrs. Curtis Buck of Sherman.

A championship ball pulling contest, originally set for Wednesday and postponed until Friday because of rain, was again postponed until a later date but will definitely be held. Festival sponsors said. More than 30 contestants had entered the contest.

Saturday, final day of the Festival drew an estimated 5,000 people for the day's events, which included a talk by Congressman George Mahon at a noon luncheon, and an address on the courthouse lawn at 3 p. m.; a concert by the McMurry College Band under the direction of Prof. Raymond Byrum; and a colorful parade at 5 p. m., preceding the night attraction, the annual Texas-Oklahoma Colored Classic.

Congressman Mahon, in his talk expressed the opinion that Congress will shortly pass a measure to cushion the effect of drastic cotton acreage cuts in 1954. He expressed the fear that agriculture is again forming the flying wedge that conceivably could lead to business stagnation.

Mahon asserted that farm problems are very closely related to all other problems of the country, and declared "We must work to the end that the farmer does not bear the entire burden of economic setbacks." He pointed out that what hurts the farmer is equally bad for all types of industry.

He said that price supports without controls is a theory ideal in concept, but one that will not work. "As long as we have parity support prices, we will have controls, whether on agricultural or other products," he declared.

Touching on national and world affairs, Congressman Mahon conceded that the national debt was high, but pointed out that the national annual income was greater than the national debt.

Declaring that the grand strategy of the nation is trying to prevent World War III, he told his audience "Whether we like it or not it seems to me that we are going to have to keep up a high level of defense spending if we are to be able to defend ourselves and win a war if we are attacked."

Marlene Crofford, a member of the Rule 4-H Girls Club will represent Texas at the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association meeting in Tulsa, Okla., December 6-10, Miss Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, has announced.

The trip is the award she will receive for being the county, district III, and State winner in the 4-H Vegetable Demonstration contest. Miss Wirges explained.

The county contest was held in Haskell last March, the district contest was in Wichita Falls in May and the State contest was at A&M College last June.

While attending the Tulsa convention, Miss Crofford will give her demonstration in the National contest, "Do You Get The Most For Your Money?" is the title of her demonstration. In it she uses the nutritious baked potato in a potato salad and serves it on a cold plate as well as in a large wooden salad bowl just ready for a picnic.

Marlene is a 17-year-old senior in Rule High School and is the daughter of Walter Crofford. She has been a 4-H club member for seven years and has completed 25 projects in foods, clothing, marketing, home management, gardening, food preservation and public speaking.

She represented Haskell County in the 1951 State 4-H Dress Revue in the 1951 District Public Speaking contest, and was the 1952 State winner in the 4-H Dairy Food Demonstration contest. Her state award at that time was a 17 jewel wrist watch.

Other awards have been presented to Miss Crofford for leadership, county dress revue, food preparation and general 4-H achievement. She has also been the county Gold Star girl, which is the highest county honor award a girl can receive.

Lt. Jimmie Medley Returns to US, Gets Discharge The many friends here of the young officer will be glad to learn that Lt. Jimmie L. Harvest Festival Slated at Mattson Friday, Nov. 13

A gala Harvest Festival, highlighted with a number of entertainment features and the selection of a Harvest Queen, will be held at the Mattson High School auditorium Friday night, Nov. 13, sponsored by the Mattson School and community leaders.

The date is being set aside for the one purpose of entertainment and feasting combined into one great event, sponsors of the program said.

The candidates for the title of Queen have been chosen, with one nominee from each class in Mattson school, and considerable interest is already being manifested in the contest.

Many wholesome entertainment features are being planned, and the Harvest Festival will present everything for an evening of gaiety, sponsors promise.

Plans are being made to entertain a large crowd, and many old timers of the Mattson section are expected in attendance, along with many visitors. A special invitation is being extended to the people in all sections of the county to attend. "Forget Friday the 13th and come and try your luck and have an evening of fun at Mattson," Harvest Festival sponsors are urging.

Cotton Awaiting Shipment Damaged By Fire Monday

Several bales of cotton stored on the Wichita Valley freight platform awaiting shipment were damaged by fire Monday evening about 6 o'clock. Firemen were able to extinguish the fire after it had spread to possibly eight or nine bales, and no extensive loss resulted.

In all, twenty-five bales were stored on the platform at the time, but the blaze was discovered and reported before the fire could spread throughout the lot. Most of the cotton had been consigned to the railroad for shipment by M. R. Murrell and Ralph Ramey, local buyers, and bills of lading had been issued on all but two bales. Porter Sadler, W. V. freight agent, said.

Technological College in Lubbock and received her B. S. degree in Homemaking Education from that institution. While attending Tech Mrs. McCollum was elected to life membership in Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary Home Economics organization. During her senior year she was selected in the group from her school to be listed in Who's Who in American universities and colleges. Mrs. McCollum is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Diggs of this city and the wife of W. P. McCollum, Haskell High School principal. The McCollums are the parents of two sons, Ken and Johnny, who are students in the Elementary school. Mrs. McCollum is a member of the Church of Christ and of the Progressive Study Club. For the past two years she has been a den mother in Cub Scouting. She is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association and has been a member of the faculty of the Haskell schools for three years, the last two as Homemaking teacher.

The Haskell Homemaking Department offers four full years of work, including such units as meal planning and preparation, food preservation, managing time and money wisely, personal grooming, child care and clothing, wardrobe planning and clothing construction, arts and crafts for the home, and home and family life. The fourth year's work, Home and Family Life, was added to the curriculum last year and is offered to Junior and Senior girls who have had previous training in Homemaking.

One phase of homemaking which is of growing importance is the membership of Homemaking students in the Future Homemakers of America. As a member of both Texas and National organizations the Haskell Chapter of FHA has taken part in National FHA week activities. This week, Nov. 2-7, has been set aside to emphasize the importance of the family homemaker in the society of today. Nineteen new members were initiated into the group, thus giving it a membership of more than sixty. A new method of initiation was followed this year. Each new member wore a sign showing her membership and was required to do five good deeds for others during a 24-hour period. Every member of FHA wore a red rose, club flower, each day during FHA week. Another feature of the week was a bulletin board in the school hall attractively displaying pictures of the officers of the local chapter, along with club colors of red and white. On Tuesday Nov 3 the group and advisors were guests of Foremost Dairies, Mrs. Baird's Bread and Lankford's Colthing Manufacturing Company in Abilene. A conducted tour of each plant was made. The group traveled to Abilene in school buses.

Another project of the club is the collecting of new Christmas cards to be given to the State Hospital in Austin. A decorated box was placed in the school hall and students were asked to contribute unsigned, unsealed, stamped cards. These cards will be used by patients in Austin to remember their friends and relatives during the Christmas season. The FHA Chapter Sweetheart was also elected during the week.

Climaxing FHA week will be the District Meeting in Vernon on Saturday, Nov. 7. Among students attending will be Jessie Ruth Jones of the local chapter, who is now treasurer of District I, and Barbara Mullins, candidate for a district office. Representing this

Minister Fred Custis Speaker At Lions Club Meet

"Preachers are ordinary people, and we like to be considered just that," Fred Custis, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ told members of the Lions Club at their noon luncheon and meeting Tuesday where he was guest speaker.

In his brief talk, Minister Custis praised Haskell as a likable town to live in. Closing his remarks, he humorously pointed out that he liked to live in a small town, where everyone knew what everybody else does. "Then we like to read The Free Press to see if it has been found out," he joked.

Theron Cahill was in charge of the program for the meeting. During a brief business session, a report was made on sales last Thursday of articles made by the blind. Lions sold over $100 worth of merchandise last Thursday in a one hour sales campaign, it was reported.

The sales campaign will be renewed today, when Lions are to meet at The Booterie at 5 p. m., for another round of selling. Articles being sold are made by the blind at eight "Lighthouses" in Texas, and major share of proceeds from the sales go to the blind.

HHS Indian Band Will Take Part In M. U. Homecoming

The black and gold colors of Haskell High School will be represented at the Midwestern University annual Homecoming celebration Saturday, Nov. 7. Mr. McCollum, high school principal, announced today.

The high school band, under the direction of Merlin Jenkins, will march in the 10 a. m. parade through downtown Wichita Falls. Betty Waldrip, drum majorette, will lead the 75-member band.

Drum majorettes include Mary Sue Byrd, Bobbie Merchant, Doris Strain, Brenda Josselet, Peggy Waldrip and Patsy Mullins.

The Haskell band has many honors to its credit. One of the state's outstanding marching bands it has won recent honors in marching and sight-reading at the Regional Contest. The Haskell high school band attended a football game at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas during the Fair in 1952 and performed with other high school bands which were invited to be present.

More than 5,000 high school and college band members are expected in Wichita Falls for the Homecoming event. After the parade the Haskell band members along with other band visitors, will be guests at a barbecue.

The Midwestern Indian-West Texas Buffalo football game will begin at 2 p. m. During half-time ceremonies the 1953 MU Homecoming queen will be presented.

The Homecoming events will be climaxed with a dance in the University Center ballroom. The public is invited to attend all Homecoming activities.

Chaplain James R. Barnett Tells of Tremendous Needs of People In Korea

Chaplain (Capt.) James R. Barnett of this city, now assigned to the 101st Signal Battalion in Korea, told of his trip from the States in a letter. To the Free Press, and also called attention to the tremendous needs of the people of Korea. Chaplain Barnett said his unit had a program under way to give children in the area something for Christmas such as toys and used clothing.

Before going to Korea, Chaplain Barnett was stationed at Fort Eustis, Newport News, Va., and he and his wife made their home there. While he is overseas Mrs. Barricklow is making her home in New Orleans, where she is doing mission work with the Rachel

Sims Mission.

Receives Commendation
Prior to his transfer from Fort Eustis to the Korean sector, Chaplain Barnett received a letter of commendation from Col. Donald C. Foote Commander of TRTC at Fort Eustis, which read in part: "Before leaving the service for retirement, this writer desires to highly commend you for your outstanding spiritual guidance and inspiration to this large organization. Seldom does a commander have the happy privilege and good fortune of receiving the spiritual guidance and assistance from so loyal and competent a man... In paying tribute to you and in farewell, may God bless you, always and may your mission take you to new fields of challenge. I know that wherever you are and whatever you are doing that you will acquit yourself with dignity, great success, and will be an invaluable asset to whomever has the good fortune of your spiritual guidance and assistance."

Chaplain Barnett's letter from Korea Oct. 13, is reprinted below. Friends here who desire to write him, or help in the Christmas program he mentions, should address mail to Chaplain (Capt.) James R. Barnett, 0508062, 101st Signal Bn., APO 264, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

"Dear Friends: This is Korea. Here 23 million people live in primitive fashion, but each with a soul precious in the sight of God. I saw hundreds of school children yesterday, crowded into a small mud-brick building. I saw a church which consisted of a bleached out tent but with a Sunday School membership of 300 children. From slanted, piercing, black eyes, I saw these children looking up at me, and I couldn't believe that needs could be so tremendous. Mud huts and rice paddies, along with dust or mud, men with unbelievable loads on their backs, women with a load balanced on their head and a baby tied on their back may be some of the scenes you will see here. We have a program under way to give these children in our area something for Christmas such as toys and used clothing. Cash donations too can purchase many items for the church and school. Packages should be mailed no later than November 15th, whereas airmail reaches us in about 7 days.

Our planes left Vancouver, Canada on Saturday, Sept. 12th, and next day, Monday 14th we set down in Tokyo, Japan, after a stop in Alaska. I say next day because Sunday was lost when we crossed the International Date Line. When we travelled by bus from the airport to camp, about 25 miles, first through the crowded area by the coast and on through Tokyo. I had a feeling that Sunday had been left out of Japan too. Later I travelled from Tokyo to Sasabo, en route to Korea by train, and got a good view of Japan. A Japanese shine boy was asked why he was not a Christian said, "But I don't like Christians." A Korean boy working in our camp was invited to our chapel services. He told me, "But we have a different way in this country." These mission fields have been neglected far too long by the church.

In Pusan, Korea I was happy to attend the services in the Baptist Church where Missionary Abernathy on Friday nights has a Gospel hour for servicemen. It was my delight to see three men there from the chapel days at Fort Eustis, still standing forth as Christian examples in this foreign land. Remember them when you pray.

Near Seoul in Yong Dong Po (I named it Yong Dong Pheew because of the smell) I learned a good lesson as to how quickly a pickpocket could relieve me of my fountain pen, but I was lucky, a secret service Korean happened to be near and recovered my pen.

Relative quiet covers this area, 5 miles north of the 38th Parallel, except for a few practice artillery shell pounding into the side of the mountain, and they come from U. S. guns. Little American towns are being built in company area with a fervent prayer that the things being built will be enjoyed for awhile, or completely abandoned for a trip to the U. S. A.

Sincerely,
James R. Barnett,
Chaplain.

News From Sagerton

BY MRS. DELBERT LE FEVRE

Miss Thelma Wirges, Haskell County home demonstration agent gave a very interesting discussion of floor covering for kitchen floors and lighting in the home at the meeting of the Sagerton H-D Club Tuesday, Oct. 27 in the home of Mrs. A. L. Gibson. Mrs. Charlie Gibson of Arkansas was a guest.

Plans were made for an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. D. W. Counts on November 10 when the ladies will work on aluminum trays, and for the club's annual Thanksgiving supper. Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bredthauer, last week were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Koke-moor, and son of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Awald Baitz and daughter of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bredthauer who recently returned from the West Coast where Mr. Bredthauer served in the U. S. Army were also guests. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Opitz and family of Corpus Christi, Mr.

and Mrs. J. C. Schwartz and daughter of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lehmann and Larry Dale of Fort Worth all visited in the Otto Lehmann home last week end. Tommy Baitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baitz, was crowned King. The other members of the royal court were Patsy Clark and Harold Bredthauer, Judy Gulfin and James Wendeborn, and Patricia Summers and Fred Wendeborn. Larry Green and Karen Kainer were crown bearers; Larry LeFevre and Steve Clark carried the Queen's train, and Melvin Lee Laughlin and Janice Hertel carried flowers that were presented to the Queen and Princesses.

The net proceeds from the carnival amounted to approximately $850.00. The P-TA officers wish to thank everyone who worked and donated to make the carnival a success. Gary Laughlin and Charles Keith of Matador, students at A&M, visited here Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Cliff LeFevre. Gary's uncle and aunt, until Gary's mother came to take him to Matador for the week end, Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Skeets Jameson, Mrs. Laughlin and Mr. Bristow, all of Matador, brought Gary back by and stayed awhile. Gary rode back to A&M with Bob Kitley of Rule. Rev. Vernon Mayfield, pastor of the Sagerton Methodist Church made a short talk to the children of the Sagerton school Monday at assembly. The football boys of Sagerton grade school plan to play the Paint Creek grade school boys here next Tuesday evening. Fred Kupatt, a former student at Texas Lutheran College at Seguin, attended the homecoming here last week end. Rev. and Mrs. Rudy Wendel made a trip to Cherry Springs last week.
